Academics

Automotive

They see me rollin'...they towin'

Automotive students learn the process of car assembly maintenance. They also have the benefit of bringing in their own car for maintenance

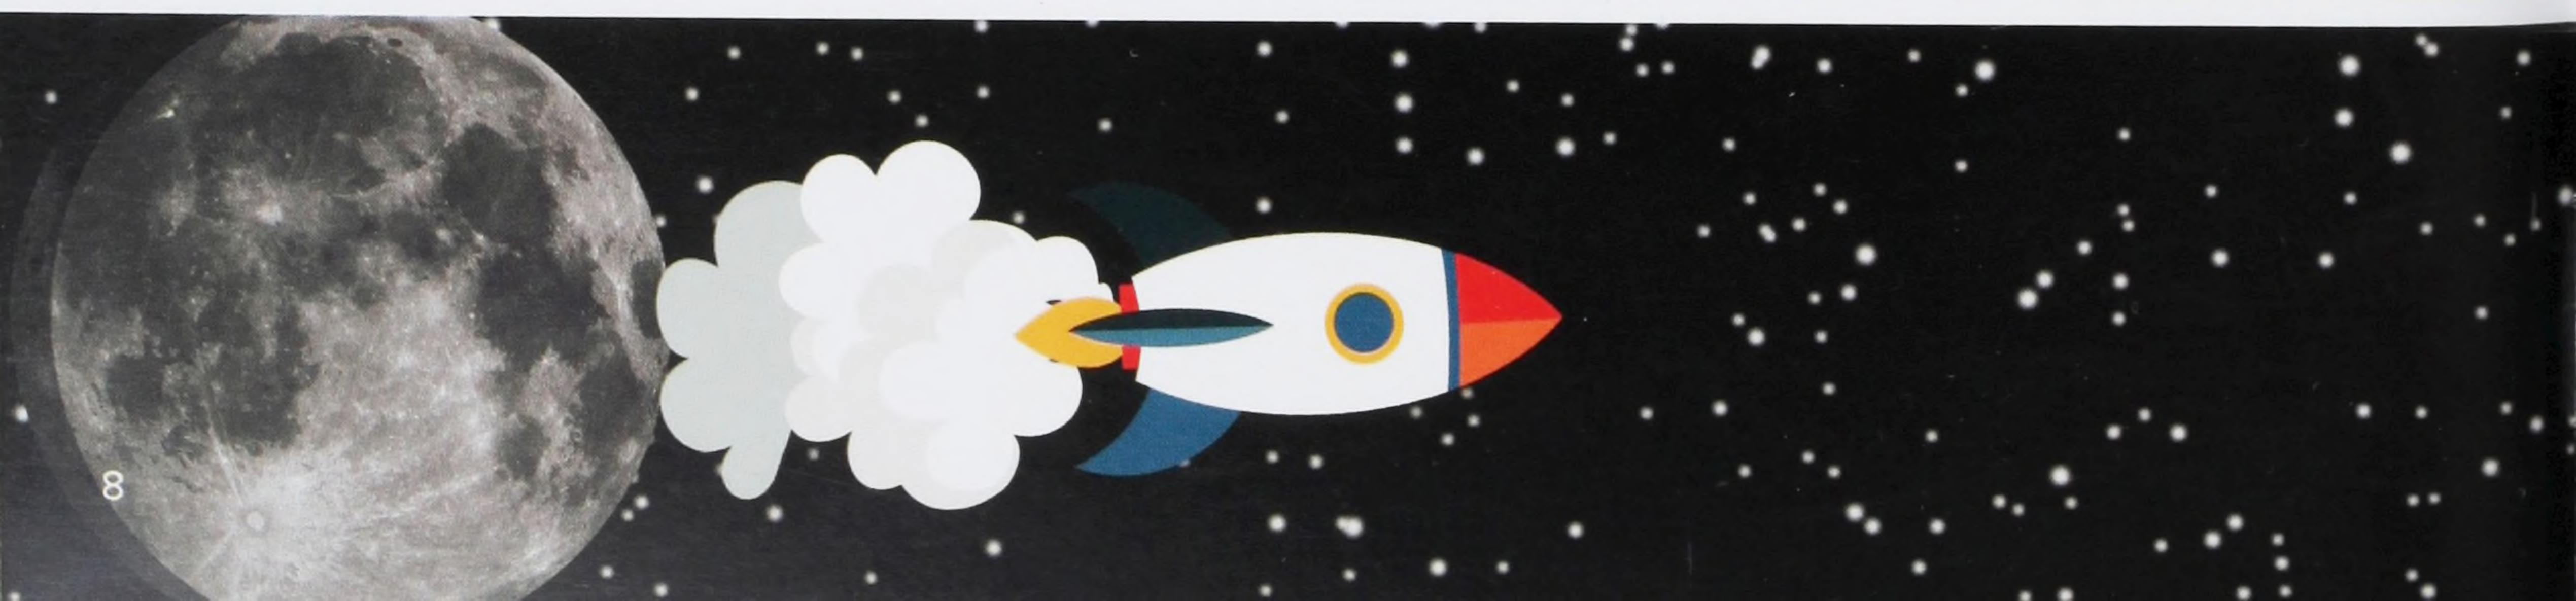

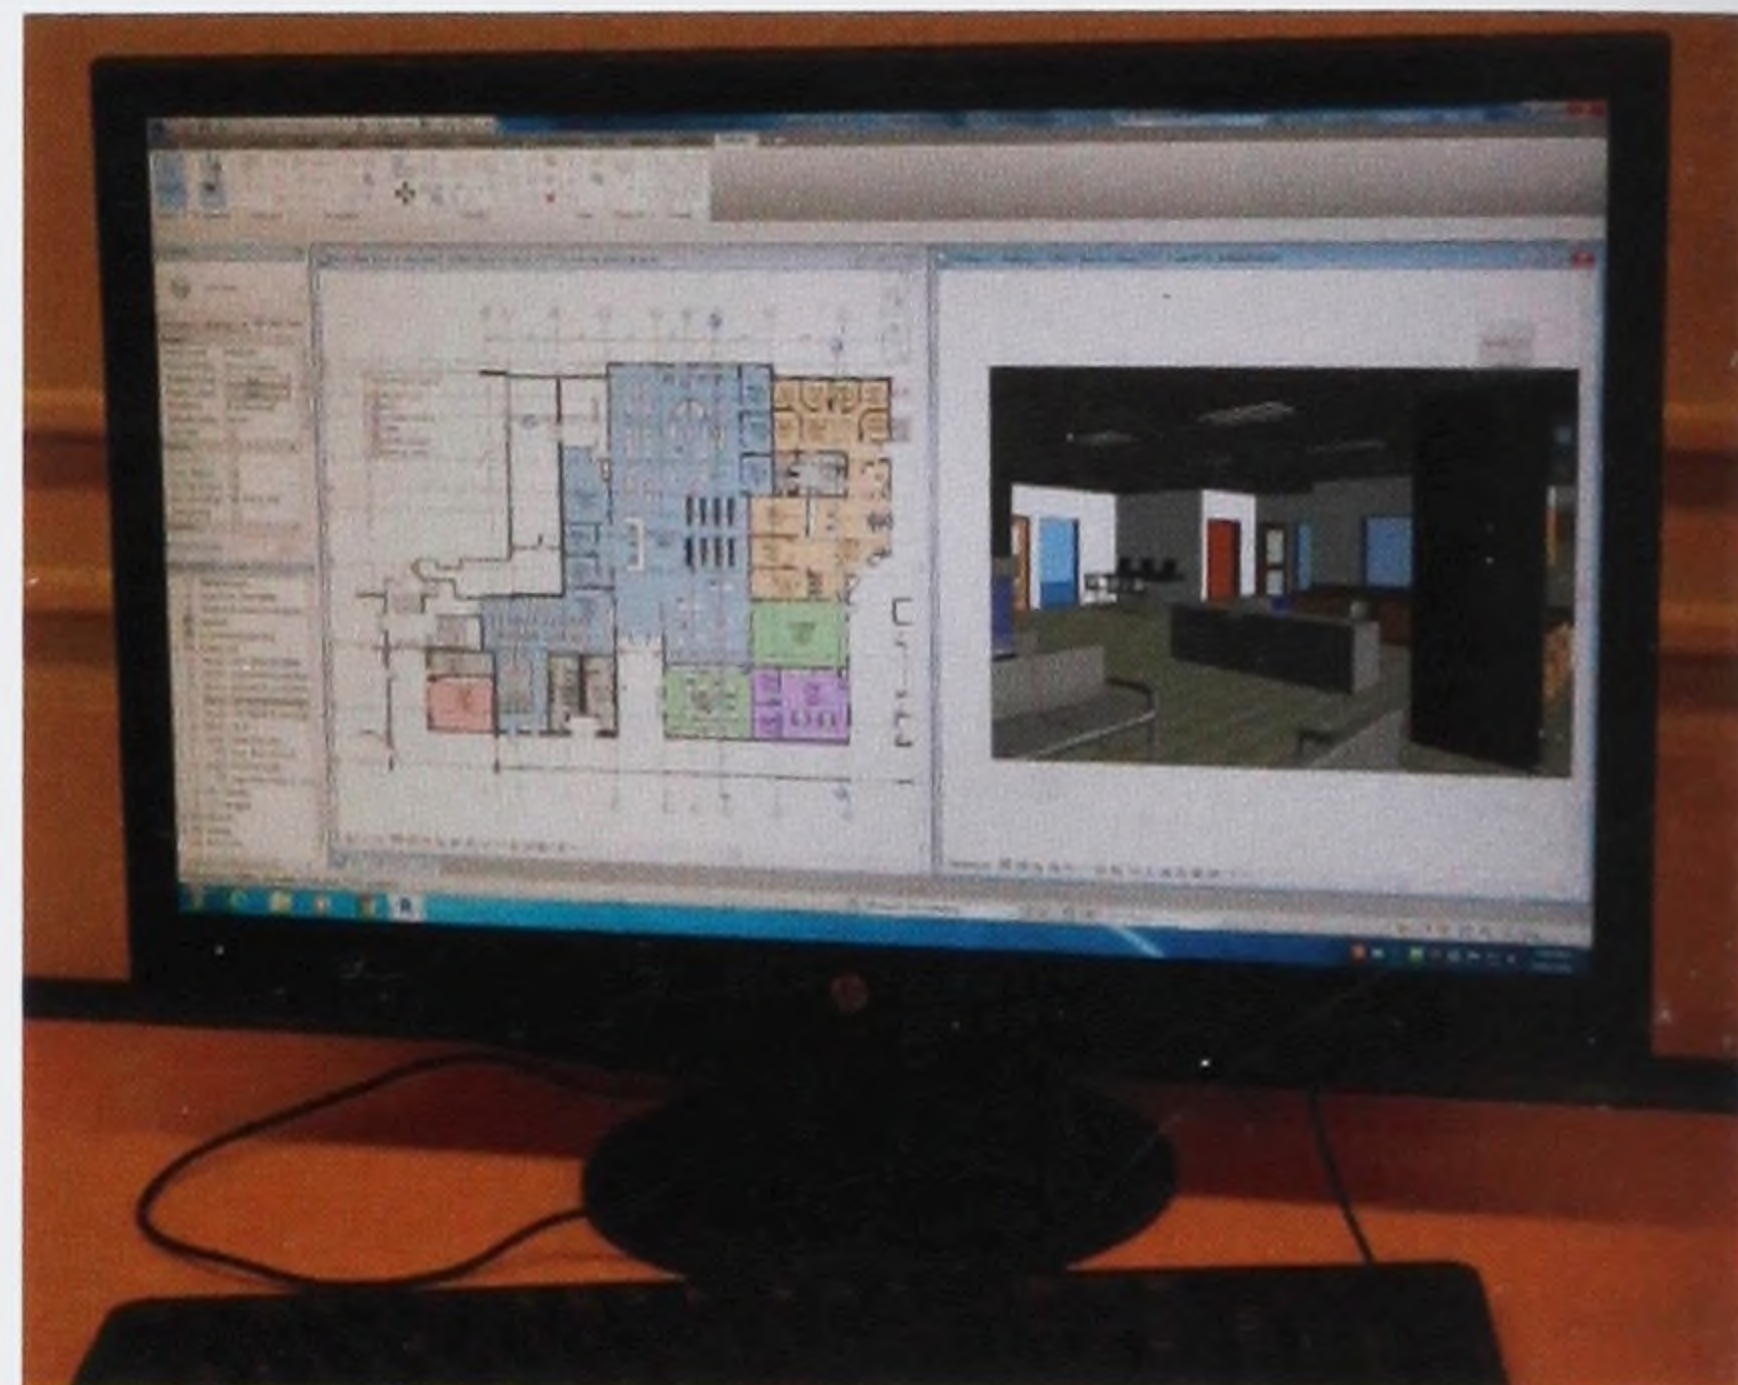

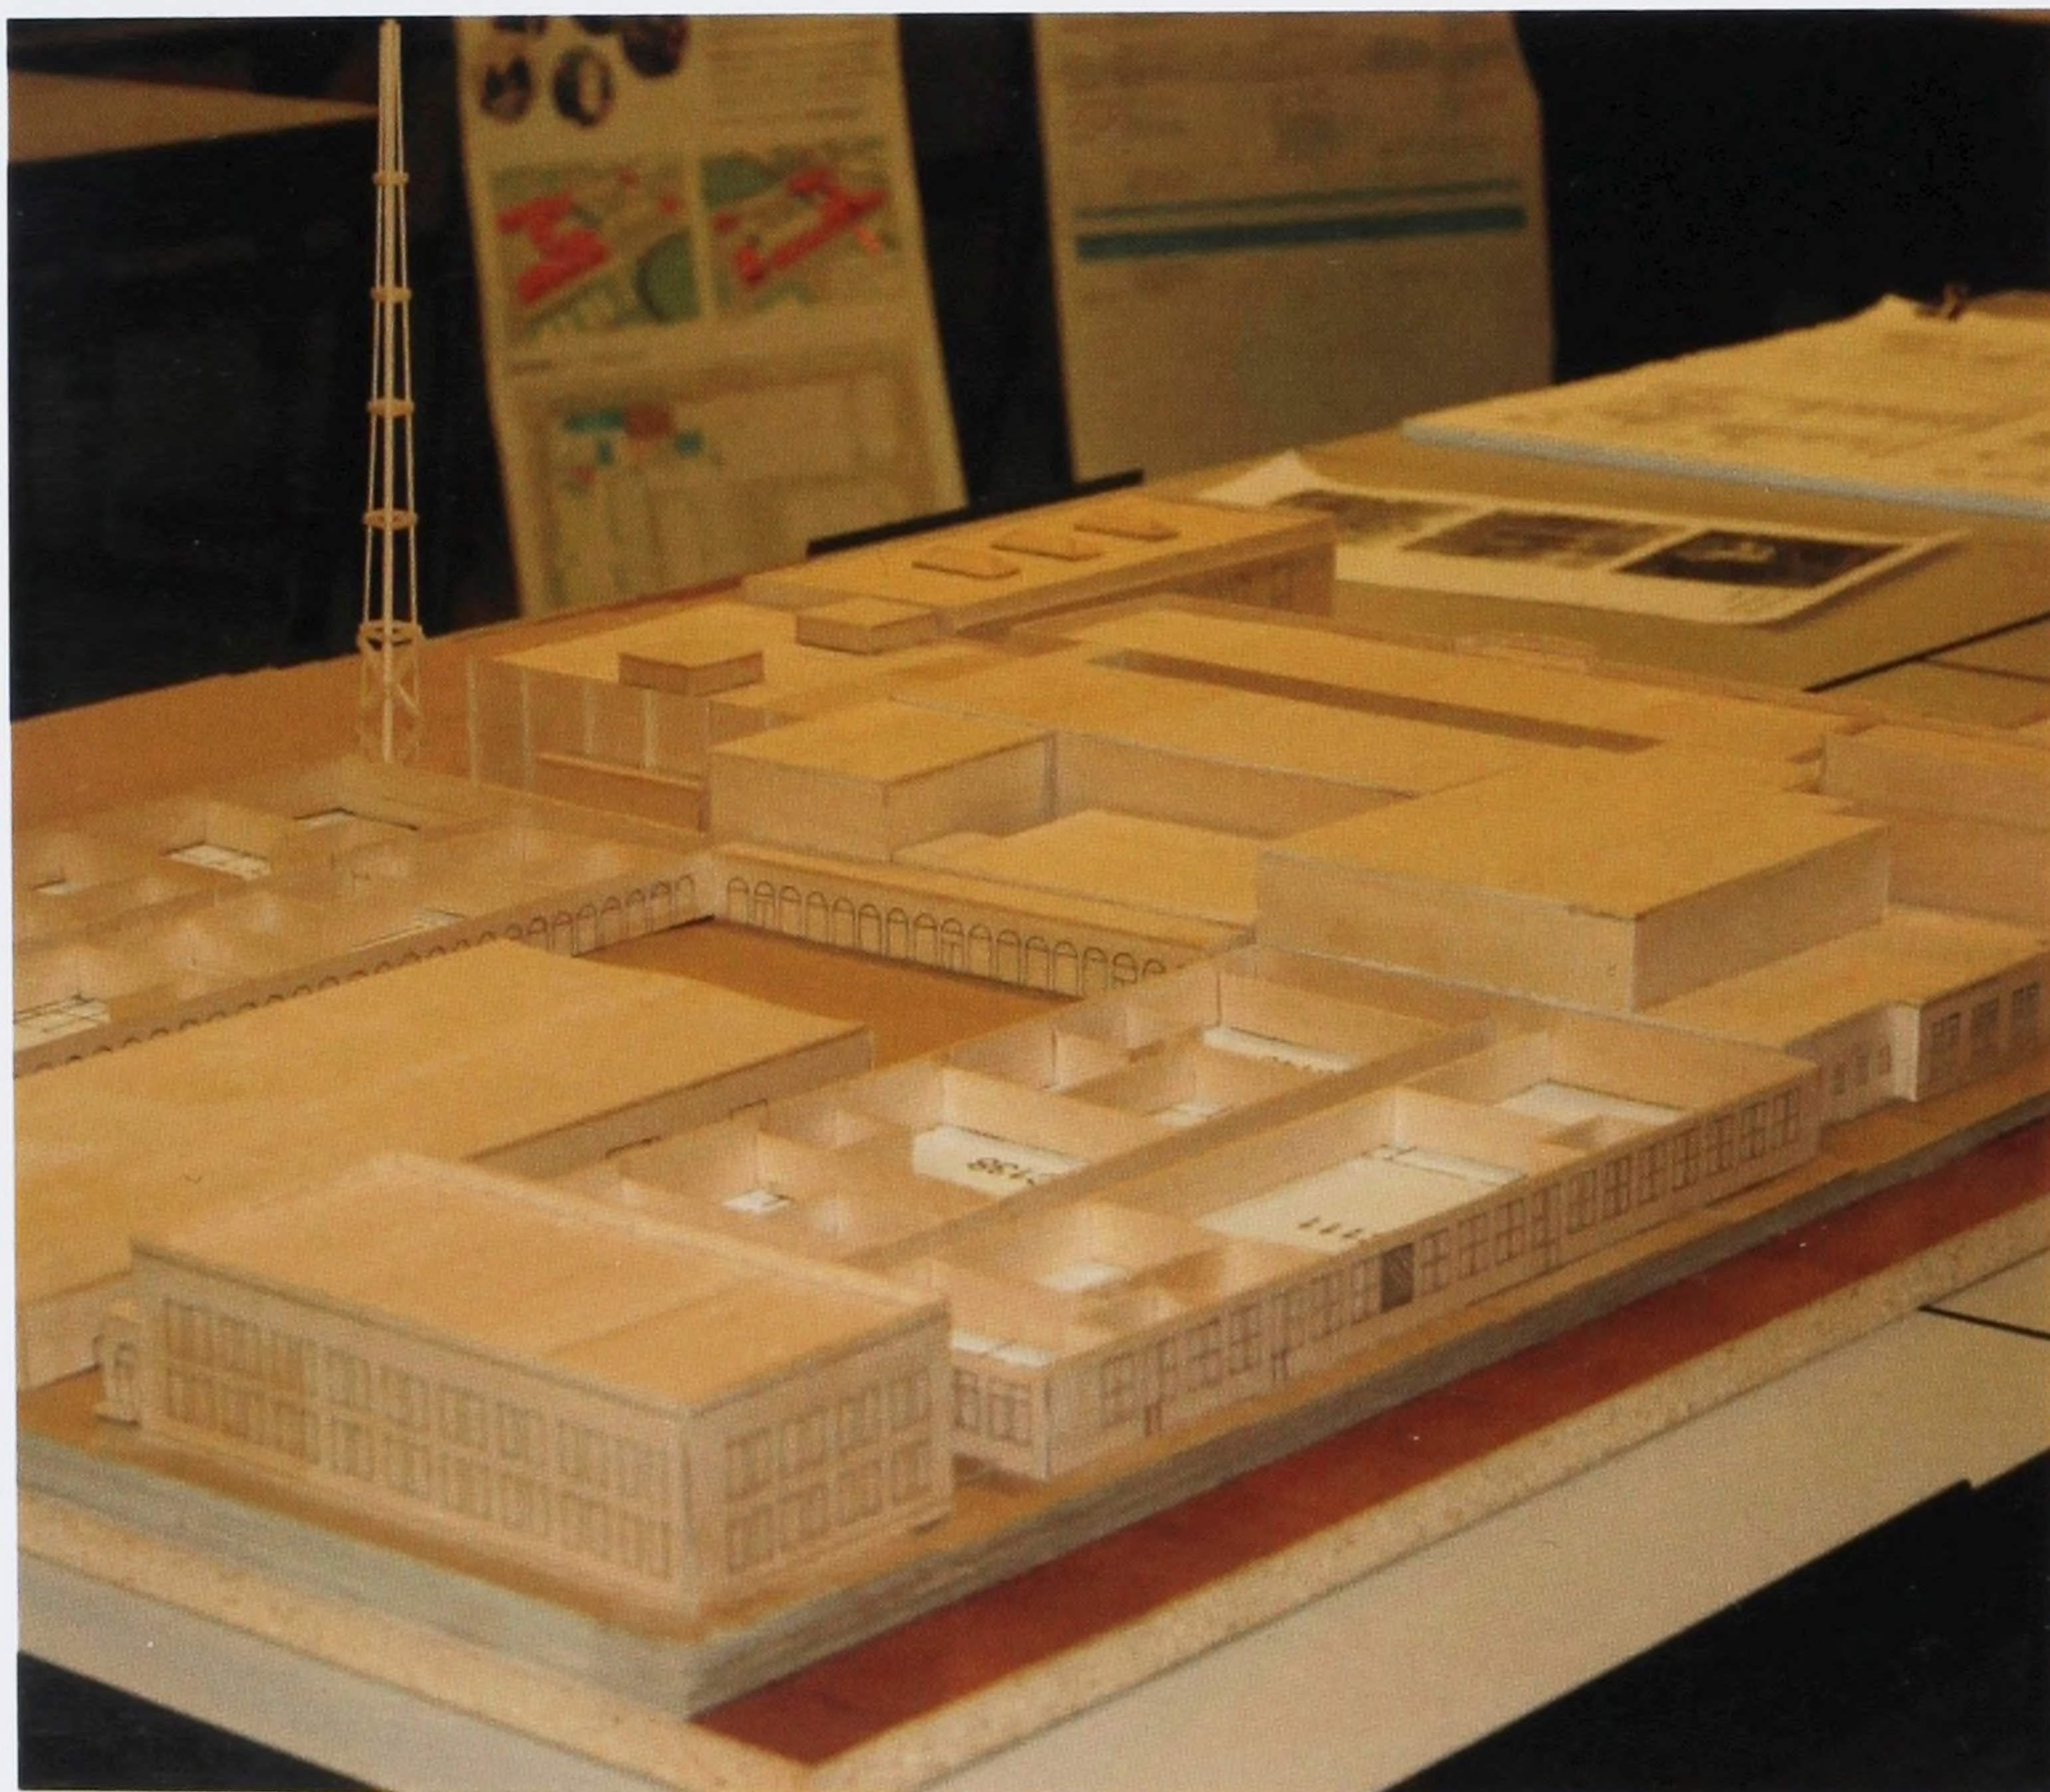

Mr. Railey and Mr. Anderson are incredibly knowledgeable about any car related subject. They help guide kids through the process of car maintenance and construction.

Architecture

Draft Your Destiny!

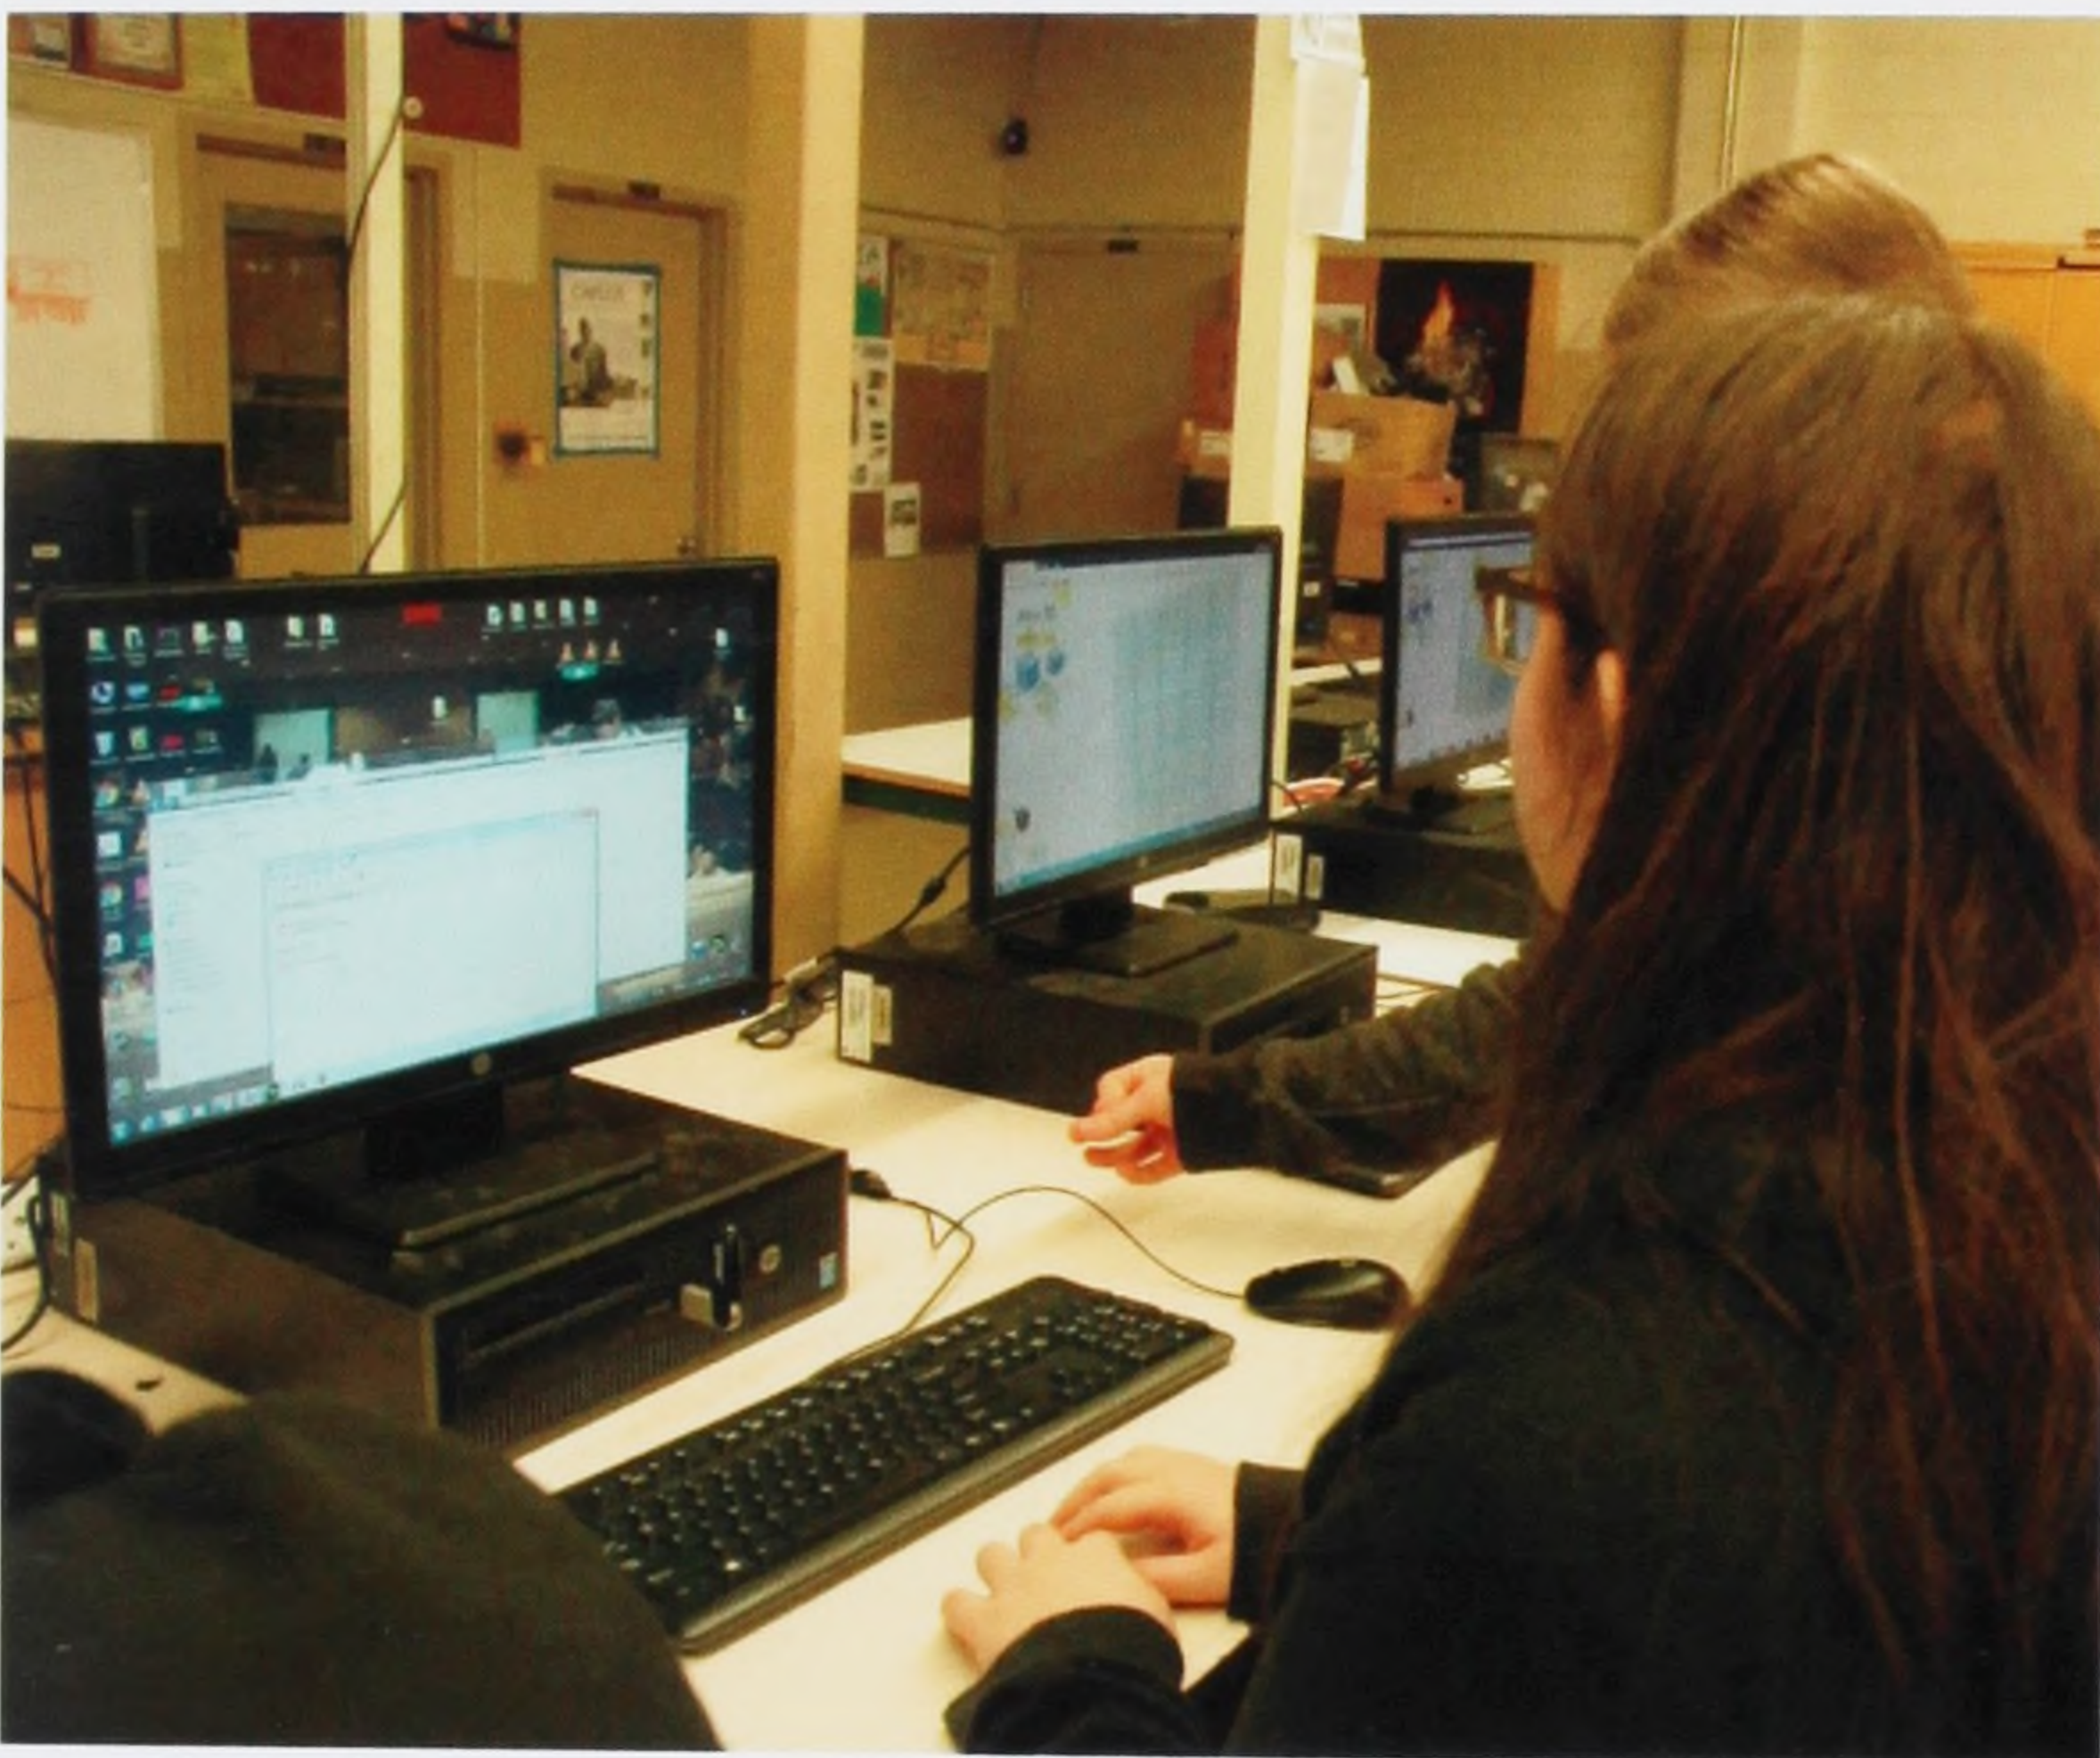

Architecture students learn a program called AutoCAD, where they can design structures. They also study manual drafting with a pencil and paper, and have access to a 3D printer where they can replicate models of Benson High School. Overall, students learn measurement and accuracy skills, along with communication and problem solving.

