Administration

Rasmussen, Marvin R.
Principal

Andersen, Harold H.
Vice-Principal

School administrators are the people who keep the school "on the track" and running smoothly. They are responsible for everything that goes into the operation of a school. They must plan ahead for those problems which they may see in any area of the school's future. They must be ready at any moment to meet an emergency in any area of the school. They must have their "fingers on the pulse" of school maintenance, curriculum, financing, personnel and students. They must furnish leadership and direction in all the many facets of education in their individual school. The class of 1967 salutes the administrators af Benson Polytechnic High School. . . . .they are the BEST.

Nishimura, Aki
Vice-Principal

Faculty

Mr. James Patrick, Mr. Jack Rice, and Mr. George Chesire talk over the world problems in the teacher's lounge. All you seniors who have wondered for the past four years just what deep, dark secrets "go on" in this sanctum sanctorum, have a look. . . .terrible, isn't it?

Wonder why SOMEONE doesn't empty the ash tray?

Benson has a small group of instructors who are also assigned to special duties: college scholarship counselling; job opportunity counselling; student government advisors; and special events producers (Tech Show, 49er, etc., etc.) These persons have been chosen for their special abilities in their fields. They have the cooperation of all faculty members in their work which is, mainly, to further the educational program of Benson Polytechnic School.

Benson's counselling department is staffed with dedicated personnel who offer their aid to students with almost any type of problem. Those students who do not seem to be working up to their potential in classwork or who are chronic poor achievers, or who have personal problems are counselled by these persons who are NOT disciplinarians. . .they are, in the finest sense of the word, COUNSELLORS.

Mrs. Lannon

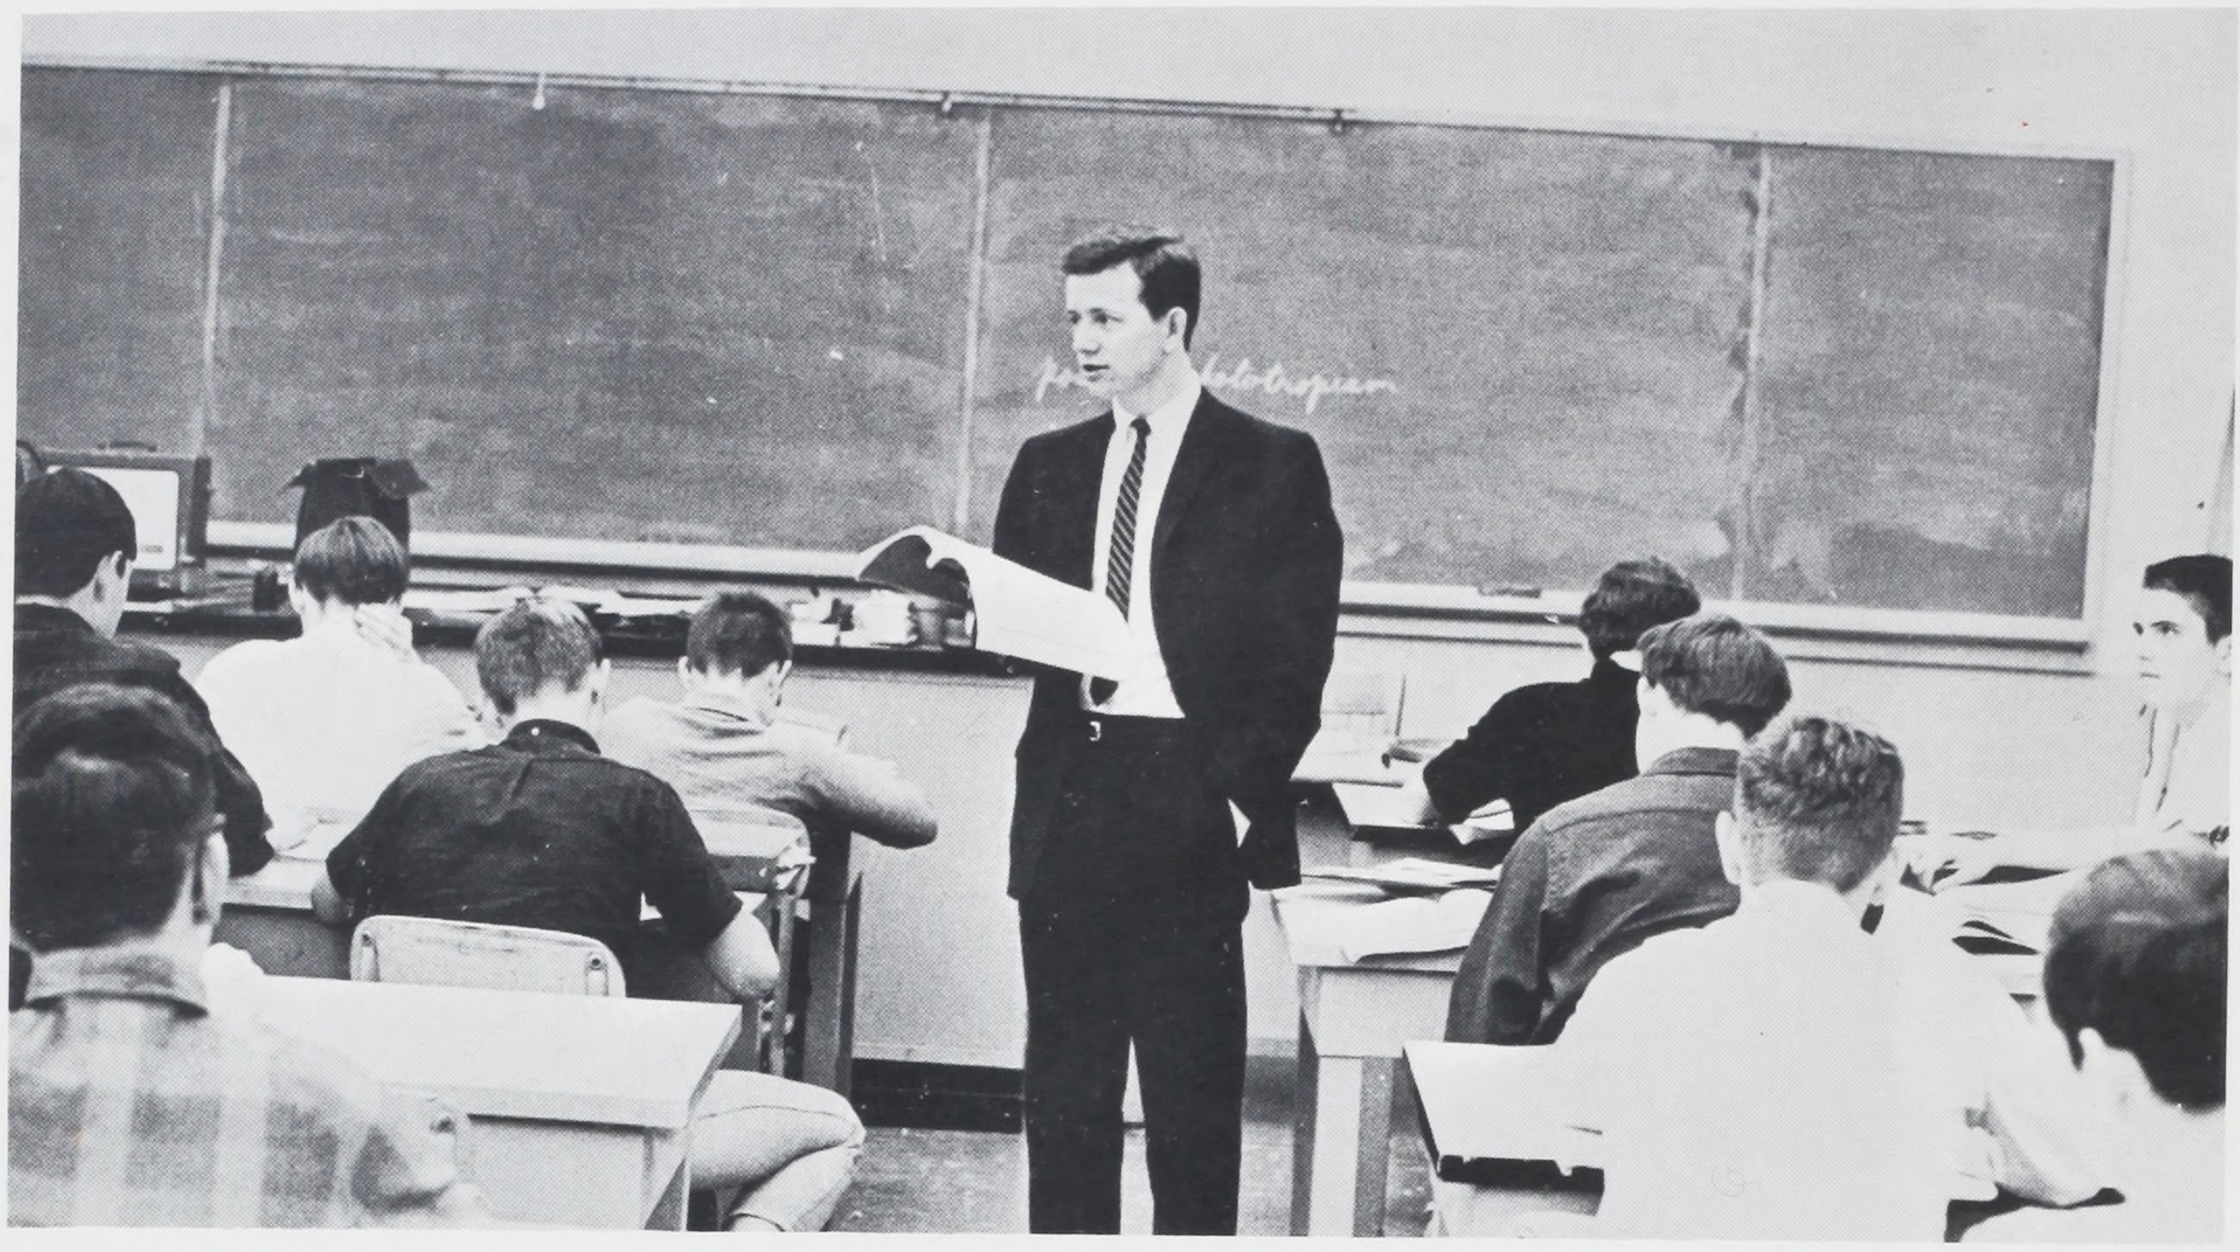
Seniors

Faculty



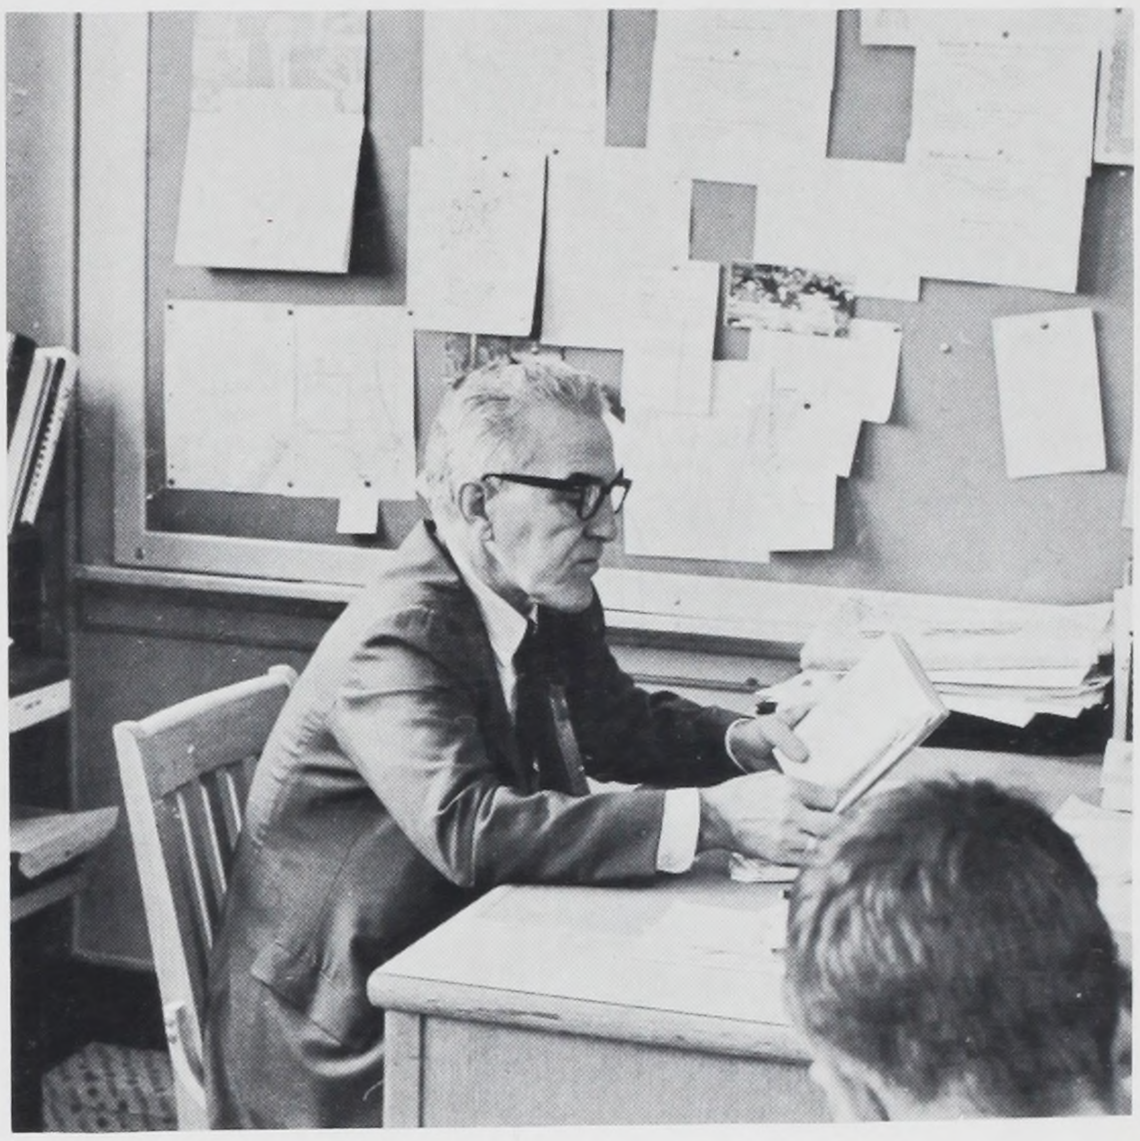
Mr. McIntee teaches his freshmen the man ideas of biology.

A Benson senior comes to Mr. Flumerfelt for some advice in sheet metal.

Faculty

Mr. Stiff poses with Blueprint editor.

Mr. Hanson works on the piano.



Mr. Rice, Blueprint advisor, works with his sophomore English class.

Miss Morrison helps a Benson student find what he wants.

Mrs. Viken and Mrs. Crafton help Miss Morrison with her library work.

Library

Benson students find all the books they need in the well equiped Benson library.

The Benson library is probably the most "used" area in the Tech complex. Open at 7 a.m. for the early "birds", the library is a study area that is always crowded with eager Techmen who wish to further their knowledge, Miss F.Morrison, who has been our librarian since 1929, is always ready and more than willing togive aid and comfort to those who wish to use the facilities available in this center of information. The BLUEPRINT staff wishes to dedi cate this page of their 1967 book to Miss Morrison, her staff, and the Benson library.

Eluding Madison's (22) Terry Houck and (87) Bob Hoffman is Tech's sprinting halfback, GARY BOWLES.

(81) FRANZ JEANNIS and (76) ANTONE NADJEK put the screws to Madison quarterback (12) Dave White.

JOEY WARDE (23) turns on the steam as he sweeps around end and leaves the Madison defenders in his dust.

