Majors

We've got the drive!

The Senior Experience

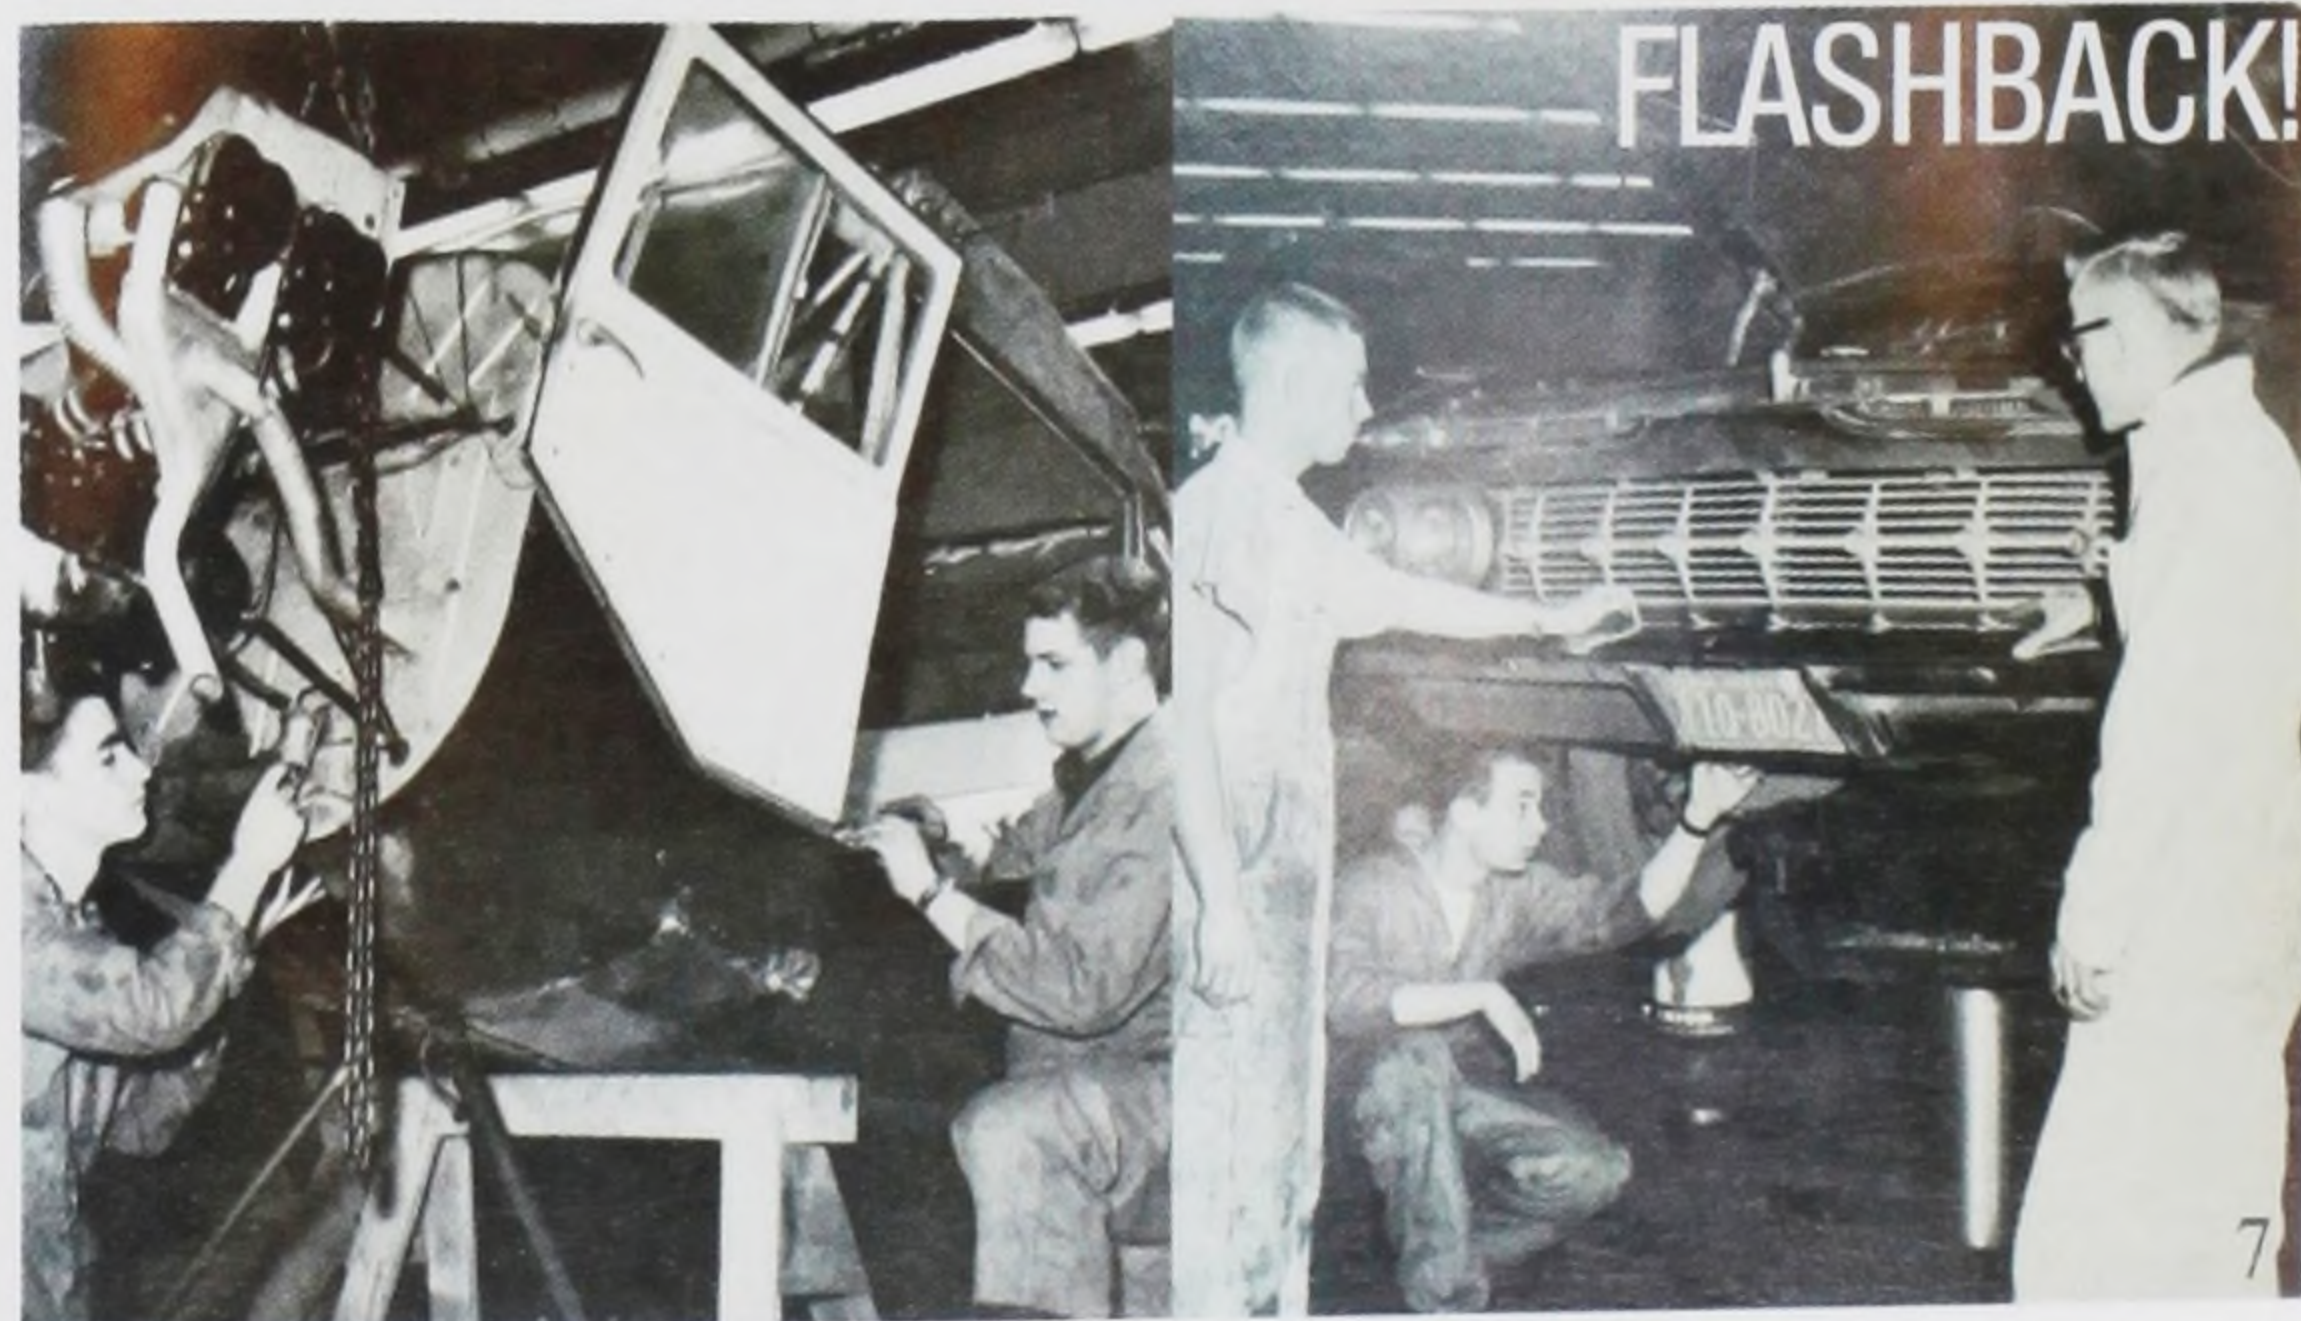

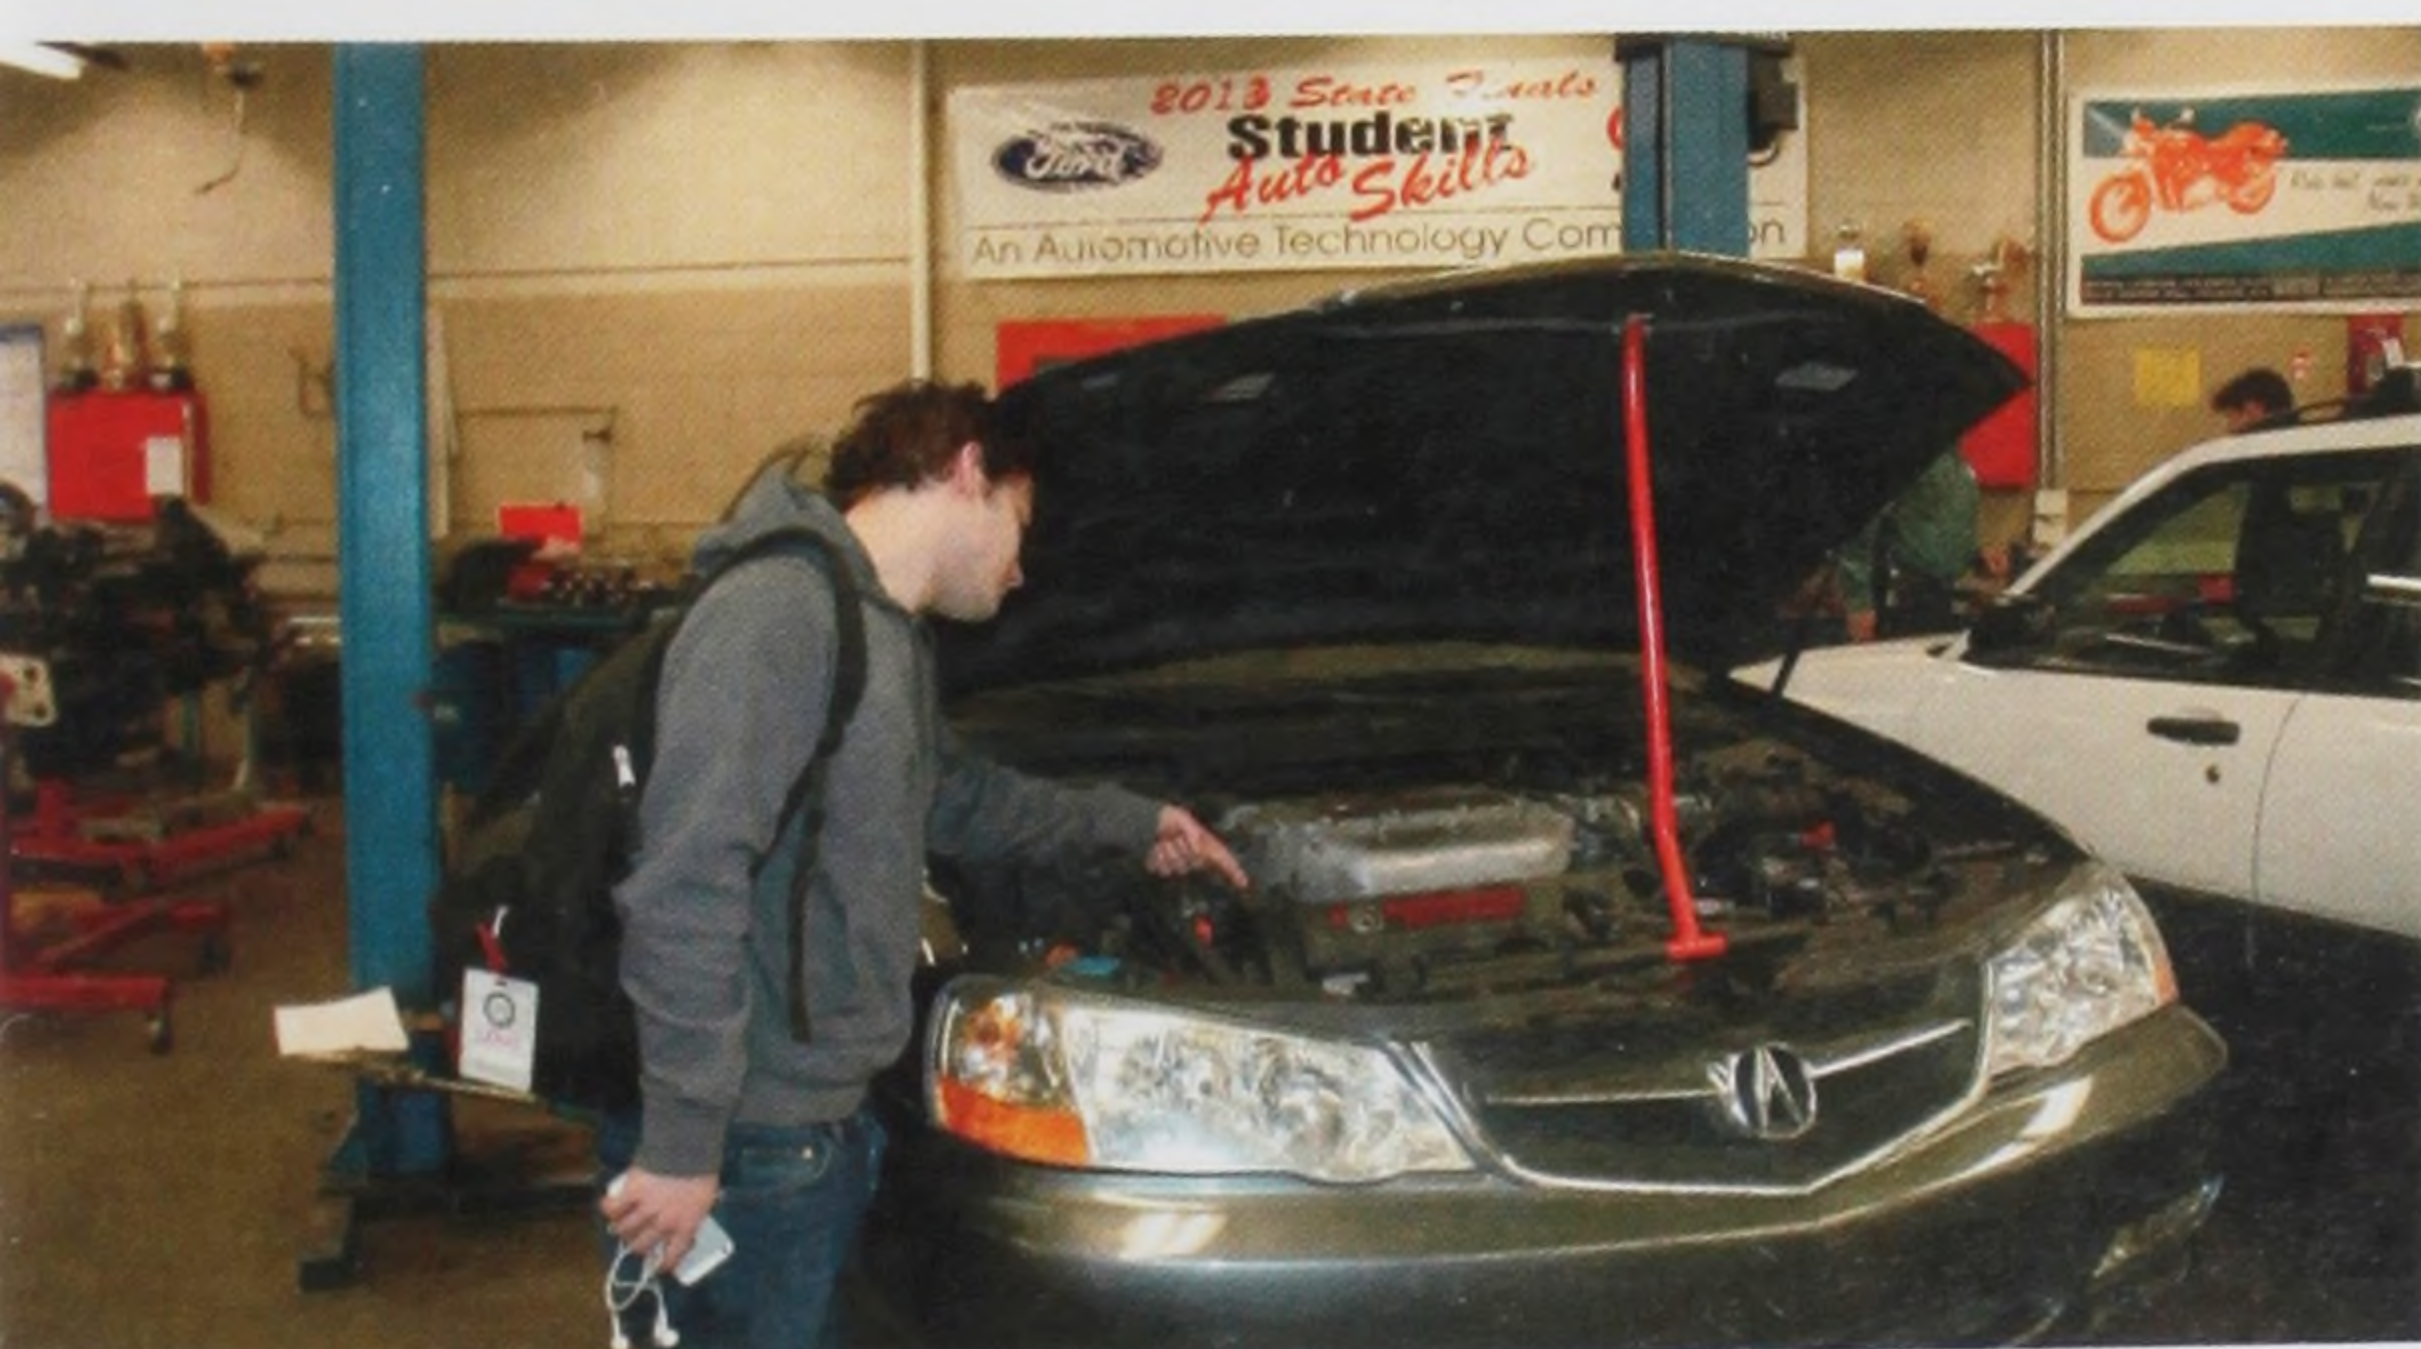

Seniors, after having learned most of the theory, focus on diesel, advanced electronics, aviation, and general repair in their fourth year in the automotive program. The class is project-oriented and allows the seniors to work on their own cars as well.

A primary event seniors gain entry to is the Portland International Auto Show. Seniors get to see many cars on the high end unlike the older cars lying in the shop.

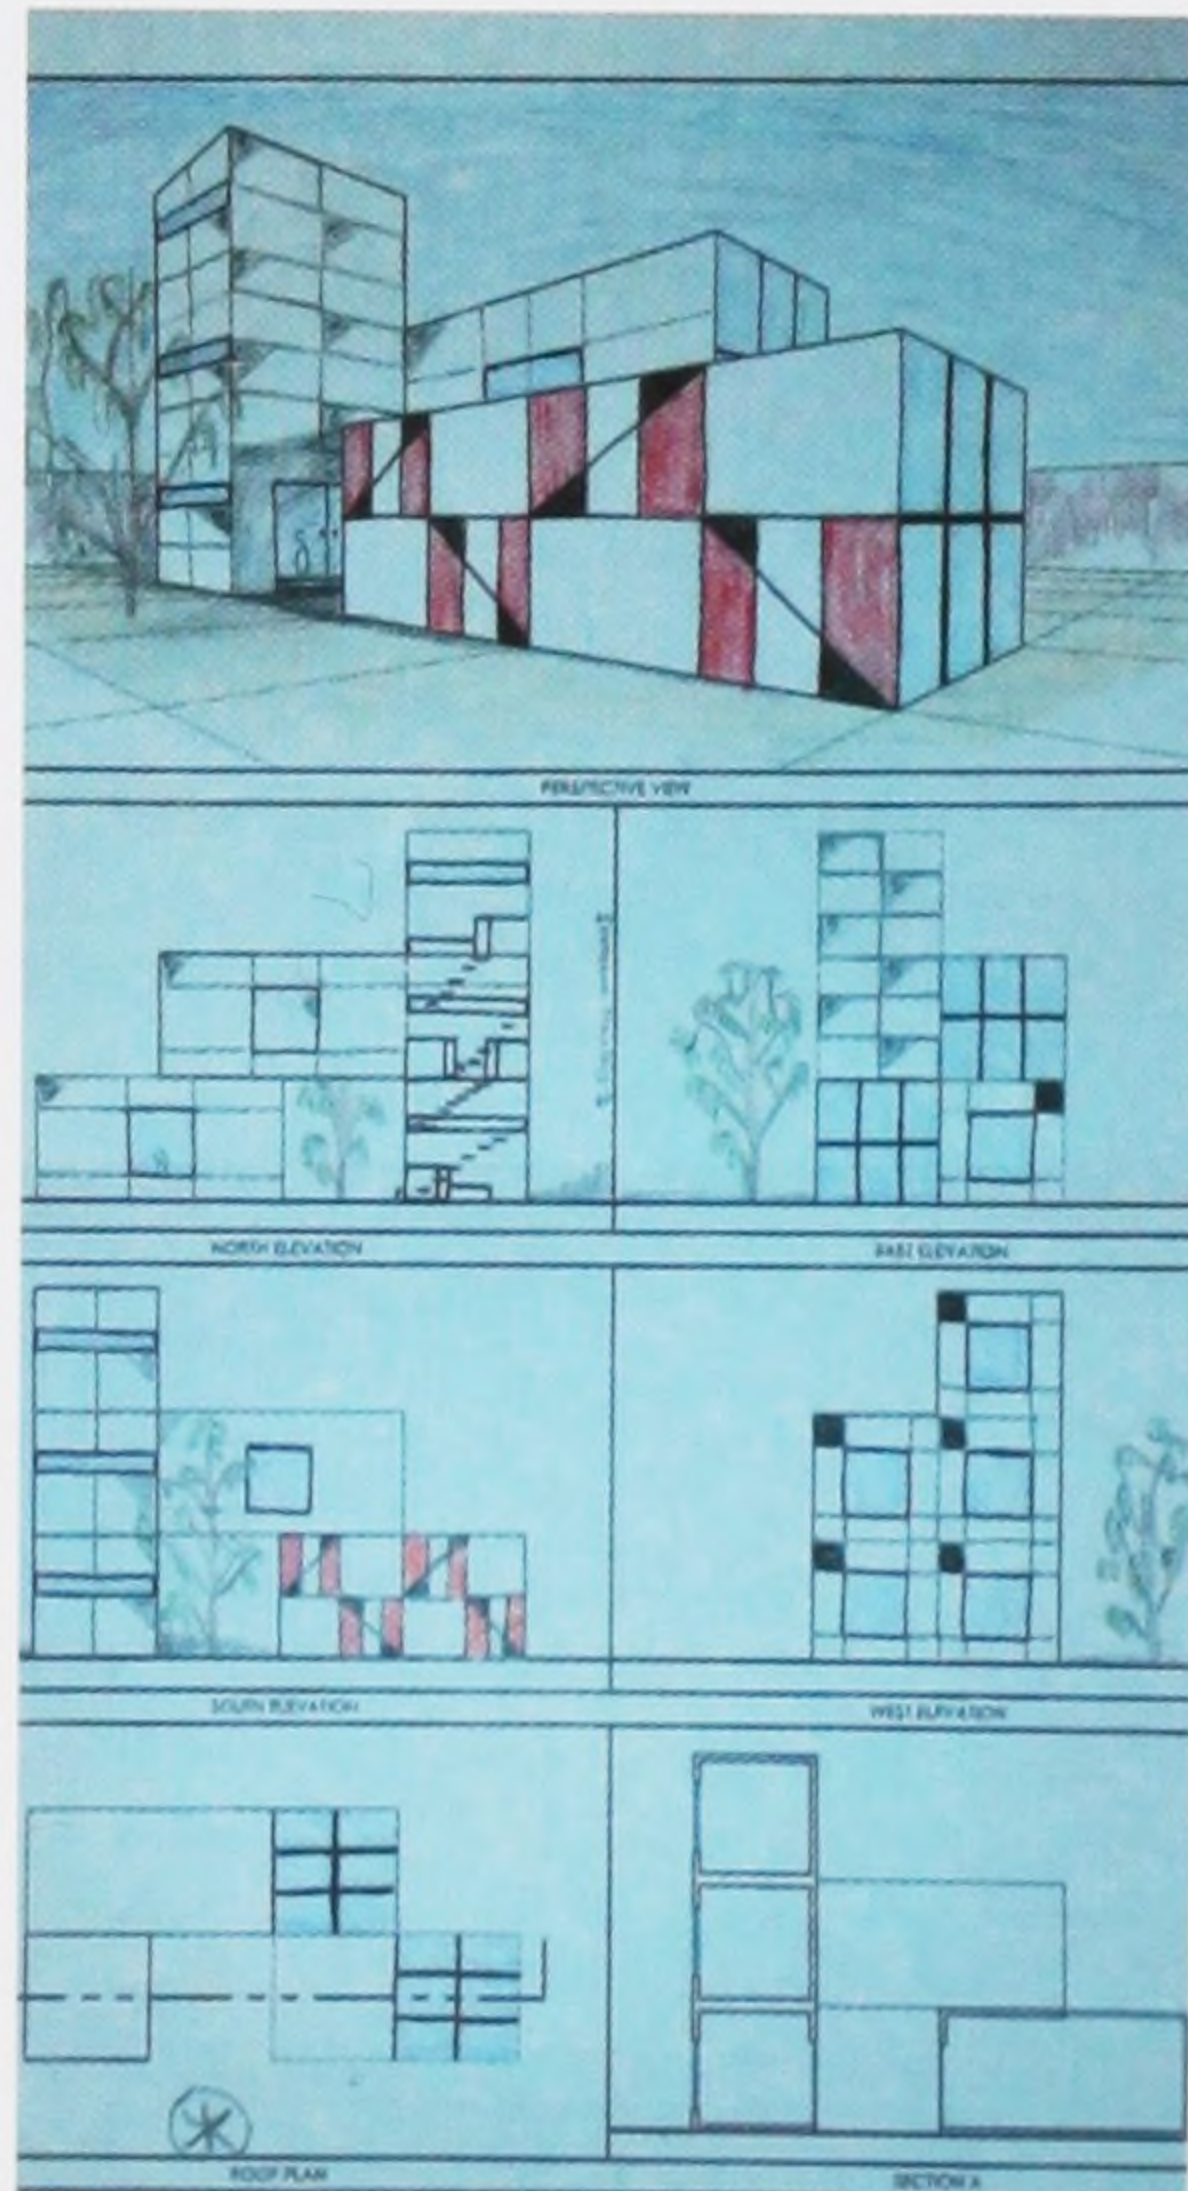

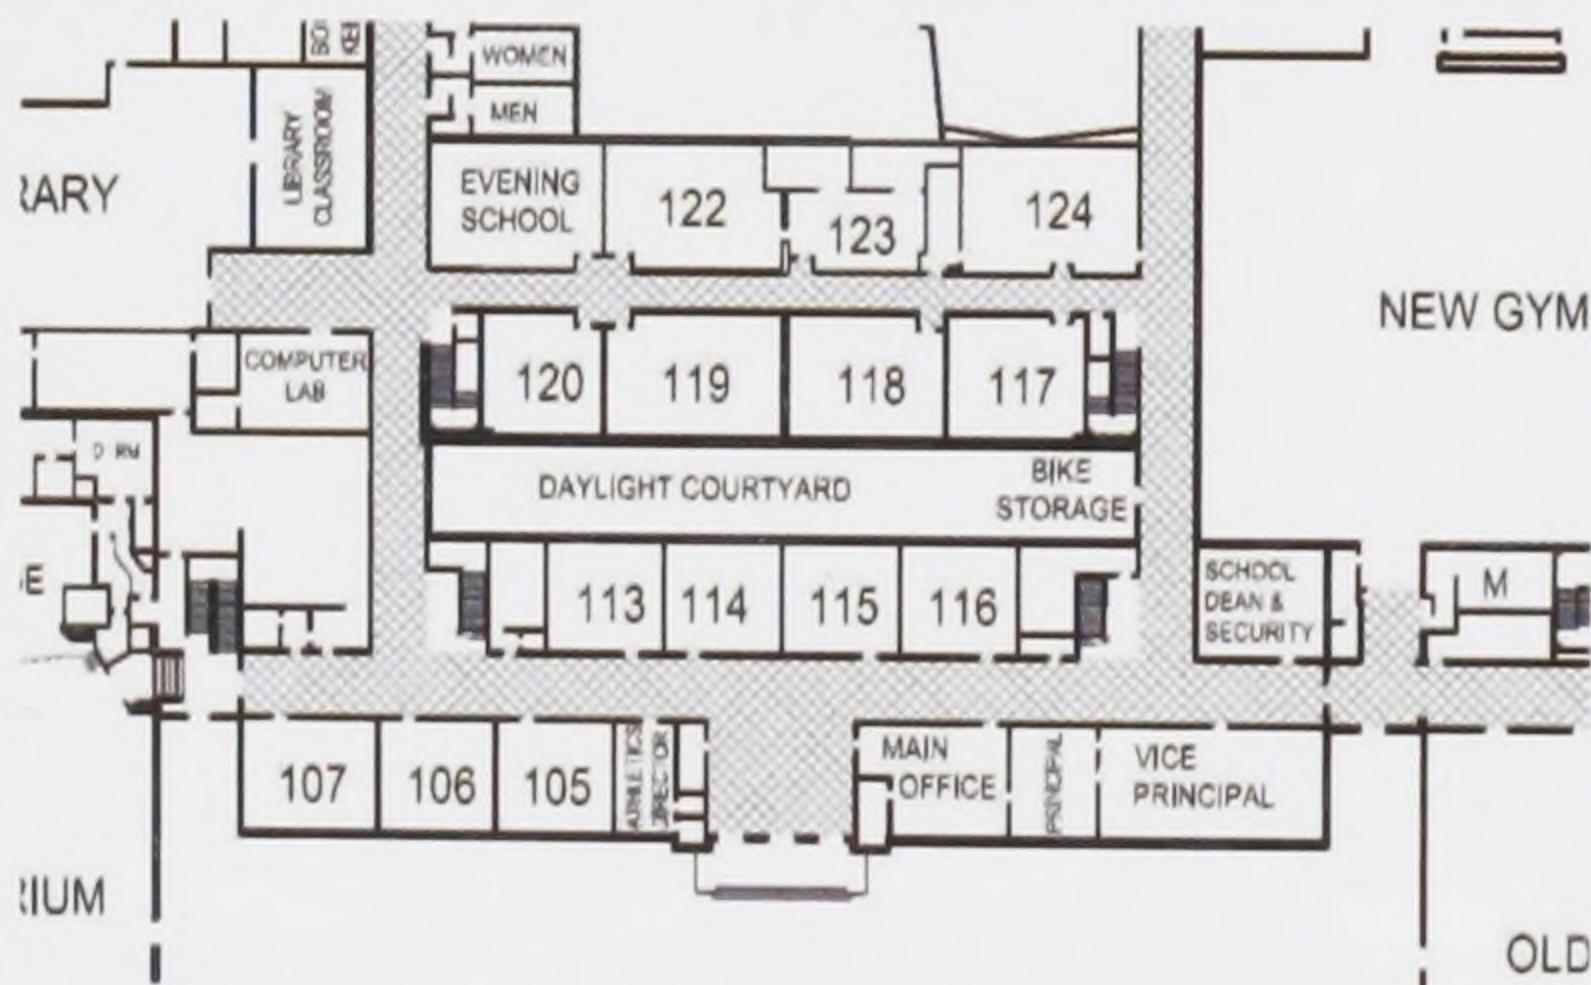

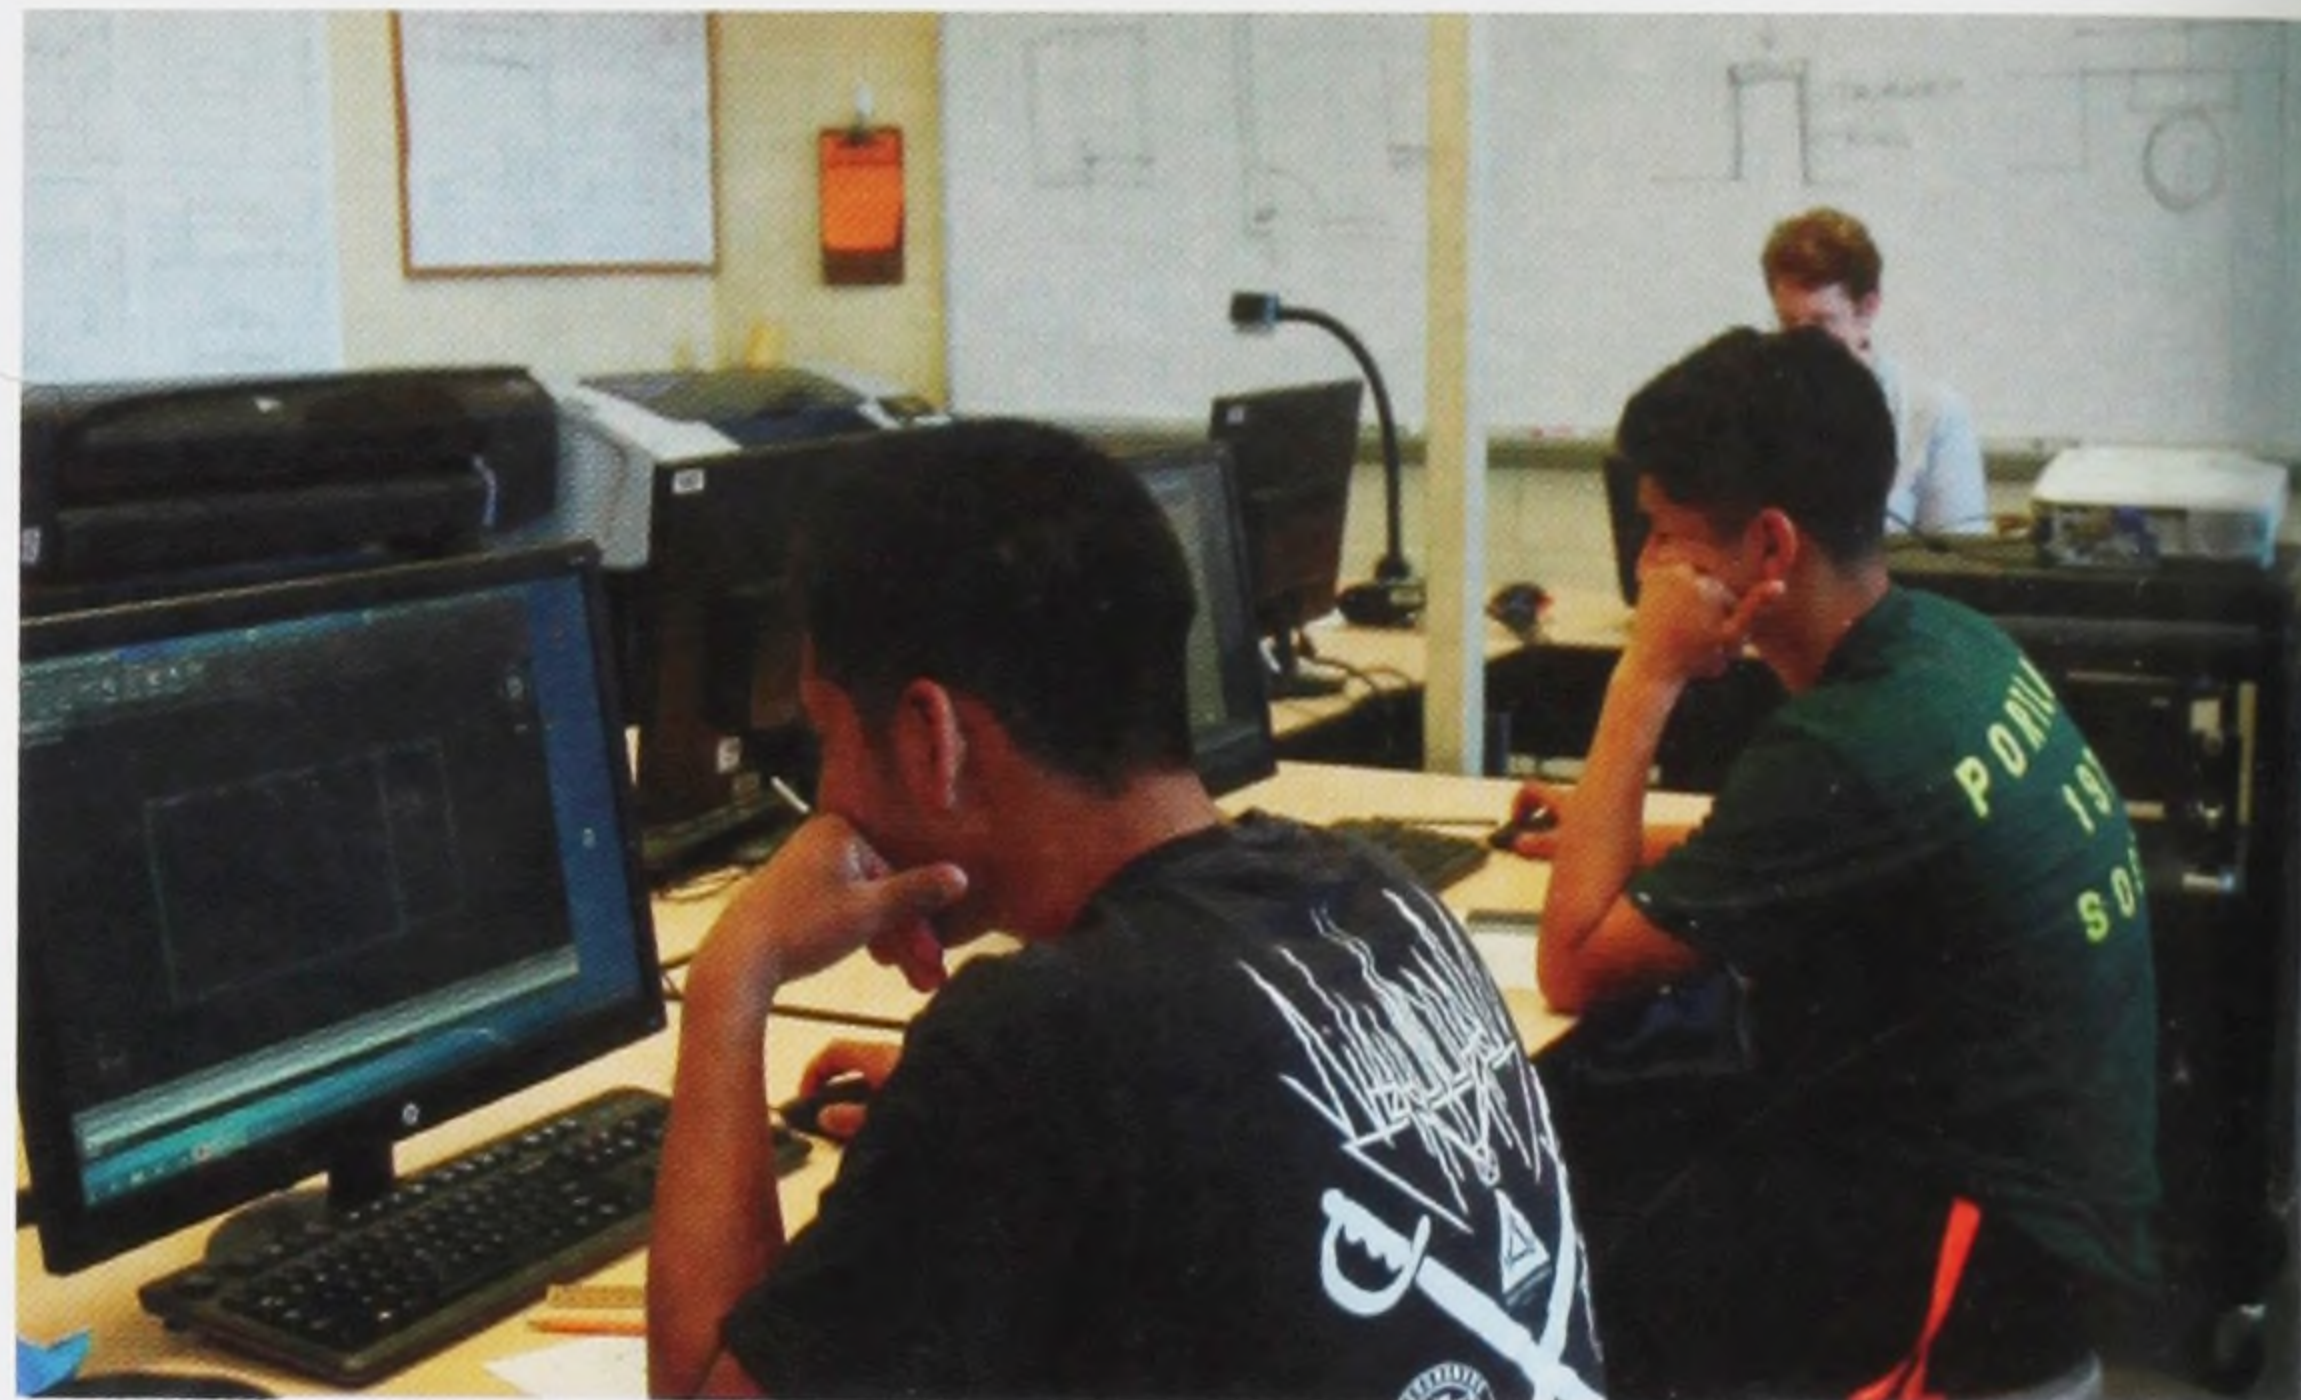

Career Opportunities

Many students who major in Automotive graduate to become automotive technicians soon after. Local dealerships will sometimes hire auto students straight out of high school who completed the program. Students in auto get college credits and points towards ASE certification (Automotive Service Excellence).