Computer Science

Still can't hack into Synergy..

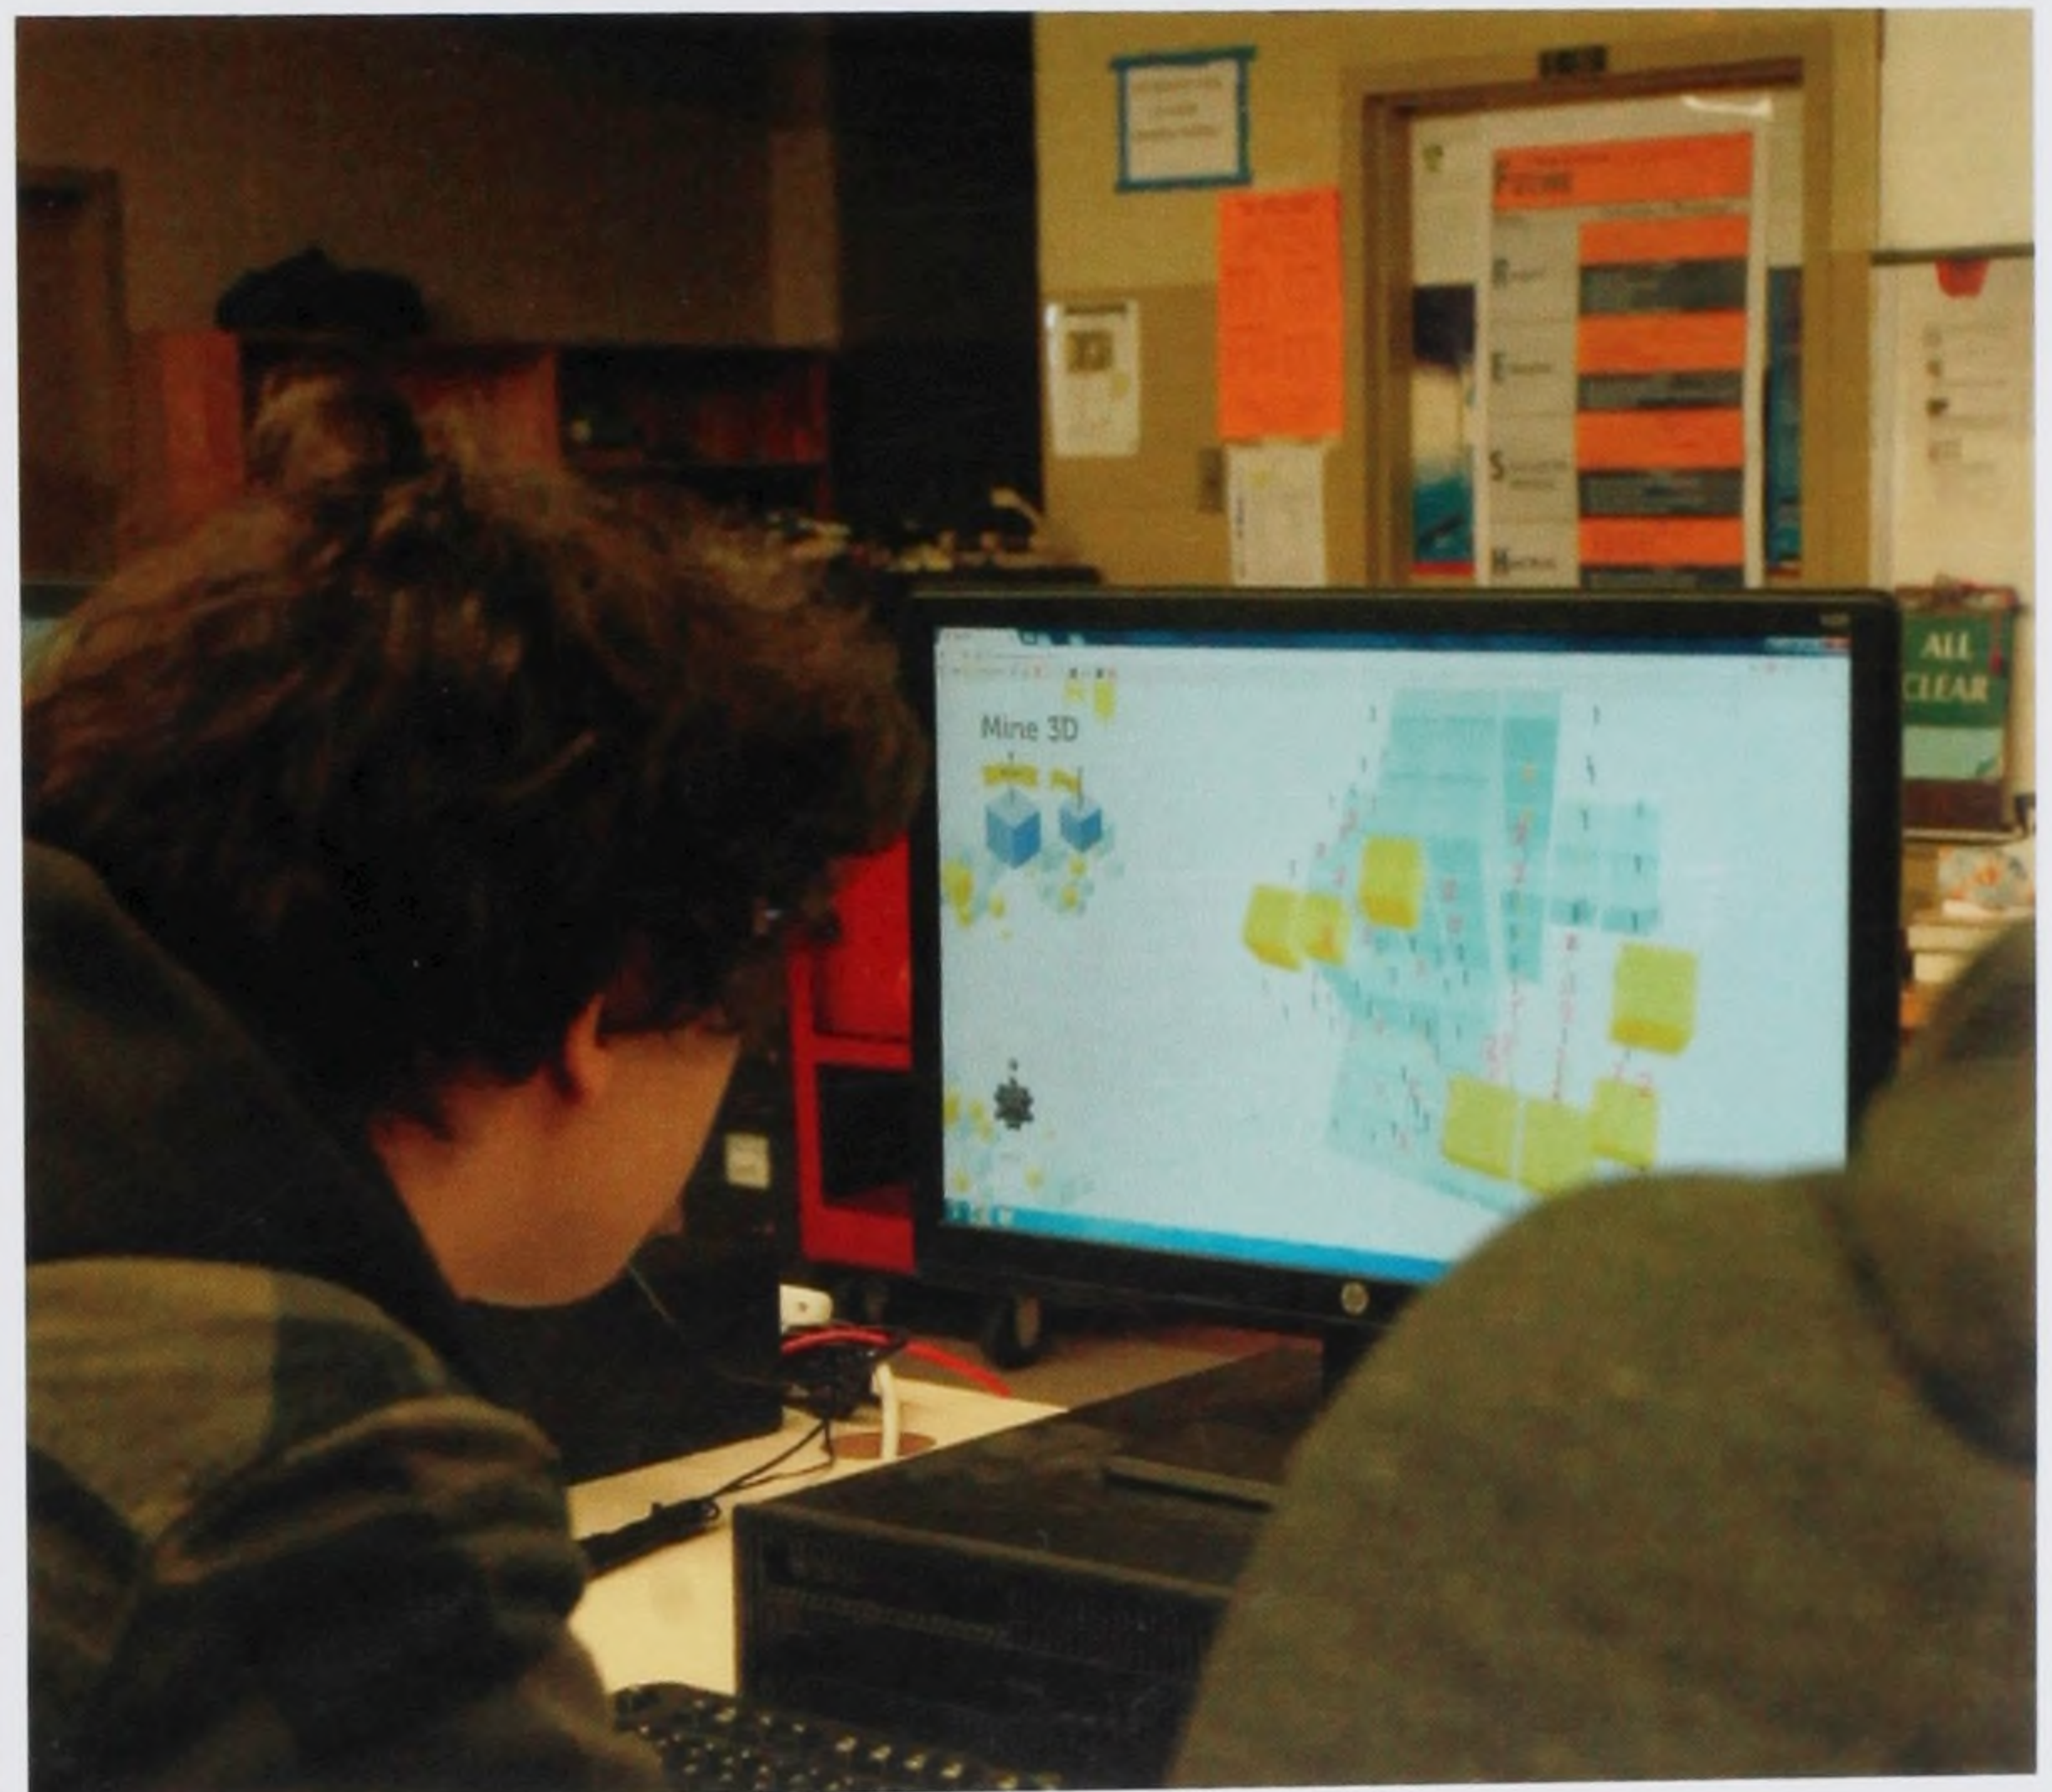

"I have learned many different coding languages that have helped to solve real life problems. Currently we are creating video games using programming languages and game engines. We are also creating remote controlled drones!" -- Nathan Berres

The biggest thing I will take away from this class is a good work ethic. This class has allowed to develop essential skills which will be a necessary when looking for a job.”
-- Caleb Ohryn

“I really like to code because I like to use my problem solving skills. I also like to see the end result of a product because it’s very gratifying.” -- Annie Brundage

Construction

We can understand Ikea instructions!

Earlier this school year, Benson's construction program purchased a trailer on which they will build a miniature house. They sold the last house that they built for $655,000.

“Due to the lack of money from the last house and the loss of a promised lot to build on, the current seniors were not able to start a new Benson house. In order to gain valuable framing skills the seniors completed a 1/4” scale ADU and a full size tiny house on a trailer. In addition to framing the 1/4” scale house was fully functionally wired by me.”

-Simon Criswell

Digital Media

Production

Still can't Photoshop my grades

Digital Media Production provides a space for students to express themselves creatively through mediums such as video production, web design, photography, and media design. Our wonderful teachers, Mr. Williams, Mr. Curly, and Ms. Henderson have made Digital Media an amazing class through their creativity.

“I appreciate Mr. Williams because he is very patient with me. He has helped me to expand my photography skills, and has inspired me to be a more creative person.”

- Marlen Santos

Electric

Join the

This year in Electric, students were working on improving their housewiring skills.

“Electricity is just really organized lightning.”

- George Carlin

Simon Crisswell, a senior double majoring in Electric and Construction, spent the first semester working on setting up the electric wiring for a quarter scale house that was built in construction. The house is wired exactly the same as a real, full-scale house.

“Everyone’s gonna die someday, so make this one count.”

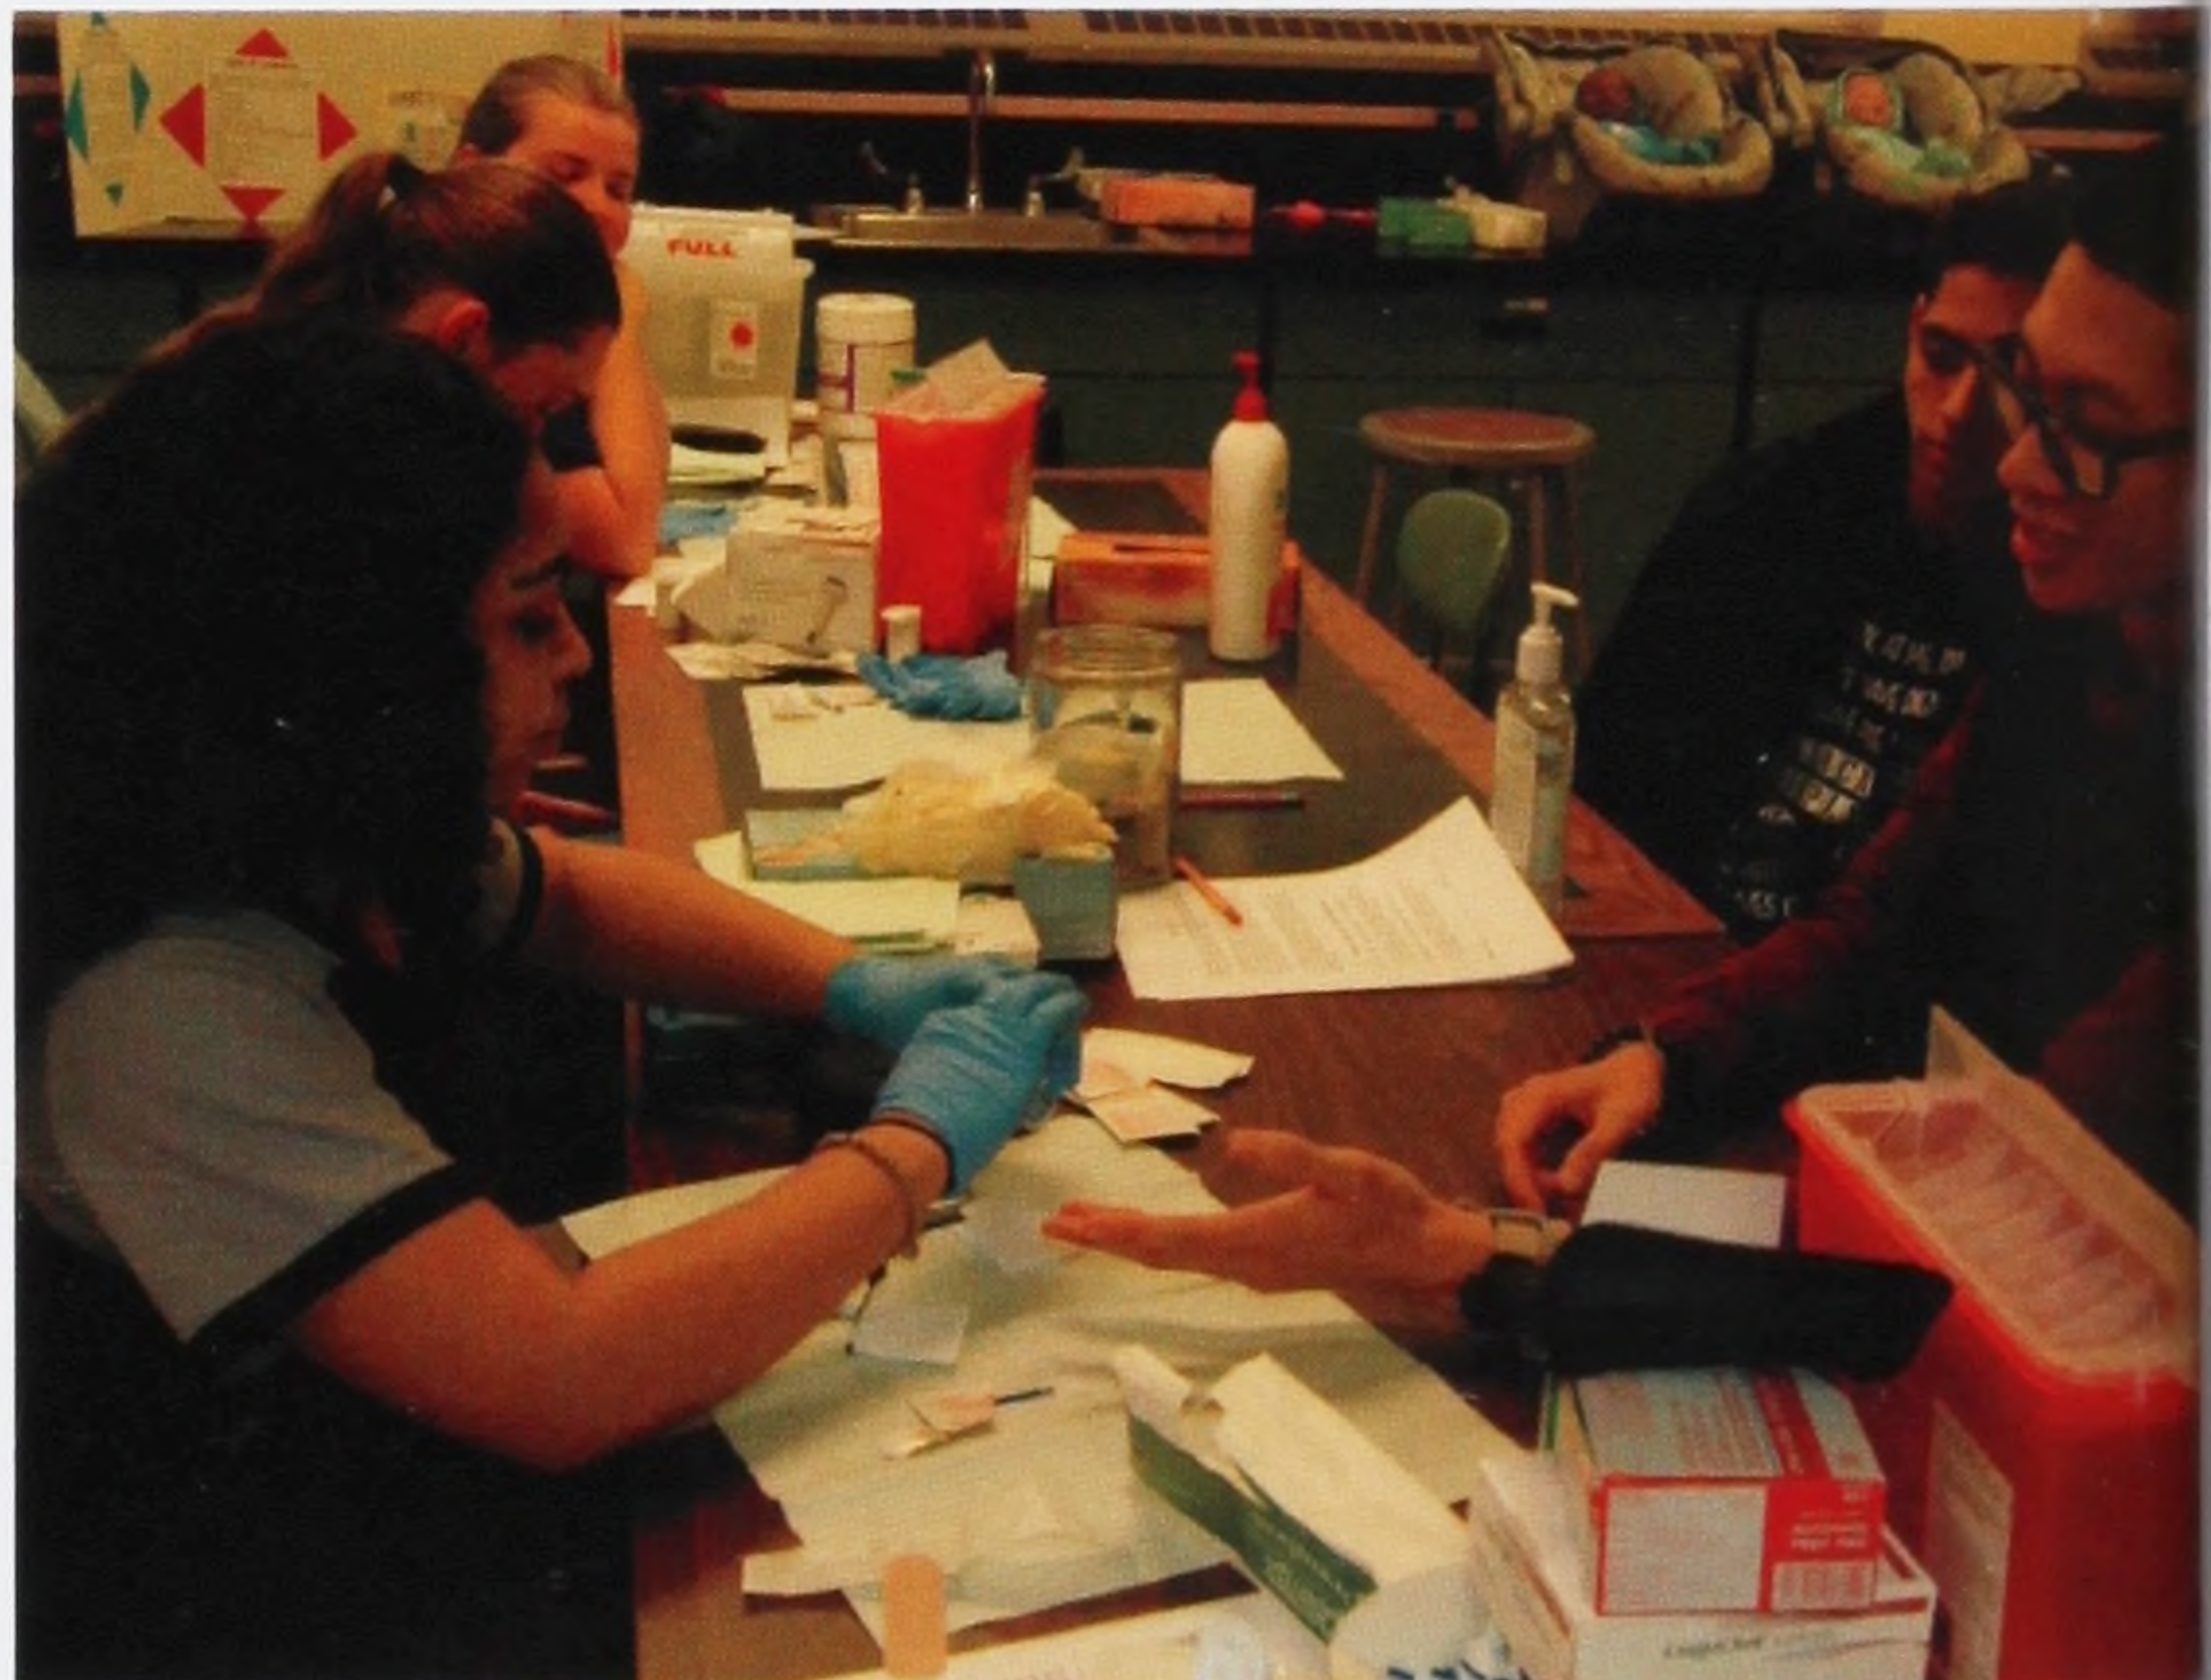

- Peter Harley

Health Occupations

Still can't cure senioritis

Students explore the three sections of Health Occupations; Dental, Nursing, and Medical Professions. Students learn how to work in a medical environment and learn professionalism and communication skills.

“Health Occupations taught me a lot about myself. It taught me about networking, professionalism, as well as give me hands on experience to prepare me for college.”

-Baonhi Nguyen, Class of 2018

Manufacturing

Yeah, we weld.

