Varsity FOOTBALL

A TECHMEN
NEVER GIVES
UP. NO EXCUSES

Through the turmoil of each game, pushing and fighting for that football, our Techmen played with all their effort, for the pride and glory of Benson.

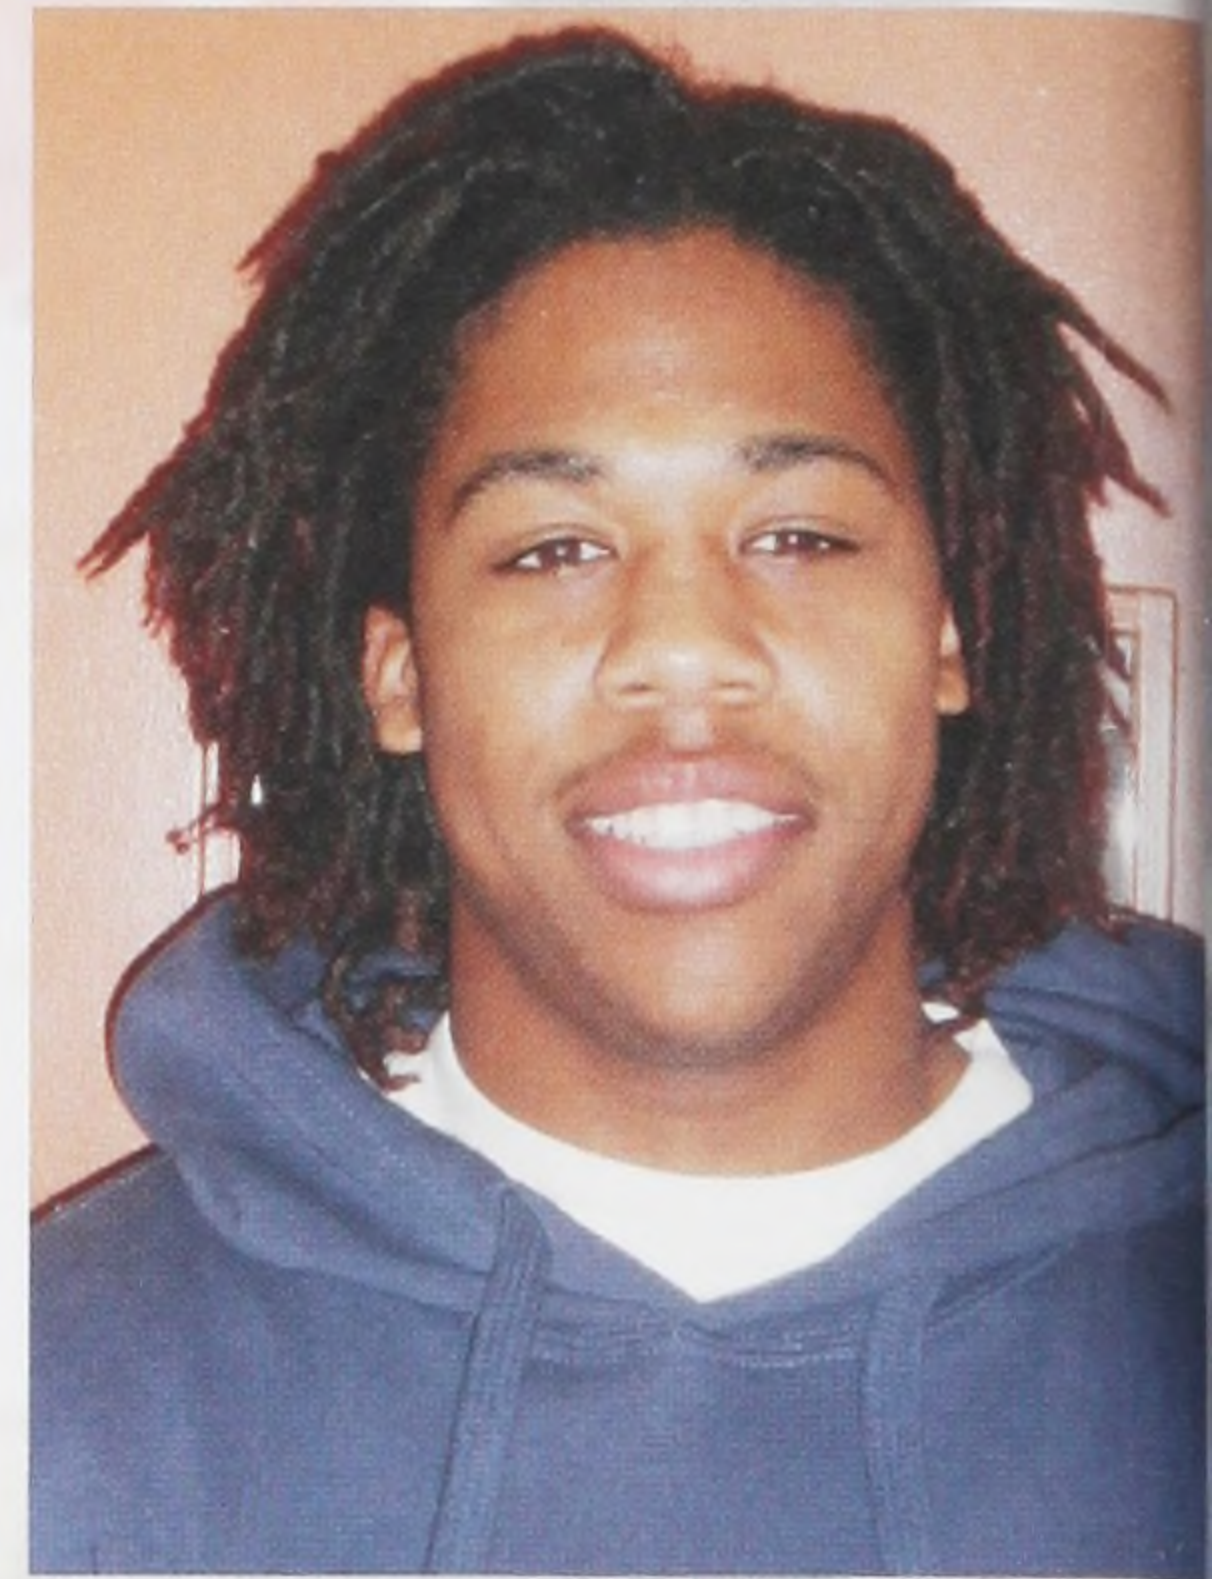

Words from the Captains

ANDREW GIRRES- "Our football season didn't go as I expected. I had high expectations, and although plans didn't come through, I had fun sharing memories with my teammates. It was a learning experience, and I still don't regret a single moment."

KEVIN JONES- "Yeah, we had a bad season. Yeah, we didn't win a single game. Yeah, it's sad. Yeah, I had one of the best times of my life playing with friends. Yeah, I'll remember this season forever."

ALEX BERRY- "We can all see that the season wasn't the way we planned for it to be, but as a leader I wanted my team to keep focus through all the adversity went through. And we did just that, you never saw us down and mad that we didn't do as well, we just looked to the next game. We didn't give up, and made it to the very end."

ALEX JONES- "In the summer, I had high hopes for myself, and the football team. A lot of people were dedicated and showed commitment by coming back to practice everyday even through all the strifes we endured. Unfortunately the season didn't go as planned, but I had fun."

MVP: Alex Berry was voted MVP because "He is on every special team, and always tries his best," as Ethan Shaddock, fellow teammate, puts it.

English

Even though Techmen are celebrated for their handiness, there is still much to be said about their English skills as well.

Intimidation

Mr. Mylet and Thuan Vuong pose for the camera. Mr. Mylet has successfully scared the rest of his class away with his Leonidas beard.

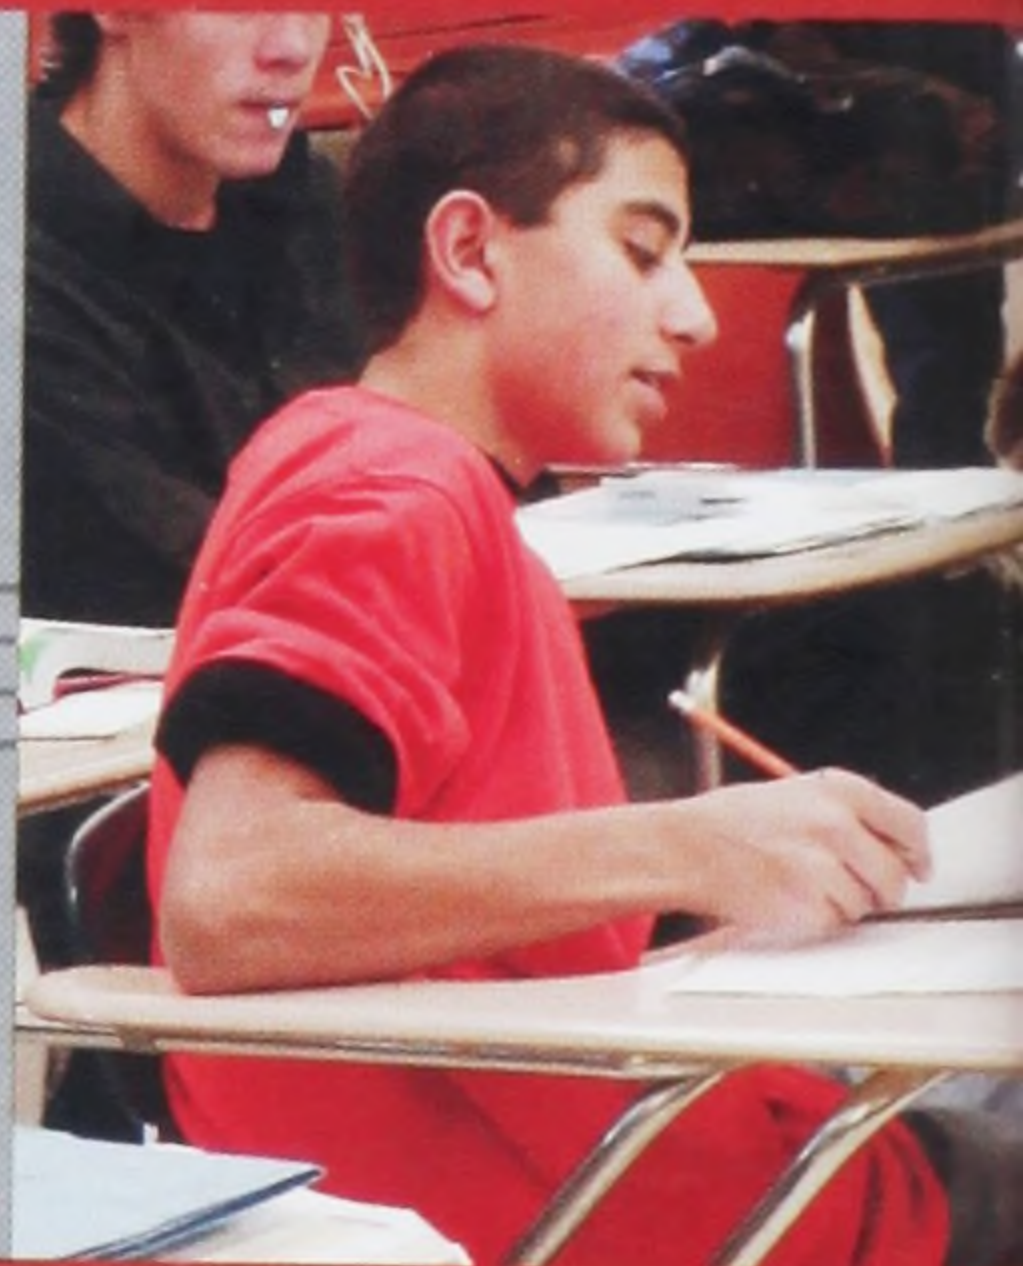

Diligence

Another one of Benson's hard working english students slaving away over a thoughtful free write.

Teaching

Ms. Rodeback spends her last year here joyfully teaching her favorite honor students.