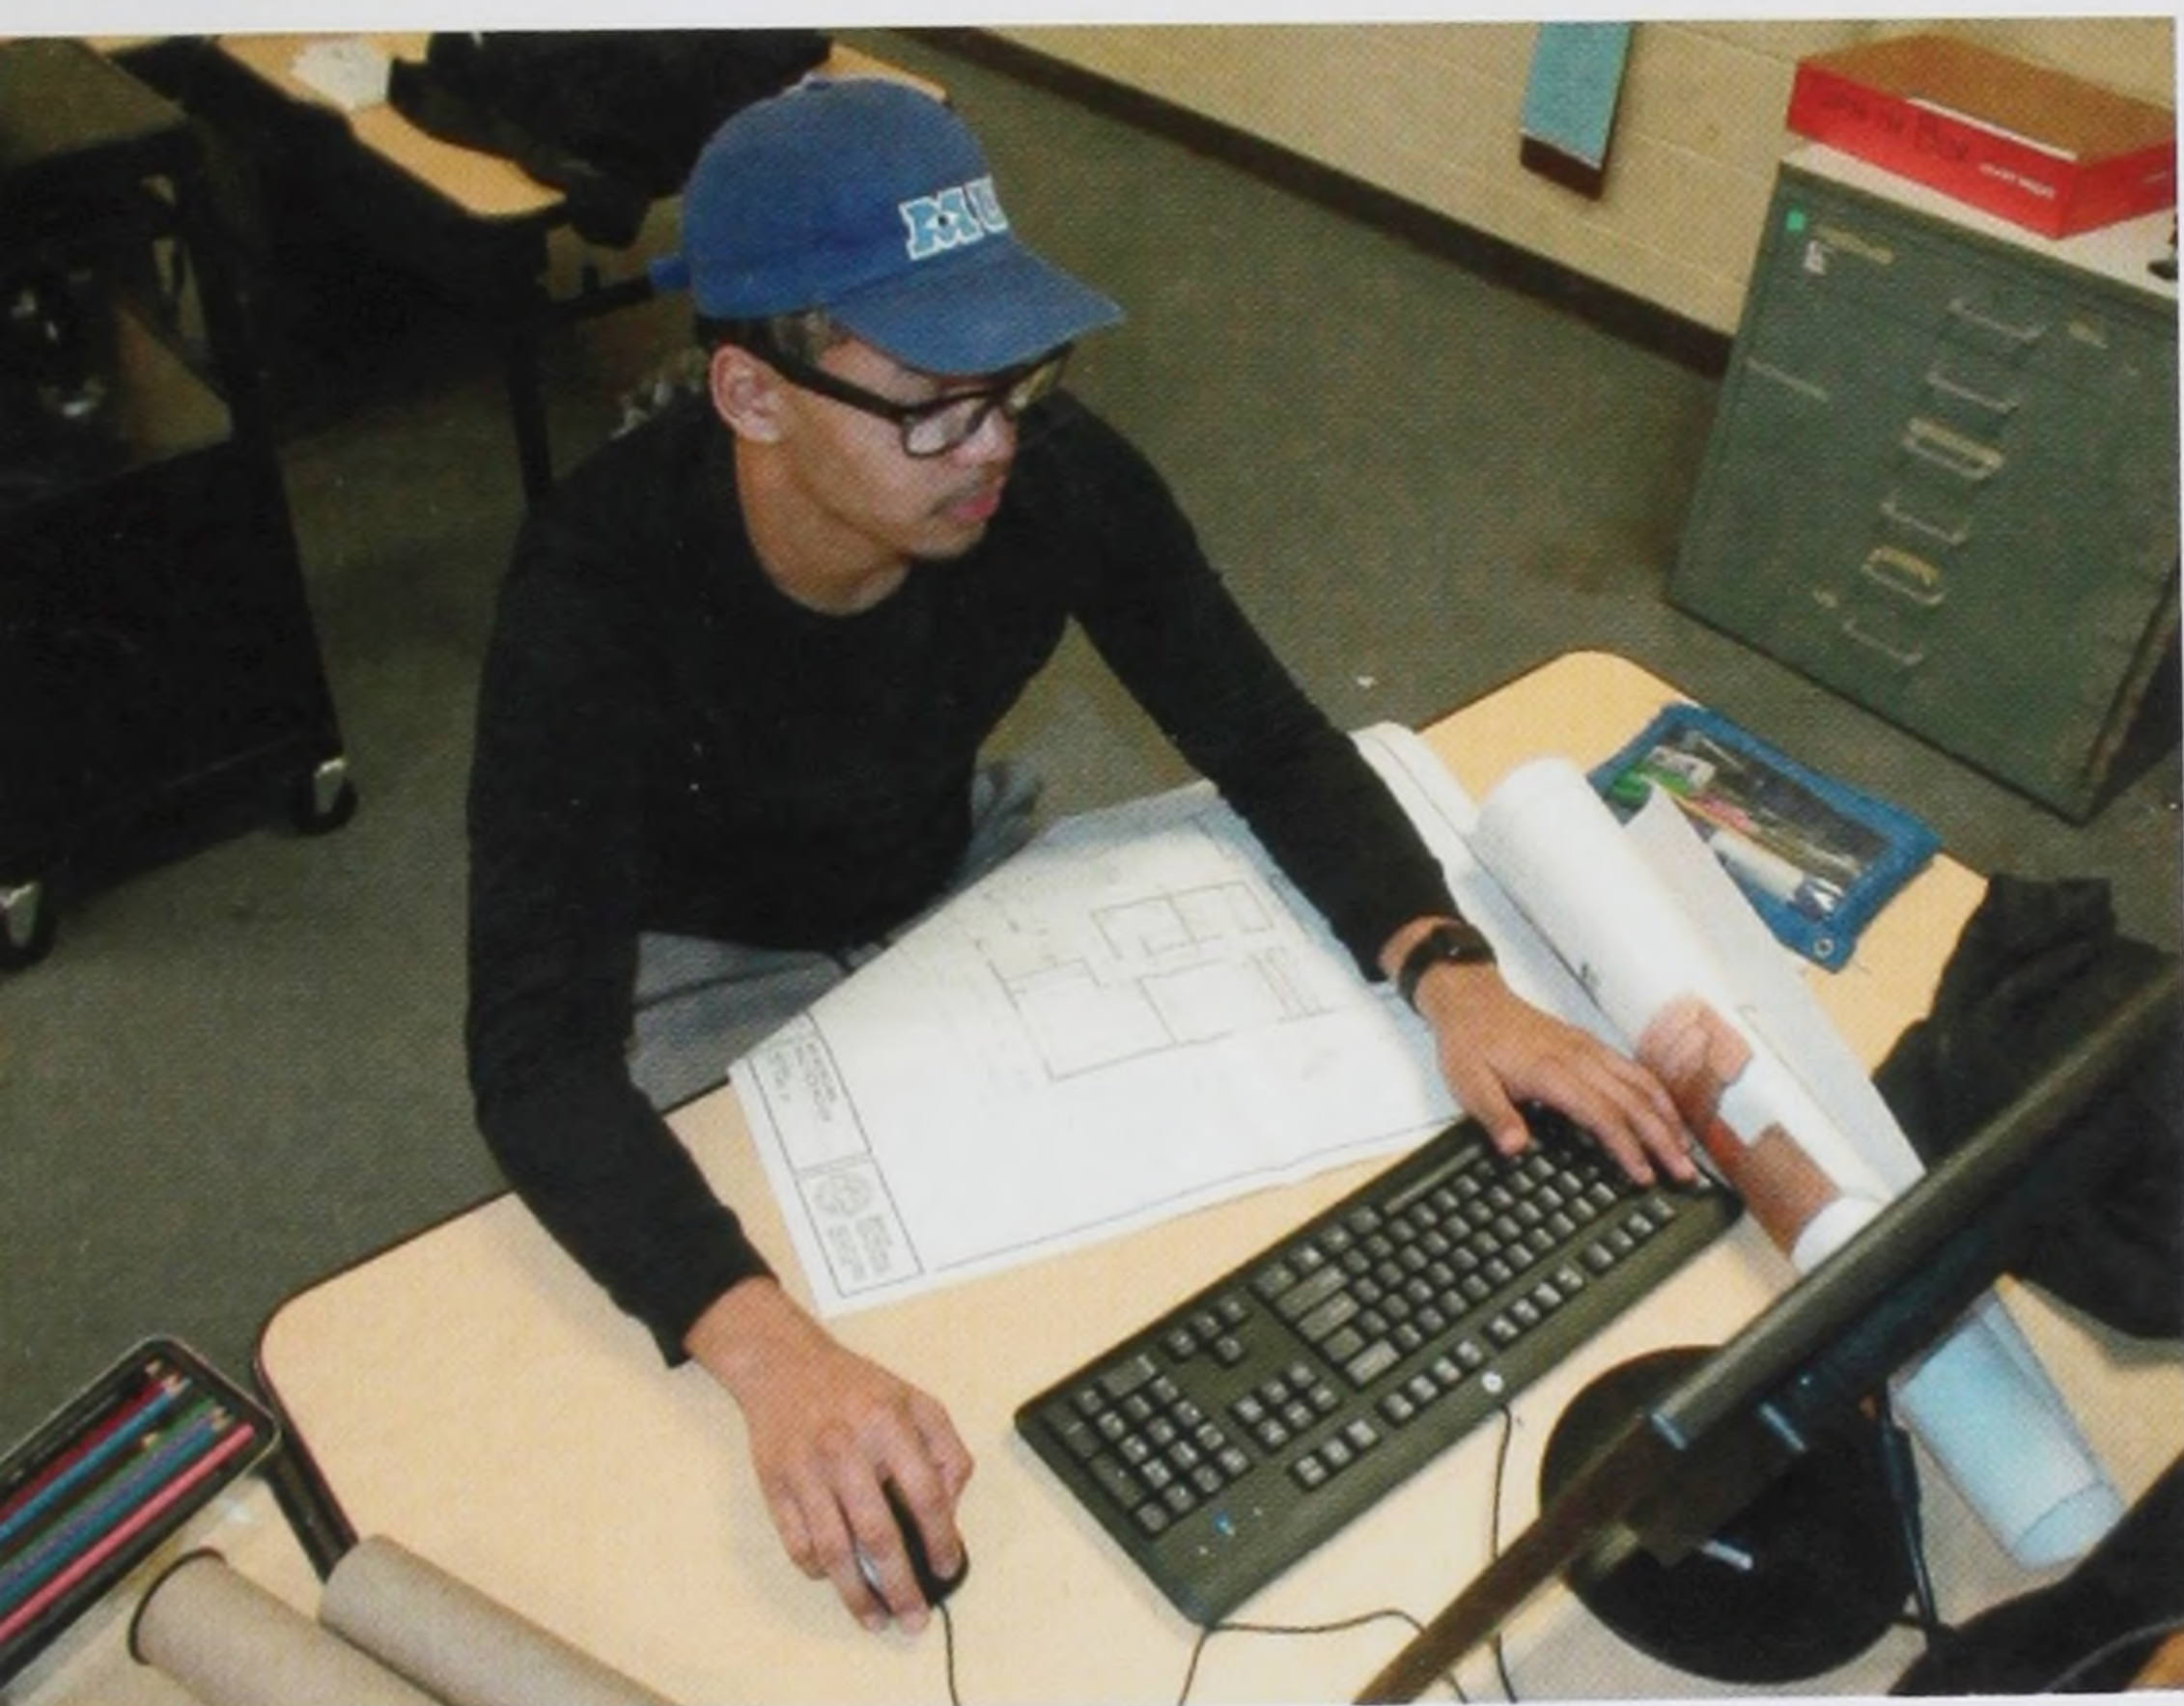

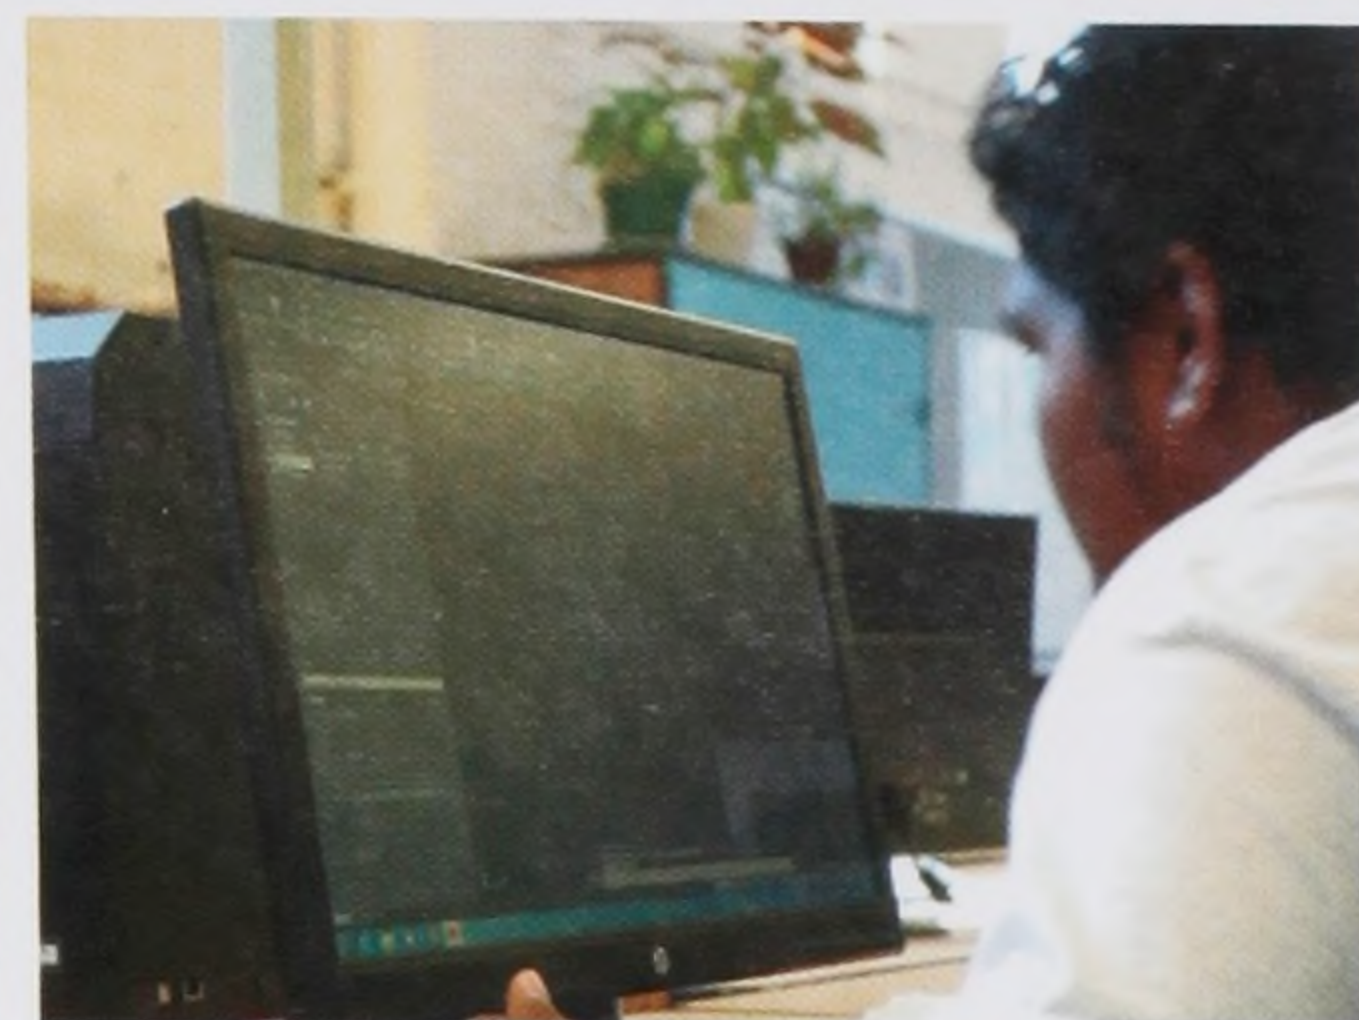

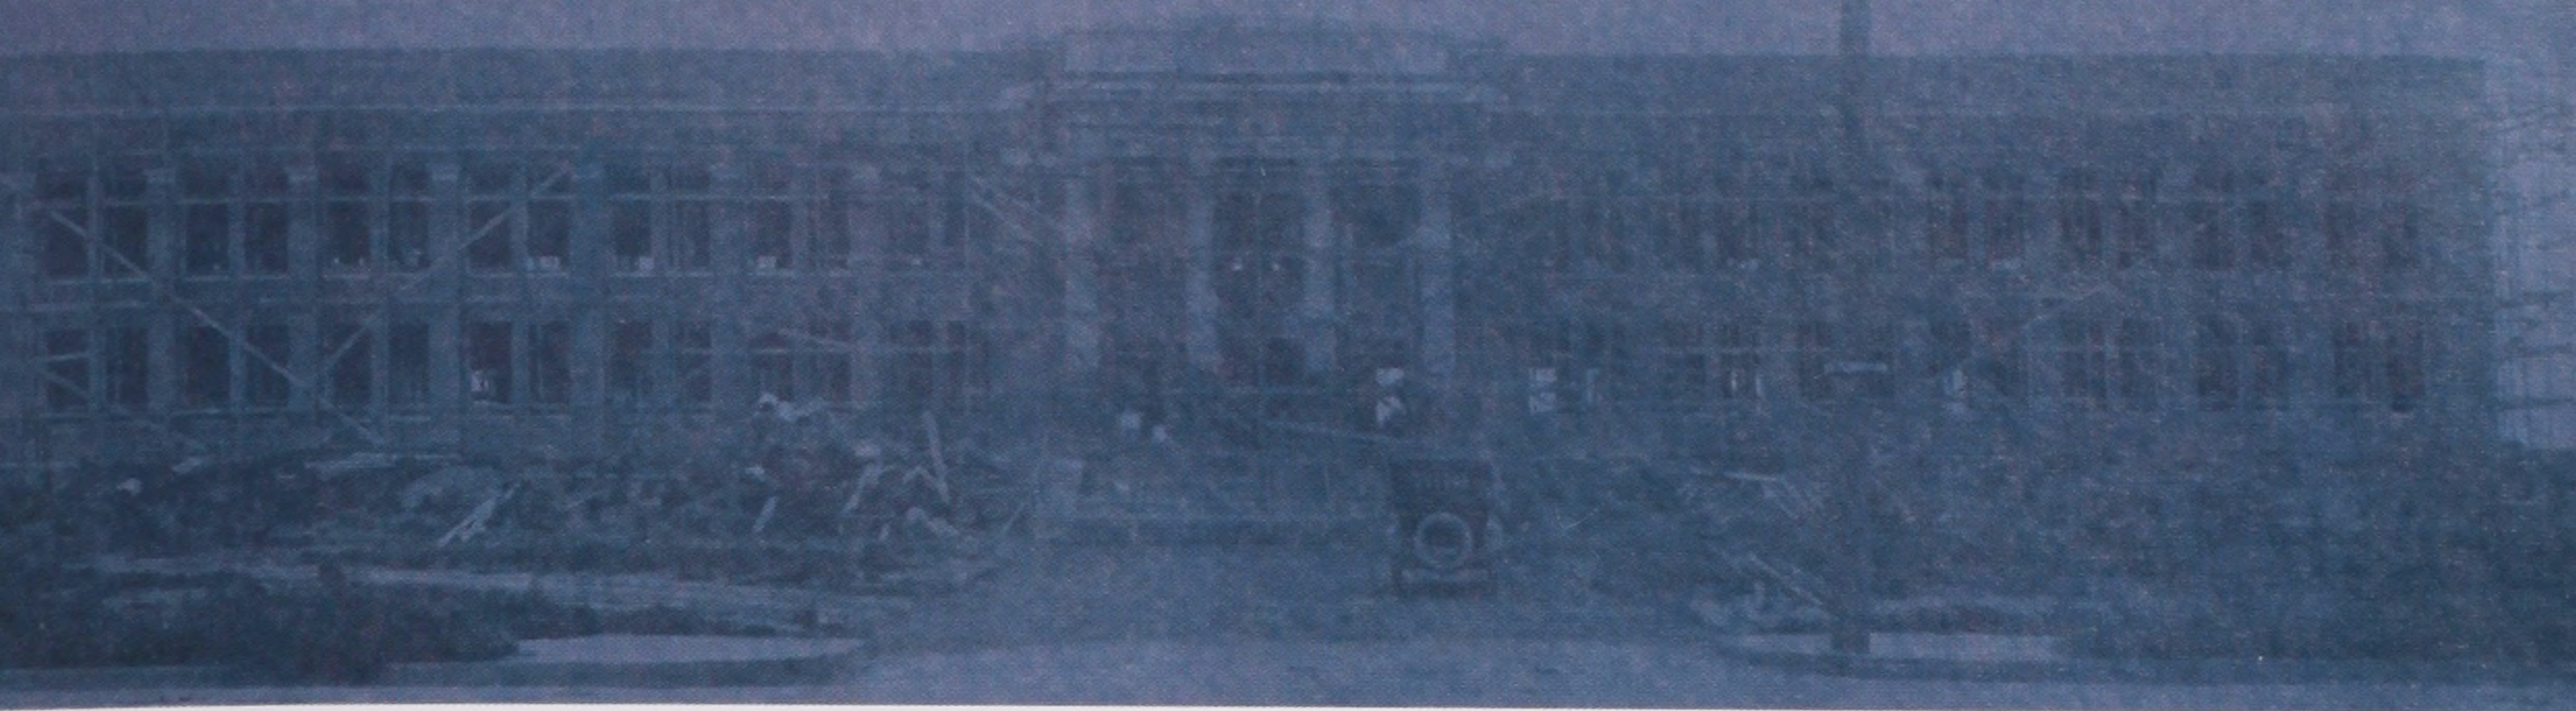

Architecture

“When the sun’s not shining, CTRL + S is your friend.” - Tammy

Architecture is less of a major and more of a lifestyle driven by work ethic and creativity. The essence of the classroom is that of functional freedom of expression, while serving the client’s needs as a firm that works together toward a common goal. The passion of instructor Tammy Hite is to mesh the rich history of architecture with the ingenuity of the future as we pursue modern goals. Being as ‘Architecture’ ranges from hand sketching to complex schematics and building elevations, students are empowered to be well-versed in the whole spectrum of design. “We spend our whole lives indoors, so why not come to experience these spaces in more appealing ways?”

"It's a good program because it's rigorous. It's challenging and makes me think creatively. It shows that there's more than one way to do things."

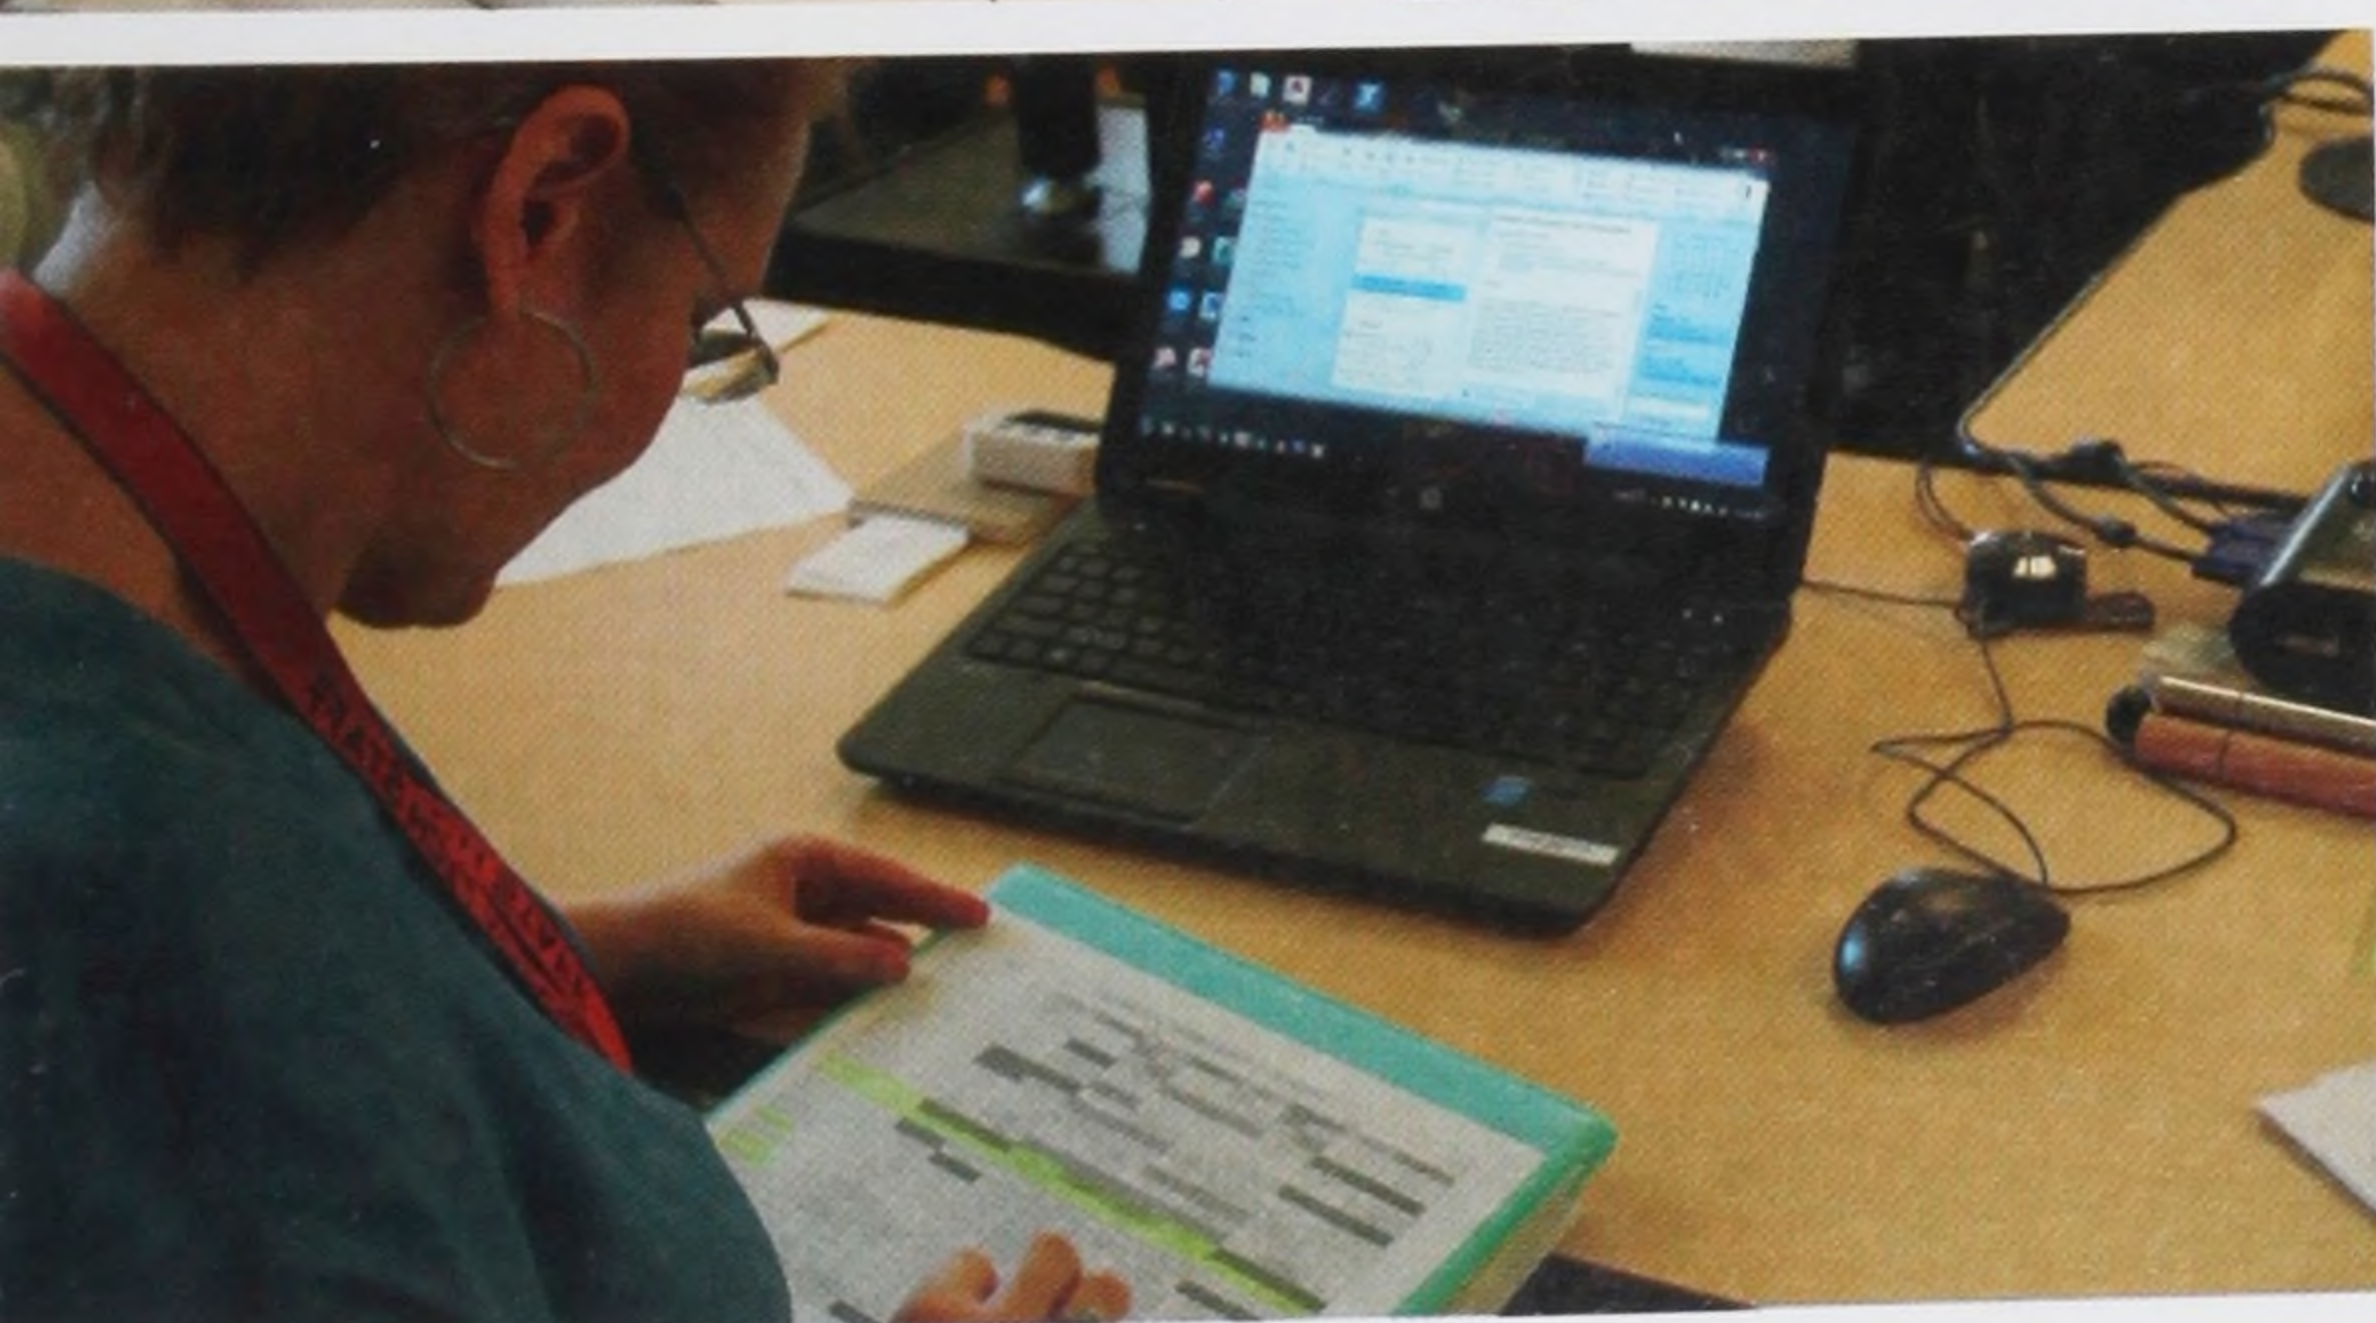

- Xzavier Jones

"I don't have anything but Architecture. It gives me life."

- Emilio Najera

"When you major in the Architecture program you encounter many [setbacks]. However, when you work together as a team, you manage to overcome."