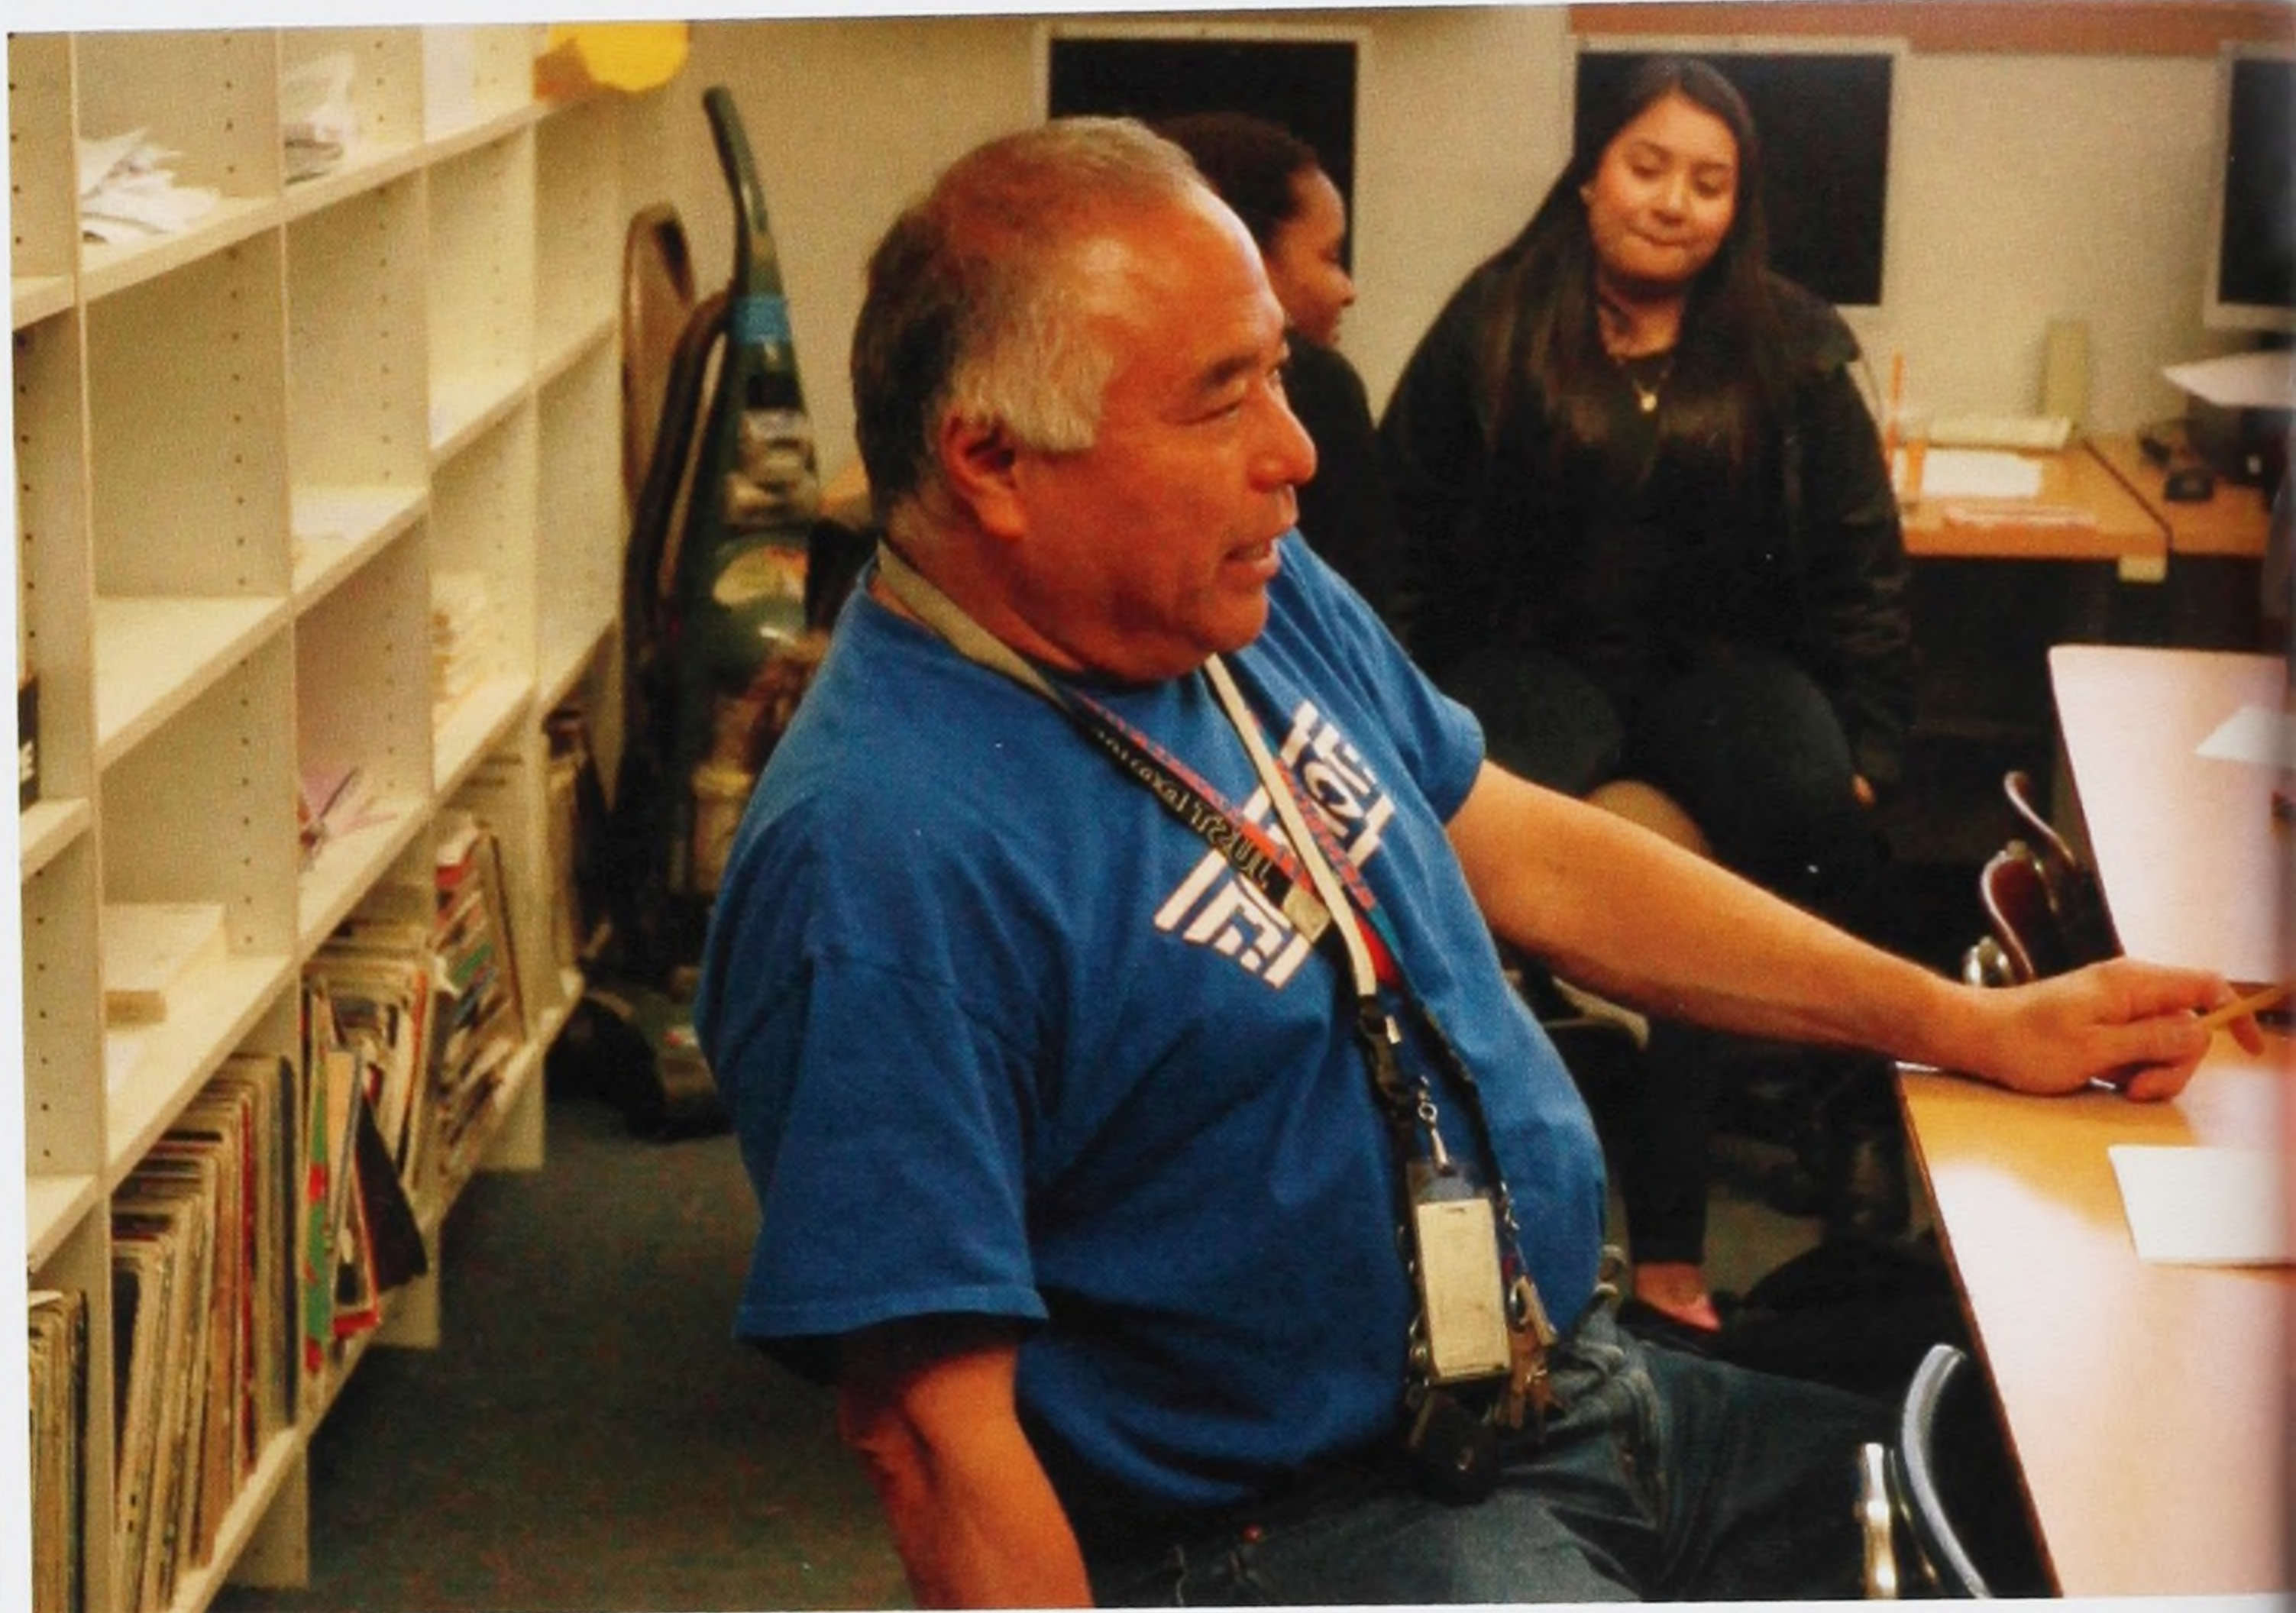

Manufacturing students work on welding, and metal production. They make a variety of projects such as metal boxes, screwdrivers, and bottle openers.

Radio

Tune In To Our Station On
AM 1450!

The Benson radio station and class is run by Steve Naganuma who is known for working on most of the radio stations in Portland, Oregon. He has been working at Benson since 1997.