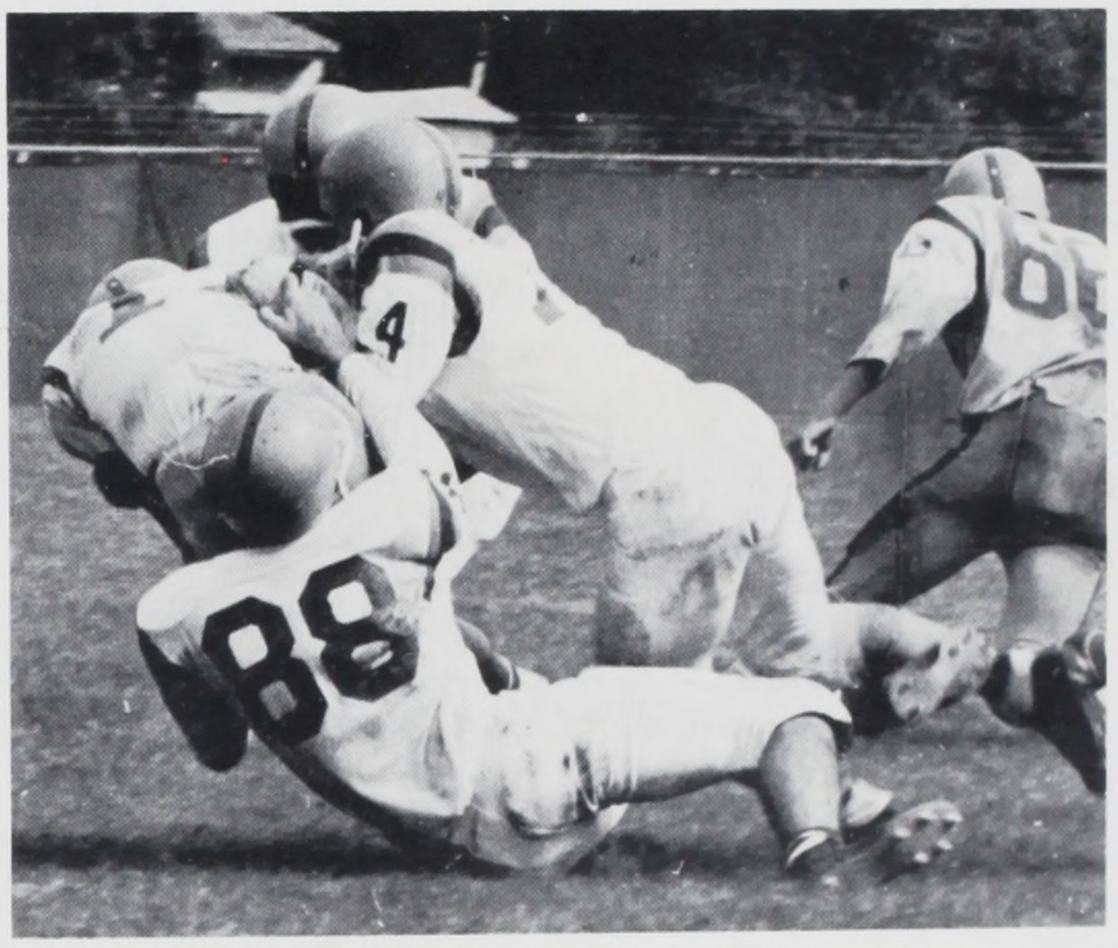
The 1966 football season will certainly have to go down as one of the most frustrating of the school's history. In five games the Engineers had over 300 yards rushing and yet were unable to snare a a single victory. The one game that the Techmen won, the first of the season, was an upset victory over Madison, 14—7. There were four games in which the Techmen were completely out of contention. According to COACH HENNESSY the big reason, he feels, why the team lacked the necessary ingredients for victory was because of offensive mistakes at key points of the game, such as bad centers, fumbling, missed assignments and a real lack of defensive desire and pride.

And yet the future could be bright for Benson, providing that the returnees will learn from this year's mistakes that games are won on the field in the fall after training all year round. For the 1967 season training should begin in the winter and carry on through to next fall. Desire is the most important ingredient for a championship football team. The boys of this school and for that matter any other school, who desire to be a winner will have to pay the price.

The answer to whether we're going to have a good team next season will depend strictly upon next year's seniors and juniors and the progress they make during the school year and summer.

Coach Dick Hennessy reviews first half mistakes during halftime of the Madison game. Refreshing oranges are provided for players.

Fleetfooted halfback (42) GARY BOWLES breezes by Marshall's (5) Dan Colvin and seeks to elude (31) Mike Swygart of Marshall's secondary.



Mike Hebner (88), Dan Jones (14), and Bill Barnett really rack up Madison's quarterback as number 66 looks for a hiding place.

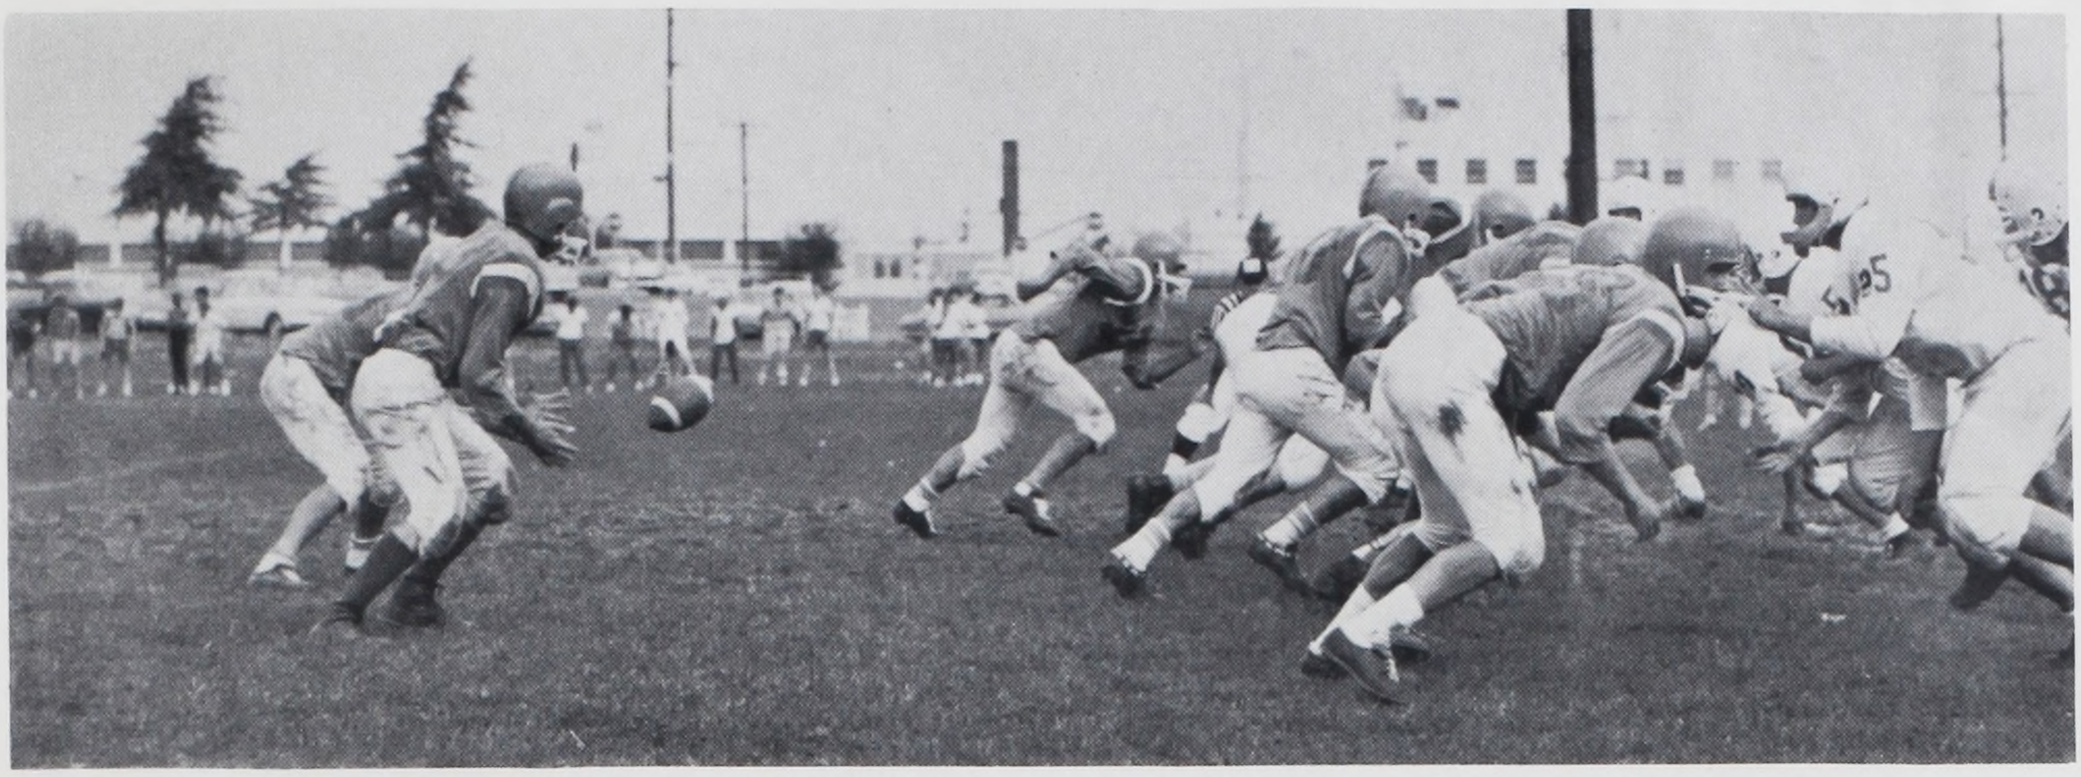
J. V. FOOTBALL

This year's JV had a winning season with a 4 win, 3 loss and 1 tie record, according to Coach Mike Lopez. Their best game was against Lincoln. The mighty Tech JV downed the Cards 37-7. One of the leading scorers, FORMAN LEE, was a kicking specialist hitting on several field goals of 35 yards. FORMAN had a game high of 10 points. against Lincoln.

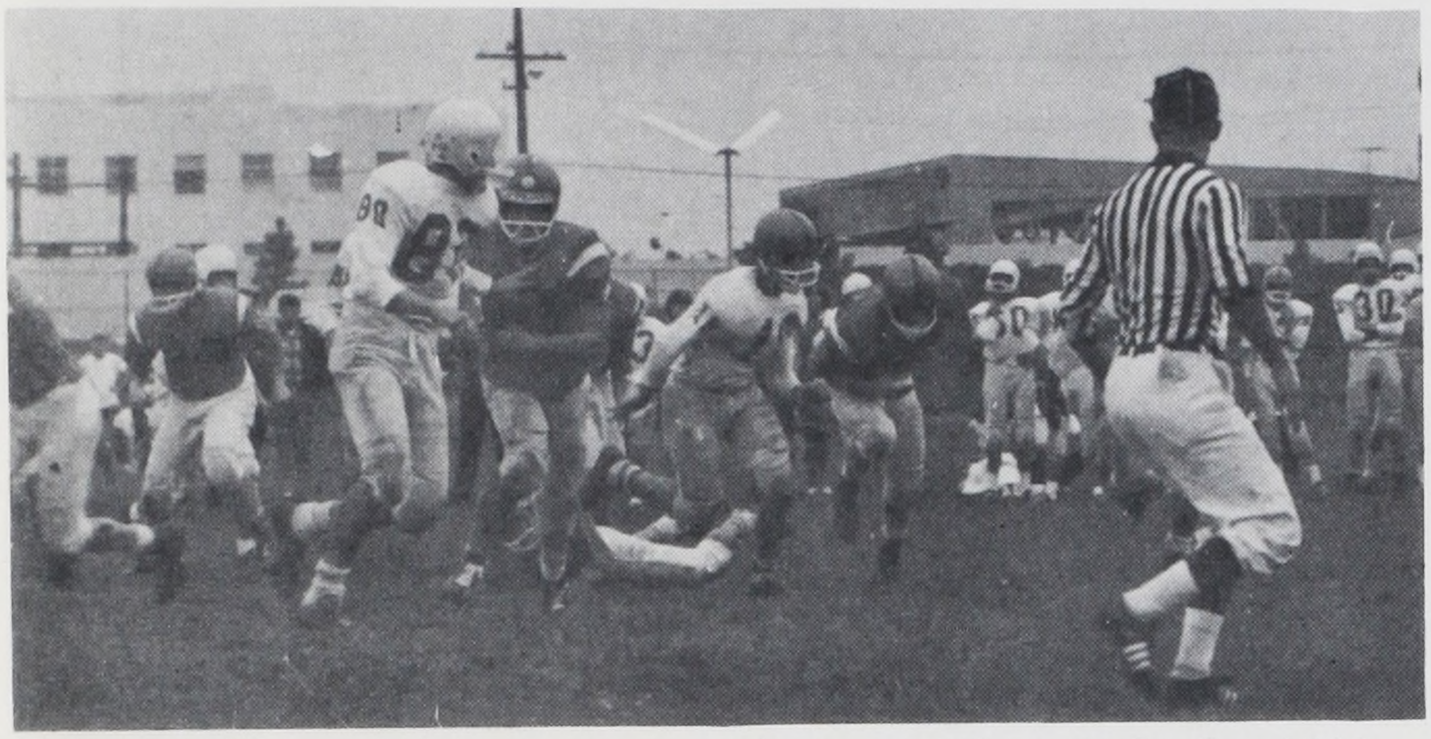
This year's most valuable player was MIKE MEYER. The best backs were MIKE MEYER, BOB BEAL, and DAVE FOUST.

This season's defensive standouts were MIKE MEYER, DAVID NISHIKAWA, BRUNO PANCERELLI and LOREN SKOIEN, a transfer from Cleveland.

This year's J.V. is next year's varsity. With the fine potential of these boys, Tech is looking foreward to a fine season next year.



It looks like a mouse-trap play as Tech's fighting J. V. goes for yardage against Wilson.



Dave Foust is about to throw a block at Wilson Defender (80) on an end sweep.

Frosh Football

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Benson had a fine group of athletes on the freshman football team this year. There was good size and steady improvement as the season progressed. The freshmen played sound football with good blocking and tackling. Lack of speed possibly held our win-lose record to two wins and four losses. The freshman "B" squad won all three of their games.

LLOYD GRIMSRUDE and GEORGE NULPH, our most valuable players, did an outstanding job as linebackers on defense and helped open large holes in the line on offense with their trap blocks from the blocking-back position.

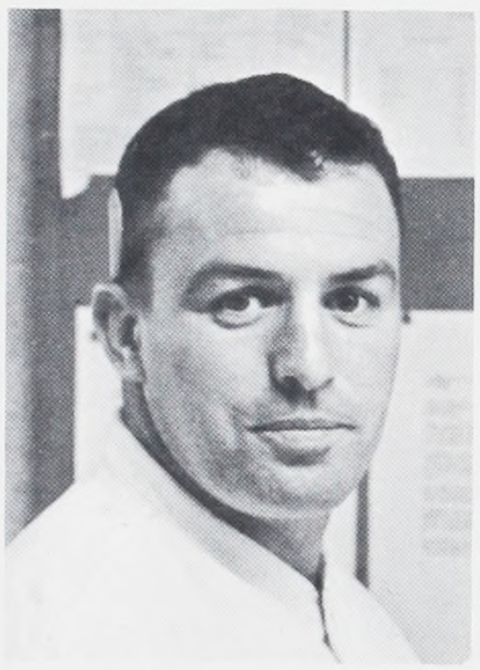
Frosh Wrestling



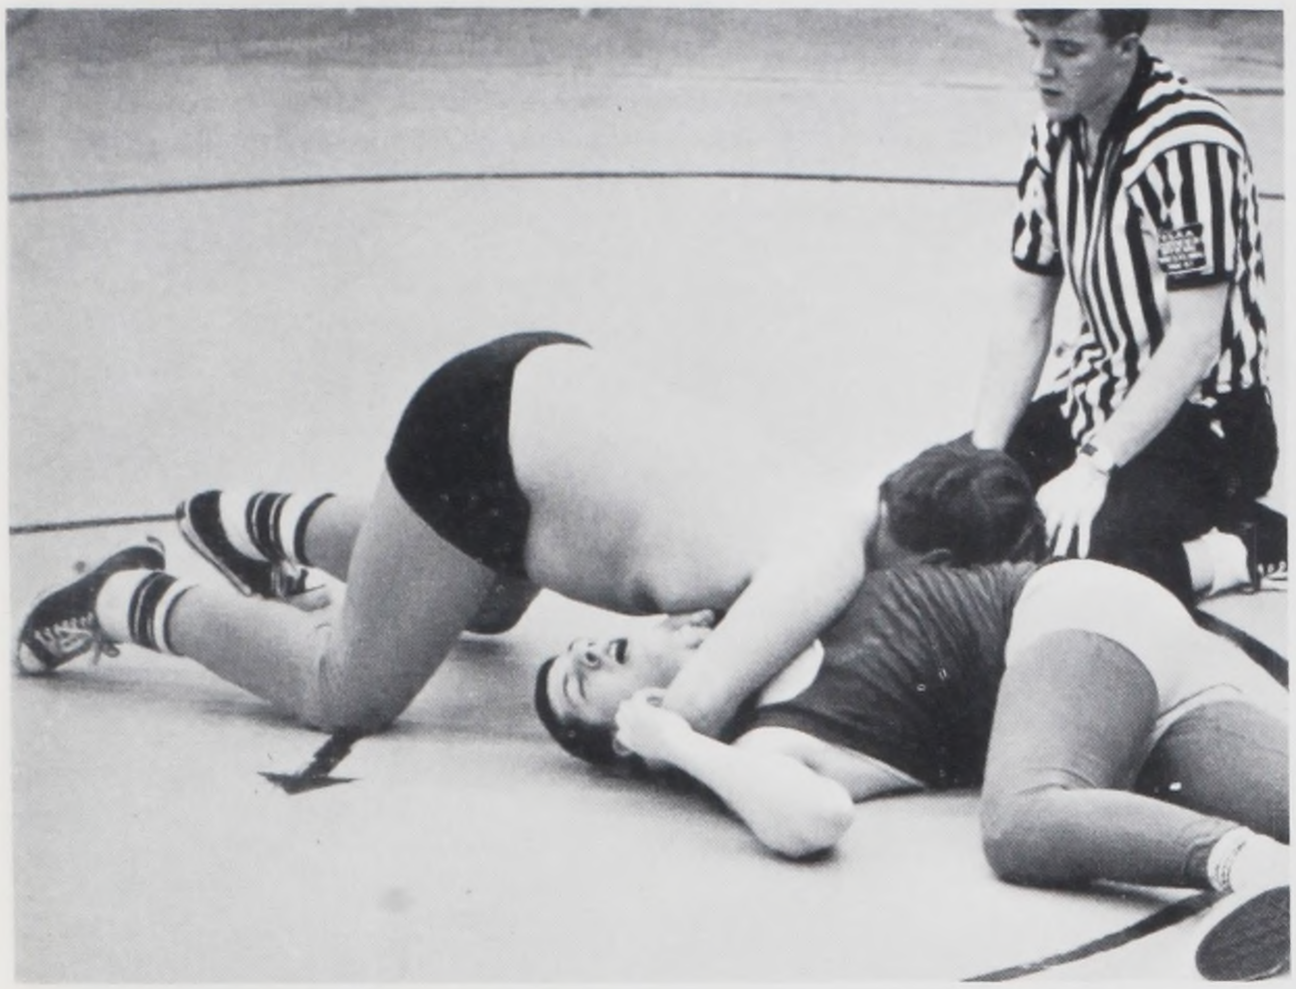
Coach Dick Hennessy

Desire to be the best, pride in themselves, and just plain hard work equals Championship.

