we excell!!

Senior Profiles

The next six students were selected at random from the senior class. They represent a cross section of the students.

Paul Morgan

Going to school at Benson is an experience in itself. The experience is what you make of it. Benson offers a good education to the student. I advise you to take advantage of this educational opportunity, because it betters you as a person and helps you prepare for the future.

Benson is a good school and I was lucky to have gone here, but there are things wrong with it. The teachers and administration tend to be conservative; this makes student governed representation very limited. These things I feel should change if Benson is to remain a good school.

Randy Hall

These last four years at Benson, I have experienced and have learned enough to where I am now sure of myself. I would like to thank the school for that . . . so Thanks . . .

Harvey Onchi

My past four years at Benson have been a good experience for me. It's given me the chance to attend the cities best technical school and to make a lot of good friends. I know Benson isn't a perfect school, but when I leave I know I'll be ready for the future.

Craig Conway

Through work with teachers, coaches, and the administration, these past four years have been a great learning experience for me. These relationships are needed throughout the school if it is to function properly and I feel that they have a considerable influence on the student in many cases.

If more students would take part in school activities, such as athletics and clubs, they will find it to be very rewarding, along with giving them a chance to compete with and relate to students of other schools.

I thank Benson for giving me a fine background in learning, and encourage students to take advantage of the many opportunities offered at Benson.

Guy Vetere

When thinking about my past years at Benson a lot of good memories came back to me. I'll have to admit that I will miss many things including the faculty members of whom I've made friends with. Many of you might not know this but we have one of the finest groups of teachers in the city here except for a few which could be counted on one hand.

Unlike others who attend Benson I did major in what I had planned when I first entered Benson. I also found my major to be very interesting because I was instructed by actual architects.

In the future I hope that the students here at Benson would get more involved in school activities of any type. By doing this you will probably find that Benson has more meaning to you.

Timmie Graham

While I was here I learned a lot of good and bad things about people. The bad and ugly thing is prejudice, which is cultivated throughout the country. This school has really changed since the first time I stepped into it. From almost prison to almost a regular high school. From push ups to k.p. duty.

Teachers are another thing when they try too hard to show how superior they are to the students.

This school is ok for someone who wants to work and make it, when they get out of high school.

This note for future techmen, I feel sorry for you!!

Fashion at Tech

1972 is a year when modern technology and scientific achievement allows man to create wonderous fabrics and materials and as a result today's youth looks streamlined in their beautiful threads.

Well, not exactly. The students look good but not as a result of modern technology. Today's student chooses clothes that are comfortable, period. Some students consider old jeans comfortable. Others lean toward double knits. The word in 1972 is, "anything goes."

Varsity Football

The Techmen finished the season with four wins and five losses.

End Rich Washington and tackle Doug Weiss were co winners of the M. V. P. award at the season's end.

Q.B. Larry Clark's passing arm proved to be Tech's most effective weapon by the seasons end. Running backs Tim Graham and George Mayes provided the running punch in Benson's offense.

Coach Mike Lopez praised the play of his small but rugged defensive line. He felt that his team was sound defensively, but lacked consistency on offense.

Benson 14 Adams 7

Late in the fourth quarter, tailback Tim Graham caught a punt on the Adams' 36 yard line. He broke three tackles and streaked into the Patriot's end zone to give Benson the winning edge in the season opener.

Techmen 16 Washington 8

Benson's defense held the Washington Colonials to one touchdown and captured the Colonial quarterback in his own end zone for a two point safety as Benson bagged their second straight win.

St. Helens 7 Benson 0

A sputtering offense proved to be Benson's downfall as the ground oriented St. Helens Lions defeated the Techmen at St. Helens.

Lincoln 37 Engineers 0

A Lincoln team that could do no wrong capitalized on Benson fumbles and interceptions and scored five touchdowns.

Benson 13 Jefferson 8

Benson scored two quick touchdowns in the first quarter and held on the rest of the way for Tech's third win of the year.

Wilson 21 Tech 0

An overpowering running attack and a strong defense spelled defeat for the Techmen.

Jackson 13 Benson 6

The Techmen once again lacked any threatening offense as they gained only 88 years in the game.

Benson 29 Roosevelt 20

New faces in the Benson offense sparked the Techmen. Bobby Hunt, Tim Graham, Larry Clark, and Rich Washington all scored for Tech.

Grant 14 Tech 6

Dale Gross' booming punts kept Benson in the game, but Grant's crushing ground game tipped the scales in favor of the Generals.

The J.V. football team ended their season with four wins and four losses. Togetherness was the big problem that kept the J.V.'s from sporting a better record. This and injuries hindered the success of the junior varsity team.

The team's running attack was lead by fleet-footed tailback Howard Moore and powerful fullback Norm Hunter. The J.V.'s averaged over two hundred yards per game in total offense. Benson's strong defense was lead by hard hitting linebackers Mike DeBennedetti and Bruce Nishikawa.

An alert defensive backfield of Bill Floyd, Steve Linn, Joe McCoy, and Dave Alberti kept the opposing quarterbacks on their toes.

Freshmen Football

The Benson freshmen football team was one of the largest teams in the state. They numbered nearly 100. In order to accommodate such a large group of football enthusiasts, the frosh were divided into two teams, the blue team and the orange team.

The blue team enjoyed a 4-2-1 season. Tailback John Beal led the team on offense with Don Garrison at fullback and Maury Fallett handled quarterback duties. Up front, the line was anchored by guard Mike Archard.

The frosh orange team had a perfect 6-0 season. The defense was very stingy as their opponents could only manage 10 points all season.

Swimming

This year's swim team experienced a winning season, winning four meets and losing two. They lost their first two meets of the season to Lincoln and top rated Wilson.

The first Tech victim was Jackson, 43 to 34. The next three meets were won by large margins as the Tech men swam to a 64 to 13 win over Washington, a 63 to 8 splashing of Jefferson, and a 52 to 11 drowning of Roosevelt.

Tech's top swimmers were Clark Luse, Jeff Luse and Jim Fleming. Fleming, the team captain, was voted the most valuable swimmer by his teammates.

On the whole, Benson's swim team had a good season.

Varsity Basketball

Another state basketball tournament provided the grand finale for Benson's 1972 basketball season. After forming one of the best teams to compete in Oregon, the Engineers ploughed through the toughest opposition in the P.I.L. The Benson Techmen were a growing concern and on their way. Their goal from the offset was the Oregon State Basketball Championship.

But the path of this outstanding team was stormy. In the words of head coach Richard Gray, "The season itself here in the P.I.L. was not competitive enough for us. We didn't have any really close games with the exception of the Jefferson games and it hurt us in the tournament."

Benson easily took second place in city by defeating Adams and Grant, but ran into trouble in the state tournament. The tough competition quickly took its toll on the defending state champions. But dispite this difficulty, the Engineers still came back to crush Reynolds to take fourth in state and end the season with a 25 win and 3 loss record.