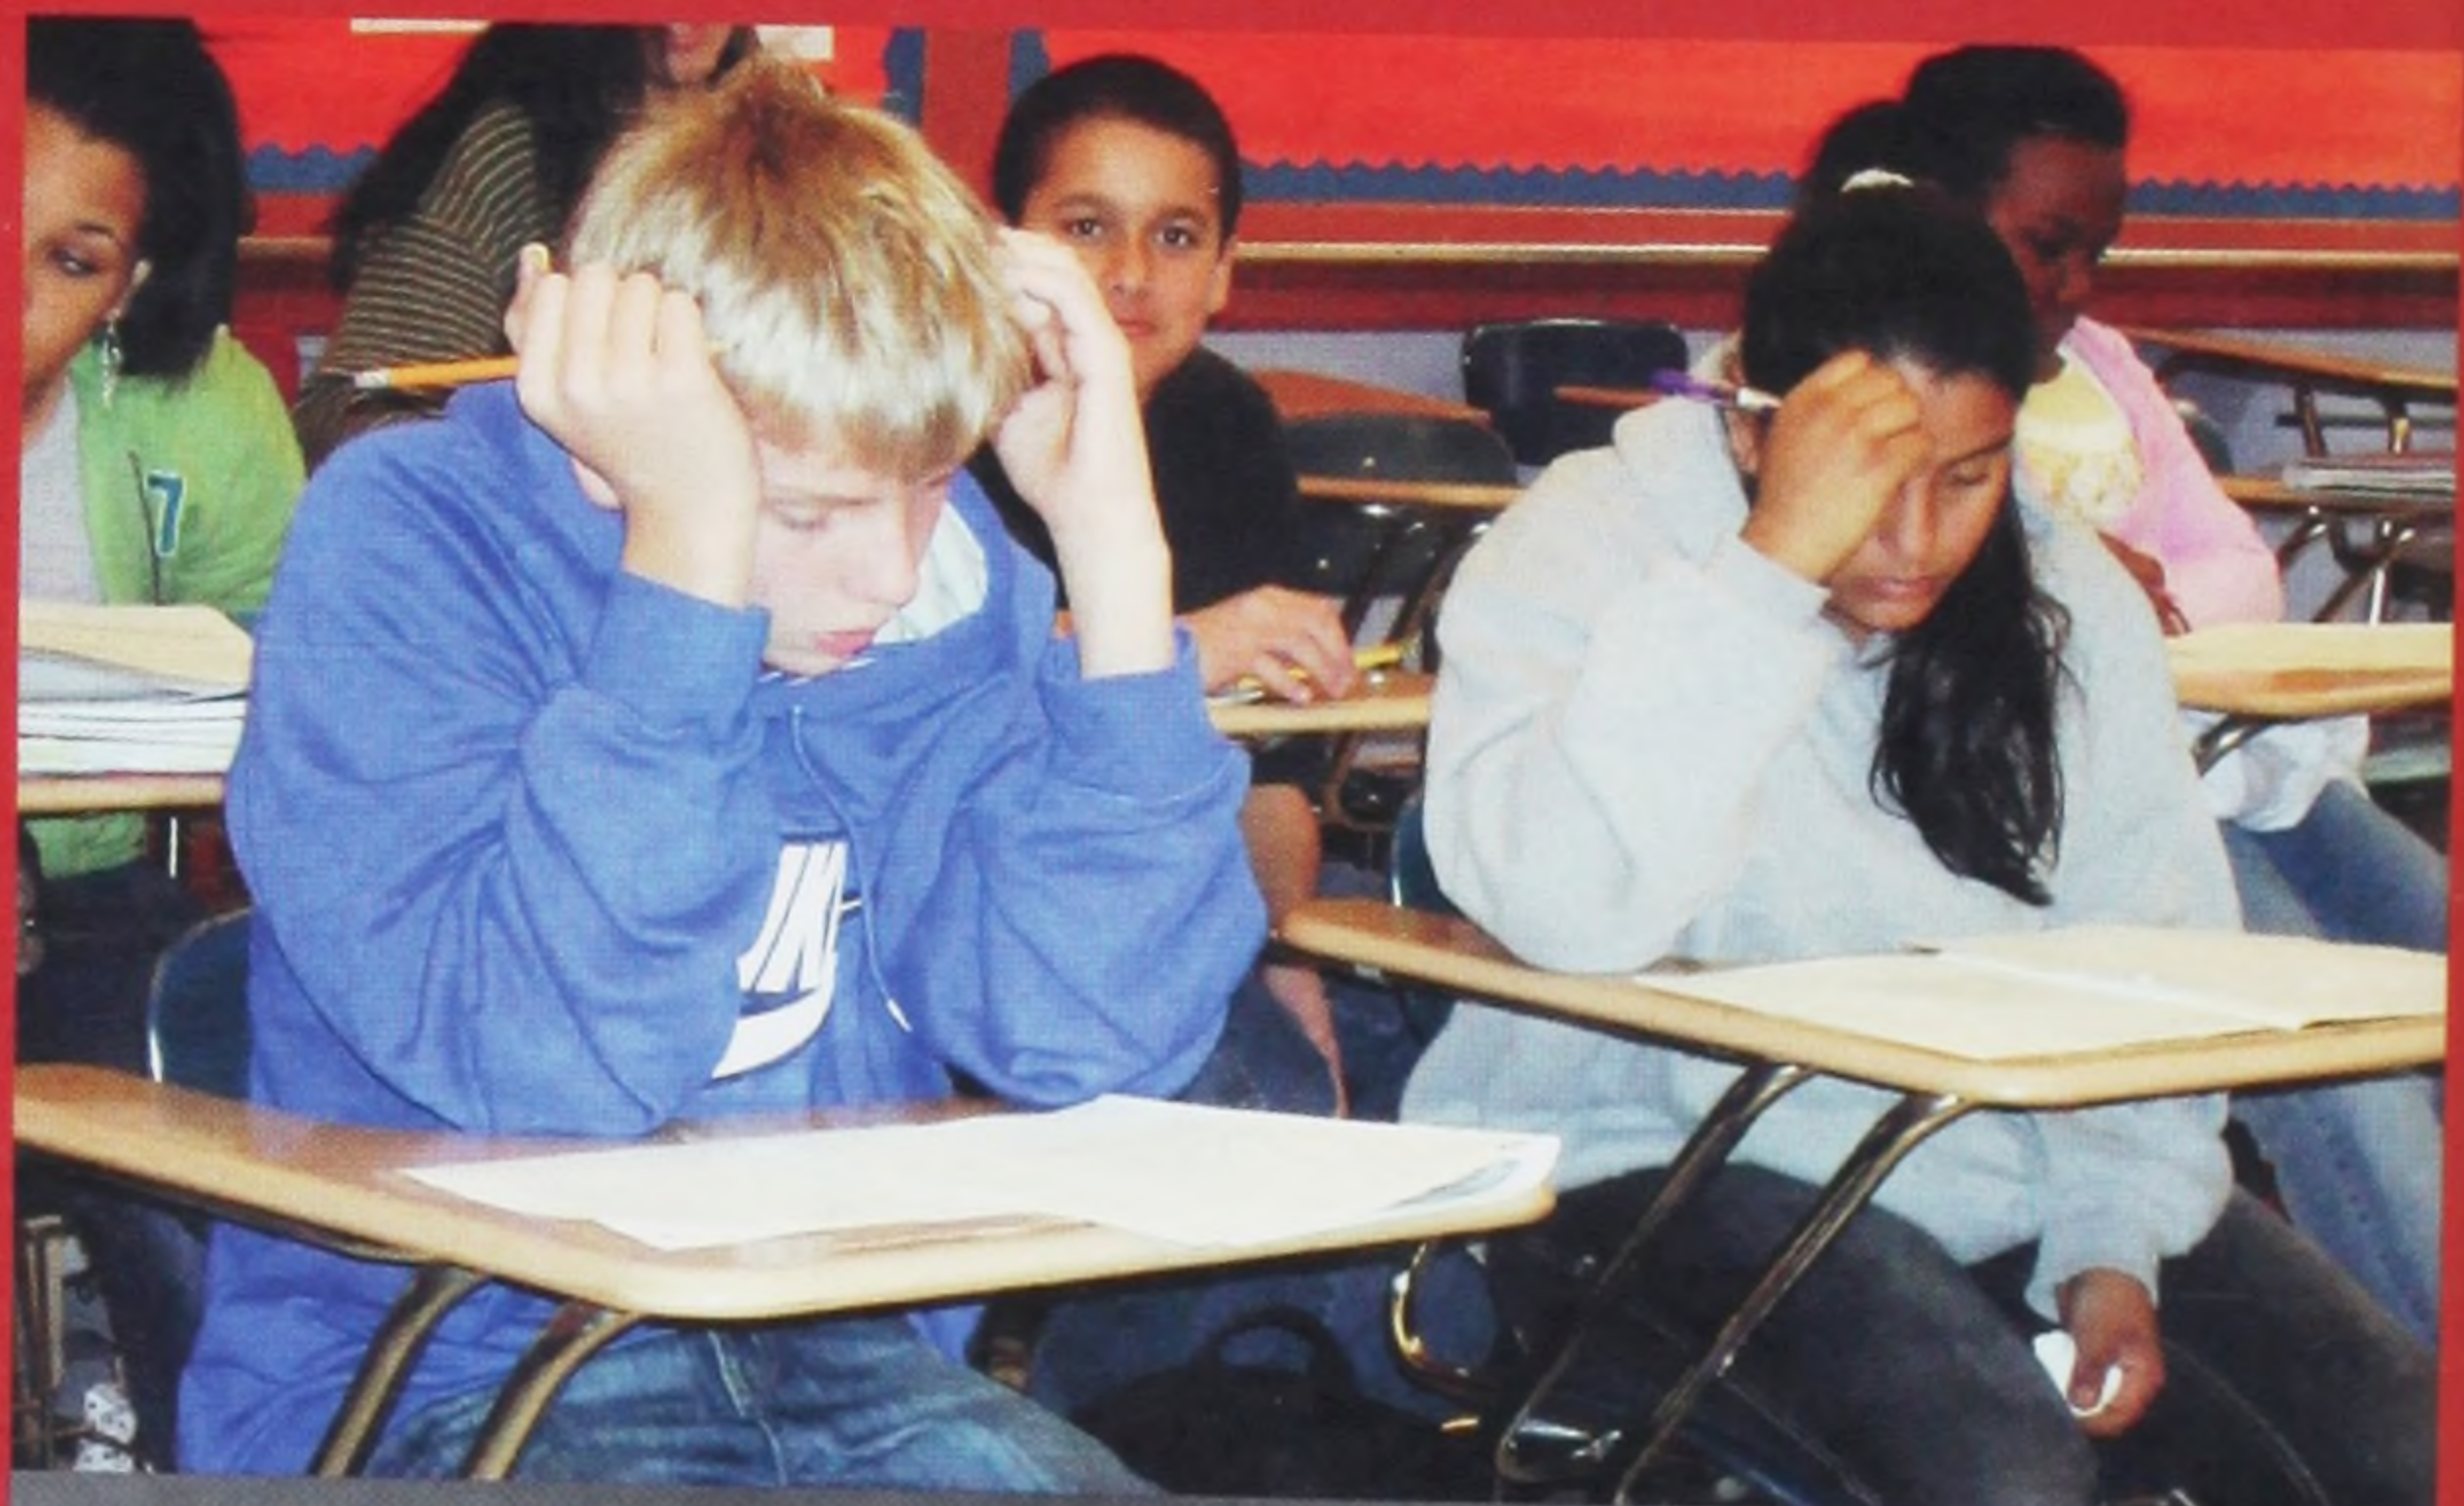

Egotism

"Shoot, this work is so easy . I can do it with my eyes closed. Watch."

Role Model

Tony Ngos how to be a good student. It took lots of practice but he finally mastered the art of pretending to read.

Hard Work

Freshman students of year 2011 learning their ABCs.

Science

"There is a single light of science, and to brighten it anywhere is to brighten it everywhere."

-Isaac Asimov

This student is so devoted to her science work we could hardly get her to give us the time of day.

Wowzer!

Ms. Eames is attentively learning a lesson in science from academic superstar Adam Clarke.

Lab Work

This is a photo of one of Benson's many gifted science students.

Group Project

Come on lets huddle up and figure this out together.

Mother Goose

This student is taking in all the wandering children under her wing and teaching them about molecular biology.

Experiments

Wouldn't it be cool if they could actually make the test tubes explode by mixing two liquids together?