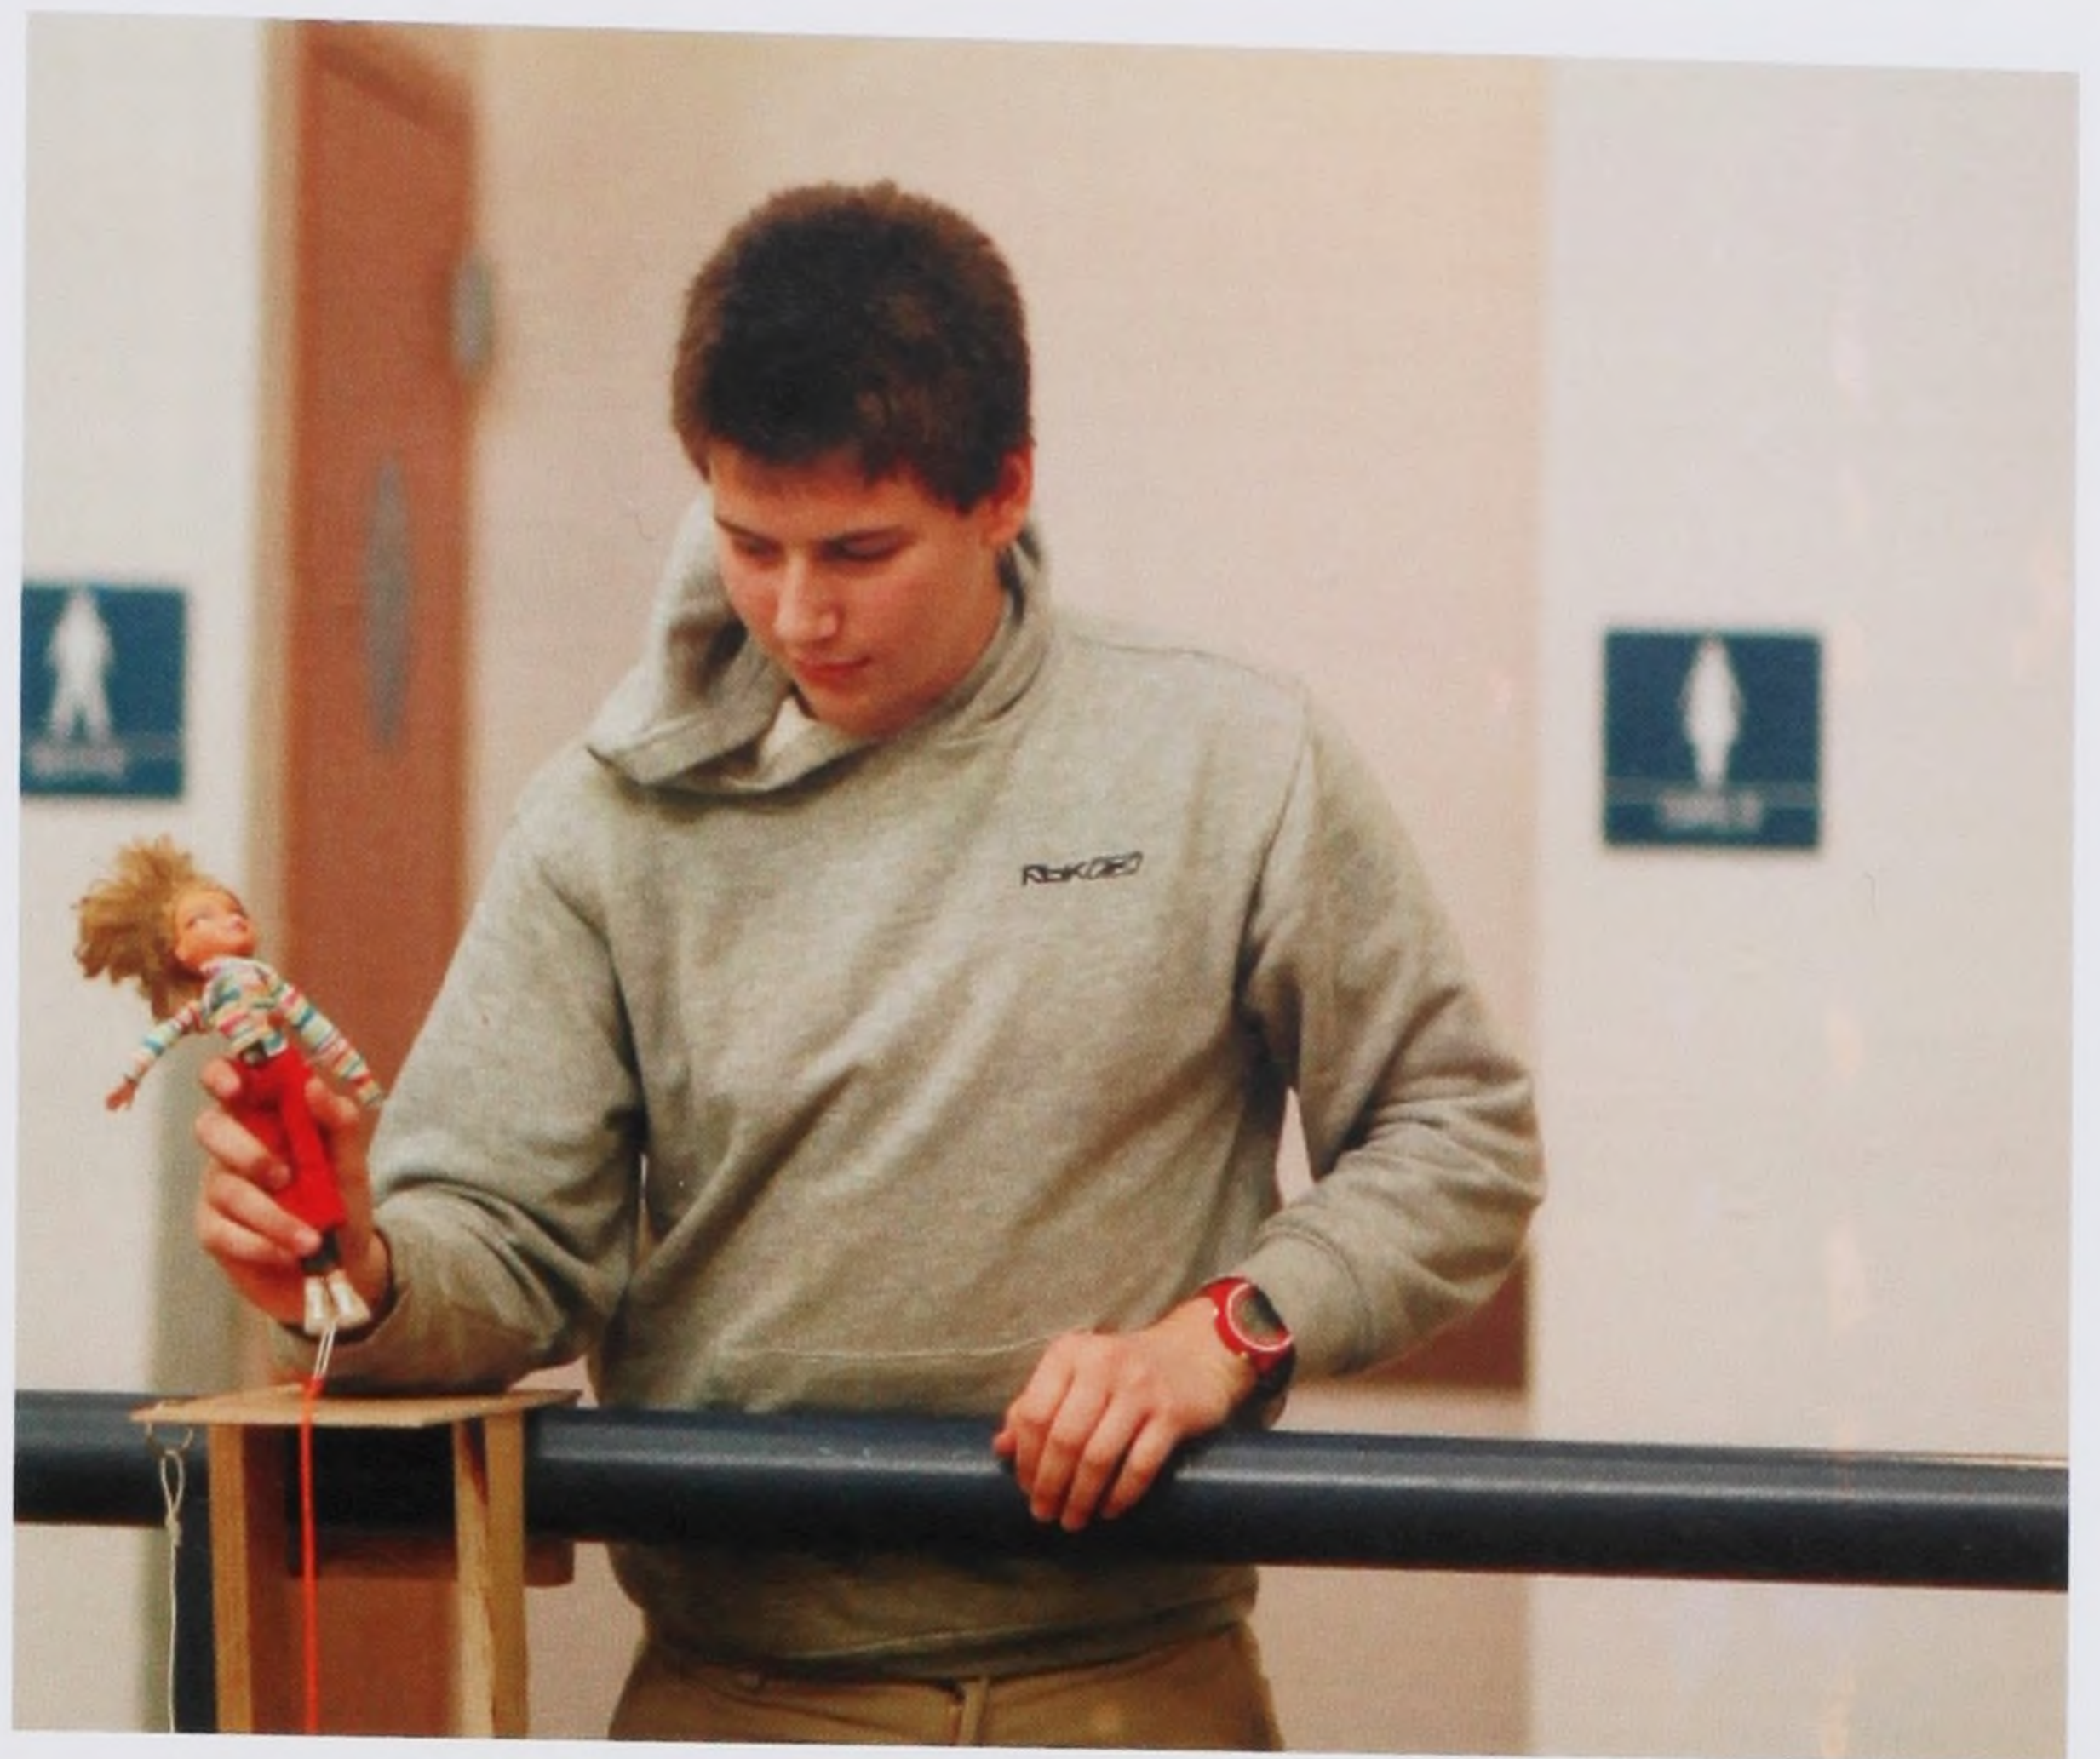

MATH

SCIENCE

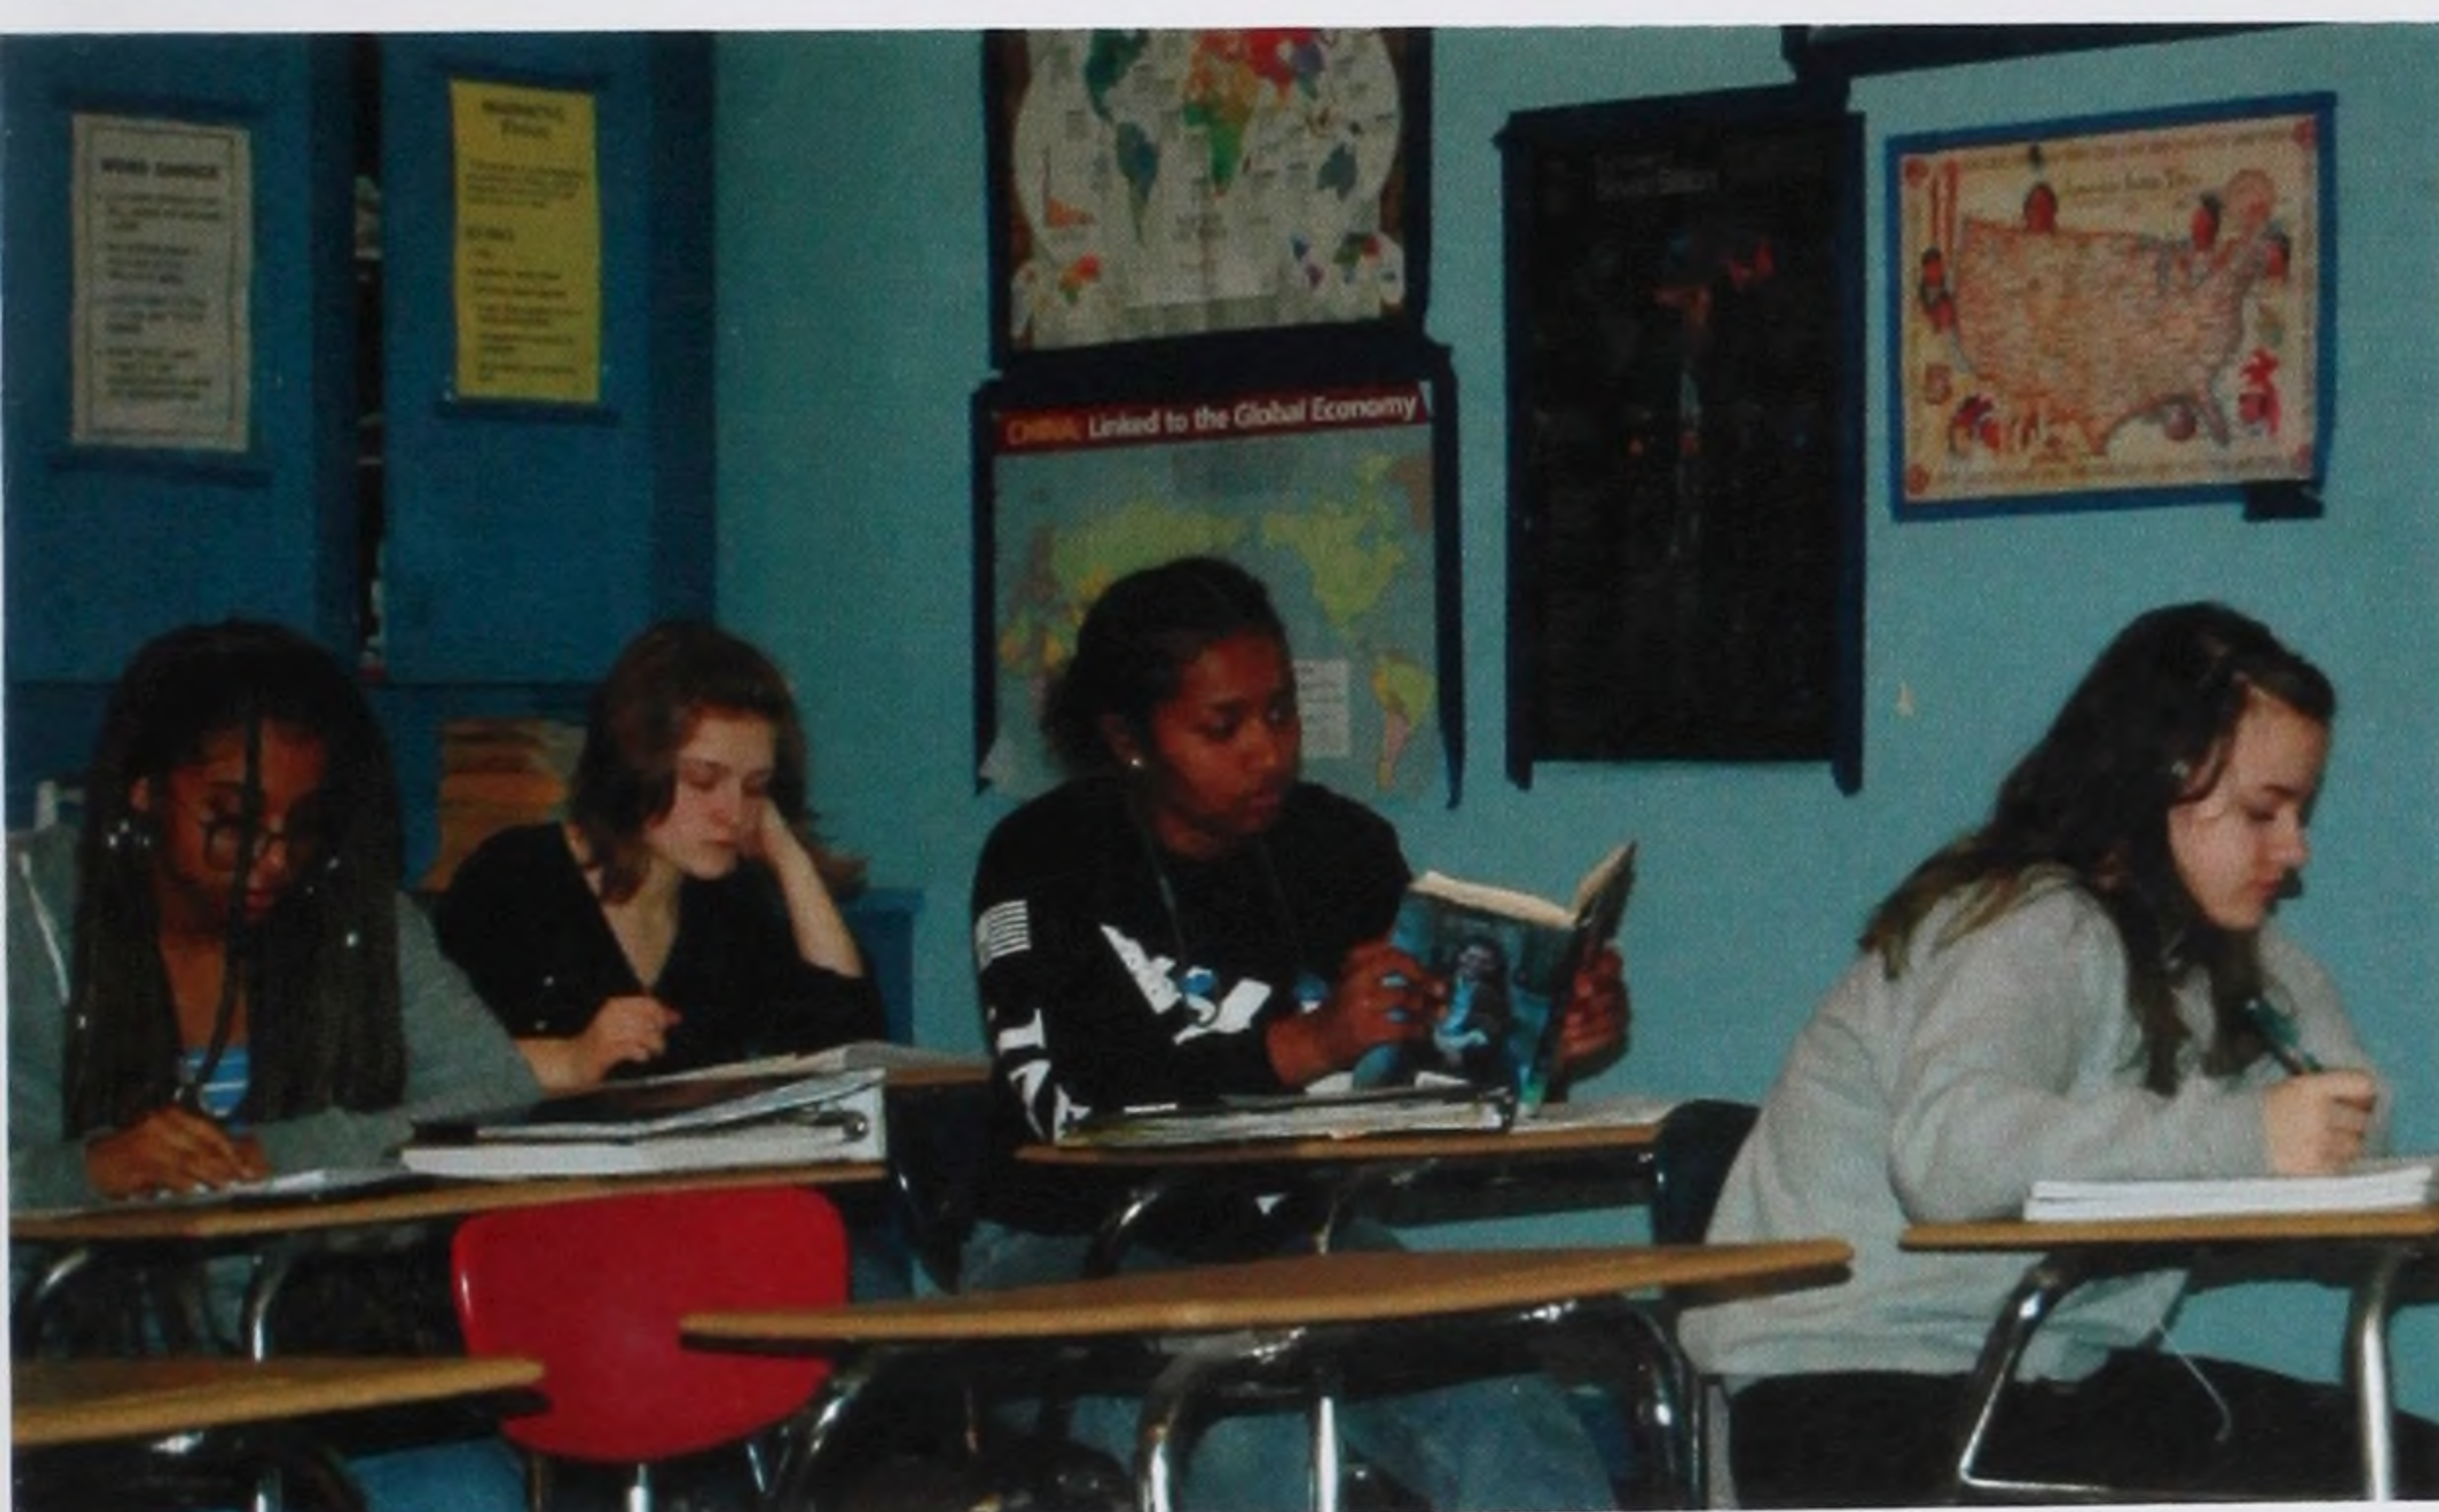

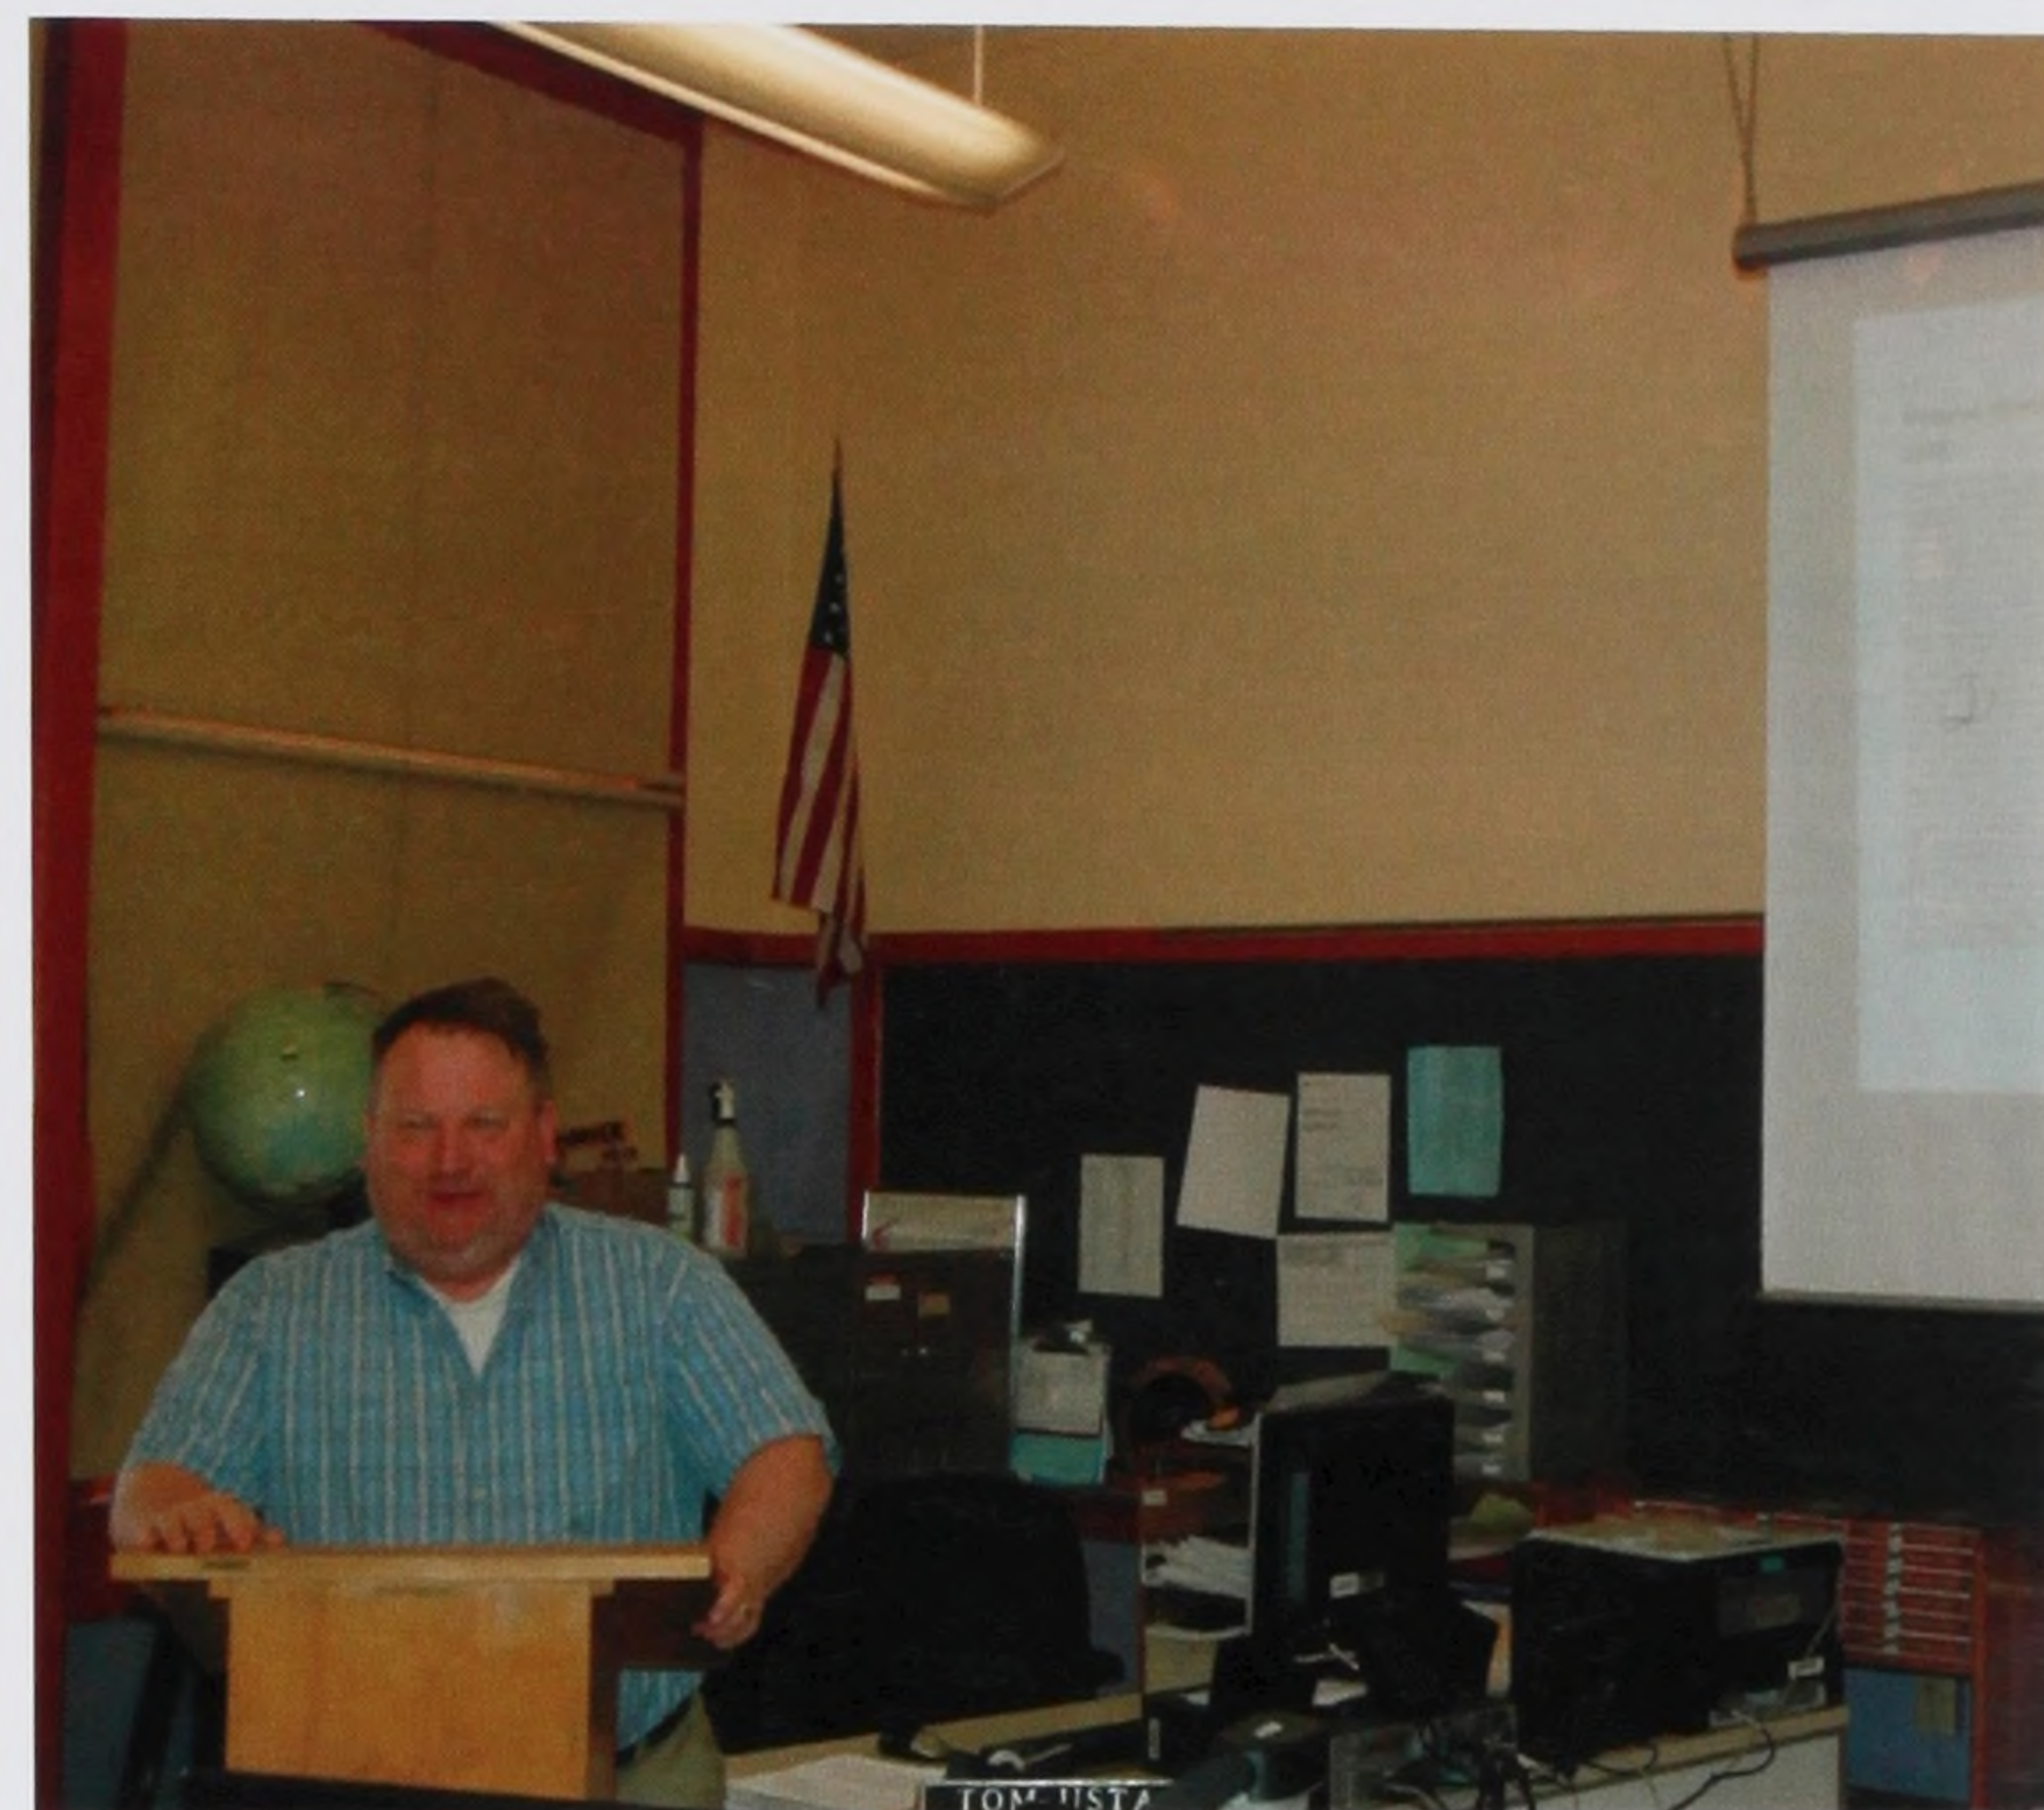

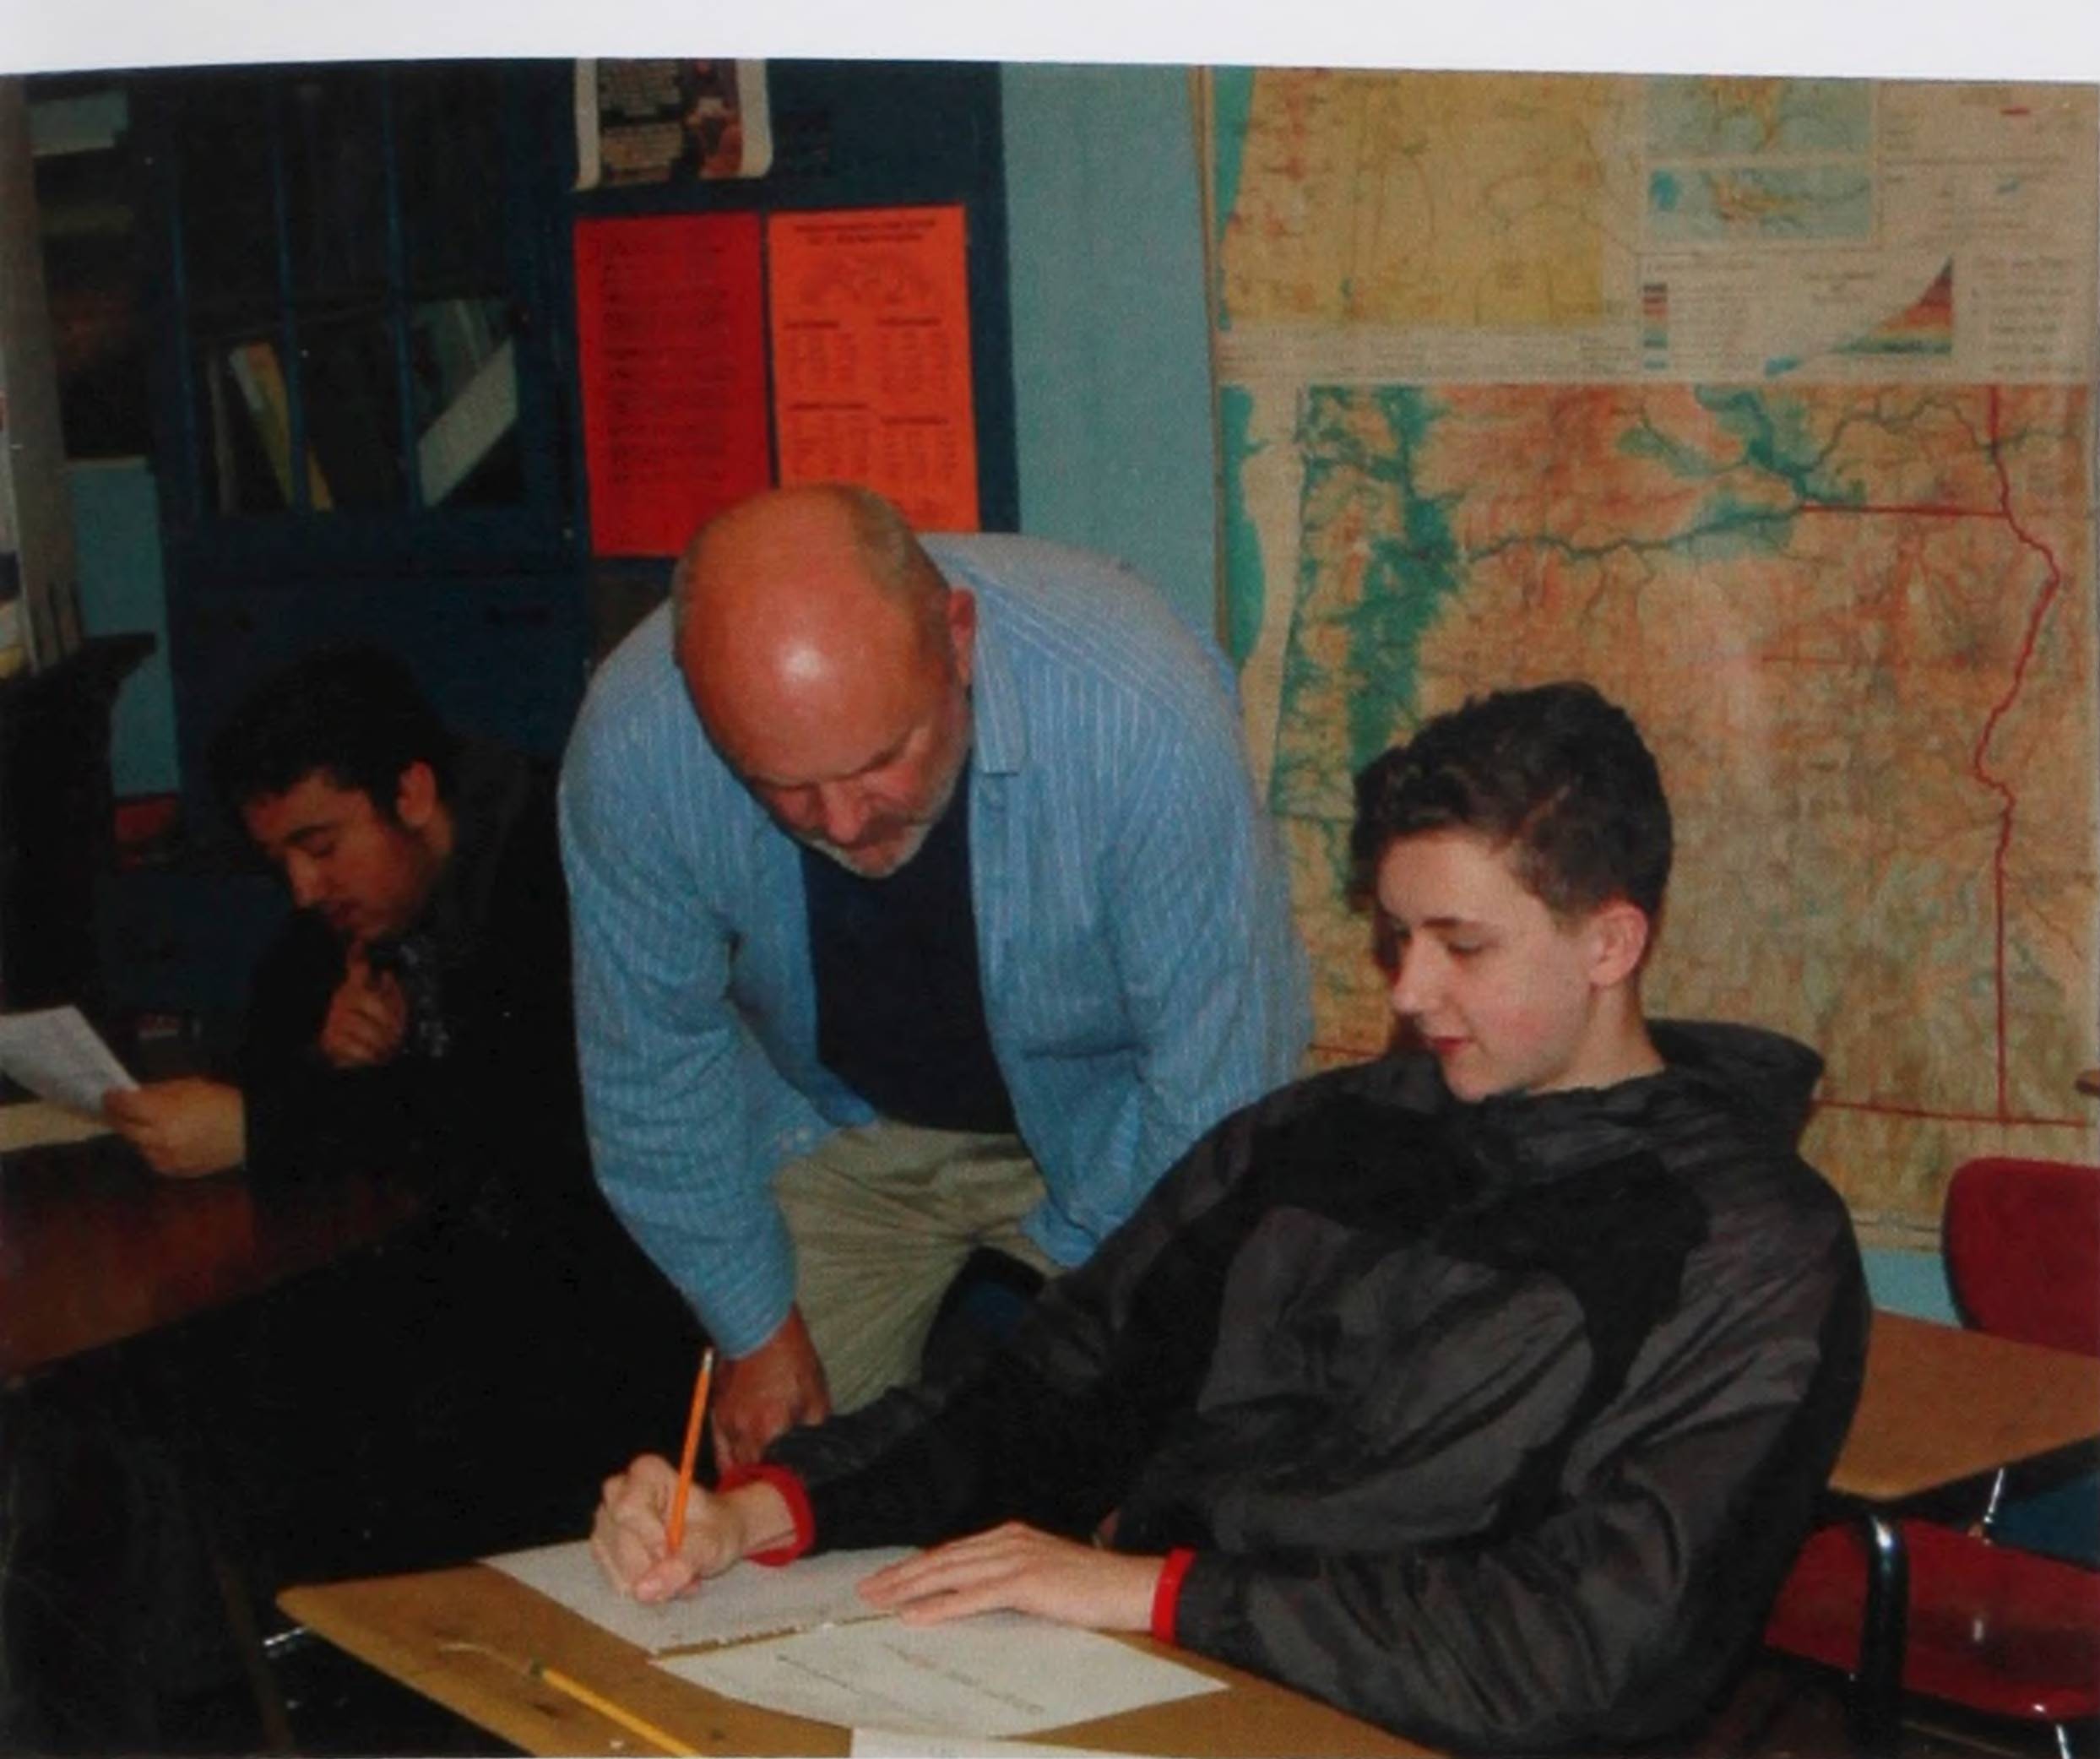

Humanities

Through the hardwork and dedication by Ms. Bruer, two time National Book Award winner Jesmyn Ward came to Benson to speak about her experiences and influences for her writing to a room full of Benson students.

Fit2Live&Learn

“Fríck, I got bootcamp again.”

I loved being part of the fit2live&learn program. It was fun overall, but there were some hard days. It was a cool experience getting to spend it with my friends. -P.E Student

What was the best part of the class? Getting to see kids improving on what they struggled in the beginning of the year.
-Ms.McLellan

clubs

Tech News

Tech News keeps you up to date on all the stuff that is occurring at Benson including sports, clubs, events and more! They work on filming, editing, and the overall production of Benson's news source.

Robotics

Robotics uses a program to manipulate robots. They learn coding, and find new ways to work around issues that come up while using the program.

Black Student Union

Black Student Union is an organization focused on discussing topics with students about black culture. They aim to create leaders who want to make a change in society.

M.E.Ch.A

Movimiento Estudiantil Chicanx de Atzlan

MEChA is a student-led Latinx organization that seeks to promote leadership, higher education, and community engagement through political participation, culture, and history. Those who join MEChA learn to become a leader, connect and learn about Chicanx and Latinx identity, become socially and politically conscious, and build friendships that last a lifetime.

The Benson Chapter leaders attended the MEChA Statewide Conference at Linfield College along with many other chapters from Oregon. Below, the Mechistas pose for a picture after attending the annual Cesar E. Chavez Leadership Conference at Western Oregon University.

National Honor Society

National Honor Society is an elite organization of students with excellent academics standings as well as performing service to their communities. NHS member have an advantage when applying to colleges by showing they do well in school and support those around their community.

Members of NHS must meet a set of requirements in order to maintain their spot in the club. Some of the requirements includes having a 3.5 GPA or higher throughout the course of the year as well as 4 hours of community service every month. Those who aren't able to meet these requirements will be kicked out of the club after three strikes.

Red Cross

The Red Cross Club is a humanitarian organization that prides itself of educating young minds how to prevent, prepare for, and respond to emergency situations. Members of the club volunteer all around the community in hope of reducing human suffering.

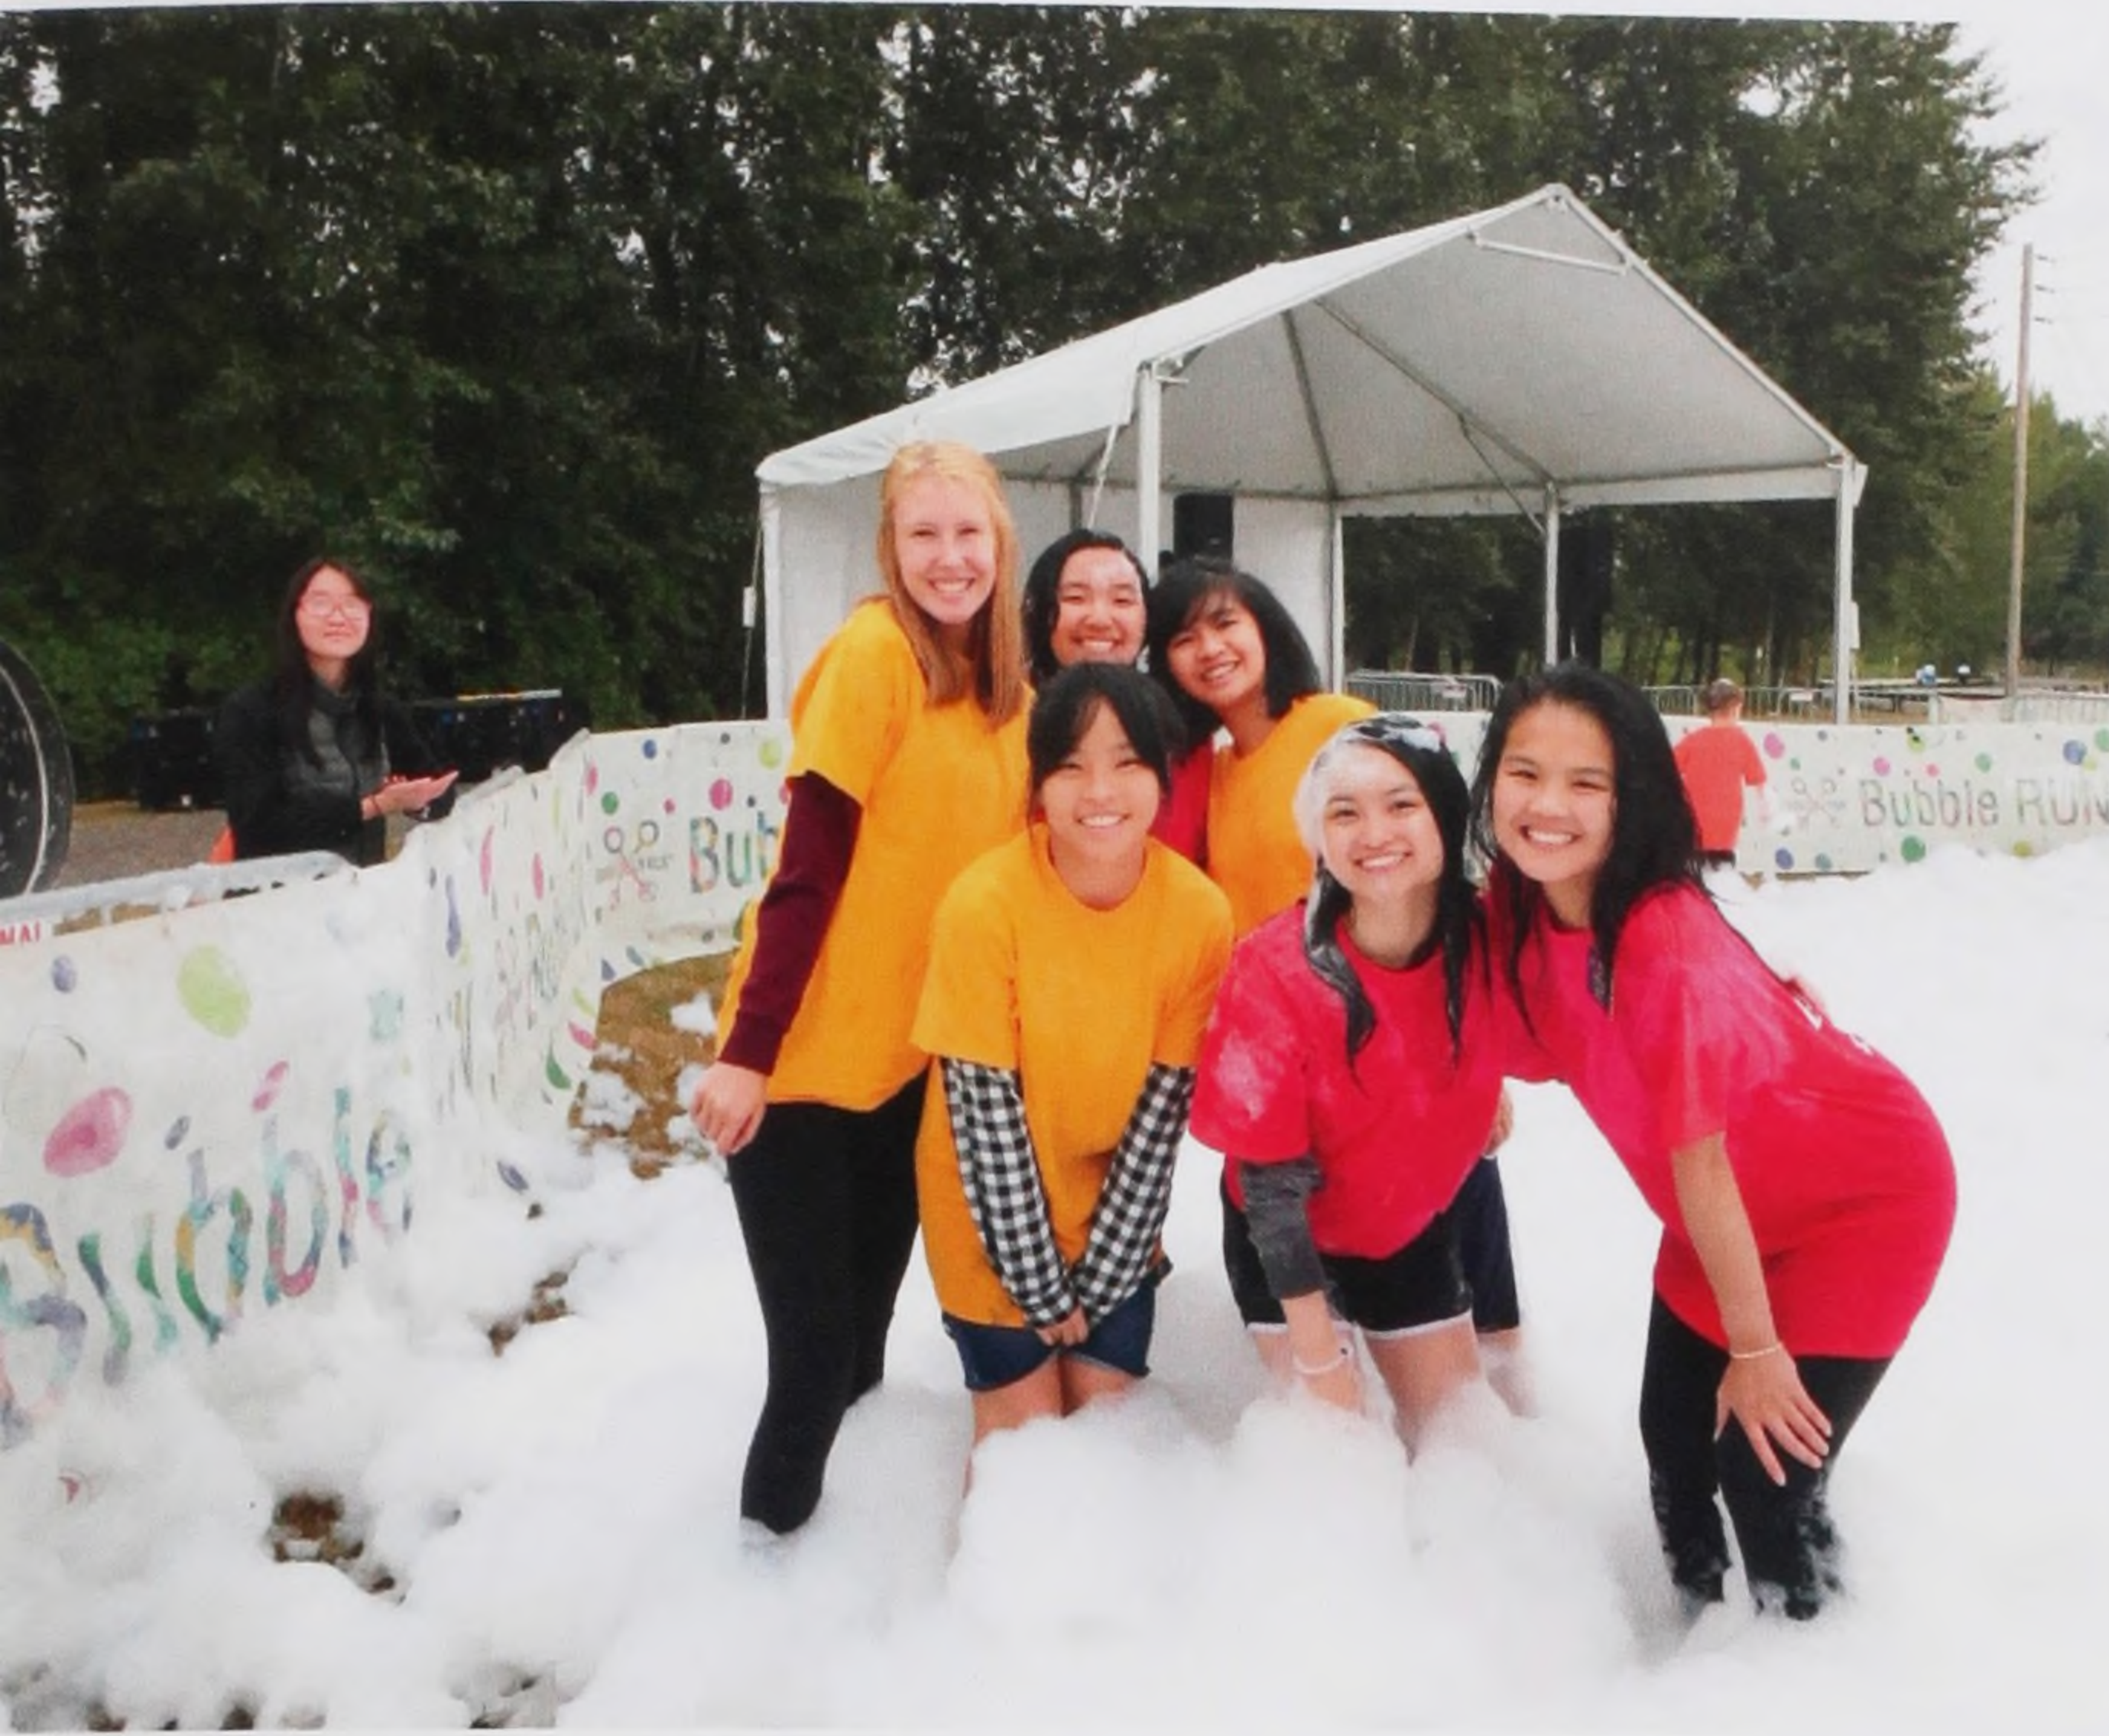

Members of The Red Cross Club volunteer for many organization such as the Oregon Food Bank, repackaging food to help fight hunger in the region, and Making Strides for Portland, a run to help raise awareness and money for breast cancer.