J.V. Basketball

Benson's Junior Varsity basketball team had an excellent season as their 13-5 record shows. Coach Gordon Riese was especially pleased with the J.V. cagers, as they had the best Junior Varsity record in his six years of coaching the J.V. squads.

The J.V.'s lost to Jefferson twice. In their second encounter they lost by six, while the first was lost by a large margin. Washington's J.V.'s also edged Benson in the first of two games by three points, a hard loss to take. The Junior Engineers were one for two against the Adams Patriots as they split two games.

The team members voted Sophomore Rodney Johnson and Freshman Mark Hoisington as the Most Valuable Players. The leading scorer for the team was Mark Hoisington.

Frosh Basketball

The Freshman team finished the season with an 8-4 record. Scoring leaders for the year were Steven Anderson and Gary Wohlers. Leading rebounders were Bill Finzer, Tony Richard, and Mike Hill. Clemon Cole, Doug Peake, and Doug Beeber also played key roles in the team's successful season. Outstanding characteristics of the team were depth, strong rebounding, and defense. Any one of the 17 squad members did a creditable job when he was in the game. The most valuable player was Bill Finzer.

Varsity Wrestling

Benson's varsity wrestling team had a disappointing turnout this year, as many varsity lettermen did not return. Many sophmores and juniors had to fill in spots, which caused dual meet losses because of inexperience. The team boasted four sophomores, two juniors, and one freshman. Their 5-7 season record wasn't bad considering their youth.

During dual meets the techmen would usually jump out to a big lead; getting wins from most of their lighter personnel, but the lead was soon whittled away in the heavier weights.

The Engineers were led by Sandy Langton, Tim Duncan, Tim Stephens, Bruce Nishikawa, Leo Catabay, Dick Traver, Harvey Onchi, Norm Hunter, and Rick Leacher.

In the district meet only three Techmen placed. Bruce Nishikawa placed third, while Norm Hunter, and Rick Lecher placed fourth. Leo Catabay and Tim Stephens who placed last year were upset this year in the subrounds.

No one went to the state tournament this year but the team is still young and hopeful.

Gymnastics

Benson's Gymnastic team was exceptional as they ran away, undefeated, with the Western Division title.

After outclassing Wilson, Jackson, Roosevelt, Lincoln, Jefferson, and Madison, Tech was beaten by Grant for the city championship.

Two members of Benson's team went to state. These individuals, Gary Cleveland and Pat Dishman, represented the team well. Cleveland, the team's most valuable player, captured sixth in the state in the all-around category.

Spring Sports

The shortened school year and an extremely rainy spring forced the baseballers to squeeze in a 15 game season by playing on every playable day. The situation demanded pitching depth. The 1972 varsity baseball team finished with a respectful 8-7 record. The season was highlighted by the upset of Wilson, the P.I.L. champion. The team was very young as they had only three seniors, Doug Weiss, Craig Conway and Chris Pack. Weiss, Mark Koemstedt, and Craig Conway provided the power hitting while Glenn Gokami, Jerry Shaver, and Joe McCoy maintained the highest batting averages.

J.V. and Frosh Baseball

The J.V. baseball team, led by the hitting of Mike Archerd, Hadley Robbins, and Jeff Hollamon gained valuable experience during their eight game season. The team won three and lost five. Dave Helgerson and Rich Ravio were the leaders on the mound. Coach Bill Ranta believes that members of this team will add strength to next year's varsity squad.

Doug Jenkins provided strong pitching and Doug Peake led the hitters as the Frosh baseball team breezed to a three win one loss season. Coach Vern Melvin was very pleased with the progress of his young charges.

Varsity Track

The 1972 Varsity Track team had its most successful season in many years. The year was highlighted with many records and personal bests. A team of three high jumpers, Paul Durant, Craig Weatherspoon and Richard Washington broke the high jump Relay Record at the City Relays. Sophomore Dan Fulton, Tech's ace distance runner, set a personal best in the two-mile run, while running away with the city championship.

In dual meets, George Mayes was the top point producer, as he was consistent in both hurdle events and the long jump. Tech's leader in the sprints, Stewart Minors, led all opponent sprinters in the 100, 220, 440 yard dashes and the 440 yard relay.

Fulton's "player-coach", Jim Hatheway was Tech's threat in the 880, mile and the two-mile.

The Engineers had good performances in the field events from Dale Gross and Bill Broderick in the discus and shot.

J.V. & Frosh Track

The Junior Varsity spikers enjoyed a winning season. They compiled a 5-2 record while taking fourth and third in the city relays and city meet, respectively. Bill Floyd and Glen Miller were top performers in the 120 yard high hurdles and the 180 yard low hurdles.

Howard Moore and John Maxey were constantly in a dead heat for top honors, while Robert Bailey came on strong in the last four meets.

Tech's Frosh thinclads were outstanding this year as they ran up a 6-1 record for the season. The one loss came to the hands of Franklin, the last meet of the season. The Frosh also took the City Relays title. Frosh Techmen displayed their talents at the city meet, when they placed. Outstanding individuals were: Andy Dunn, 4:57 in the mile run; Cassey Stephans in the sprints; John Weber with 2:12 in the 880 and long jumper Larry Kordoskyand.

Tennis

Tennis season, spring '72, will go down in the records as the year of confusion. During pre-season the fair weather seemed to be in Tech's favor when they played Franklin and Marshall and won. Then the rains came. Matches were scheduled and rescheduled. Lincoln, Wilson, and Rosevelt matches were rained out. Finally, after frustration, phone calls and postponed matches, the season was completed with four matches played. Benson finished with a two, win two lost record. Tech won the play-offs against Adams finishing fourth in city. The teams most valuable player was George Carlson. In the city play-offs, George won two matches. # ACTIVITIES

The Vocational Industrial Clubs of America is just two years old at Benson. Although it has a small membership we expect it to grow in the coming years. There are two purposes that sum up the club (1) to unite in a common bond all students enrolled in trade, industrial, technical, and health education and (2) to develop leadership ability through participation in educational, vocational, civic, recreational, and social activities.

Chess Club and Aardvarks

Benson's chess club meets almost every evening after school back stage in the auditorium. There are about 20 members of this club. The top five members, Tim Allen, Steve James, Andrew Hodge, Calvin Huey, and John Marty, compete with other schools. The club's purpose is to promote the game of chess as a pleasant activity.

The Aardvarks explain and encourage the use of computers at Benson and in the community. As a group the Aardvarks explain in simple terms and demonstrate the operation of the computer during the school's 49'er and Tech Show. Also the Aardvarks work on programming the computer for its increased use.

IRL and Honor Societies

Honor Society

The organized International Relations league was to help those students interested in understanding foreign countries, their governments and their problems. They meet regularly among themselves and often with exchange students for discussions. Helping to understand other countries problems helps them to understand our countries problems.