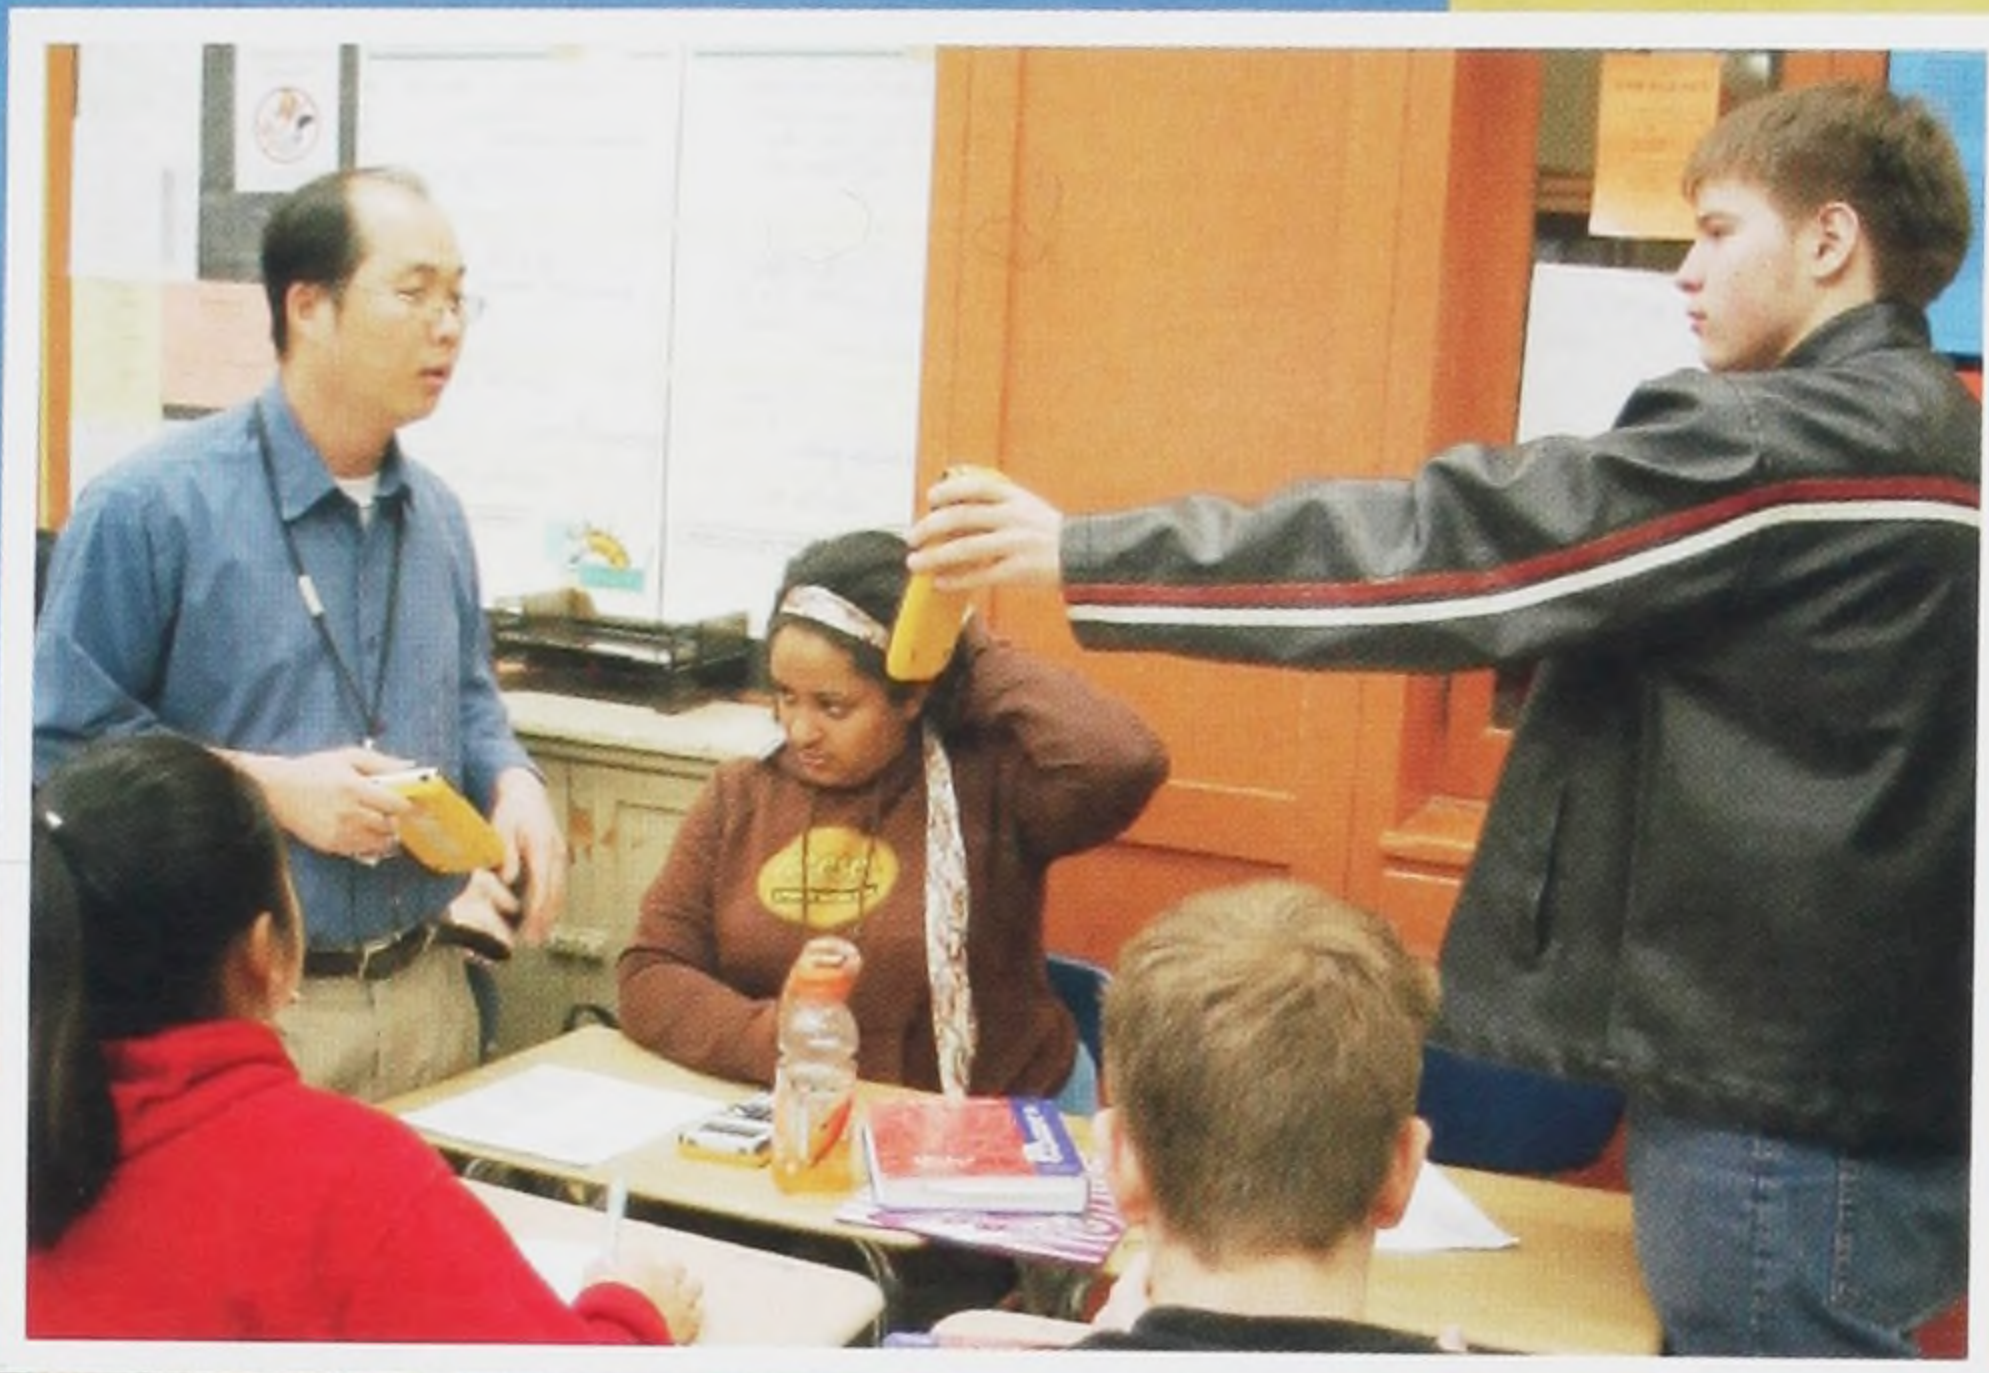

MATH

"Math is beautiful"

-Mr. Trinh

These people obviously enjoy math a whole bunch. Just look at how much fun they're having.

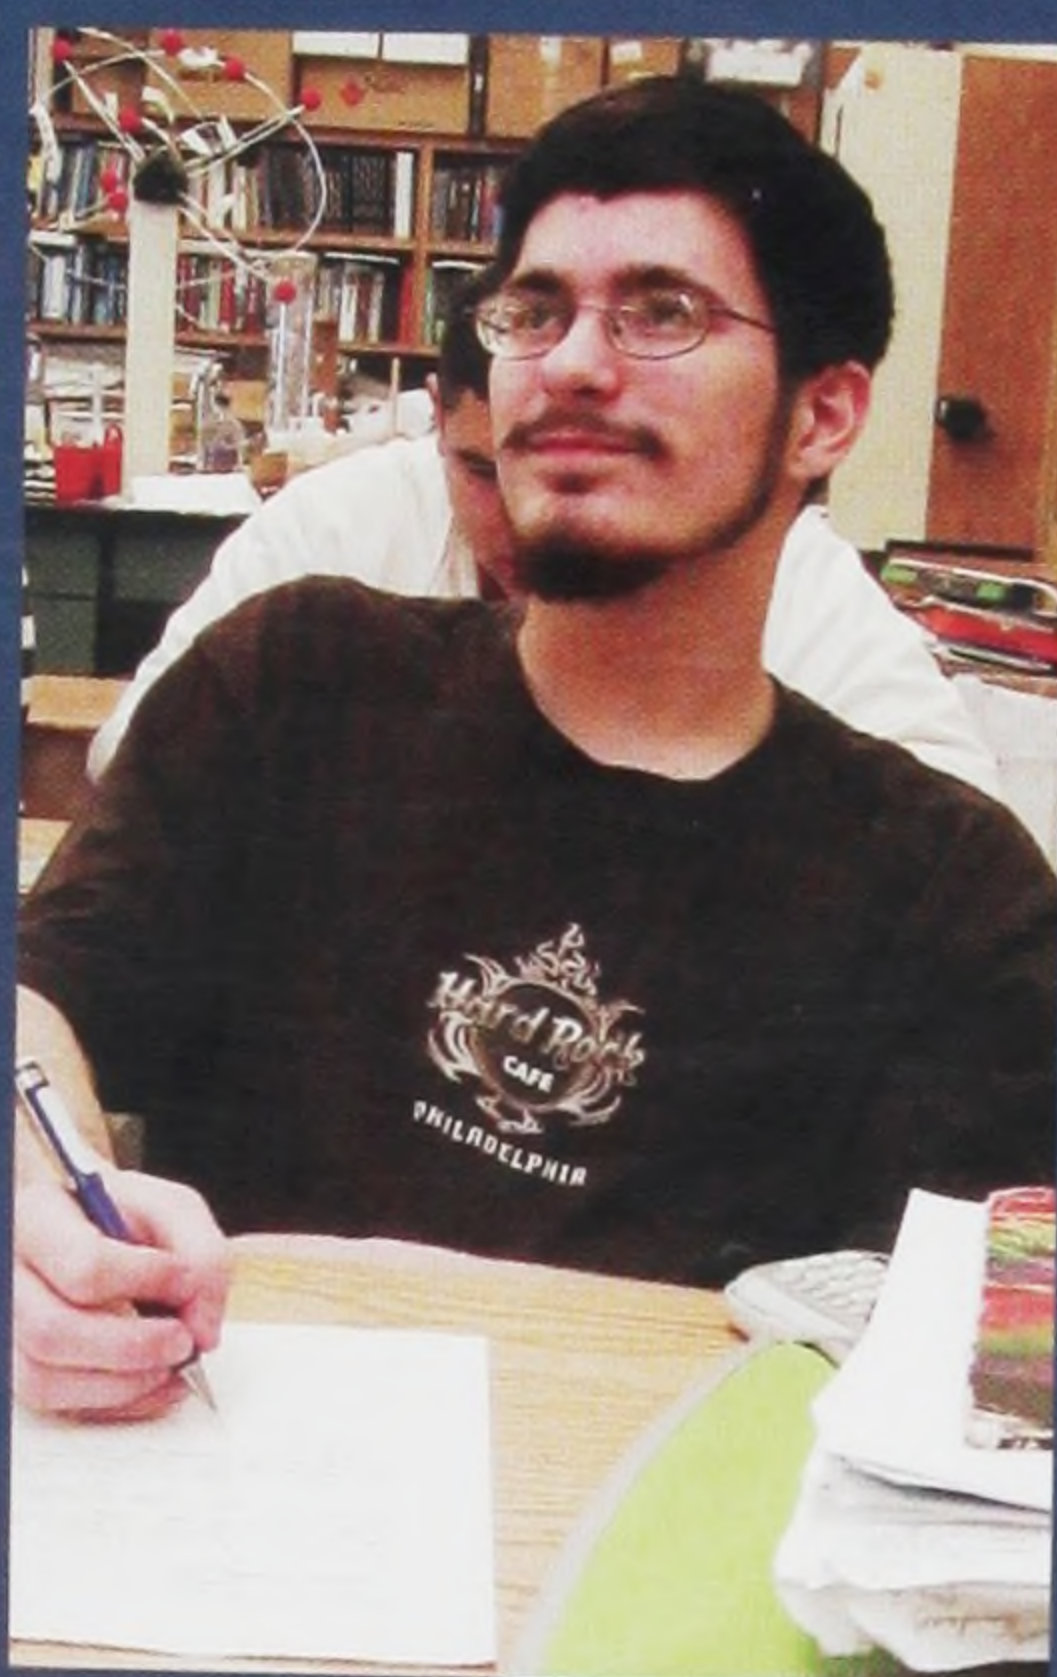

Mr. Trinh doesn't afraid of Jet,
Mr. Trinh doesn't afraid of anything!

When you're hard at work in your math class, you become picture perfect.