That is the story of Benson's 1966-67 Freshman wrestling team which tied Grant for the P.I.L. title. Both schools completed their season with identical records of 10 wins and a single loss.

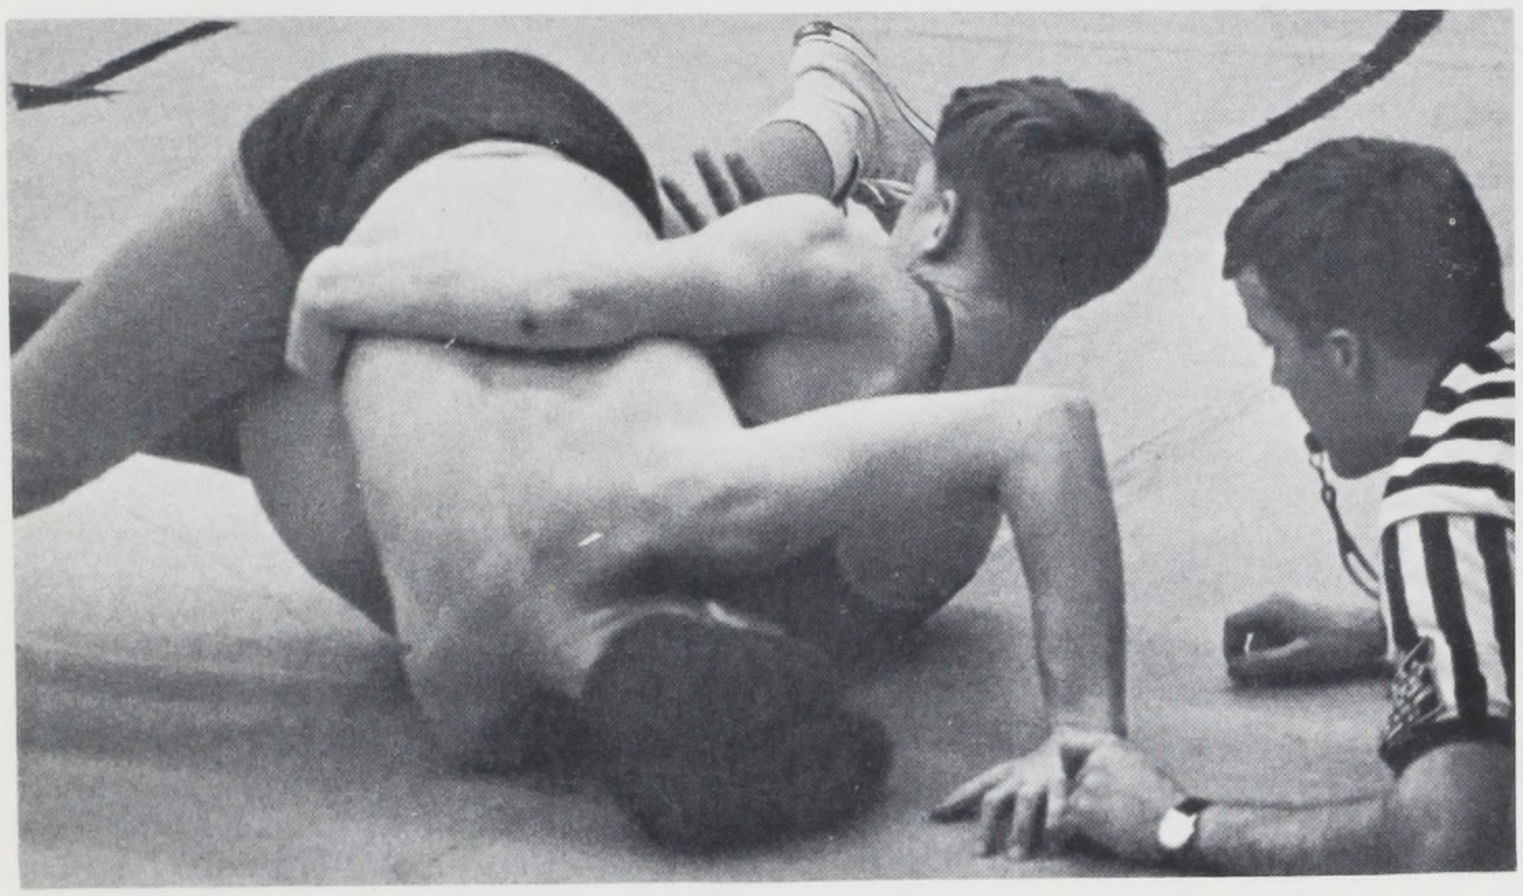
After winning the dual meet title, the Tech Frosh won the second annual Benson Invitation Tournament for the second straight year. Tech Frosh had ten champions in the fifteen weight divisions of the meet. Techmen winning championshops included Bob Carter at 90 lbs., Capt. James Thomas at 95 lbs., Kanetaka Ikeda at 110 lbs., Jerry Jackson at 115 lbs., Blair Pomeroy at 130 lbs., Tim Arndt at 136 lbs., John Carlson at 141 lbs., Dave McCoy at 148 lbs., George Nulph at 147 lbs., and Dave Meyer, heavy weight.

In addition to the champions, Wayne Olson, Bob Petrie, Rick Jacoby and Dan Geist finished in second places while Paul Schindler took a third in his weight.



Heavyweight Dave Meyer puts on the pressure as he works on a pinning combination. In the Benson Invitational he won the heavyweight division.

Rick Jacoby, 123 pounder, shows the quickness needed to be a wrestler, as he tries to slip on a half-nelson.



Blair Pomeroy was 130 lb. champion in the Benson Invitational. He is seen here really going at it, as a Cleveland opponent for a reversal.

Spring Rally

The Spring Rally had a very spirited season which helped our basketball team win games. They were always in front leading the yell for the team and pushing them on to victory. The Rally King was DAVE SCHNABEL who led his "Royal Subjects" in many yells. The rally members were RICHARD PETERSON, TART WONG, TOM EWEN and MIKE CECCANTI. The rally Queen was Etta Curry, and the other members of her court were Laila Borg and Julie Ciperone. These three girls from Girl's Poly attended all football and basketball games to help the boys of Benson rally to bring out the spirit of students of the two schools. The Boys of the Spring Rally were elected in November to serve for the Basketball Season only. They replaced the Fall Rally who attended all of the Football Games along with the same three girls who were on the Spring Rally.

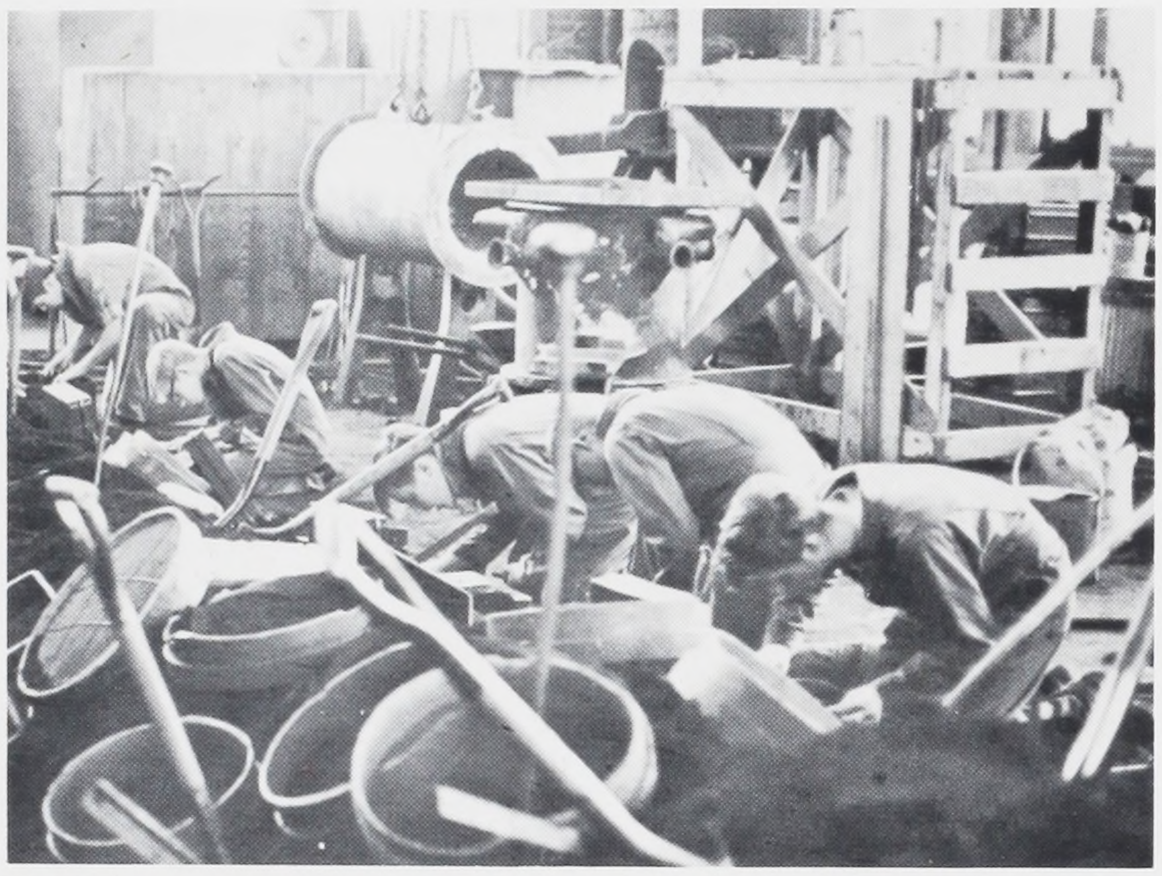
Mr. Summers supervises the students in foundry while they go through the process of pouring molten iron.

Foundry

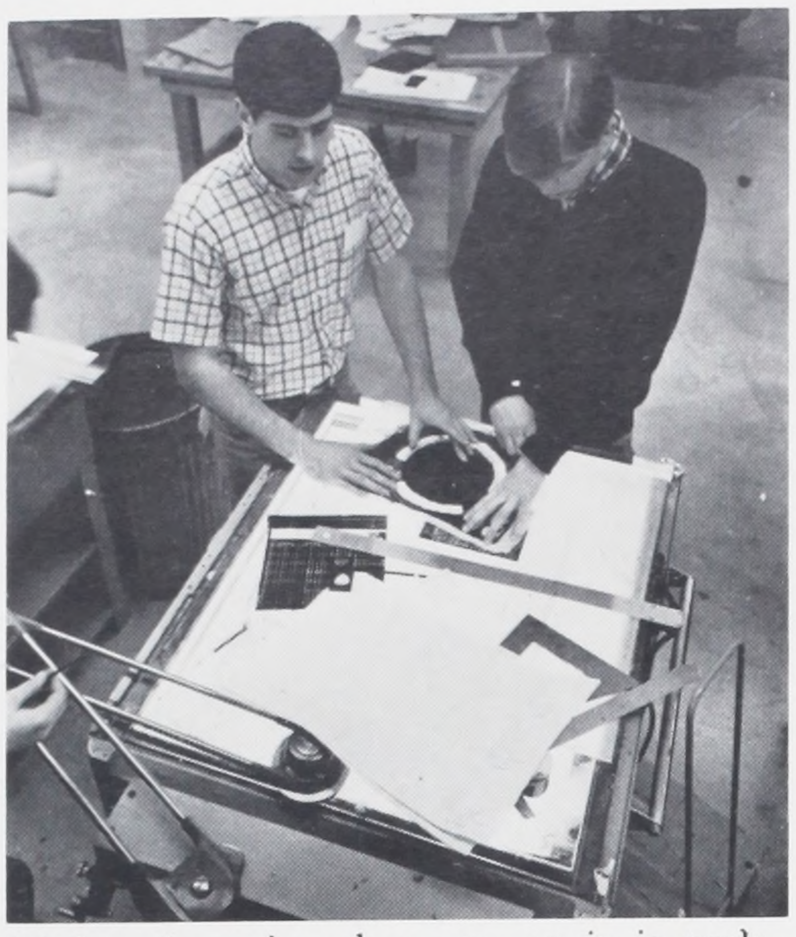


Group of students working on the sandpile begin making plans for a project.

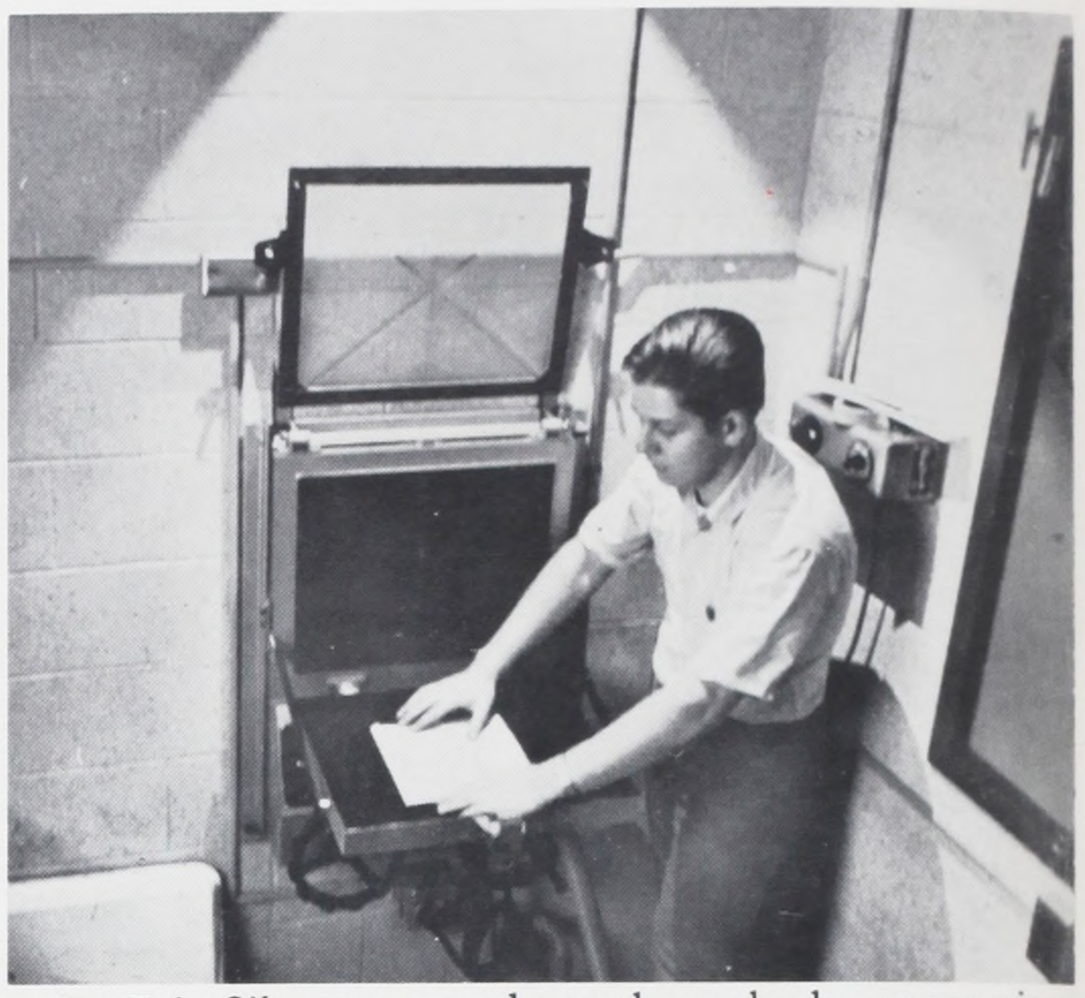
Majors in Foundry are pouring molten iron and gaining valuable experience in doing so.

Sophomore student in Foundry begins the first step in molding a project by first fashioning it.

Molten metal being poured in the Benson Foundry's "twilight zone" presents an eery but colorful sight to the viewer.



Majors in print shop or, as it is technically called, Graphic Arts, work on the light-table while planning layouts.