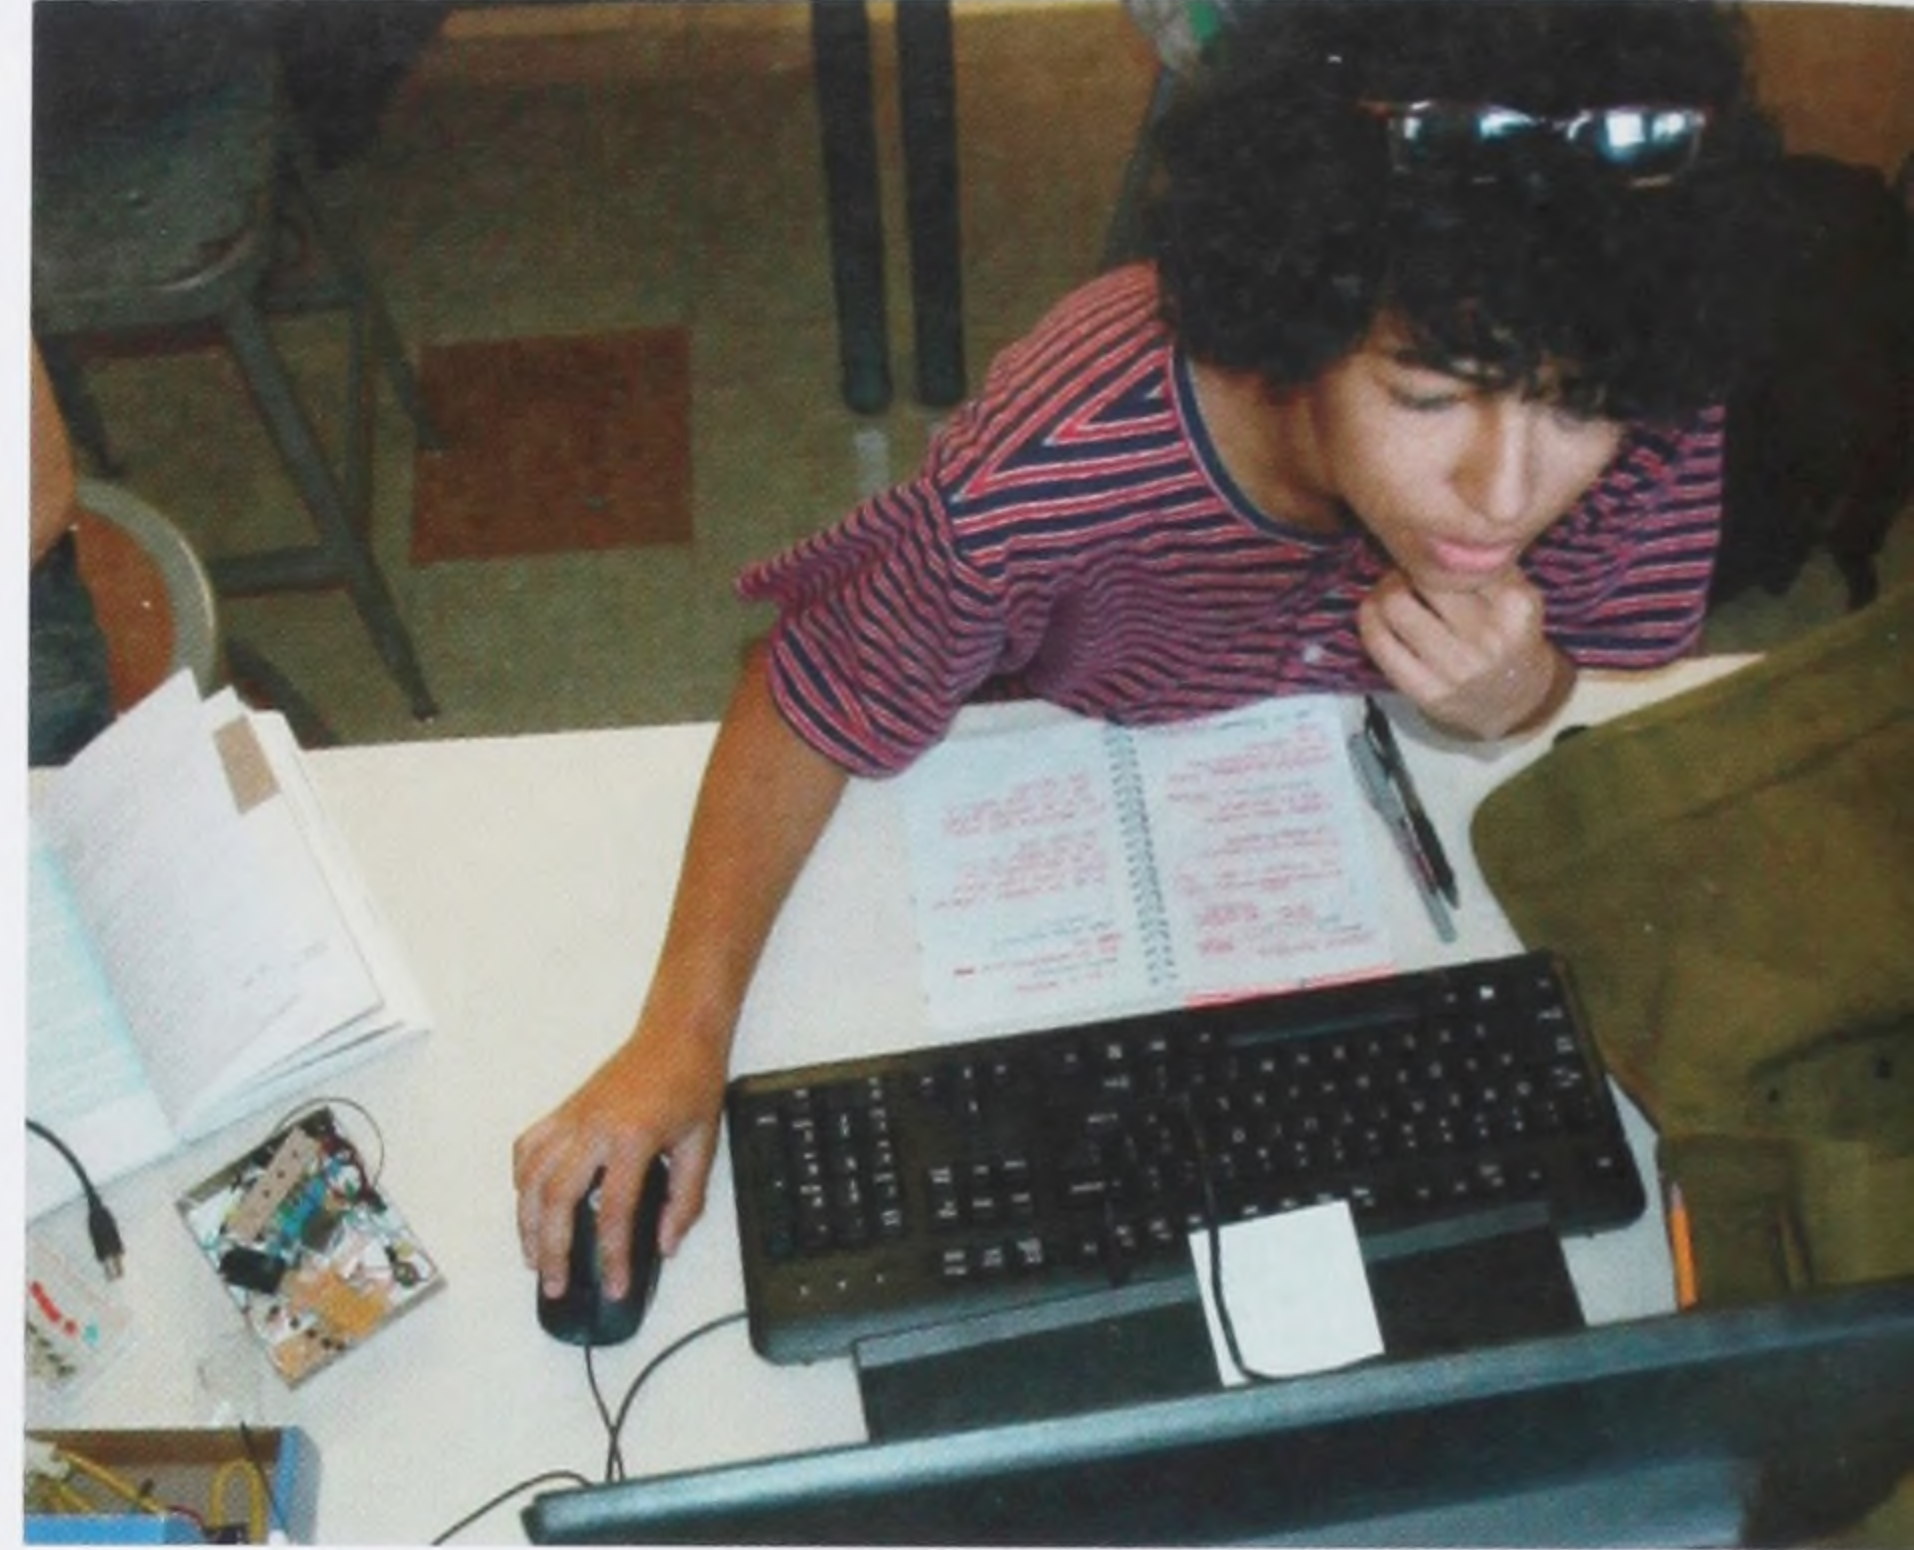

- Erin Carrillo

- Carmi Tronci-Bell

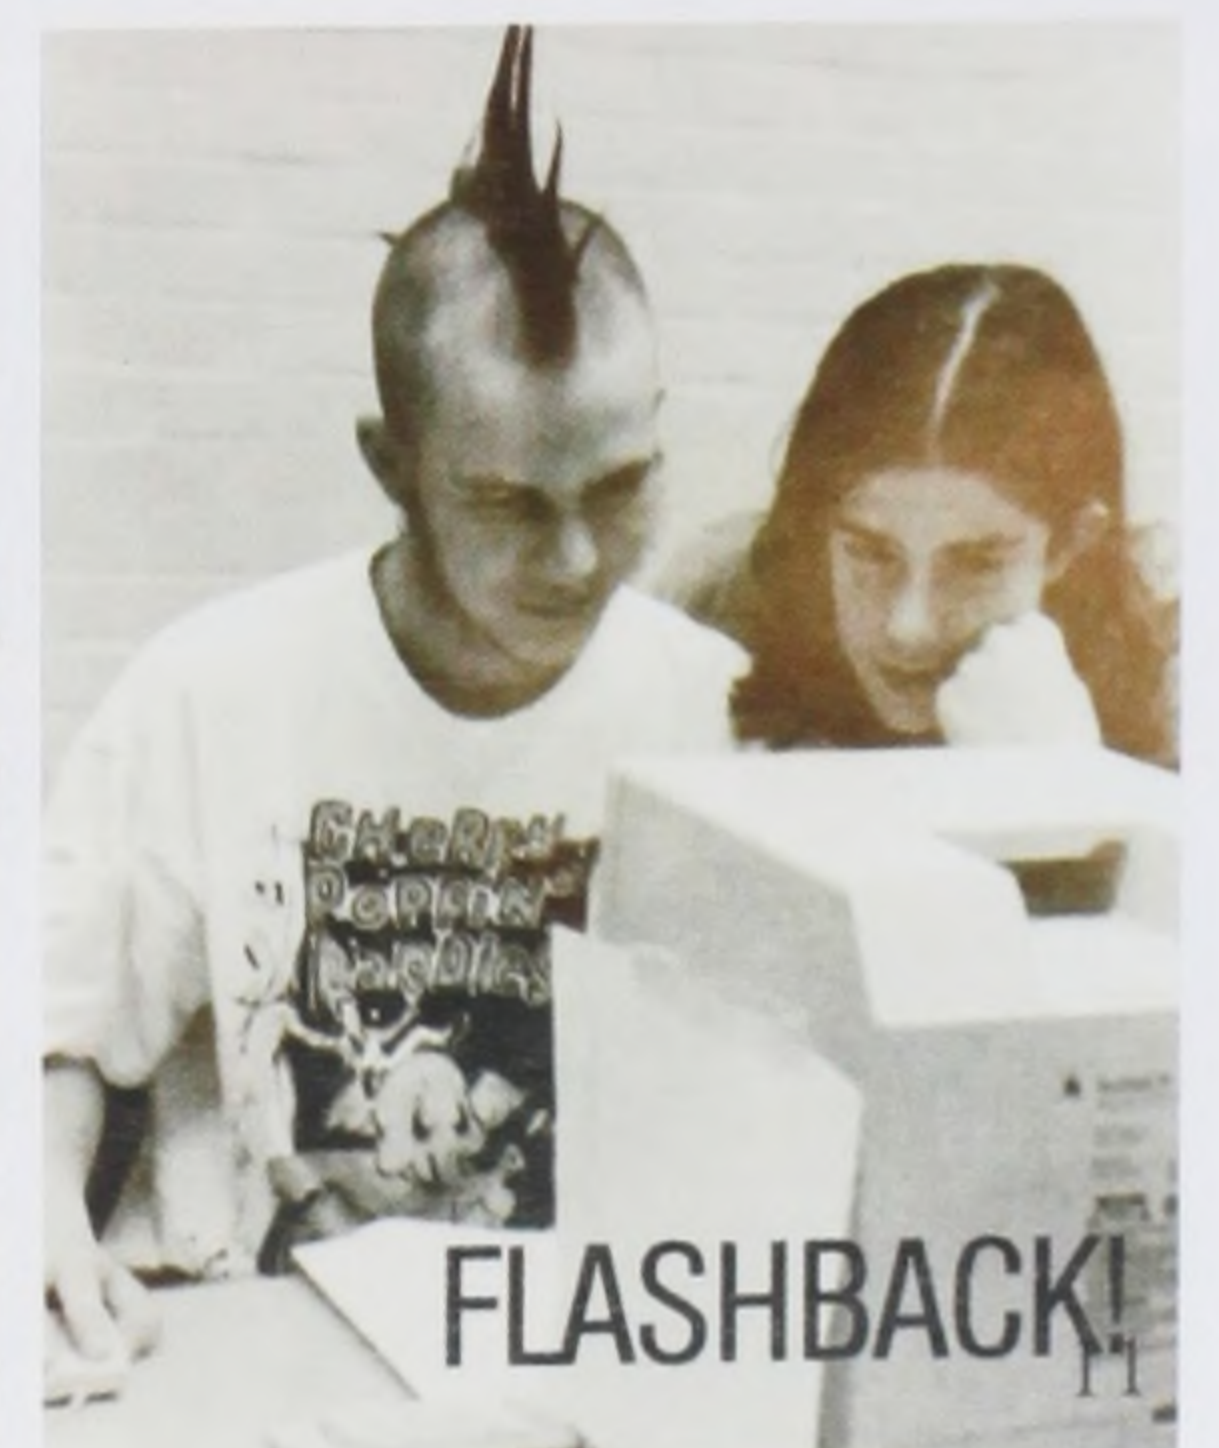

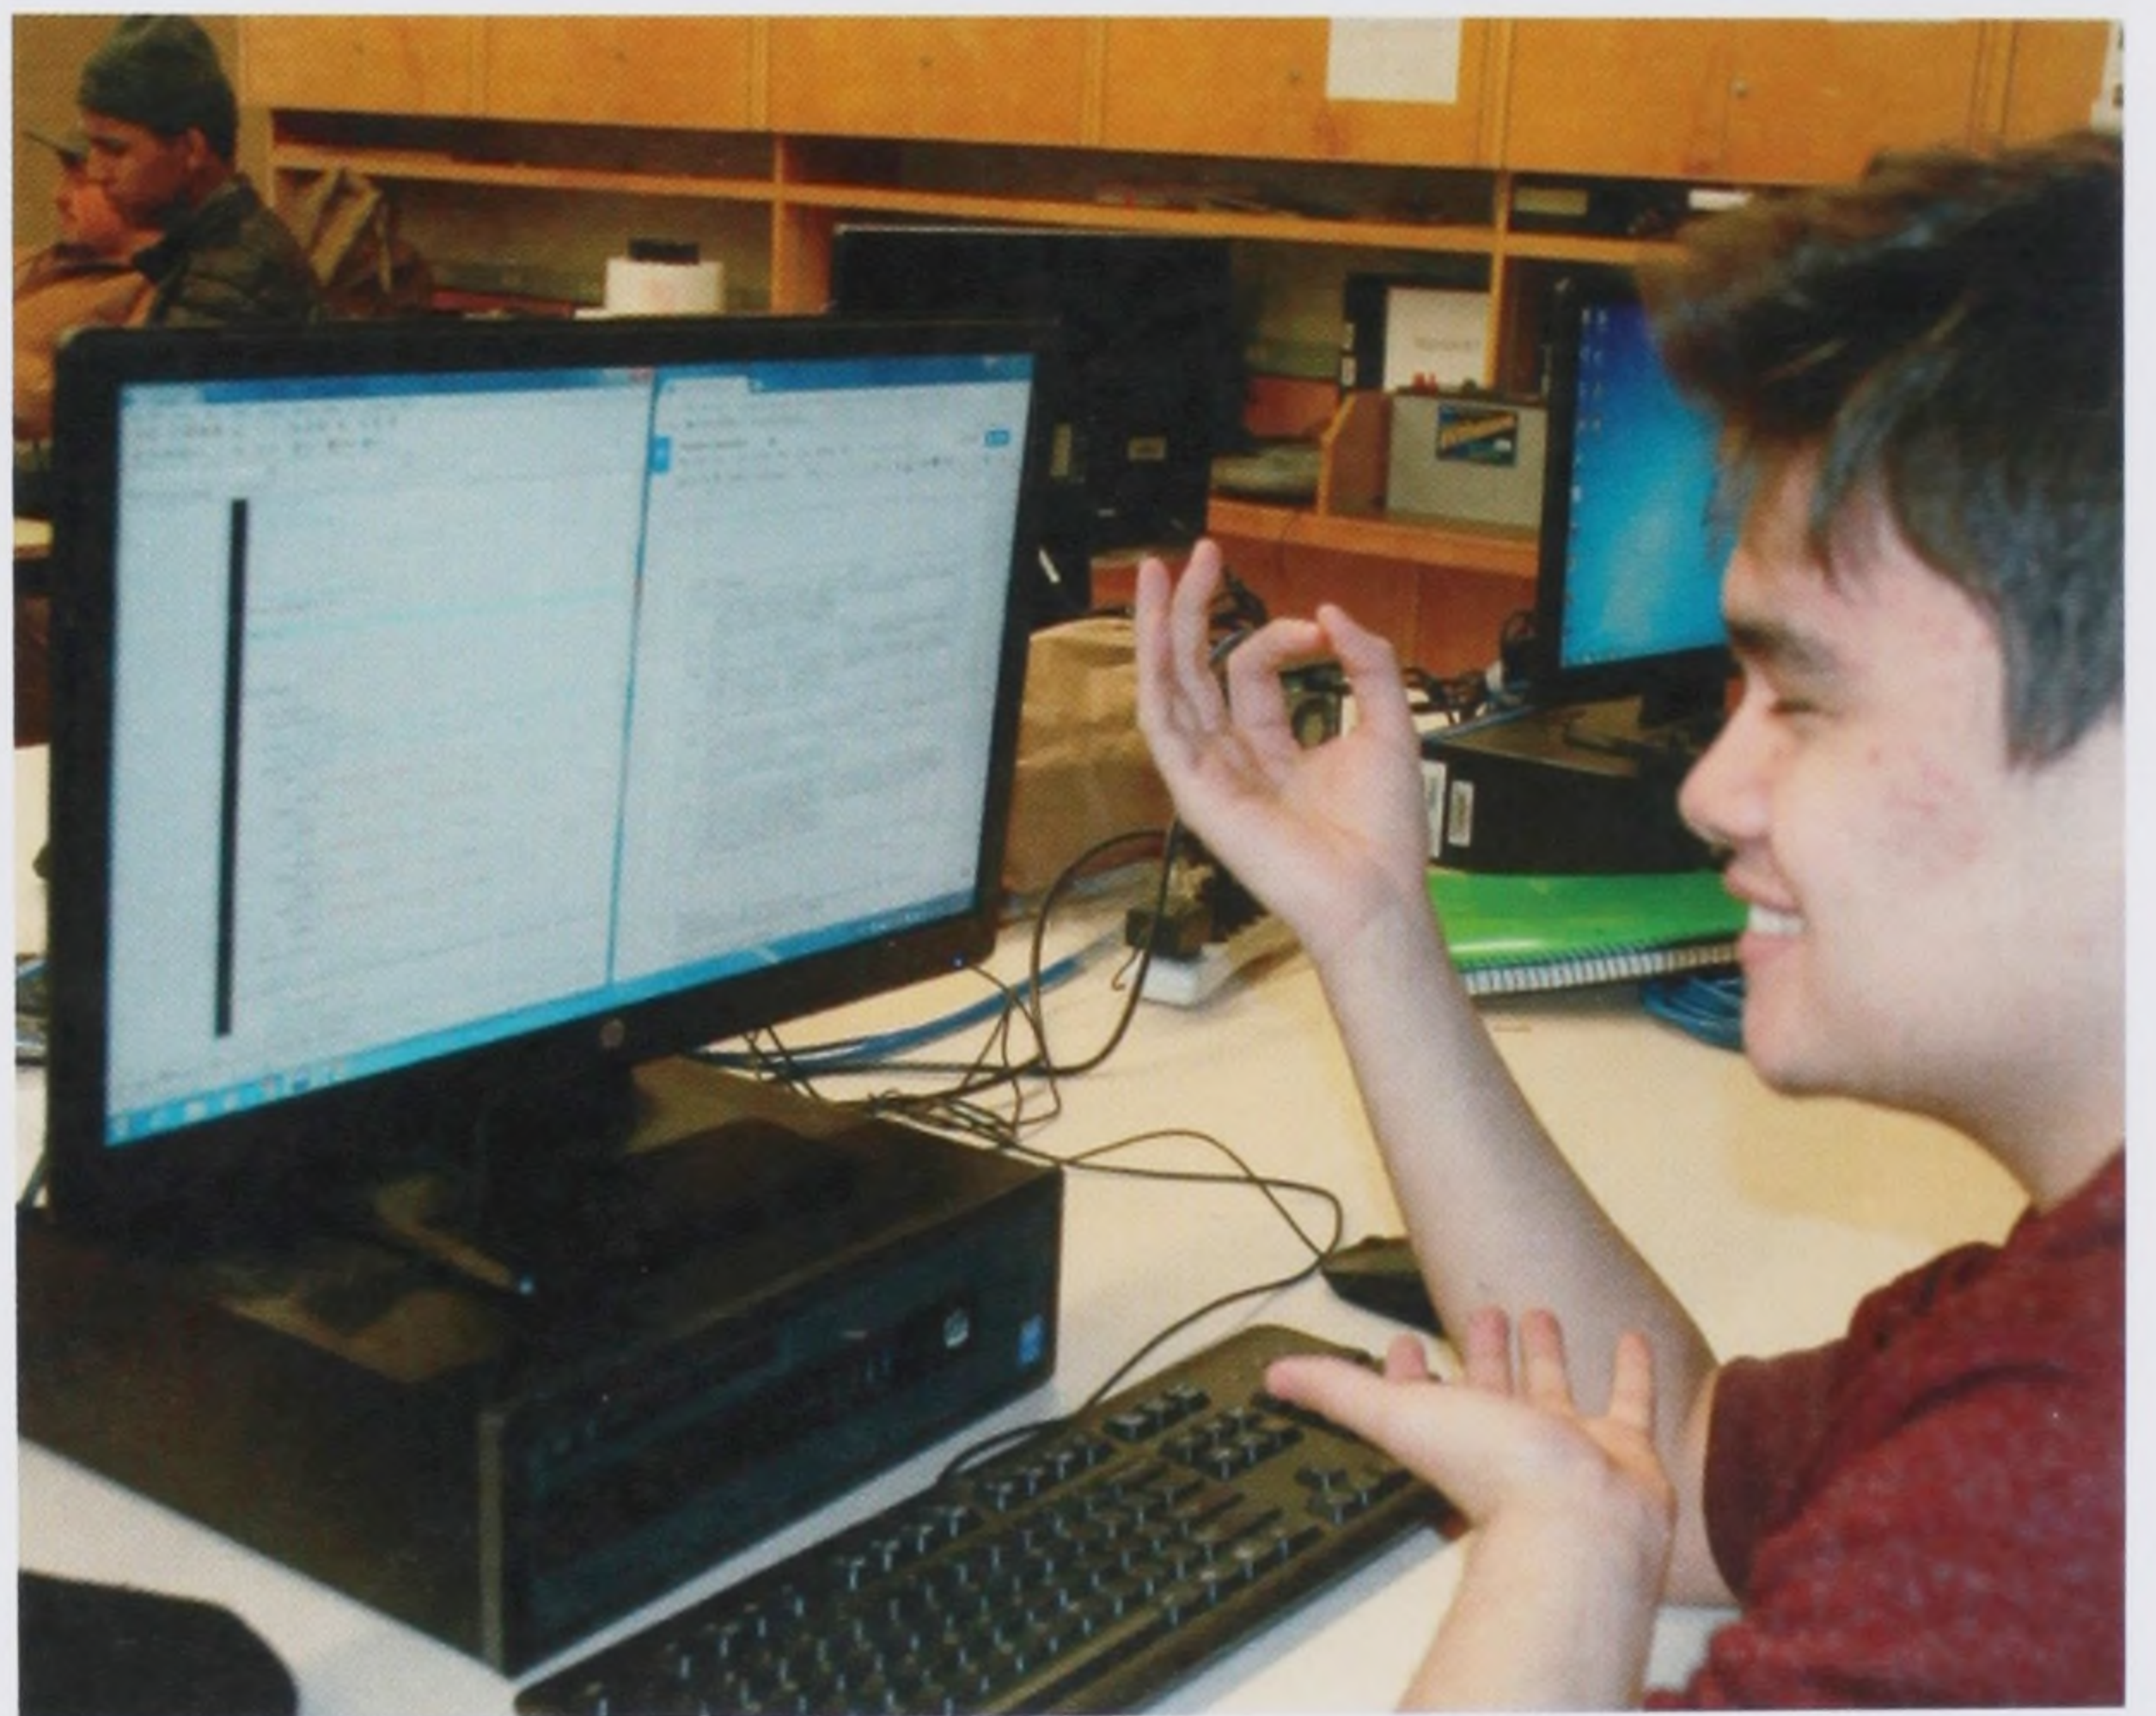

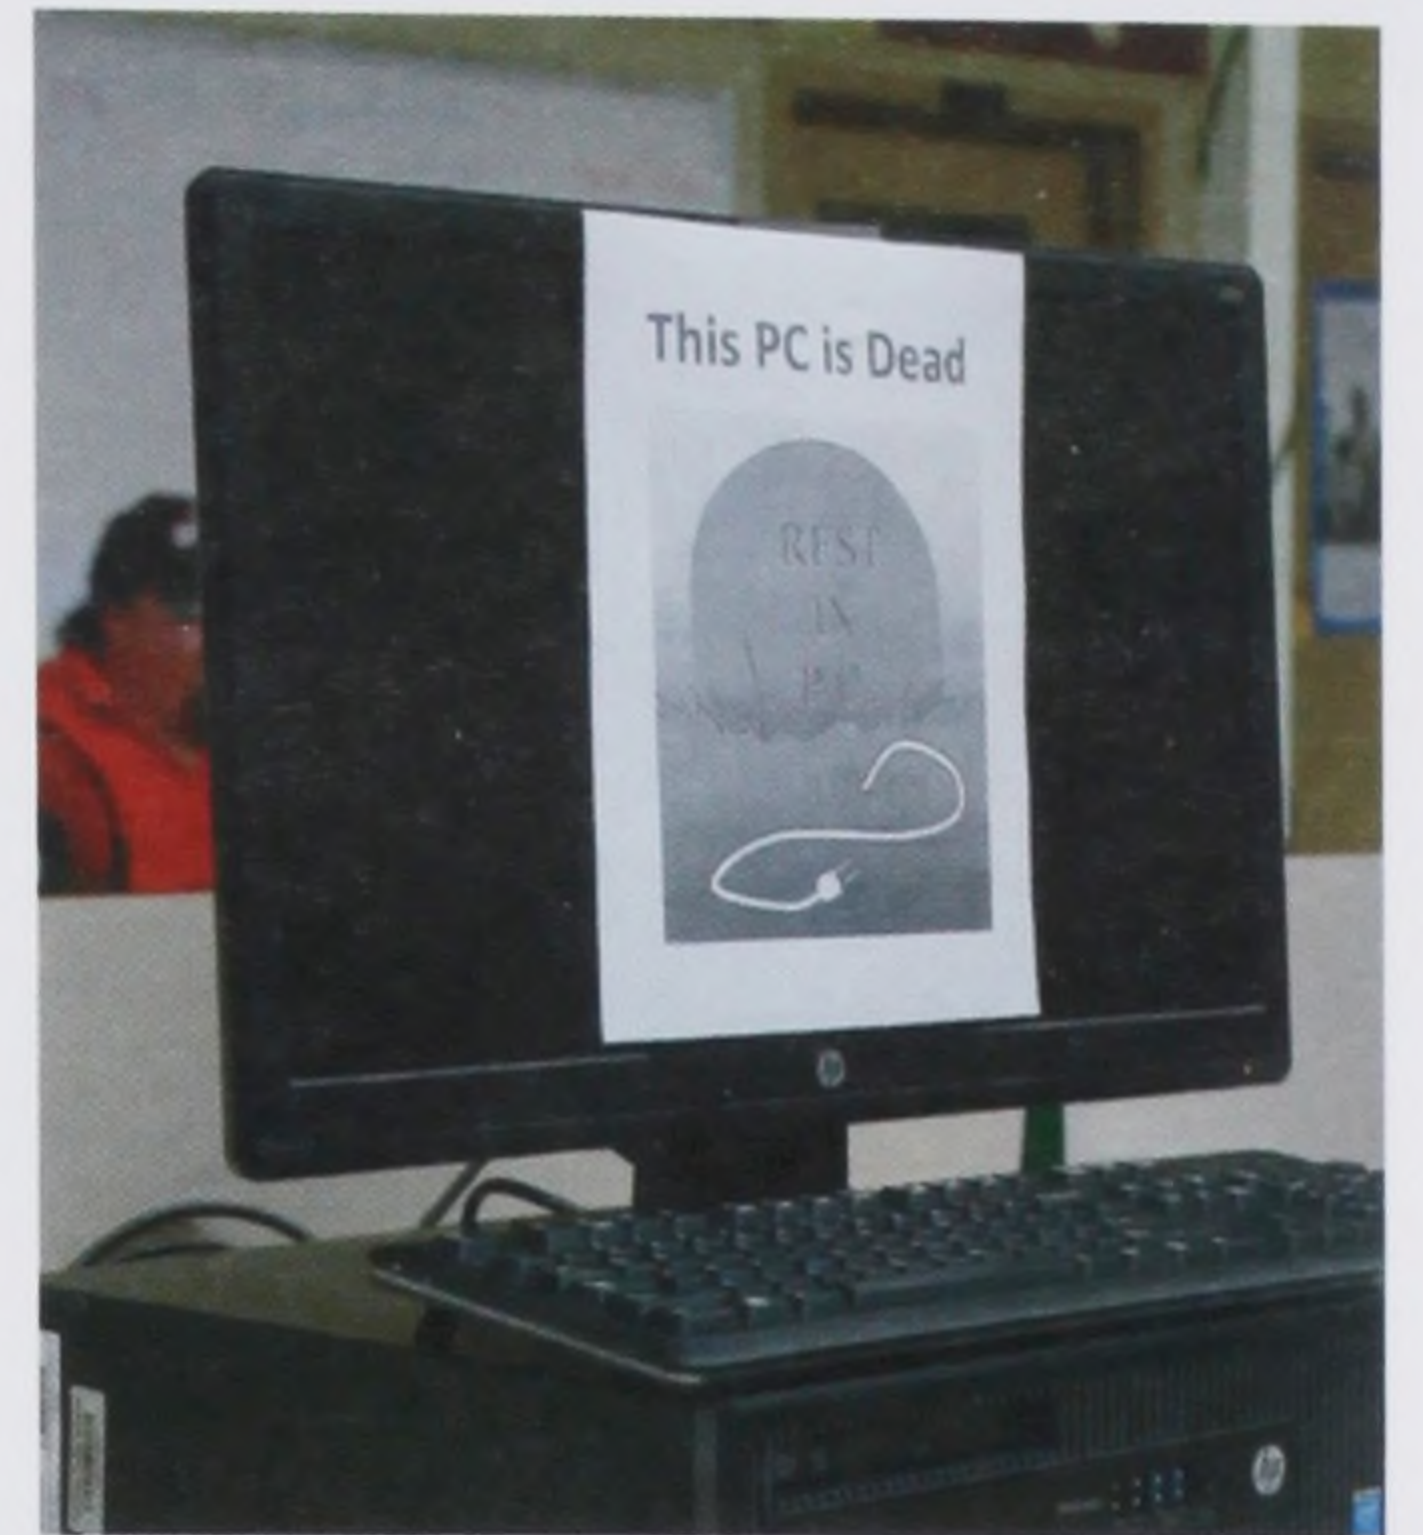

"Recently I've been working to program a thermometer to work properly on the Arduino platform. It's a pretty simple project but it allows me to consider how to do it best. Then I get to move forward."

-Branwyn Donovan

“This class is run in a way that mirrors the workplace. We choose our own project and dictate how we go about doing it. We’re treated like adults here and are responsible for every direction we go in.”

Construction

Bob the Builder at it again.

Construction majors get their own personalized aprons with their names on them! After a hard period of sawing, nailing and sanding, you still want to look your best.

Funny story this year?

"Right before taking the semester 1 final, the construction junior students all together sang harmonically, as loud as they could the national anthem." Hotchkiss told us "All the voices were cracking at all the high notes."

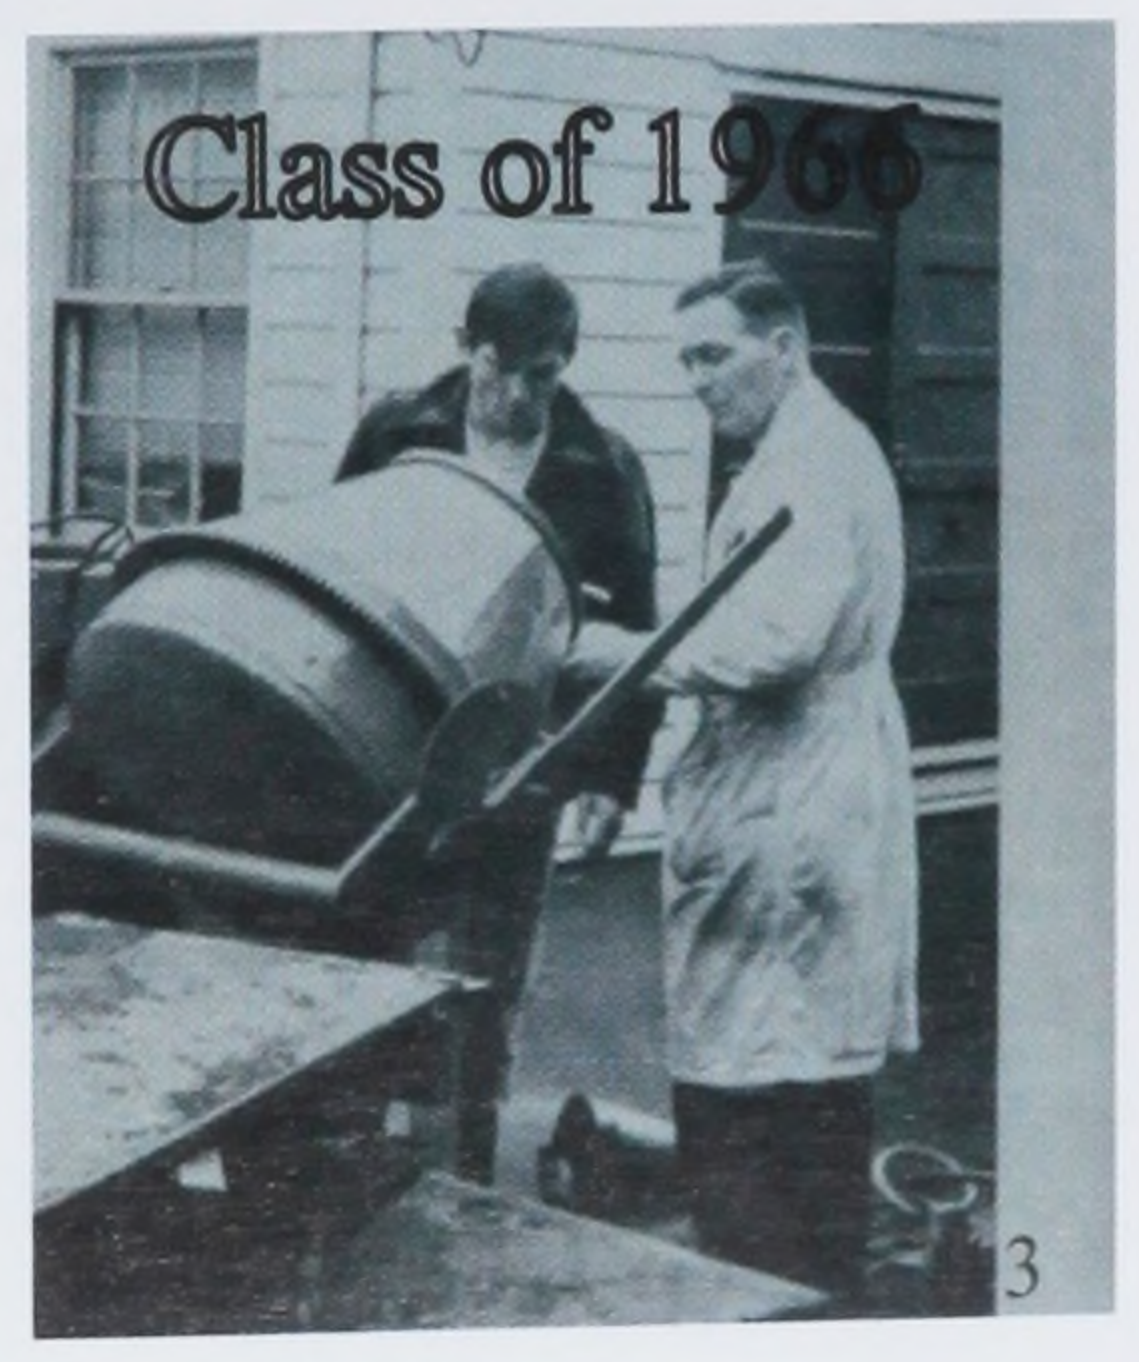

Build the future

Seniors in the major actually work together building the annual Benson house. That is the core project of the major, but students also utilize their resources to make their own projects. An example being James Walton making his own speaker and stool!

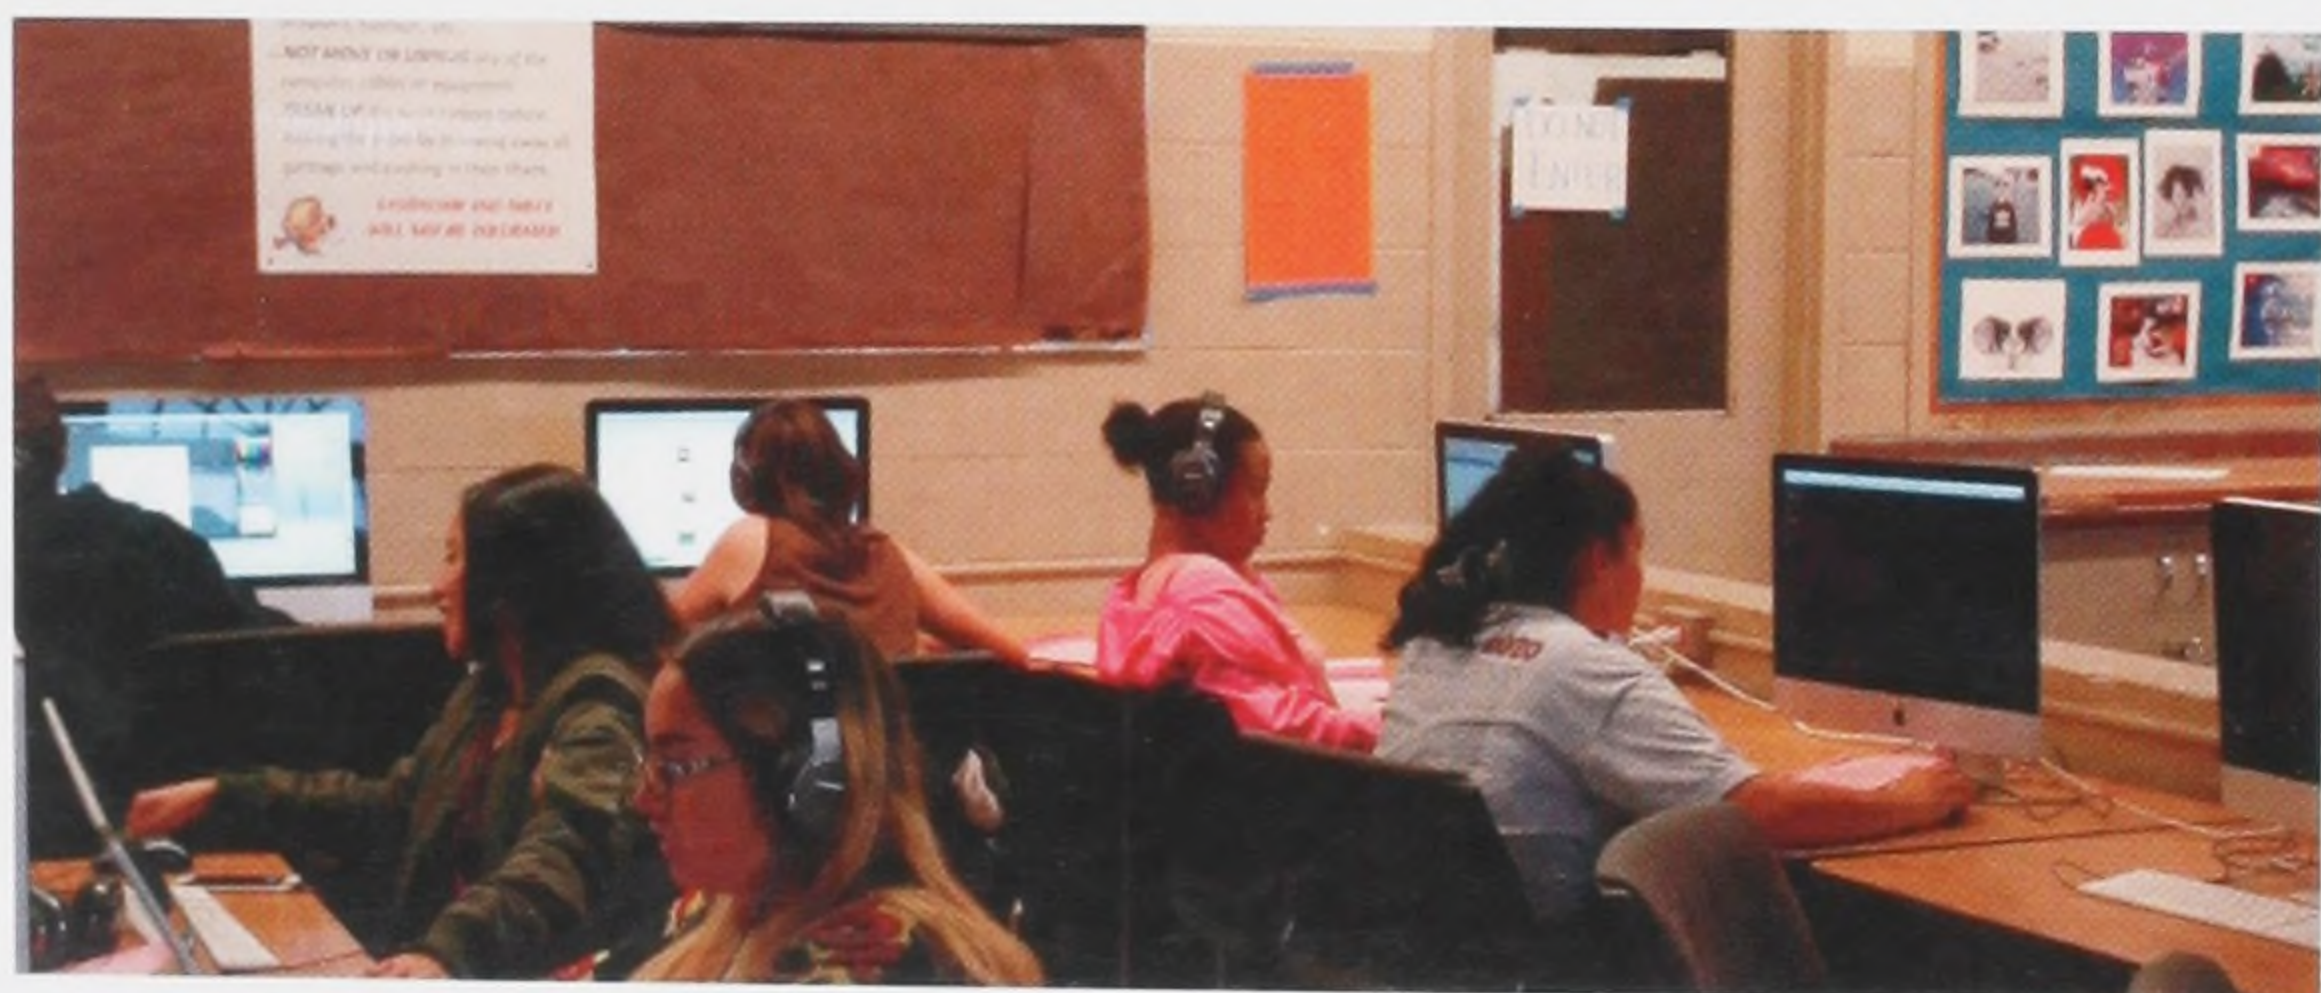

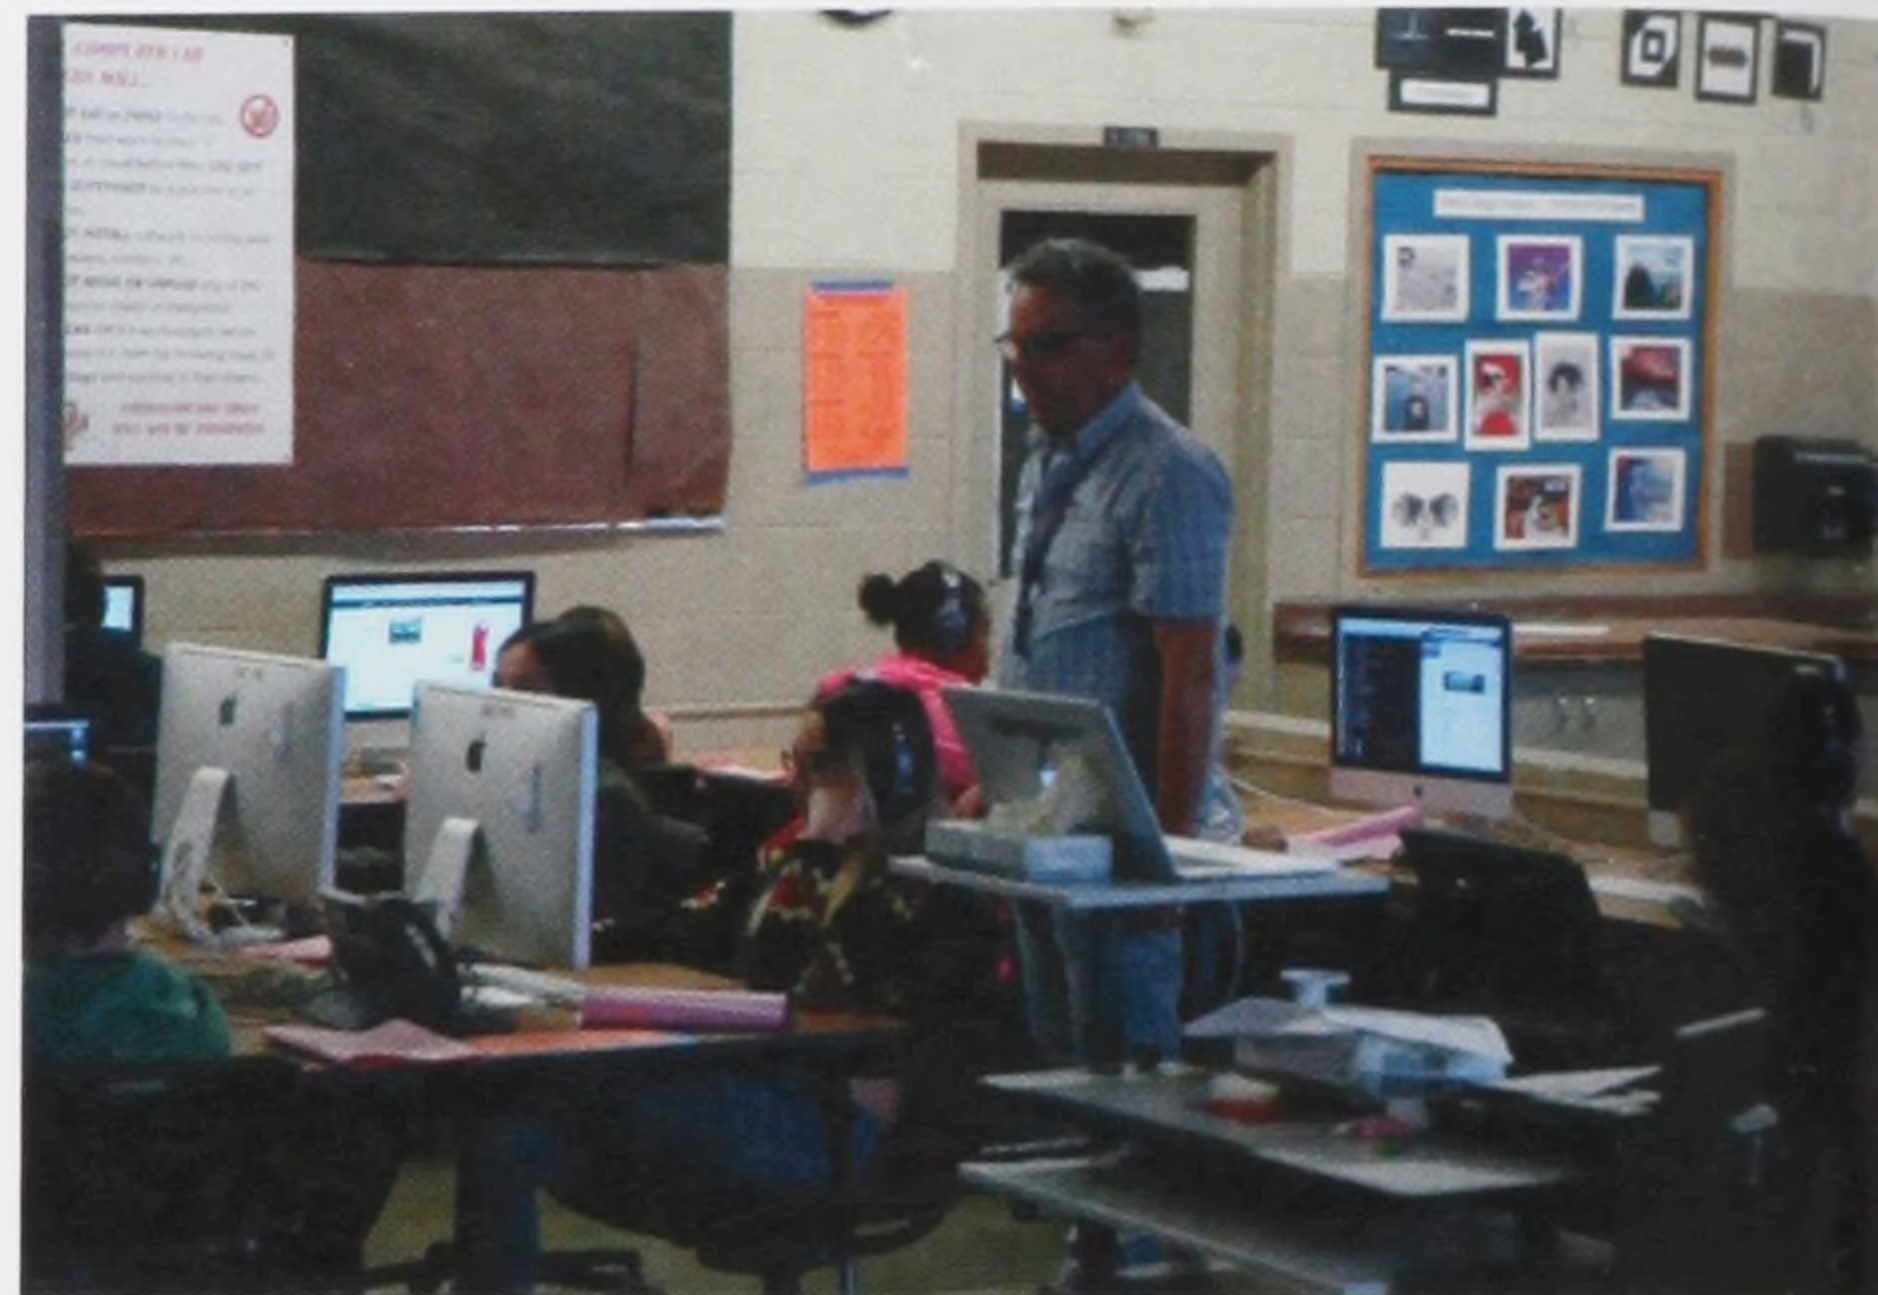

Senior construction student Moises Resendiz shows one of the steps to making the famous Benson multi colored cutting boards.

Digital Media Productions

"Please open the door"

What Is Digital Media

Digital media has transformed over the years and become a high tech major advancing constantly. The $1,200 cameras AP Photo uses makes us super nervous and super careful :).

Who?

Digital Media students are funny and are the best major at Benson. We spend our time playing video games and making fun of the other majors. There is nothing more fun than a digital media party/class. That's right every class seems like a party.

After a sad farewell to Kathy Skatch, this year we welcome two new teachers to Digital Media Productions: Steve Curley with a background in media design, animation, and punk rock and Kristen Henderson, who previously worked for KGW. We still have our beloved photo and web teacher, Todd Willams, to hold our program together.

“CURLEY OPEN THE BACK DOOR..... C U R L E Y!!!”