The National and Junior Honor Societies are comprised of some of the hardest working students at Benson. Having maintained a 3.5 and better grade average through out the year they are awarded with pins and satisfaction. These students work with teachers to help better student-teacher relations and the educational process.

Hans Johansen

It was quite a surprise to me that Benson is an all boy school because I didn't know until I arrived here. I'm used to a mixed school, but coming here doesn't matter, after all it was fun to experience another type of school.

I have to admit that I didn't expect Benson to be that big either, there are as many students at Benson as people in my home town of Stavern, Norway.

Before I came to the United States I expected to find lots of pollution, industry, people, metropolis, money, and big cars.

But I found the United States was not very different from my home, but I'm very thankful for the opportunity to come here because it gives me a chance to see first hand that despite national borders people are generally pretty much the same the world over.

Christian Fellowship

Christian Fellowship was organized this year by Benson graduate, Rick Perry. Its purpose is to expose the message and person of Jesus Christ, and give students the opportunity to comprehend who he is.

Biweekly morning meetings include testimonies of guests, faculty members, and other students. Bible readings, singing, and group prayer, are also some of the activities of the "Brothers."

The Fre're BSU at Benson is a club that promotes unity among Blacks as well as Blacks and Whites. They accomplished these goals through various activities, such as a cake walk at the Benson 49'er and candy sales. They do community services too; participating in the single cell anemia commission, and donating time at the Albina Child Care Center. It's a very active club and meets three times a week. They have an able president in Timmie Graham.

Key Club

Key Club is an all purpose service club sponsored by the nation wide Kiwanis. They perform services around the school and community. Key sponsored many fund raising activities to help carry on their work. Seven members attended the Pacific Northwest Convention of Key Clubs in the Northwest, which was held in Vancouver B.C. The convention was cited as being a tremendous success.

Orange B

Orange B is an organization devoted to serving the school. They perform a wide range of duties, from guarding the doors at basketball games and during the Tech Show to sponsoring dances for the enjoyment of the student body. Members include all those Techmen who have earned varsity letters.

In Pursuit of?

Seniors in the timeless pursuits of glory, grades, styles and relaxation.

Photo Lab

The photography lab, headed by Mr. David Small, is one of the most complete in the city. The lab boasts 12 enlargers and a huge area for developing, fixing and washing prints. Students enrolled in photography come away with a basic understanding of this fascinating field.

Rally Squad

Benson's spring and fall rallies provided Benson with spirit, and enthusiasm. The rallies were present at all of Benson's games. During the course of the year there were several pep assemblies, which were conducted by the rally.

Jerry Thomas was the fall rally king while Dale Mathews reigned in the spring. The Female members of the rally were selected from Monroe by their students. Their male counterparts were selected from the Benson student body.

J.V. Rally

This year the J.V. rally had something to cheer about, as the Junior Varsity team was exceptionally good.

They did not always have a giant crowd behind them but the rally squad always yelled for all they were worth.

Bats

"BATS," the Benson Auditorium Technical Staff, sounds more like a bird watching club than a technical crew, managing the noon movies and assemblies. The "BATS" nest behind the scenes taking care of the special lighting effects and the audio-visual arrangements. They number 15 in a group and are especially active during special programs, such as the 49'er and the Tech Show.