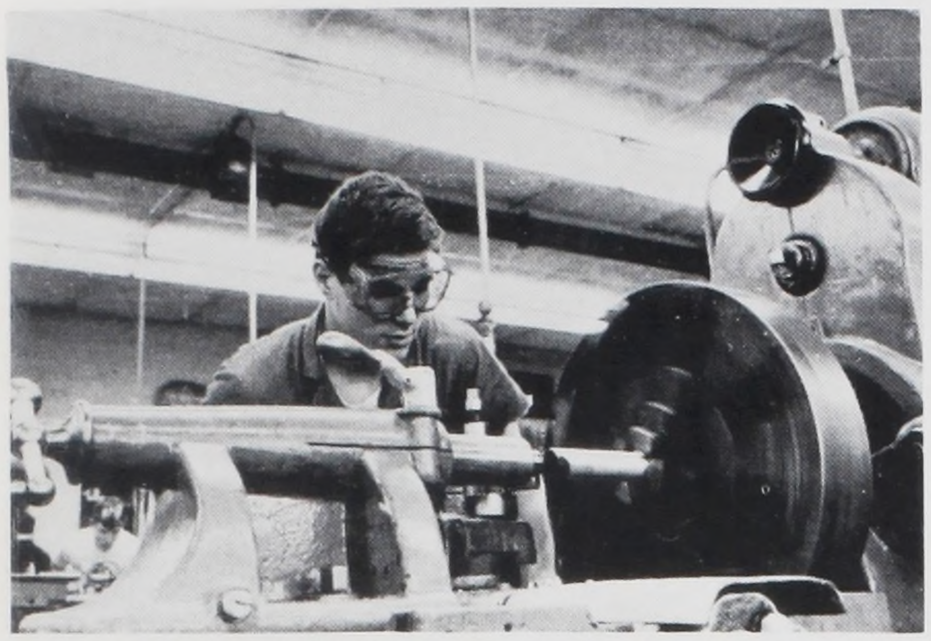
Junior Eric Silva runs a photo through the processing machine in print shop.

Graphic Arts

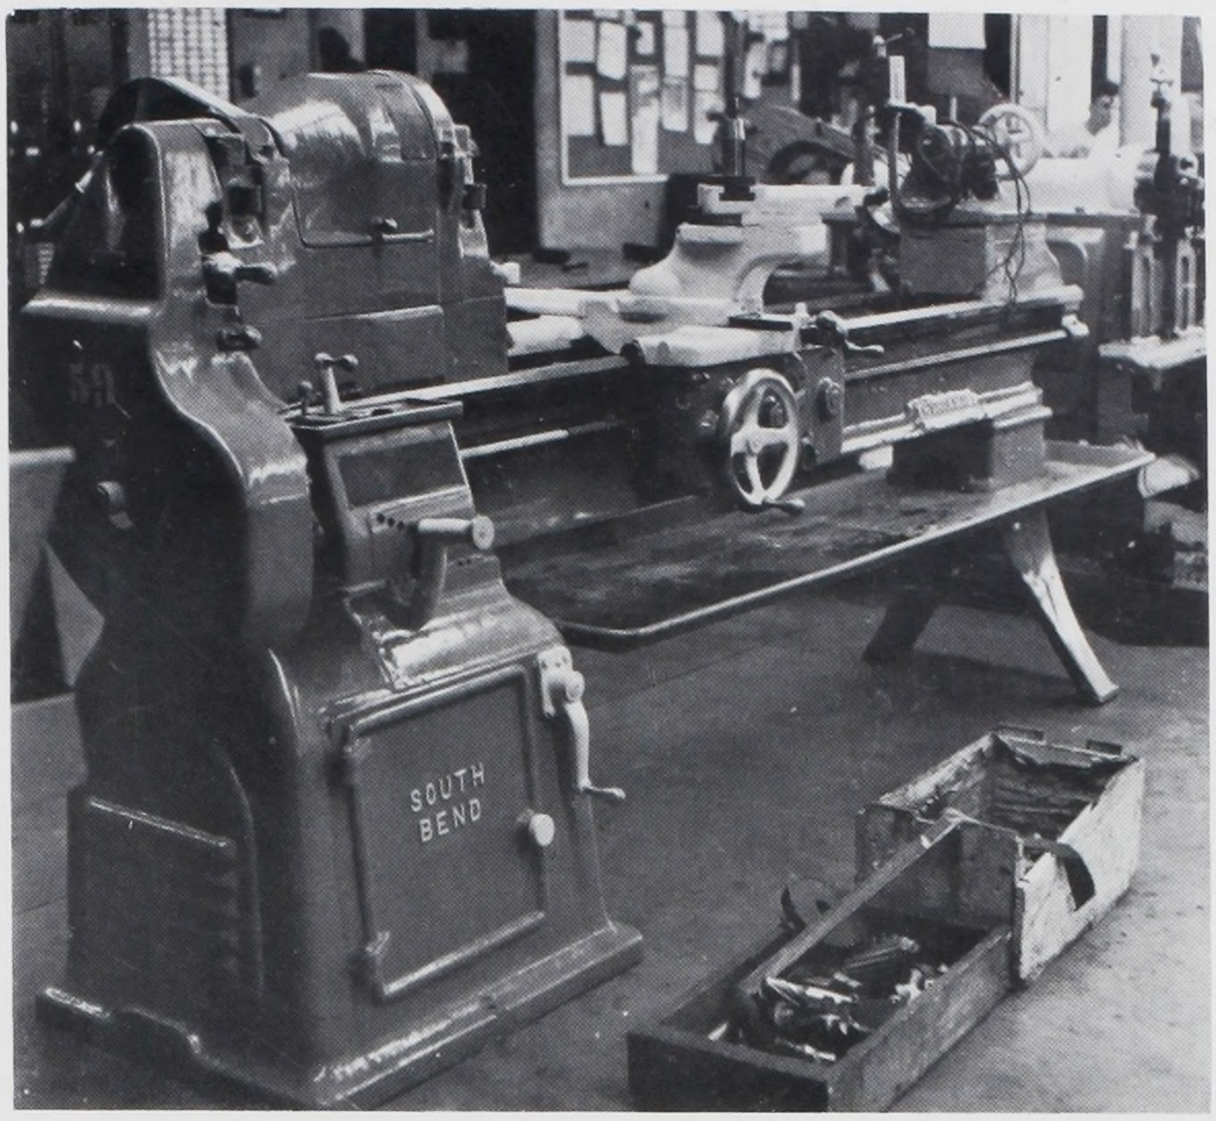
Mr. Howard Jones
Graphic Arts major instructor

Two majors in Graphic Arts work on the "Royal Zenith Offset Press".

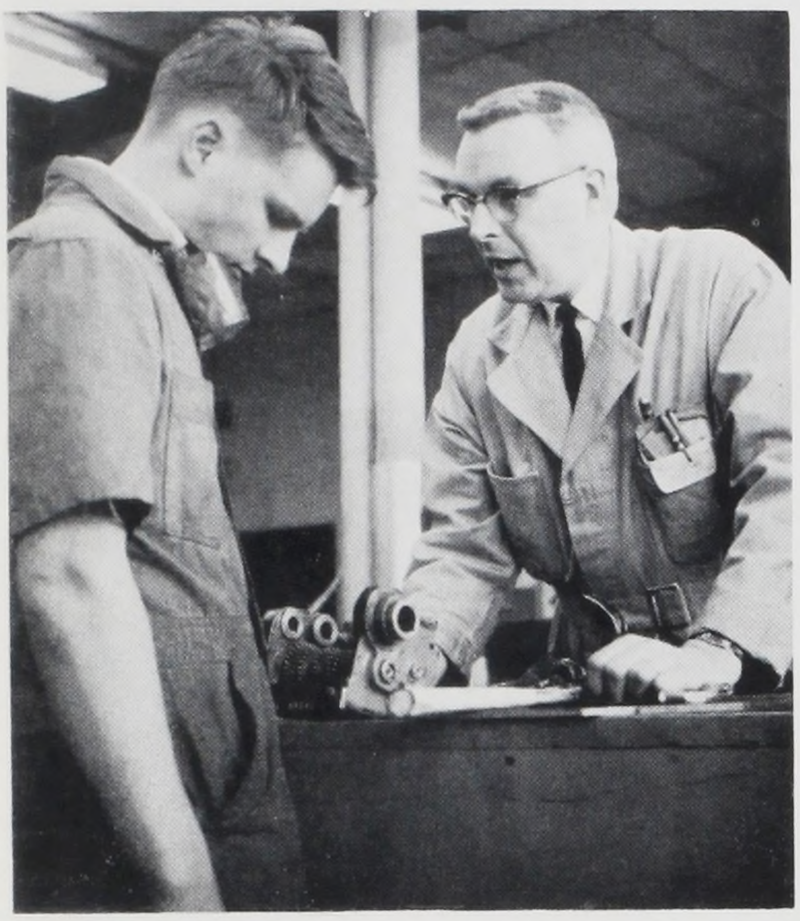
Junior Randy Hastings begins work on a headliner in print shop.



Senior Robert Mankins works on a lathe in machine shop grinding a tool bit.



A typical lathe used by machine majors.



Mr. Jack Dyer
Machine shop instructor and Foreman

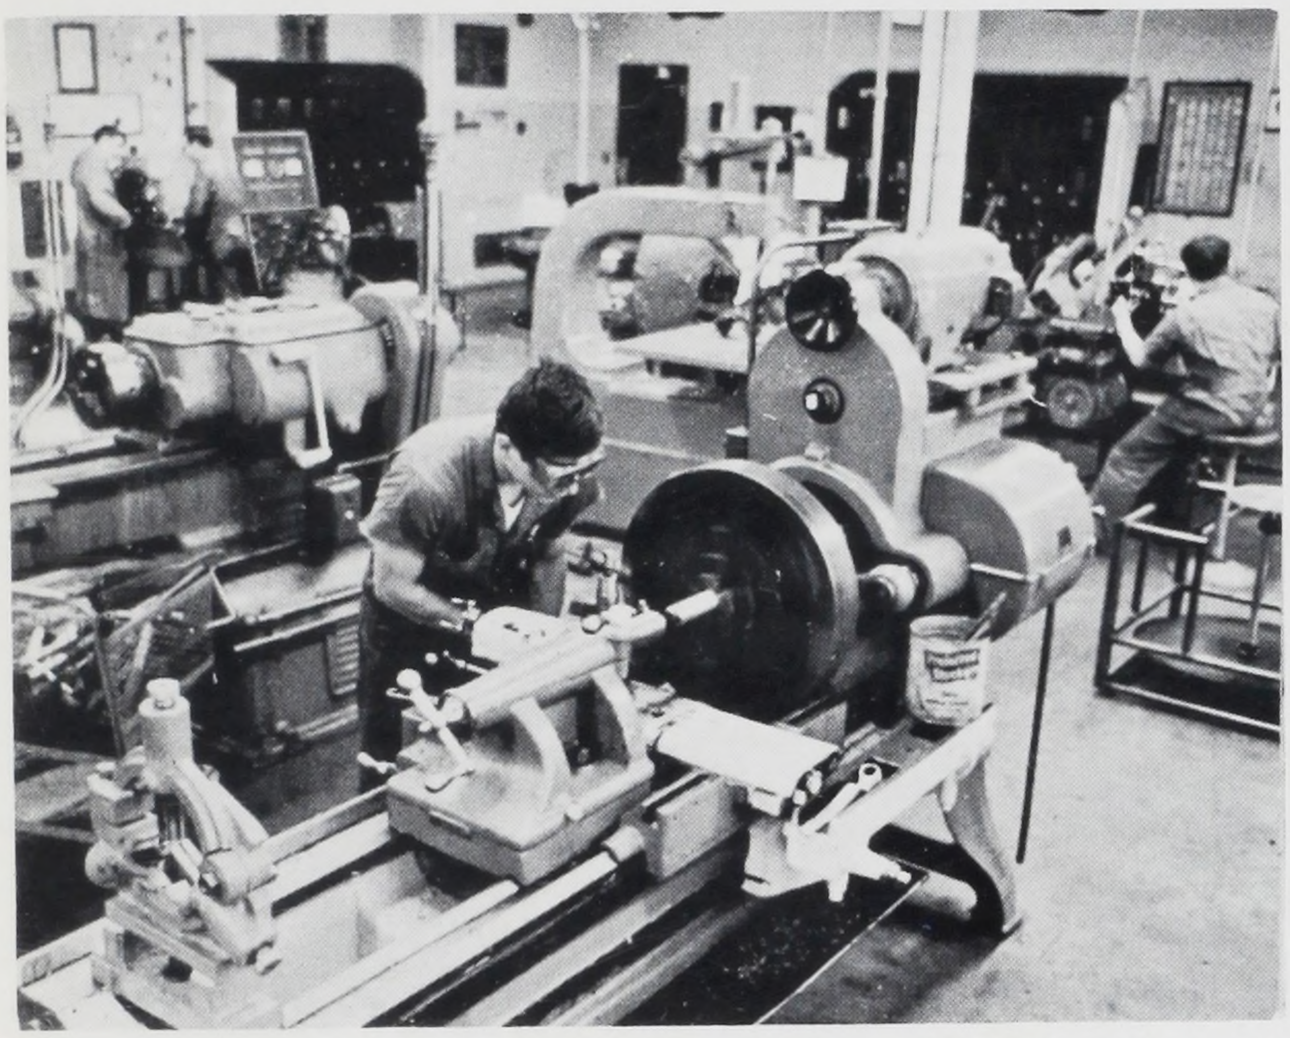
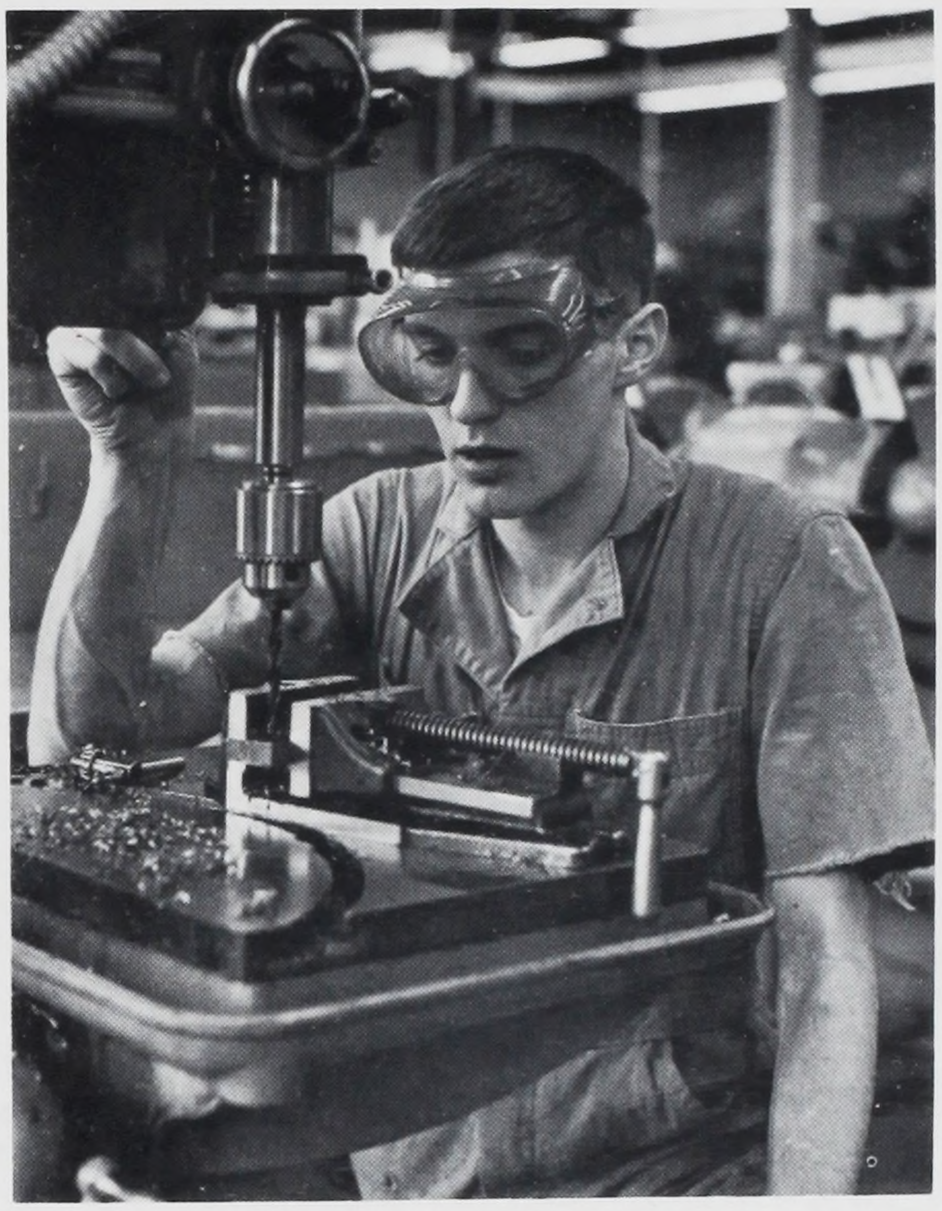
Machine



Here is a student working on a machine in Mr. Dyer's senior machine shop class.