Electric

Wired for success

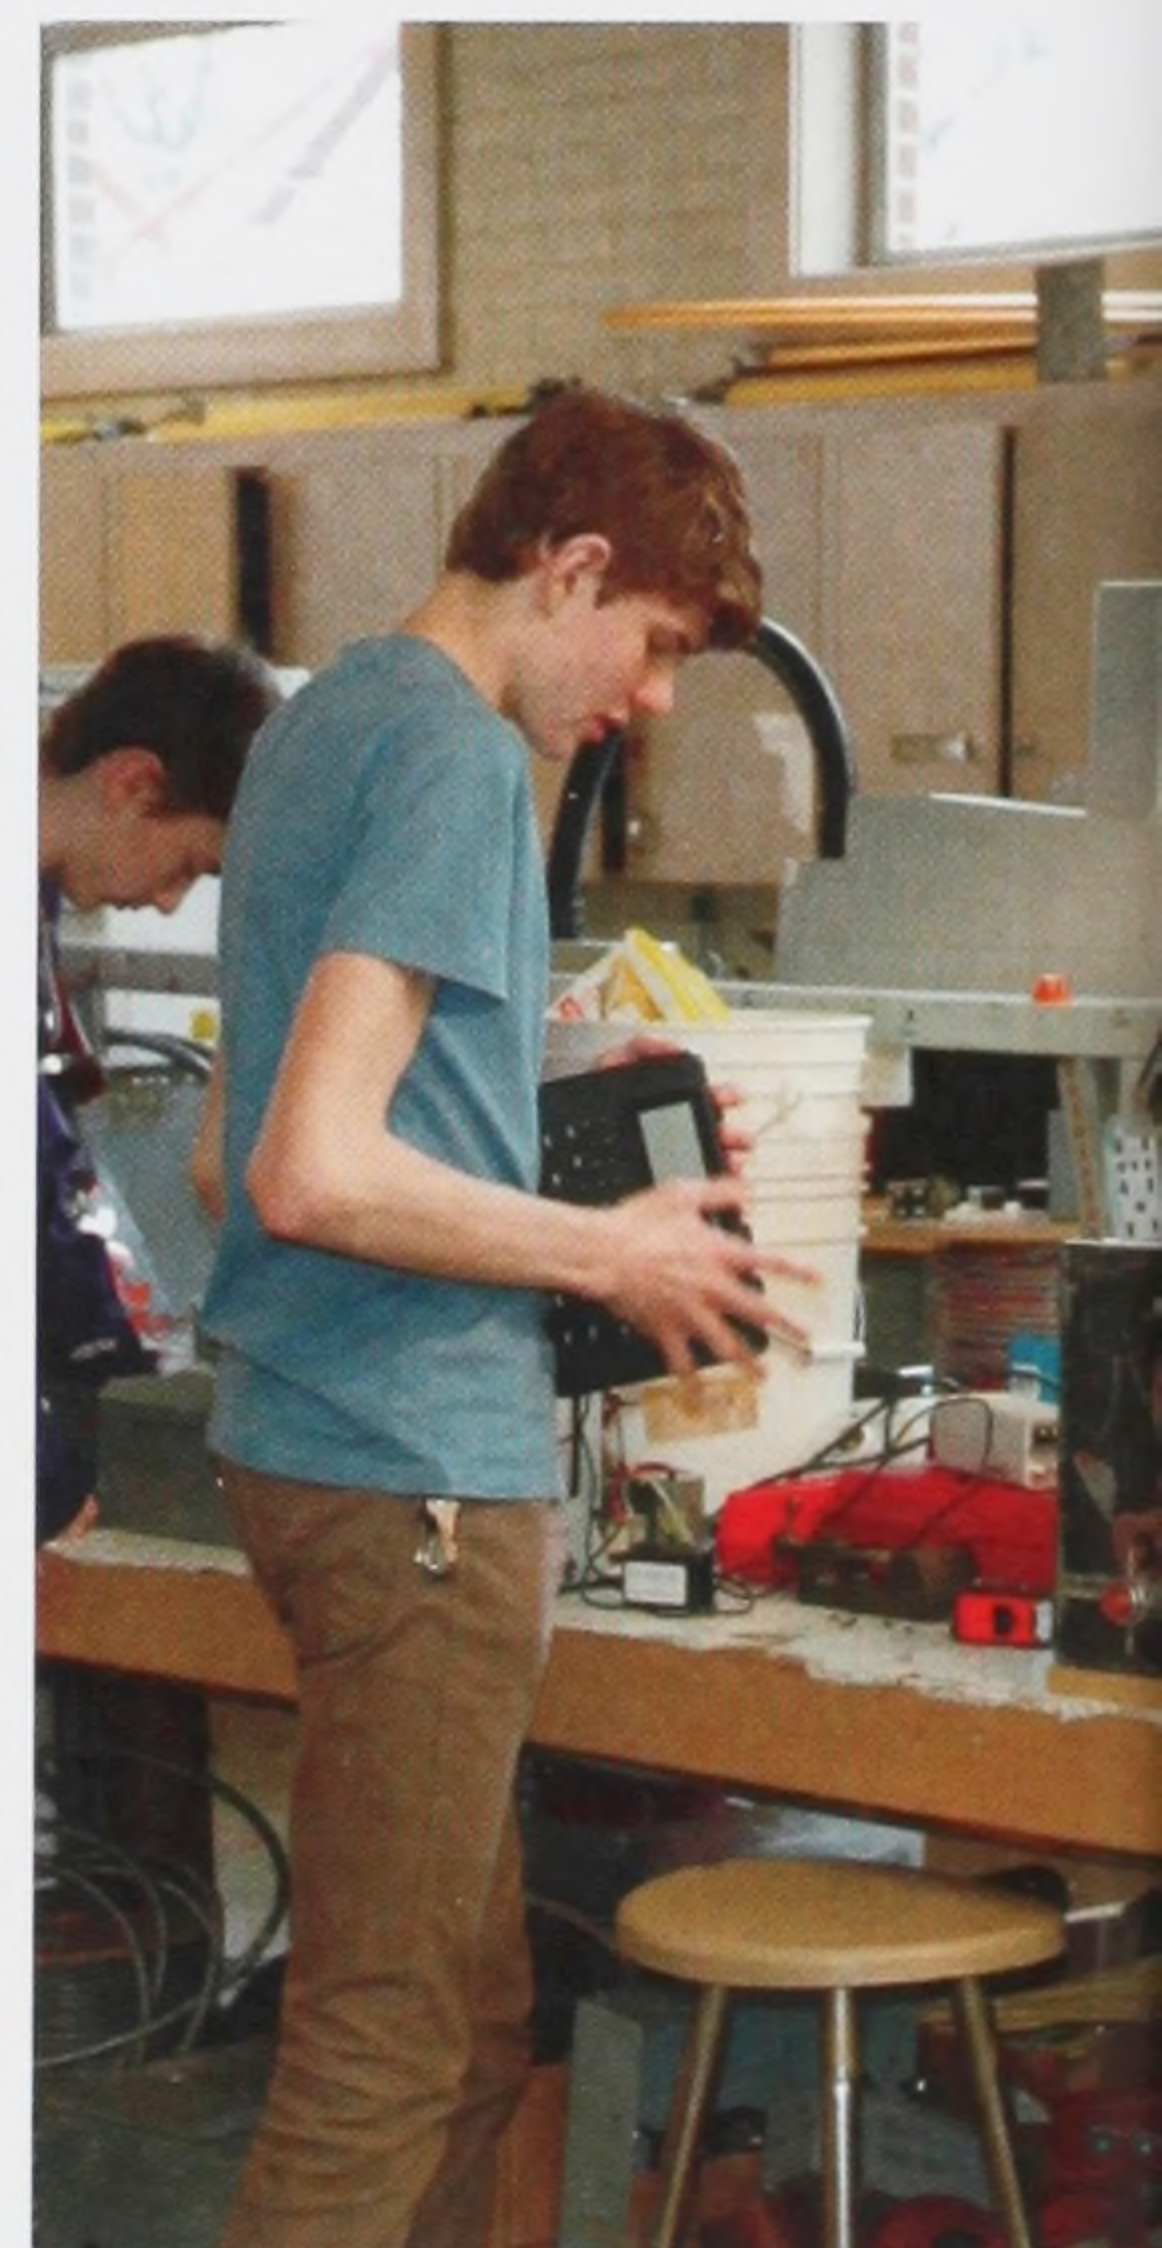

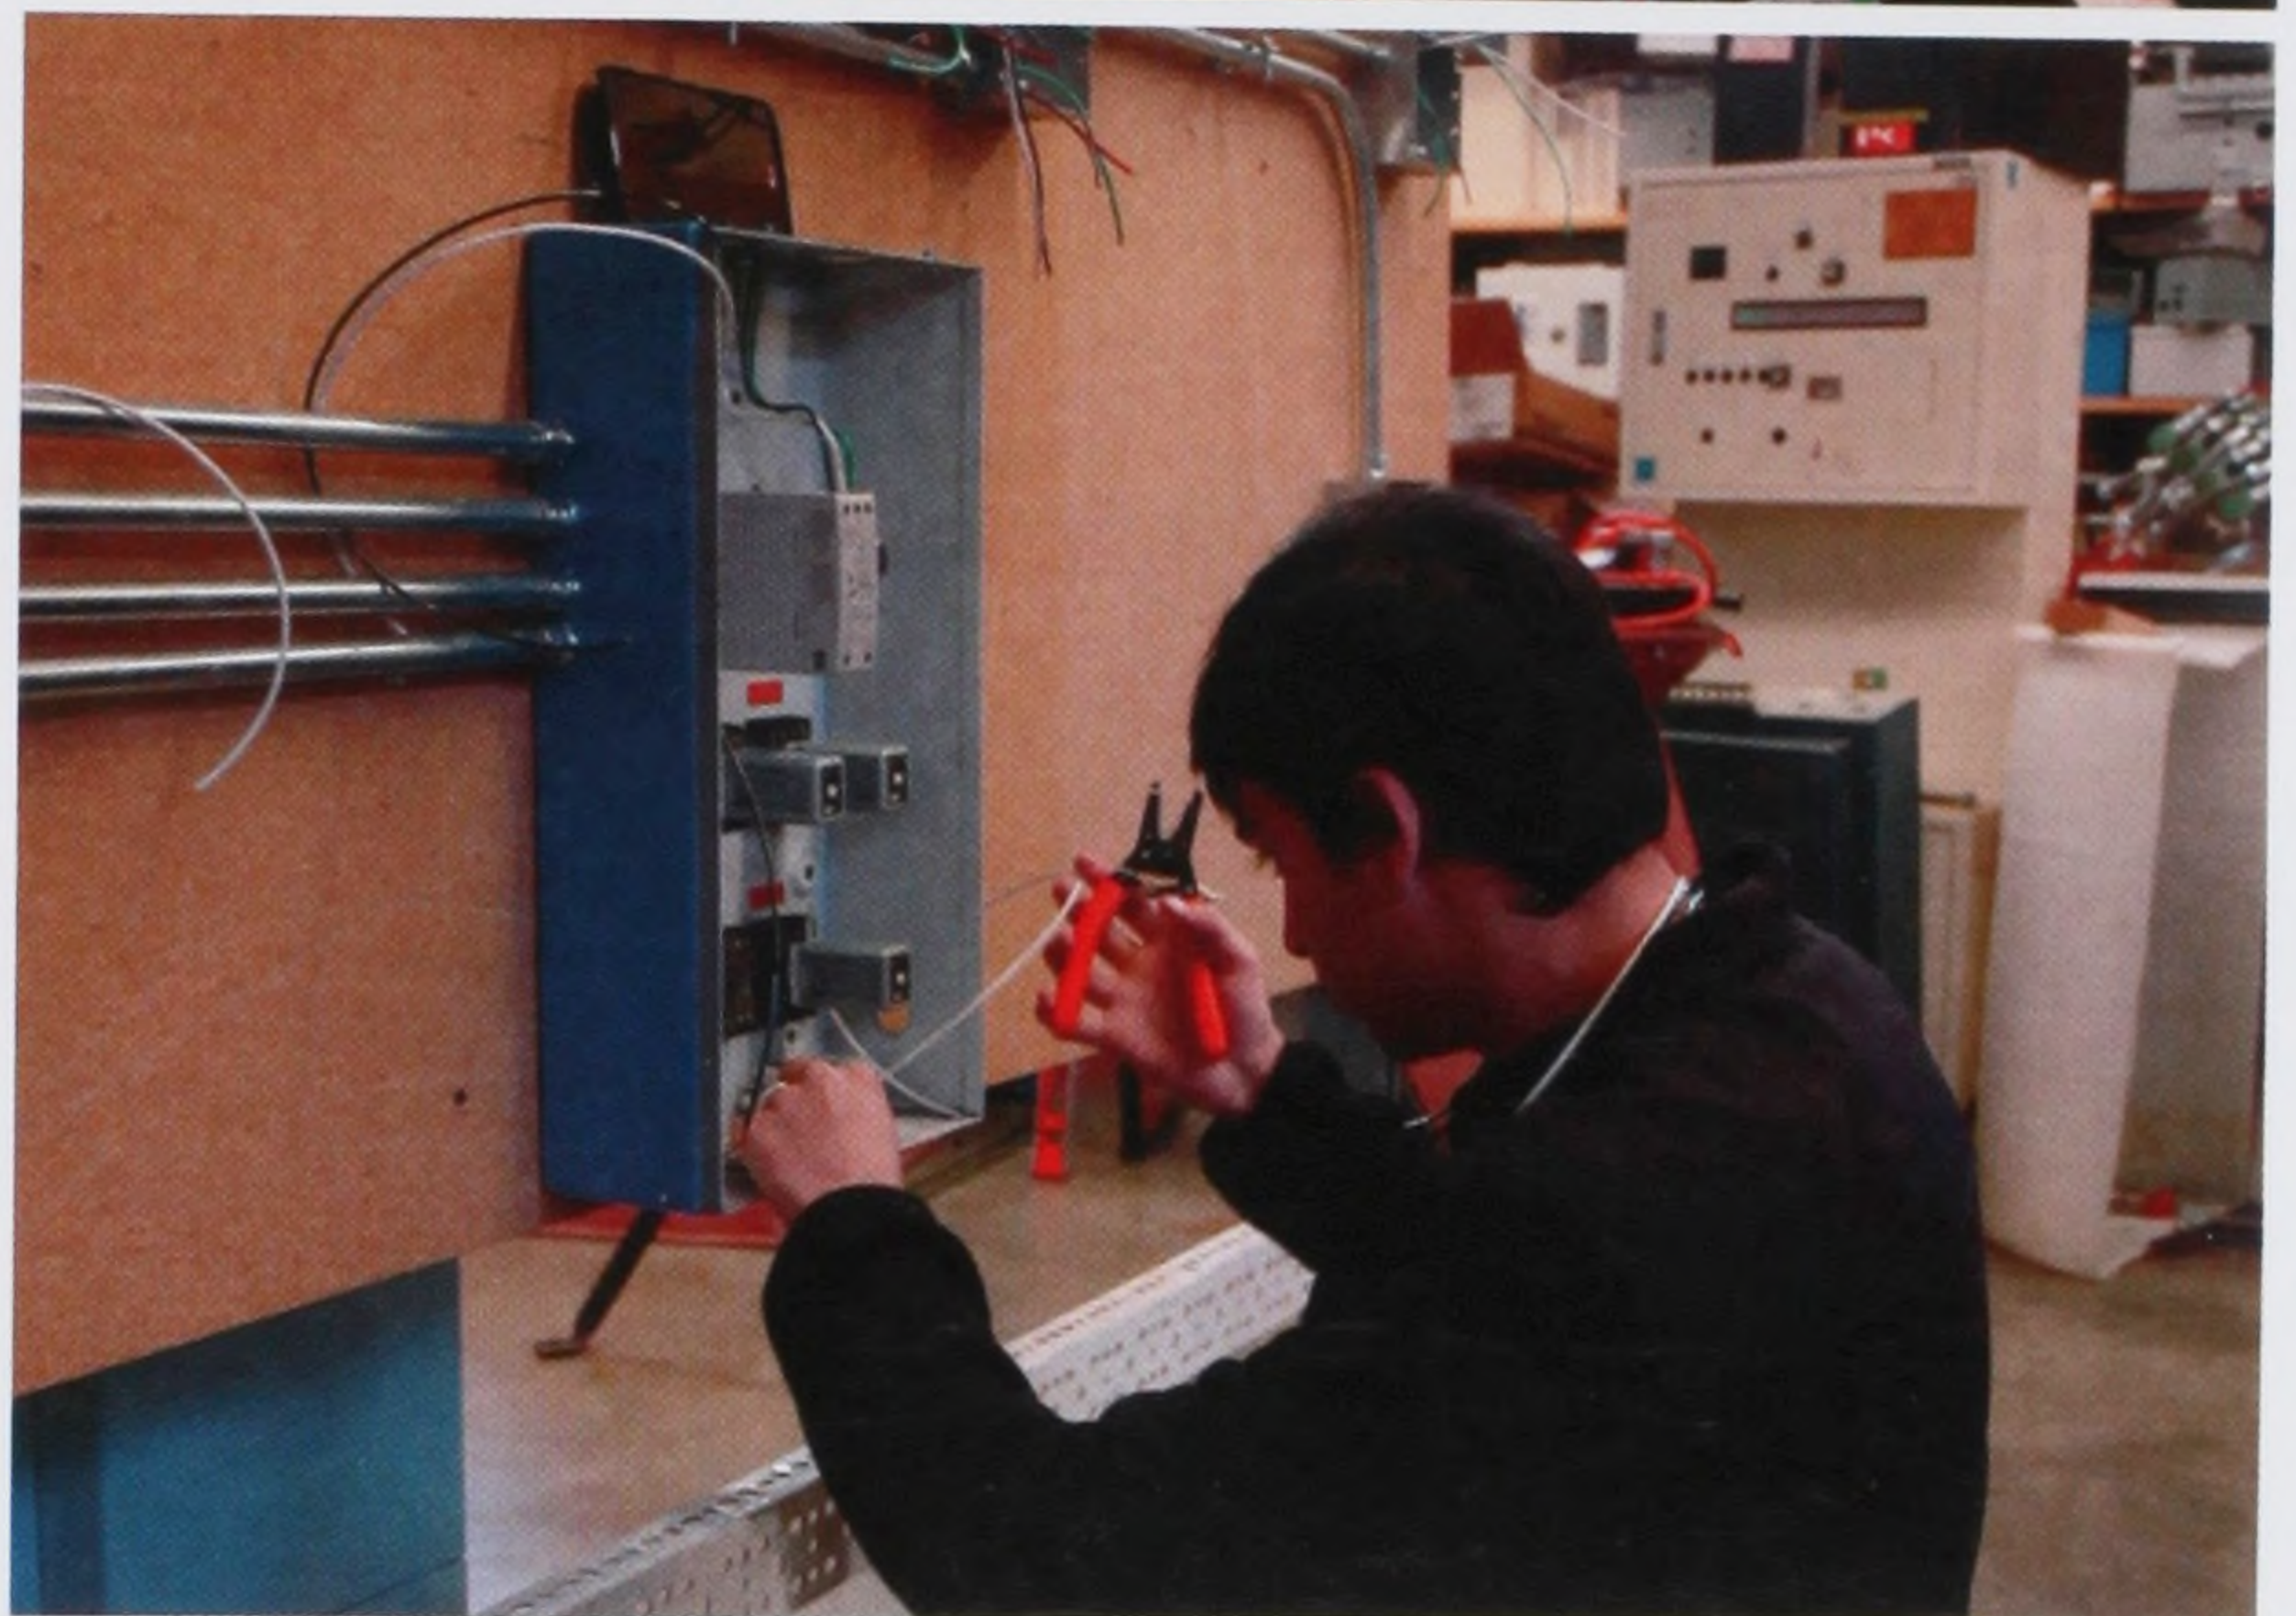

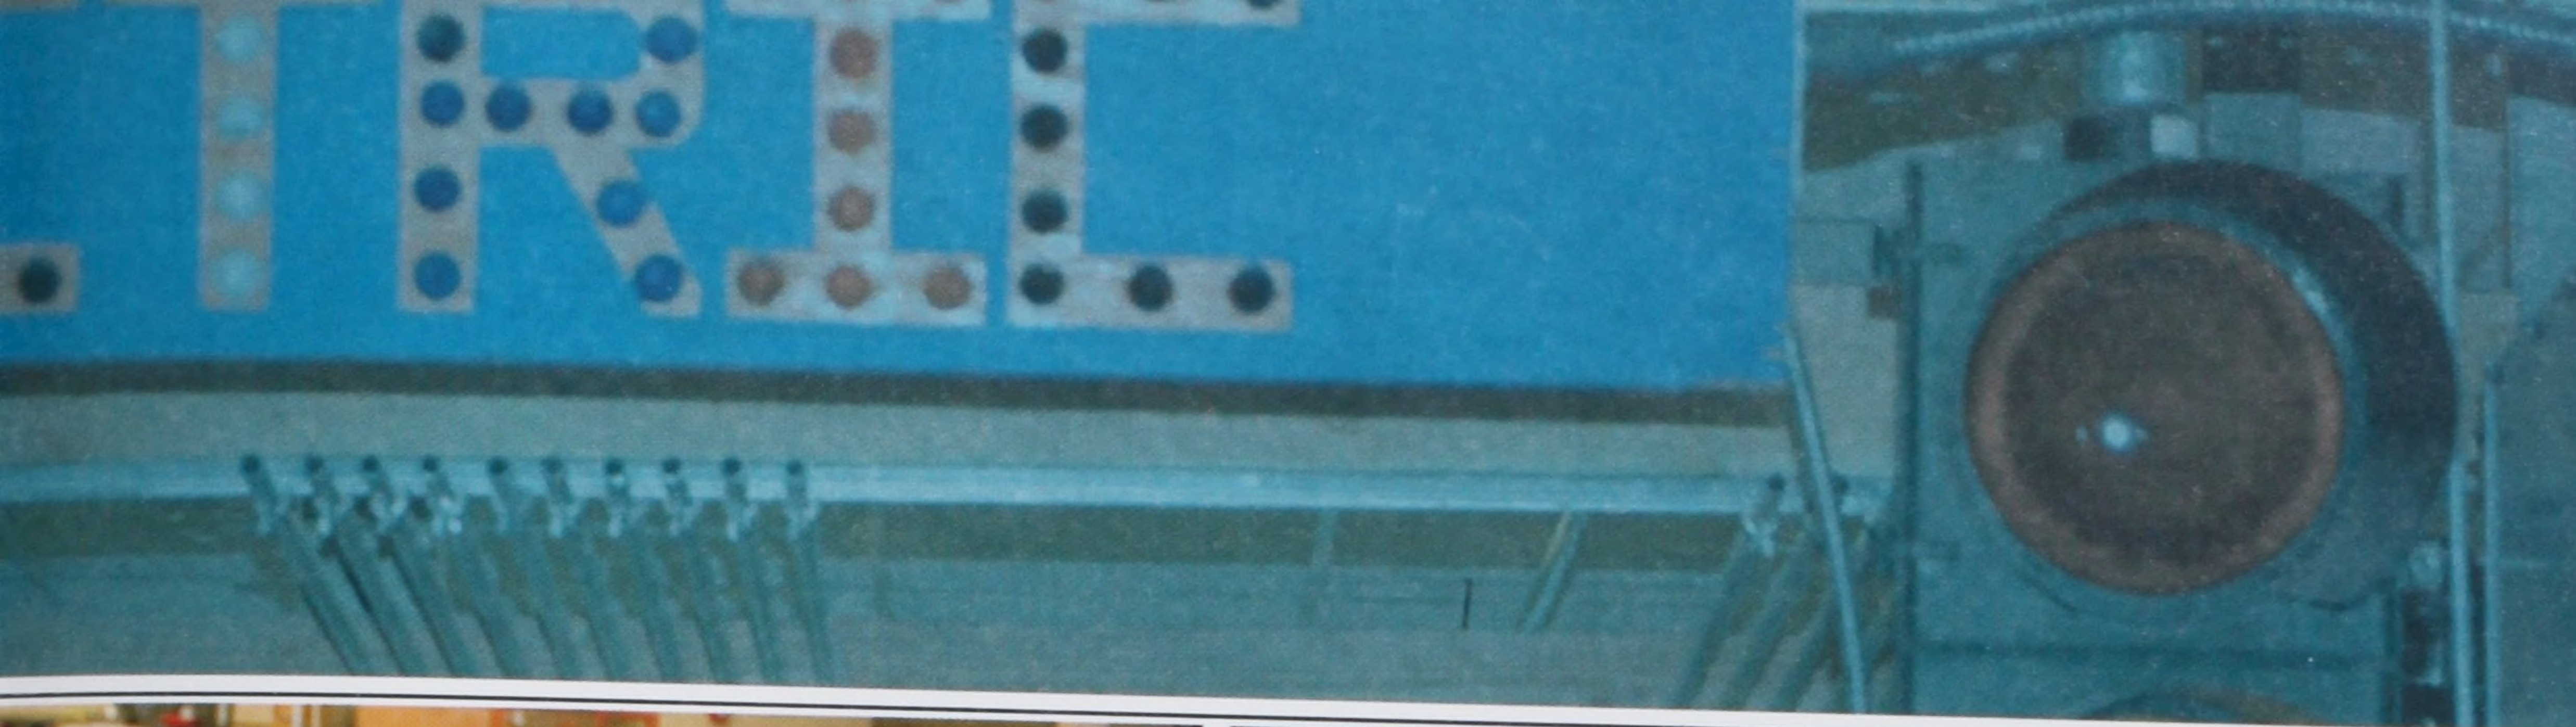

Rory- The man behind the message board:

"I chose electric as my major because I like the independence. They tell you what to do then leave you to do it. You get to work with your hands, but there's more complexity than other hands-on majors."

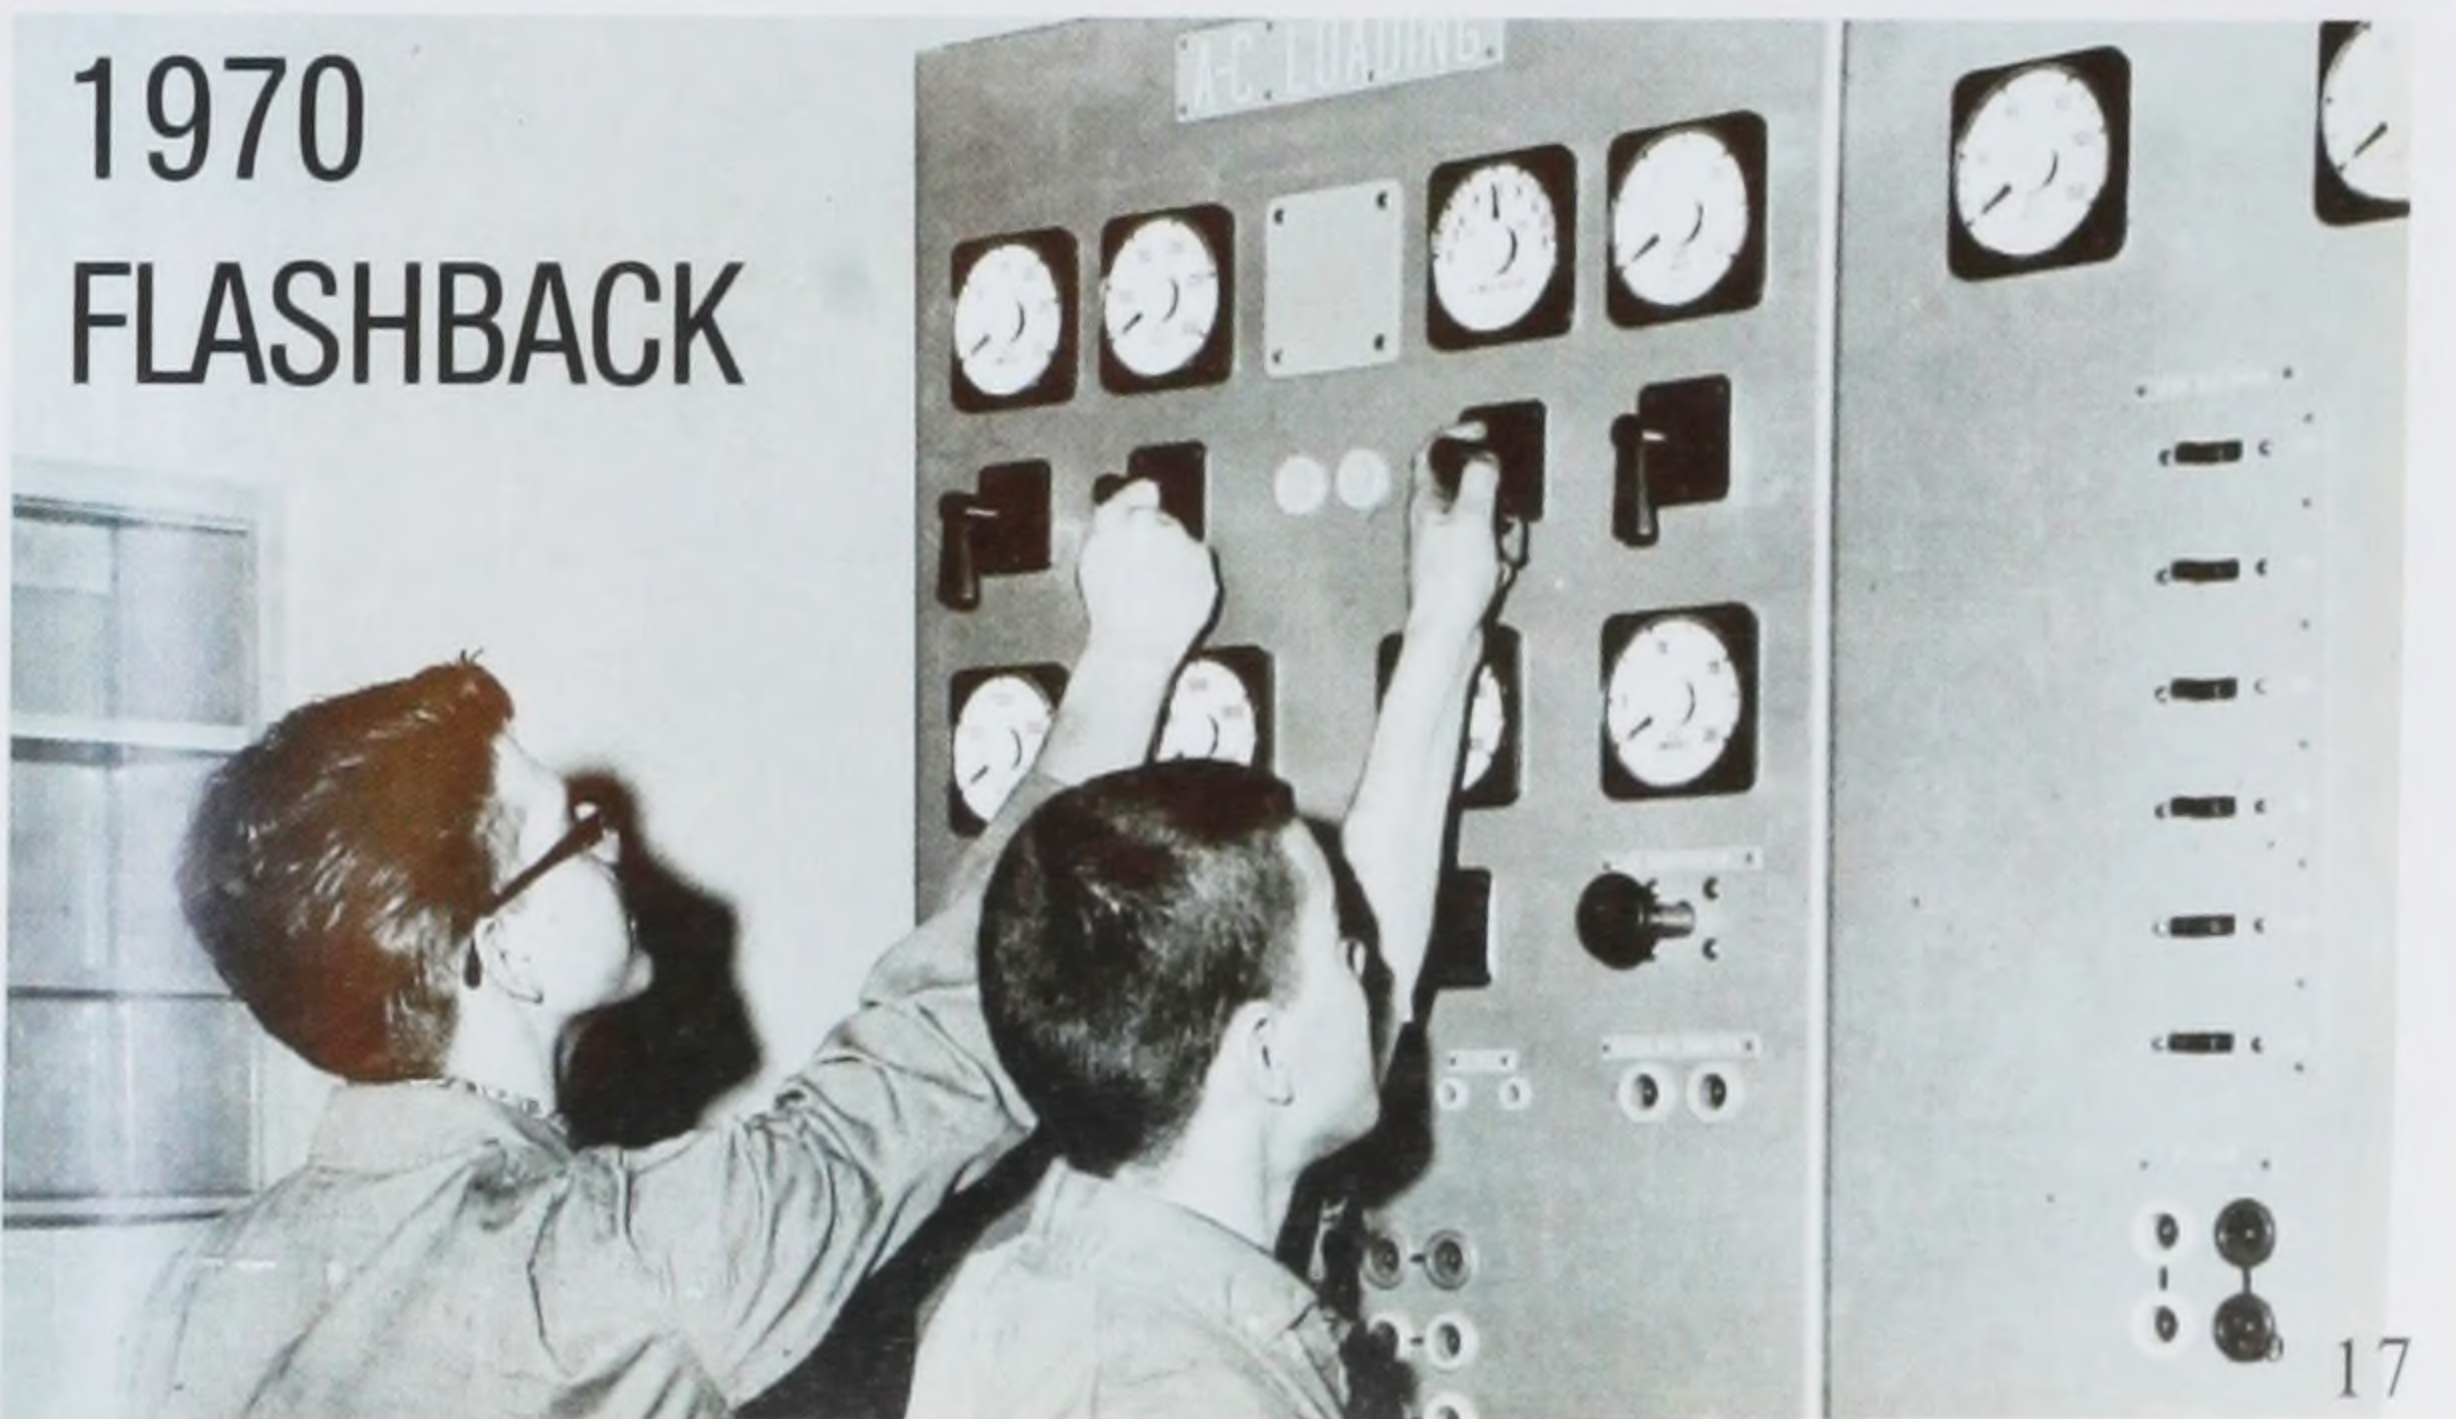

What goes on in Electric?

In senior electric students work on industrial and commercial projects. Electric prepares students for the IBEW electrical apprentice program for union work. The class incorporates mathematics when building projects, and students briefly learn about some computer programming.

Health Occupations

We'll have you in stitches.

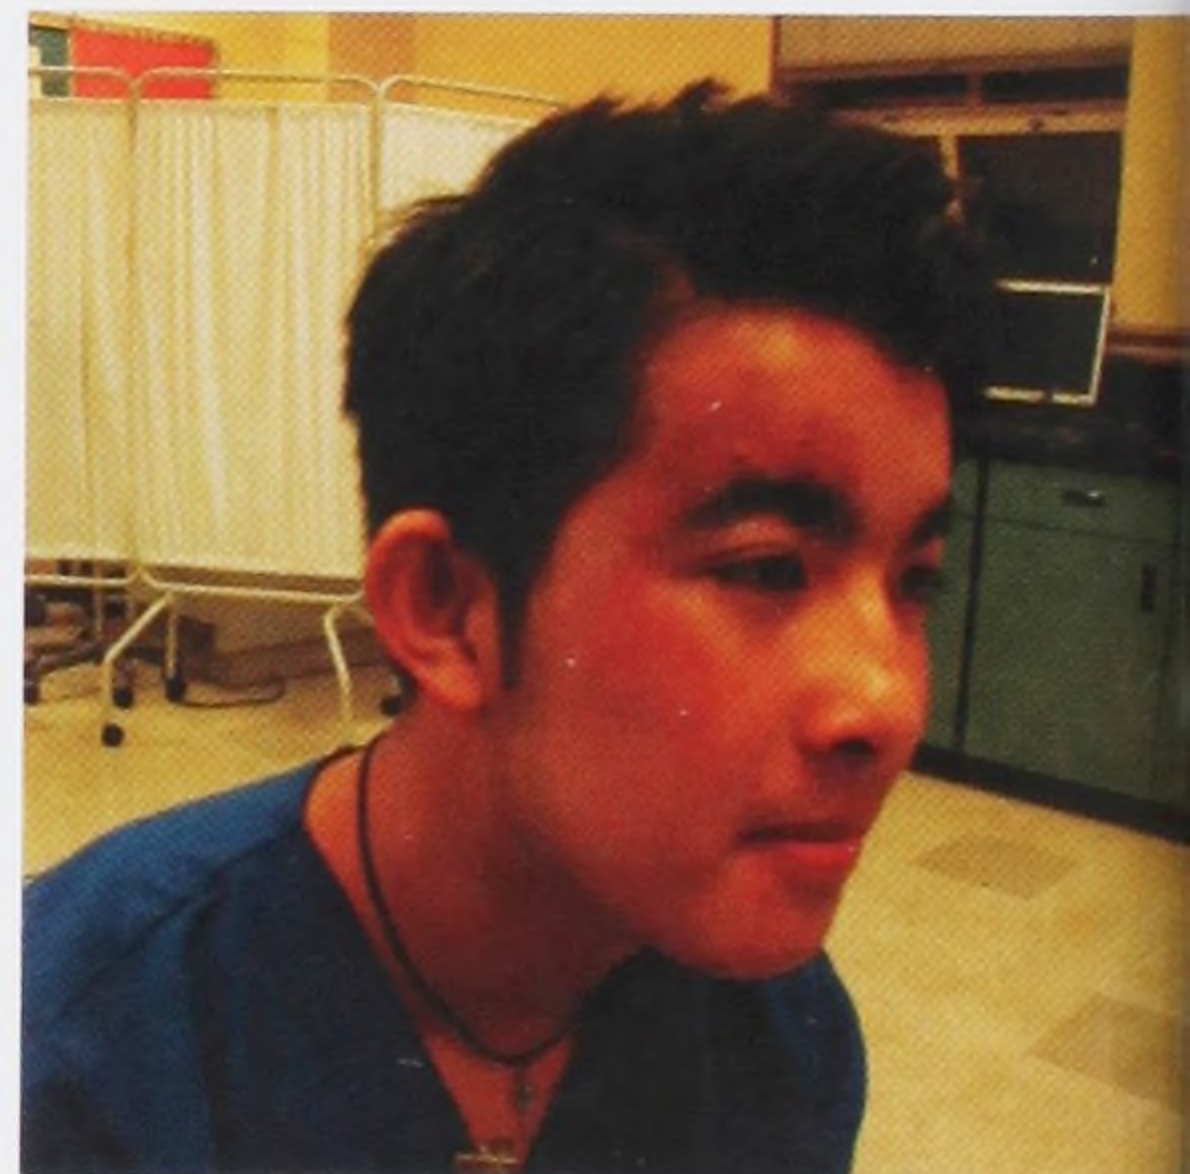

Dental

The dental assisting major focuses on teaching students chairside assistance skills and preparing them to be dental assistants. Students also focus on X-rays, so they will be prepared to take their state test and be certified to take x-rays and become dental assistants. They take x-rays, do exams on each other, learn about infection control, seating and dismissing patients and how to handle instruments. Students can do their clinical rotations at dental offices or specialty clinics such as endodontics, orthodontics and even labs that make dental appliances.

Medical Professions

Medical Professions prepares students for a variety of medical careers.