KBPS, Fire Squad & Red Cross

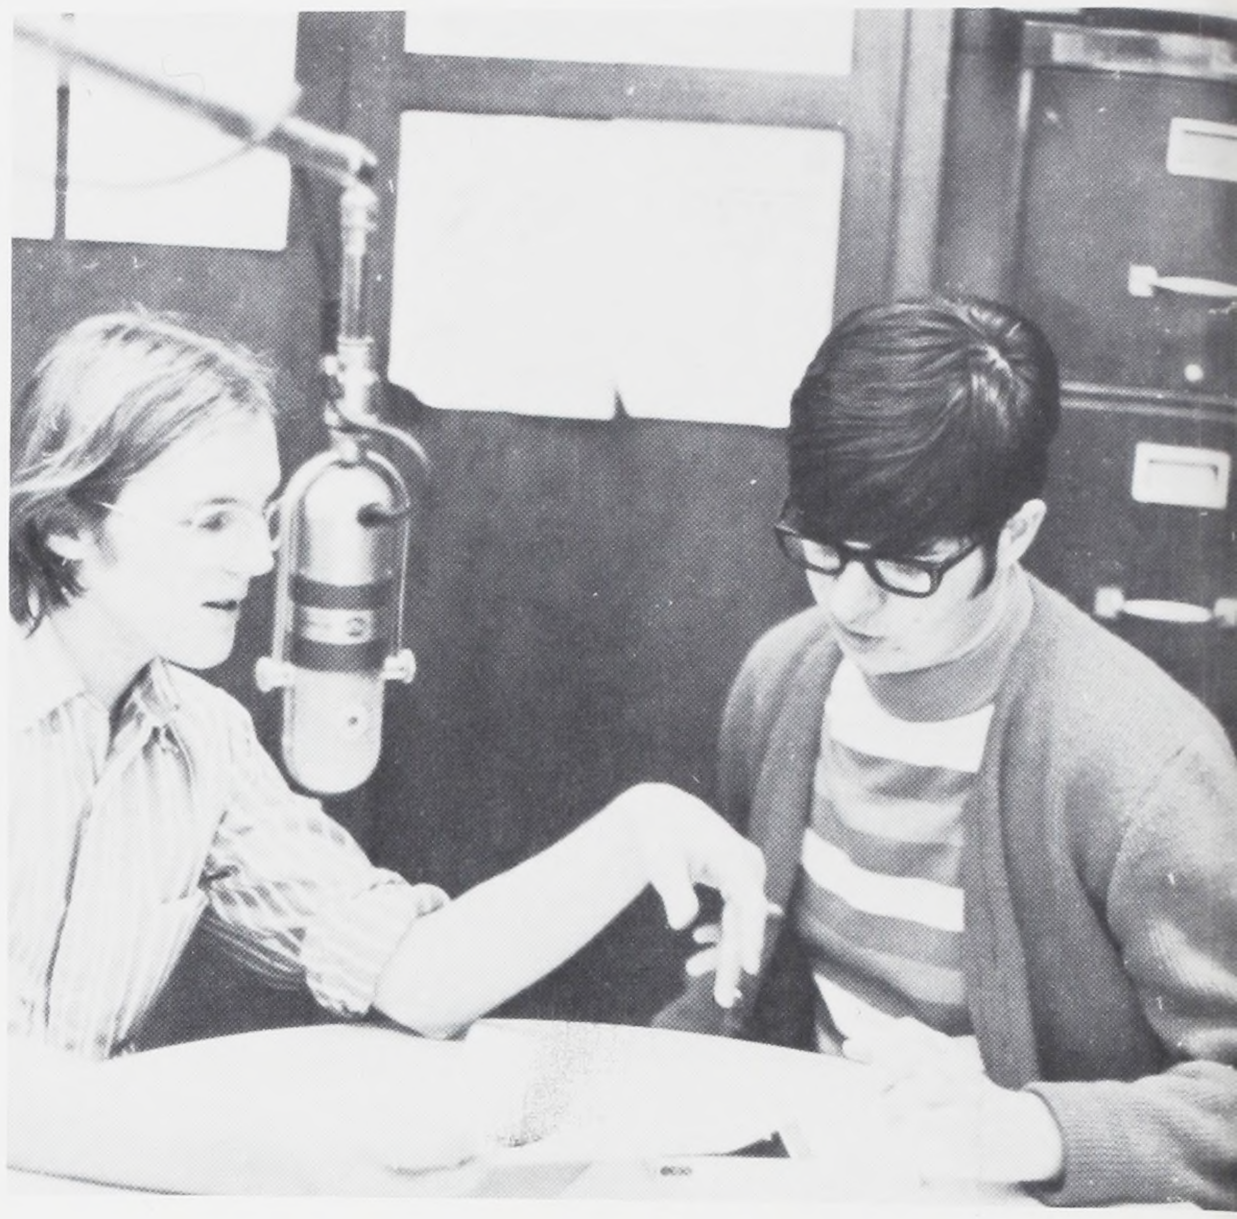
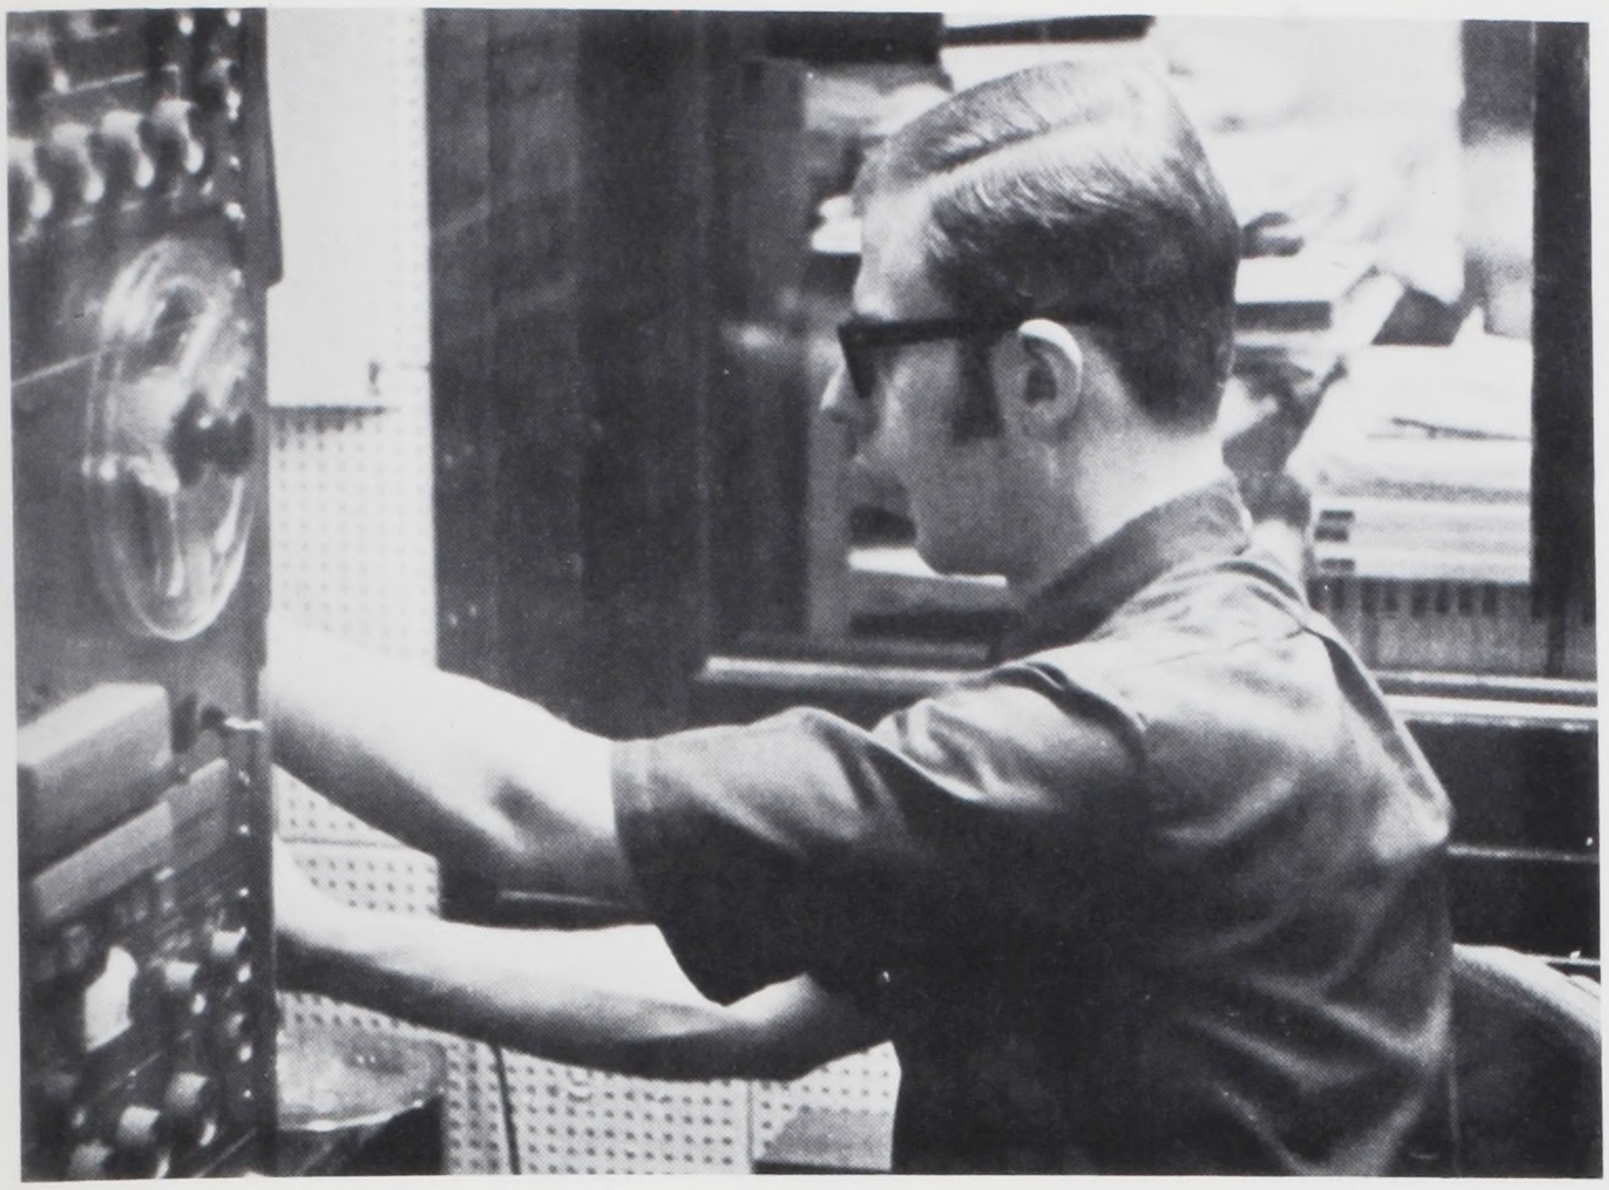
KBPS is the only student operated radio station in the U.S.A. which also offers a training career broadcasting to high school students. The responsibilities of the volunteer student staff ranged from operating and helping maintain the stations equipment to writing and producing some of the stations programs.