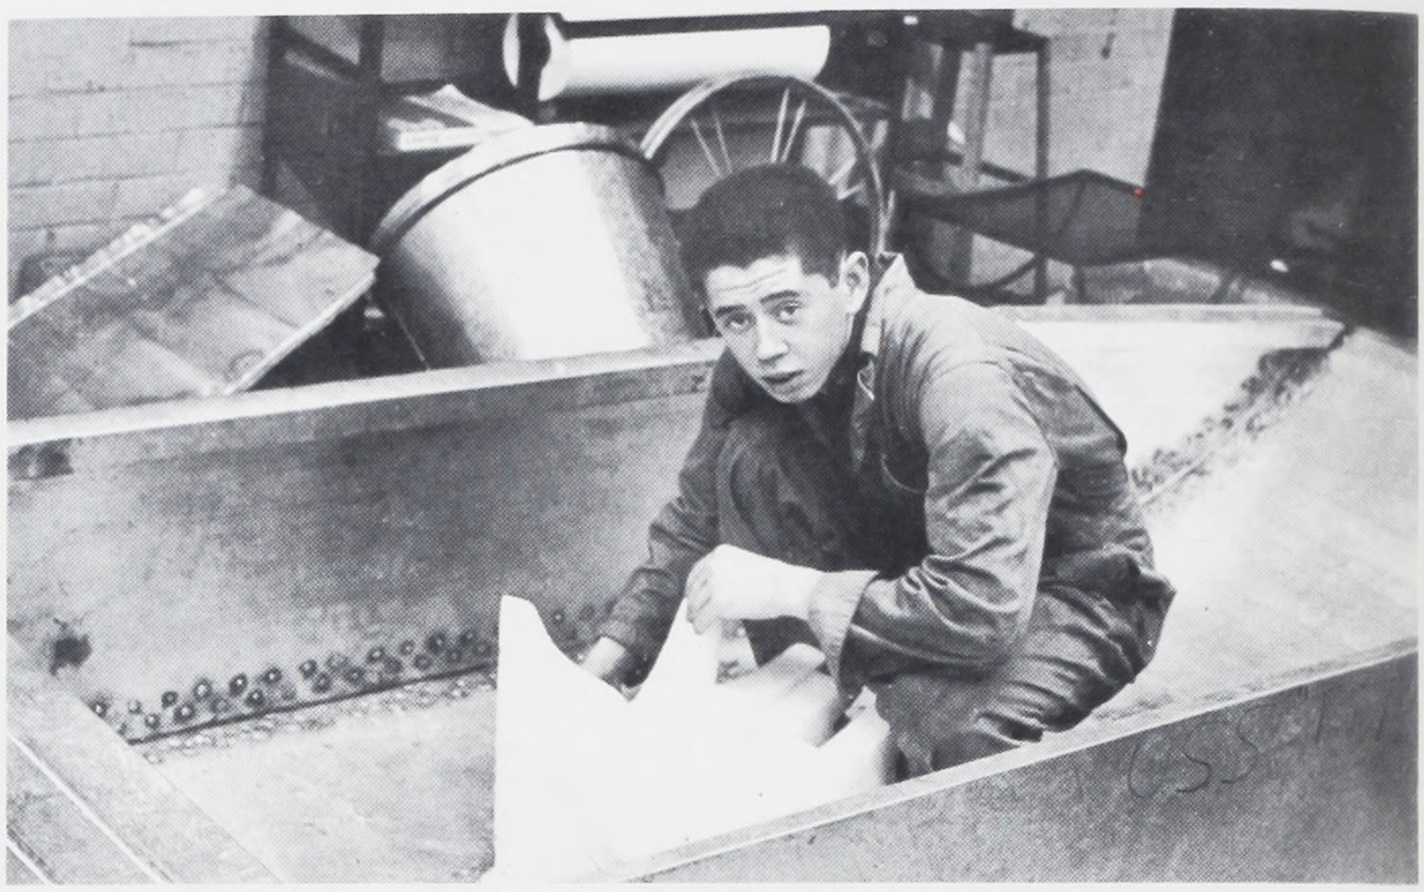


Senior James Sisson works on a drill press in machine shop.

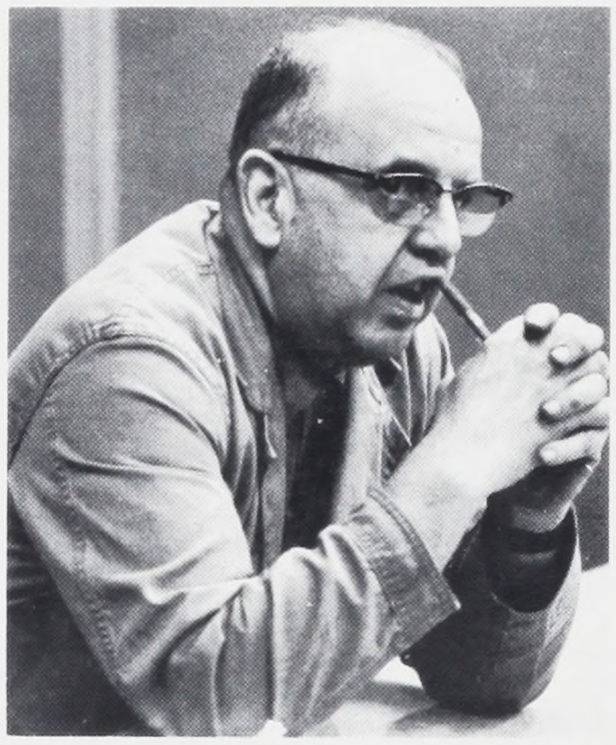
Senior Dave Willworth completes the job of cutting out a pattern in sheetmetal shop.

Metal Fabrication

Dave Neuman, a major in sheet metal, prepares to weld a piece of lightweight material.



Merle Wilson poses in the all-metal lightweight canopy truck top that he built in sheetmetal shop.



Mr. Robert Flumerfelt
Sheet metal instructor

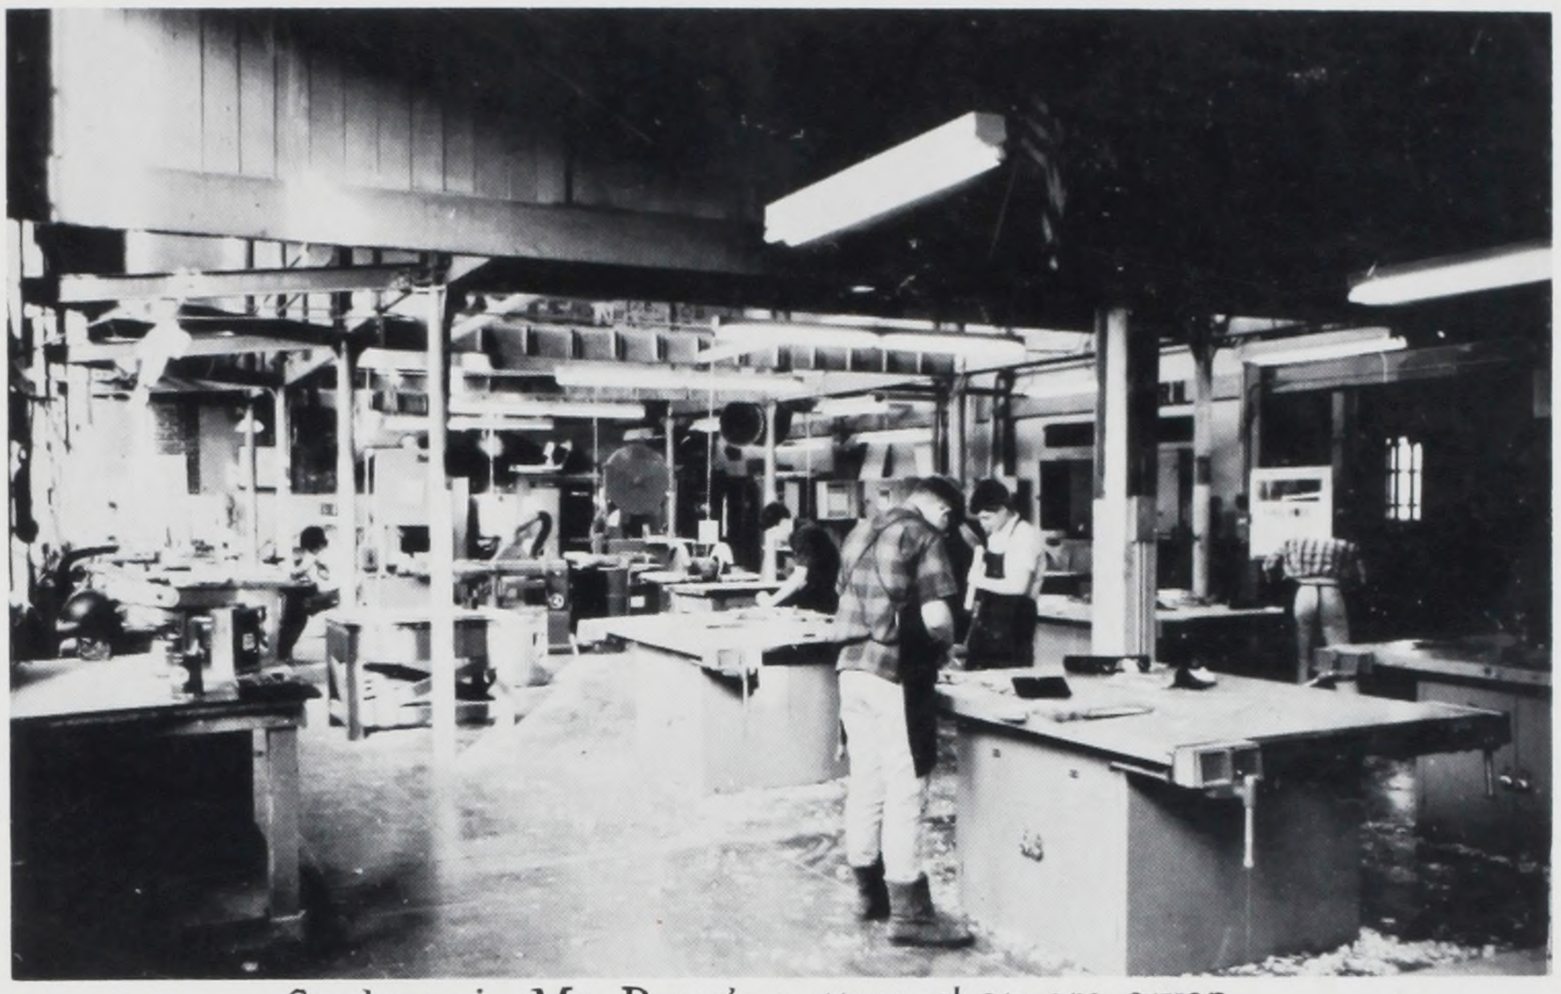
Senior Tom Williams works on the project of building a conveyer belt in Mr. Flumerfelt's class.

Paul Carter finishes up his project in pattern shop by giving it a second coat of shellac.

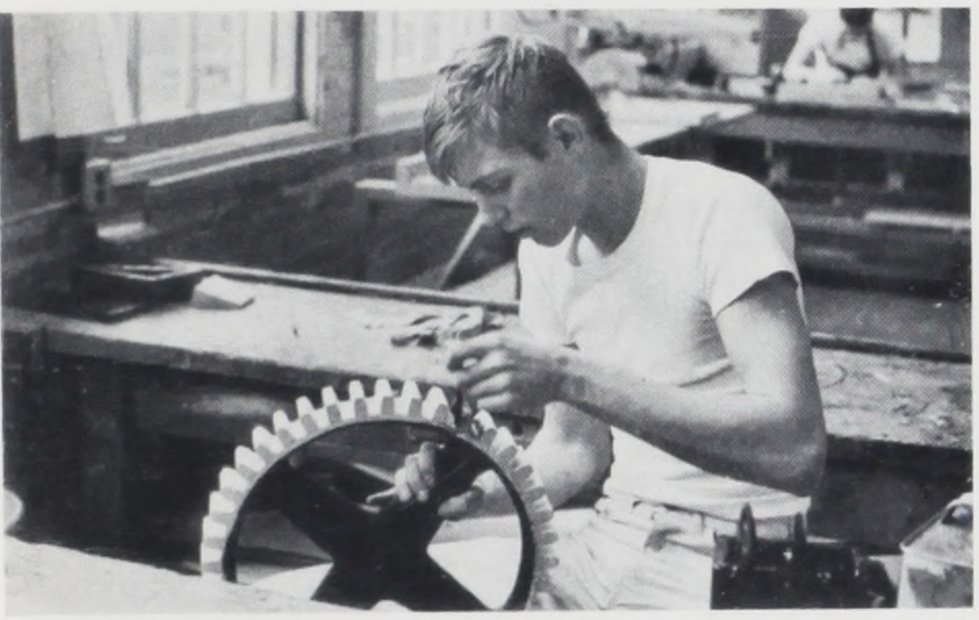
Students working on a lathe begins to shape his project.

Pattern

Mr. Joseph Perry
Pattern shop instructor

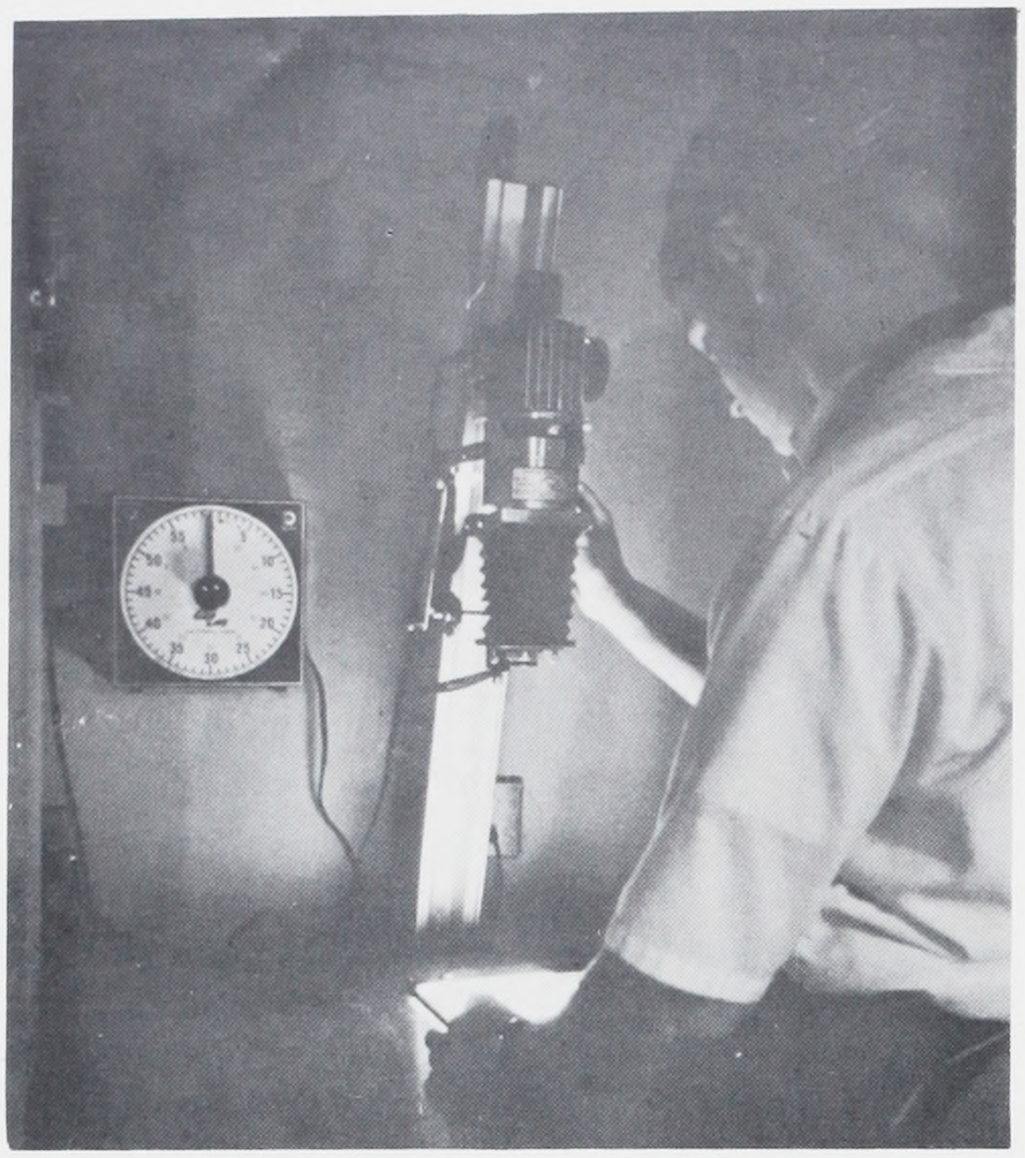


Students in Mr. Perry's pattern shop are given thorough instruction in all of the aspects of designing projects and layouts.



Gary Hilde, a senior in pattern, works toward the completion of his project in that particular major shop area.

Two Pattern majors work on a geometrically designed project.