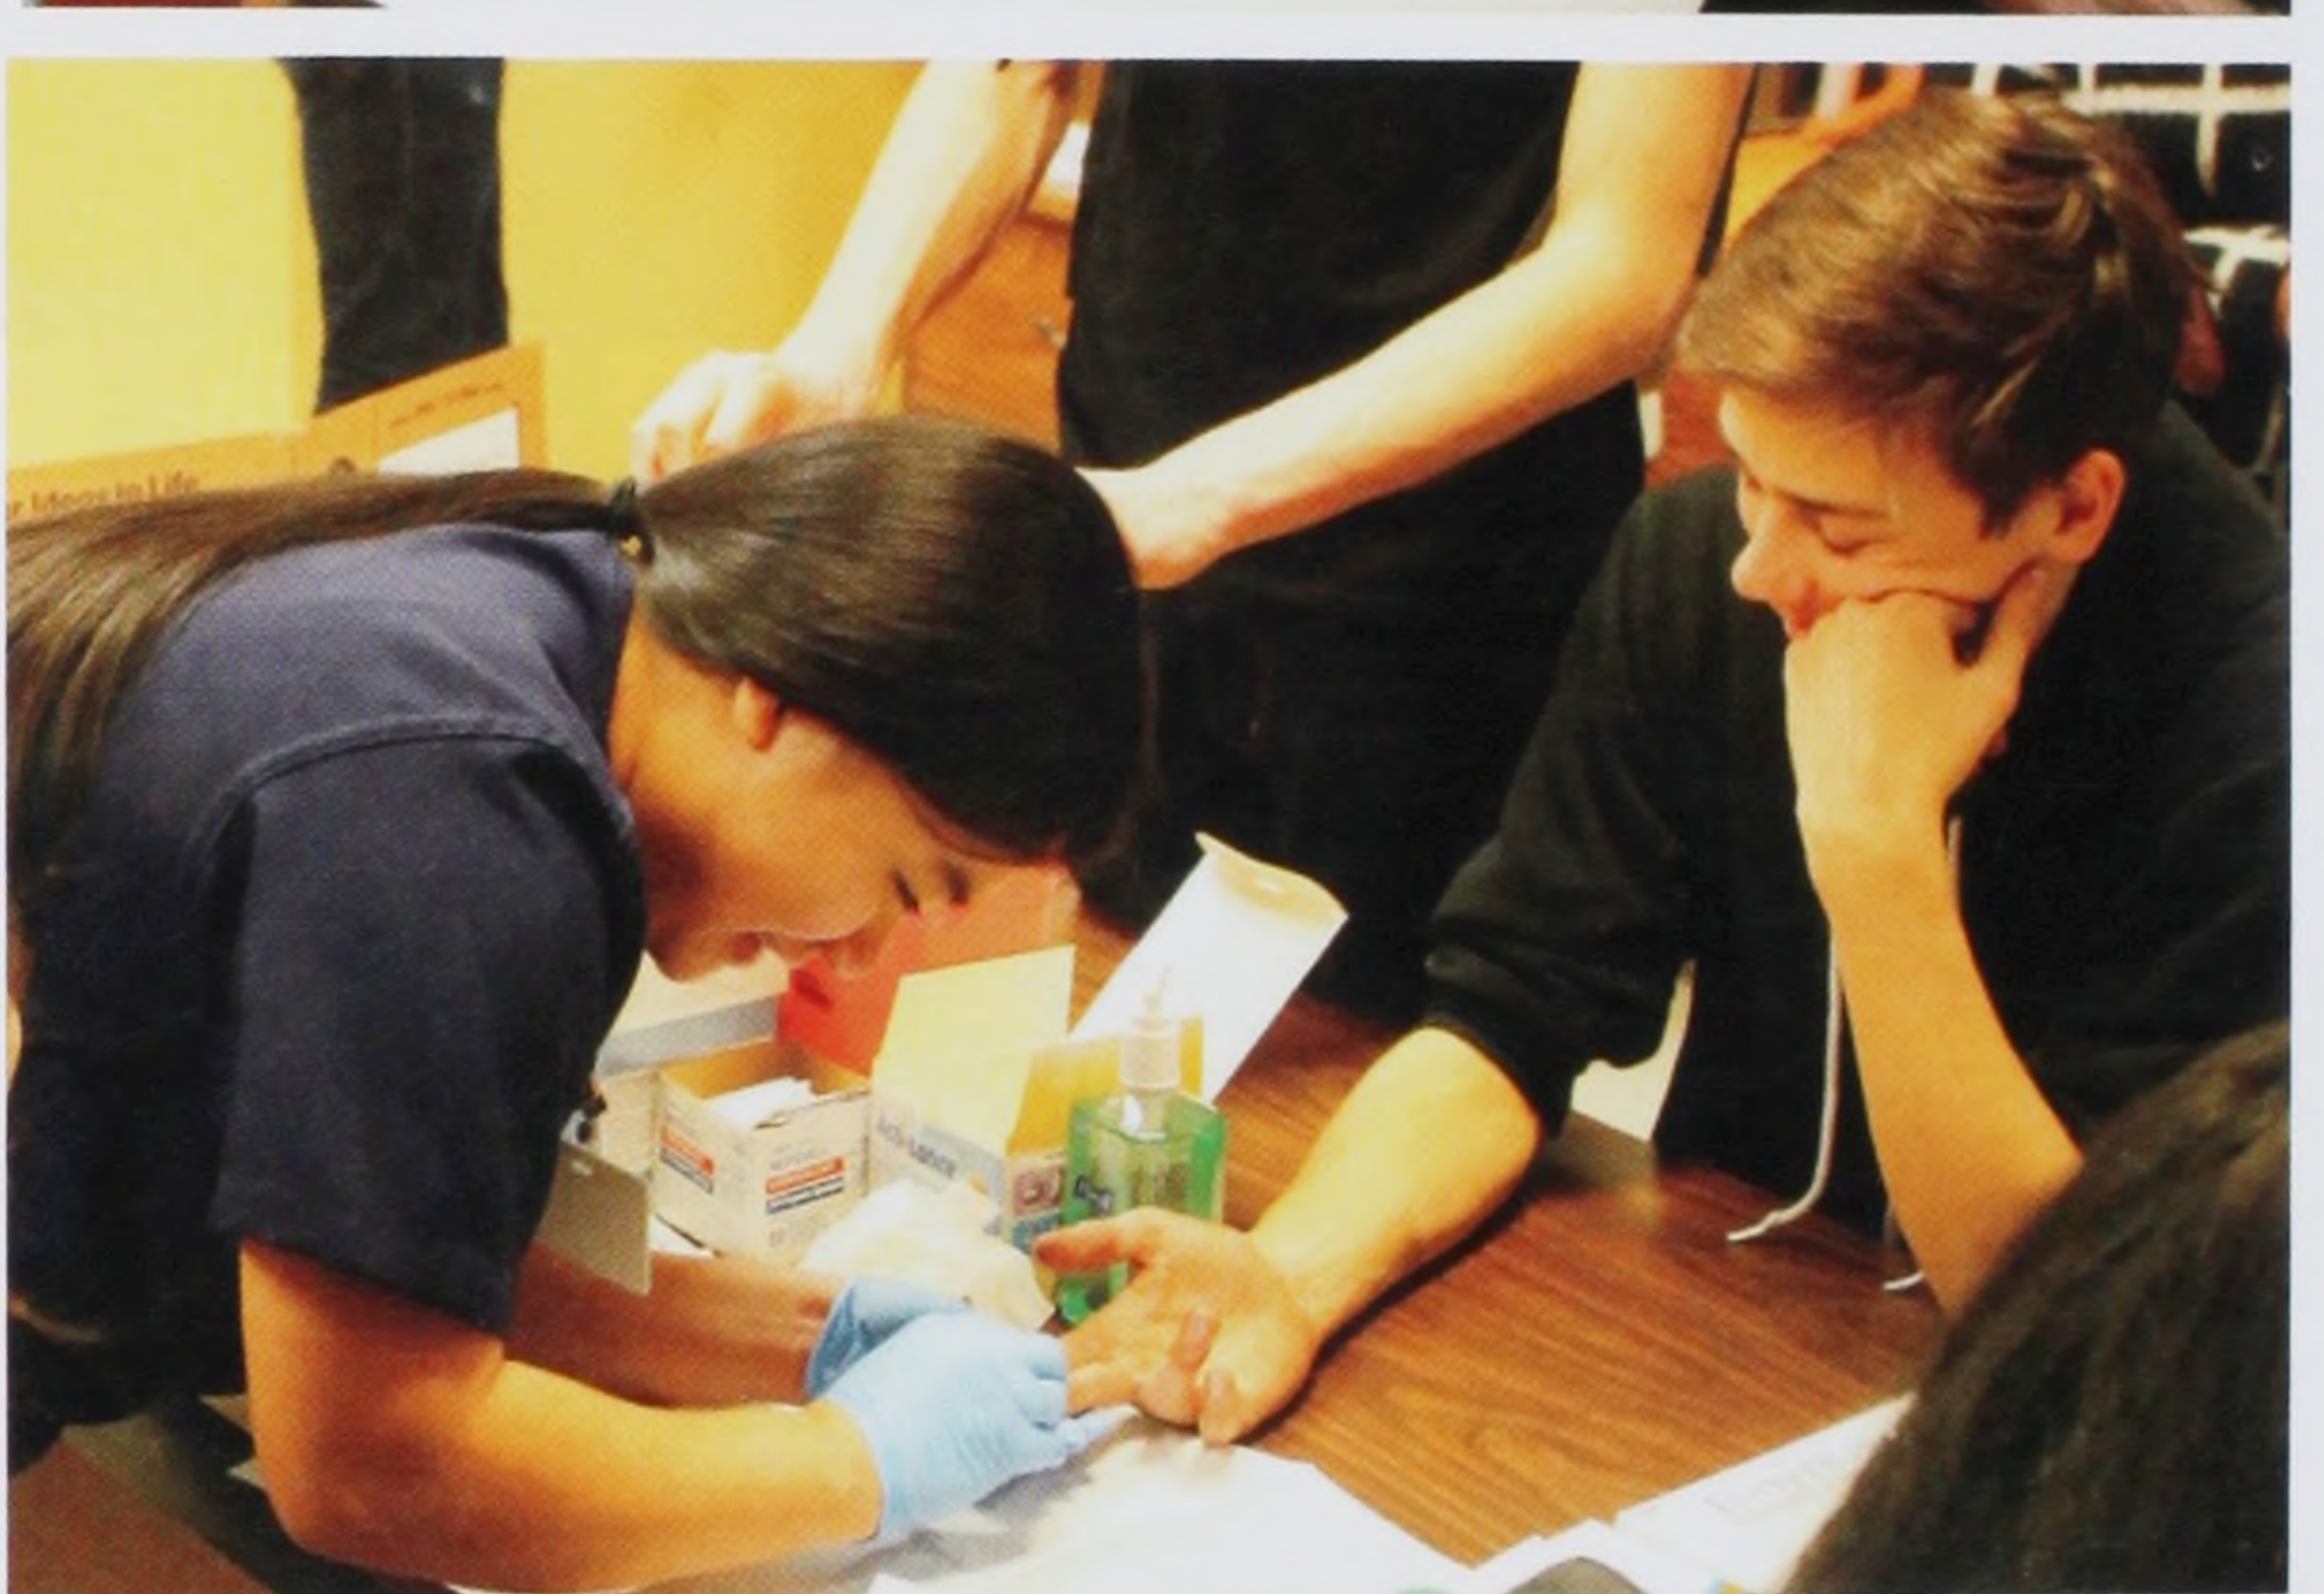

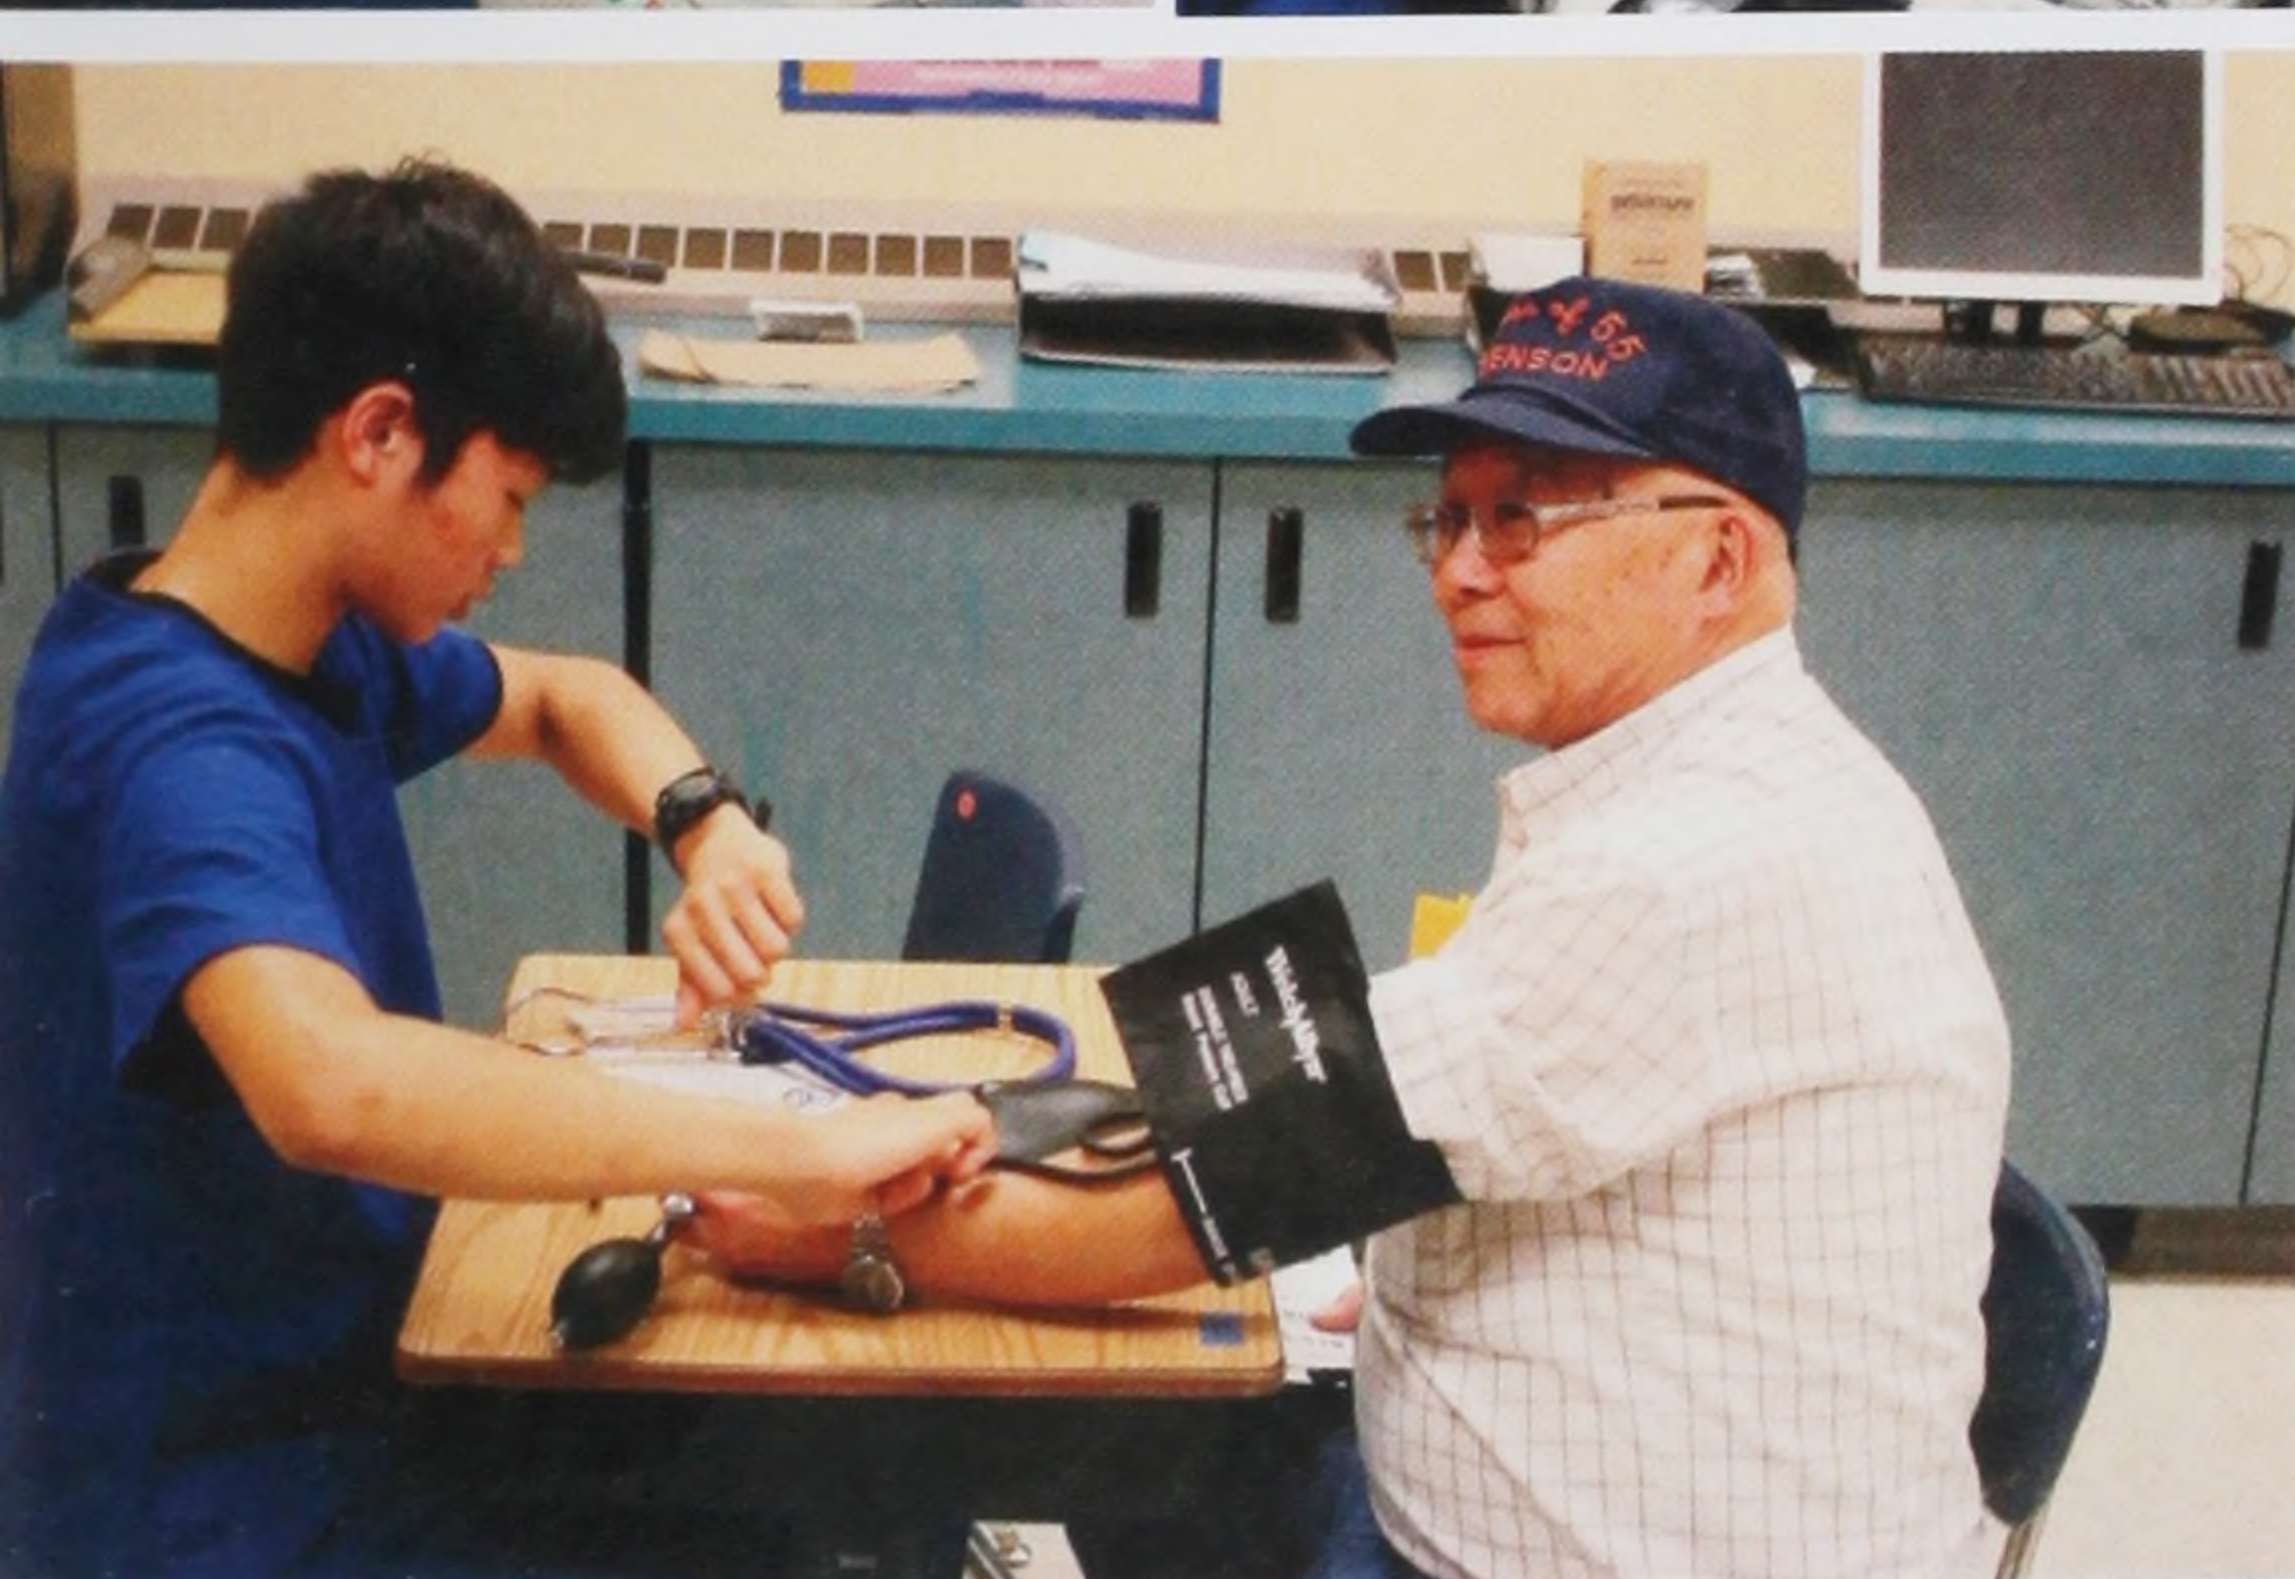

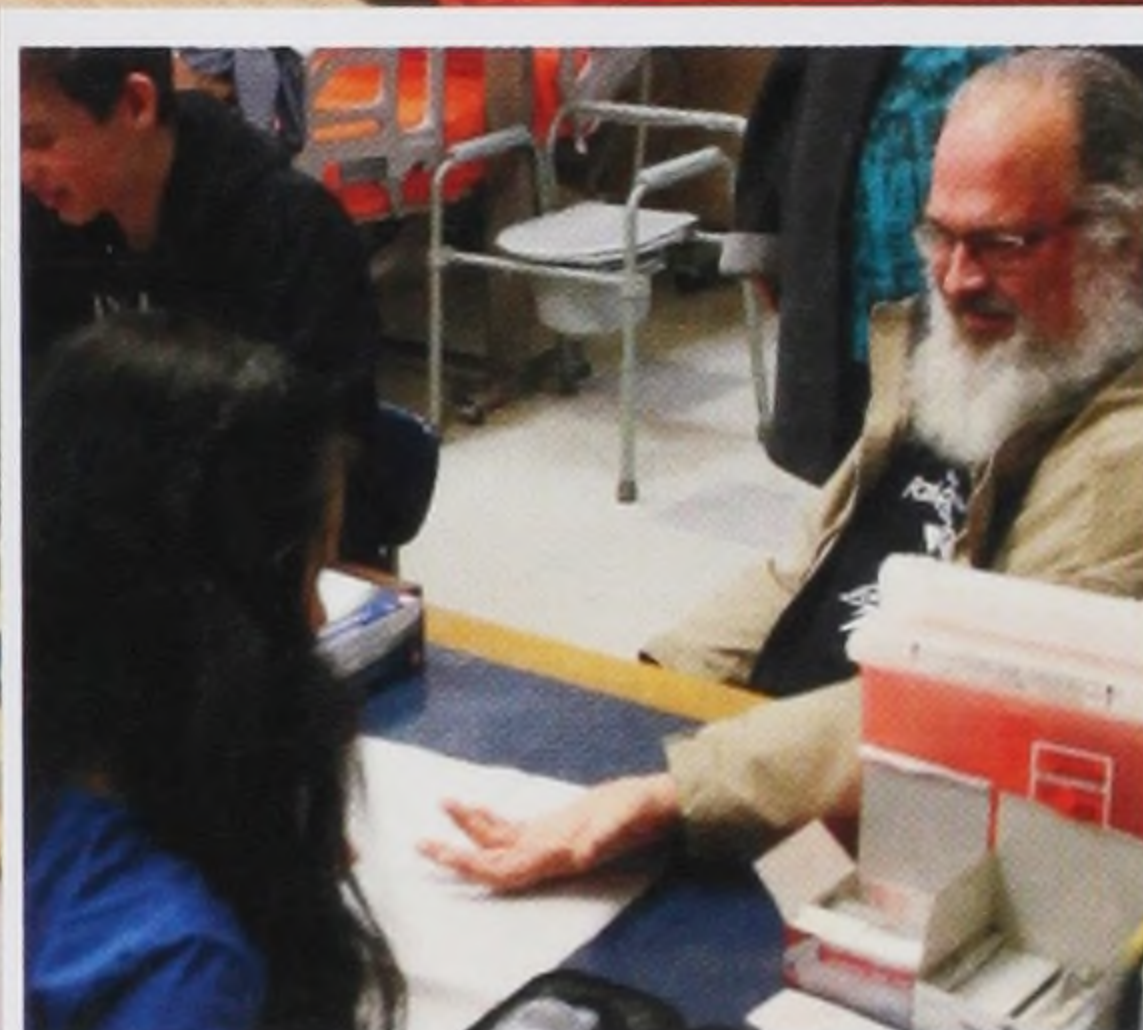

Students learn the fundamentals of medical assisting and gain knowledge necessary for medical school. In class, they gain hands-on experience with minor surgery techniques, lab procedures, infection control, and full body exams. They also shadow at specialty clinics.

Nursing

Through a number of hands-on activities, nursing students learn the skills and procedures required to work in the nursing field. They practice assisting patients in and out of bed, transporting them in wheelchairs, bathing patients, and even childcare with the baby simulators. During clinicals students get to shadow at various hospitals and practice nursing skills such as taking patient notes and vital signs.

Manufacturing

Molding the workers of the future

The Manufacturing major grants students the opportunity to explore real world applications in sheet metal and lathe work alongside introductions to welding in different forms. Students engage in long term practical projects given strict time parameters. Many students graduate from the program and gravitate towards internships and careers in the trades.

"In Manufacturing you're free to learn at your own pace!"

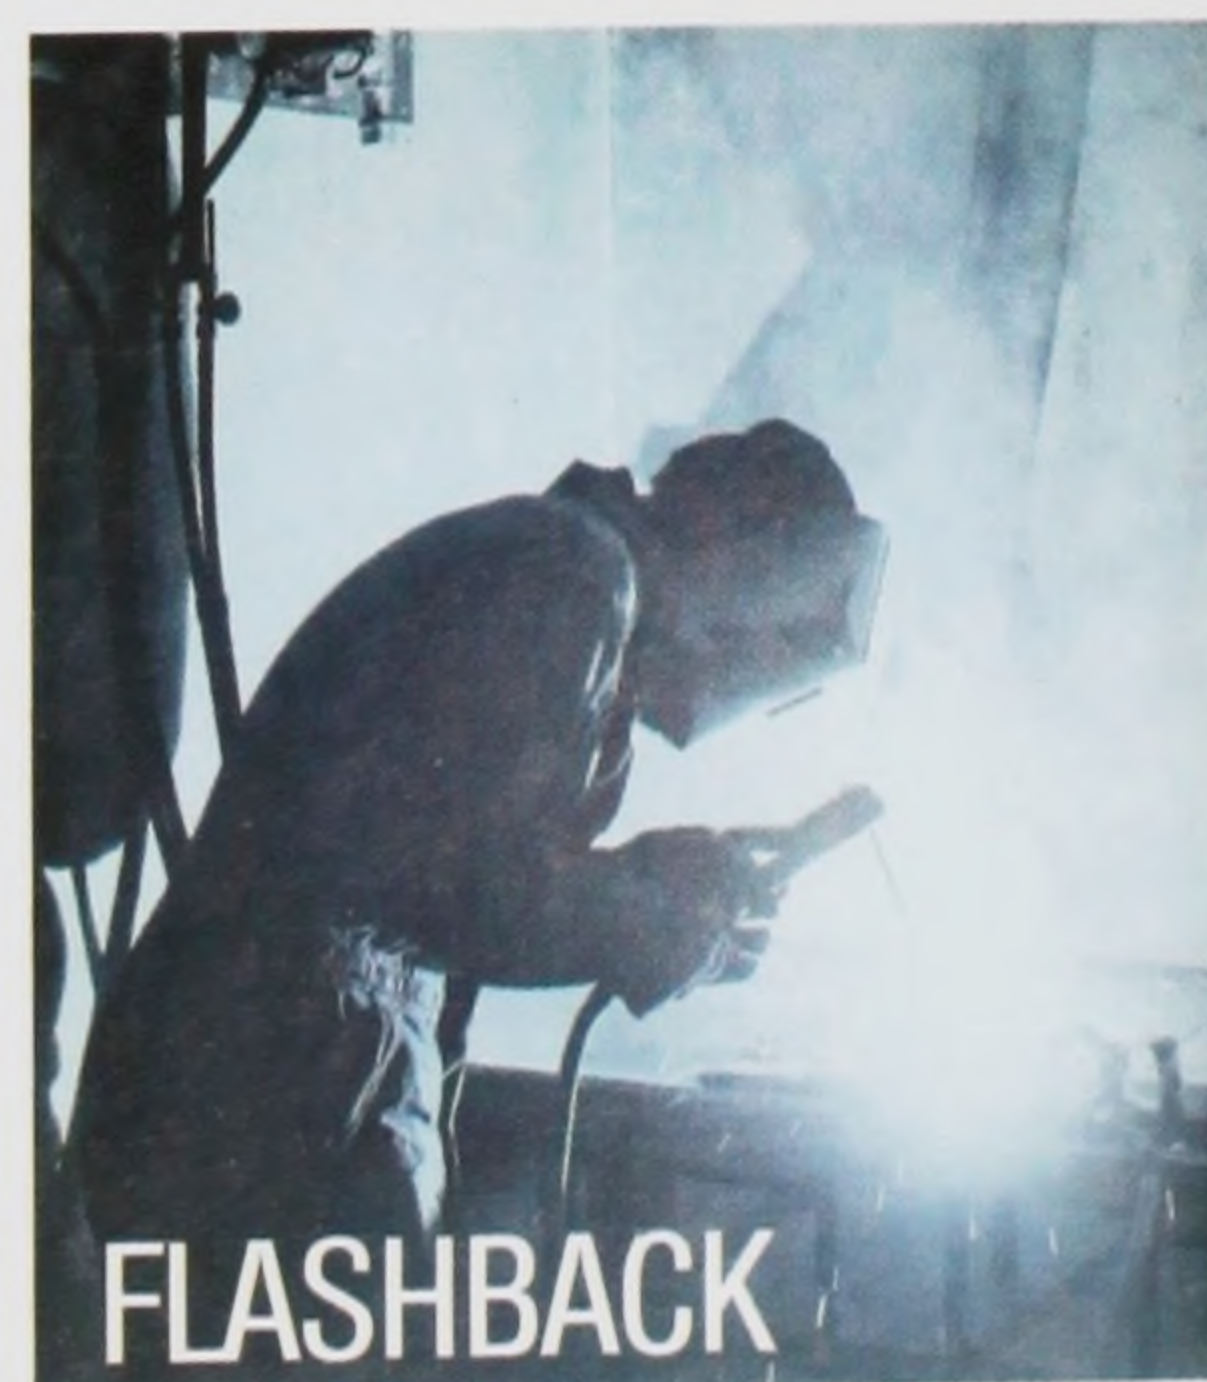

- Charlie Peabody

"You learn a lot of technical, hands-on skills and you learn to be very precise in your measurements and also develop your work ethic."

- Alex Barnes

"I think in Manufacturing I get a lot of applicable skills, like fixing things and making things and operating machinery creatively."

- Isaac Hakala

Shaysiah Harris, Senior Radio Major

Radio student Shaysiah Harris gives us an inside look into the Radio Major: "The best part is going on air. You get to choose what you talk about with some restrictions. When we aren't on air, students are making their own music"

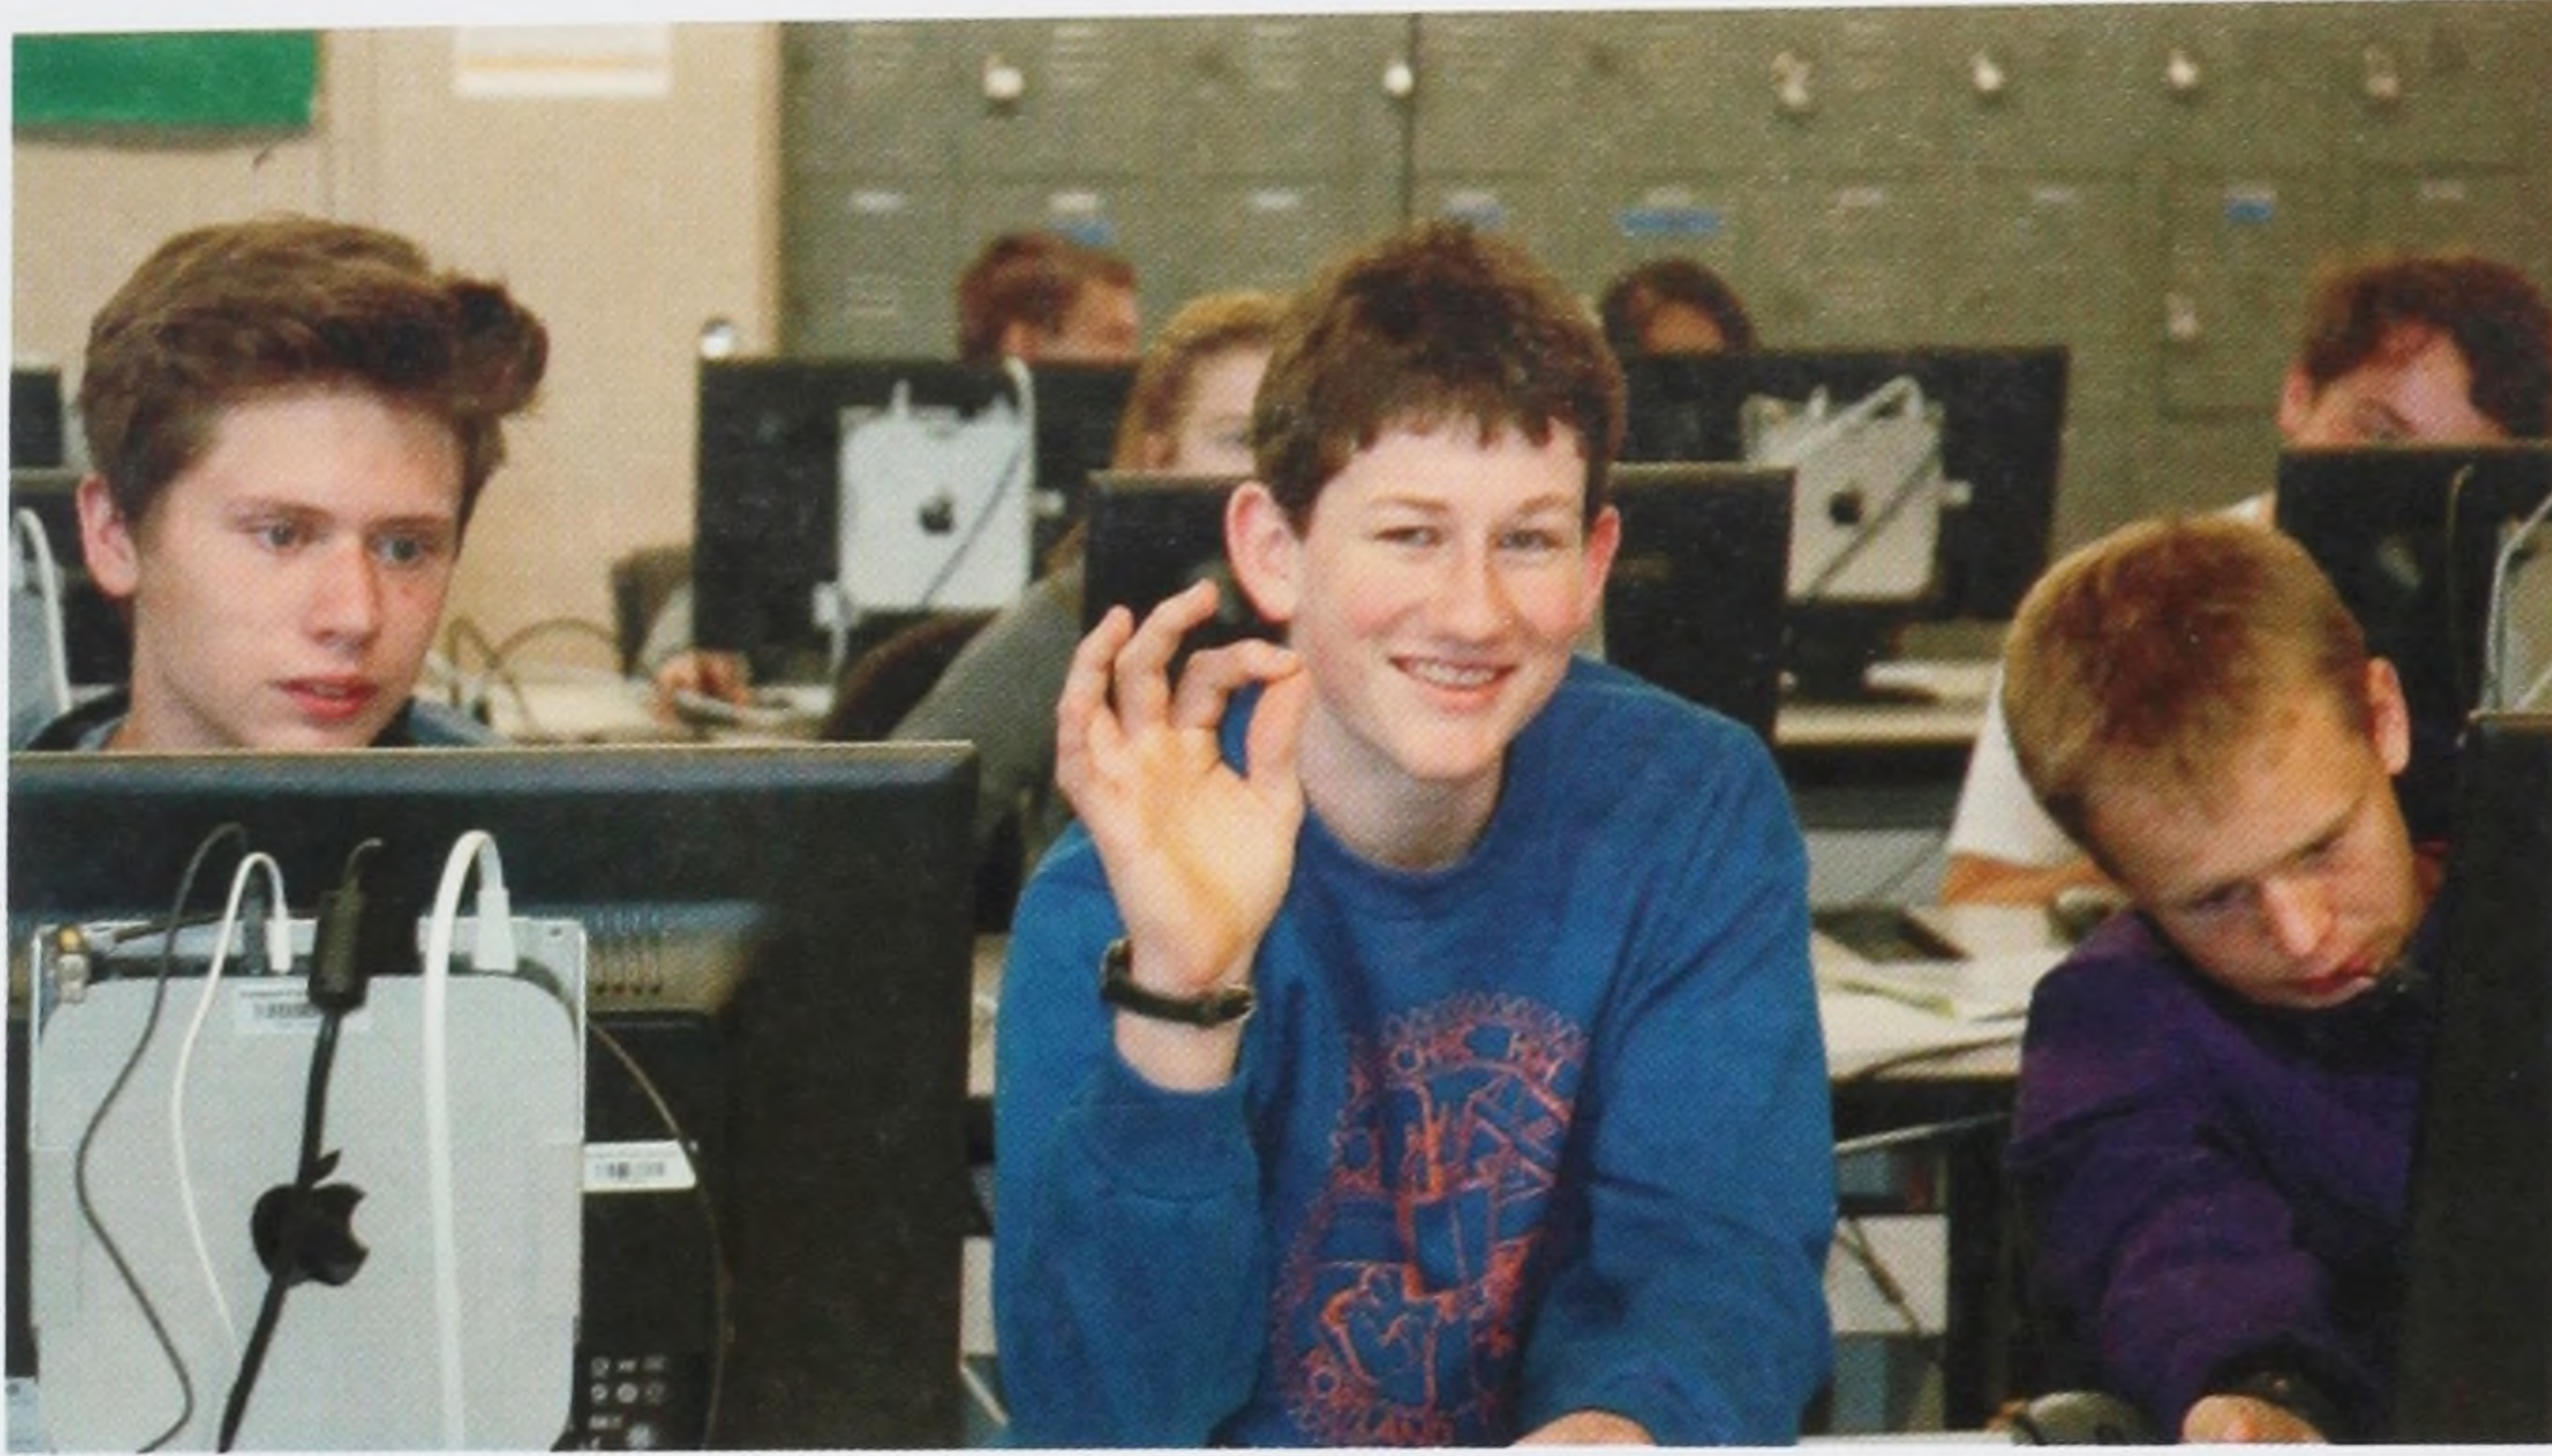

Career Opportunities

Radio teaches students sports casting, news casting, and radio deeJaying. Students gain experience talking on air. Radio also teaches basic production skills. Former radio majors Amine and Demetrius recorded the track “Caroline” in 2016. It made number 11 on the US Billboard Hot 100.

We asked Ms. Stolte, what inspired her to build housing shelters for the homeless?

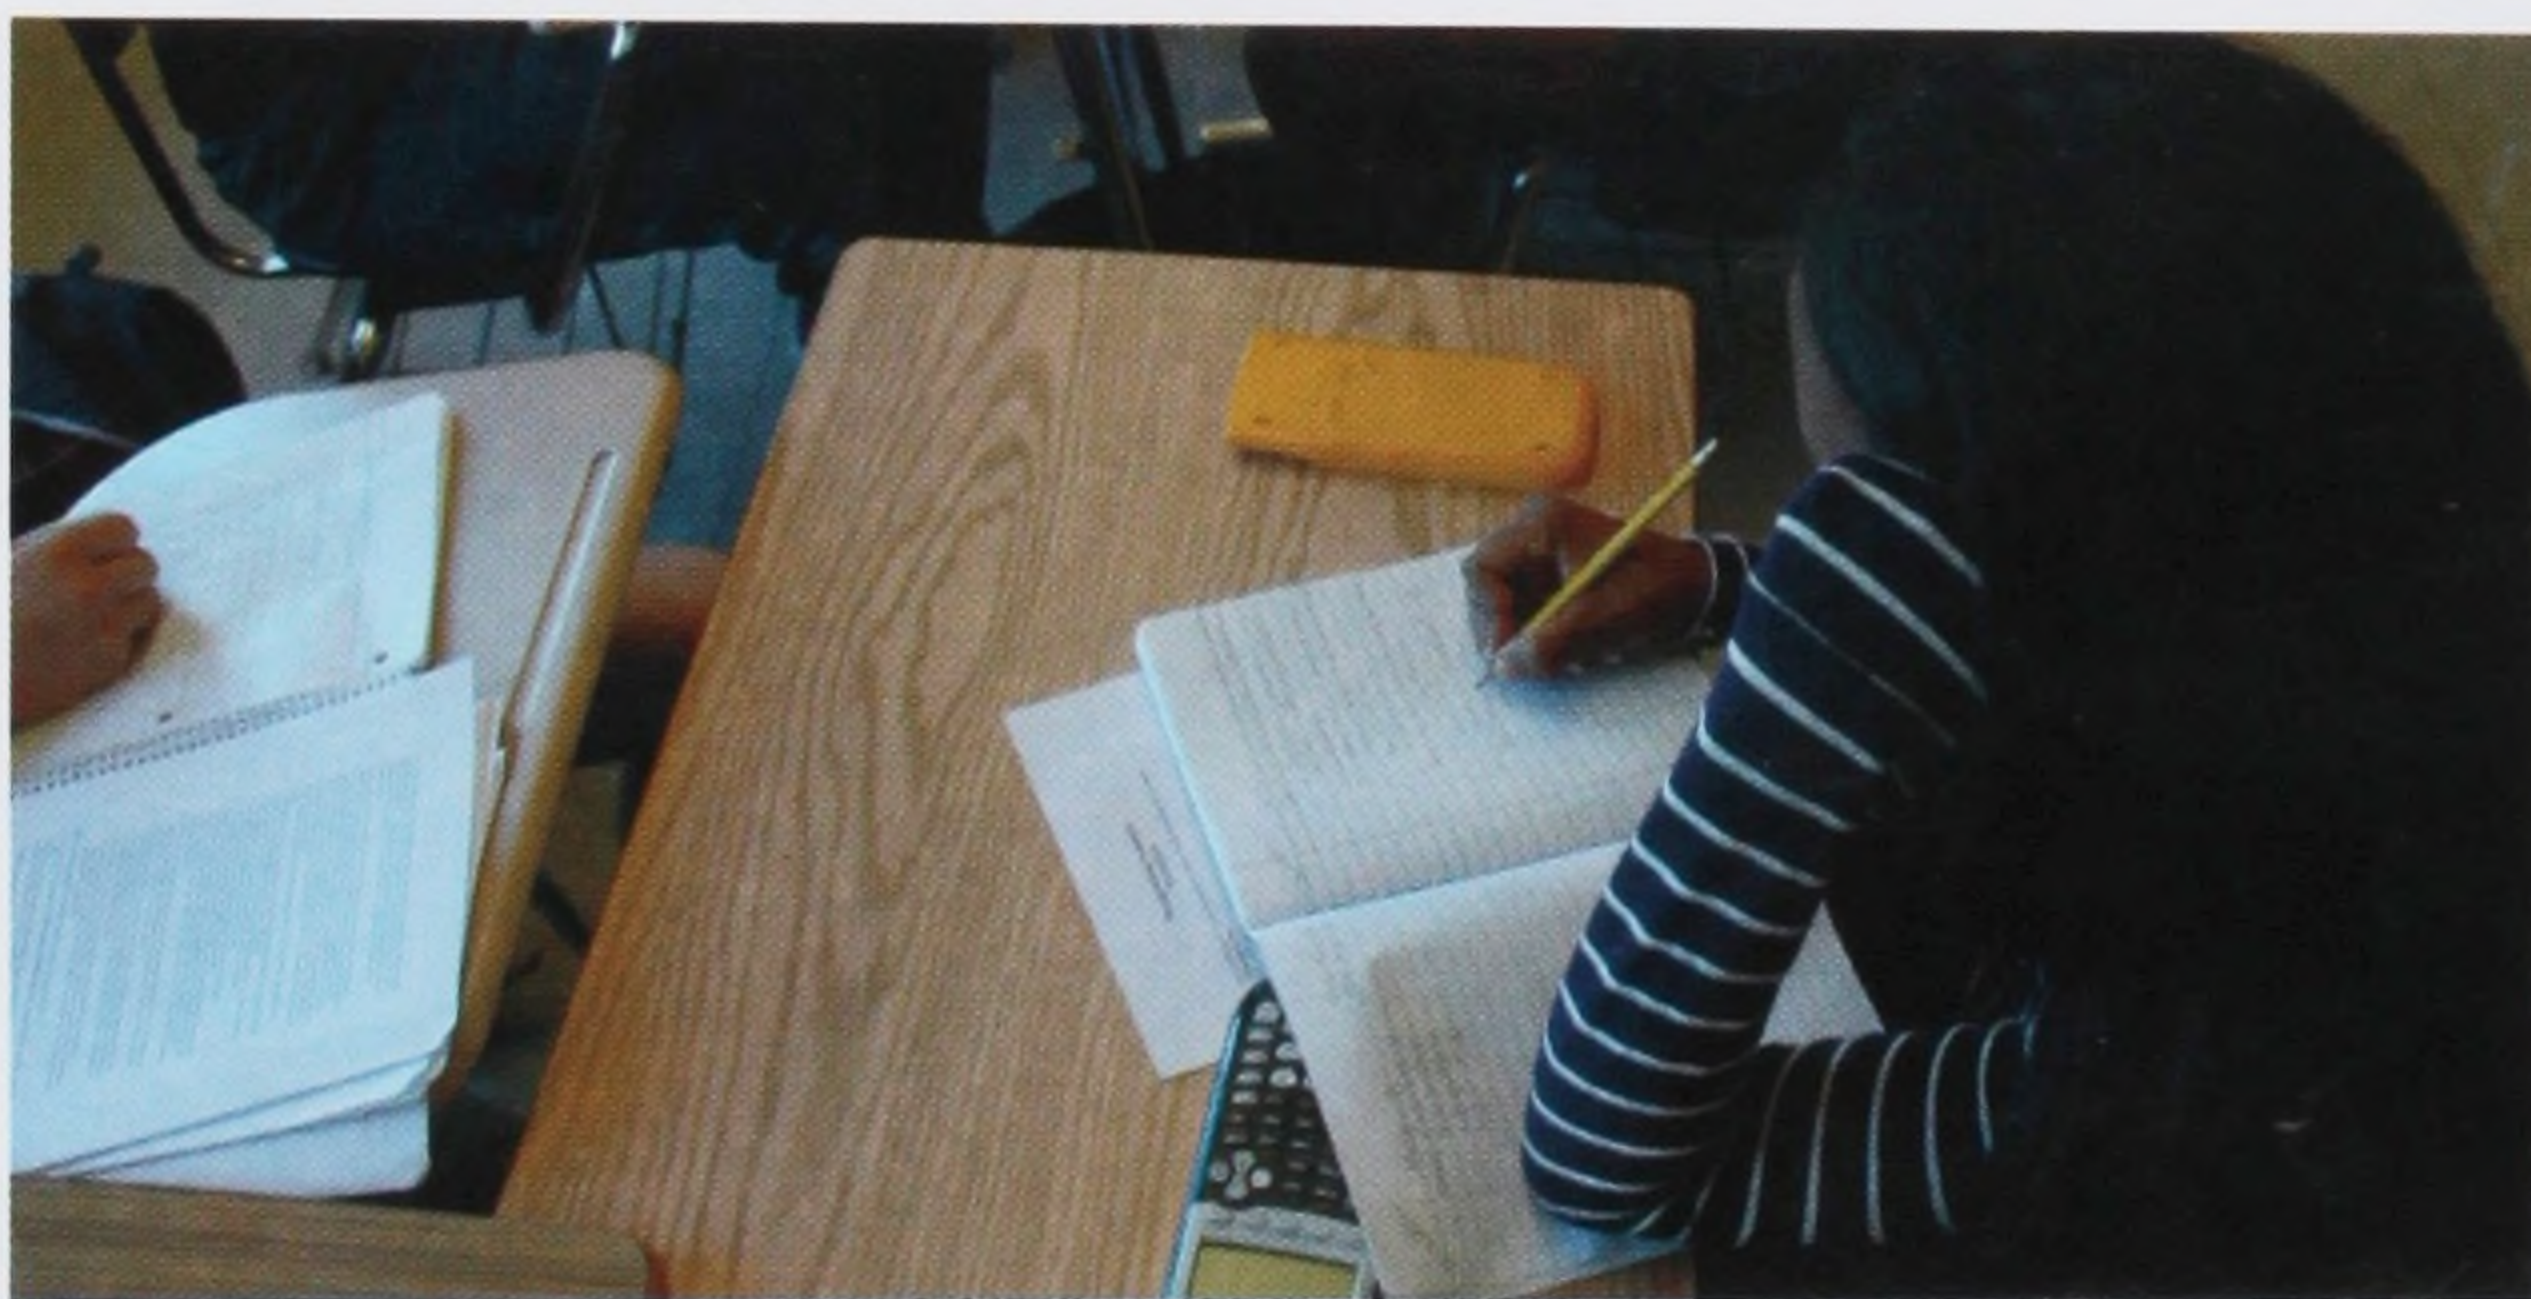

"I have always been interested in helping the homeless. When I lived in San Francisco, I met an older woman whom I called Grandma Julie. I brought her peanut butter and jelly sandwiches as many days as I could. Later when I moved to Portland, I found out that she now lived with her family in Gresham, and then she invited me over for tea. It was really emotionally moving for me, that she was struggling in San Francisco and then she was able to pull herself up and is now able to feed me instead. "

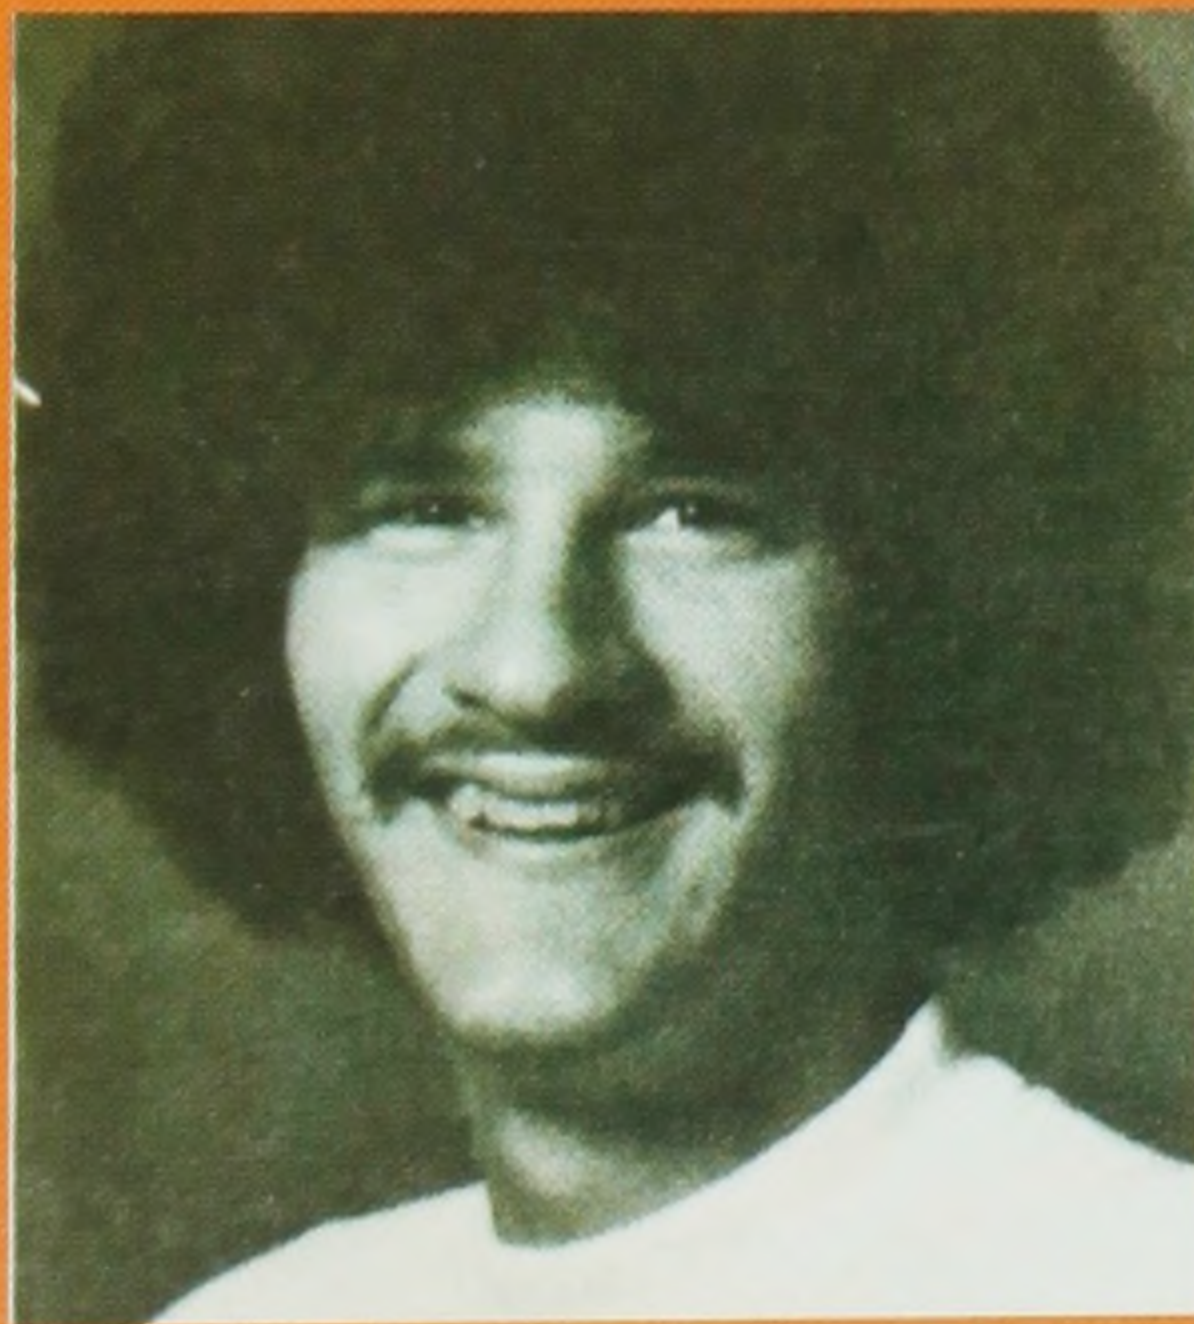

We had a short interview with Ms. Peterson about her return to Benson. This is what she had to say:

“Having graduated from Benson in 2003 there isn't a day that goes by that I don't stop and have some kind of flashback from my days as a student.”