Key Club

Key Club, a student run organization whose goal is to promote leadership through serving others provides high school students with many volunteer events around the community. Many of the members provide their time and effort in helping those around them.

Those in the club spend their time assisting in local runs and organizations with the goal of helping those less fortunate. Members also attend annual meetings known as DCOM in which they meet with other key clubs around the state and participate in leadership activities.

GSA

Gender & Sexuality Alliance

The GSA is a safe and inclusive space where all students have the freedom to express and address issues pertaining to gender equality and LGBTQ+ issues. The GSA also works to create opportunities to build community and brainstorm practical ways to make positive changes in society.

BATS

Benson Auditorium Technical Staff

BATS is a historical technical program for students interested in coordination of audio-visual related school functions.

Women's Empowerment Club

"I was inspired to start this club after the 2016 presidential election and motivated to create some positive and empowering impact for the school and the community within it. Women's Empowerment Club is only one year old, but we have established a space in Benson for everyone to come and discuss feminism, current and past events, and the effects on women of all identities and backgrounds."

Benson Cteen Club

Cteen is a national organization that helps Jewish teens find community and connect with other Jewish teens through summer programs and events. During the holiday of Purim, Benson Cteen students gathered to make a treat called hamentashen, a triangular pastry that holds a lot of symbolism during this holiday.

Asian-Pacific Islander Club

In Asian-Pacific Islander Club, they learn about the variety of Asian traditions and cultures and participate in teamwork activities in order to come closer as a community at Benson.

Ocean Bowl

Benson's Ocean Bowl team works hard to learn about less explored sciences in order to compete in the annual National Ocean Sciences Bowl.