The Fire Squad is a voluntary activity. The members, M.Haase, S.Haley, J.Harvey, R. Southworth, H.Huff are always on the alert for the sound of the fire bell which sets the into immediate action. They hustle around school closing windows, checking doors and always looking out for fire hazards, a very tiring job.

The members of Red Cross Motor Corps are dedicated and enthusiastic in helping people out of trouble. With broad smiles and an extended hands these men are ready to handle any situation which might arise.

Library, Book Room, &Work Experience

The Benson library has all the latest teaching equipment. Besides having a wide variety of books, the school library also has a well equipped micro-film library.

Students can take a credit course in library management and learn how to use all related equipment.

They are constantly kept busy keeping up with the flow of in-coming and out-going books, lost and found books, and requisitioned books.

The students at Benson are fortunate to have a Work Experience program such as ours. Many students and graduates have received excellent jobs through this program.

Not only does the office find the jobs and set up the interviews for the students, but also arranges for out of school, on the job training in place of their regular shop.

Counseling and Personnel

Counselors play a vital role in the makeup of a high school. Each freshman is assigned one of two counselors. The student maintains the same counselor for four years. Hopefully, the counselor and the student will become very well acquainted over the four year period.

Scheduling or forecasting classes, guiding students toward a major and a career, and taking care of student's day to day problems are just some of the duties performed by Benson's counselors.

When there are nearly 2000 people involved in any institution, administrative problems abound. Benson keeps their problems to a minimum because of the job done in the personnel office. Mr. Paul Benninghoff heads this group that checks everything from why Johnny is absent to preparing the daily bulletin.

Cheerful help, small favors, and smiling faces can all be found in the main office. The secretaries and student helpers sort out red tape and try to make administrative details run smooth.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

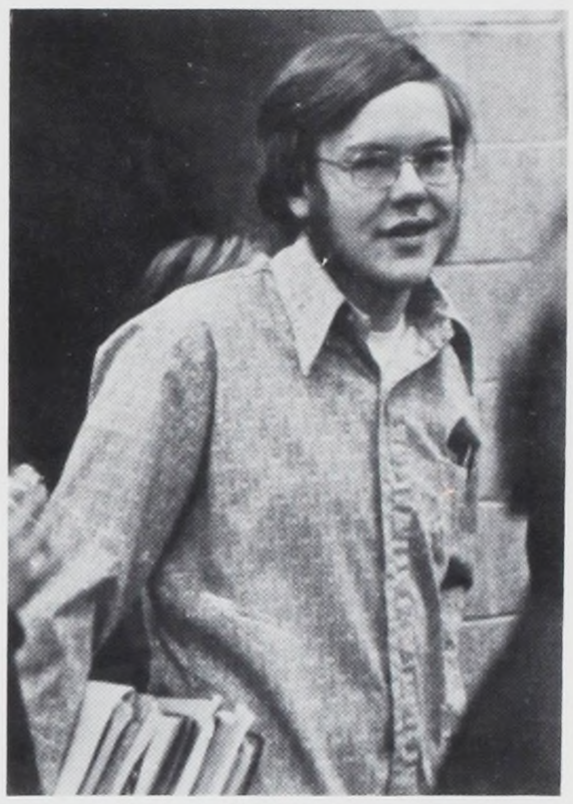
The 1972 Benson student Parliament had several major accomplishments, but their success was marred by the personality conflicts and indecision that typified this year. Some of this years accomplishments were low-priced, high quality dances that were partially financed by student government funds, and the planning and construction of the long needed steps by the new gym leading to the track. The student parliament also took the cause of student rights to the administration. The apathetic response from the students and the ineffectuality of the student leadership slowed the cause to a halt. The student government sponsored a "Gripe Assembly" where students were urged to voice their complaints without fear of repercussions was only a partial success. The lack of spring elections kept several members of the government in after the enthusiasm had died. It is hoped that the student government will be remembered of its sucesses and not its failures.

Plubius Maximus
Speaker Pro-tem



Student Government this year was a beautiful mess. We fought and argued, but we got a few things done. We participated in "Second Wind" which raised 64 tons of canned goods. Benson had a grand turnout of seven students. However the March of Dime's "Kids for Kids" Walkathon had a much better show. Our distance men came in first for the twenty mile walk. We put on two 25 ¢ dances and lost money. Whoopee!!! We had turnouts of 500 and more. Being Student Body President was a lot of hard work. You read, evaluate and process. You worked hard and dropped in grades. Then you tried to catch up. You miss a whole lot of school. And among all this you get awards and honors. You have to be a nut to want to be student body President.

Vocal and instrumental music are designed for the student interested in learning music for both fun and as a possible career. Both Mr. Hanson (vocal) and Mr. Rowe (Instr.) encourage and guide the students in all aspects and applications of the musical field.

The vocal music department is the cities finest, they have traveled throughout the city singing at social events as well as entertaining at Benson. The Ambassadors are the best of the best and have been complimented greatly for their singing ability.

The instrumental music department is also considered the city's finest. They never fail to bring high spirits and happy hearts when they play. The Pep Band has always won awards for their inspiring music and all around performance at games.

The 49'er

49'er is a fund raising event held annually at Benson. The money earned is used for scholarships and school projects.

This years 49'er was a success again. Attendance was about 1900 almost 500 more than last year.

Some of the booths featured games such as penny tossing and dart throwing, as well as other games of skill and chance.

Steve Bray entertained the audience at the stage show by playing several numbers on Bensons organ. A chorus line of Madison High School girls, called the Madison Dollies, was a big hit.

Tech Show

Schools are under constant pressure and the tax payer has rejected education in recent elections. In part the last bond issues and levies were defeated by the paying public. Without sufficient revenue to offer quality education, the Portland school board decided to shorten the school year rather than try to cut back on programs or teachers.

Education puts its best foot forward early in March each year at Bensons Tech Show. Parents, friends, and taxpayers have an opportunity to inspect Benson and witness education in action.

Students and teachers go about their school day activities while visitors observe and ask questions.

The visitors are also treated to a talent show featuring high school talent from throughout Portland. The 1972 Tech Show was another smashing success and renewed the visitors' confidence in public education.