Ms. Peterson, circa 2003

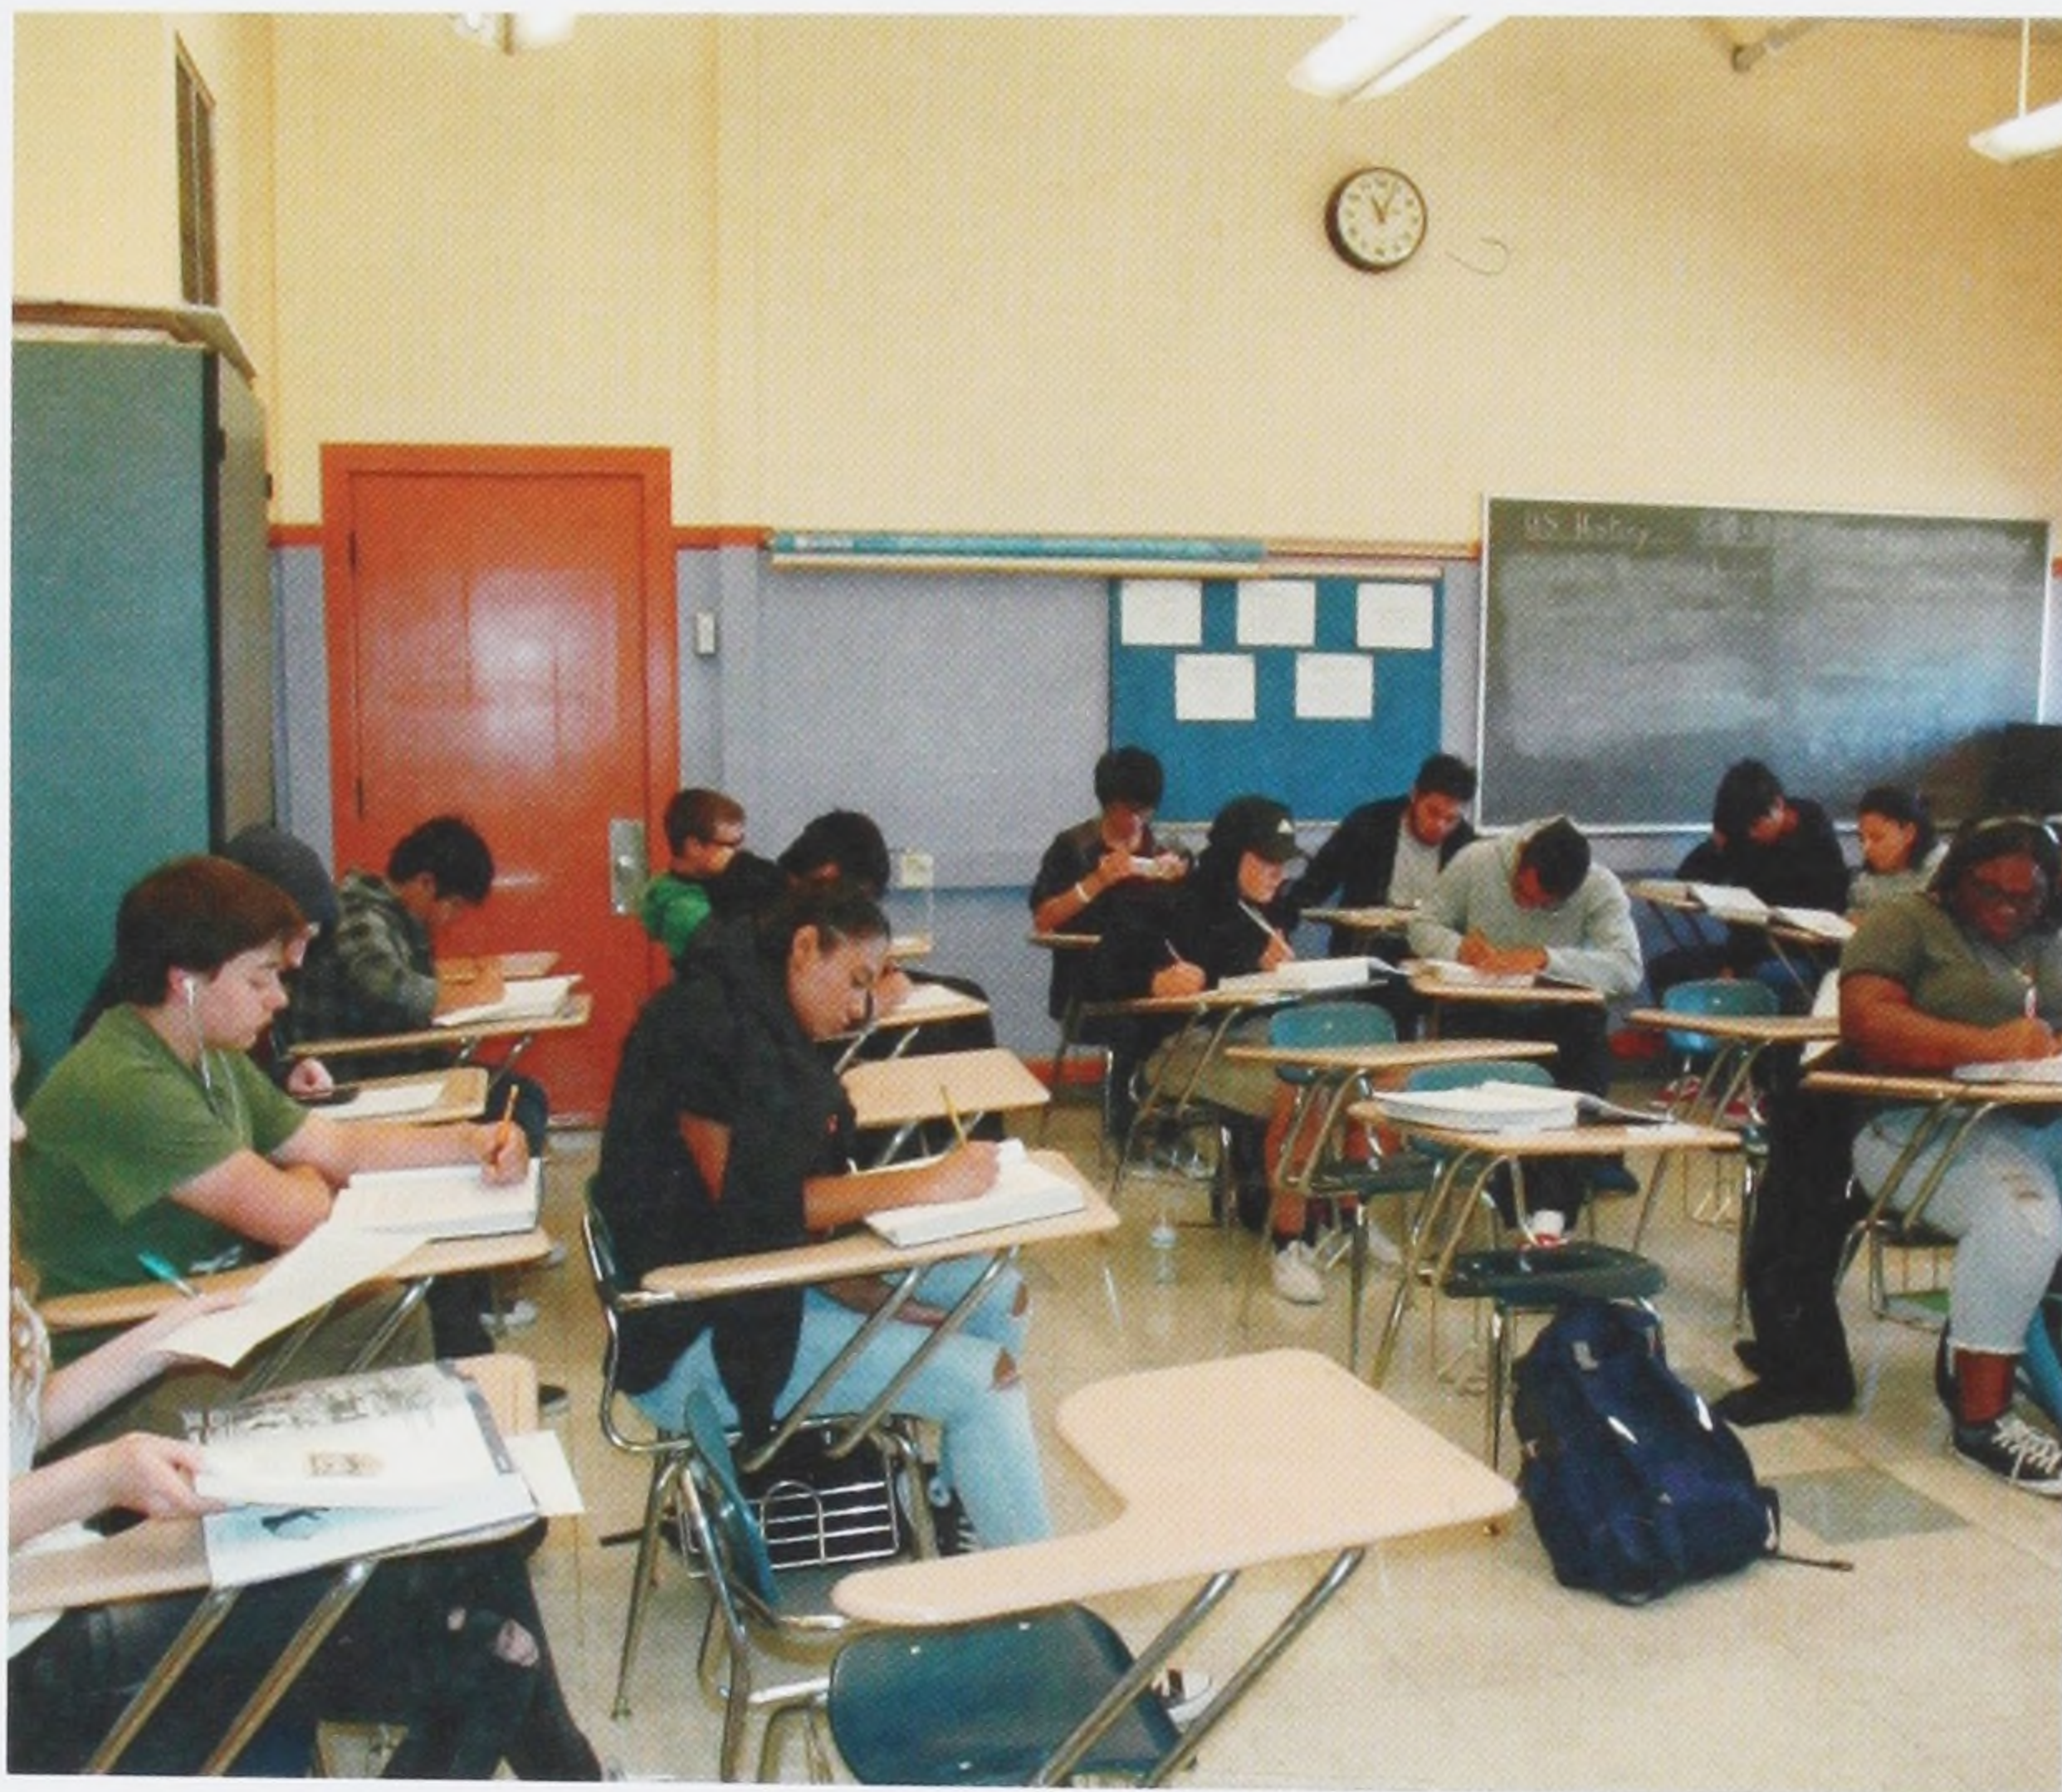

Mr. Hryciw, circa 1975

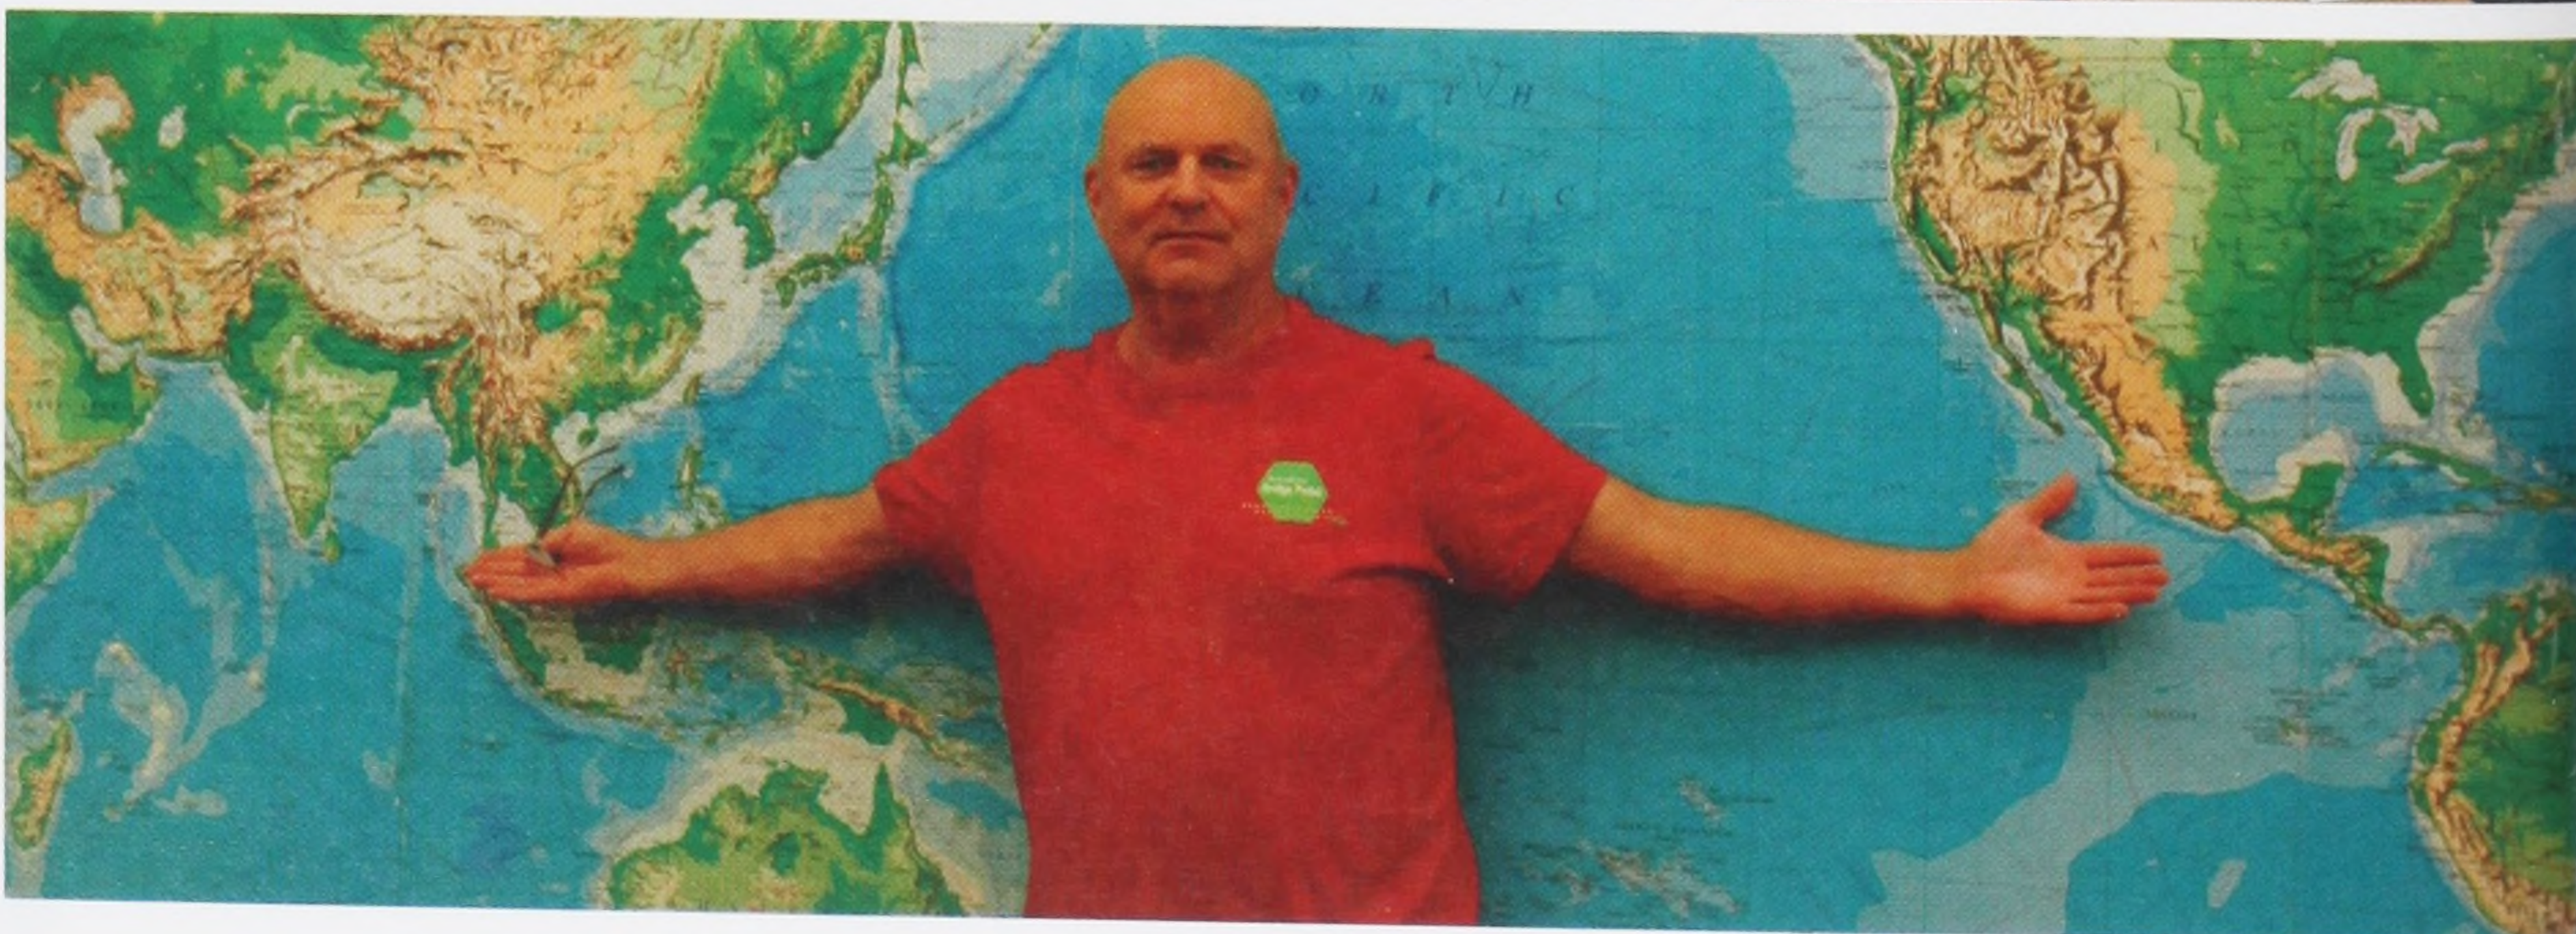

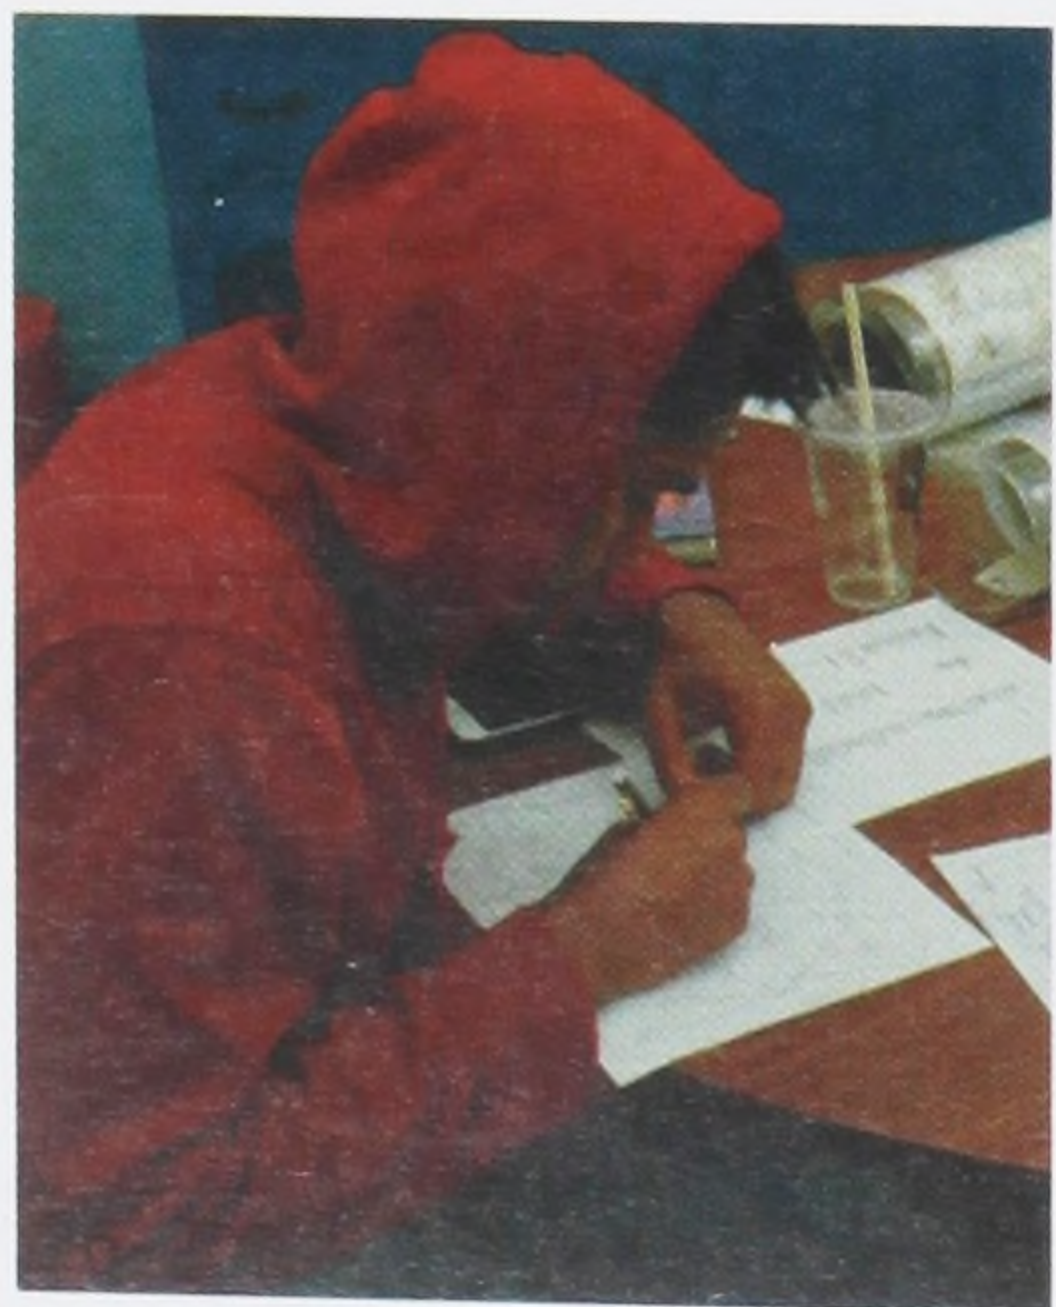

Humanities

Q: Why was WWI so quick?

A: Because they were Russian

Ms. Morgan first started working here last year. Since then there have been numerous students who have said that her English class is the best class they have ever been in. We agree!

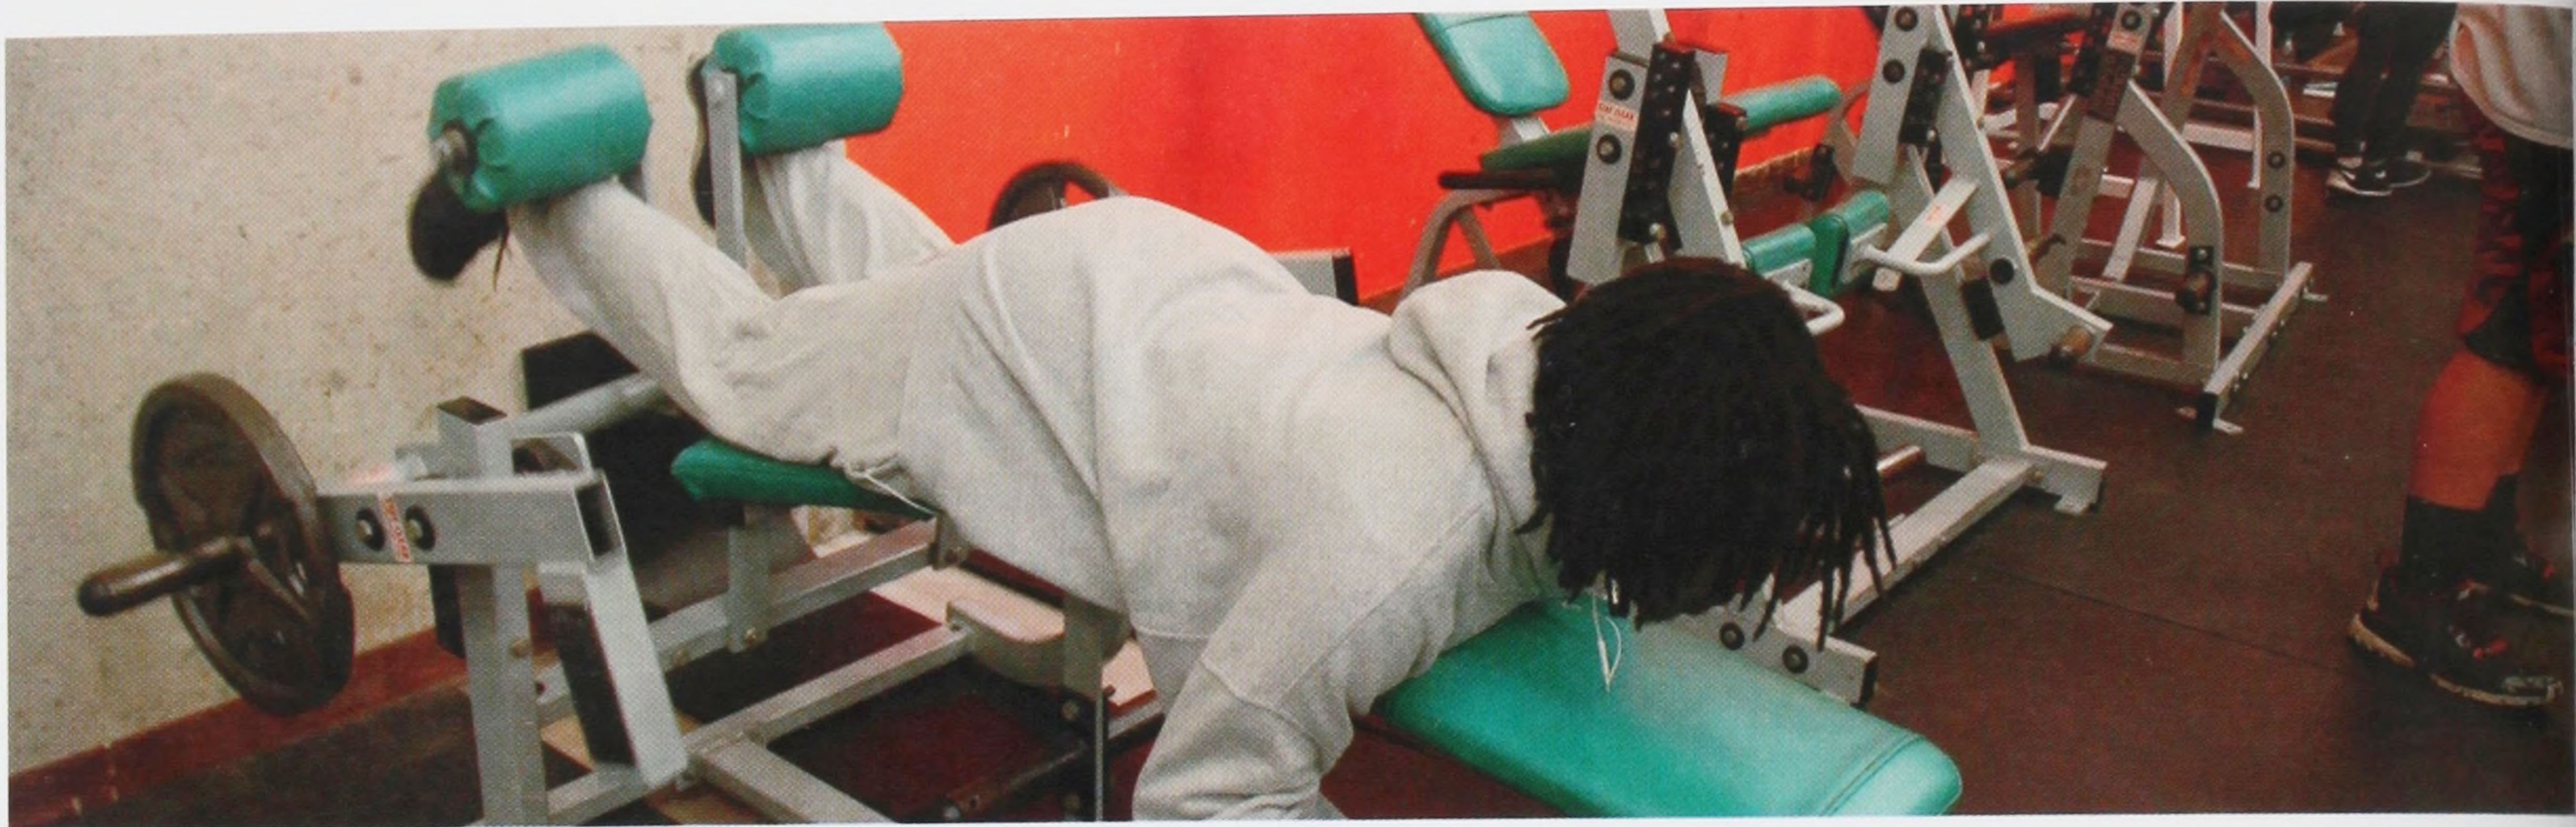

Look at these AP Language and Composition students, Yasmin Kemer and Aniyah Borders, sharing the learning! AP Language and Composition is a hard class so any type of help is always appreciated.

Fit2Live&Learn

Pumping Benson Up!

Freshman P.E. and Health

For the past decade freshman P.E. and health has been a rite of passage. Every day of the school year, ninth graders change into their flattering orange uniforms and grind through a rigorous, but fun curriculum. Unlike the conventional PE class with endless dodge ball games and push-ups, Benson PE helps students develop the all-around skills that will benefit them throughout high school including: mental strength, healthy eating and cooking habits, establishing fitness routines, planning and personal organization.

Additionally, Ms. McLellan provides frequent pep talks encouraging the first year high schoolers to advocate for themselves and accept personal challenges.

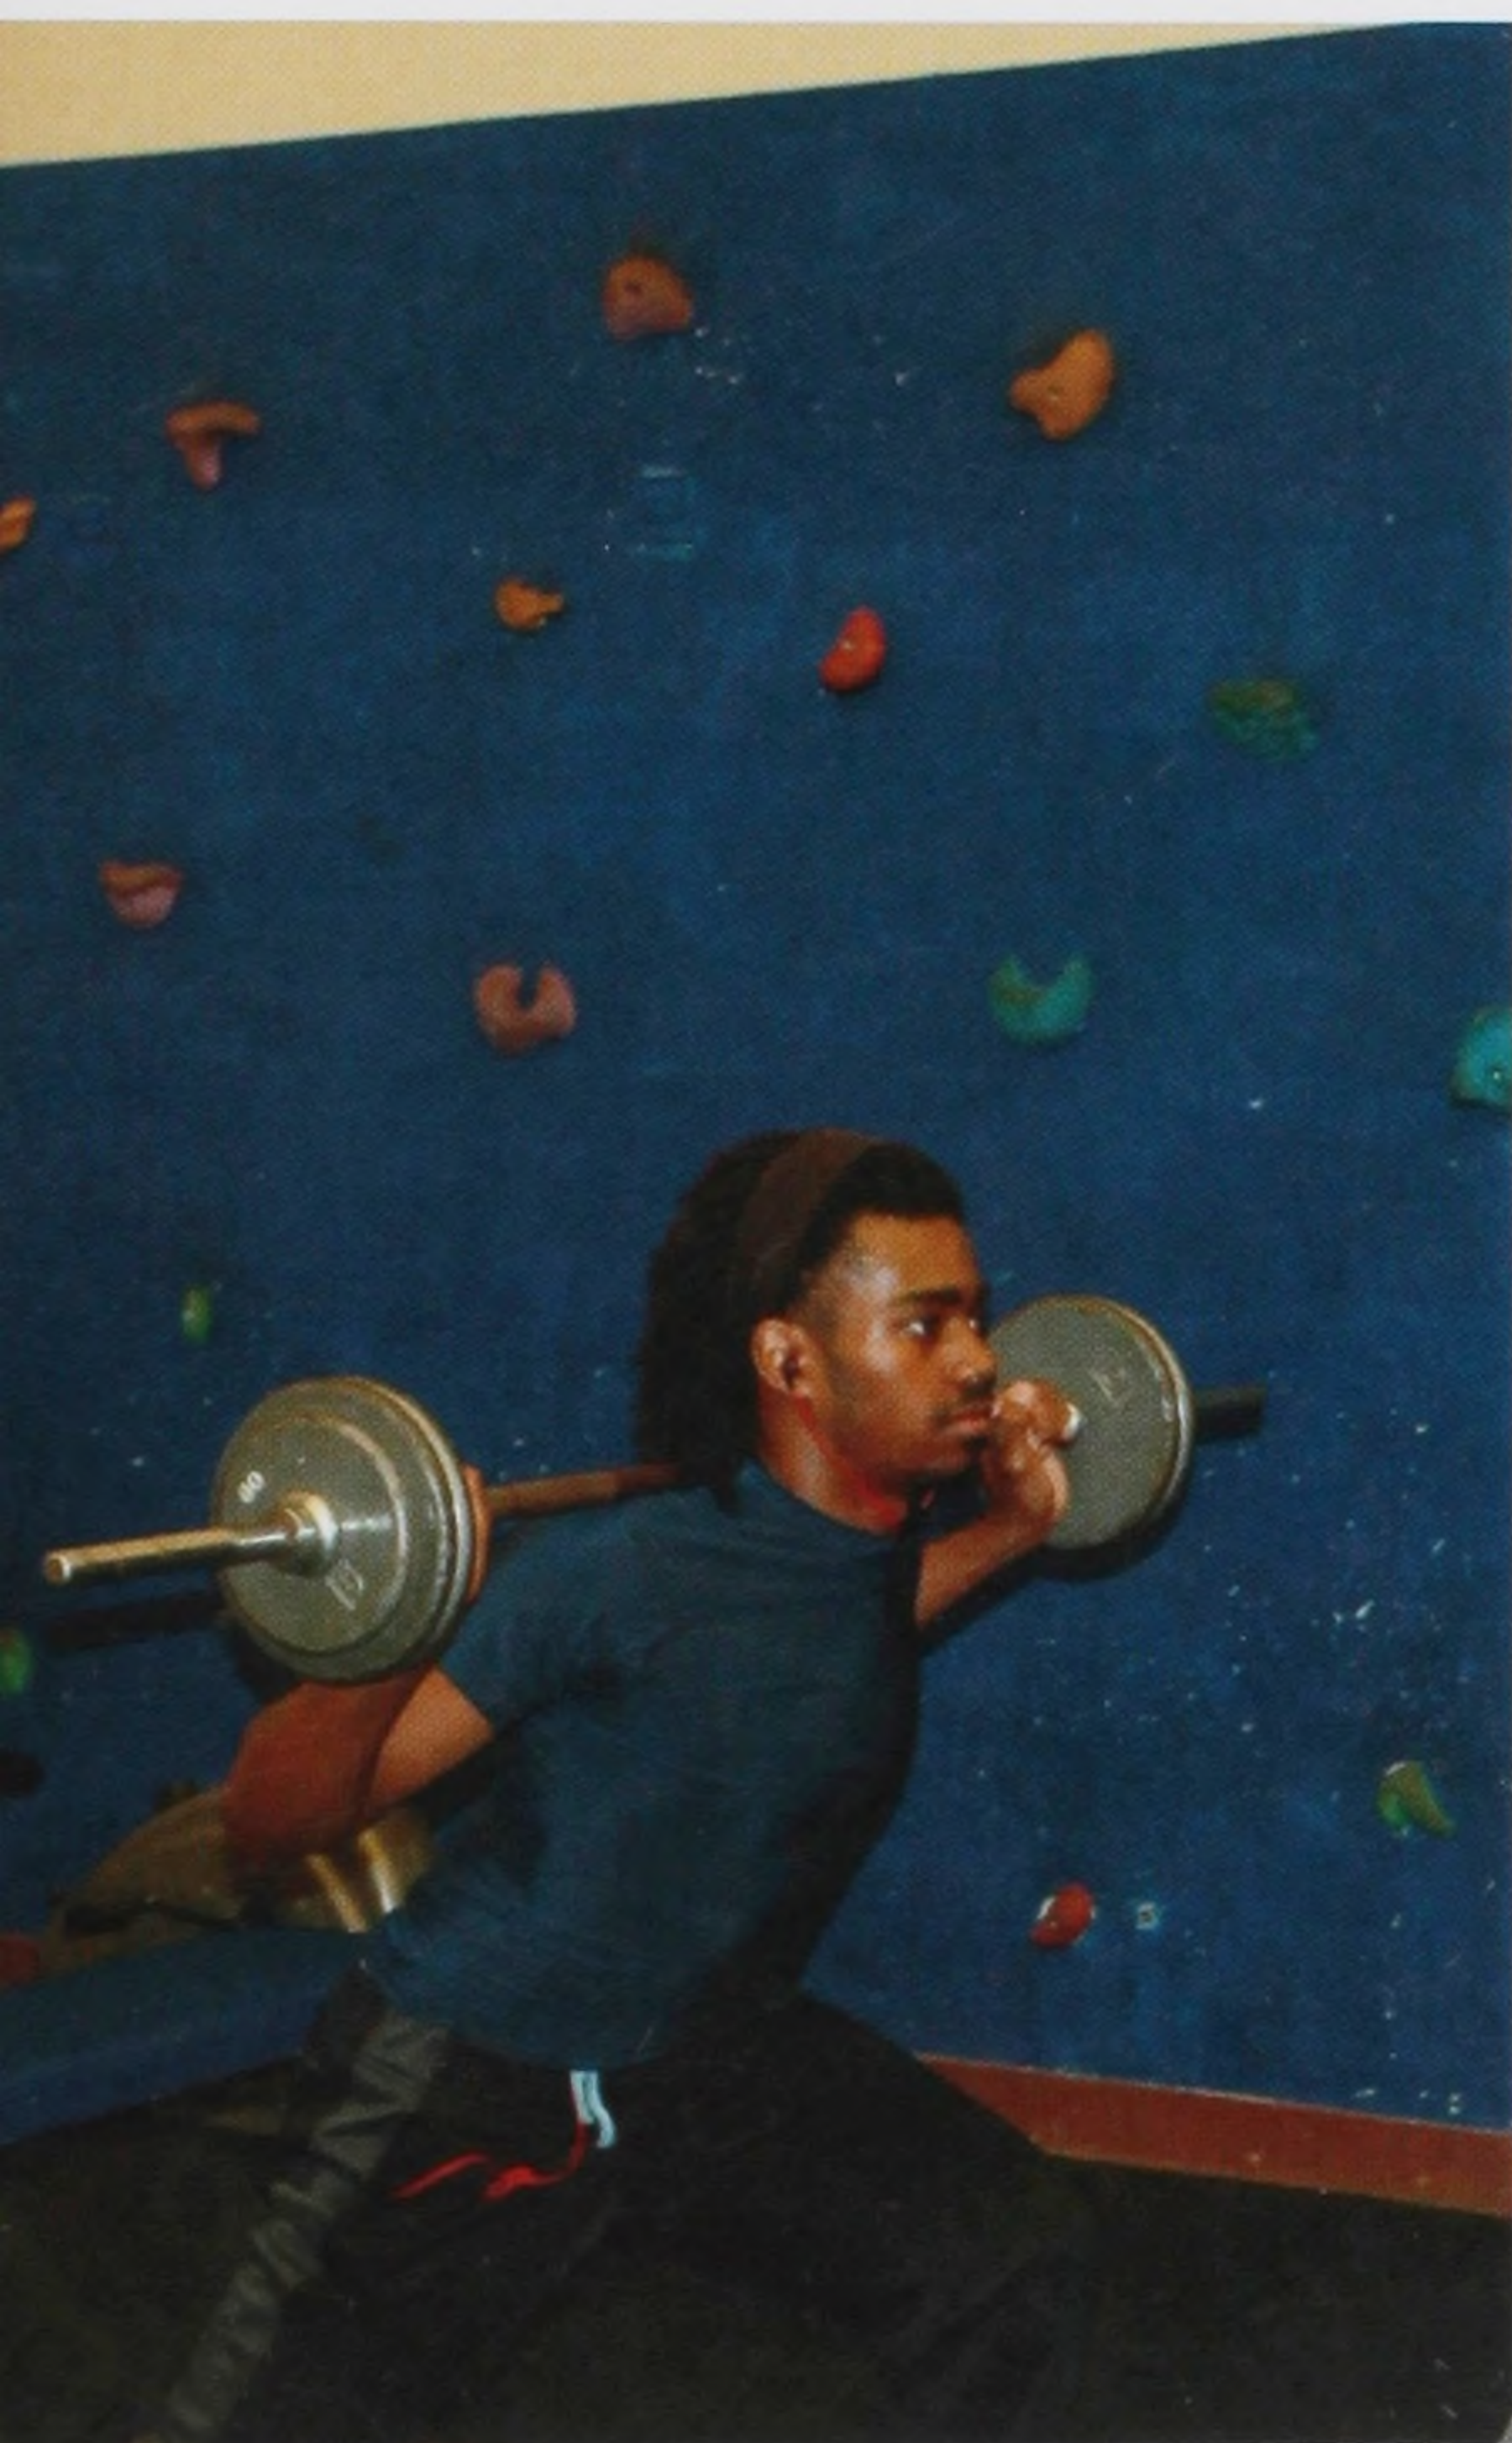

Strength and Conditioning

For those hoping to extend the fitness habits they learned freshman year, Strength and Conditioning classes give 10th -12th graders a chance to work out in the weight room while studying some of the science and kinesiology of a safe, healthy workout.

This class is especially helpful for athletes, like Jacoby Kelley, trying to stay in shape for sports.