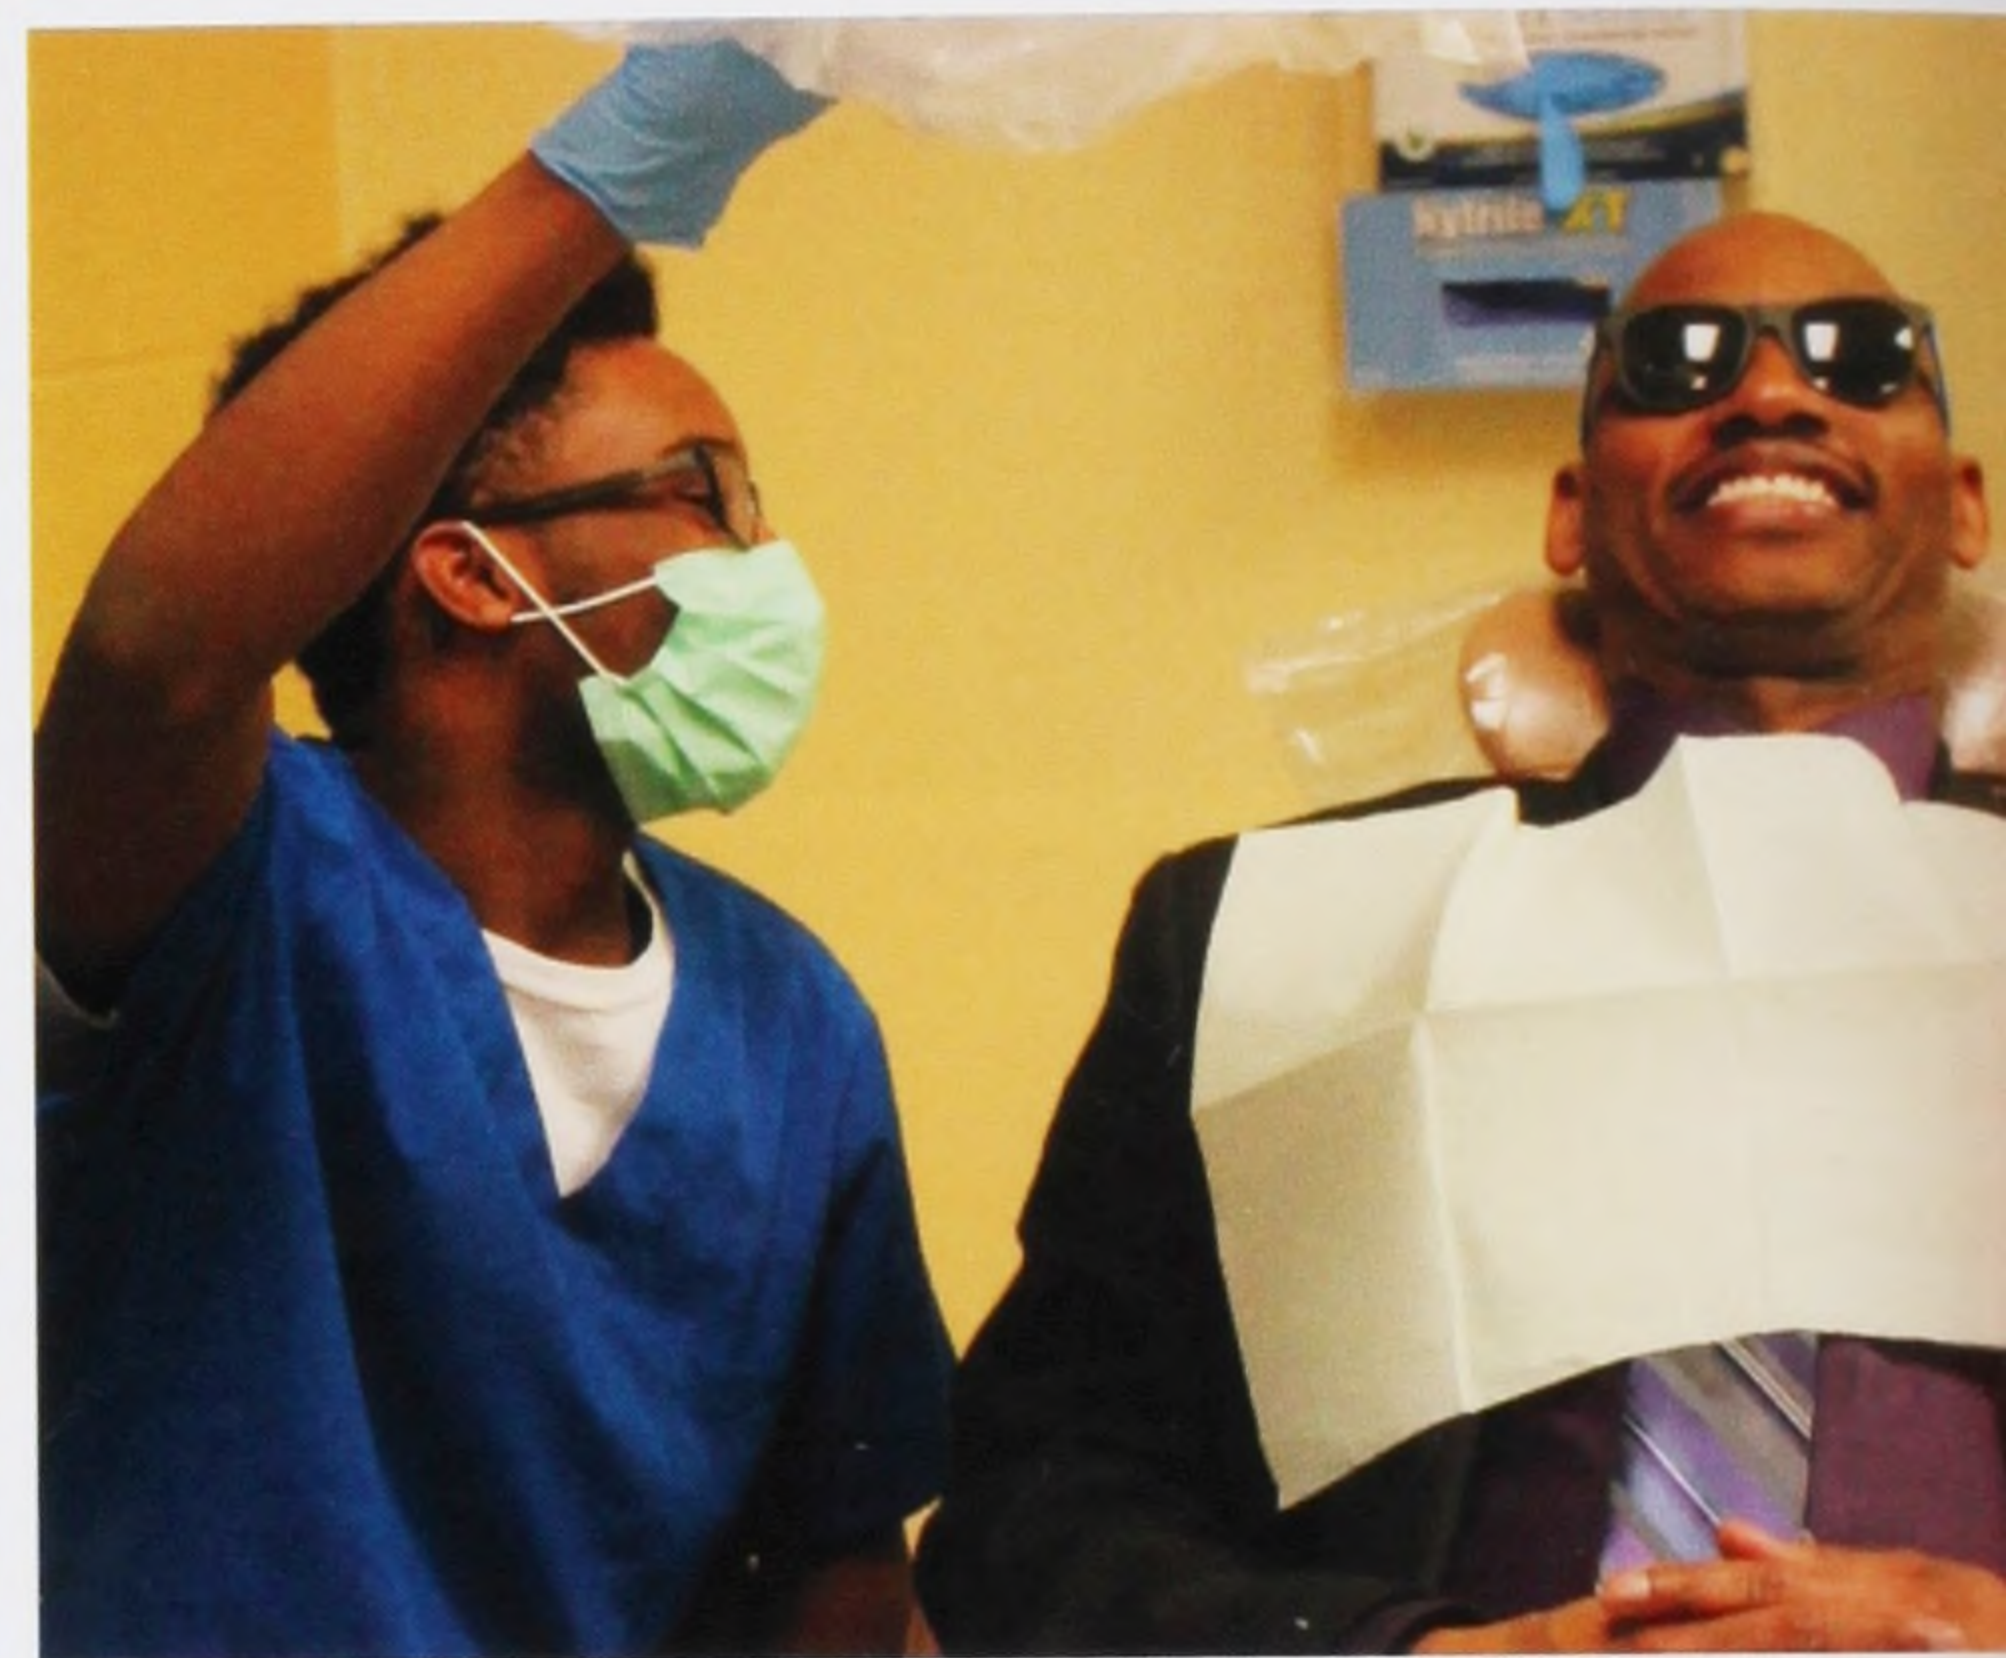

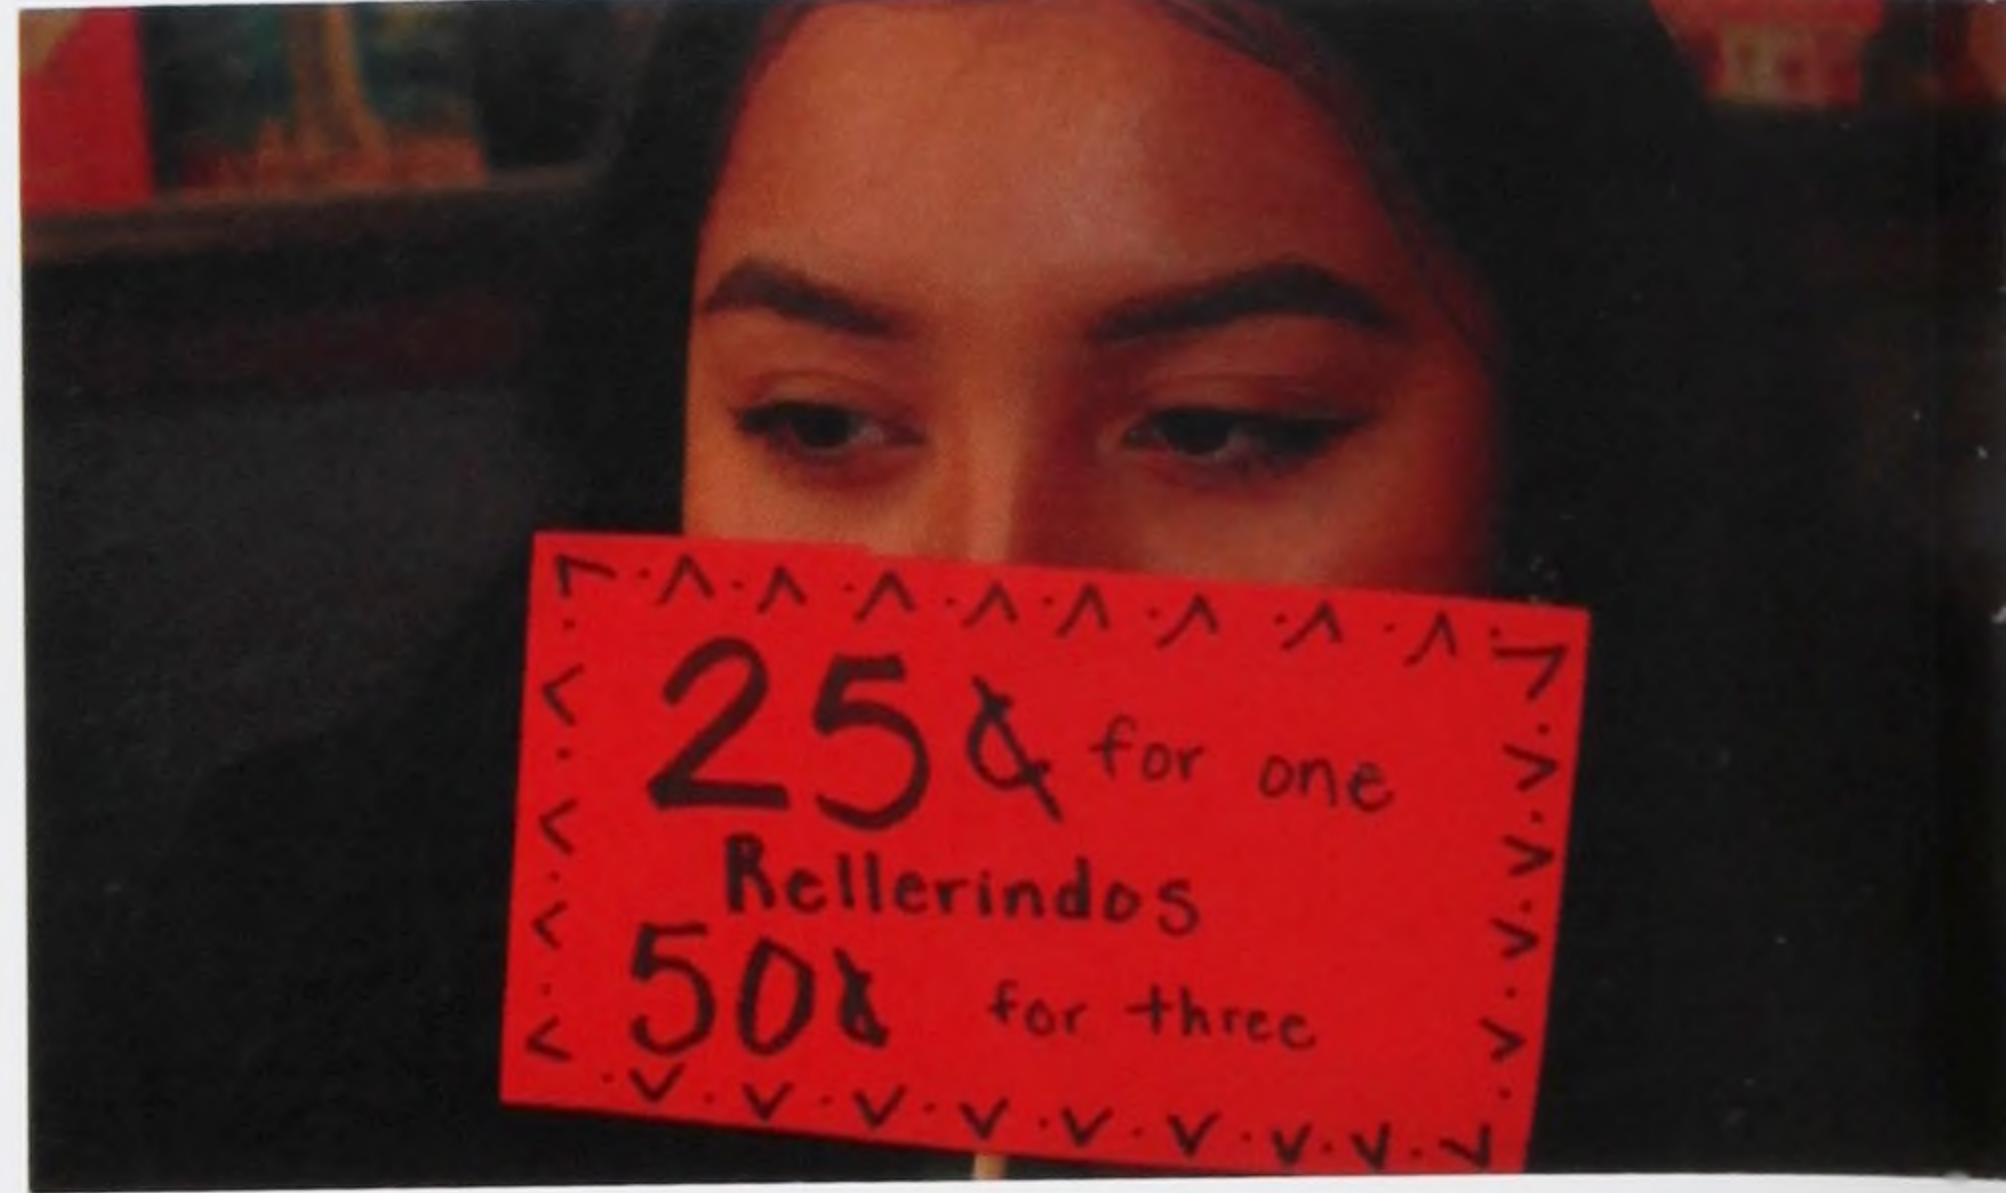

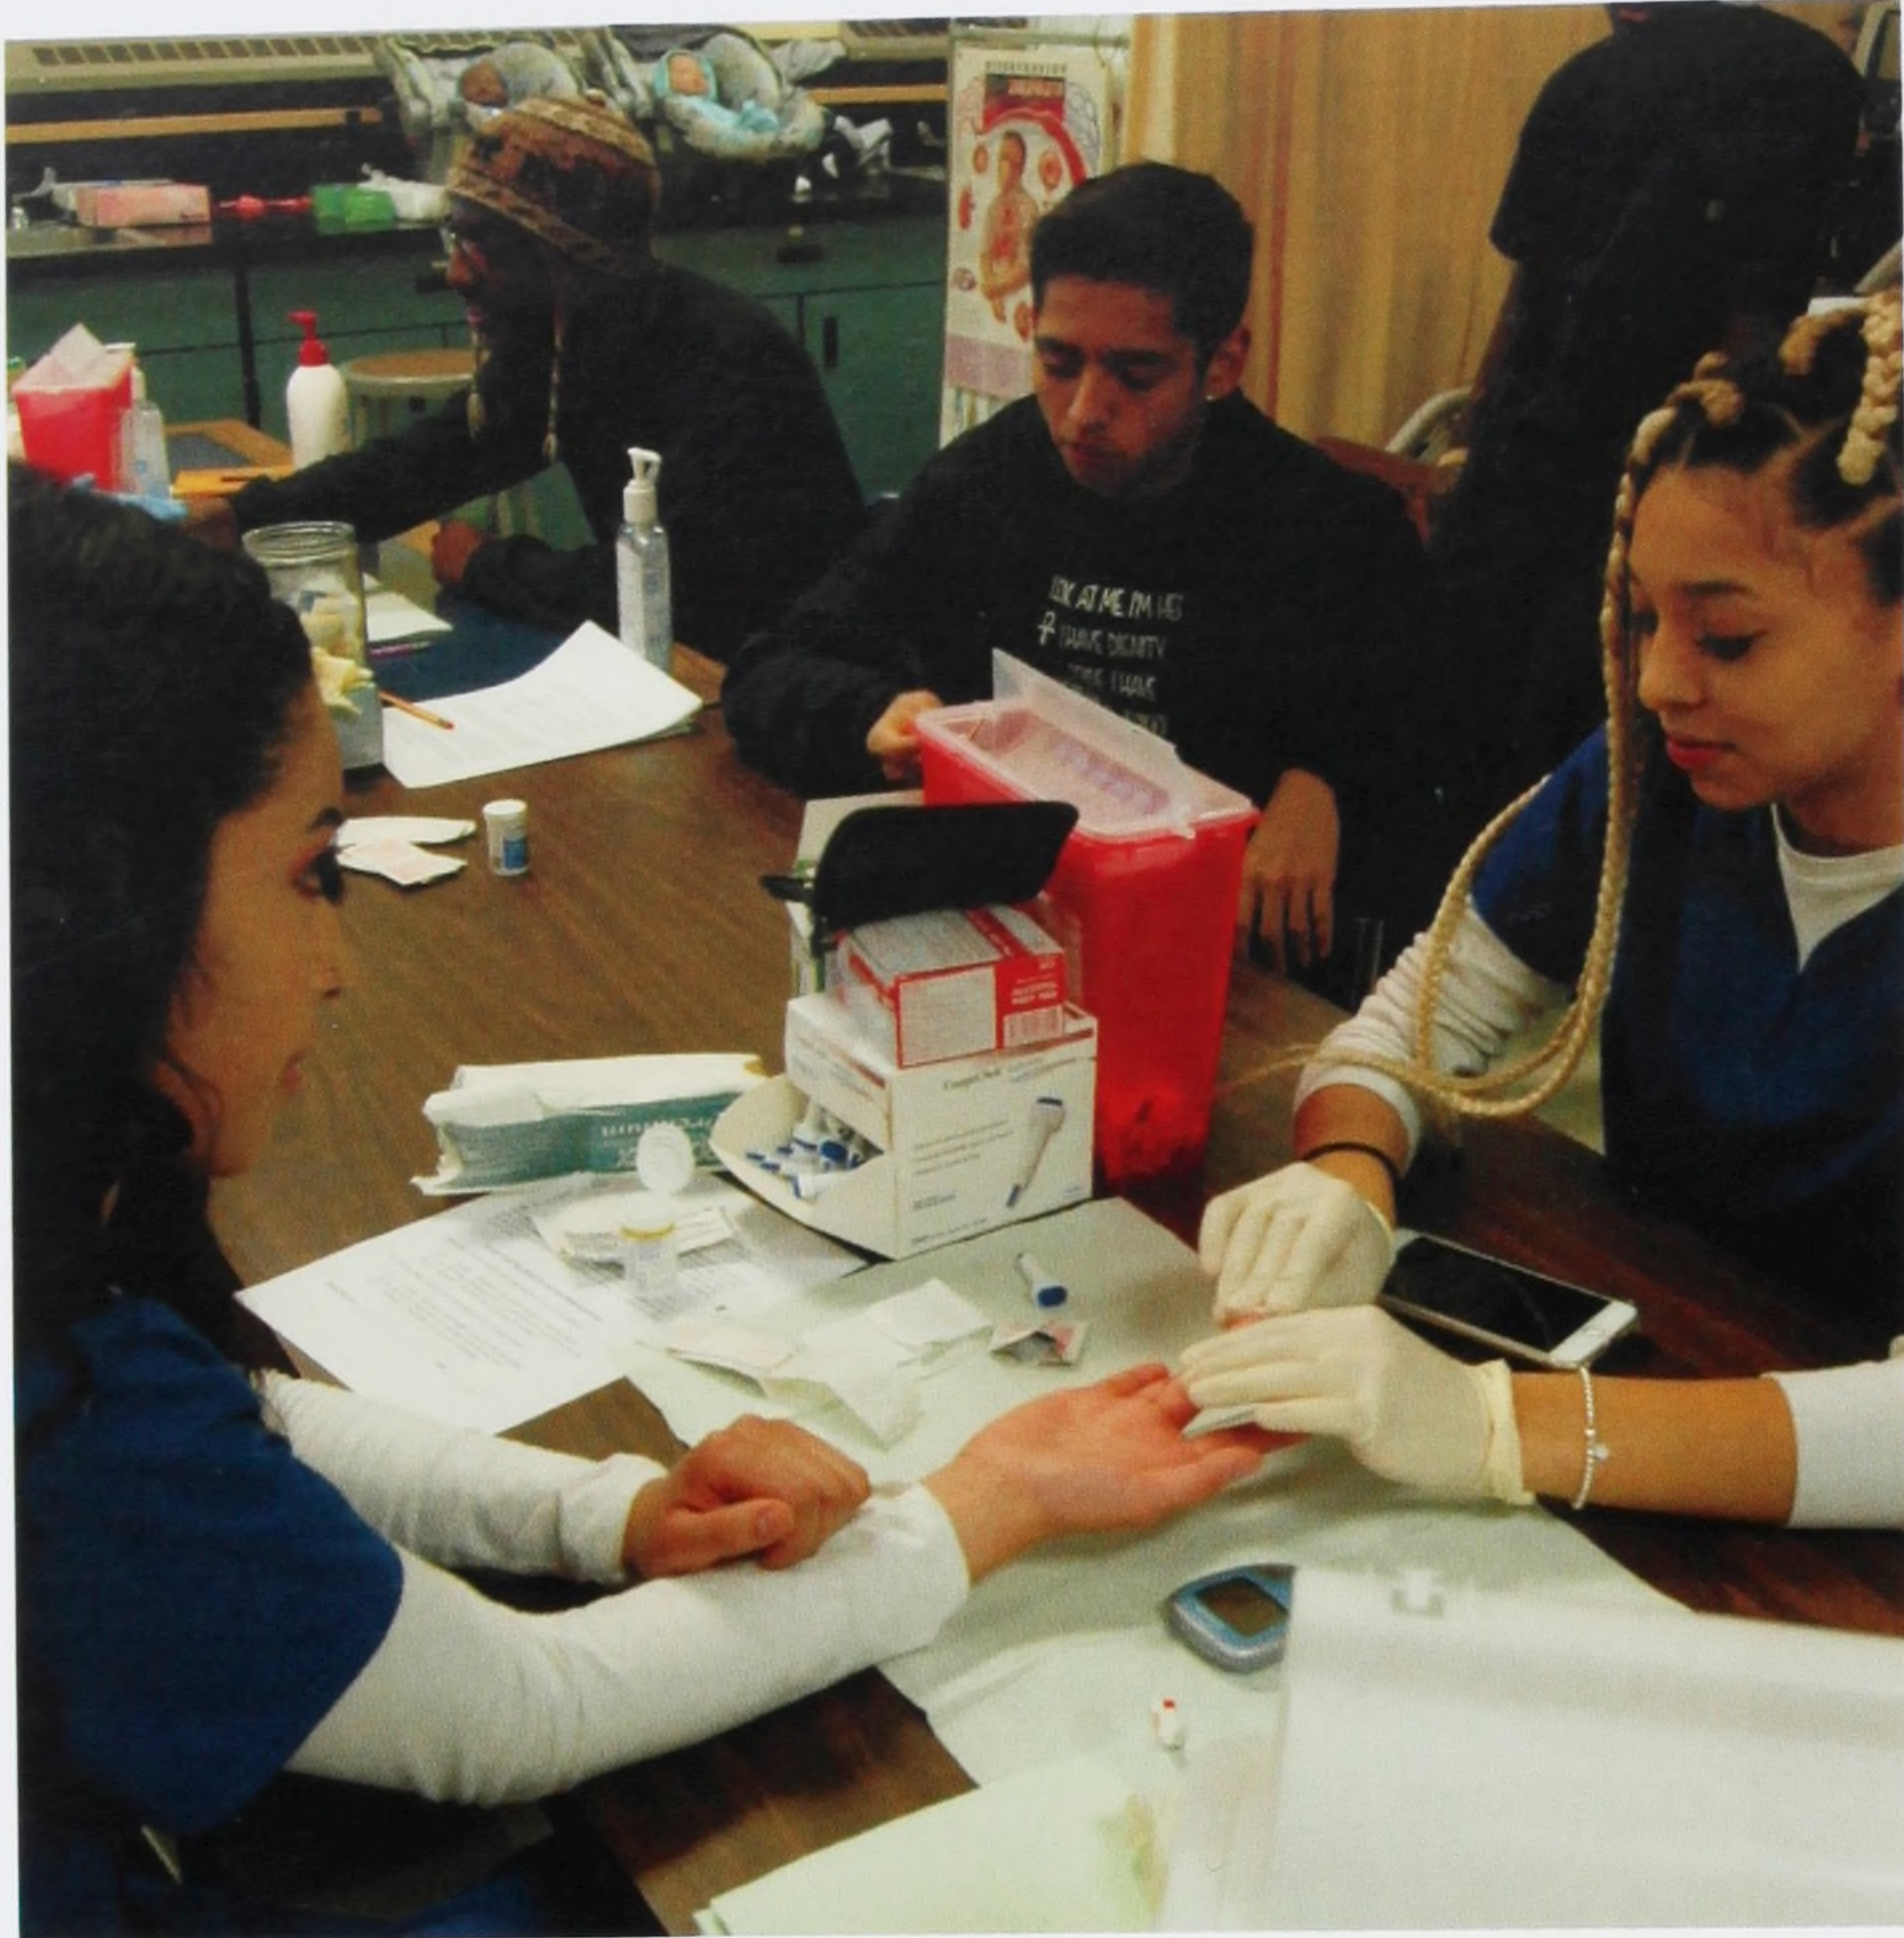

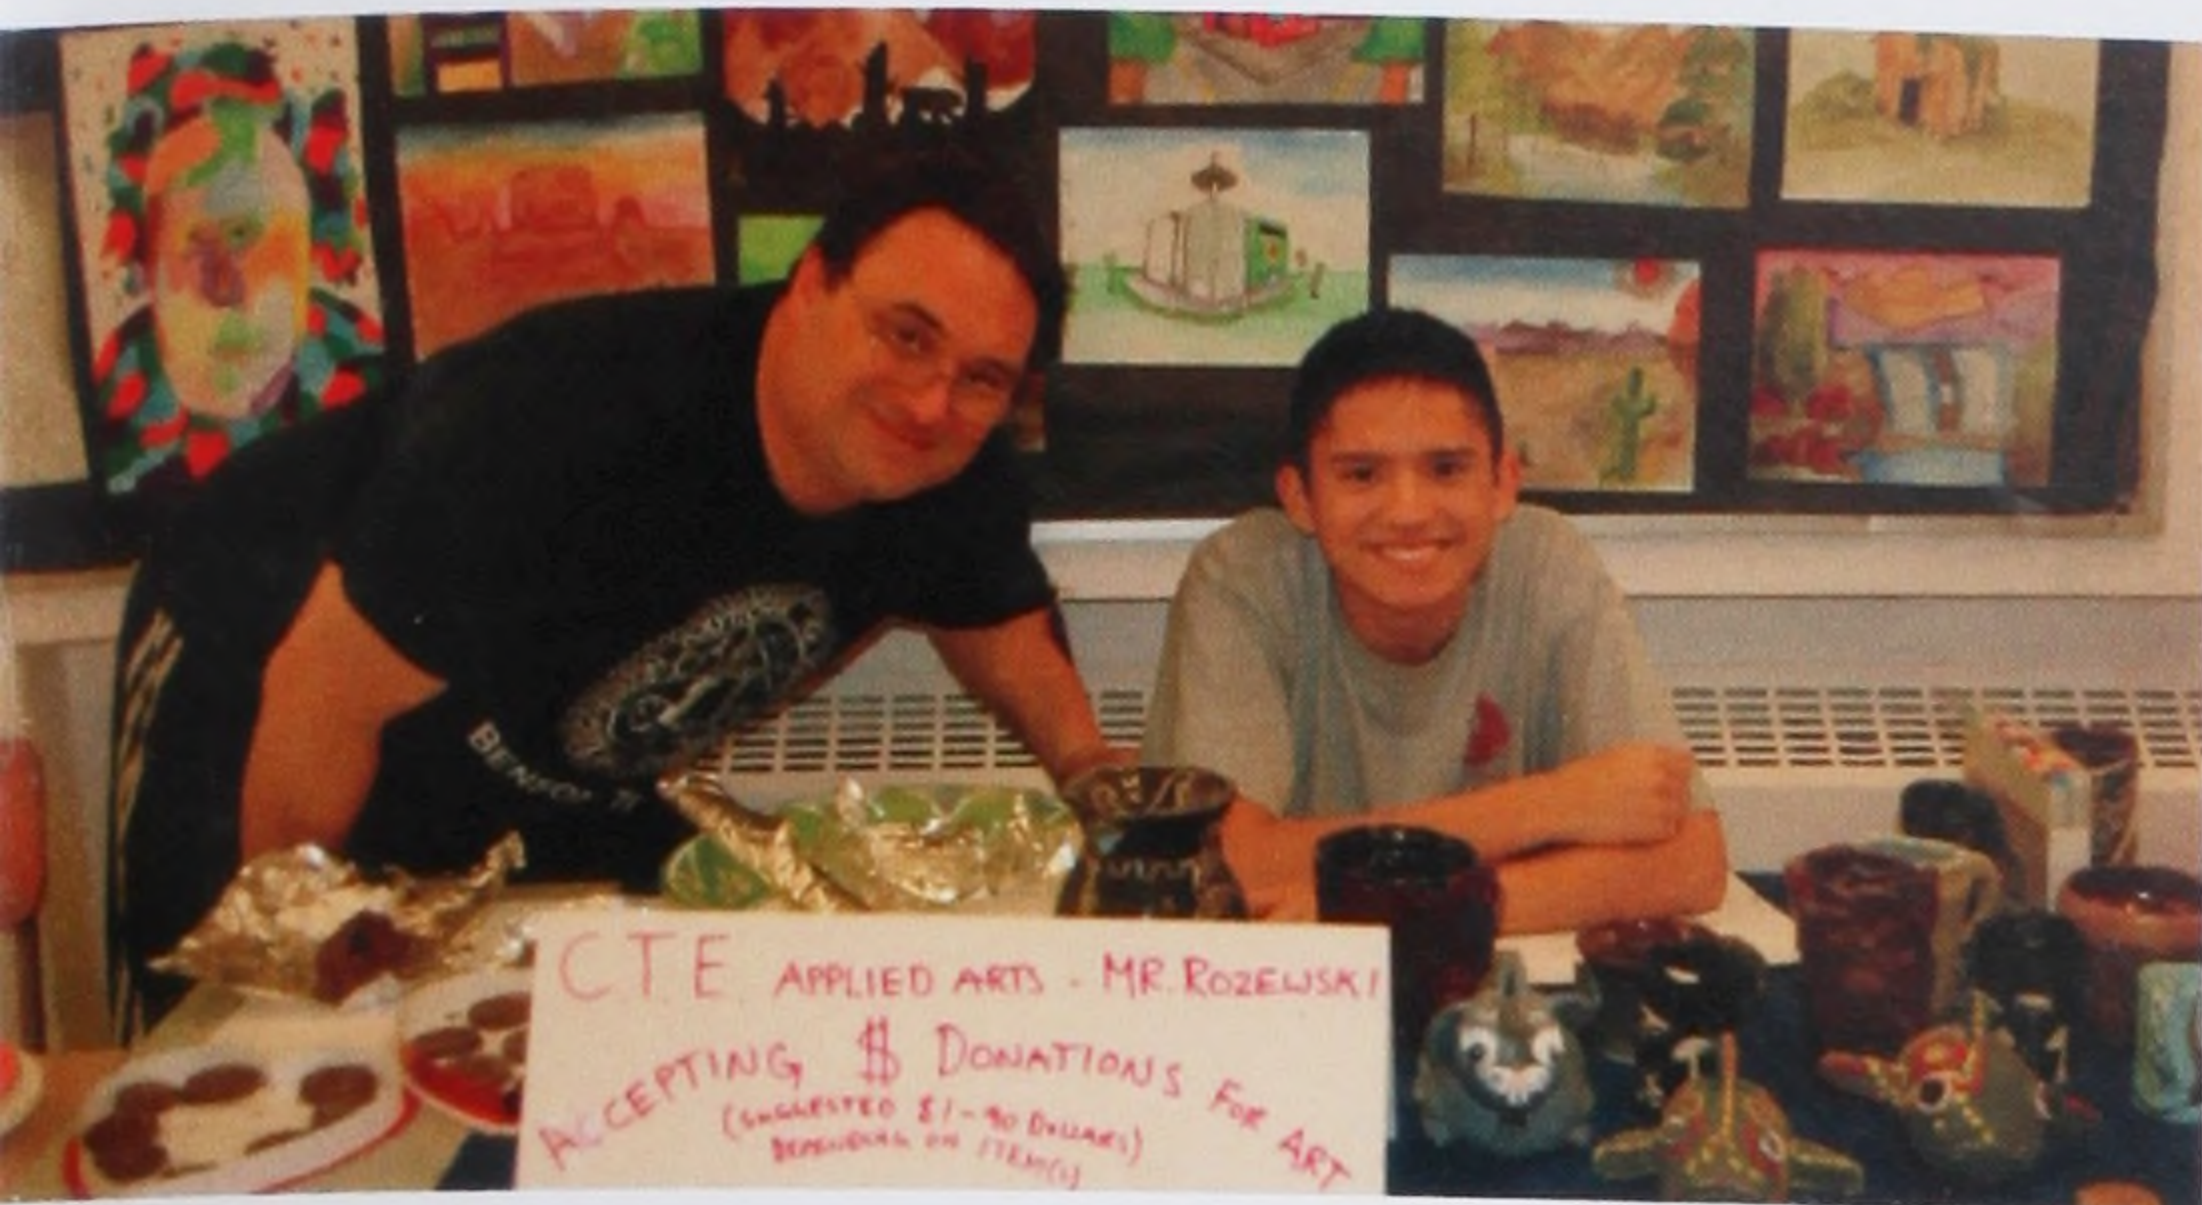

Leadership

In Leadership students learn how to organize school events so that Benson can be a fun and spirited environment. They learn communication and prioritization skills.

SPORTS

Football

48 A Team Above All.
Above All, A Team.

“The lessons I learned from football at Benson are priceless. As a captain, I’ve learned leadership by being as an extension of the coaches. Leadership has played a role in getting to understand how to take initiative and take risks for our team while still getting to know my peers on a personal level.”

-Michael Morgan

“Even if we fall, we still get up, because staying on the floor isn’t an option in volleyball.”

- Isabelle Vang, Class of 2020

Volleyball

Drop, set, spike!

The Benson volleyball team spent this year growing closer and stronger. At the end of the season, every member was proud of their teammates as well as themselves.

For many on the Junior Varsity team, this was their first year playing volleyball. They put forward a strong effort and will be back next year to win!

“Cross country is so exciting this year... we had everyone I feel like working really hard and improving and we've seen a decrease in time, it's just so fun to watch how close our team is and how supportive and friendly they are to each other.” - Lih Kuhlman, Cross Country Coach

Cross Country

Our Warm Up is Your Workout

The varsity team had a good shot at state but unfortunately only Joseph Justice made it. Simon Criswell got 12th place in the districts race and Joseph got 9th. However, both Joseph and Simon were able to become the 2nd and 3rd fastest runner in Benson history!

“It was an honor going through this season, these guys are like a second family to me. My brothers’. Best season by record and by chemistry I’ve had all four years.”

-Joseph Justice, Class of 2018

Basketball

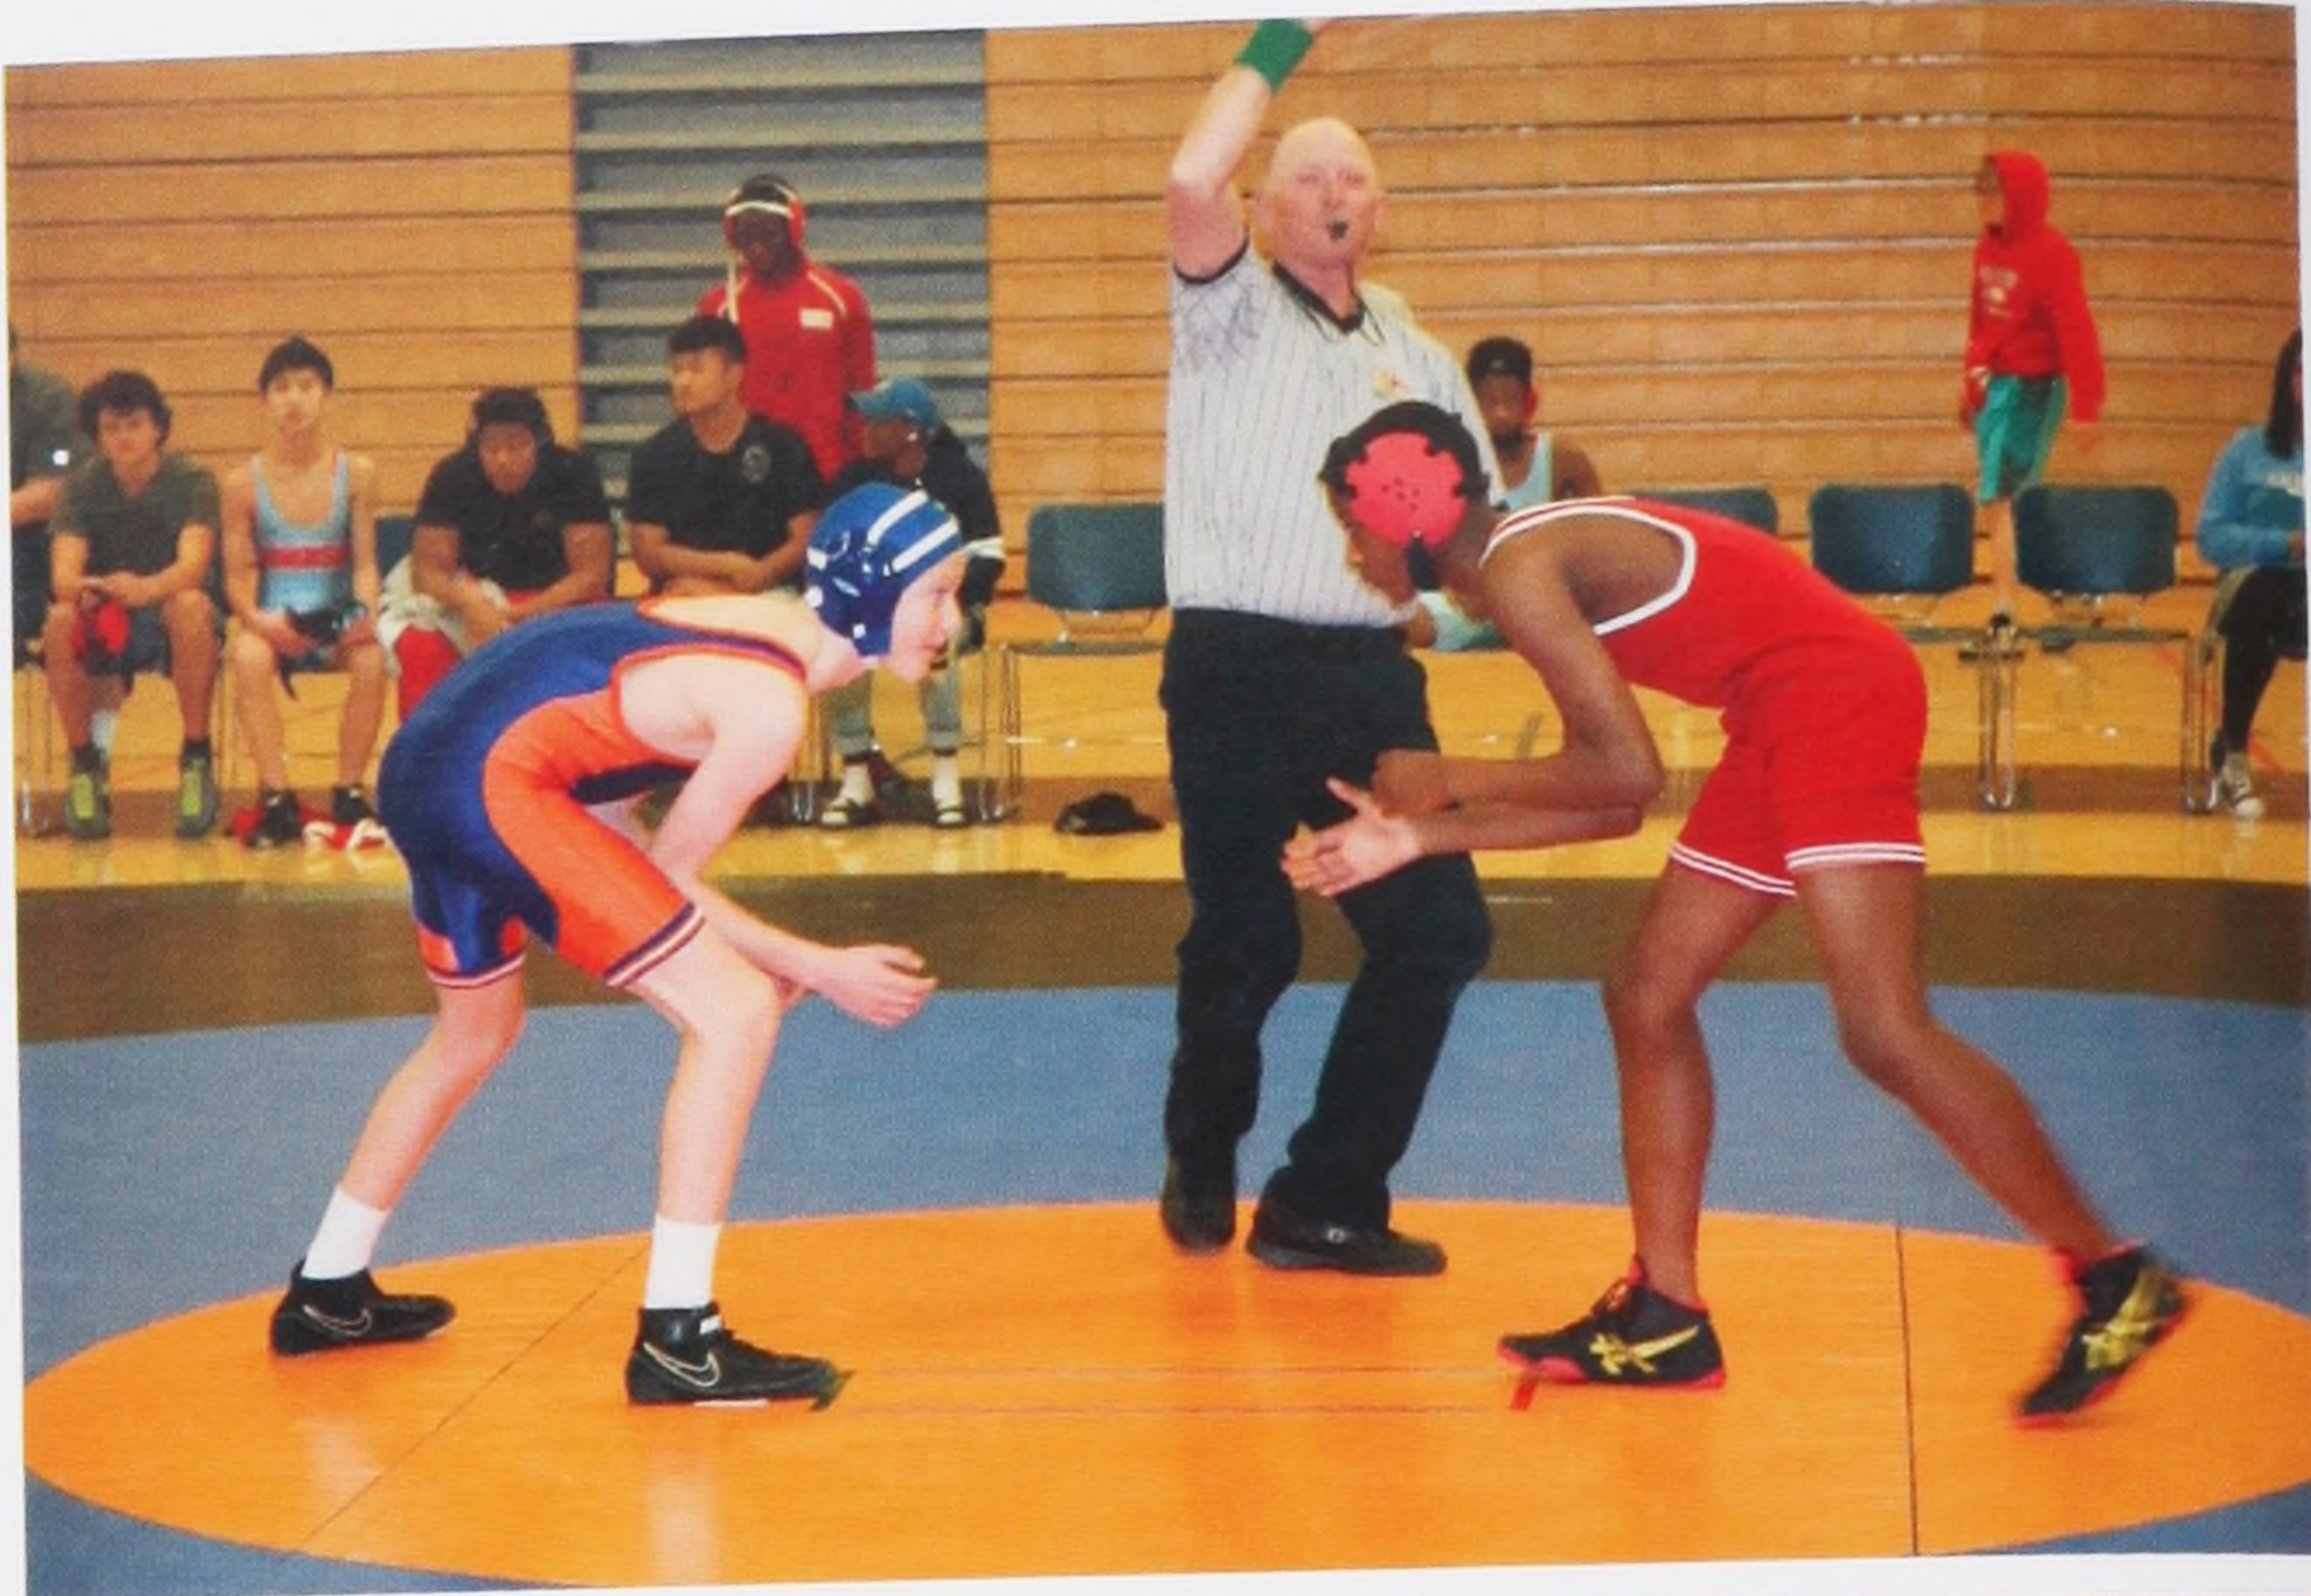

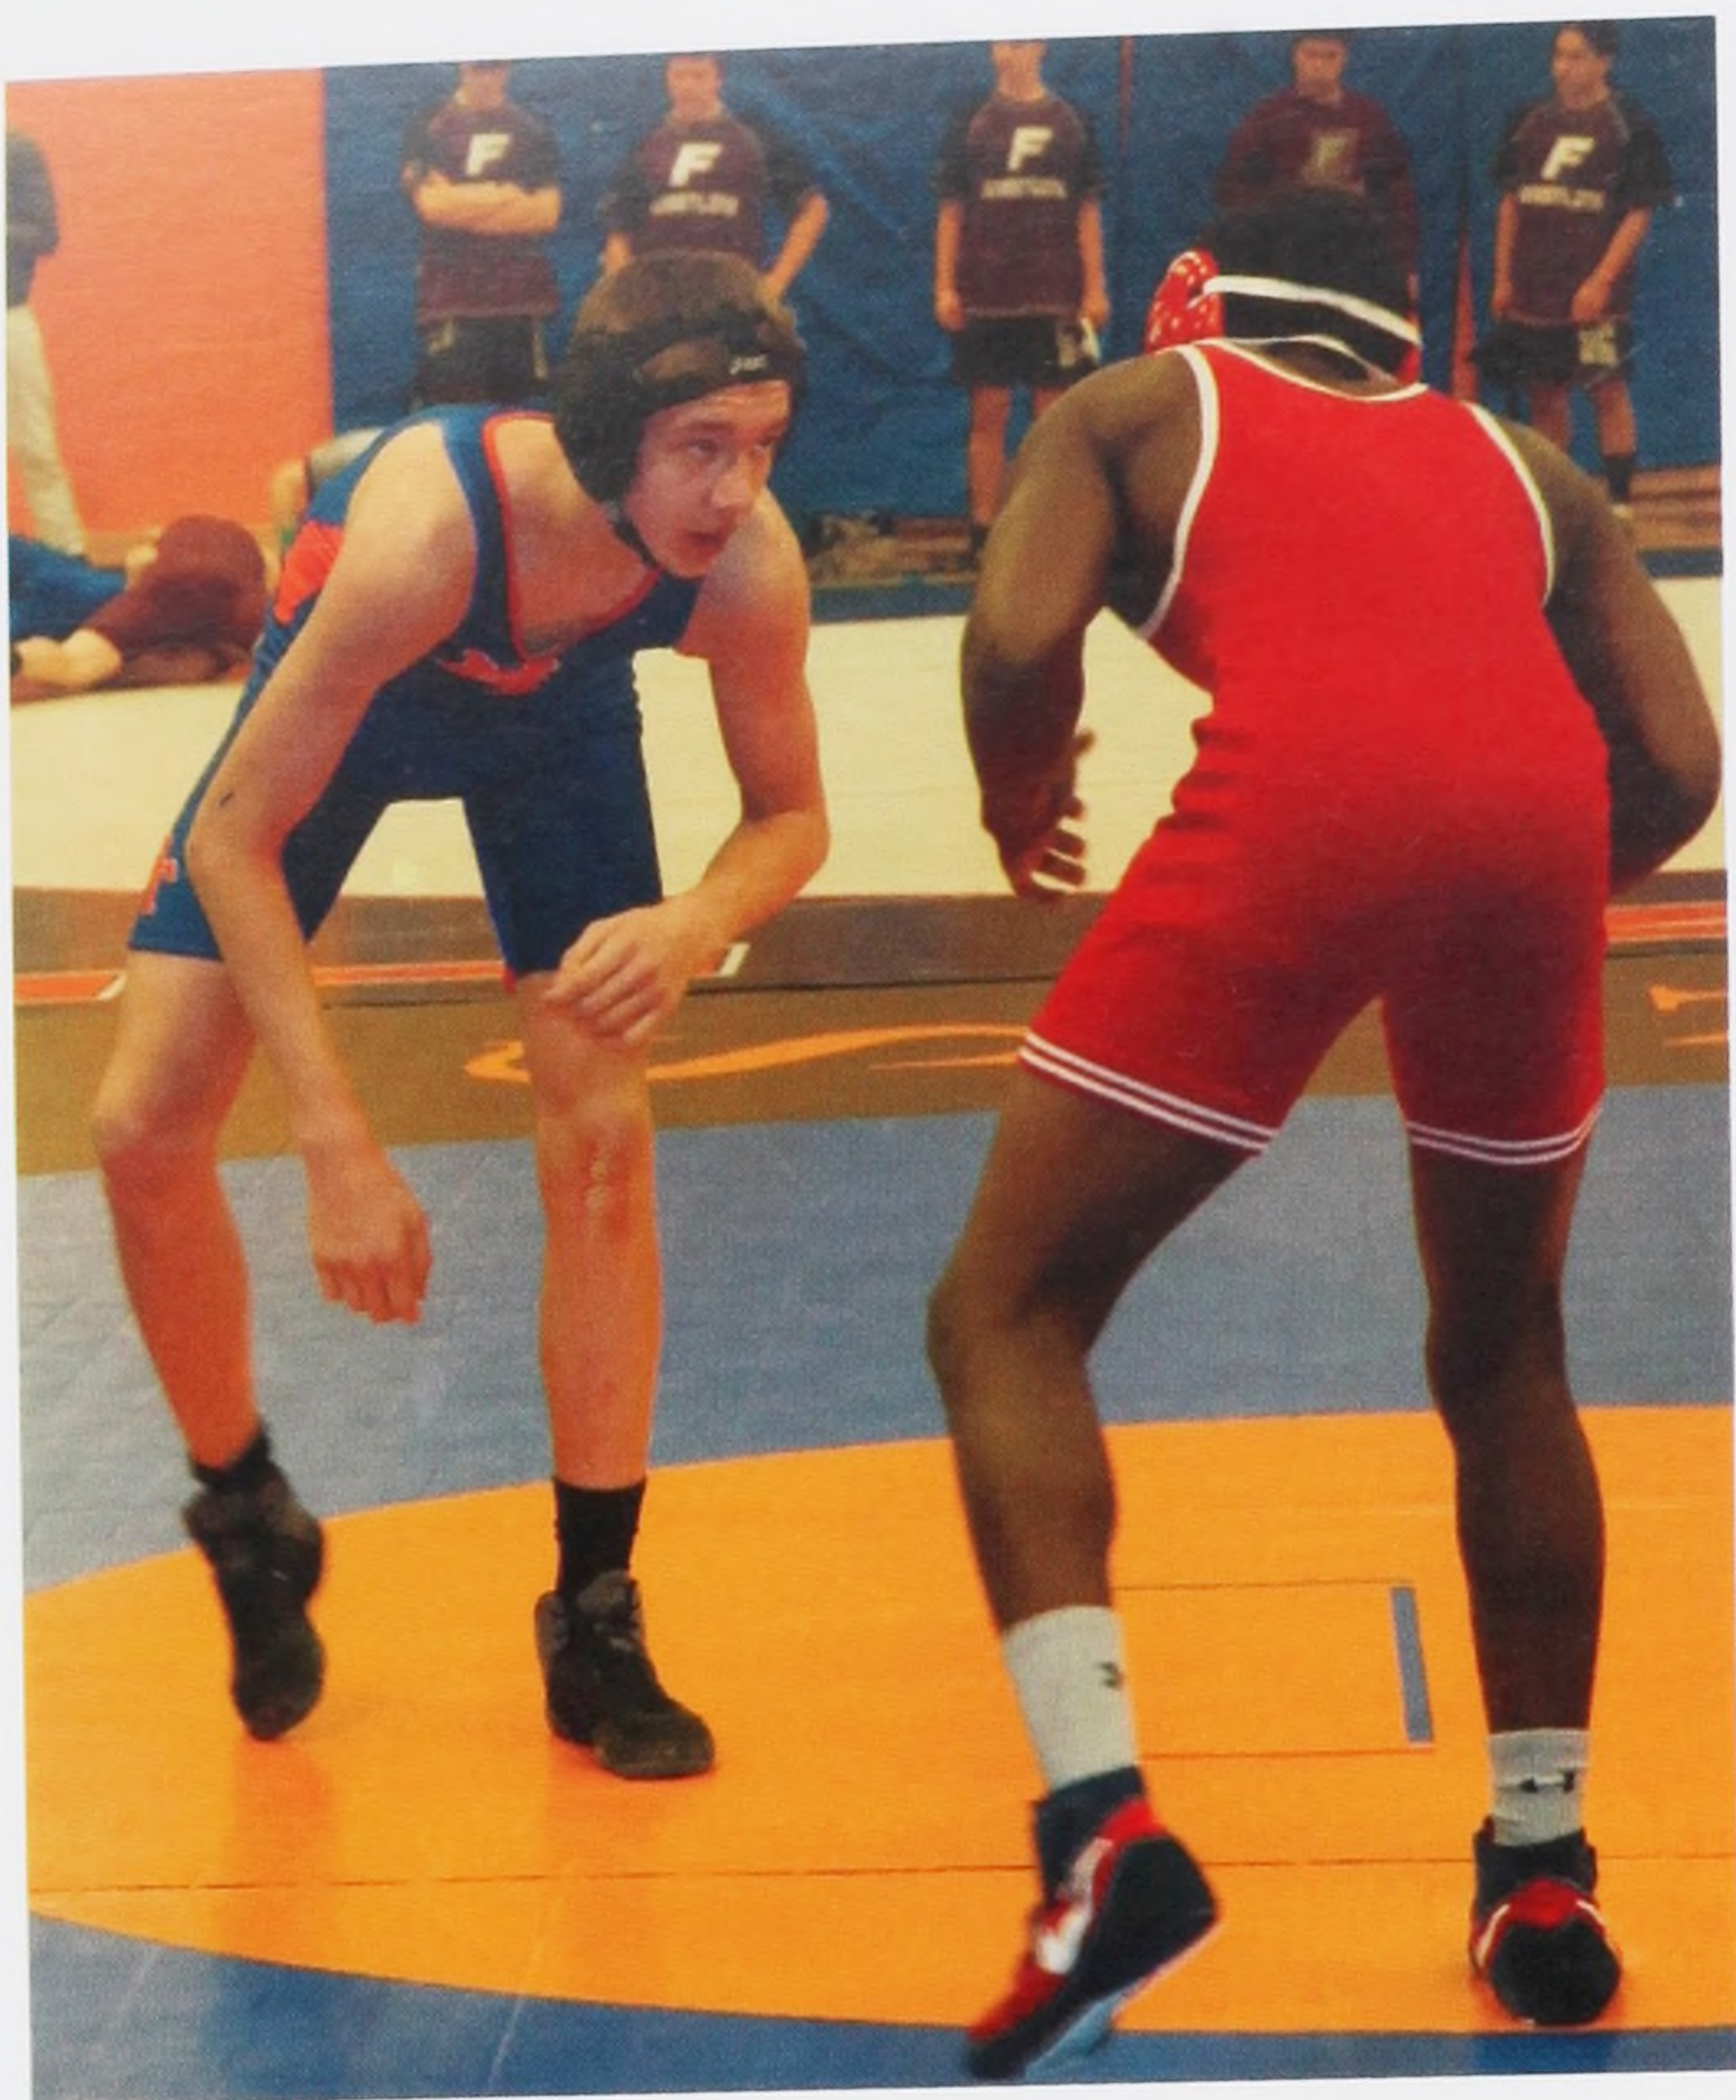

Sink That Shot!