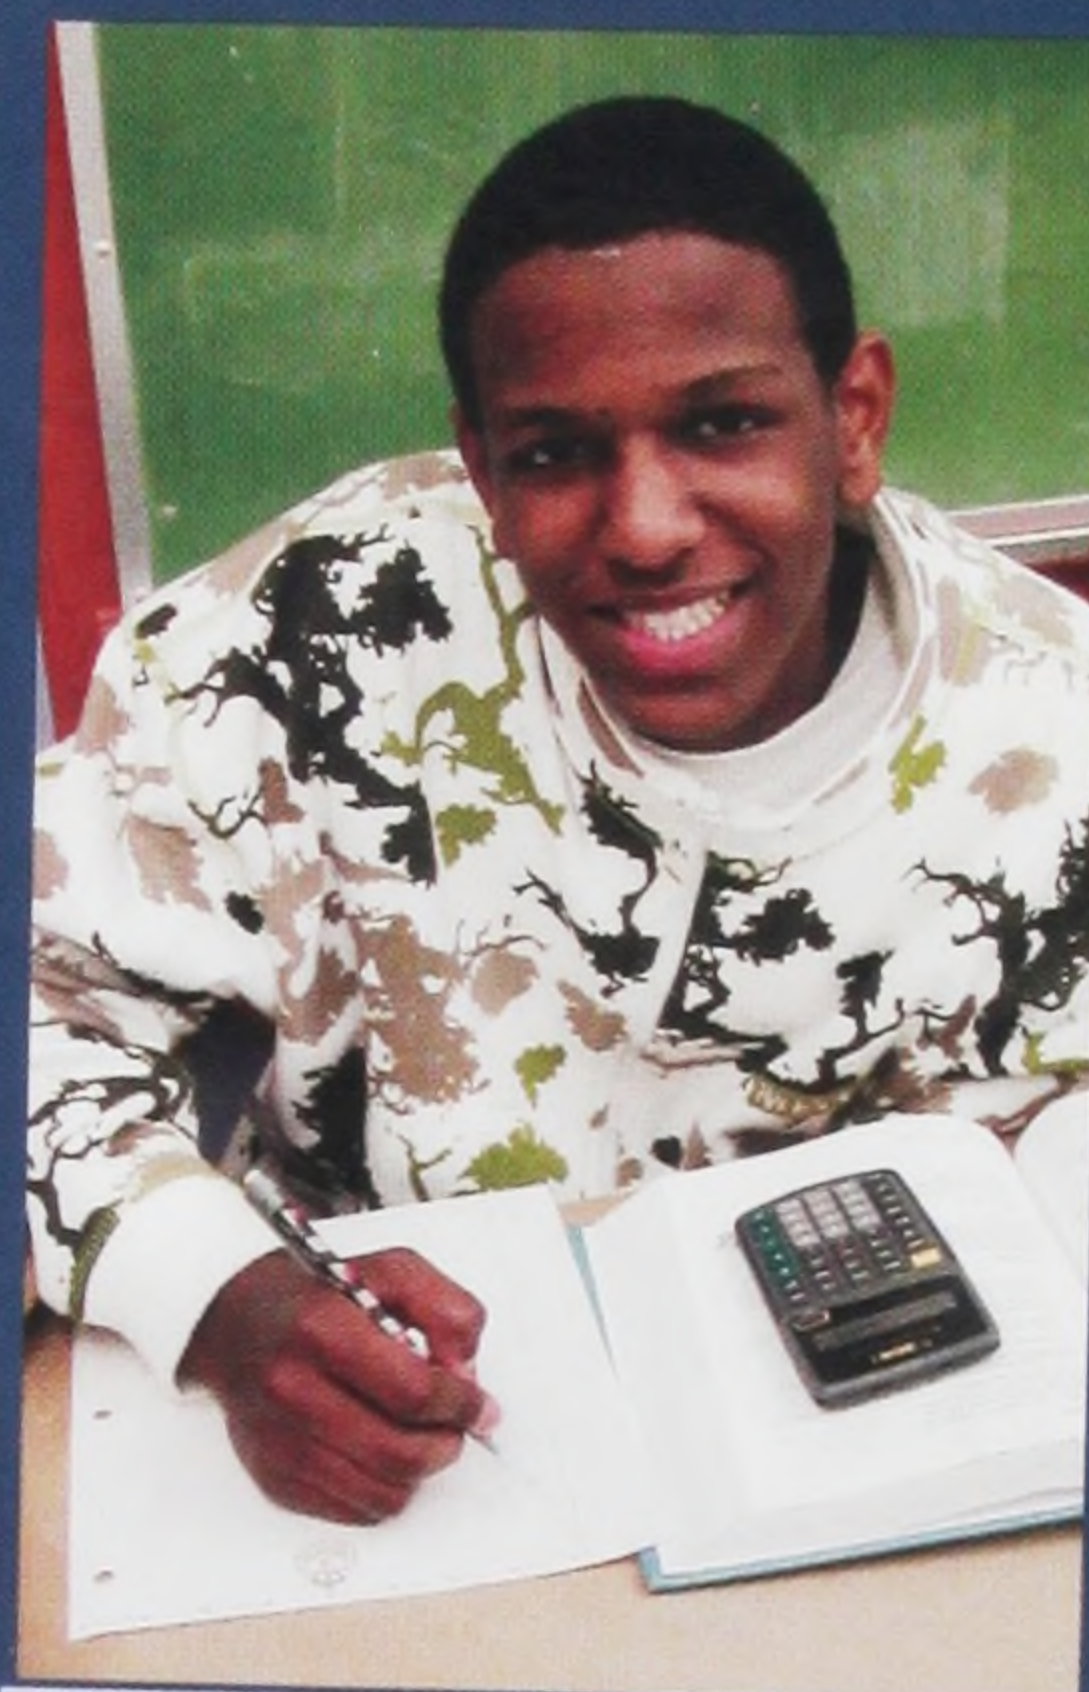

Math and English are a lot alike... nah, I can't back that up.

To be a math stud you have to look the part. We know Ben Lindsay has what it takes.

A line of Freshman are setting their foundation for all their future math skills. $y=mc...$ what?

Mr. Trinh says that math is beautiful. Clearly he was right. It goes along with any outfit!

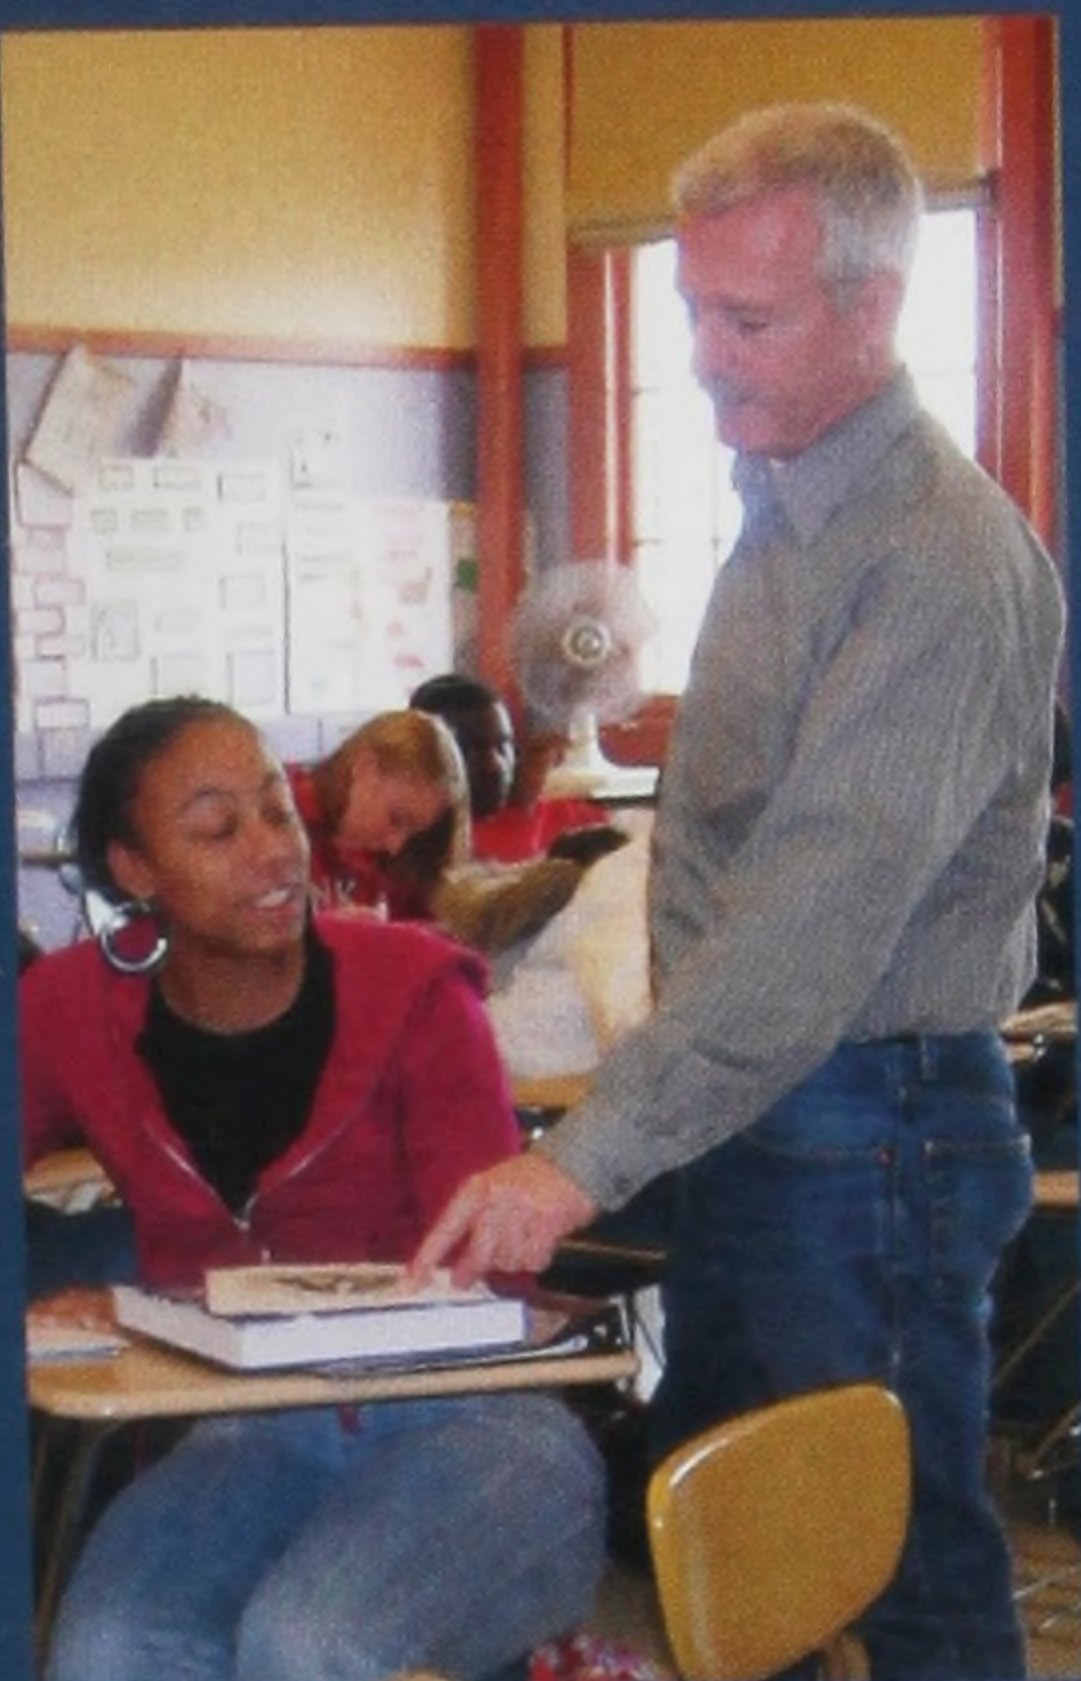

Social Studies

A class of sophomores are listening intently and learning a little about the world.

Teamwork is essential for success in some classwork settings.