Leadership

Leading like the leaders they claim to be

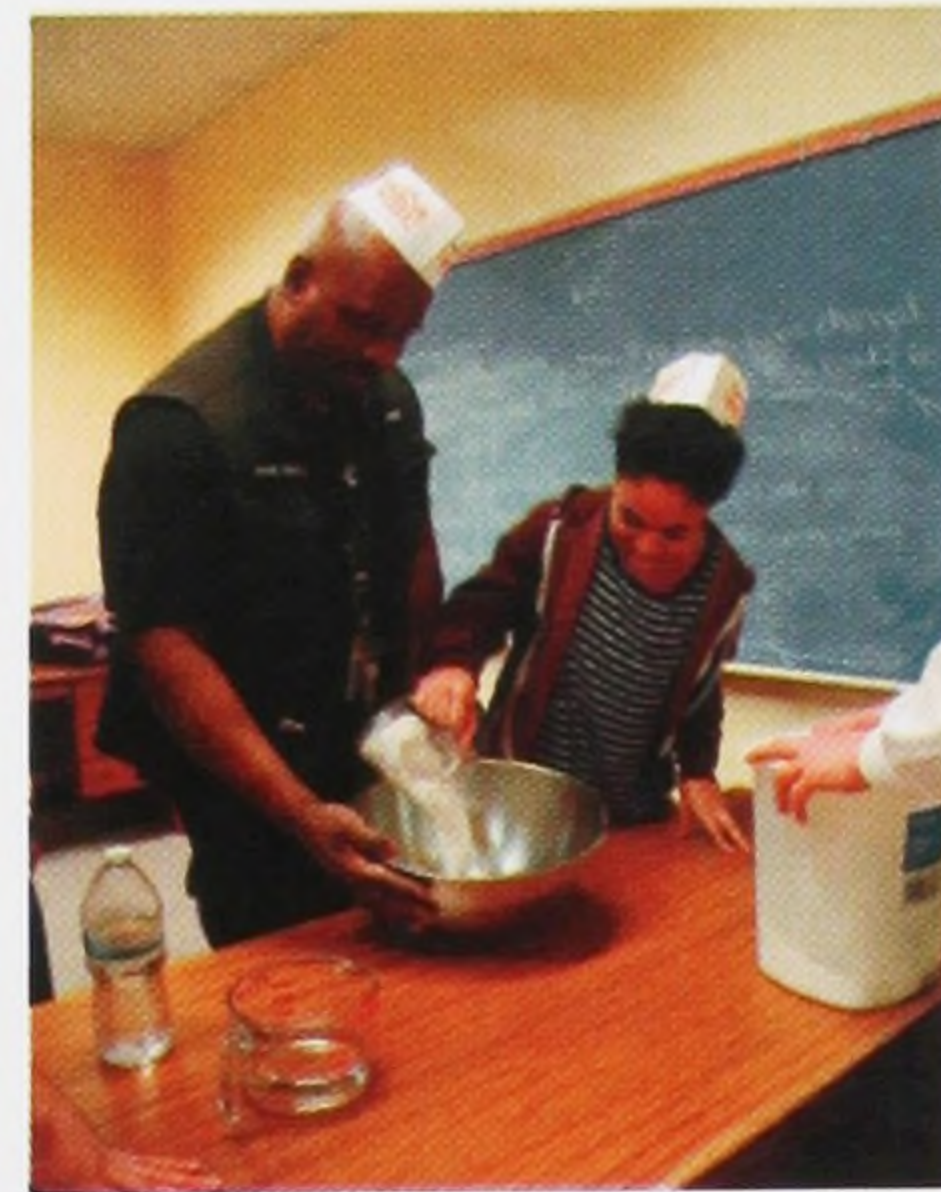

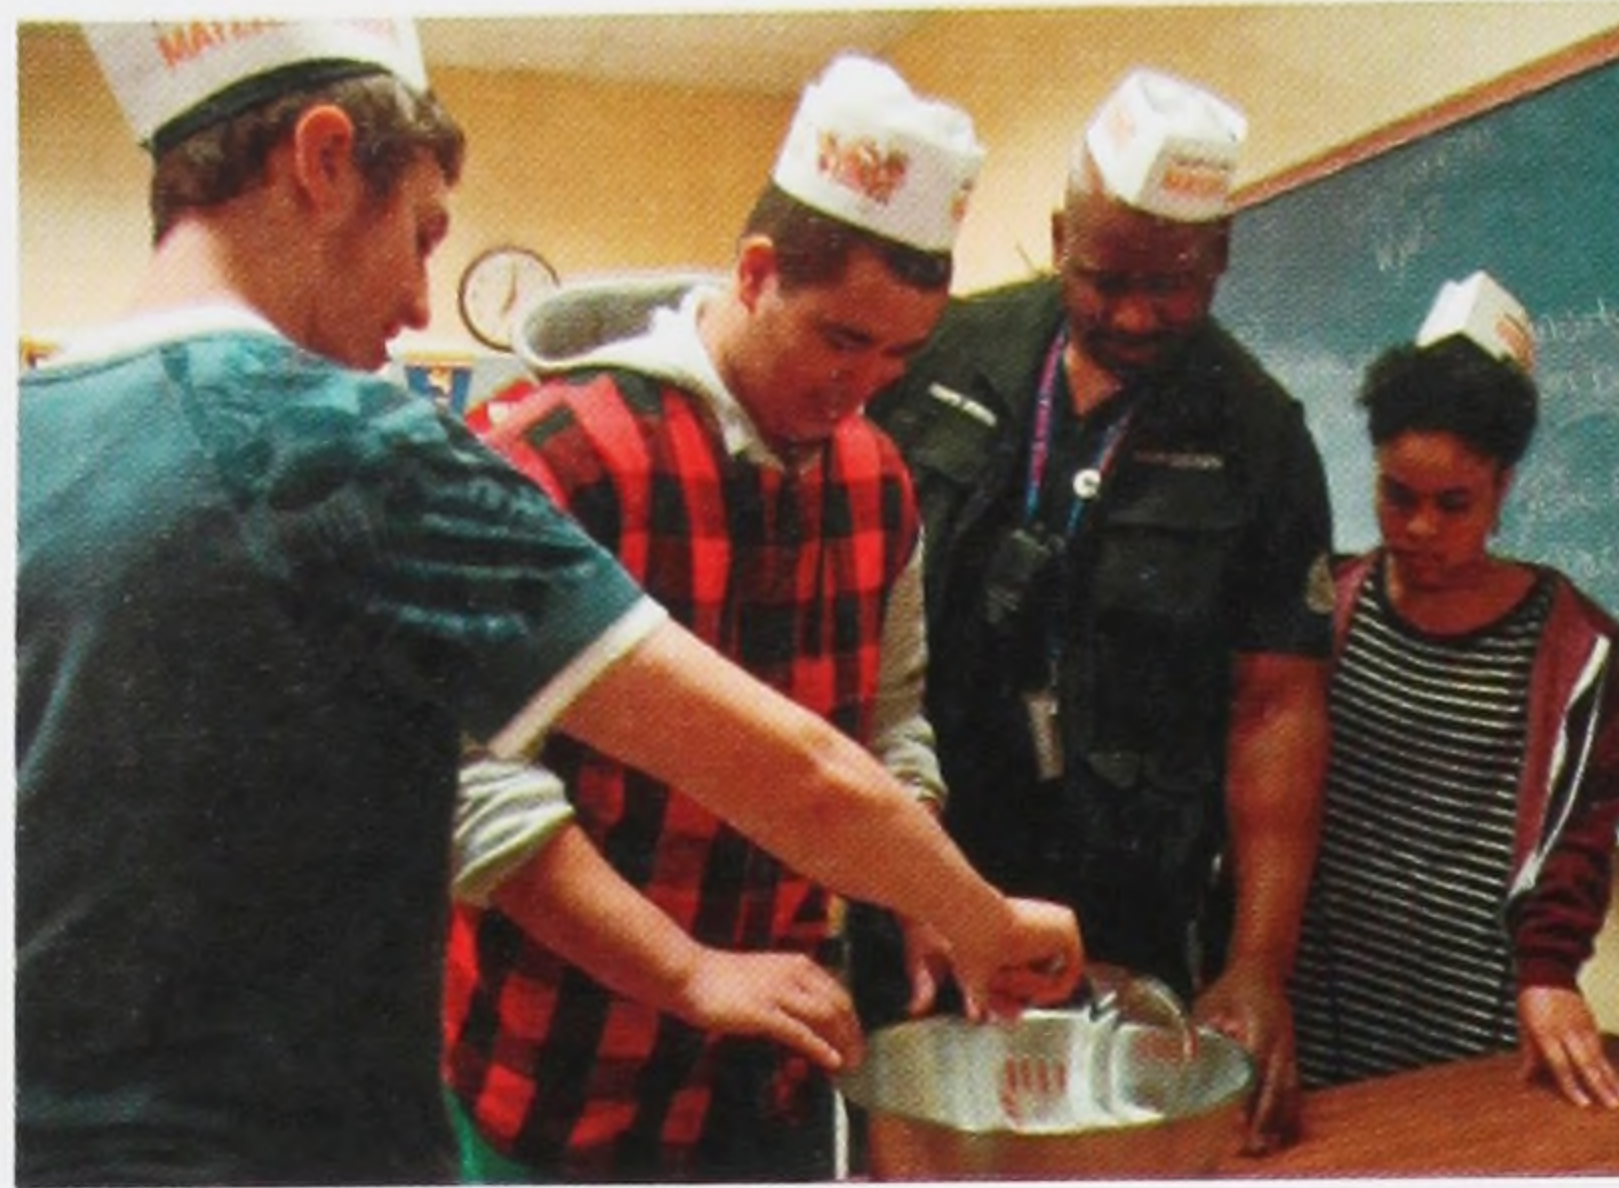

We got an interview with Ms. Murchinson about the Leadership class and her experience as a leadership teacher. She had a lot of positive things to say.

"I have been teaching leadership for about three years now. I believe leadership has affected our school in a positive way. It is not just about assemblies and dances anymore. It has expanded and added a lot of new opportunities for students to join in and add their input."

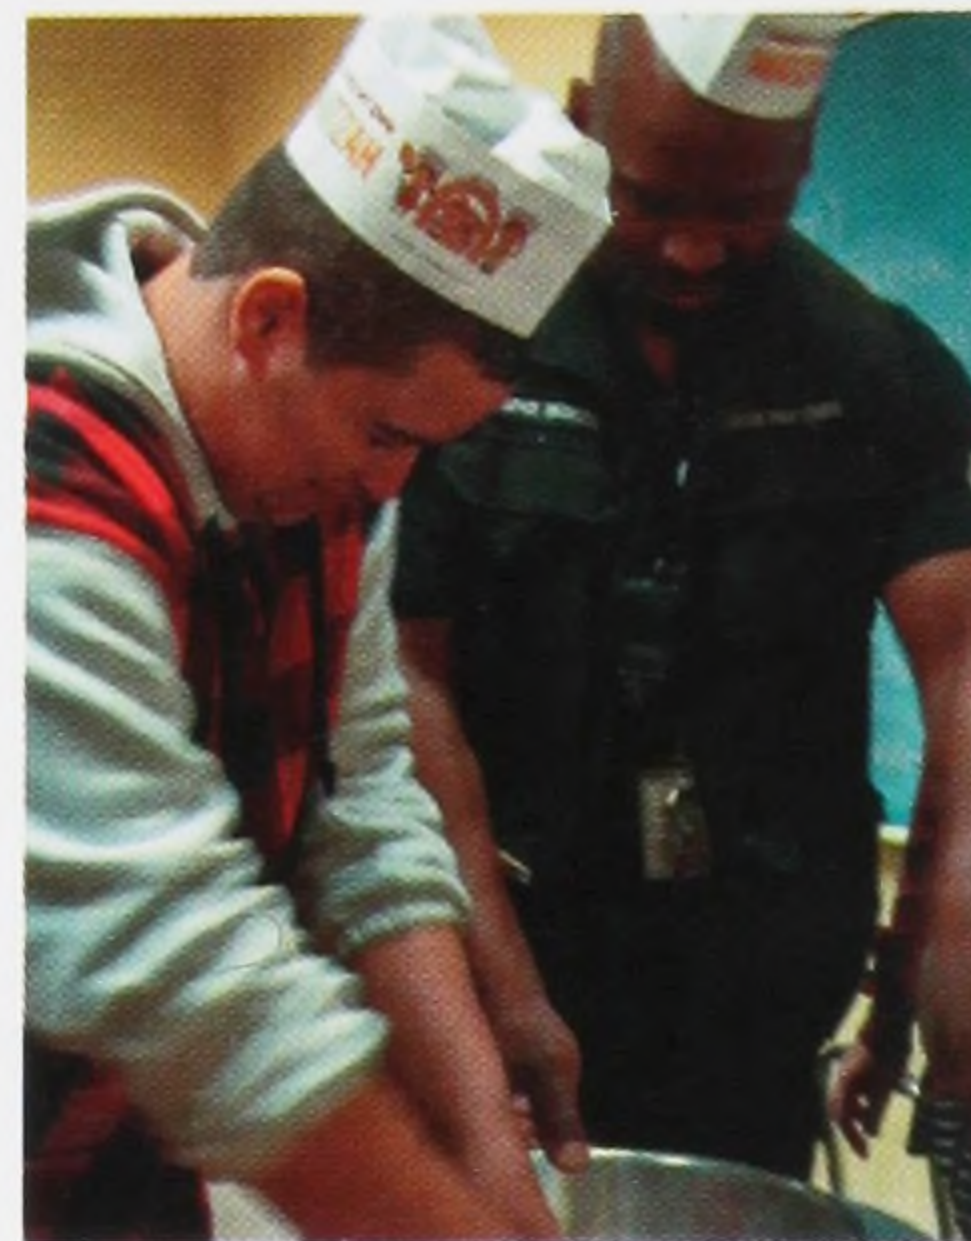

Jewish Club

It's spelled

YAMACKA

2007 is the first year Benson has had a Jewish club. Although the group is still small, interest and curiosity has brought students to learn more about the Jewish faith and Jewish traditions. You don't have to be Jewish to learn about a new culture!

One of the easiest ways to get introduced to a new culture is through food. Jewish Club has hosted a couple of events to bake traditional Jewish dishes. Campus monitor Mr. Dominguez, Sophia Sloane and friends worked together to eat and celebrate. They even got nice hats!

Asian-Pacific Islander Club

The Asian Pacific Islander Club is a new edition to Benson. It is a place for Asian and Pacific Islander students to learn more about their heritage and train to become leaders in the community. A linchpin of that goal is the Asian American Youth Leadership Conference, which Ms. Espineli and Ms. Ah-Choy attended with students this year.

Tech Show

"Come see our booth!" (Please..they won't let us leave)

Benson Tech Show

Benson's annual Tech Show has been a tradition since 1920, and we just celebrated our 97th! Tech Show is one of the things that sets Benson apart from other high schools. It has always been a means to showcase the majors and community that makes Benson unique. Alumni may drop by, visitors can play games in the booths our freshman slaved over (probably), and each major displays the most interesting aspects of their classes. Whether it be the light show in electric or the glucose test in nursing, Tech Show has always been a fun tradition with lots to see and do.

The annual diversity assembly gives students of all different backgrounds a chance to showcase their culture and come up on stage to show everyone what's important to them.

HOSA

Health Occupations
Students of America

HOSA is an international competition recognized by the U.S. Department of Education and the Health Science Education division. Because of Benson having the most extensive HOSA program in the state, our Health Occ students kill it every year. This year our Benson students collectively won upwards of 30 medals! Senior Kyle Patubo won a total of 8 medals, 3 of those being first place. Nursing major Kim Le won state in Nursing, Medical Professions; major Teresa Tran also placed first in her major, as well as Havana Maceo who placed first in Dental Sciences. So once again, Benson kids dominated.

CHAMPIONS AT WORK

"Preparing for leadership in the world of work."

Benson Polytechnic students participate in SkillsUSA's annual competitions in categories that correlate with their majors. This year, senior Kennedy Thurman won gold in Photography, Matthew Dressa won gold in Prepared Speech, and Nikolas Kubler and Gopal Duhdee brought home gold in Video Production. Architecture students Thyme Masters, Sam Weigand, and Sara Mohammed fought valiantly against Roseburg HS as they re-entered a far more complicated competition than past years had witnessed.

Sports

"With only 17 healthy players it was really impressive to see us win 3 games. When we were together, we demonstrated strong teamwork, and at other times we were much more independent. In the future we would like to see more people come out for the sport."

- Xzavier Jones

"Coach D. was a really fun guy to be around and work with."

- EJ

Football

Be strong when you are weak

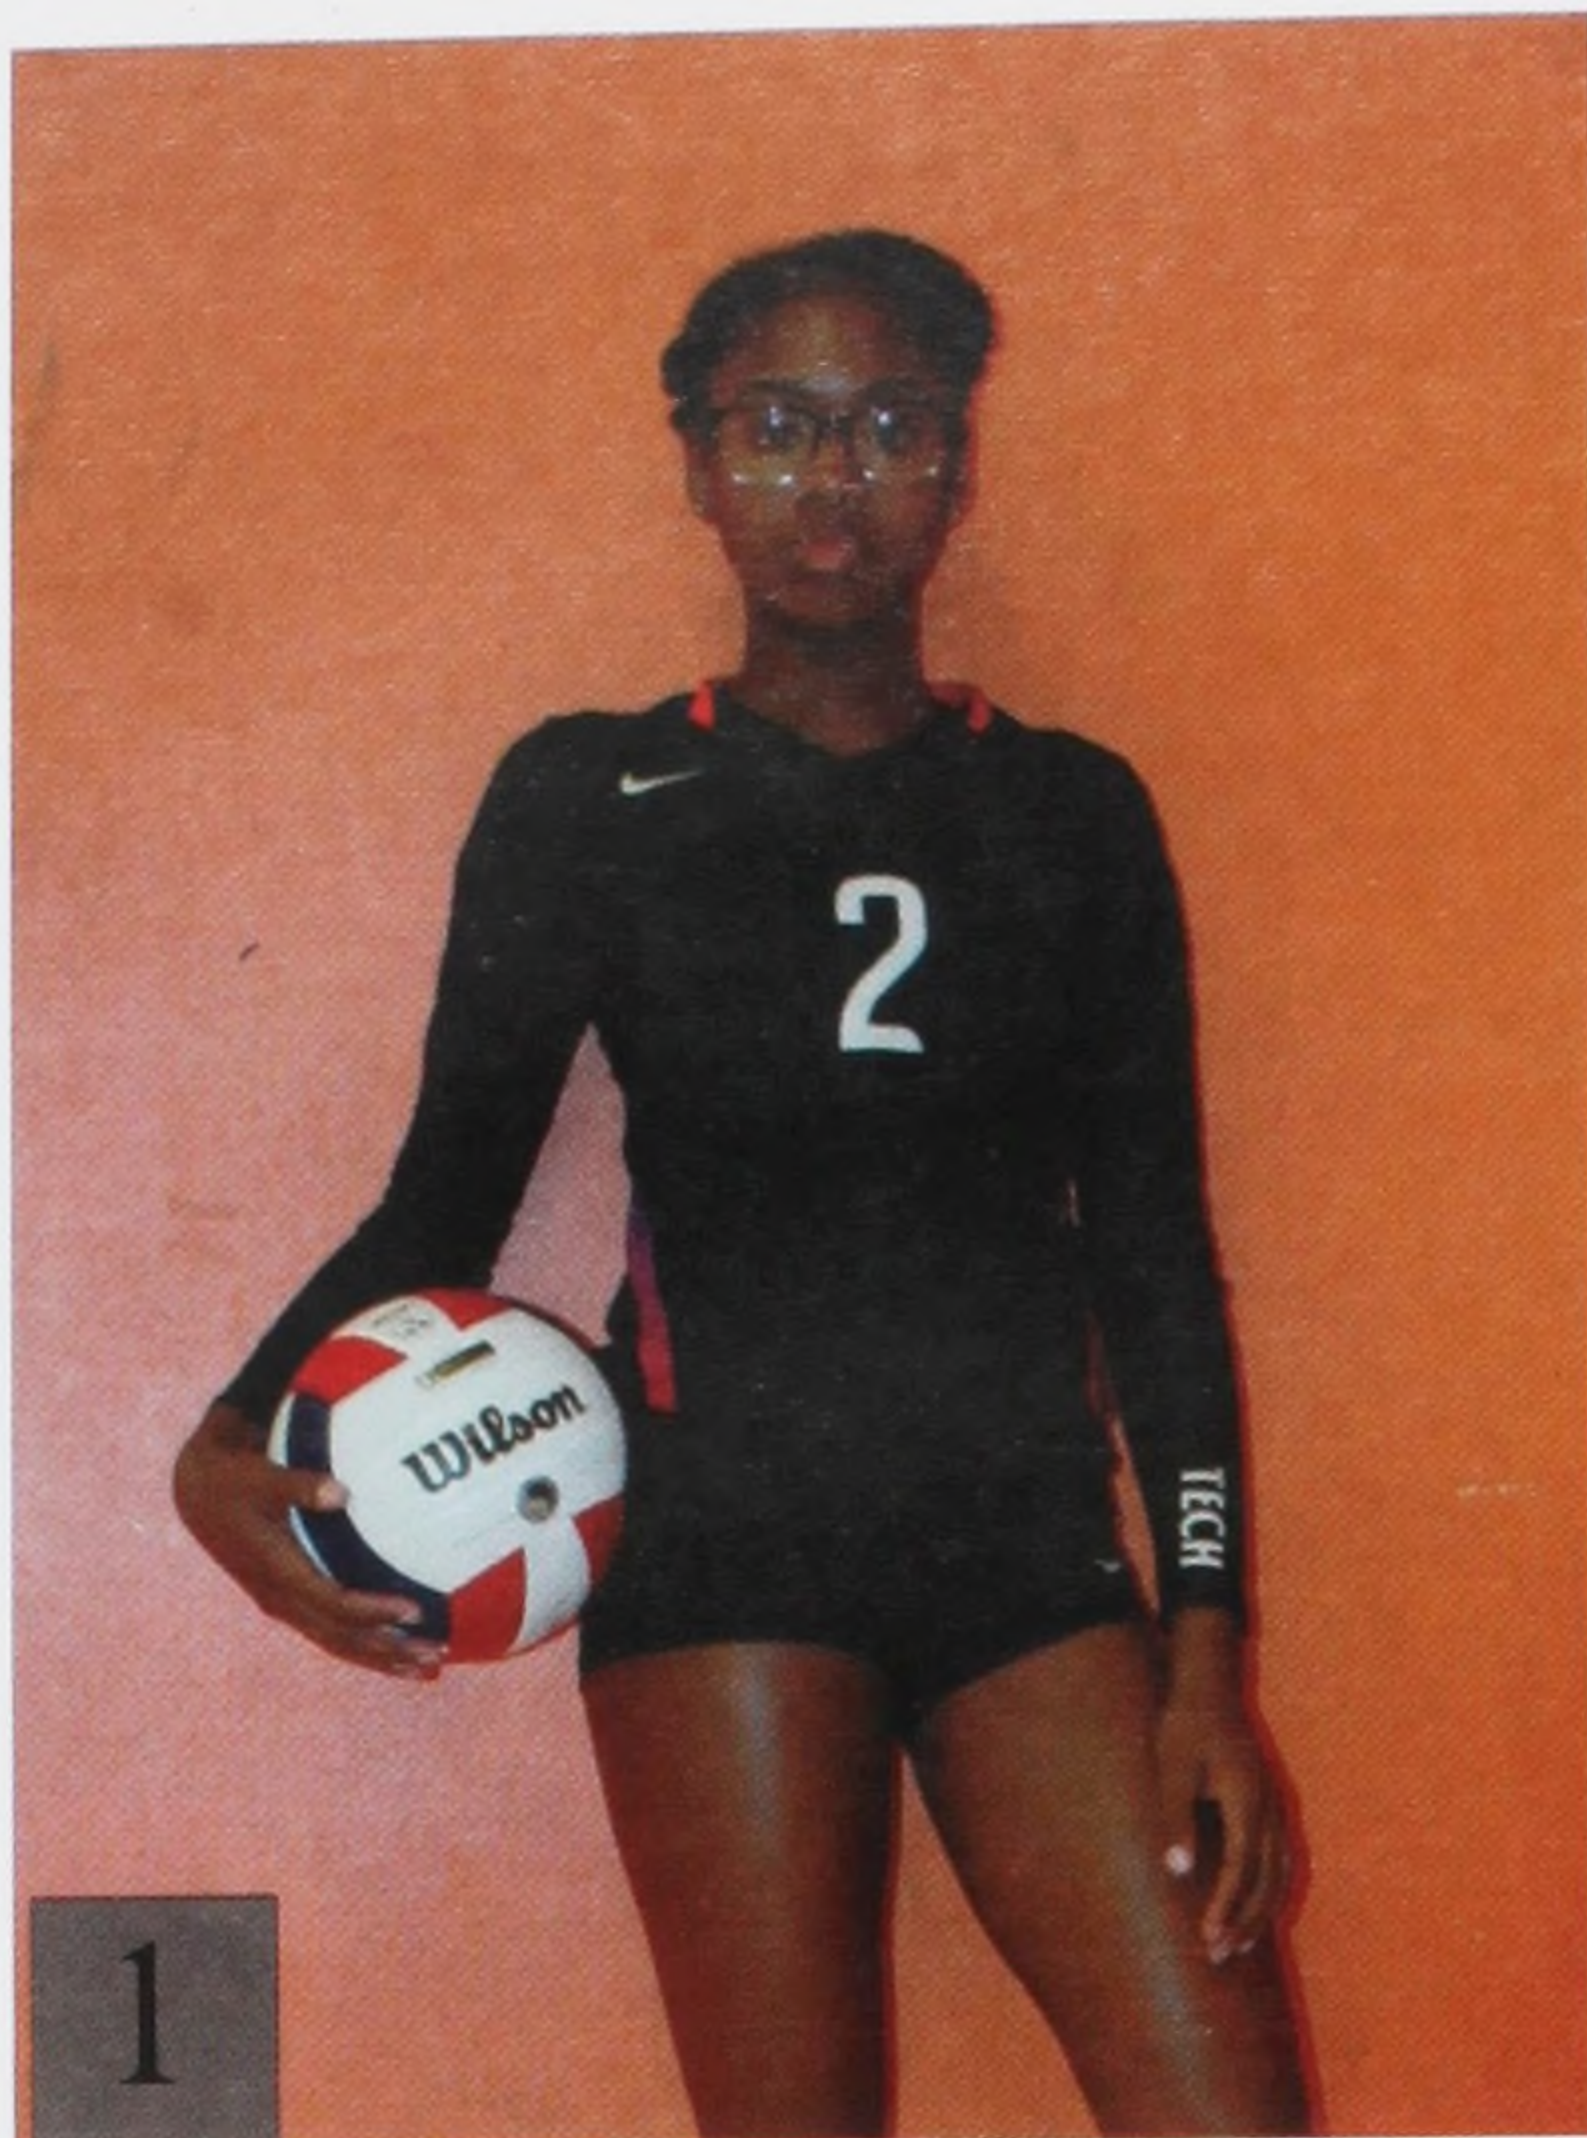

Brave when you are scared

Humble when you are victorious.

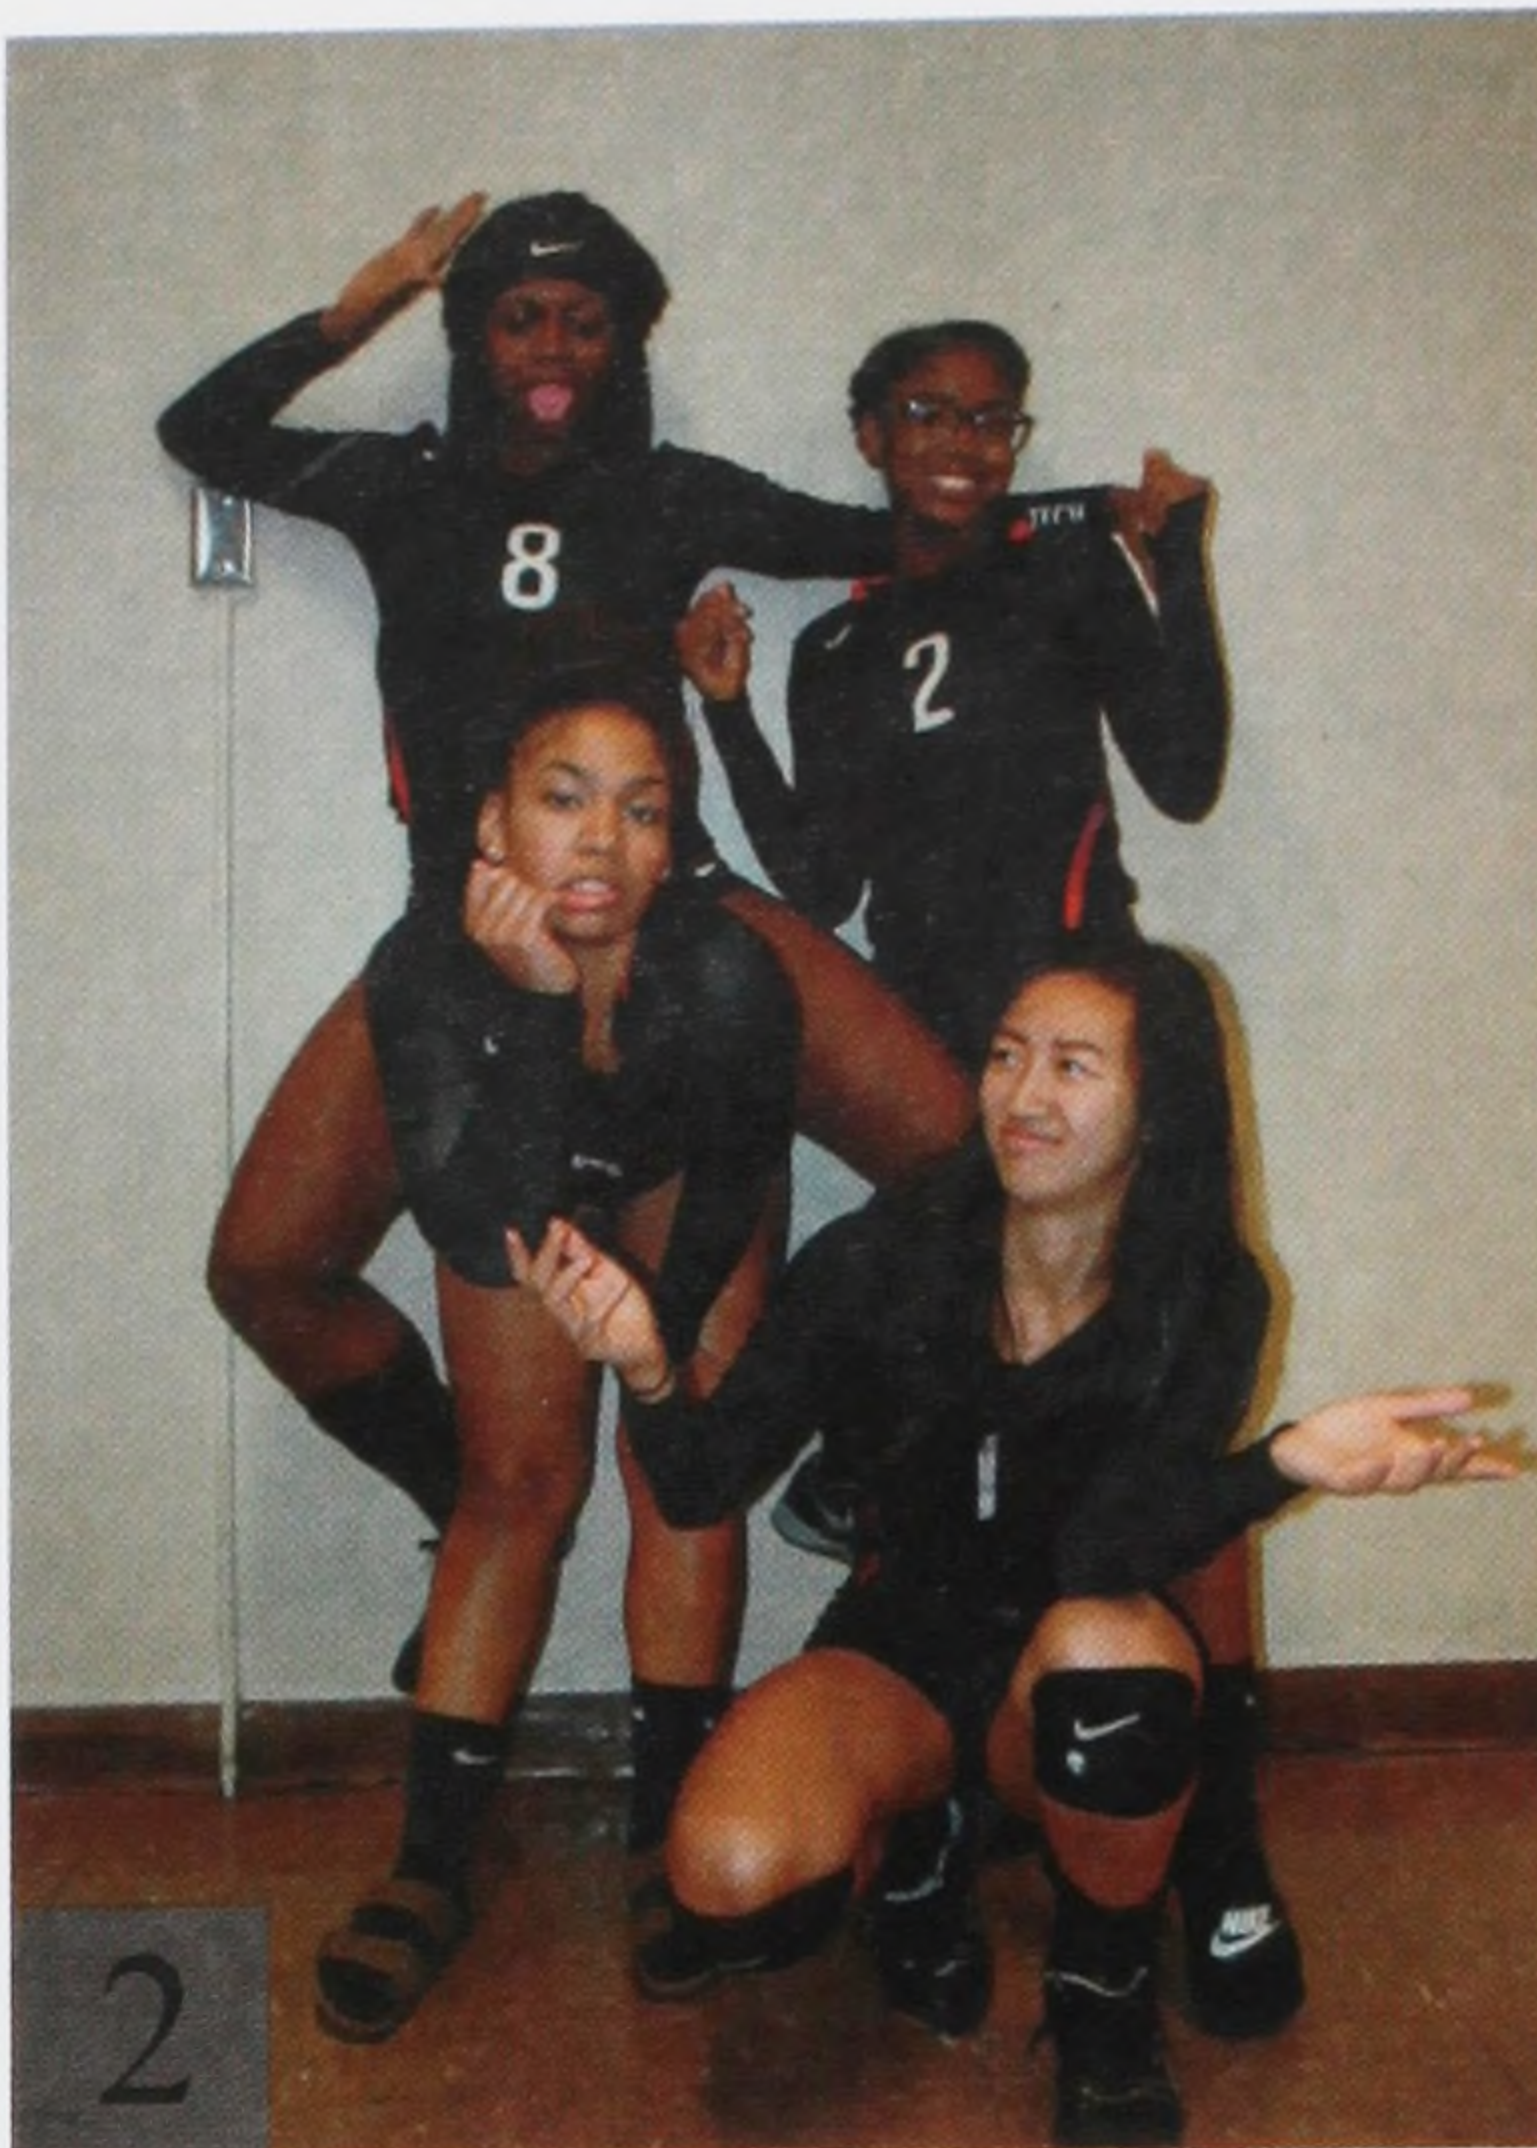

In order for competition to be fair, BPHS's football program decided it would be fitting to only play teams of a similar level. Provided that we never know how many incoming freshman will be interested in playing football for our team, we are somewhat hesitant to compare ourselves to the schools that have a pre-determined number of students intending on playing. Plainly, we are something different entirely. With the reintroduction of our Varsity team, we hope to someday soon return to the PIL. The primary goal is that students enjoy themselves in the sport. - Sanjay Bedi