Women's

For the first time in over 20 years, Benson's women's basketball team made it to state beating Tigard in the semi-finals ending with a one point lead.

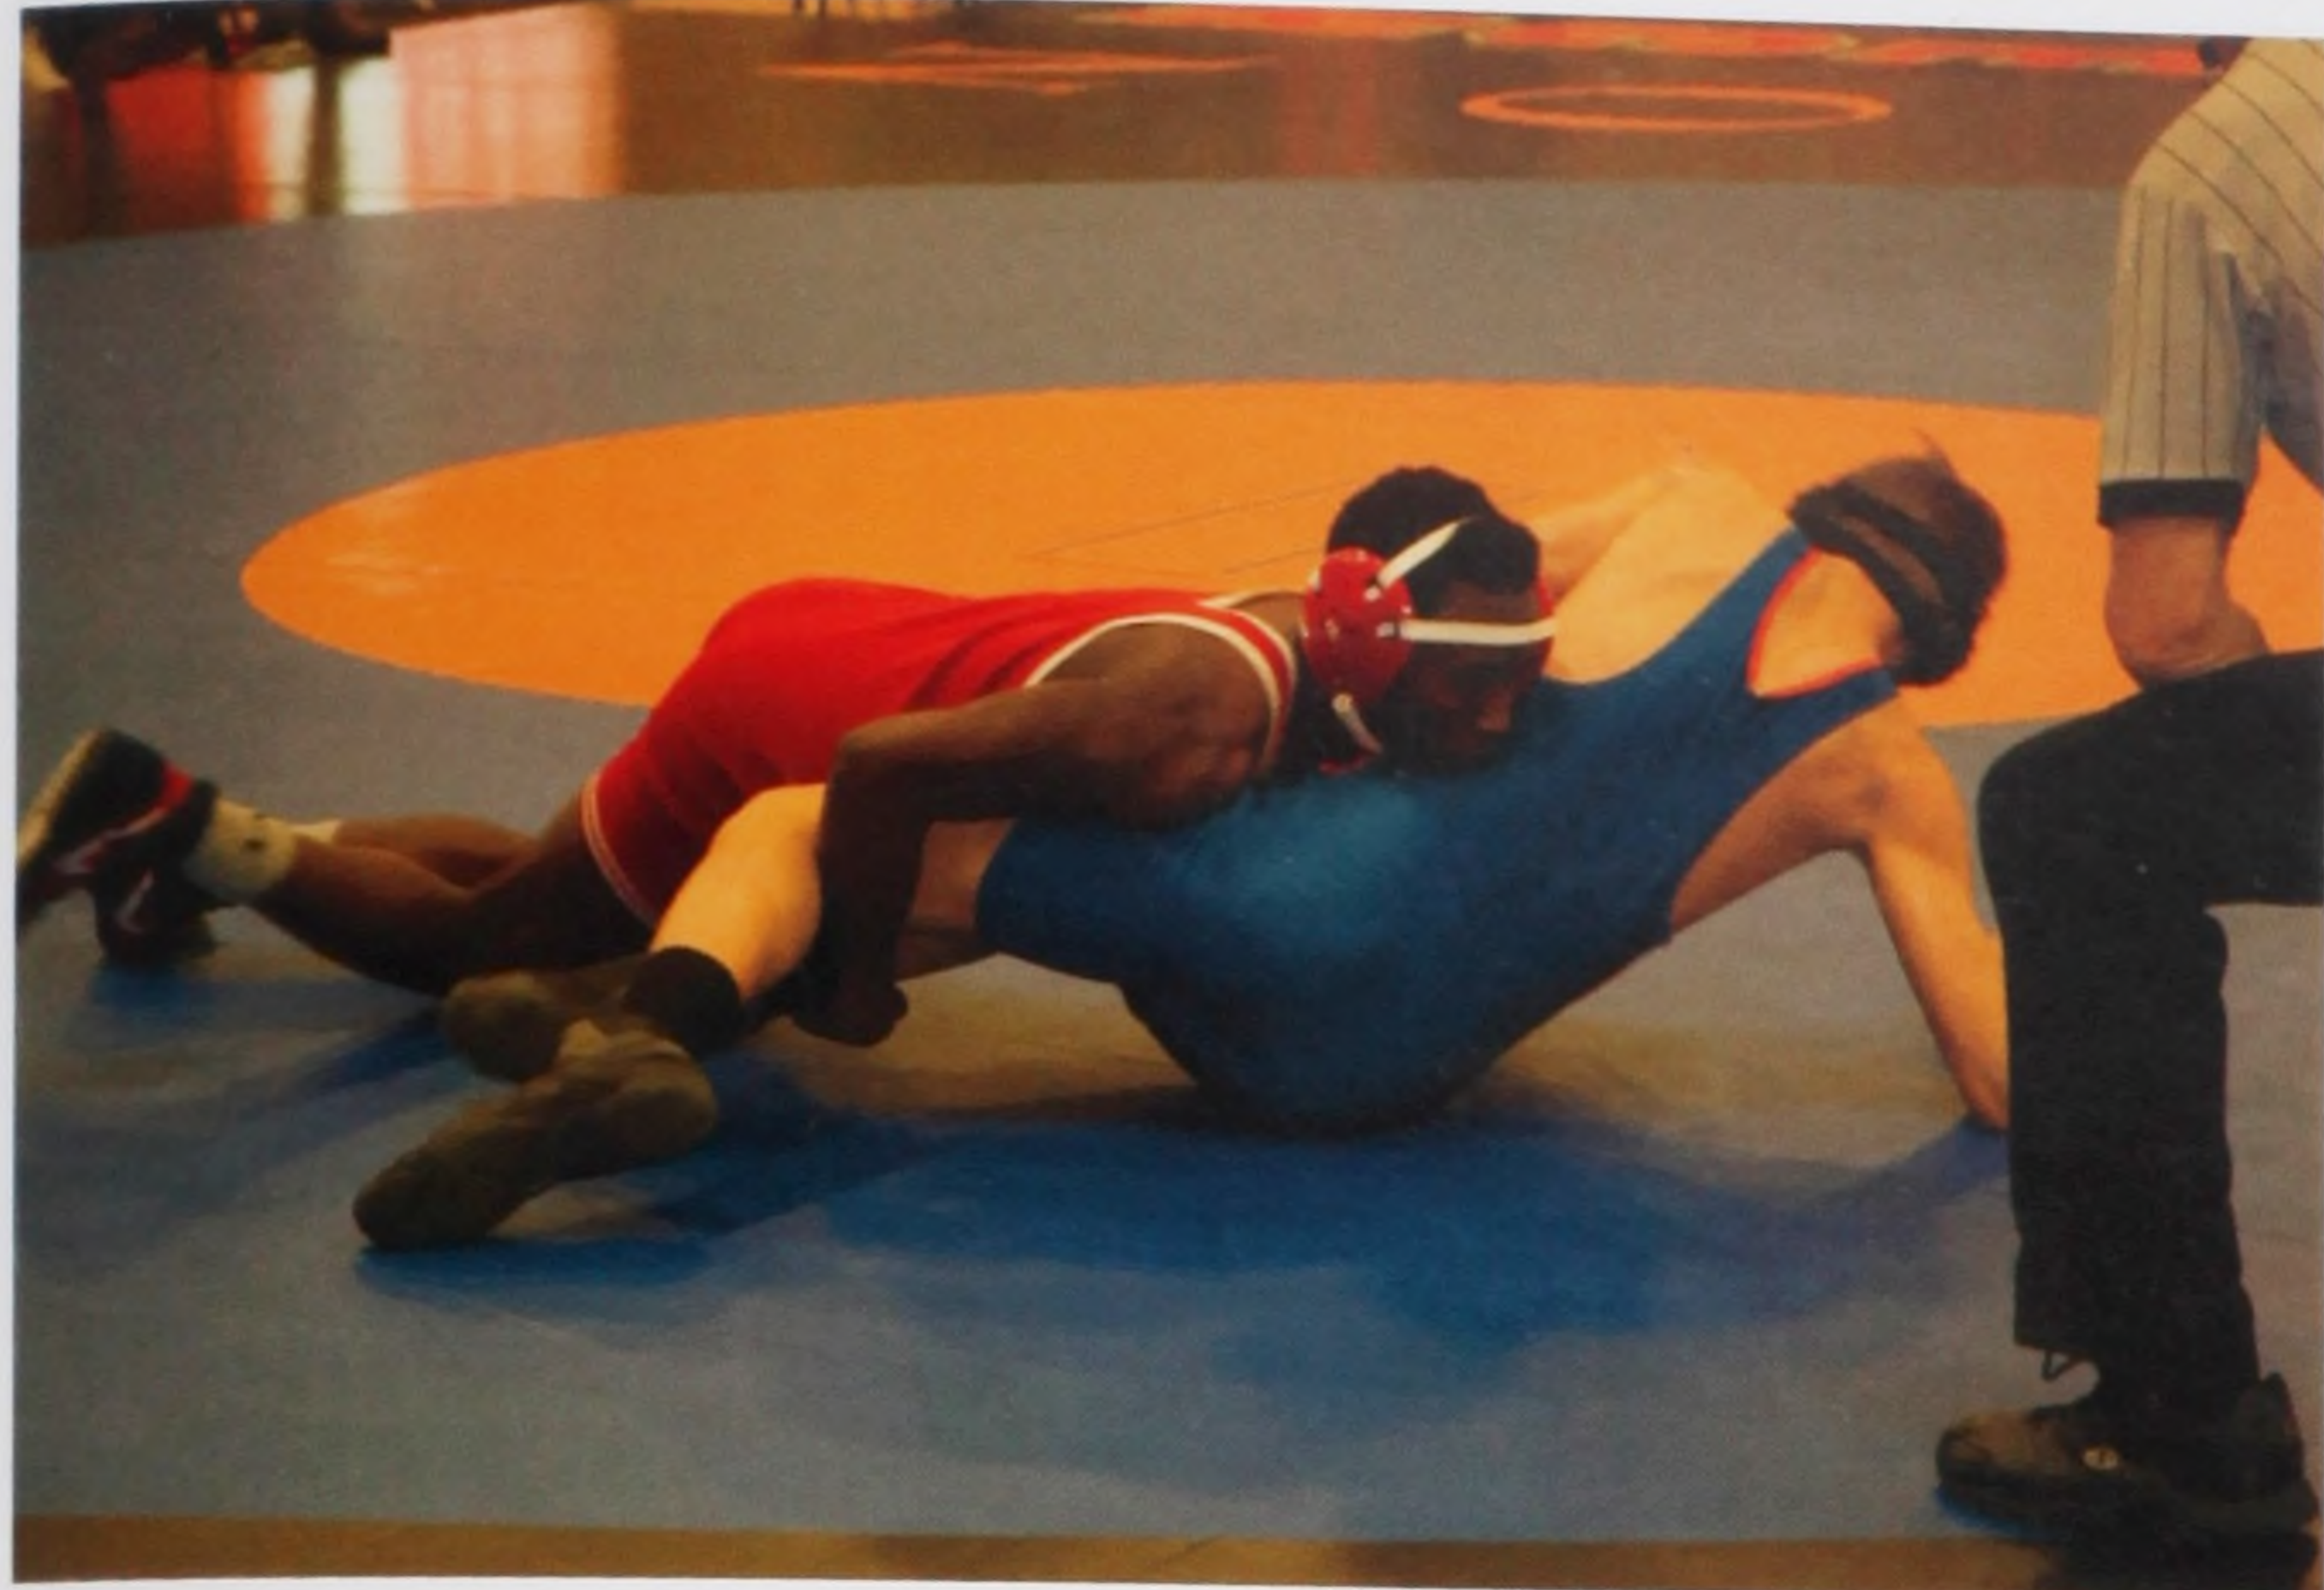

This year Benson's wrestling team went to the PIL District Championship. Edward Peabody, Kainoa Kaio, and Douglas Teeter won 4th place in their individual weight class. Cameron Ingram won 2nd place in his weight class. Through incredible hard work and determination, Benson has represented us well in the Wrestling Department.

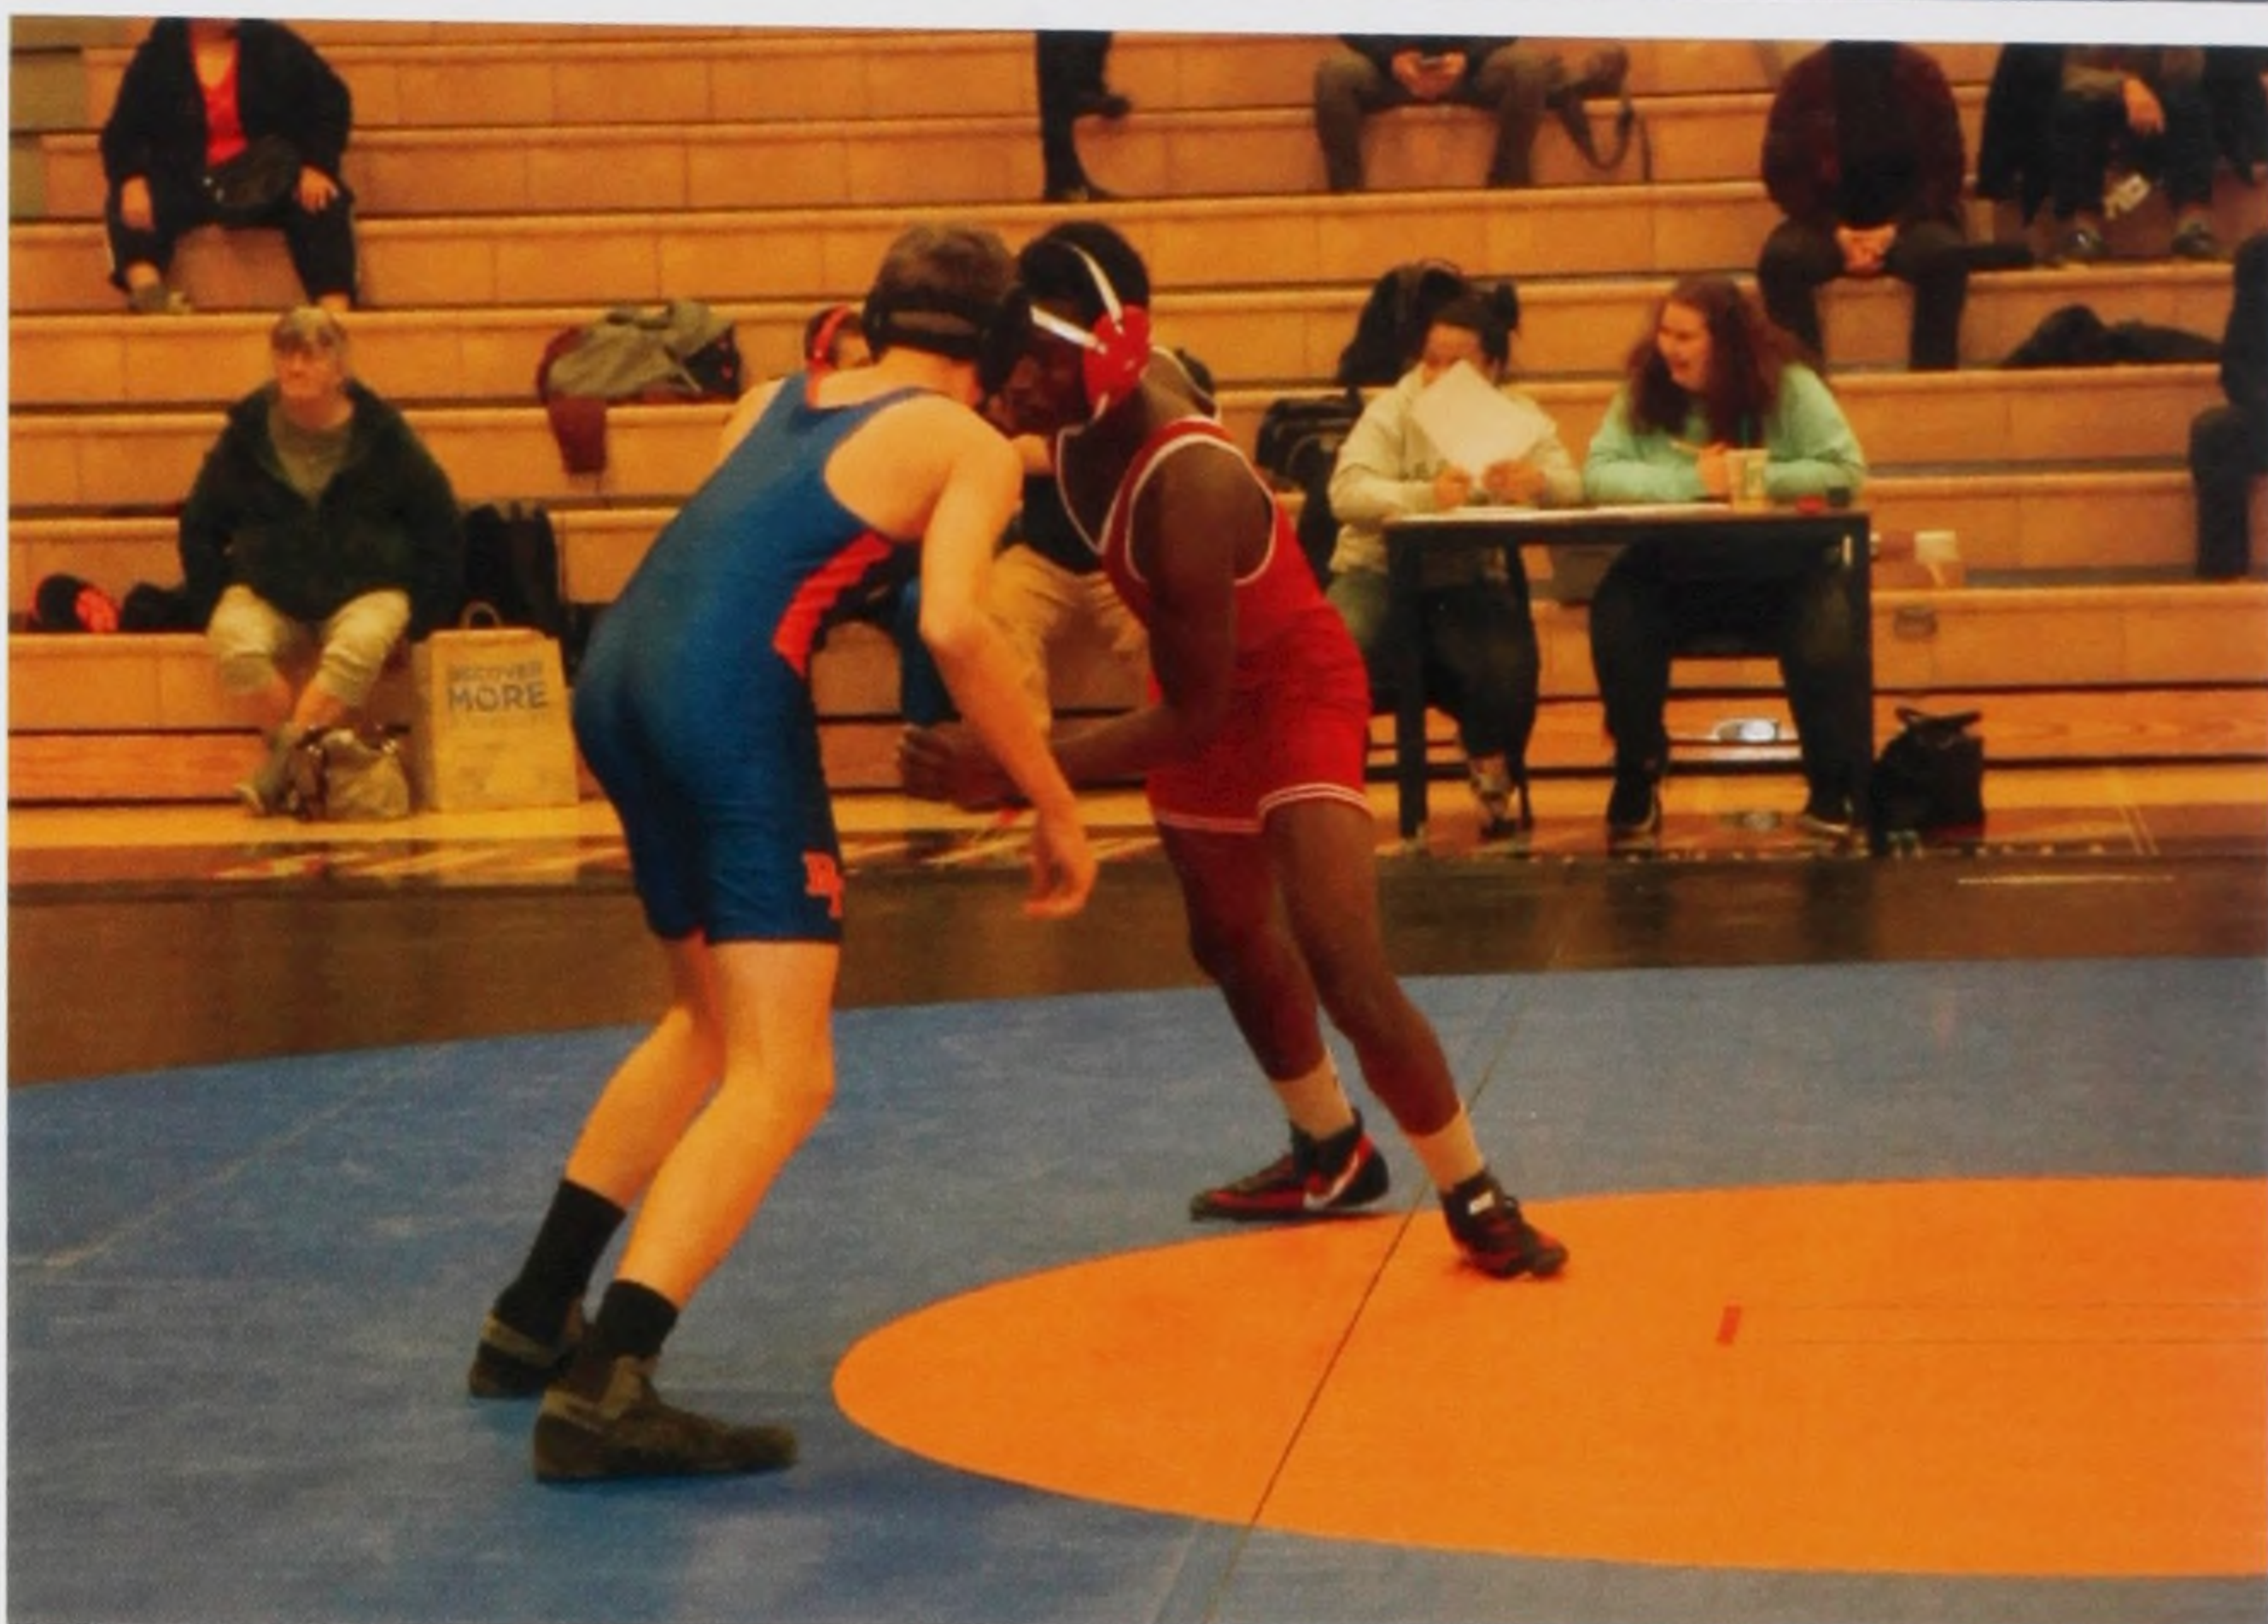

Wrestling

Taking It To The Mat!

“Wrestling has been an amazing experience allowing me to develop both mentally and physically. Because of wrestling I became a much better student academically and I was able to grow as a person. I also would really like to thank all of my coaches who supported and pushed me to succeed.”

-David Flores, Class of 2018

“Being on the team makes me feel connected to Benson. You know, being on the team means I am representing Benson and that makes me proud every time I go out there on the court.”

-Malika Hopkins, Class of 2018

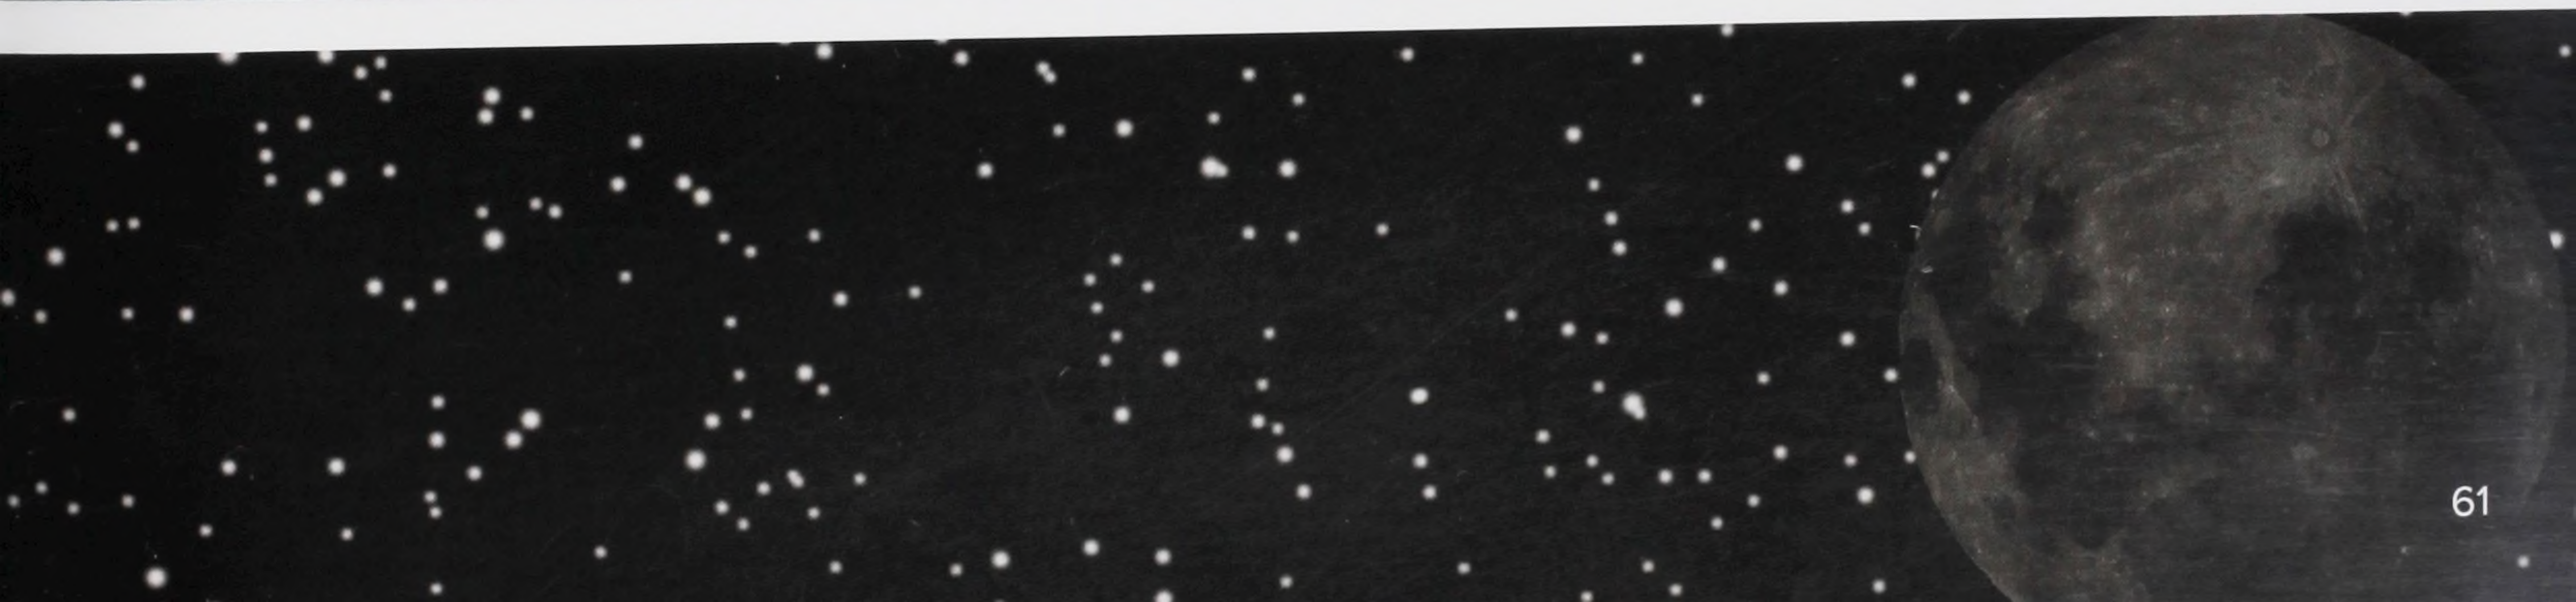

“The tennis team is like another family to me. I’ve been on the team since my freshman year and I have learned to grow and improve in different areas because of the people I have met and played with while being on the team. I love my teammates and coach; and I couldn’t have asked for a better team.”