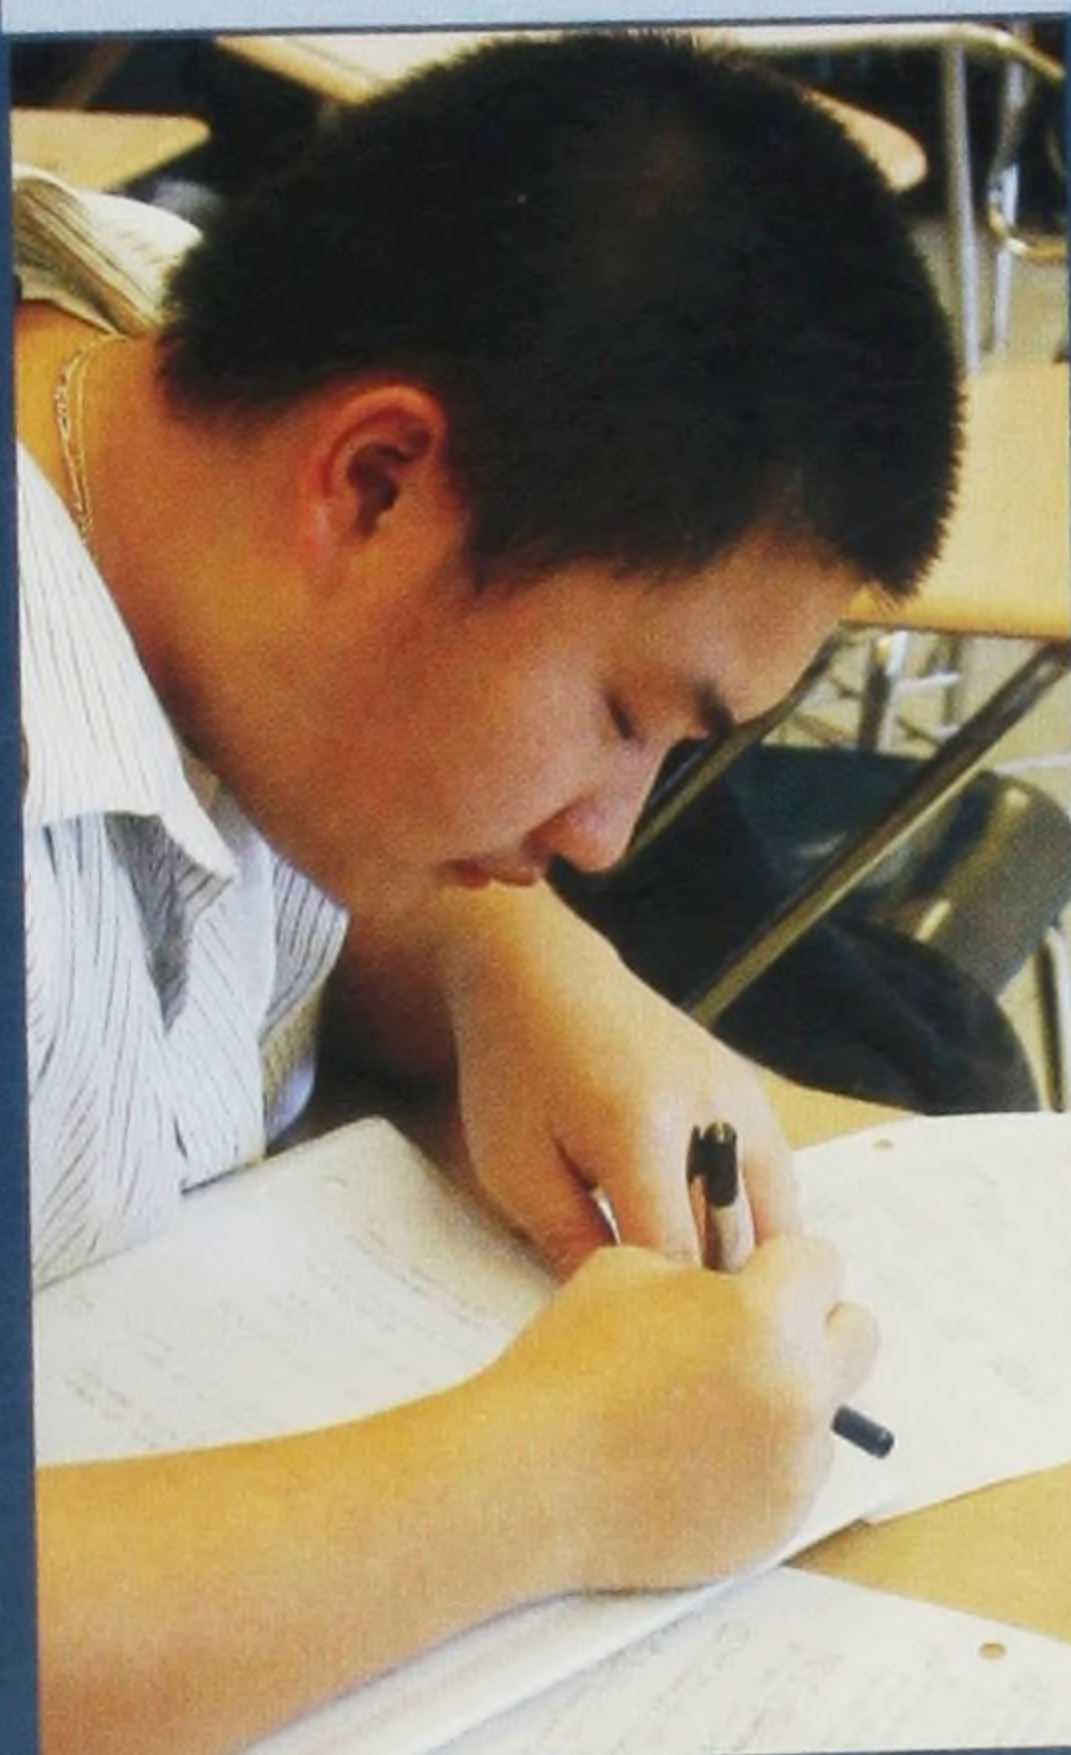

Ronnie has it all figured out. Who needs history when technology is the future?

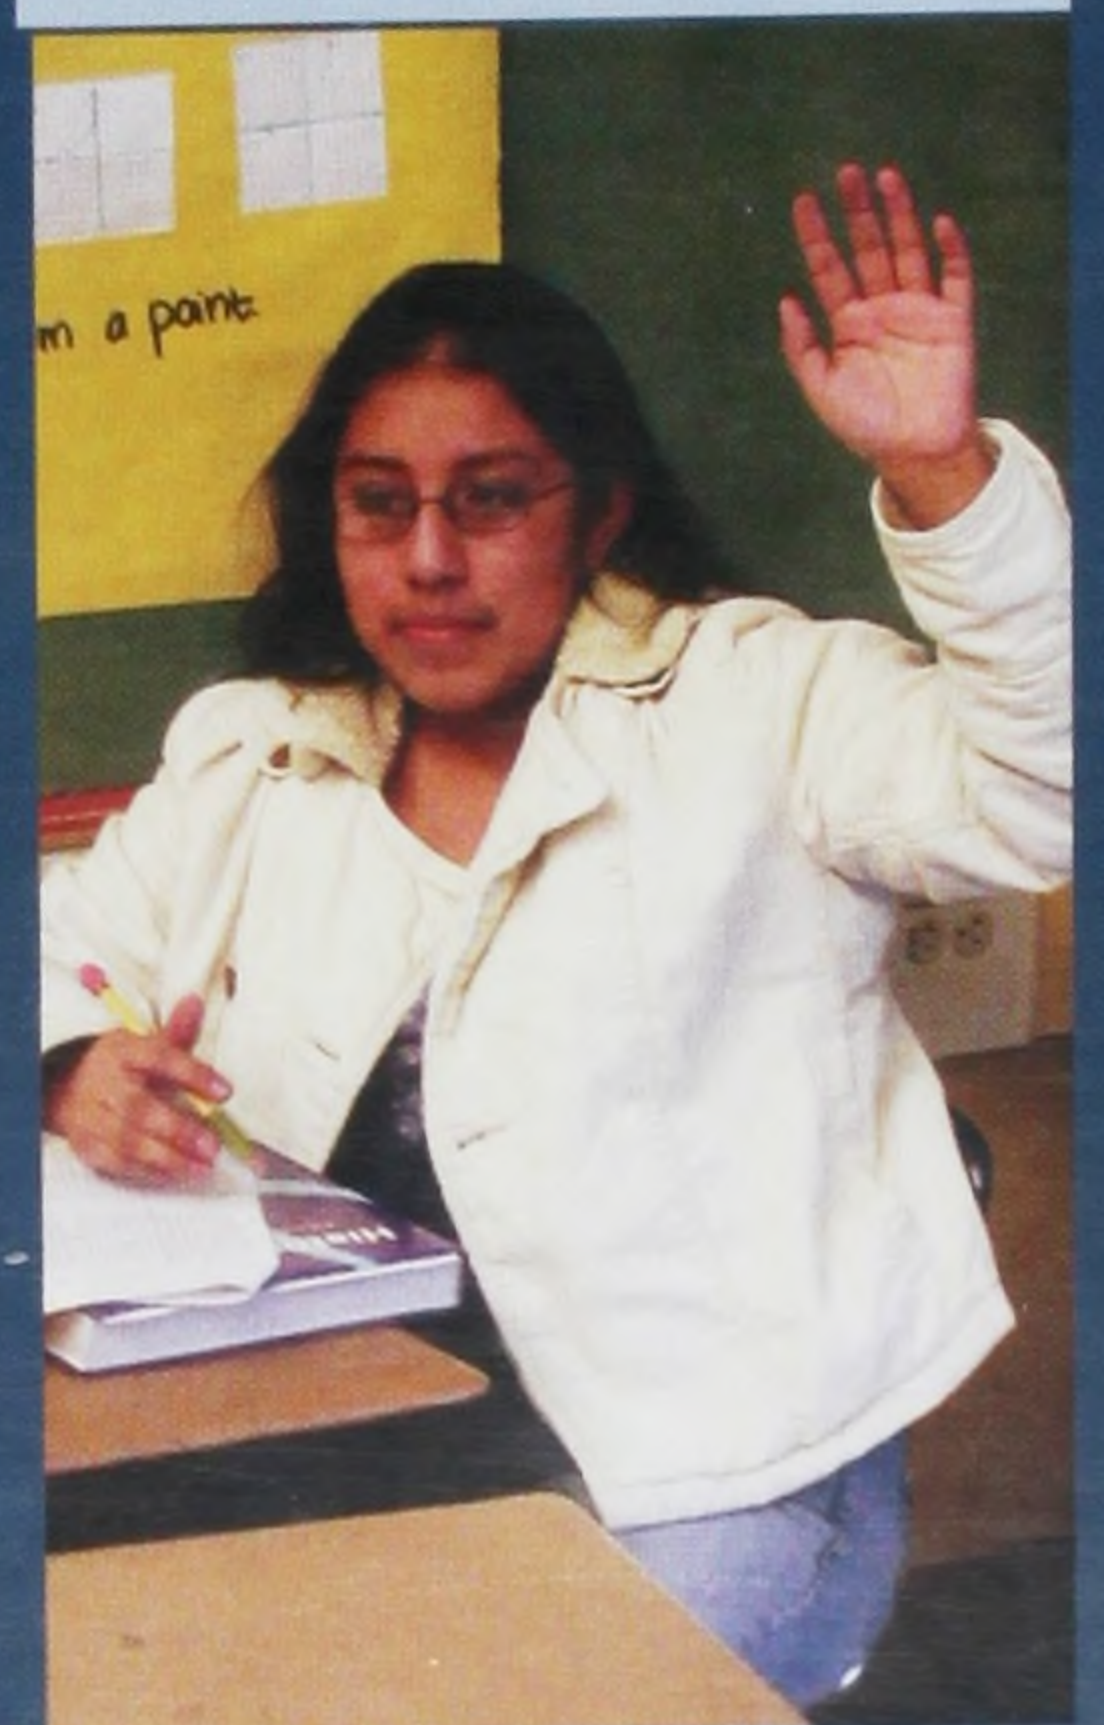

History is tough stuff. There is no shame in asking for some help on a hard assignment.

Lue Thow is hard at work on a bit of history book work. That's everyone's favorite!

Mr. Ryan is keeping Kelly Miller enthralled with one of his many fascinating, if not just slightly long winded rants.

Good students ask questions in class. It is important to utilize your teacher's knowledge to it's full extent.

Spanish

Ay! Dios mio! Spanish class is lots of fun!

Three hard working spanish
students in a row.

Ms Fig is walking around and helping people. Ai-yi-yi!

Spanish class includes mucho visual aides. This student is brainstorming on a way to portray her love for this class on a poster.

Cultured

Some students make an extra effort to get in touch with their Spanish side.
Sombreros help.

Fantastic

Spanish dictionaries are wonderful things. All the knowledge you wish you had during every test all compacted into one book.

Amazing!

La fiesta esta en mis pantelones.

HEALTH/PE

A healthy life style is important for a long happy life. Skills needed to improve our quality of life are taught in Health and PE.

The Long Haul

If there's anything we learn from PE it's that getting in shape isn't always fun and games. It takes endurance and determination.

Priorities

If there is only ever one class that you pay attention in, make it Health class. This stuff can make you live longer.

Guidance

Benson PE teachers have several important tips and lots of important things to teach about every sport we play. How to spell badminton for example.

Benson Boys

Lets take a moment to remember the tech-jacks we did every other day in class. Yes, we might as well have called them toot-jacks.

What Health Class Accomplished

None of us have ever been more inspired to abstain or use protection than when they showed us that slide show.