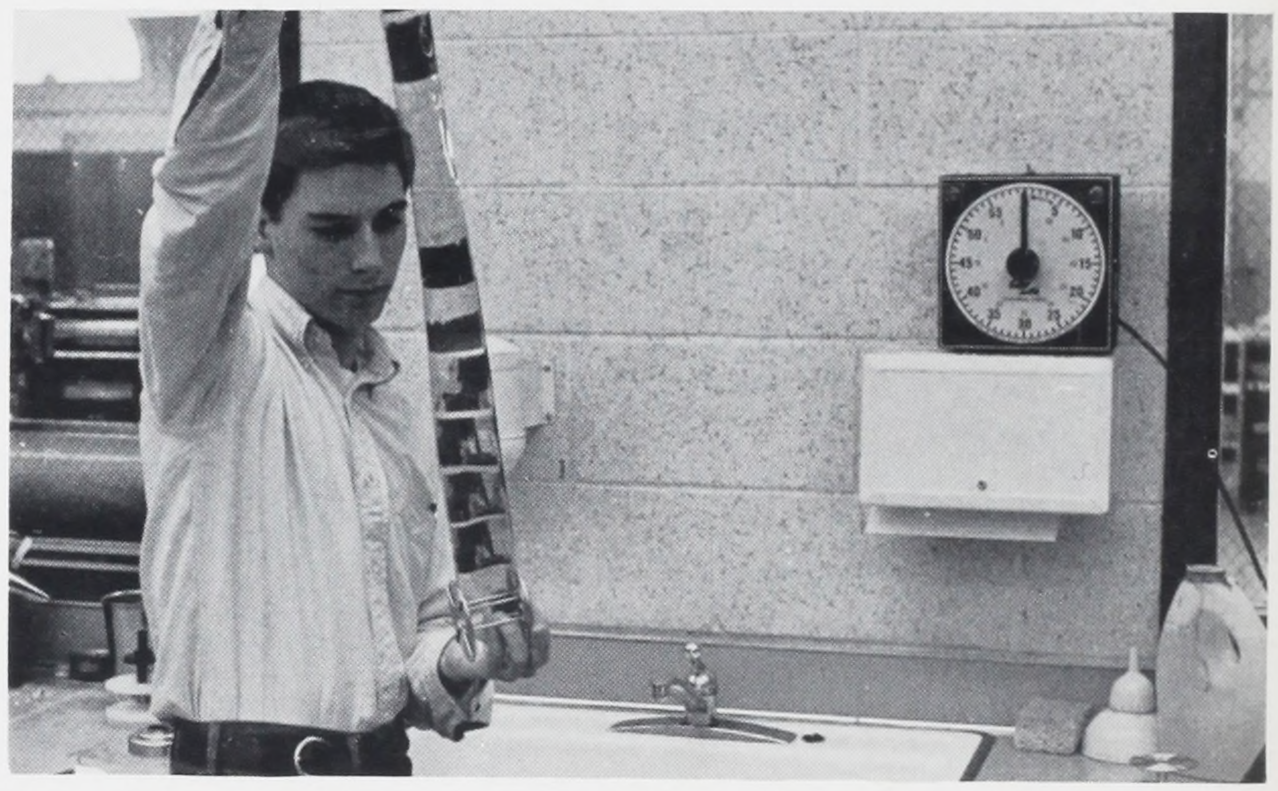


Student in Photography class works on a picture with the aid of an enlarging machine.

Photography

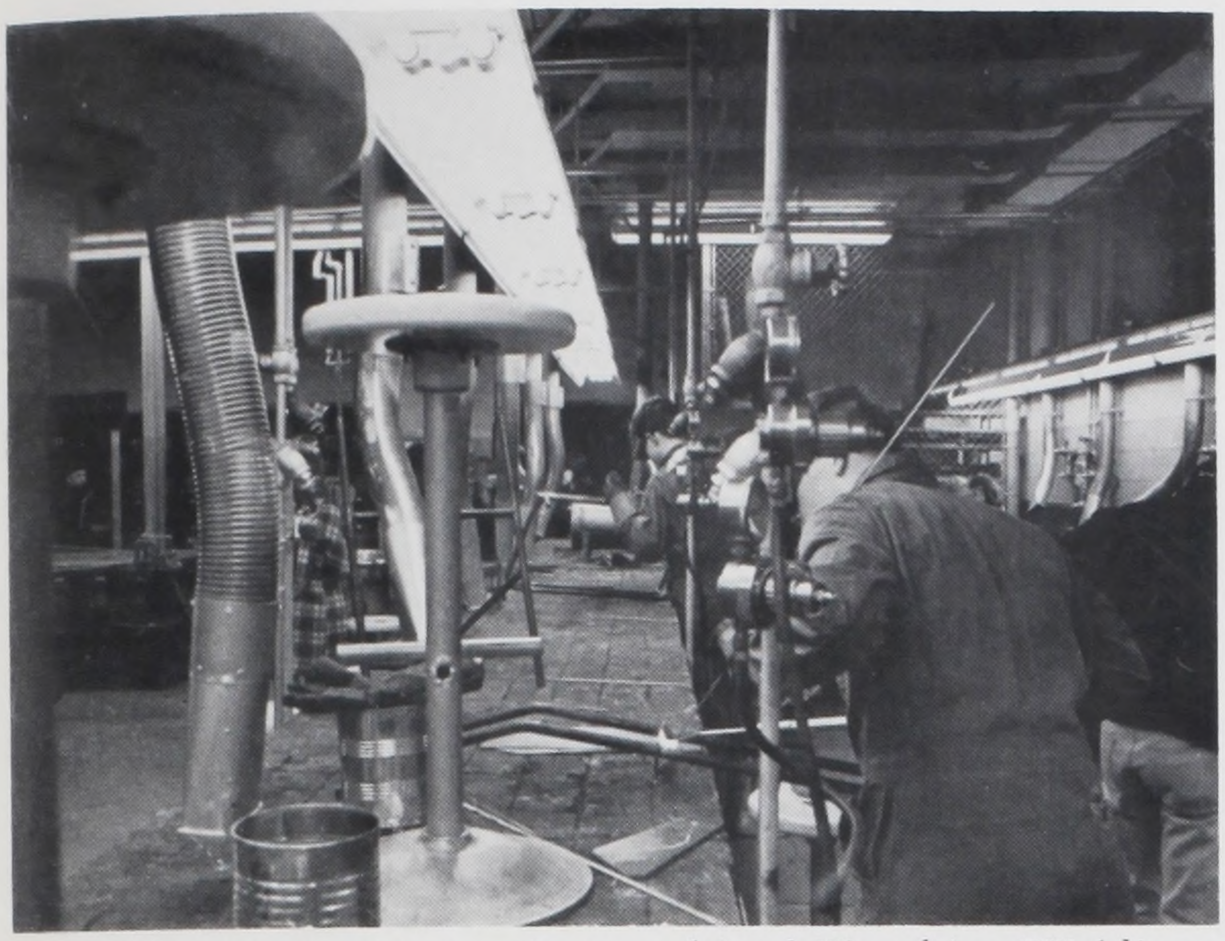
Mr. David Small
Photography instructor

Photography student taking aim with camera is junior Don Dixon with the hope of aquiring a good shot for all the trouble taken.



A student unrolling negatives to see how they "turned out."

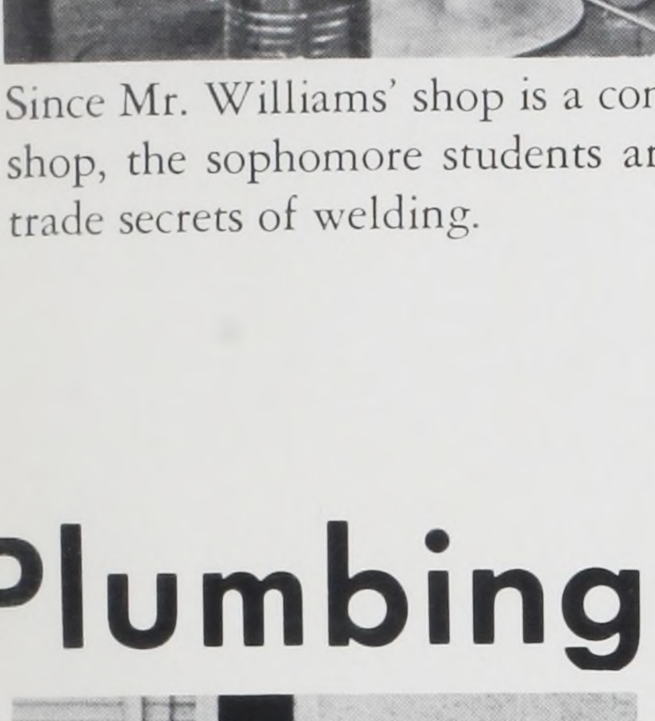
Students learn all of the commercial aspects of photography.



Since Mr. Williams' shop is a combined Plumbing-Welding shop, the sophomore students are also taught some of the trade secrets of welding.

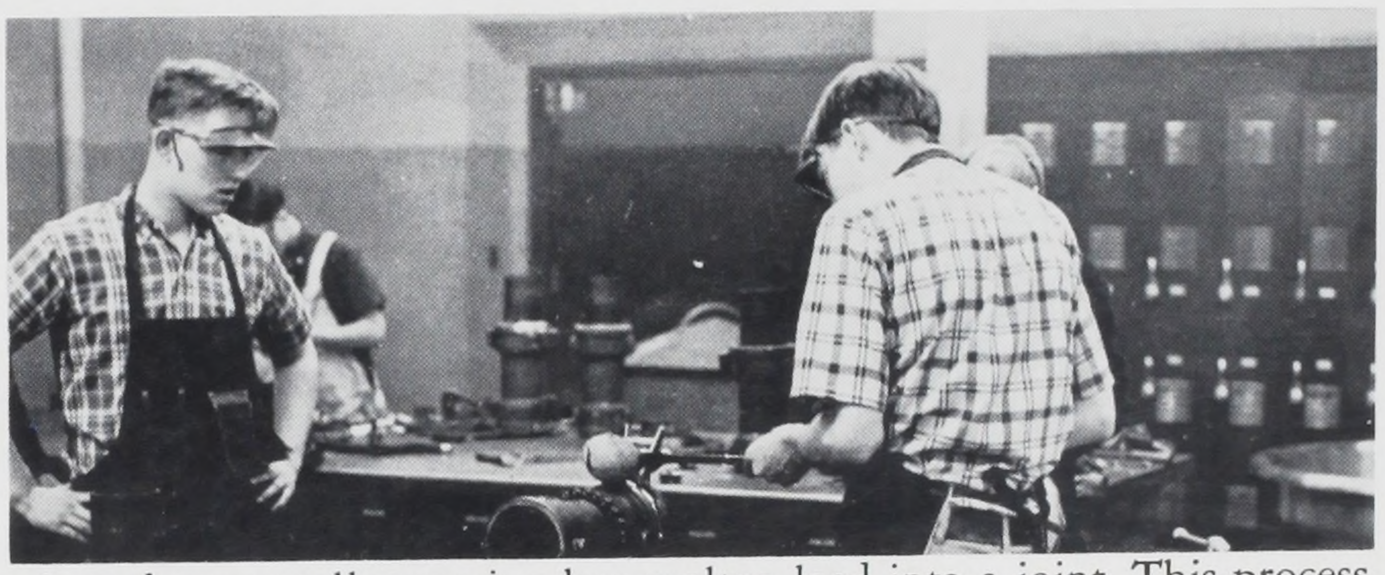
Students prepare to make a first try at pouring lead joints in plumbing.

Plumbing

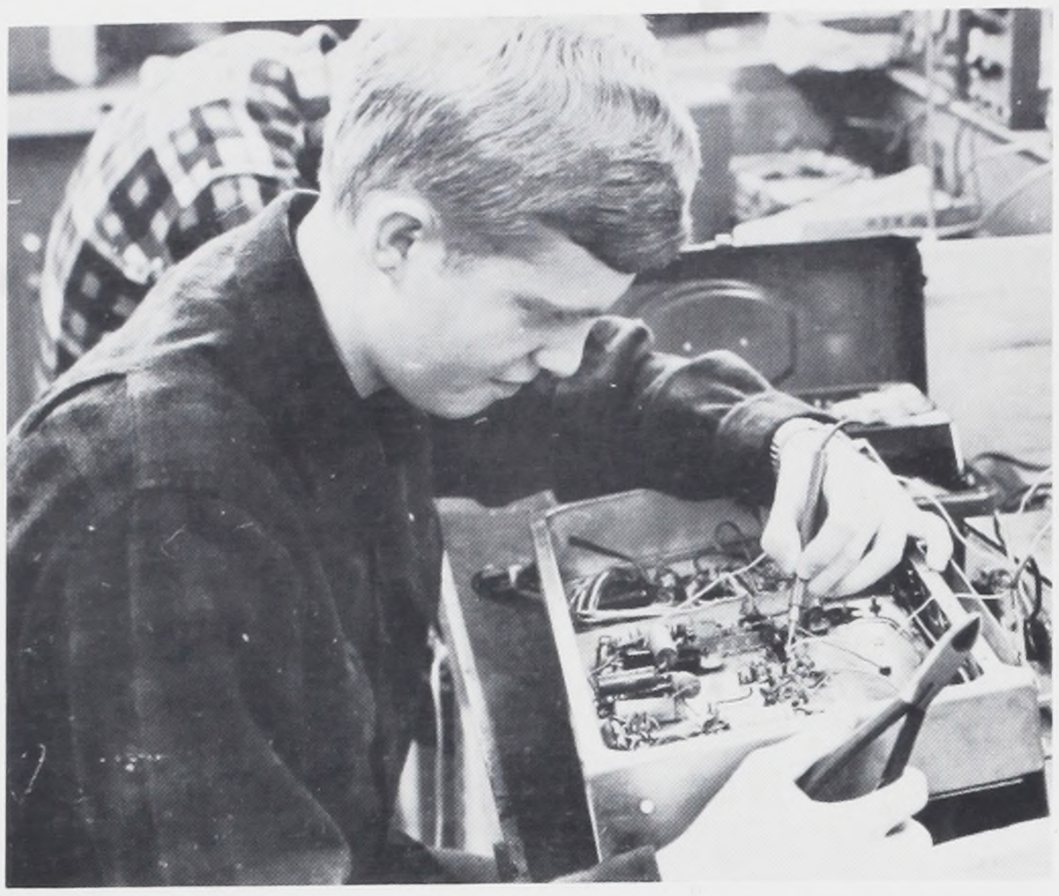


Mr. Richard Williams
Plumbing shop instructor

In lecturing to his class, Mr. Williams must also give first-hand help to students who need it.



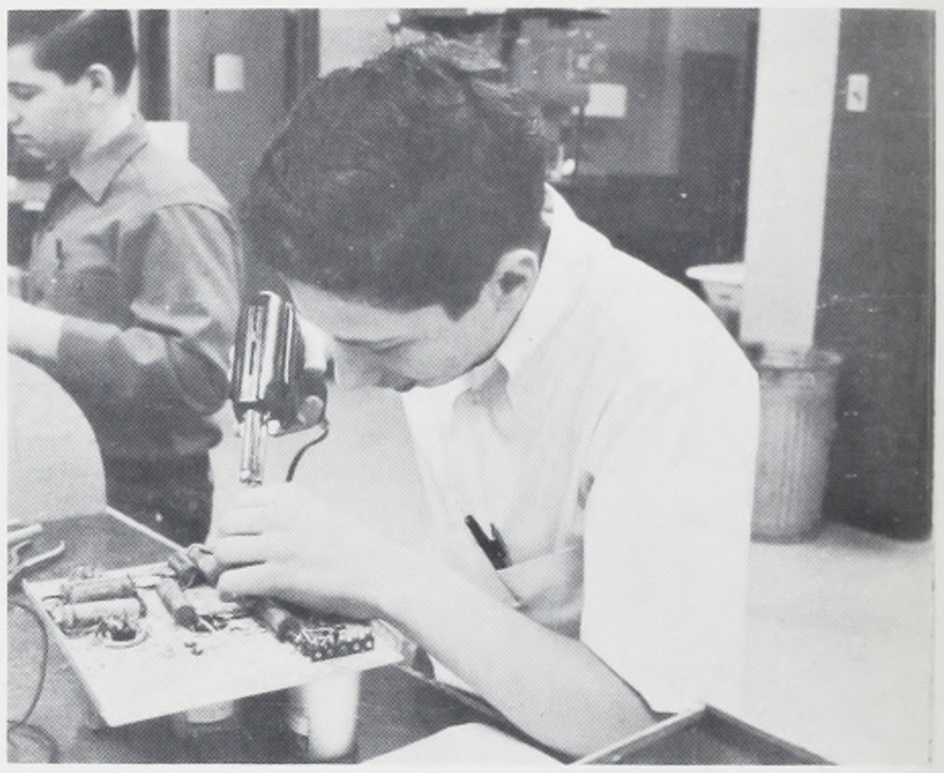
A student actually pouring hot molten lead into a joint. This process is called "calking."



Greg Richards uses an ohm meter to measure the amount of resistance flowing in the circuit of his piece of equipment.

Seniors Rudy Muller and Ron Labby go through some of the various stages of testing equipment.