Rose Festival Drivers

Once again Benson students were chosen as the 1972 Rose Festival Drivers. Nearly half the senior class turned out for the written test and the seniors who past this had to take a behind the wheel test, this was done with the help of the Portland Police Department.

The final eight drivers and three alternates were chosen by a students committee and the faculty. They were judged on accuracy, ability and appearence (length of hair).

Robert Hunt was chosen as the captain and Michael Brant, Jon Akazaki and Mark Tomm were chosen as alternates, just in case.

These men will accompany the girls day and night, alternating each day.

Yearbook

For the first time in the history of Benson, the 1972 Blueprint was delivered in the fall instead of the spring.

The Blueprint staff reached the decision because of the deadline pressures created by the shortened school year. They also felt that spring sports and activities could be given wider coverage than before.

The 1972 Blueprint staff worked very hard this year to produce a history of the 1972 school year.

The senior prom this year was a smashing success, even if Raquel didn't show up. It was held at the Thunderbird Inn. The band was ok condidering the ages of the band members. It was a dine and dance set up. The meal was flat, but who cares if you spent 50 dollars already for a tux, car, and etc.

Graduation

The graduation of the class of seventy-two was long and relatively boring. There were good points however. Bill DeWeese talked on how great the school was; Bill Adix is class valedictorian, and some graduates blew soap bubbles and read comic books in the lofty back rows. It was a good graduation. We are proud to have been among the blue and orange tassles. For we achieved what we set out to do four years ago. We are the graduates of Benson Tech nineteen seventy-two.

Outdoor School

A number of Techmen escaped the hustle and bustle of high school and attended Outdoor School, a relatively new program undertaken in Multnomah County. The program is aimed at giving the grade schooler a chance to discover nature, through the study of plants, animals, water, and soil.

For one week the high school is forgotten and the junior counsellor takes on the challenge of containing and assisting the almost everlasting energies of the sometimes ferocious six grader.

Administration

The administration of Benson, more than any other high school in the area, is a very involved task because of its involvement in the many technical fields of our society. This extreme involvement has brought about the need for four administrators and an assistant, who are now stationed at Tech. Each administrator is responsible for specific areas, and all work very hard to maintain the high standards which have evolved to bring about the Benson way of excellance in all endeavors. Only through this involvement and the extreme pride in their school has Benson received nationwide recognition and a reputation as one of the nation's finest high schools.

ACADEMICS

Mathematics

Mathematics is the backbone of most technical work and thus is highly significant in the curriculum of a technical high school.

The Benson math department offers a wide range of courses to meet the needs of all Benson students. Advanced students may enroll in computer math, calculus, and other specialized courses while freshmen work away at general math.

English

Mr. Robert Bonniwell is the chairman of Tech's fine English department. The department offers four years of English for the student wheather he plans on attending college or not.

Students may choose from a group of study areas during their senior year. Up to that time, the students are required to take courses in basic English. These courses give the students a solid foundation of literature and composition.

On the senior level students may enroll in film study, reading and discussion, Shakespeare, or journalism.

Science.

Benson's science department is noted for its excellence. The department offers a wide range of study units. By the time a student graduates, he has had the opportunity to enroll in marine biology, survival, human anatomy, dissection, microbiology, deseases, evolution, ecology, genetics, cells, oceanography, chemistry, physics, physical science, and engineering problems.

Mr. Howard Browning, chairman of the department, feels that it is important for each student to get some exposure to the world of science.

Each instructor specializes in a particular field. The students rotate to the different teachers to take advantage of their specialized skills.

Health, P.E. and Music

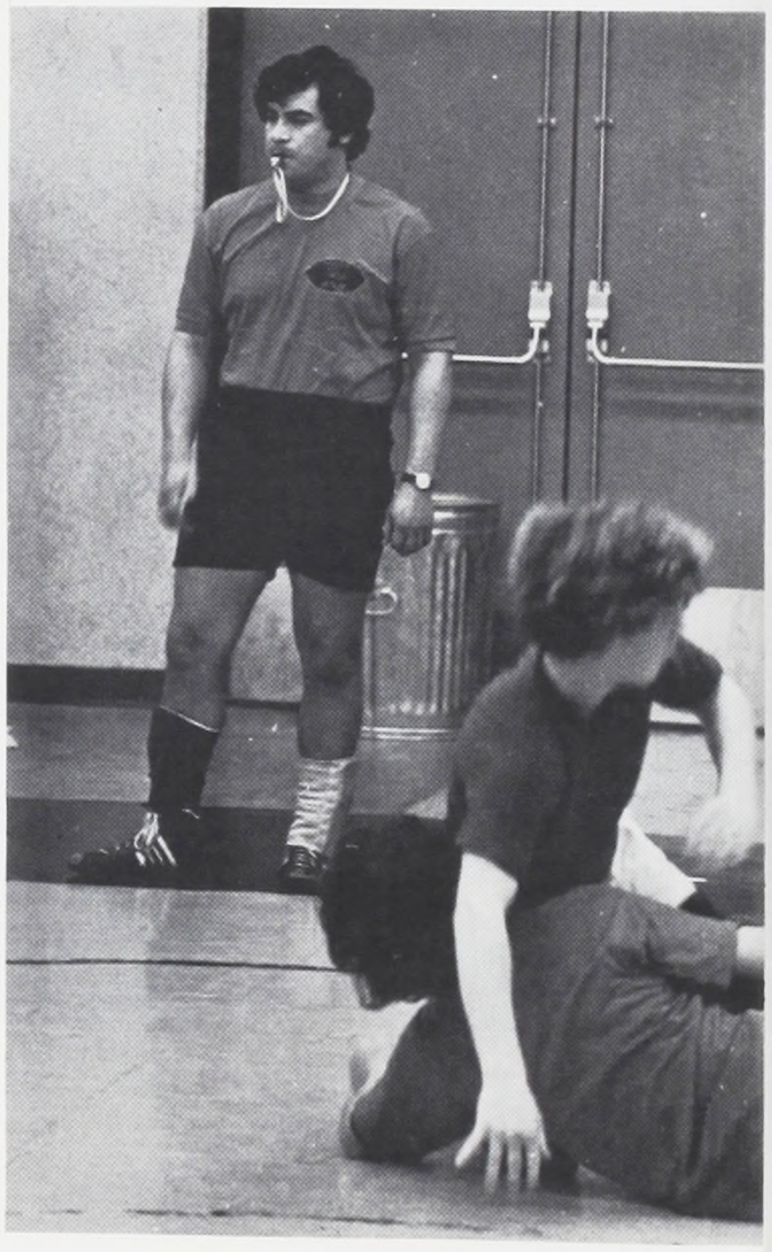
The physical education department offers a great deal to Benson students. Students are required to perform physical tasks to improve their condition. In addition, the department teaches a wide variety of skill activities. Tennis, soccer, table tennis, volleyball, and basketball, are just a few of the activities.

Health is taught by qualified health instructors under the guidance of Mr. Chuck Mucha, health and P.E. department chariman.