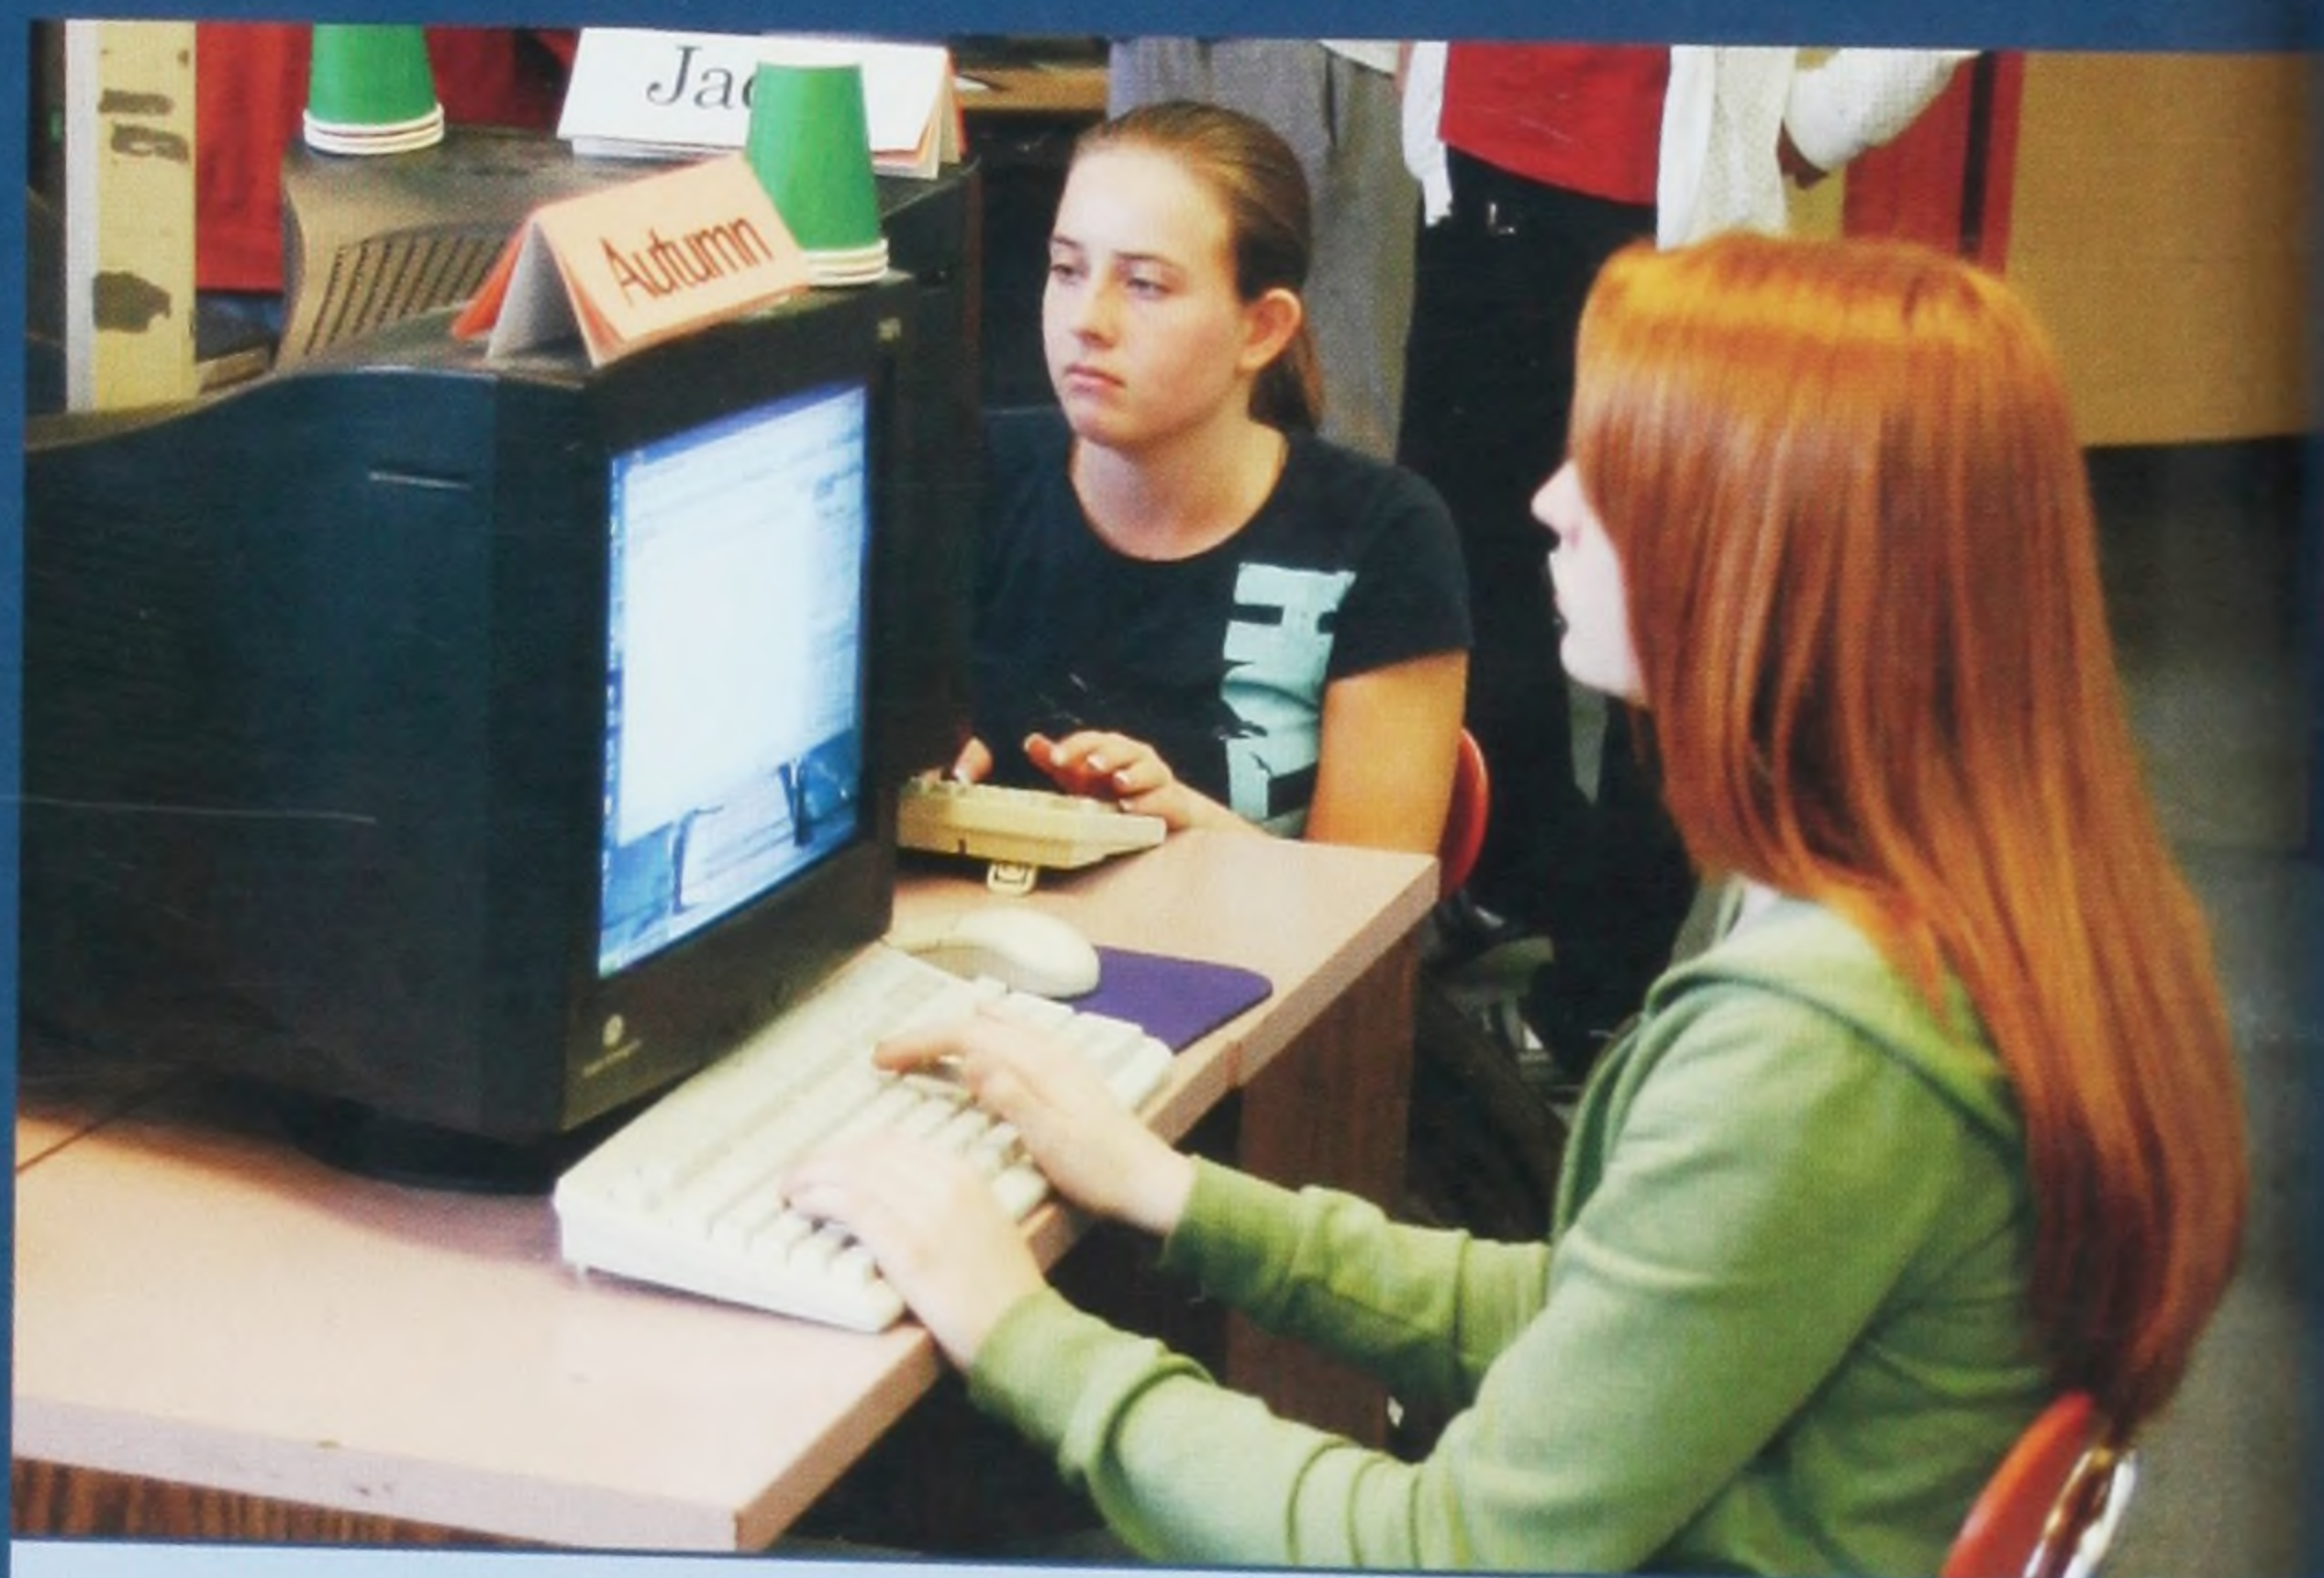

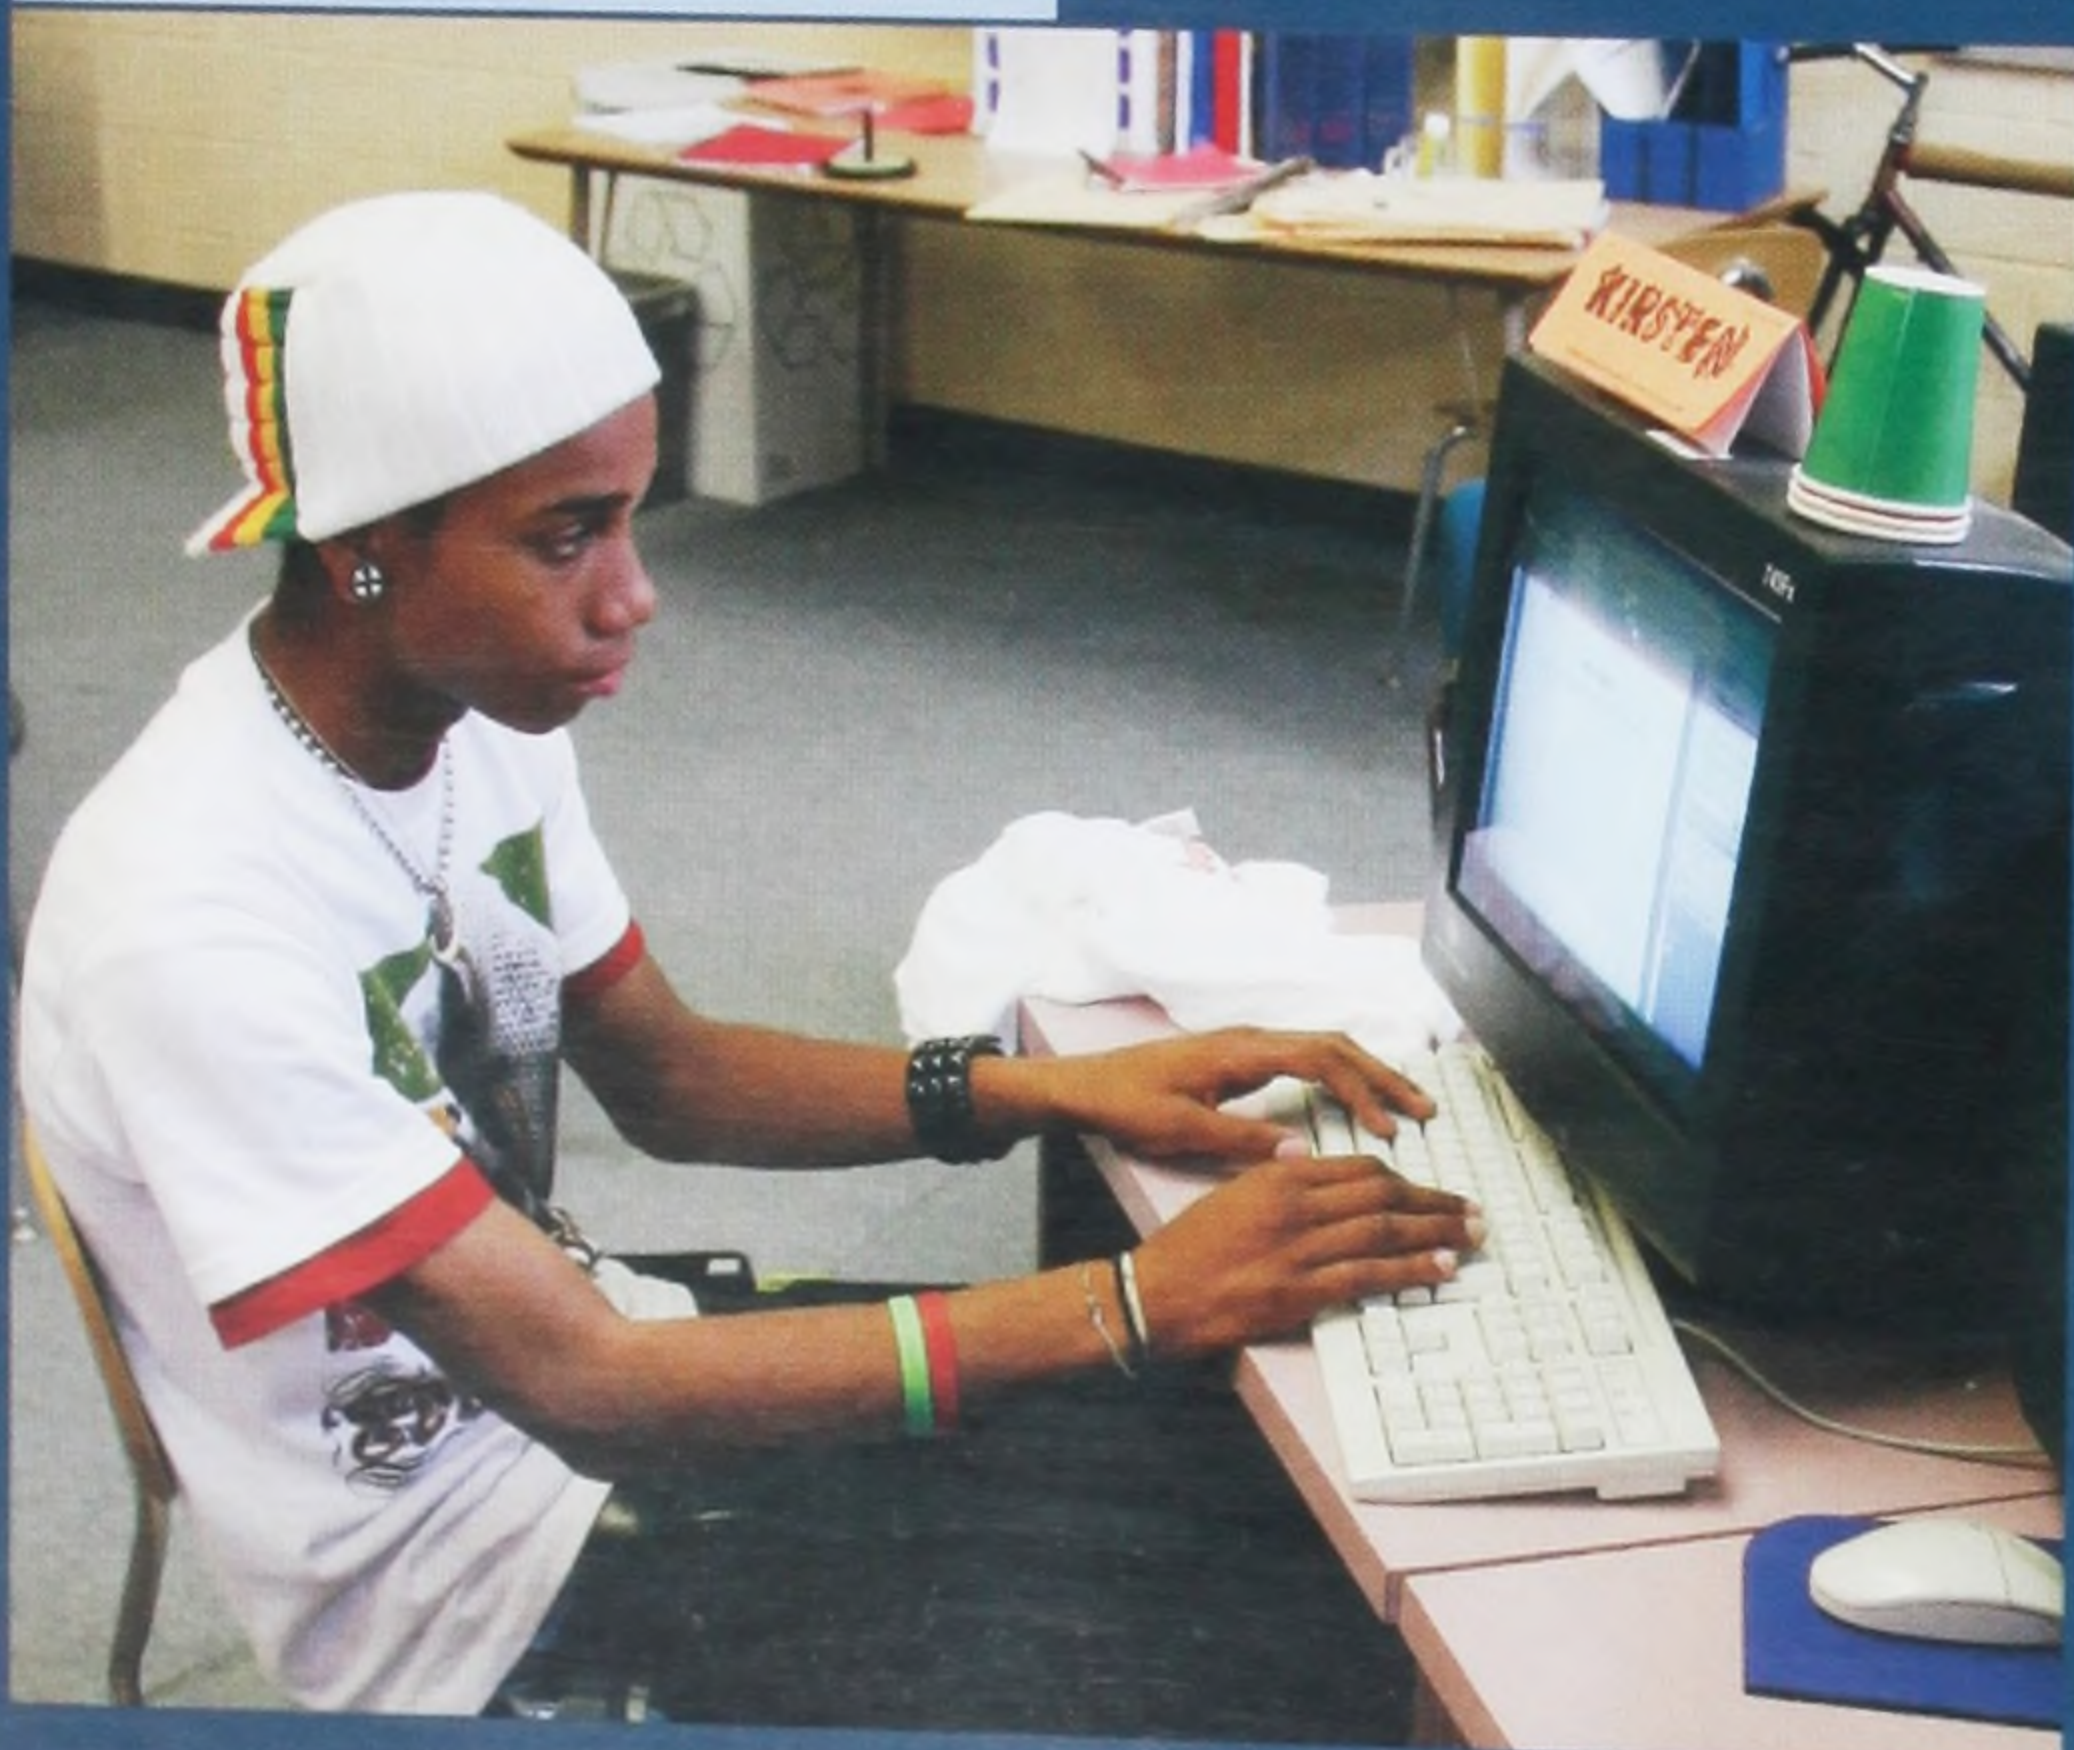

Tech Pep

In no particular order: Terry Adolphson, Kay Aranda, Otha Banks, Anton Bogan, Jane Chen, Demetrius Cox-Lincoln, Brent Ellingson, Brian Halvorsen, Nathan Hepp, Autumn Ingram, Zachary Keirse, Daniel Lurvey, Philip Melson, Jadie Mullen, Christopher Nguyen, Phil Nguyen, Tenzin