-Echo (Mai) Nguyen, Class of 2018

Tennis

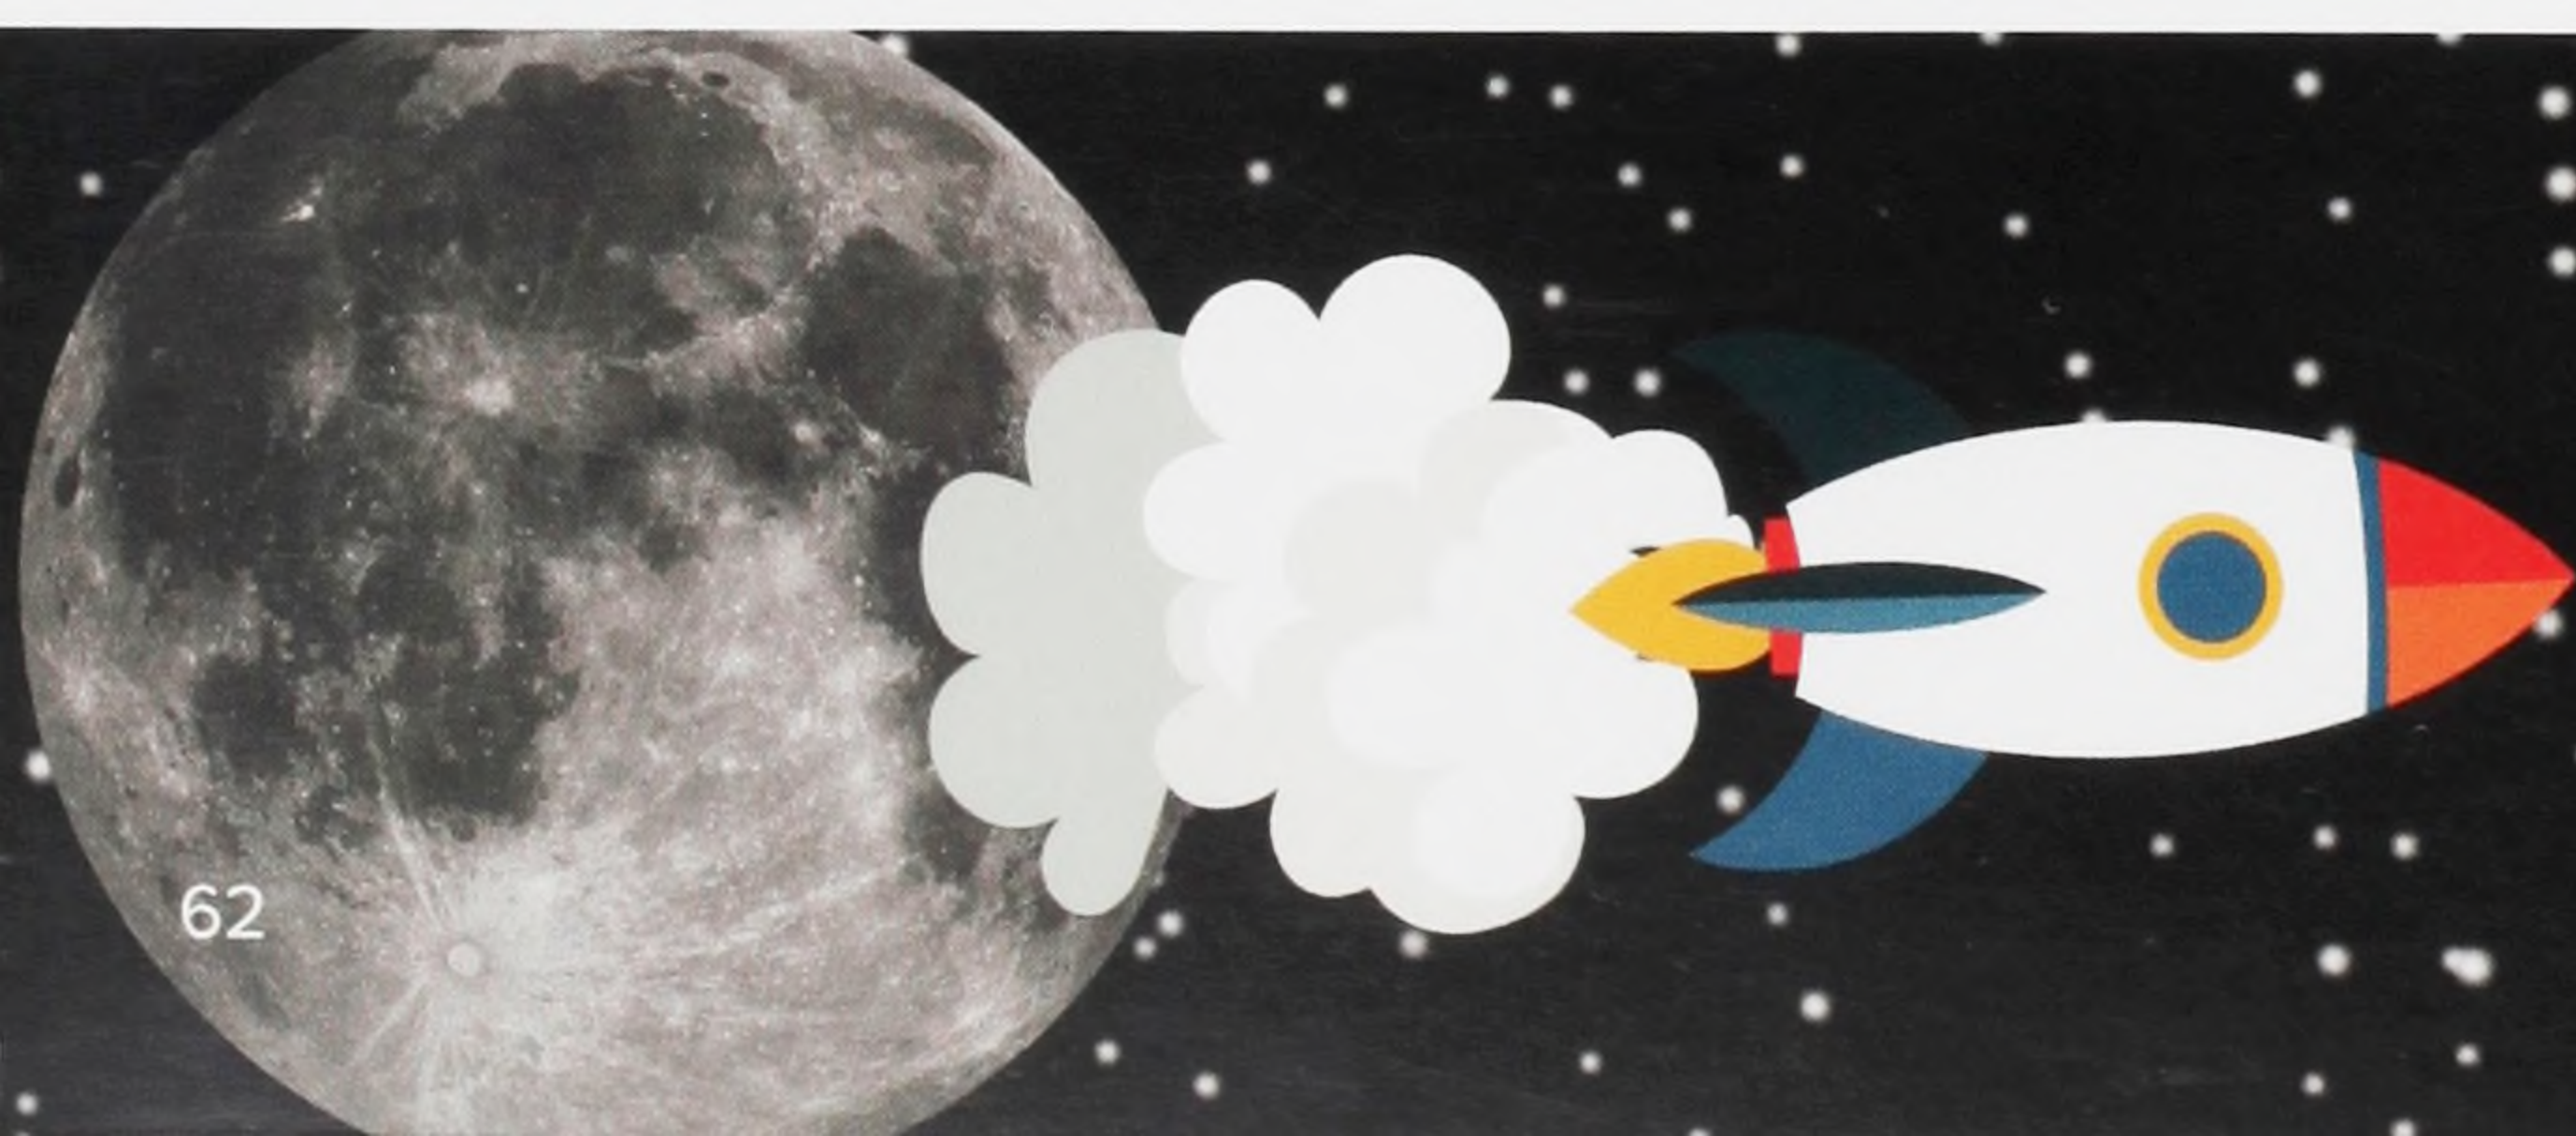

“Track taught me to keep going no matter how difficult the race got. It also taught me to use that idea in my life. No matter how hard it is I cannot give up,”

-Jelisa Turner, Class of 2018

Every year, the coaches recruit an astounding number of kids for the season. They collect the students and find out where they belong. Whether it's running 300s or on the field throwing javelins. The coaches push you to harness your passion and develop a new love for track and field!

“Being apart of the Benson track team is such a family because you engage with everyone even the people you never would have thought to talk to! The coaches push me to the more extent of the athlete that I am. They care about all of the kids, making sure they set their full potential. We are all one big happy family. We are always there for each other throughout the whole year no matter what.”

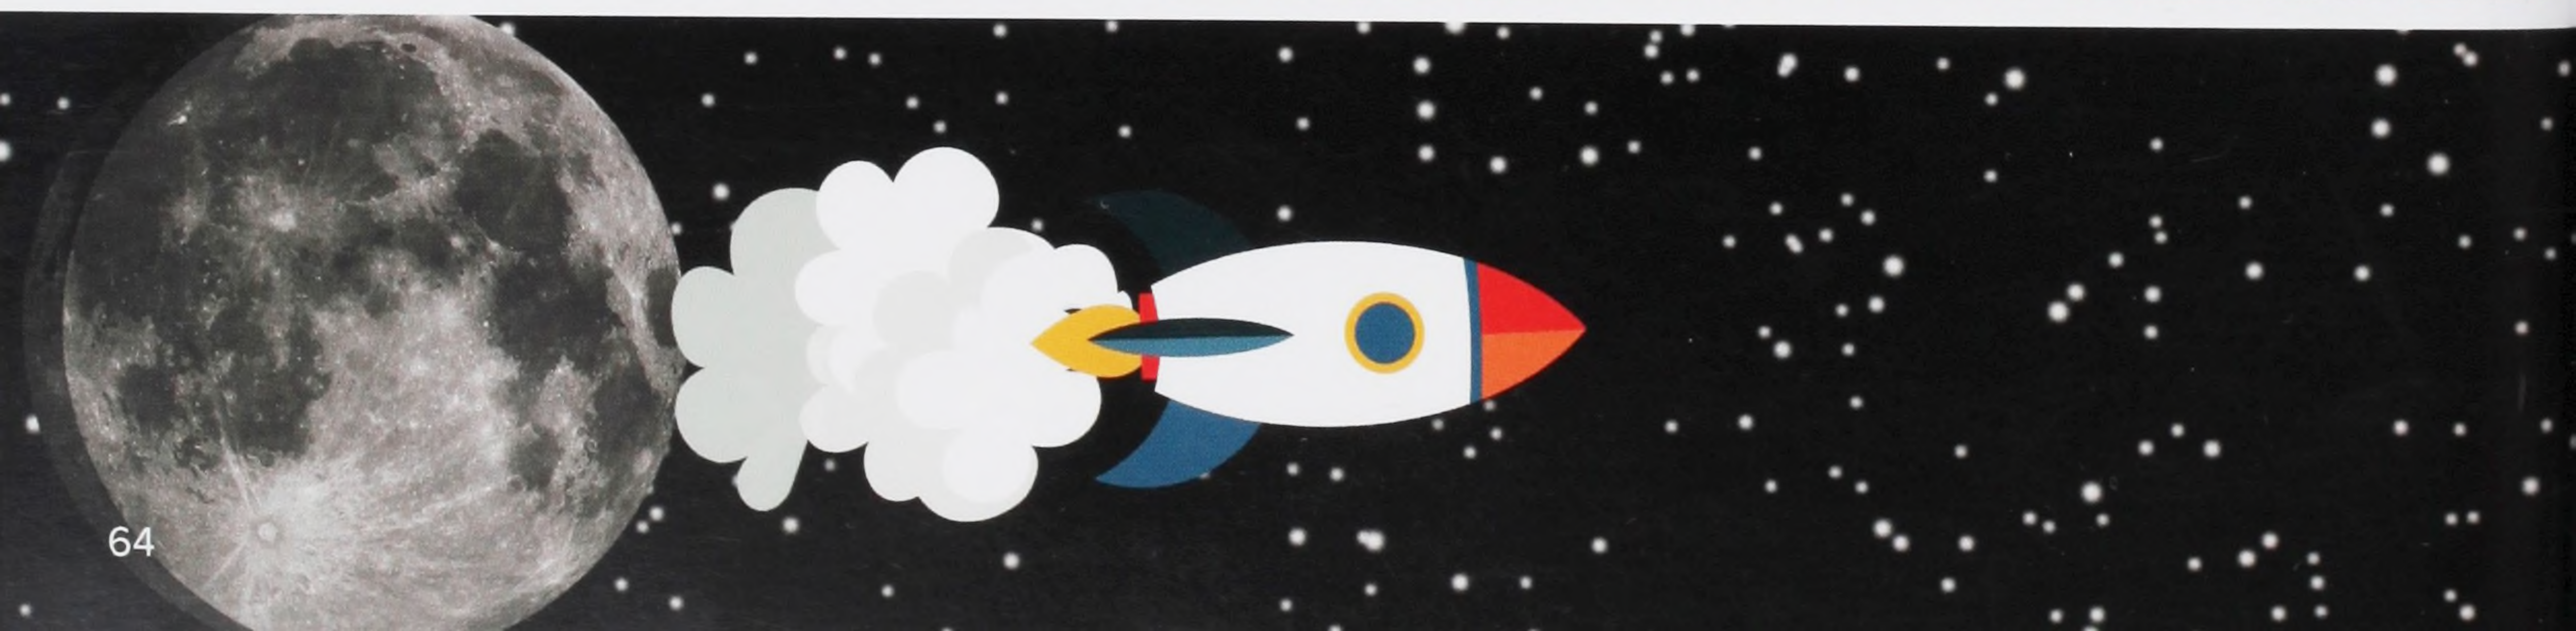

-Jaylen Russell, Class of 2019

Track & Field
Running to the end of the world!

"Cheer allowed me to expand my personality, make me a leader, and allowed me to be less shy. Being in cheer grew friendships and overall was a good high school experience."

-Savanna Pettiford, Class of 2018

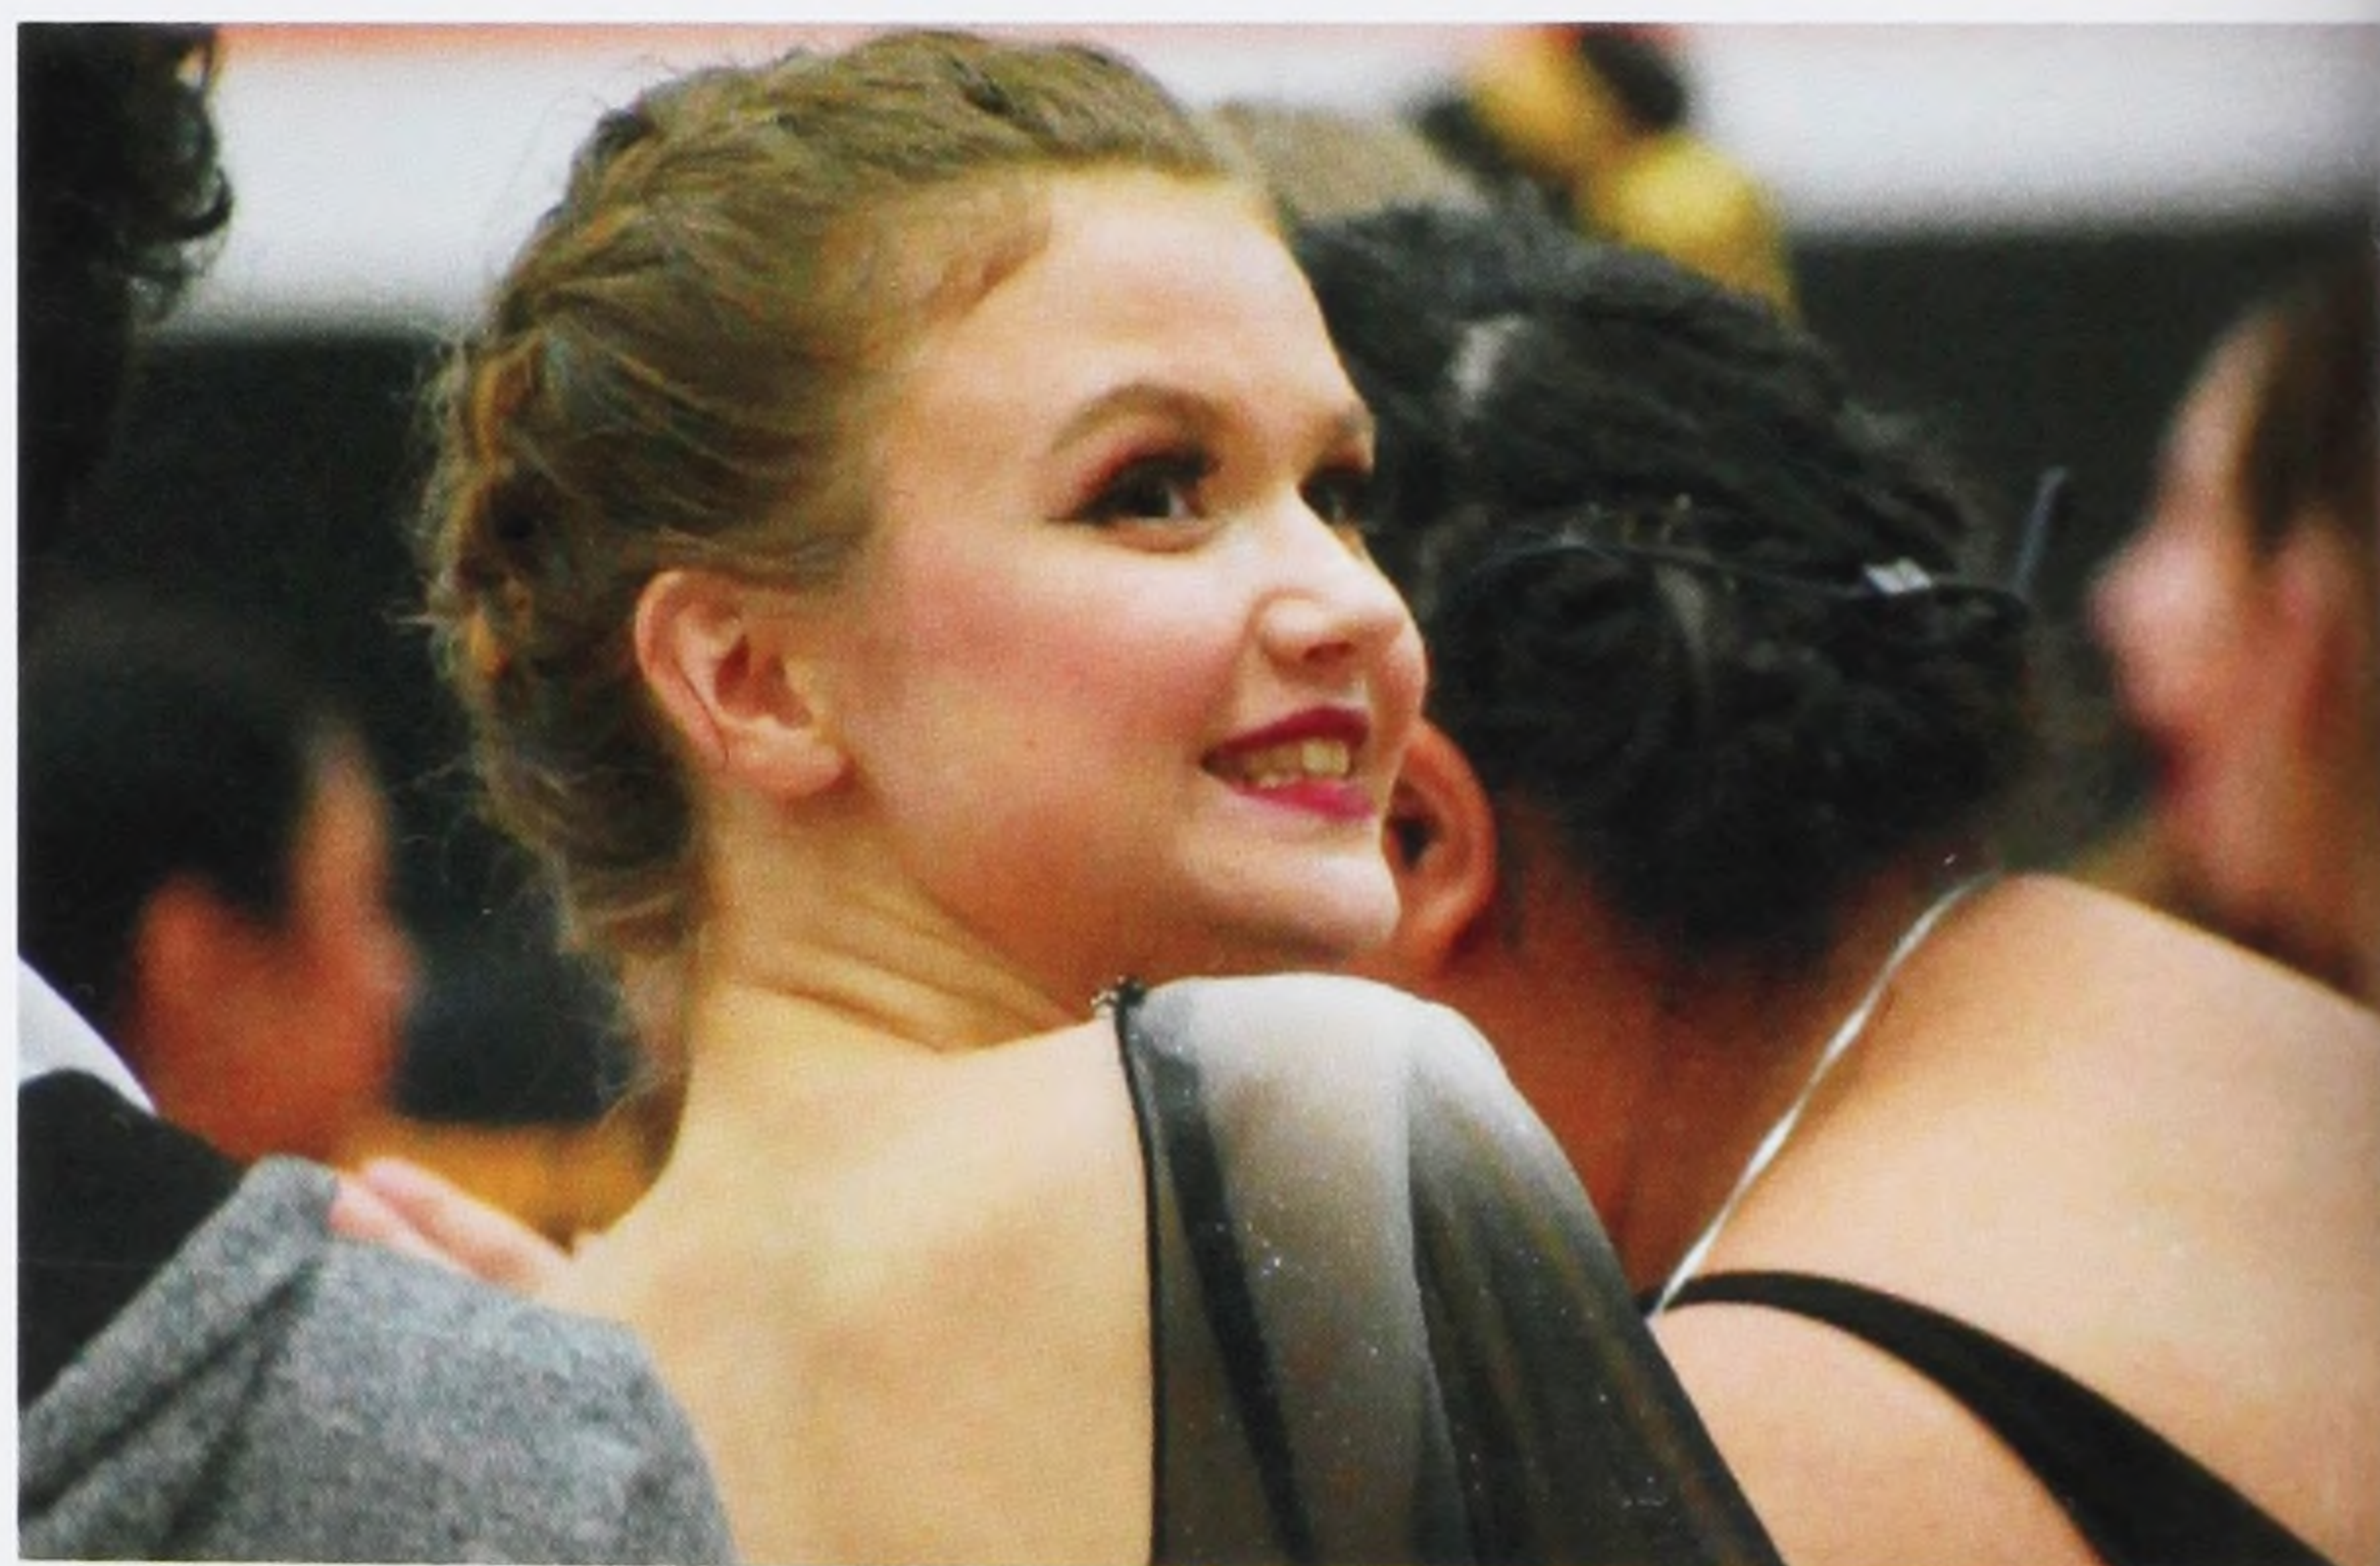

"Being in cheer, it taught me a lot about myself. It taught me about responsibility and leadership. Cheer gave me a family that I will always cherish."

-Chantall Lewis-Manzo, Class of 2018

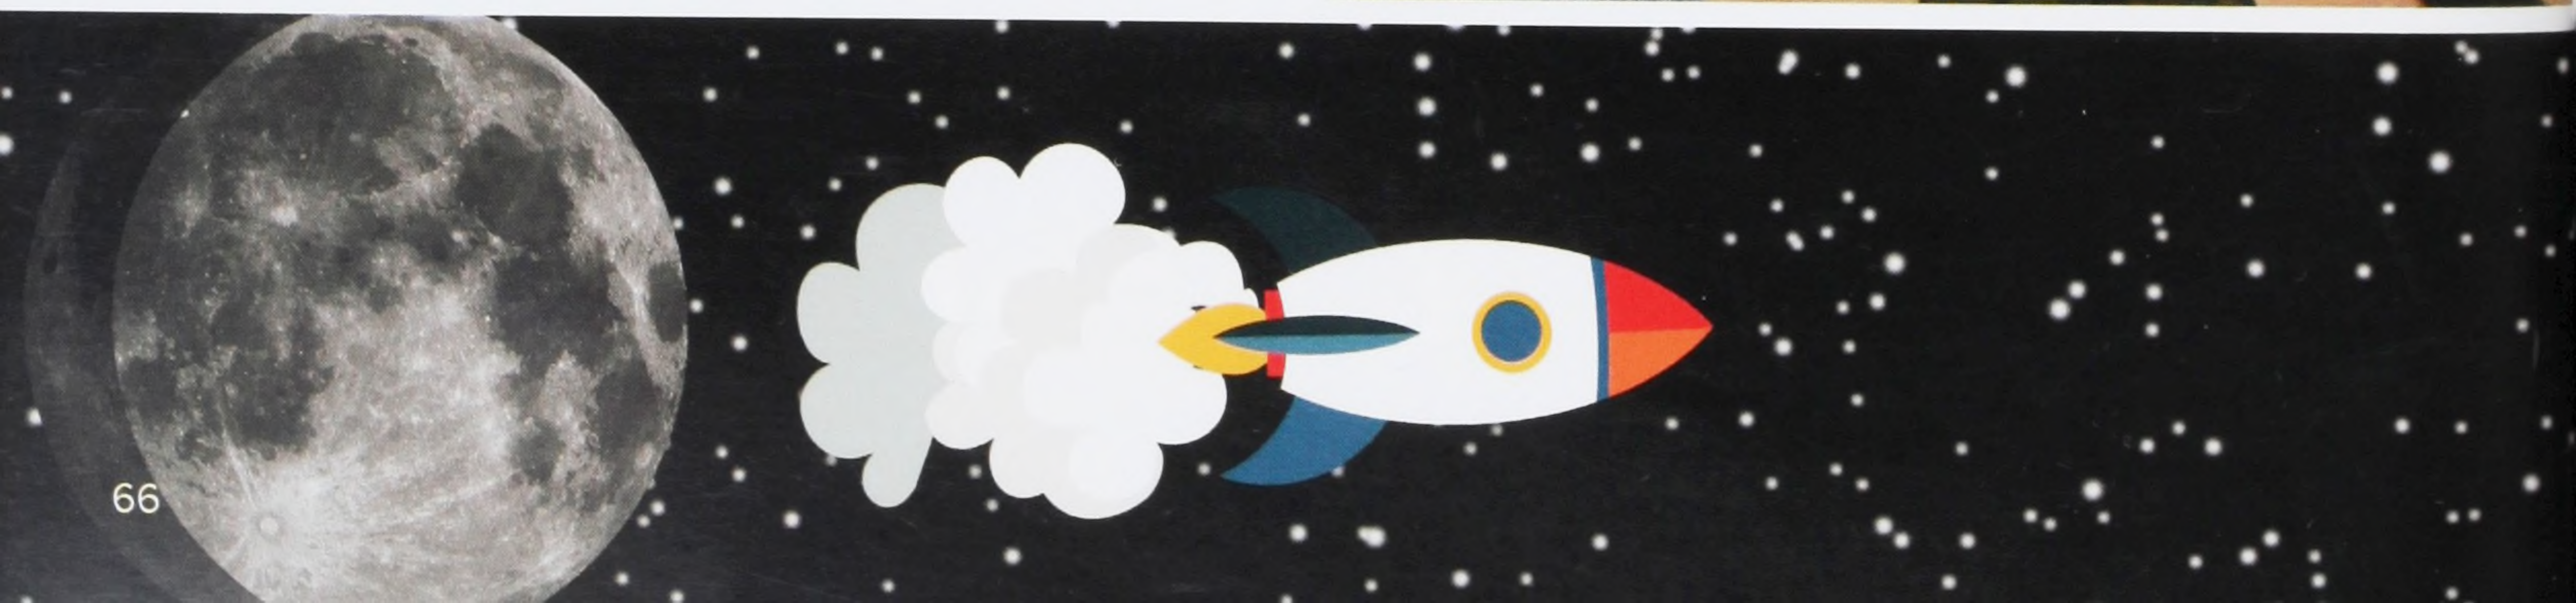

Cheer

When In Doubt,
Cheer Your Heart Out!

“I love the family we make and the bond we have. They are my best friends, and the fact that we get to hangout all the time is so special. I also love how everyone fits in.”

CONGRATULATIONS PRINCIPAL WILSON

Benson's Curtis Wilson named Oregon High School Principal of the Year

ARTICLE COURTESY OF PPS

All 10 PPS high school principals contributed to the nomination of Wilson, either helping to write it, supplying data analysis or providing quotes. Among the quotes: Curtis Wilson Jr. of Benson has been named the Oregon High School Principal of the Year.

"Caught me completely off guard," Wilson said of learning about the honor Thursday. "I did not expect that at all."

The award, administered by the Confederation of Oregon School Administrators and the Oregon Association of Secondary School Administrators, makes Wilson eligible for the national Principal of the Year Award. He will be honored at the Annual COSA Conference in June and the OASSA/OESPA Principal's Conference in October.

"Curtis brings knowledge and expertise to the ranks of high school principals in Portland," said Joe LaFountaine, PPS Director of High Schools. "Very few know the district and community better. Even with his breadth of experience, Mr. Wilson Jr. is always receptive to new ideas and eager to understand new ways of making his school better than it has ever been."

Under Wilson, Benson's graduate rate rose to 88.8 percent for 2016-17, well ahead of the Oregon average of 74.8 percent. Benson's dropout rate for that year was 0.2 percent; the state average was 3.9 percent.

Wilson said he is proudest of being able to build a community with Benson's diverse student body that is about 70 percent students of color and with about 70 percent who qualify for the free-and-reduced lunch program.

"It's just being able to work with students, staff and family and help bring them together," Wilson said.

All 10 PPS high school principals contributed to the nomination of Wilson, either helping to write it, supplying data analysis or providing quotes. Among the quotes:

Grant's Carol Campbell: "He recognizes the importance of getting to know the community and building trusting relationships with various stakeholder groups. Curtis is a dedicated school leader who puts students first. From supervising the gym during lunch to teaching Zumba to helping plan for the remodel of the Benson campus, Curtis always gives 100 percent."

Roosevelt's Filip Hrstric: "Curtis has always led and inspired from a place of deep personal integrity and humility. He is the kind of principal that every school and community would be fortunate to have."

Wilson manages a campus that shares space with the Dart Program, Alliance at Benson, Benson Evening Scholars, a full slate of Summer School Programming, and several other PPS alternative pathways programs.

"He is a valued peer for the administrators of those programs helping to serve our most vulnerable learners," said Ginger Taylor, former Benson Evening Scholars Principal.

Wilson is in his fifth year as Benson principal after moving from Grant, where he was a vice principal. A graduate of Roosevelt High School and the University of Oregon, Wilson started his education career as a health teacher at Harriet Tubman Middle School in 1997, before moving to Roosevelt to teach in 1997.

He also served as a coach, of basketball at Harriet Tubman, and track and cross country at Roosevelt.

In 2006, he moved into administration, first as dean of students at Roosevelt, then moving to Grant as a vice principal in 2007. In 2013, he took over as principal at Benson, succeeding Carol Campbell, who took the same position at Grant.

Wilson showed just how dedicated he is to Benson when the school's girls basketball team made the state championship game. He offered to pay the admission of any Benson student who wanted to watch the Techsters play Southridge at the Chiles Center.

From Madison's Petra Callin: "Curtis is an excellent team player who always puts his students first. He is a positive influence on everyone he works with including parents, staff, and his colleagues."

Wilson's Brian Chatard: "Curtis is fair minded, even tempered and 100% committed to student success. He is a hands-on type of principal and doesn't shy away from the tough decisions that separate administrators from true leaders."