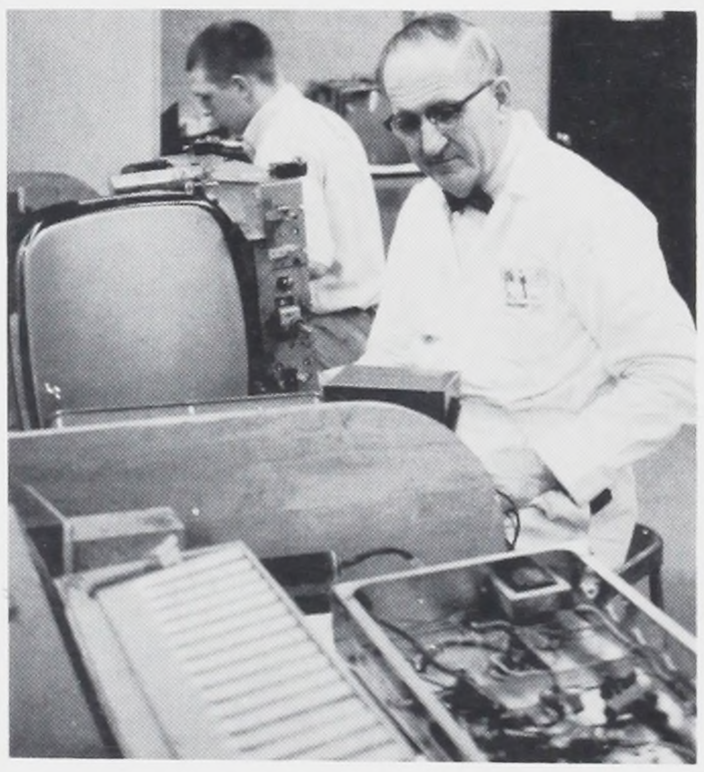
Ron Hoffman, a major in radio, shop solders some wires in the back of a piece of equipment that he is working on.



Senior Doug Capparelli welds a resistor onto the back of a radio.

Radio

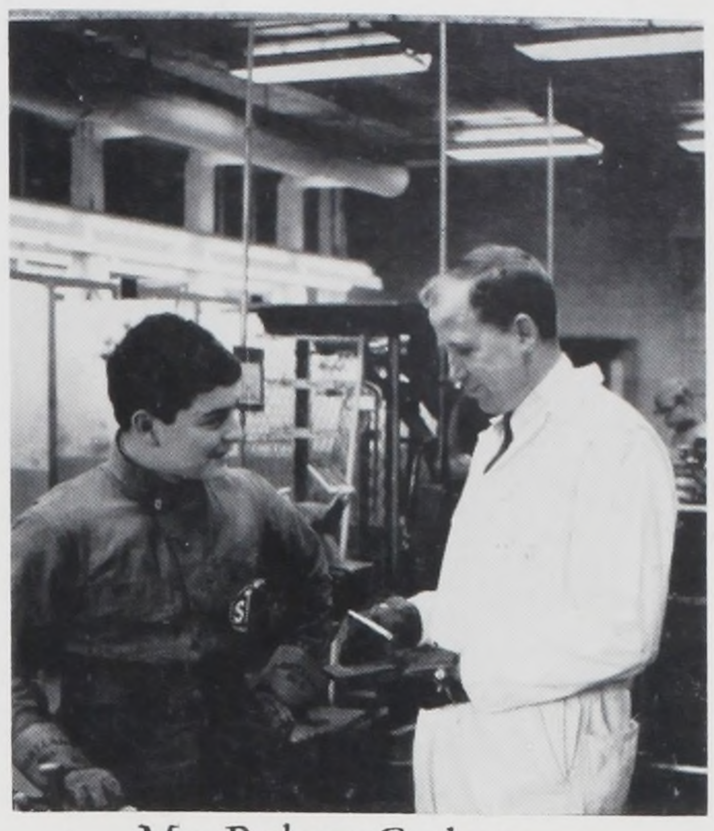
Mr. Ruben Nyberg
Radio-Electronics foreman.



Roger Matthies tests for a "short" on his transmitter.

Students in plumbing and welding, a combined shop sequence, are taught nearly all of the practical aspects of those particular trades.

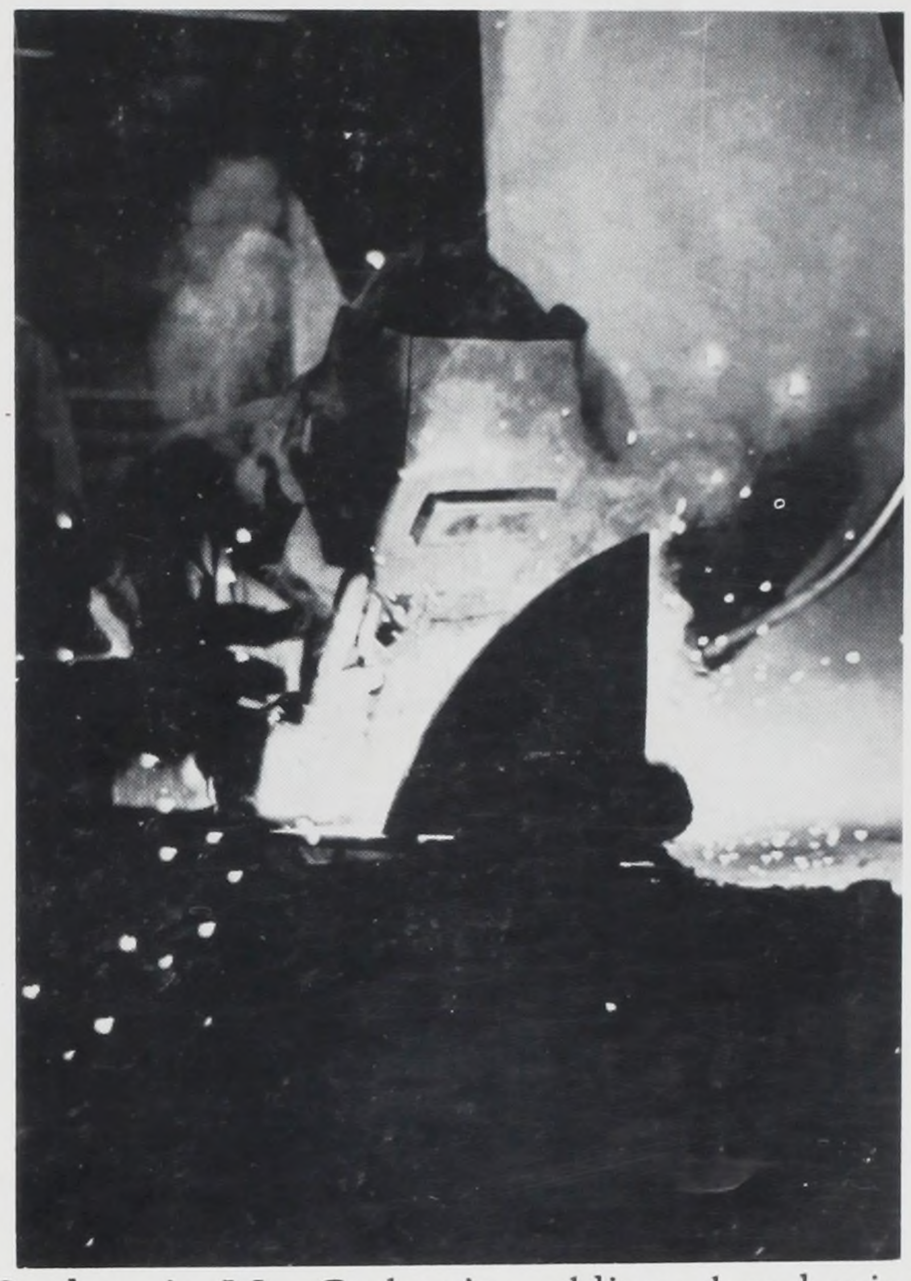
Students are first taught the art of welding in Mr. Carlson's sophomore shop sequence, here one student learns how to arc weld.



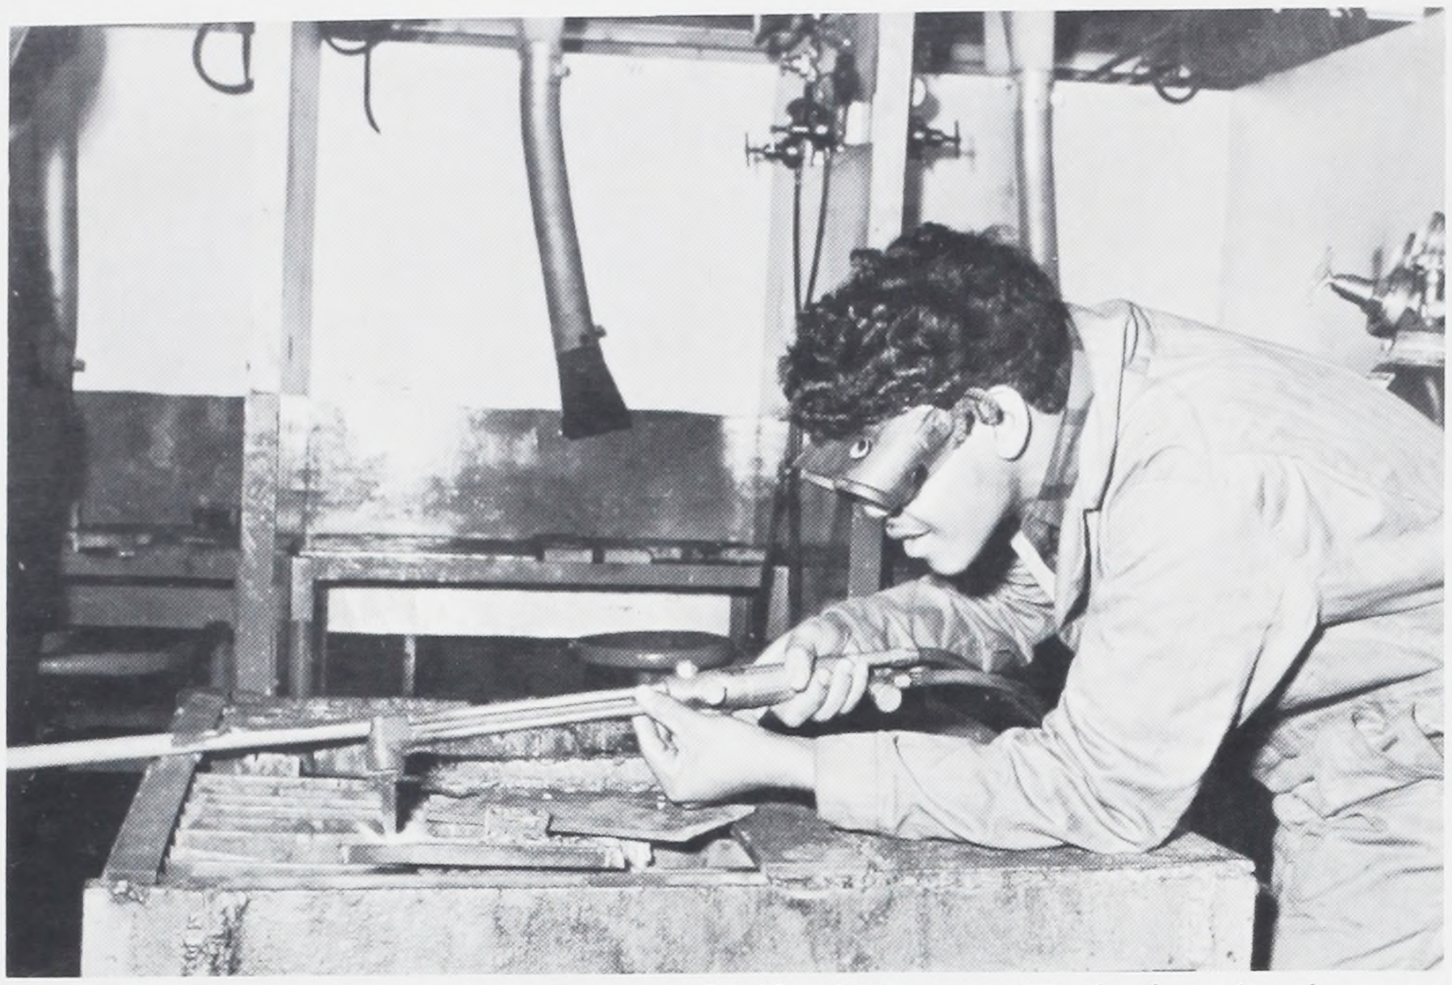
Mr. Robert Carlson
Welding instructor for sophomores.

Welding

Beginning welding students are first introduced to their project in Mr. Richard Williams' combined plumbing-welding class.

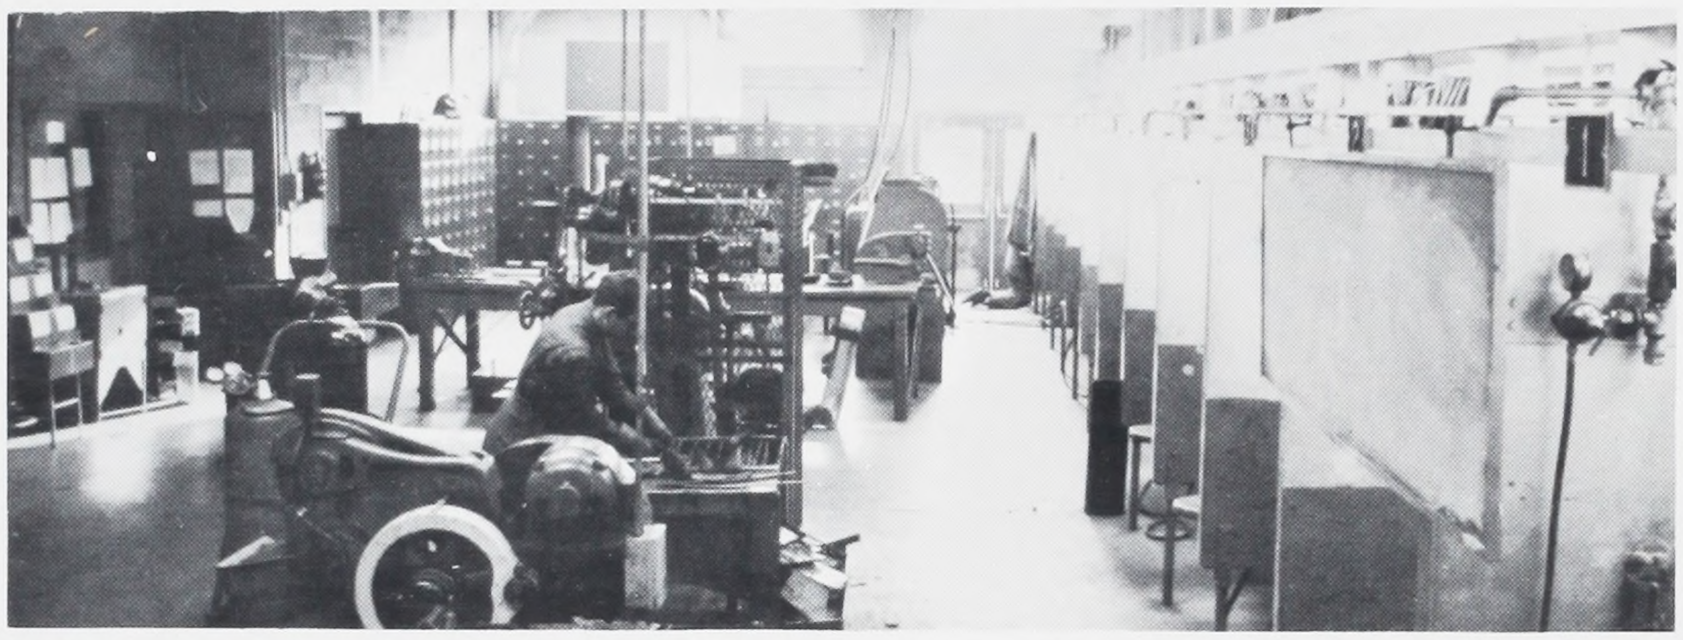


Student in Mr. Carlson's welding class begins his first arc weld.