Palyon, Richard Pike, Esperanza Rendon, Freddy Rodriguez, Xavier Rodriguez, Matthew Thrasher, Alex Torres-R., Linda Tran.

Otha Banks writes a column on the upcoming primary election between Clinton and Obama.

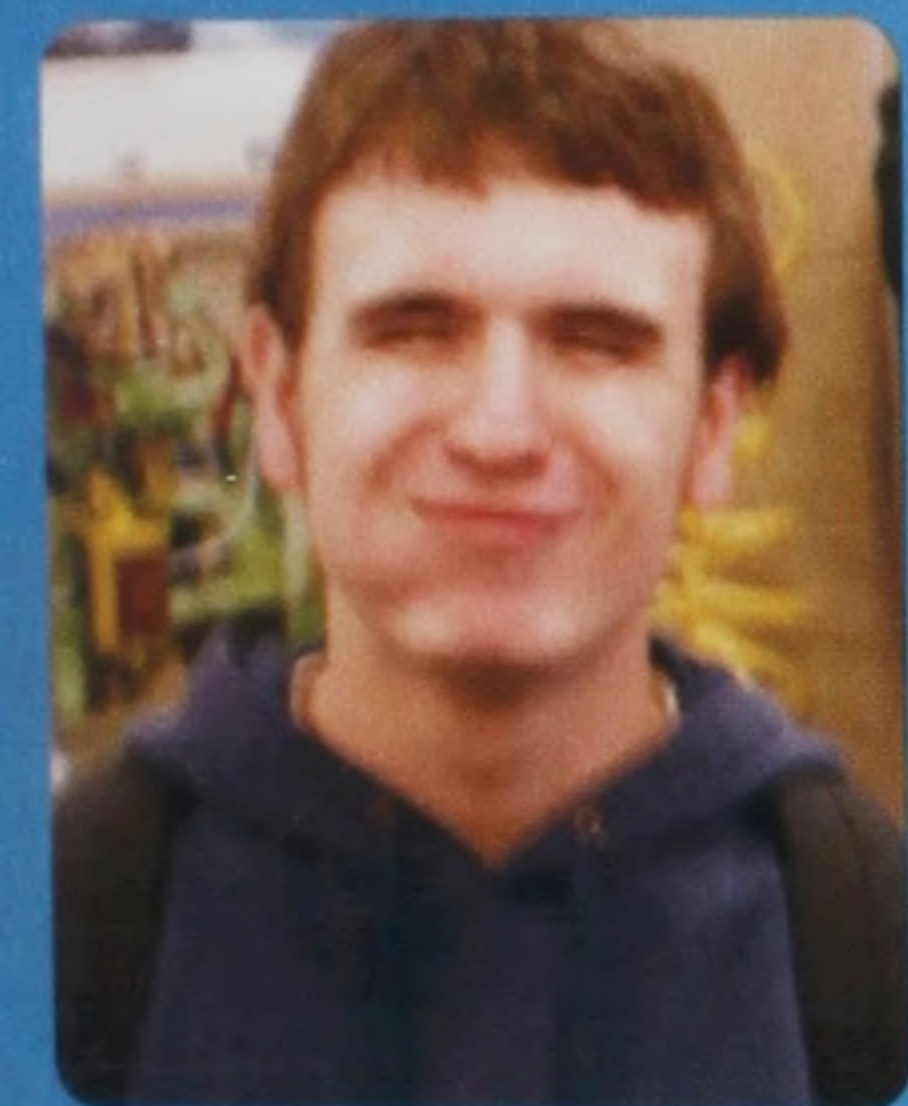

Autumn Ingram and Jadie Mullen work on a layout for the last Tech Pep of the year.

FROM COACH CARLINE!