Those students with an interest in music, chorale or instrumental, find an outlet for their enthusiasm in Benson's music department. Talented musicians improve their skill under the deft direction of Mr. Harold Rowe. Mr. Roger Hanson leads the chorale classes.

Students are encouraged to enroll in music classes. They may take music from their freshman year until graduation.

The Benson Automotive Shop is considered the most well equiped school shop in the state. Students taking this shop get a complete education in all aspects of automotive repair. They are exposed to body and fender, motor overhaul, automotive machine, carburetion and ingnition. To keep up with technological advances automotive majors are required to take two week courses in fluid power, plastic technology and other related subjects.

Building Construction

Building Construction is second in demand Many of the students go on to careers in carpentry. However, if they don't, they have valuable experience and knowledge to be a good hand around their future castles.

Metal and Plastic Fabrication

In metal fabrication the student is taught about tools, layouts, and equipment used in the fabrication of metals. Subjects covered include pattern, blueprinting reading, sketching and the cutting, forming fastening and finishing of ferrous and non ferrous metals.

The plastics course is a new booming course which offers a basic foundation in the study of plastic, but is not considered a major.

Machine Shop

Benson's maching shop prides itself in its one million dollars worth of equipment. With this equipment, the machine program can effectively teach the methods and skills of this exciting industry.

Students receive individual instruction on new machining methods such as numerical control and electrical discharge machining.

Welding & Plumbing

In welding shop students learn how to arc weld and gas weld. The students, under the watchful eye of Mr. Milovich, are taught how to use different welds and welding rods in the proper manner.

The plumbing shop teaches the basics of this highly skilled trade. Students learn to calk lead joints and thread pipe. They also learn to do the plumbing in a typical house.

Junior Class

This year's junior class officers set out to achieve unity within the student body and did a good job accomplishing this goal. Led by their president, Bob Tate, they worked hard to better their school and their class. With the cooperation of the student body, the officers raised funds through various activities such as dances and car washes. The funds were used to make needed improvements at Tech. One great improvement instigated by these leaders was the stairs that were built from the P.E. building to the field. Future Techmen can thank these eager leaders for making the trip to the field easier.

Yearbook Editors

As editor of the Benson Blueprint, it was my honor and misfortune to choose yearbook as an elective. We missed deadlines and argued for weeks on the type of type we were going to have as well as cover design. However, the quality of this year's yearbook far exceeds previous yearbooks. It is more enjoyable to read and you won't go to sleep looking at the pictures.

Stewart Minors

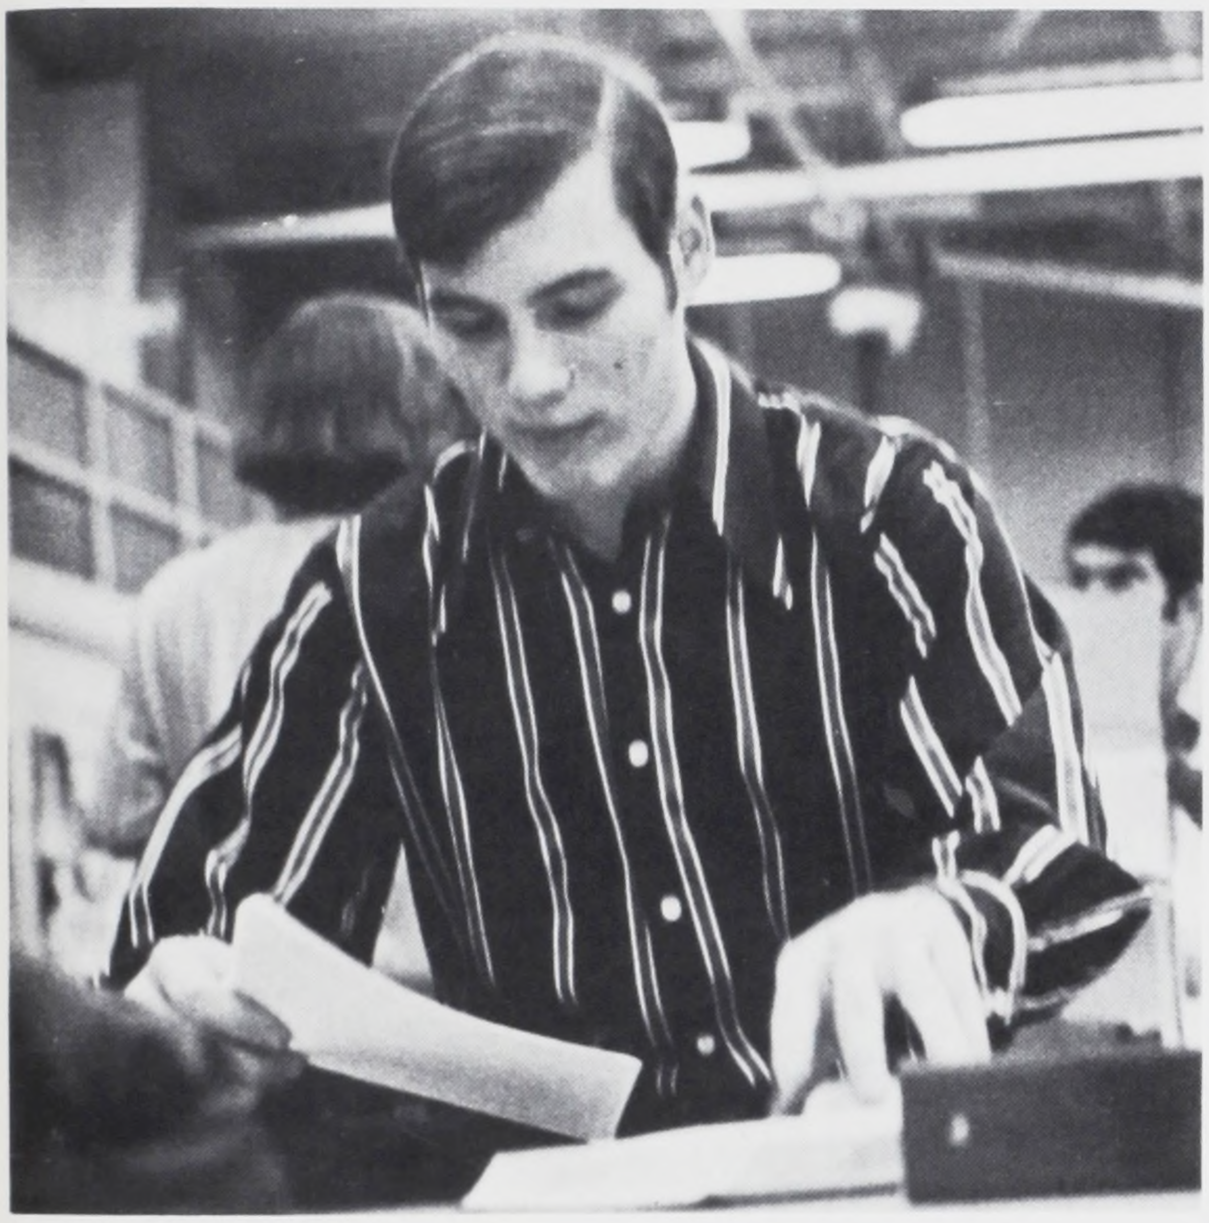
Working on the yearbook staff was a very beneficial experience. It gave us a chance to work together as a team and produce; probably the best yearbook in the history of Benson High in content and organization.