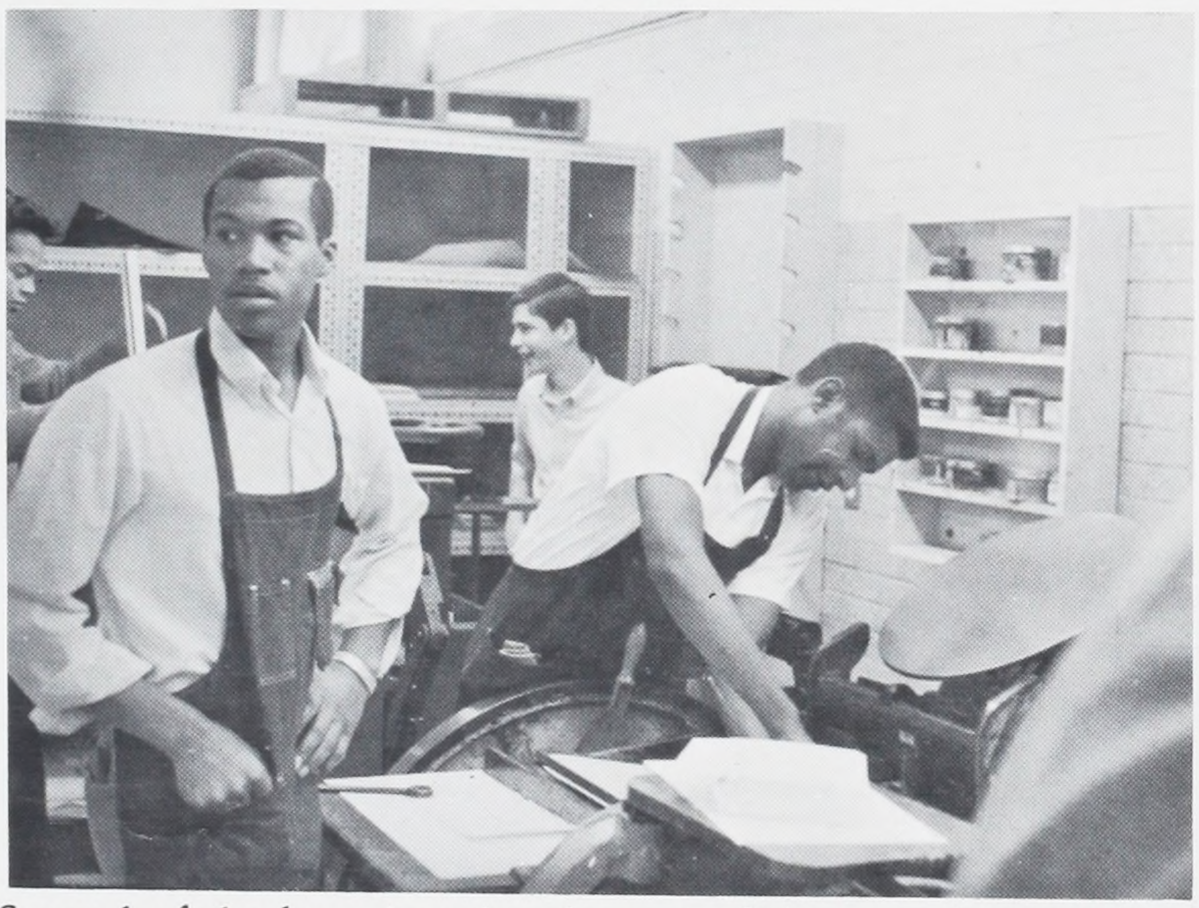


Candido Hernandez, champion goof-off of Benson Tech, has in the two years that he has been here acquired many different nicknames. One of the nicer is that of Bandido, and this discribes him perfectly.

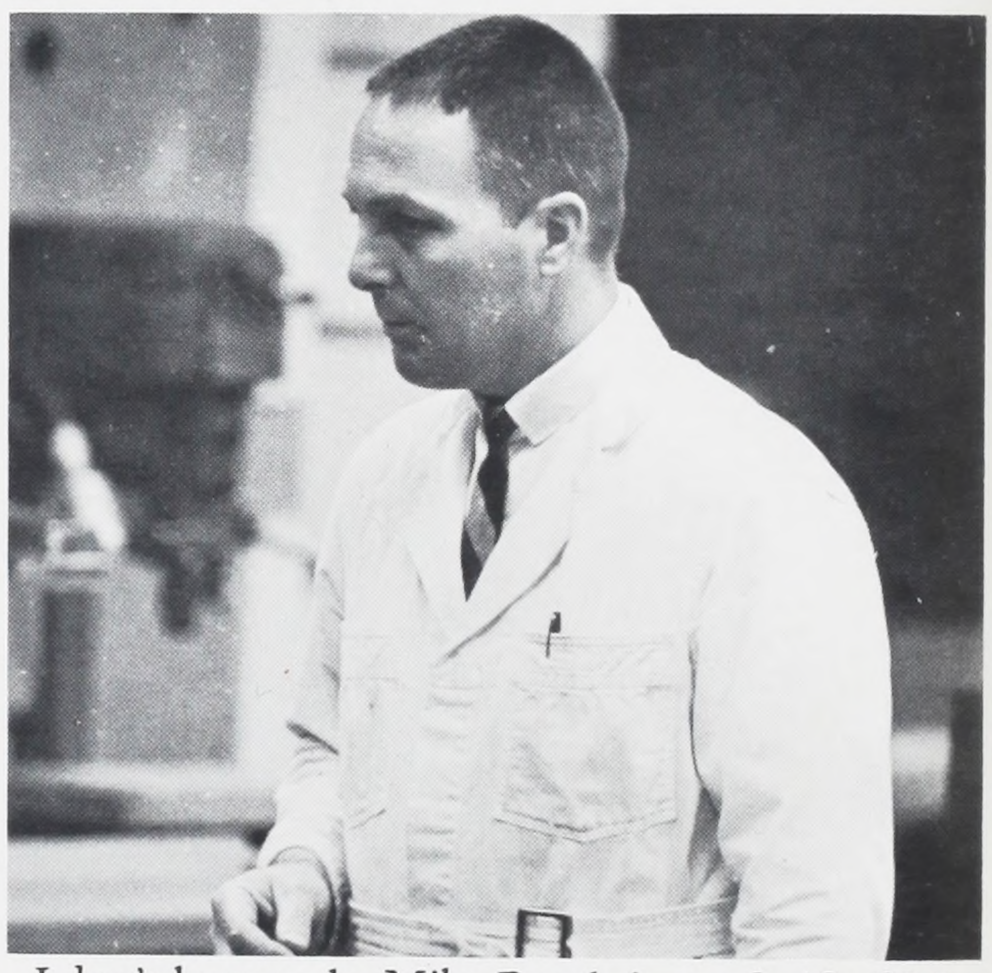
Mr. Aki Nishimura, shop superintendent.



A rare view of Mr. Carlson's smoke den, sometimes called "Welding", during one of the periods when it is not so smokey.



Several of the boys in print shop standing around making like they work.



I don't know why Mike Burch is so afraid of Mr. Hoffman, he's not that ugly.

Mr. Summers silently swearing to himself while trying to decipher a test paper.

Mr. Bryson, Mr. Nishimura and Principal Marvin Rasmussen express varying degrees of interest while on an inspection. . .found a bedbug?

Visitors to Mr. Taylor's Electric Shop during Tech Show, view some of the equipment that his students use.

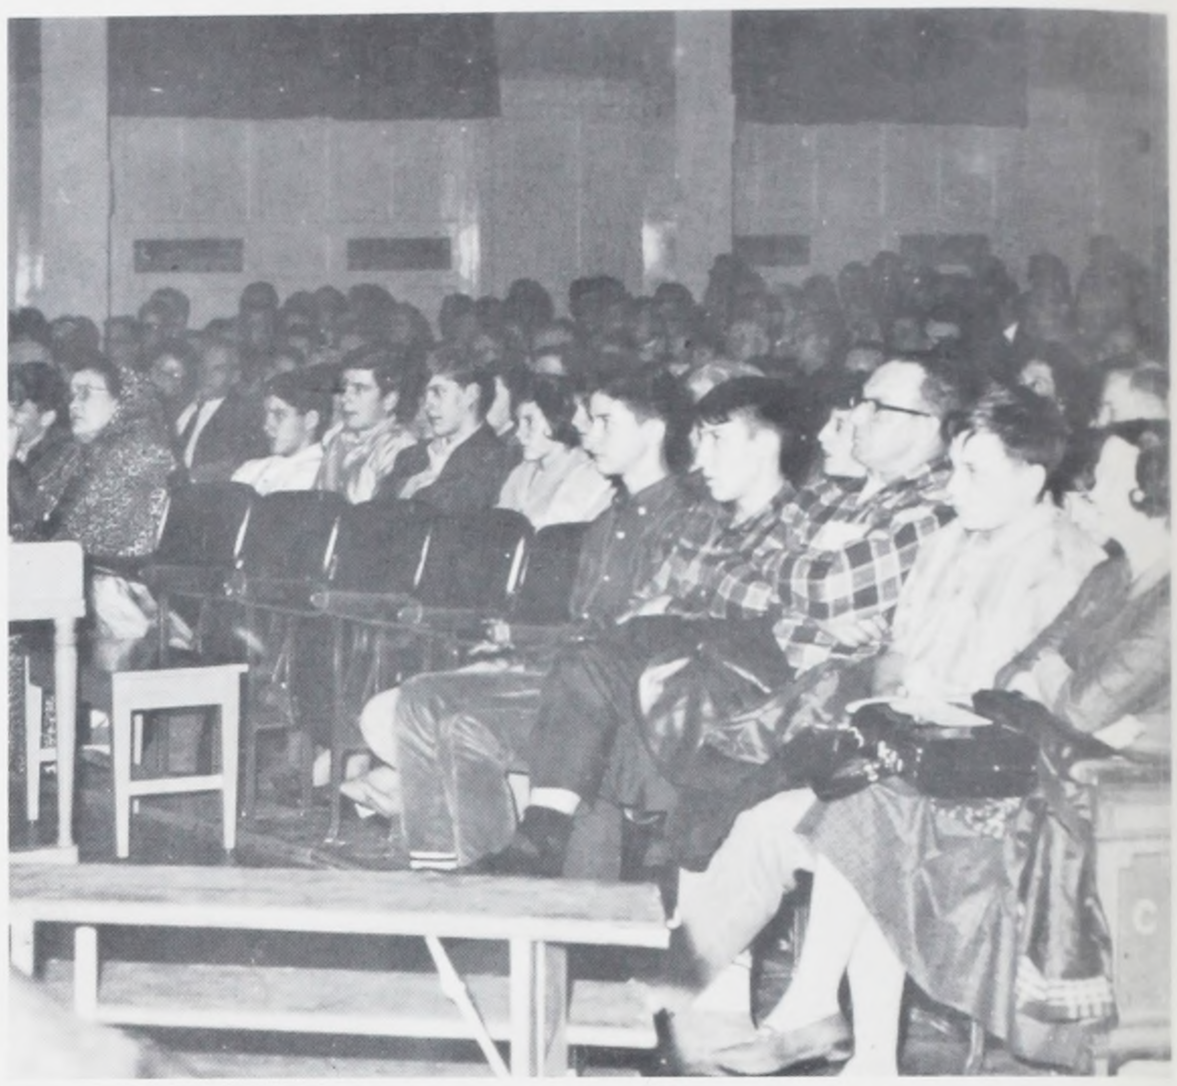
ACTIVITIES

"THE TEARS", a local group, provided music for the 1966 annual 49er party.

The 1967



Little sitting room was available during the duration of the stage show.

Jean Fraser did a toe stepping act during the 49er stage show.

Home cooked pies and cookies were a specialty in the "Rustlers Cafe".

49er Party

This Girls Ensemble from Washington H. S. was a major highlight in the show.

Jess Davis and Dan Beavers sang folk songs in the 49er stage show.

A student demonstrates his prowess with the football to his young lady-friend.

Many students turned out to hear the music of "THE TEARS" at the 49er dance.

Dr. Mary Calderone Discusses

Dr. Mary Calderone was introduced by student body president Ron Goldhammer. A brief history of her involvement with the S.I.E.C.U.S. was also given.

Dr. Calderone exposed many facts about sex and turned many Tech faces a shade of red.

Questions written by various students in the audience were directed to Mrs. Calderone through a panel consisting of Lance Dickie, Floyd Booker and Ron Goldhammer.

Sex Education With Techmen

A standing ovation was given to Mrs. Calderone by an auditorium full of appreciative Techmen.

DR. MARY CALDERONE DISCUSSES SEX EDUCATION WITH BENSONITES

On Monday, February 6, the Benson Student Body was honored by the visit of Dr. Mary Calderone, noted speaker and leader of the movement to bring sex out into the open. She spoke at an assembly which was attended by students and teachers alike, in which she explained the purpose of her touring the country and speaking about sex education. The goal of her tour is to promote the return of the true meaning of the word Sex. That is: its real 'meaning' as "the ultimate expression of love."

She exposed many new facts which could and probably did startle a few of the students which listened to her talk. Her approach to this touchy subject is very open and she puts everything on the line. She does not try to hide or work around any questions that might be put to her, as students found out towards the end of the assembly when small cards were passed through the student body on which questions were written and taken to a panel which, in turn, asked Mrs. Calderone the questions as written. The panel, consisting of LANCE DICKIE, FLOYD BOOKER, and RON GOLDHAMMER, asked as many questions as time permitted. The remainder, unanswered, were saved and passed out to teachers who requested them.

Upon the closing of the assembly, Dr. Calderone received a standing ovation from the Benson student body as they showed their appreciation to her for choosing Benson as the only Student body in the Northwest to which she spoke.

"Wonderland by Night", sponsored by the Benson Student Body, was a colorful and successful event of the 1966-67 winter season.

"Wonderland By Night" was the theme for this years' Christmas semi-formal ball. Much time and effort was put into decorations for the dance as can be seen here.

"The Nonesuch" were probably the most popular act in thestage show.

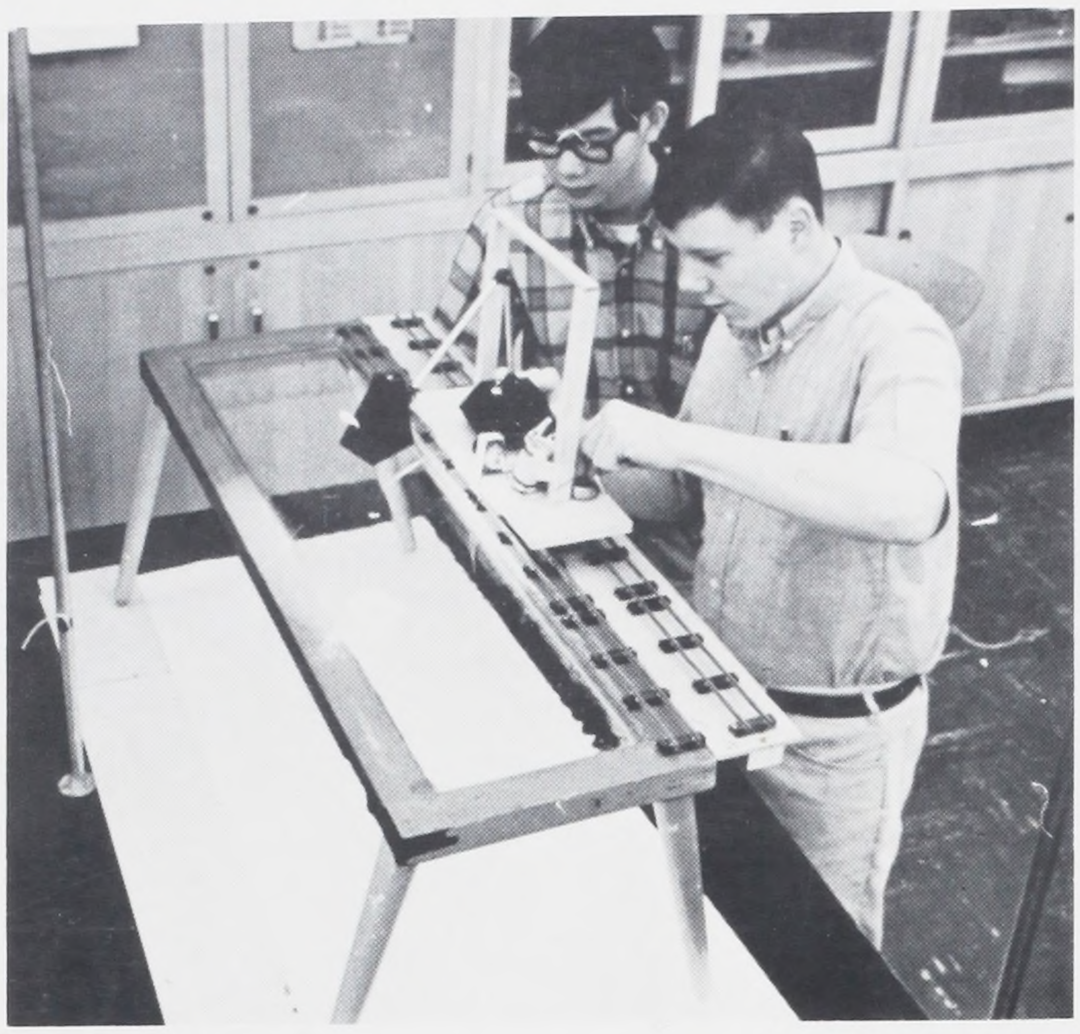
The 1967 Tech Show Stage Show

These leggy lasses, members of the The Grant Dance Line, were received with much enthusiam.

"The Melodeens", a singing act from Franklin High, provided music pleasing to the ear.

Jones' Studio of Baton provided a choreographic act in the stage show.

Tech Show



Water Ripple Patterns were displayed in the science department.

This fish was as interested in the visitors as they were in him.

The Exhibits

Even Polyphemus the Cyclops got into the show.

Many antique cars were shown in the automotive shop.

Key Club is the oldest established social service club at Benson. The club has a long history of community and inter-school service, besides providing members with various social activities.

Key members initiate their service projects early in the year by operating booths at the annual 49er show. Come Christmas Tide, club members along with Portland Kiwanis clubs distribute food baskets to local needy families.

The highlight of the Benson social calendar is the annual Key-sponsored Sweetheart's Ball, at which one lucky Techman's date is chosen to reign as Key Club Sweetheart.

To a
White (man)
I'm going to Jeff next year
good luck
Bra—
Rick

To a real good guy that is a gas to be around. To bad their sending you back to kindergarden next year.