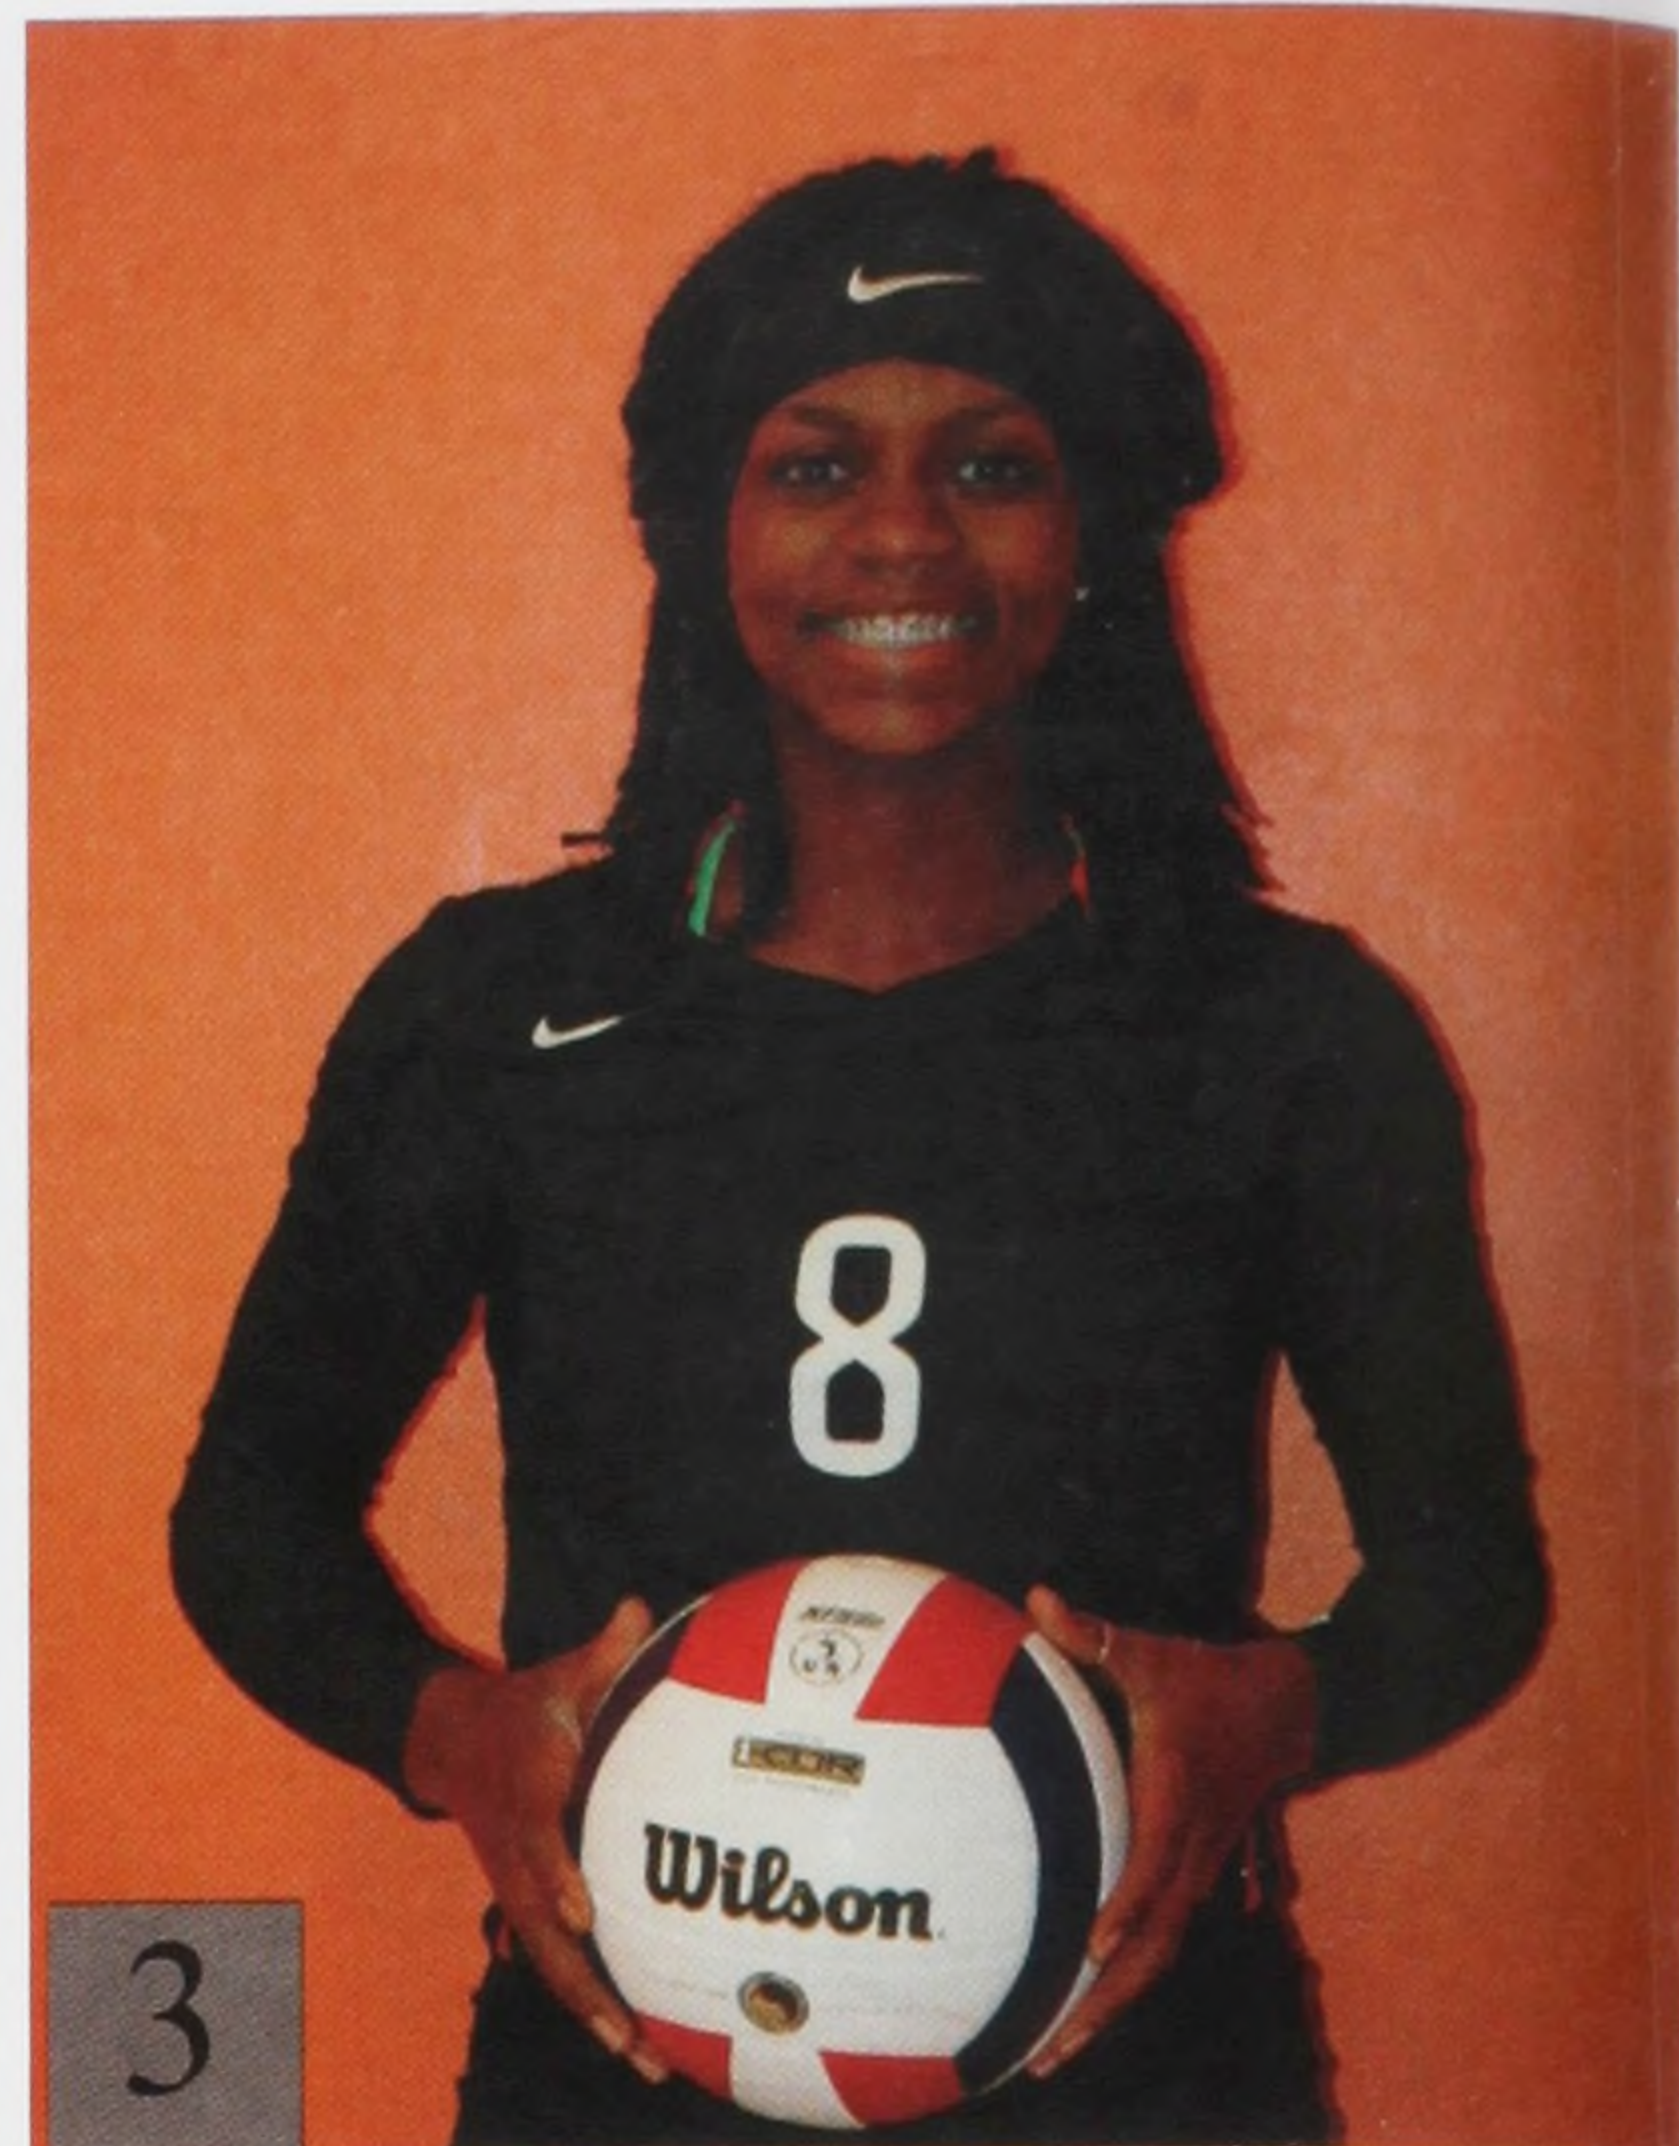

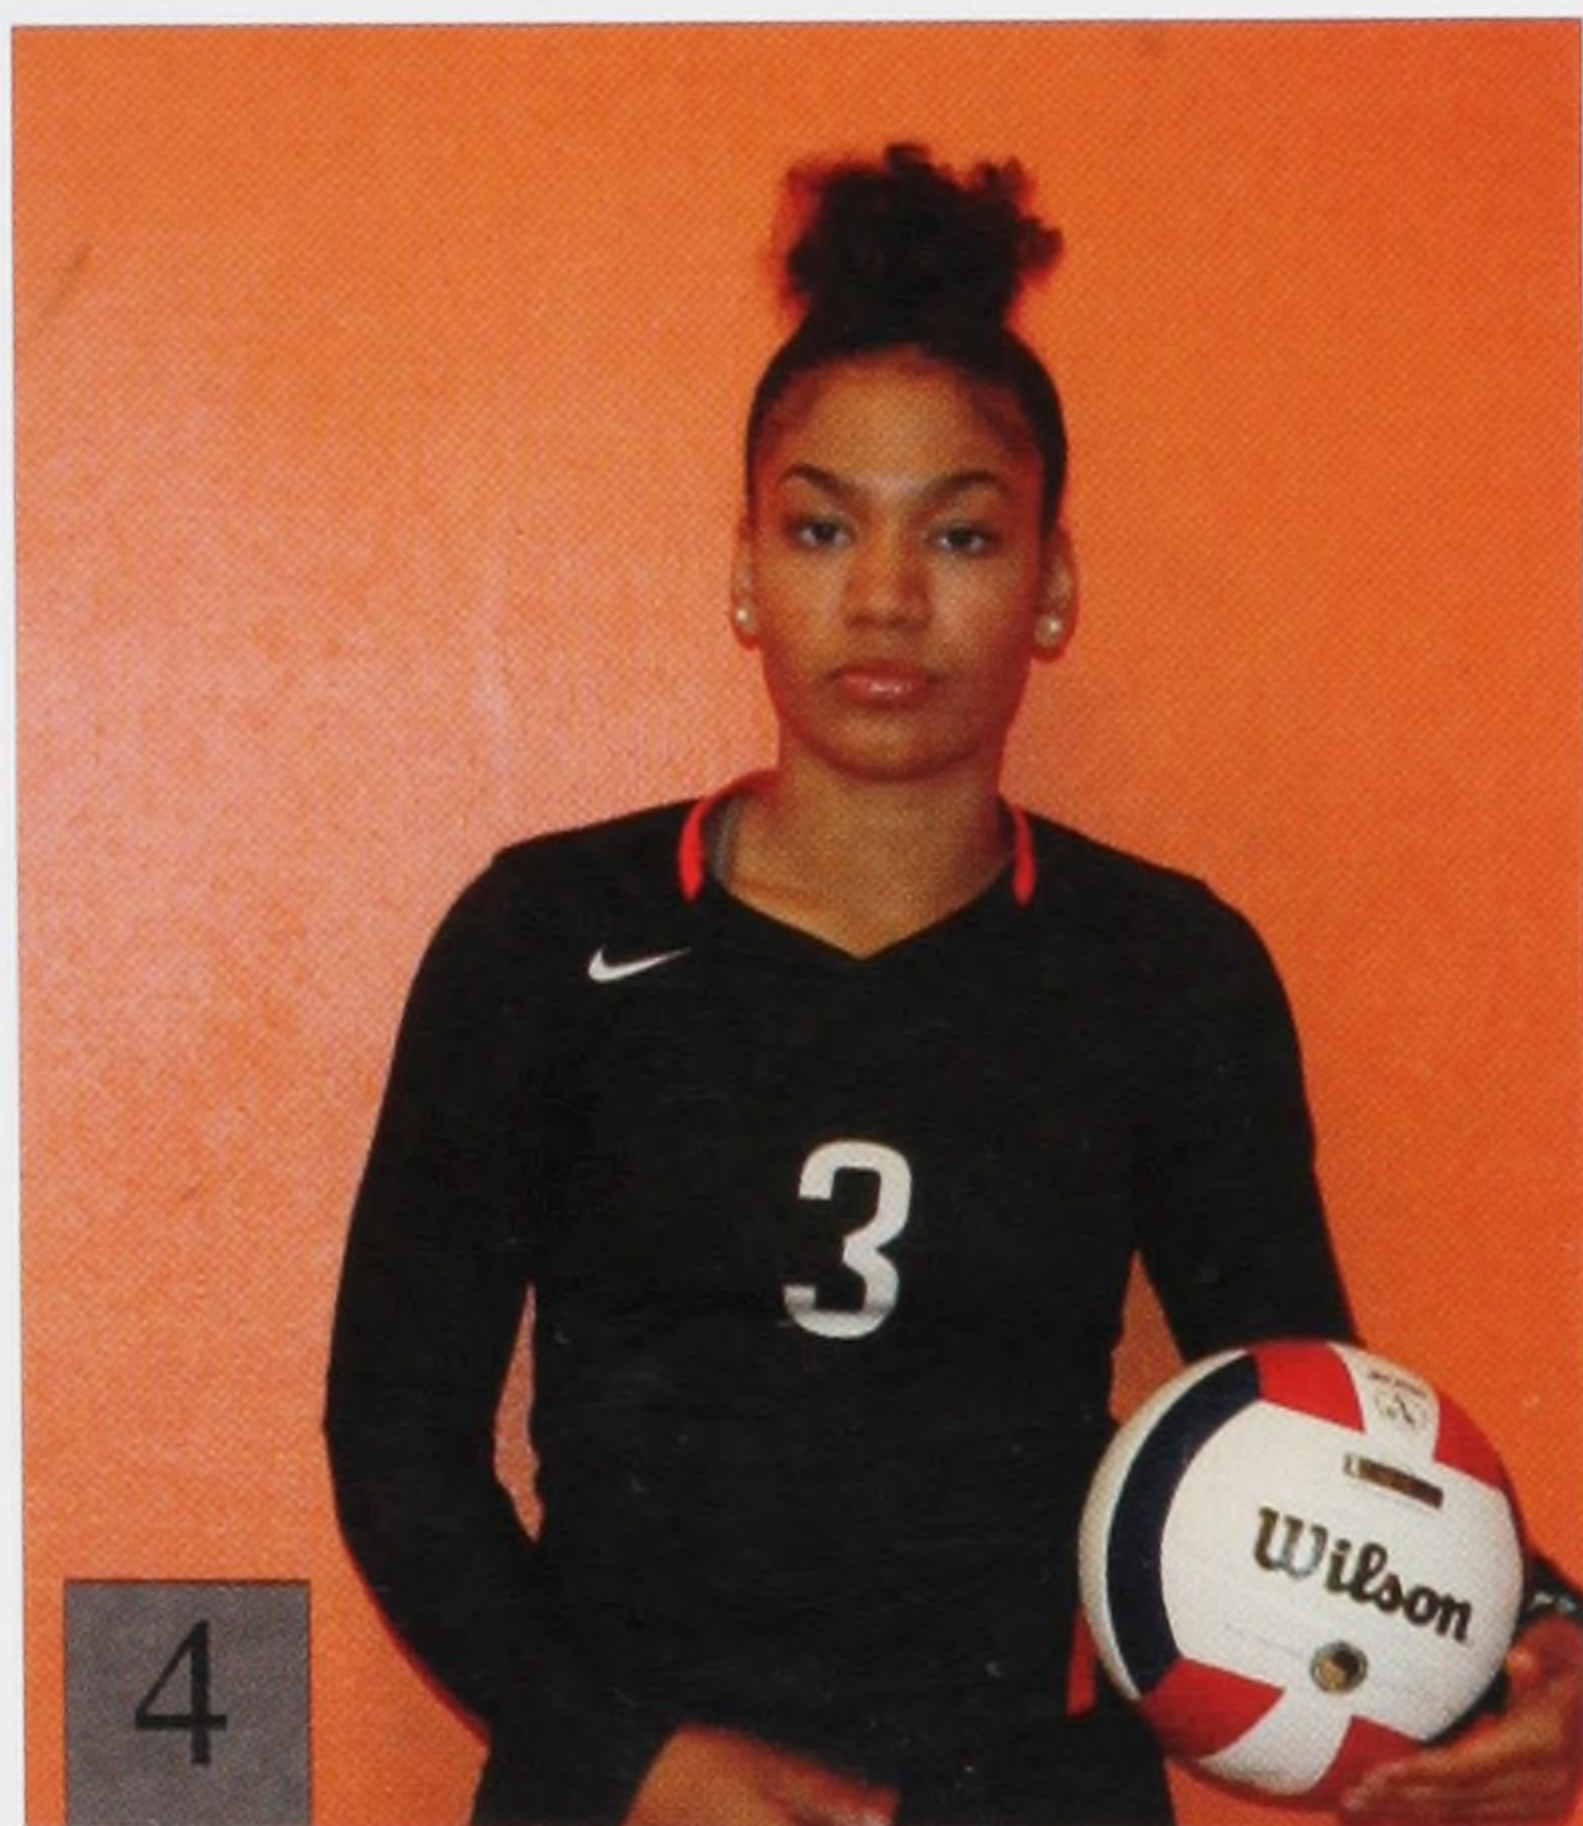

1. Krishay is a force of nature when she's in her zone. Her determination is evident as she lets nothing stand in her way when she has the ball.

2. Here, our lovely senior ladies are preparing for their senior game. They demonstrate that they get along off court while striking silly poses and having fun!

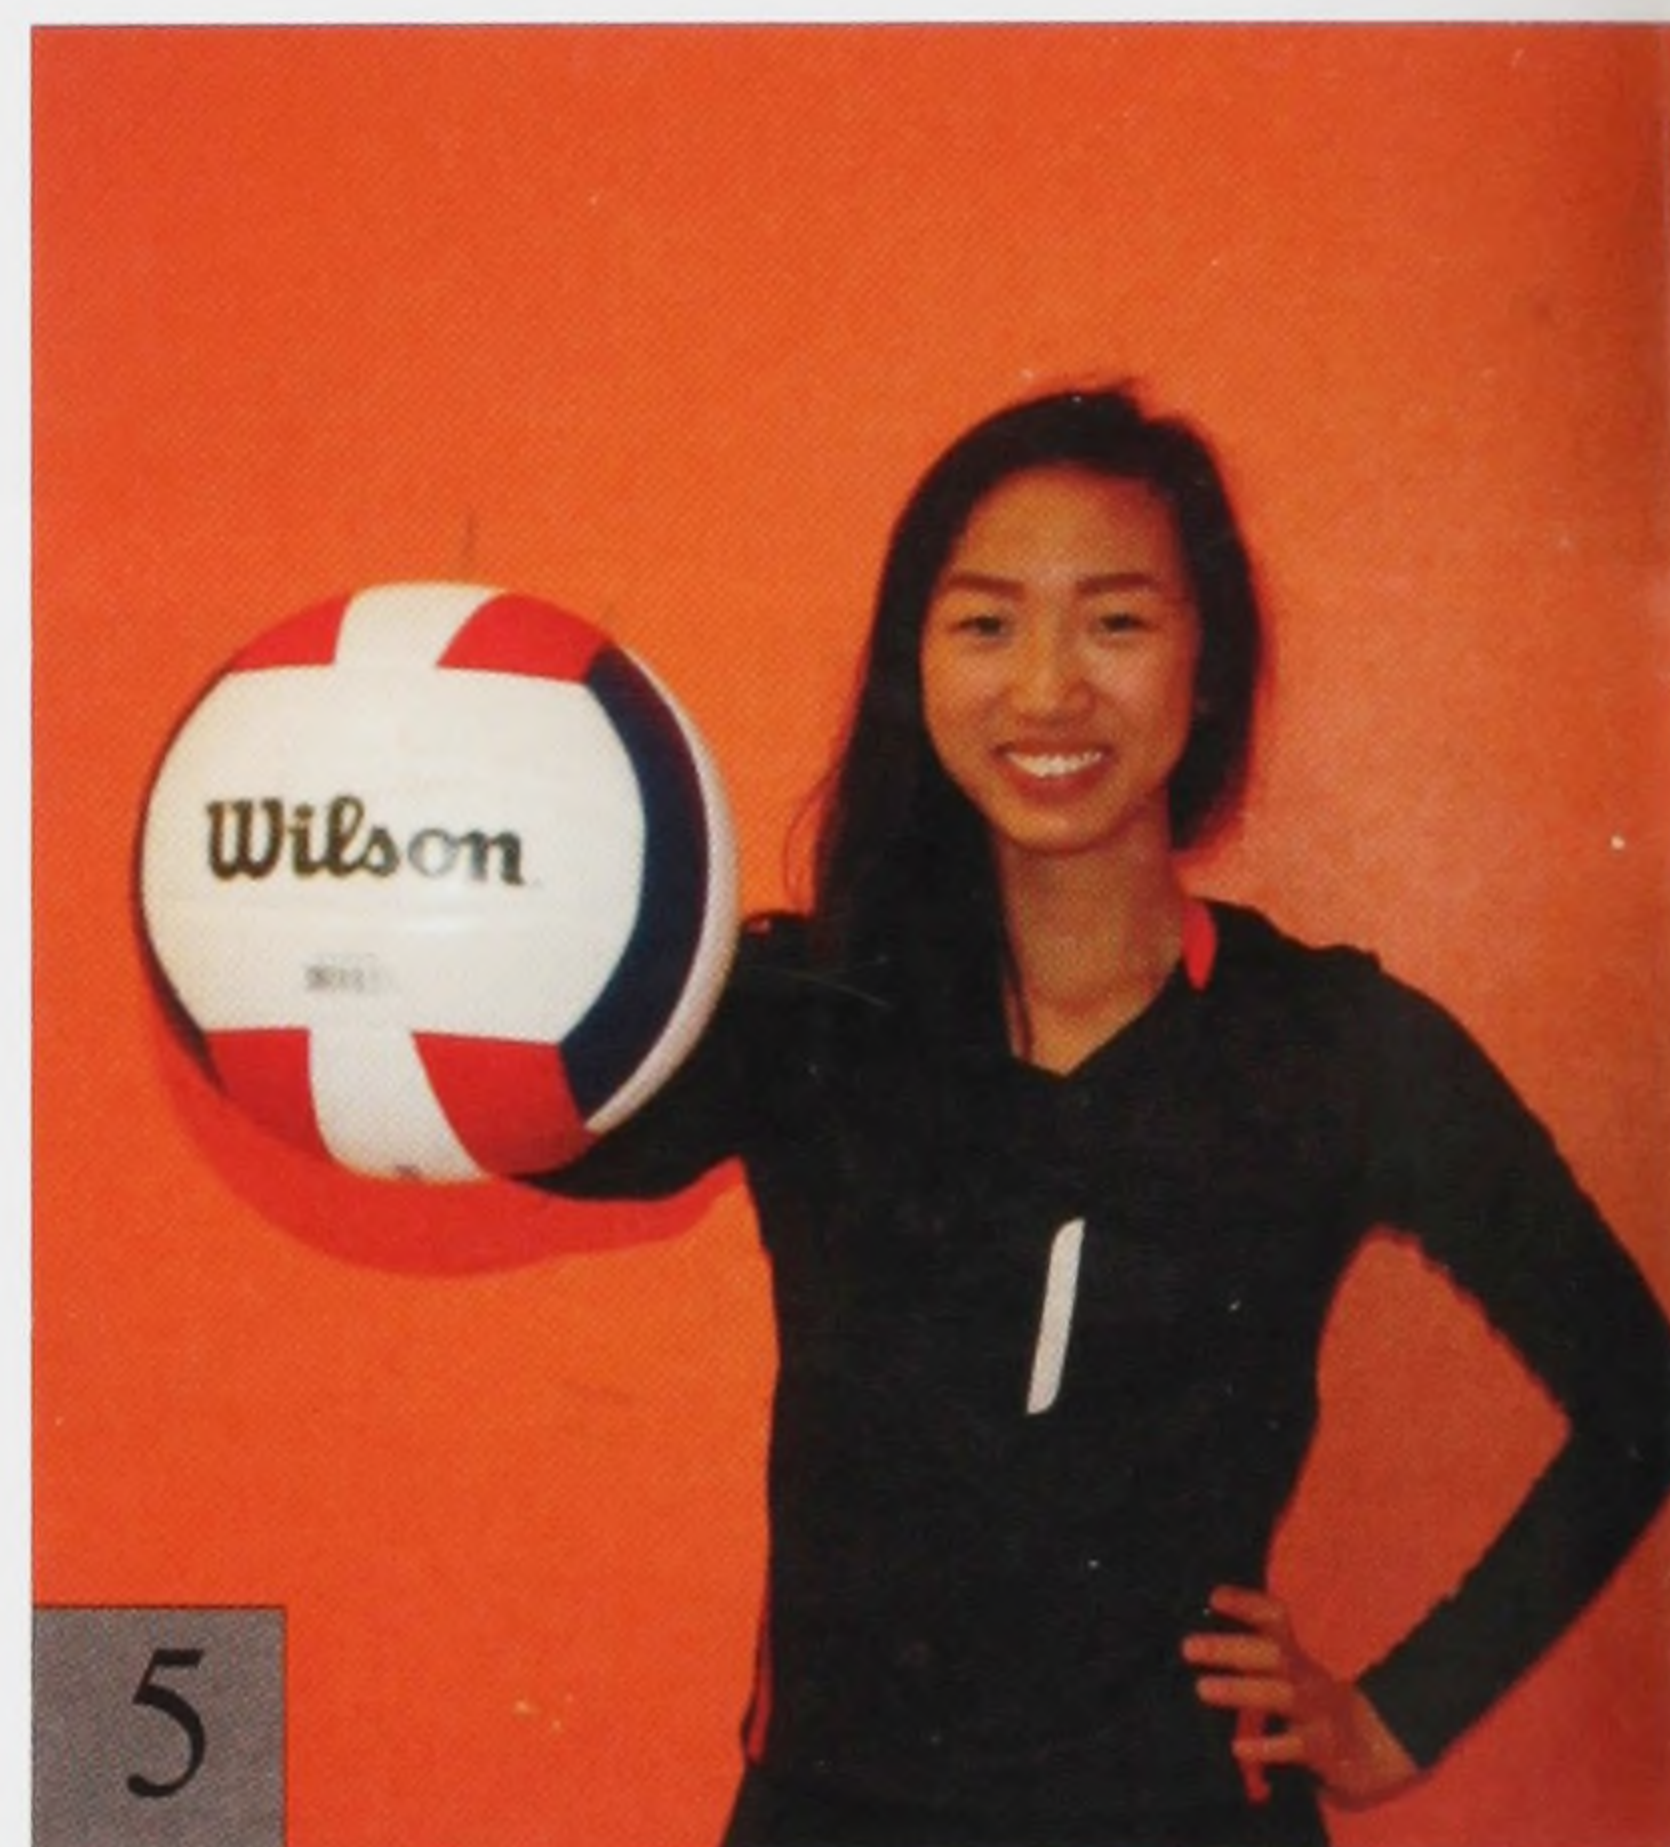

3. Don't let Umari's bright smile fool you! When she focuses her mind on how to make that point, you surely do not want be the one to save it.

4. Miah is our star setter, meaning she has the potential to control the game. With a simple pass to her, she can turn the tide in any game.

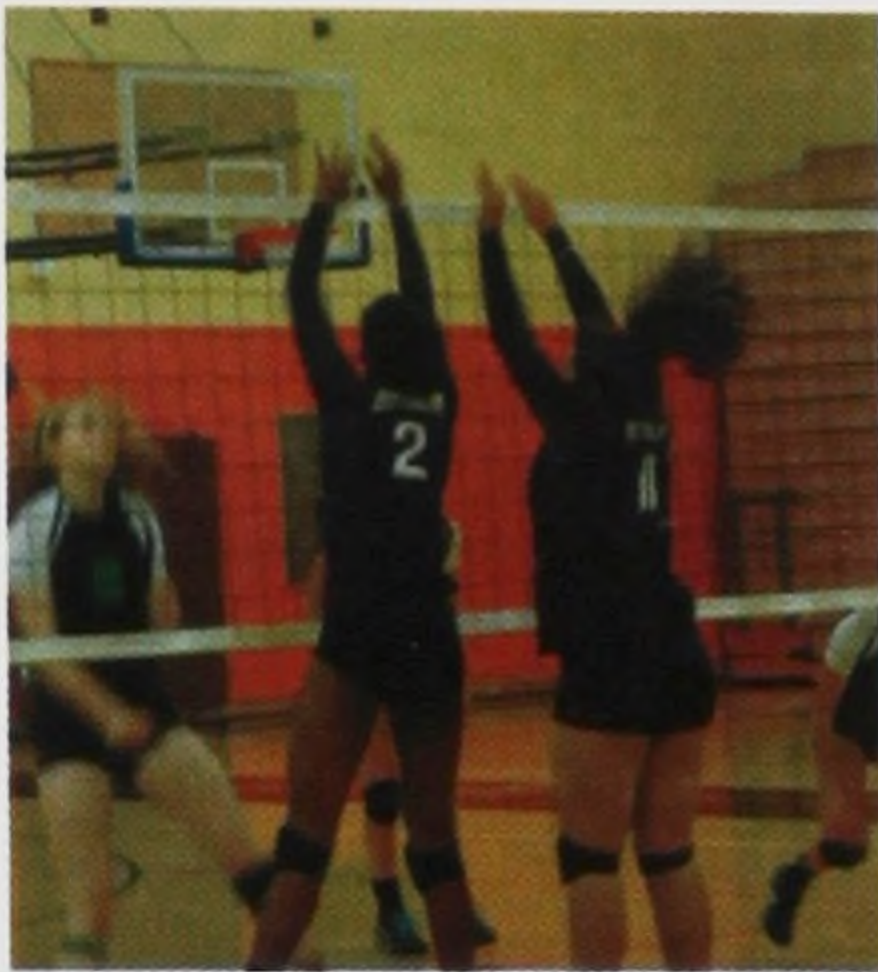

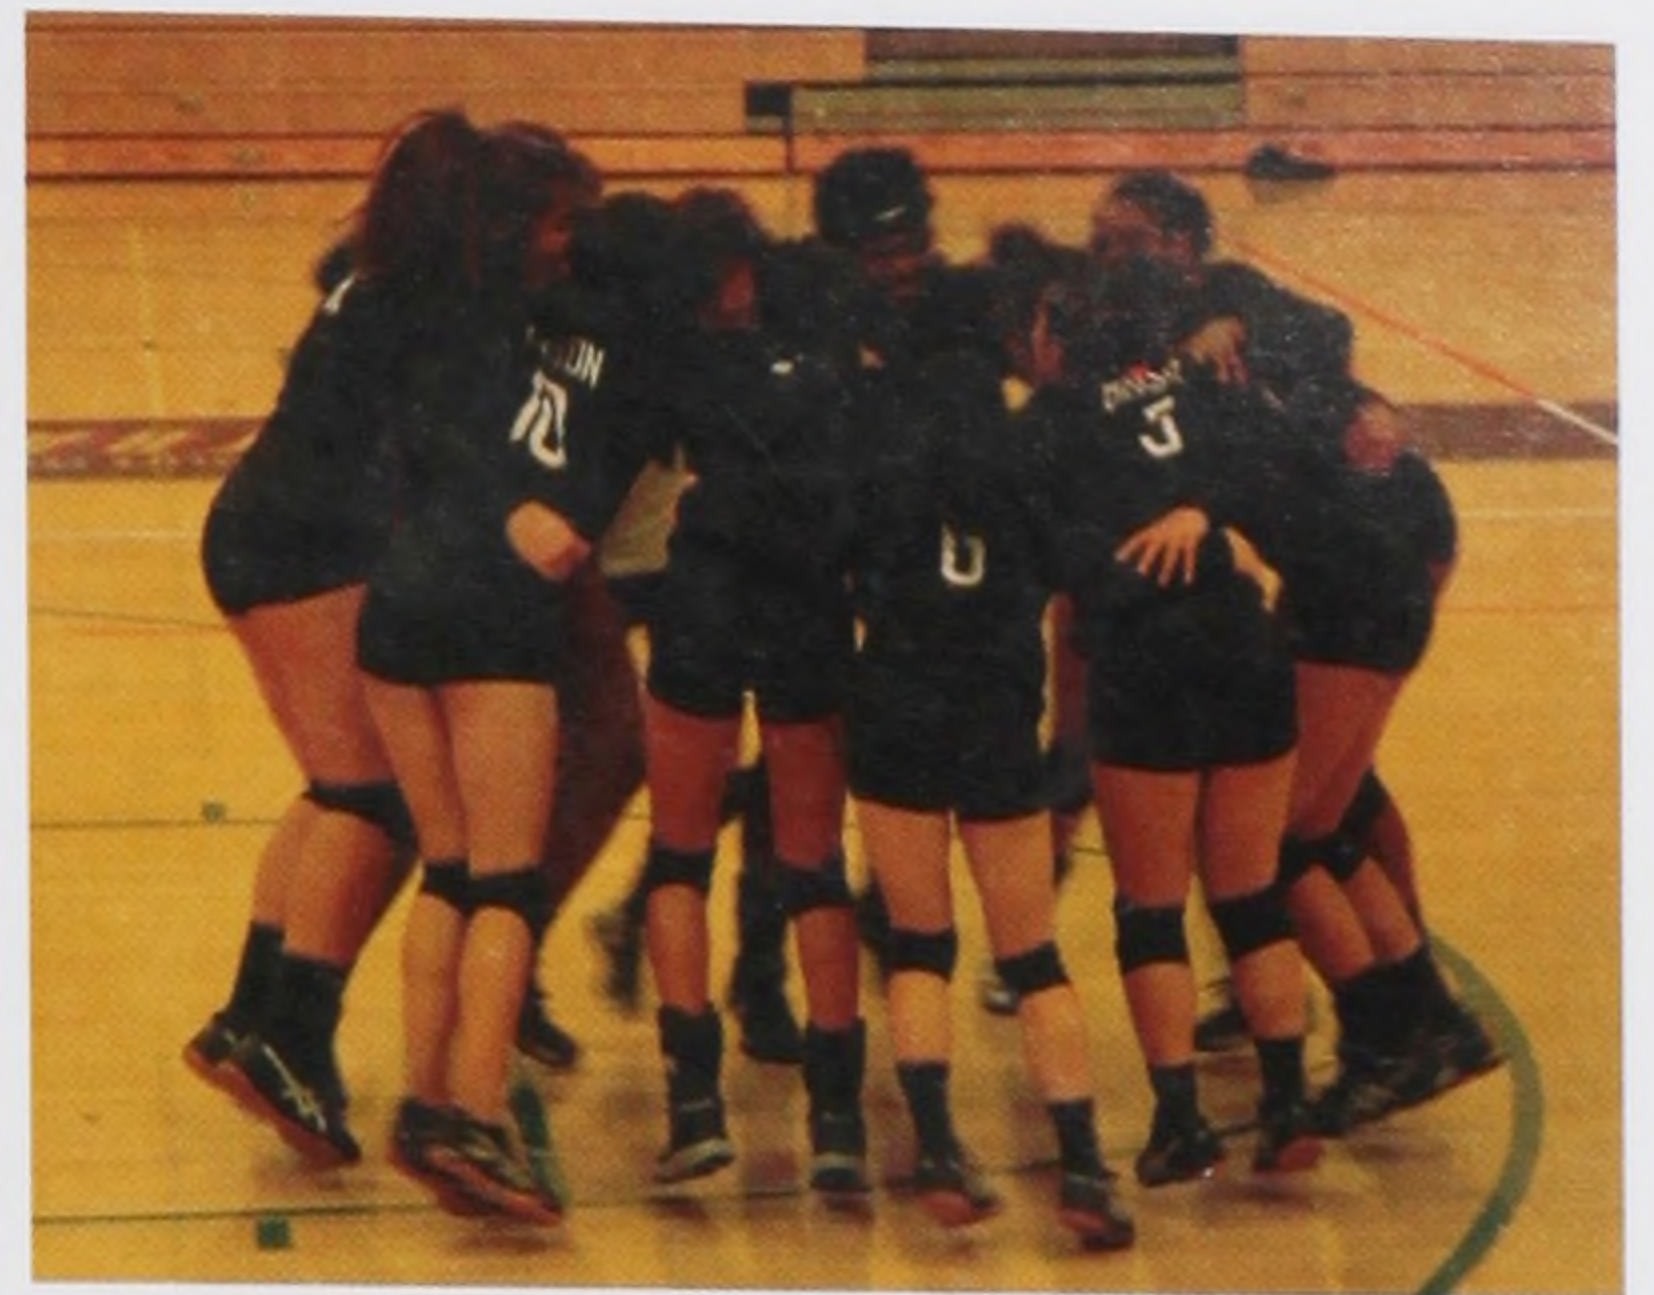

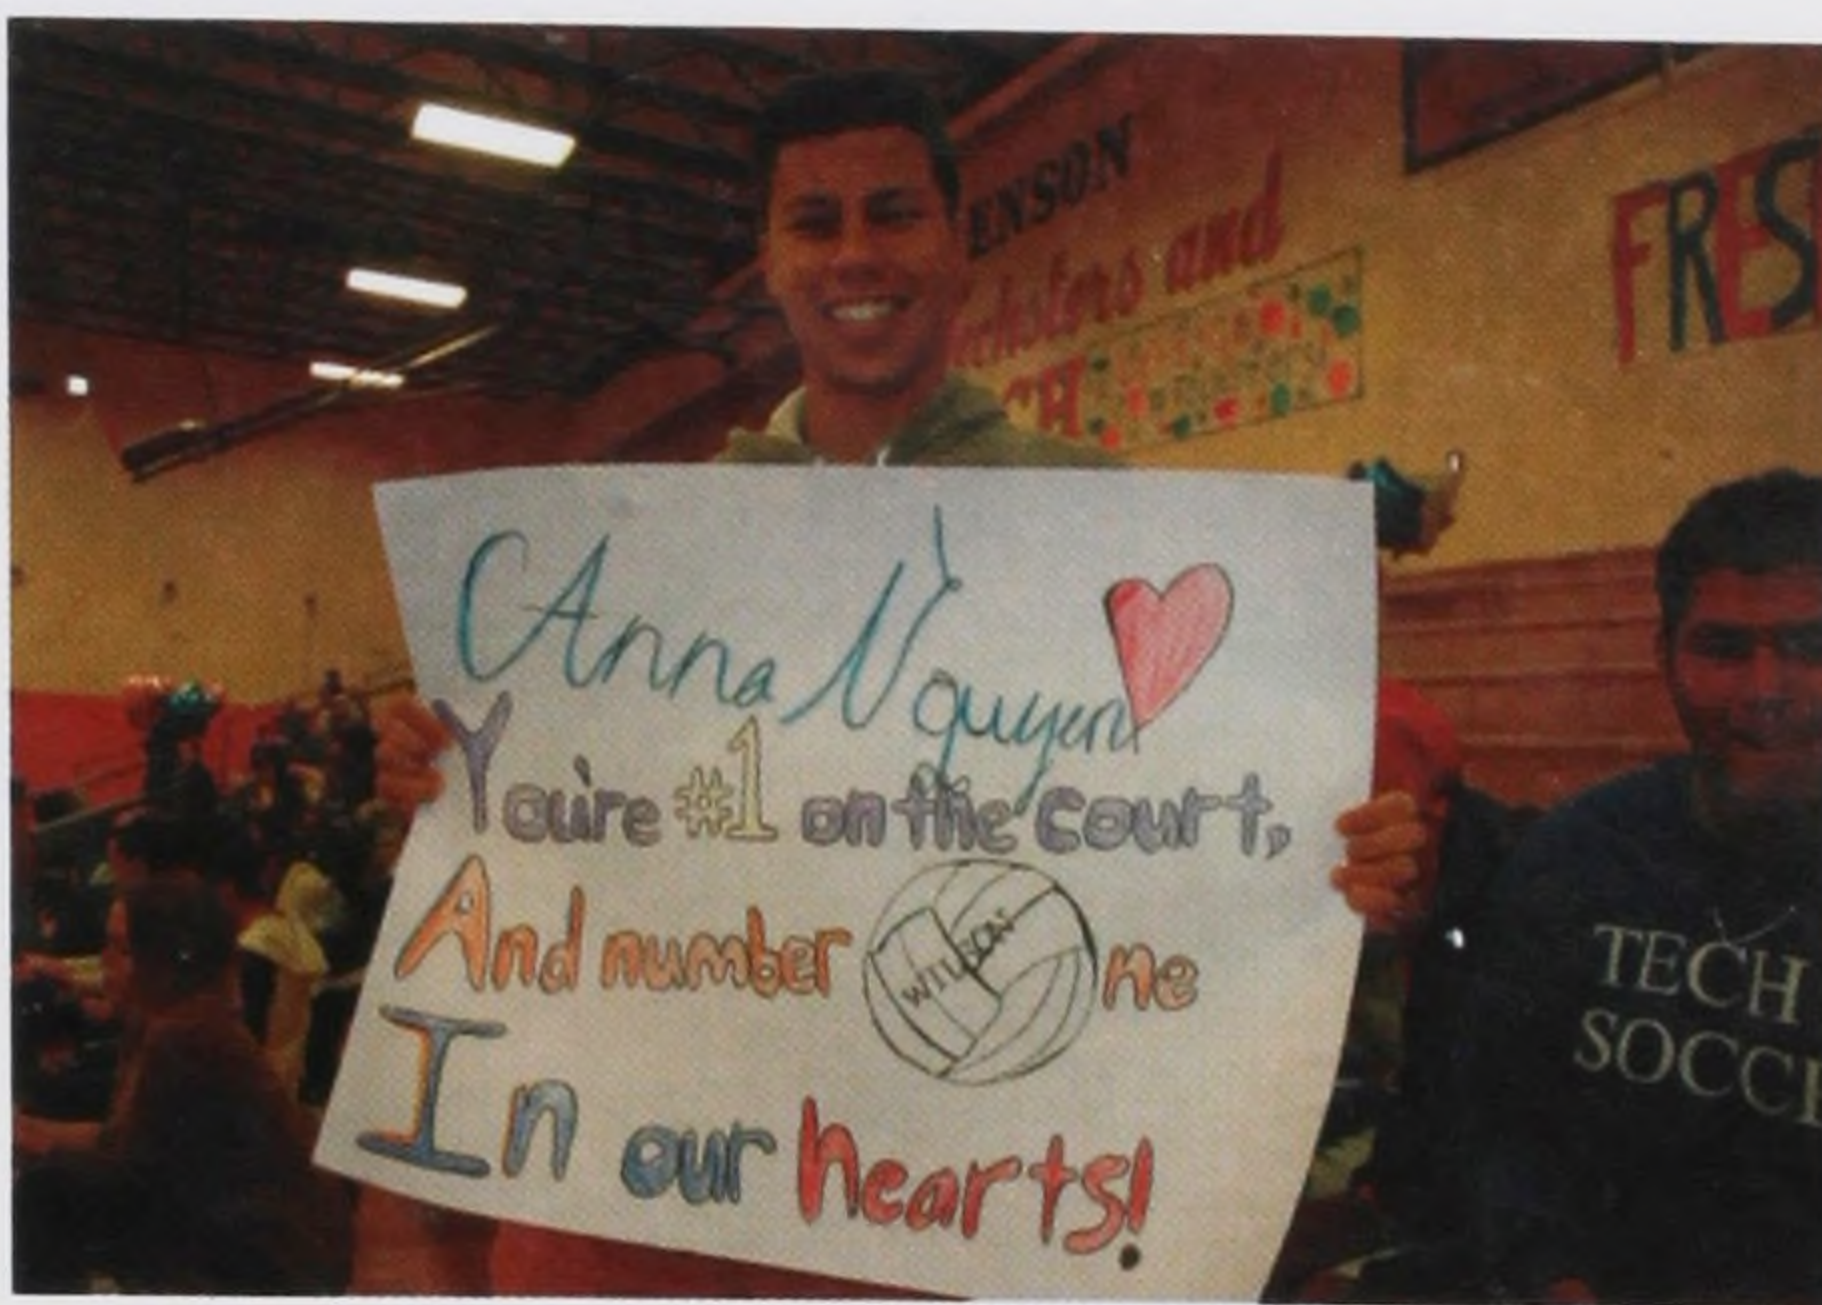

5. Anna is known for being uplifting and kind to everyone on the team. However, she is still amazing on the court.

With a strong culture and a long tradition bolstered by coaches like Linda McLellan (below) Benson volleyball has been able to count on a strong team throughout the years, often benefitting from the return of Benson alum and former volleyball players like current coach Sabrina Nelson.

Cross Country

Our sport is your sport's punishment.

“I can’t fly... But running is the next best thing. One of the beauties of running is that you can be dependent upon yourself; it takes off a world of pressure and it makes the sport just that much more enjoyable.” - Aidan Guthrie

“Other sports run as a punishment. Cross country runs for fun.” - Simon Criswell

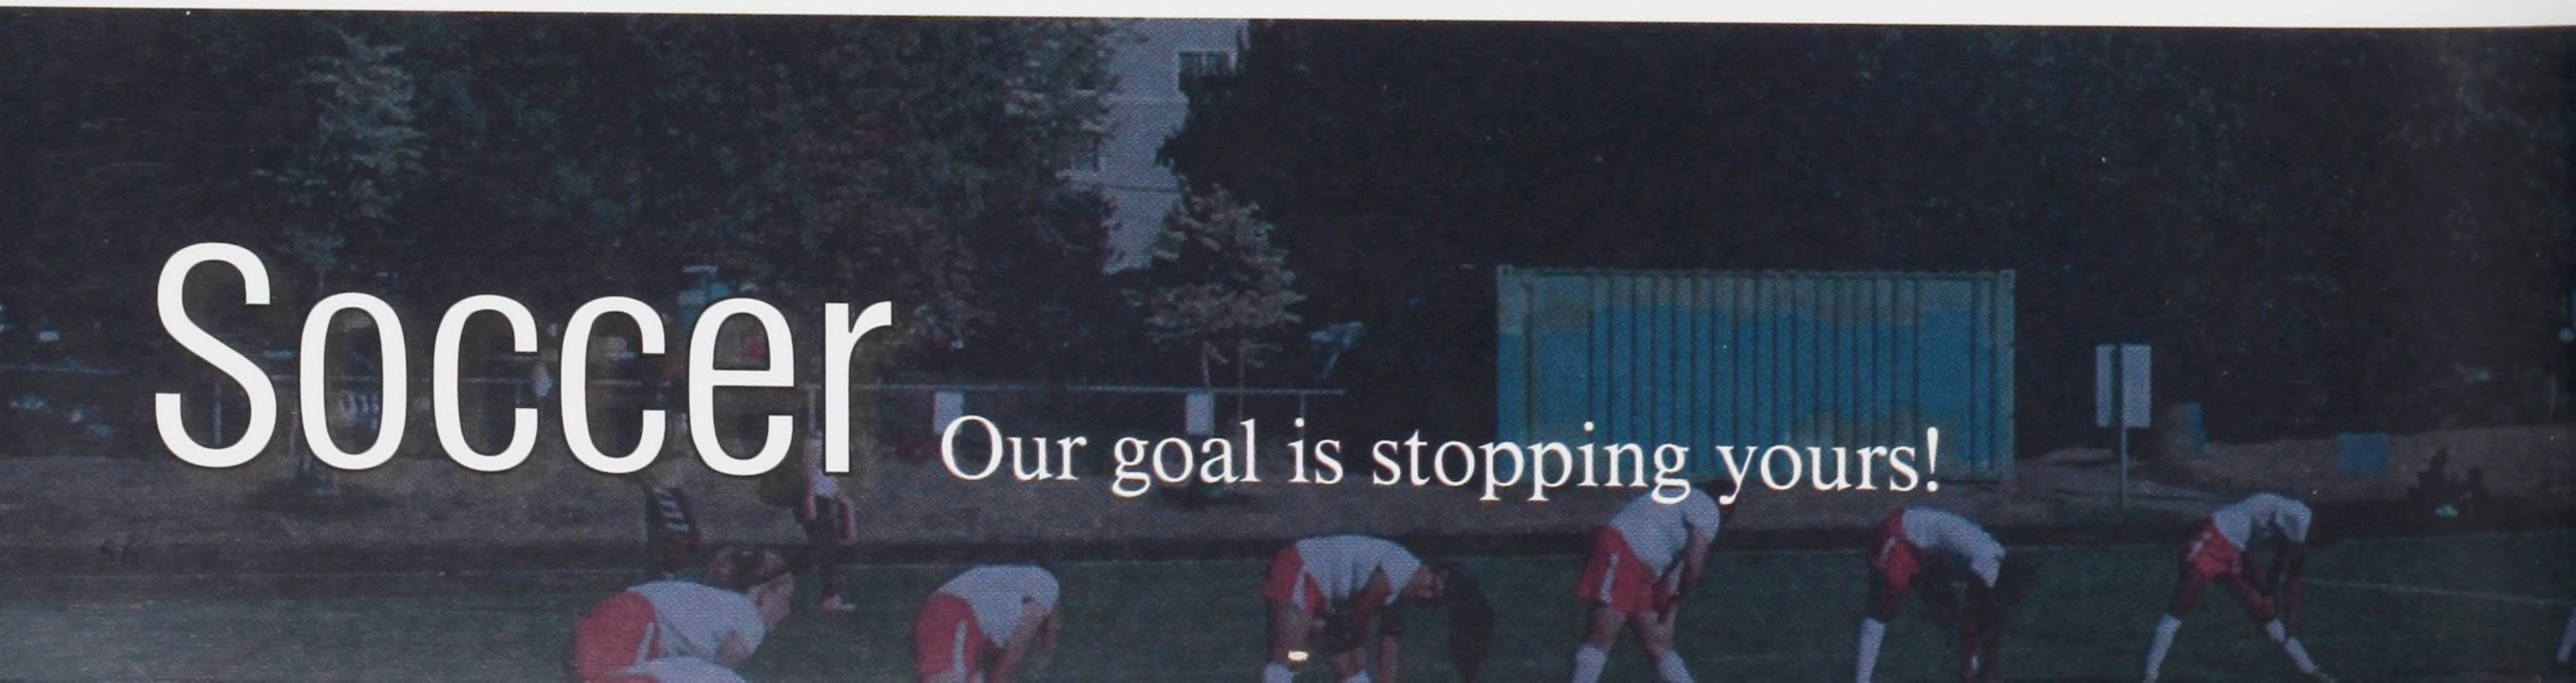

We got a chance to interview one of the captains of the girls team, Sarah Furness, about her experience on the team and her plans on playing soccer in the future.

Sarah Furness: "My experience with the team was great. Everyone was amazing and we all love each other like a family. For my future plans, I plan to become a professional soccer player."

"We did pretty well this season. We had a lot of freshmen on the team this year, so that meant we had to teach a lot of kids who had never wrestled before. That forced me to step up as a leader. Second year dance team member Andrea Darke shared some of her thoughts about the team:

“I love dance. We’re like a funny little family. It sounds weird, but when we don’t have dance I feel like I broke up with a boyfriend or something. I just feel the loss of a joyful part of my life.

“We are super lucky to get the chance to work with choreographers from around the country who fly in and help us work out our dance routines. It’s so inspiring to be a part of a creative process like that.”