The section contributing the most was advertisement, which was brought back to Benson, after many years of absence. This not only enabled us to have color pictures, but also gave us a wider range of covers from which to choose.

I had only one disappointment this year. This was the lack of interest in selling of advertising. We only reached fifty percent of our goal. I feel that to make it a major success this interest must exist and all must participate.

Business Editor
Doug Watson



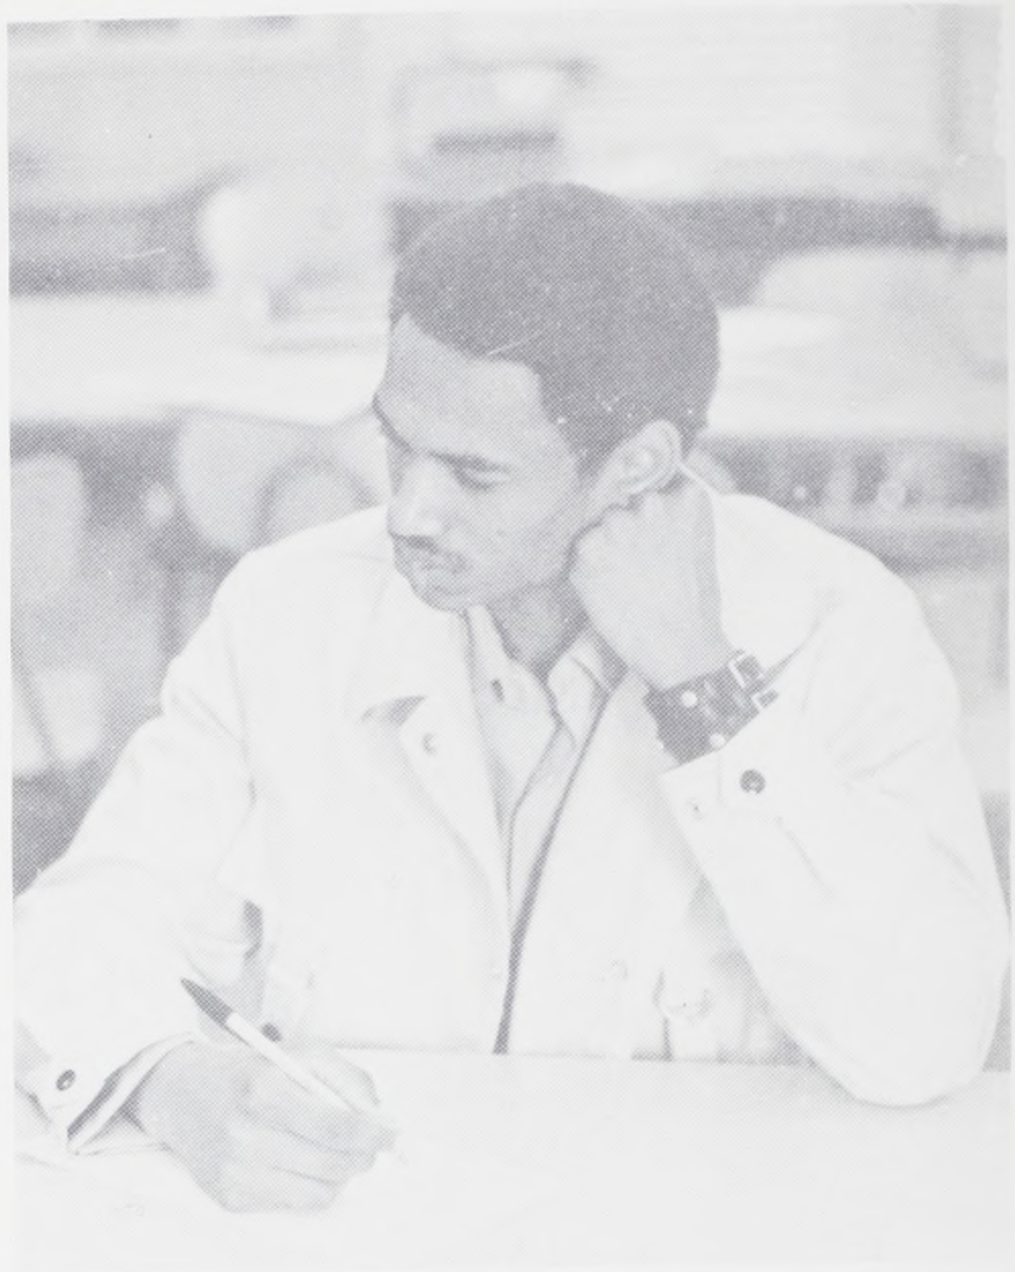
With all the problems we had this year I felt that we have put out the best yearbook that I have seen in my past four years at Benson. Though we had many difficulties and missed deadlines we still managed to put out an excellent yearbook.

The staff this year really put out. Most of our staff was inexperienced. We learned how to put a good yearbook together. It is not perfect. Compare it to previous years and I think you will think it is much better. But that's for you to decide.

Co-editor
Ted Seifert

This should be known as an experimental yearbook. For, for the first time since I have been going here, the students actually had some control over a school activity. On top of that we actually went by some rules in putting out the book and everyone really helped. I really hope this turns out to be a good yearbook, I haven't seen it yet but if it isn't the best, it can't be the worst. A lot of people really worked their tails off, especially around deadline, and with all that effort, its gotta be great. The book shows that Benson students aren't all a bunch of apple-polsihing shoeshine boys, were all "normal" like everyone else. I really hope you like the book.

Co-Editor
Jim McDonough



Working on the Blueprint this year has been a worthwhile experience filled with ups and downs. For those who think that working on the yearbook is an easy task, forget it. That's what I thought when I first enrolled in the class, but I soon realized that three was more to putting a yearbook together, than just putting in a couple of pictures. The Blueprint staff never had a moments rest as many times they came in after school to contribute their time to making this yearbook the best one made in a long time.

Advertising Editor,
Dale Matthews

Yearbook Editors

The yearbook staff of '72 felt that director Harry Cartales did an outstanding job and his help and opinions were greatly appreciated.

Save at the First sign.

Saving for a college education can't begin too early. Books, tuition, and spending money can be a burden.

Plan ahead with a First National savings plan. Make certain that lack of finances won't interfere with your educational goals. Save now . . . where you see the sign.

We'd like to get to know you.