My coaching experience at Benson was a wonderful and full filling time.
This poem says it best for me.
By Swen Nater

Family, Faith and Friends
Give me family, faith and friends; they're all I'll ever love
They're all I'll crave from crib to grave
and all I'll bring above
Give me family, faith and friends, above prosperity
For wealth untold and fleeting gold do not appeal to me
Give me family, faith and friends, not notoriety
To have a name with worldly fame does not compare you see
Give me family, faith and friends; they're my priority
I'll be known among my own and rich I'll surely be
Thanks to Benson, my family, my friends
All my former players who understood that Benson Basketball was all about
"FAITH"

Rose Court

"Romancing The Rose"

"Romance is a process. The process of falling in love. It doesn't have to be with a boy or girl. You could be romanced by an idea. You could be romanced by a place. You could even be romanced by a Rose. Remember that first time. That first special person who made your heart flutter. Flirting, sometimes very openly. Showing off, and even when they're not around, thinking of them. Hoping and praying that they're thinking of you too. And then suddenly it's not just hoping. Days go by, nervous smiles and awkward hand holding at first, but slowly, slowly everything becomes comfortable. And before you know it you've become so deeply invested in them, and they in you. Then finally after all this time together you find that you're in love. But romance isn't just about relationships. I think you can all remember a time when you were romanced by a trend, when you found yourself so irresistibly attracted to those jeans, or those shoes. But now I want you to think beyond those smaller things.

Think even beyond that one special person. Think back to what drew you to Benson. Not just for what we are, a good school, but also what we represent. What the people here represent. Dedication. Excellence. Compassion. Unity. These ideas are why Benson is truly the Rose of Portland. I am not here to talk about how I have romanced that Rose. Instead I'm here to tell you how Benson romanced me."

Nate is awake early in the morning to broadcast live over the 1450 AM radio station.

Santiago poses with the microphone in the senior studio.

Mr. Naganuma demonstrates how to properly use the radio equipment.

Below: Cassandra Young records a voice demo, so she will be able to edit it.

Sophomores do their weekly current events test.

Below: Larone Burnett is hard at work recording his assigned projects.

Far Left: Mr. Kelly carefully checks his computer to make sure his firewire port is working correctly. Yep. He was lucky this time.

Training the next great photographer..

"Ehhhh. Delete that. I want a re-shoot!"

Patrick takes a break from dancing and actually works for a change in Mr. Thompson's class.

Left: I'm pretty sure this equipment hasn't felt the touch of a student's hands in several years.

Below: "If this orange sweatshirt doesn't show up on camera, I don't know what will!"

COMMUNICATIONS

...or the next great filmmaker

The student art at Benson is so good it makes the pros jealous!

These underclassmen are eager to learn as much as they can.

The Benson House

Far left: Phillip Catabay is in the zone. Whether he's building a bench or a bird house, you can trust a Benson student to do it right.

Left: This student has a hidden identity. Whatever he's working on must be top secret. (Actually it's Brian Church)

Below: Olivia Mathews is lookin' like a pro cutting small pieces of wood into smaller pieces of wood.

CONSTRUCTION

"Caution, please don't use your remaining digits as a push stick!"
-Mr. Weber

Vicki Tam and Eileen Tom had a healthy rivalry from day one. But nobody expected it to go that far.

Fredrick Lee is turning heads and proving once and for all that woodwork is a spectator's sport

Right: Sandra Dao and her freshmen colleagues learn the basic fundamentals of electricity.

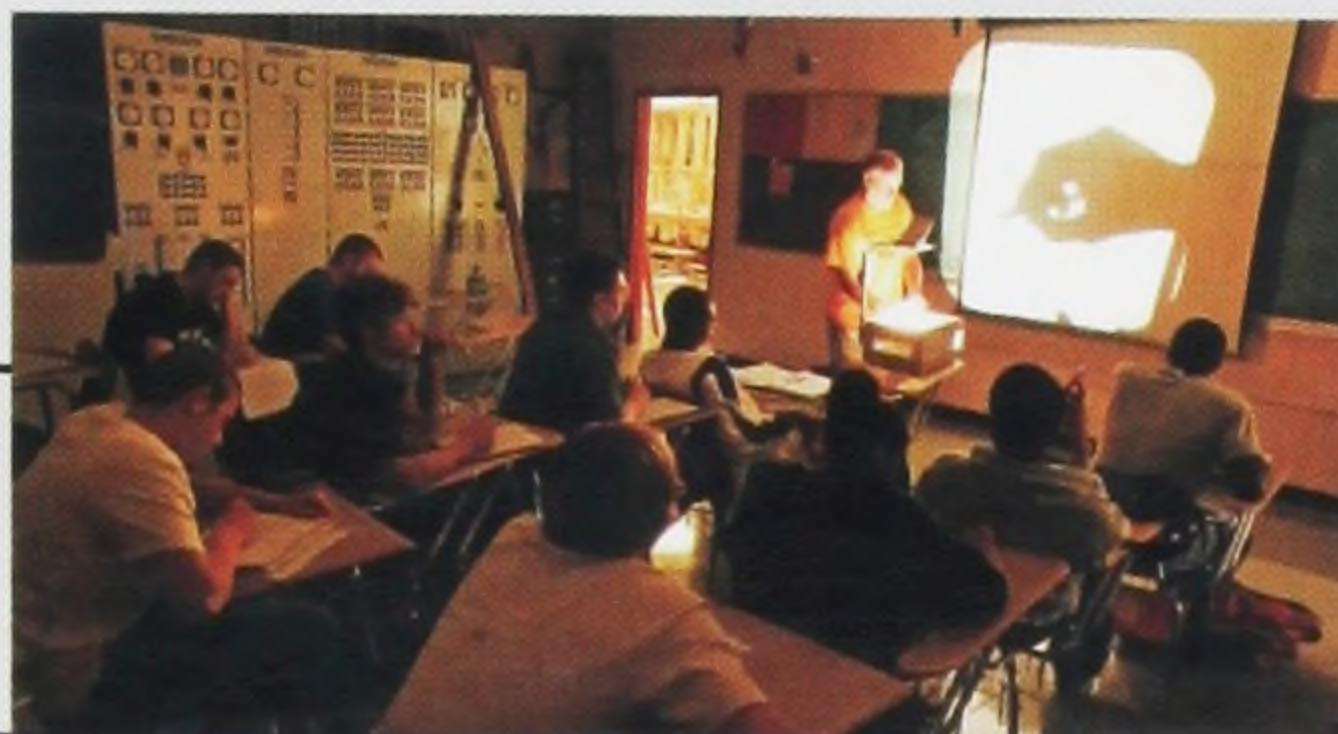

Far right: Hryciw to the rescue! The ever illusive electronics teacher has arrived to help out a distressed Kyle Cook with the proper instruction on how to operate a button.

Below: Caleb Frey-Ortega and Kyle Cook are working very hard on something they will someday be payed very handsomely to do as a profession.

ELECTRIC

"Well, I was thinking there's a job for me as an electrician."
- Lech Walesa

The Freshman electric class is working diligently under the iron fist of Mr. Diss.

Casey Horn is very angry at a stuck screw in his work station.

Left: Nathan Webster and Leon Brewer feel the end of the year bearing down on them and go into 'crunch time' mode.

Far Left: Alex Palmer is hard at work in his little electric home. He has begun redecorating and this time he wants more light fixtures and long metal pipes.

Below: This student felt she needed to work on her drilling skills. Practice makes perfect.

ELECTRIC

"Electricity is really just organized lightning."
- George Carlin

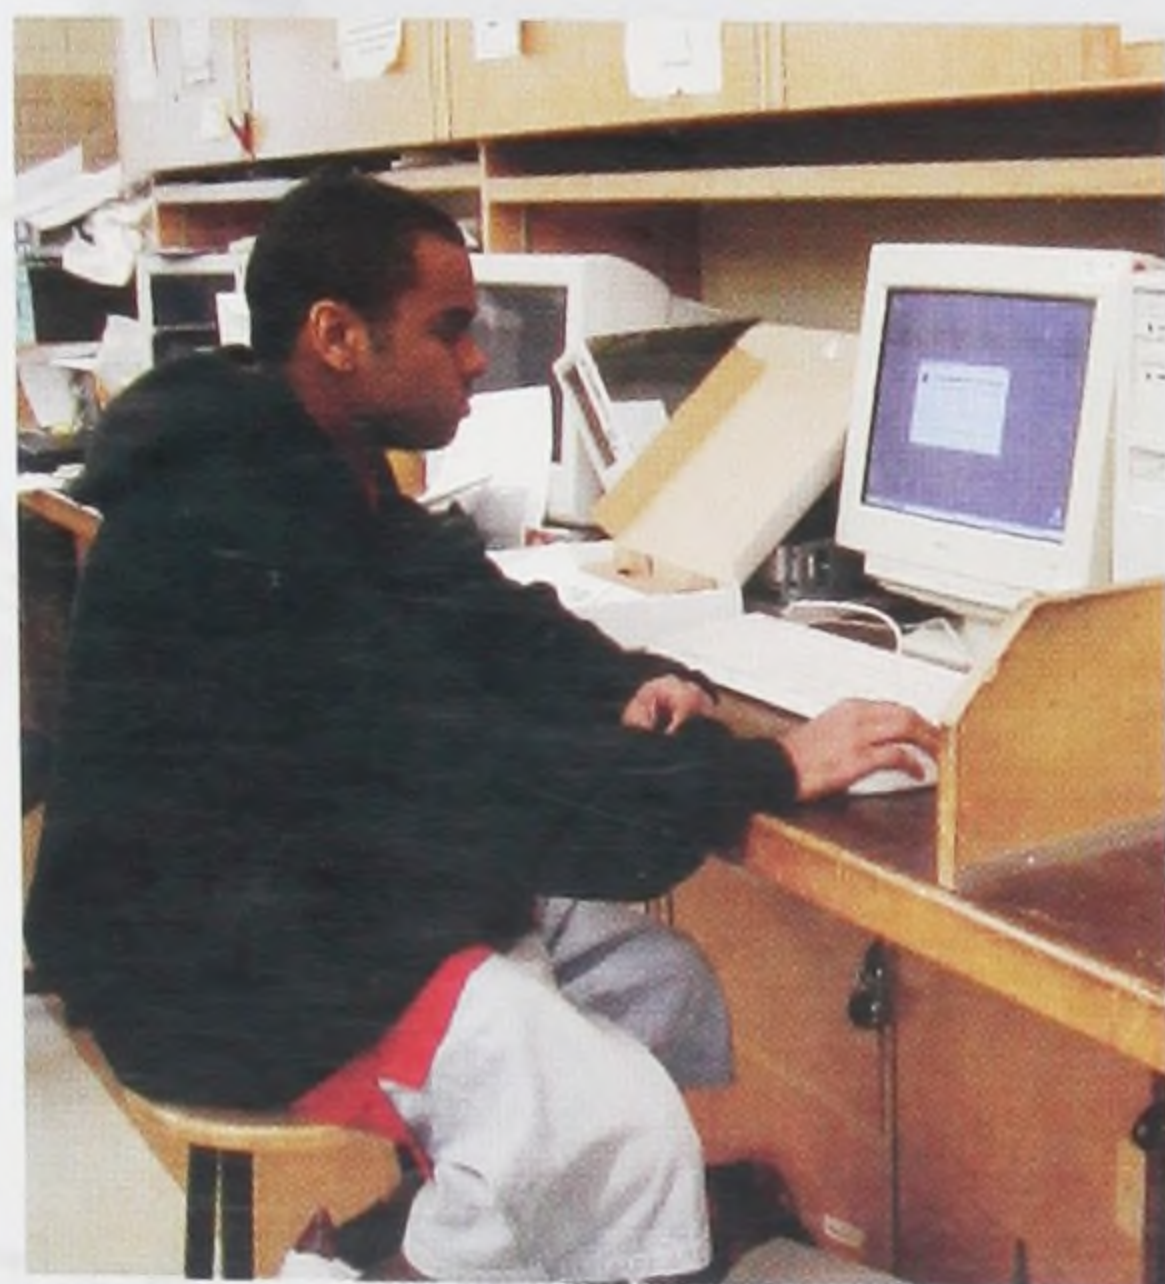

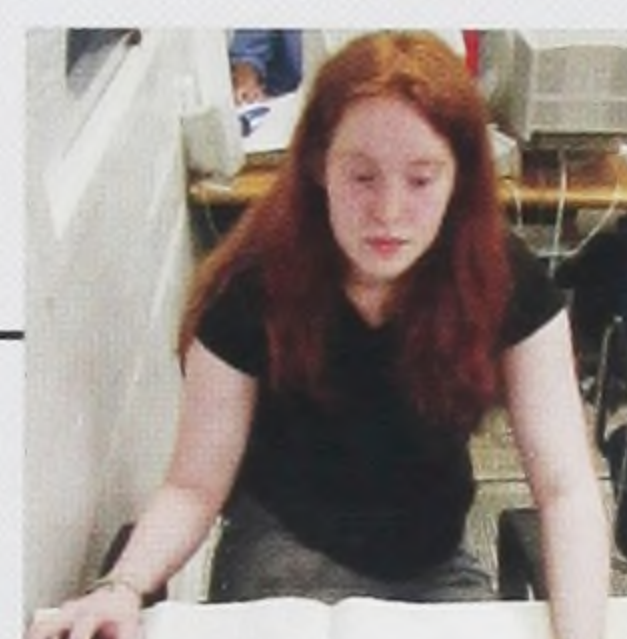

Josh Surgeon clearly does not mind not having a tidy work station. That's the way it has to be in this major.

Soldering is one of the most important skills that an electric student has and this student knows it.

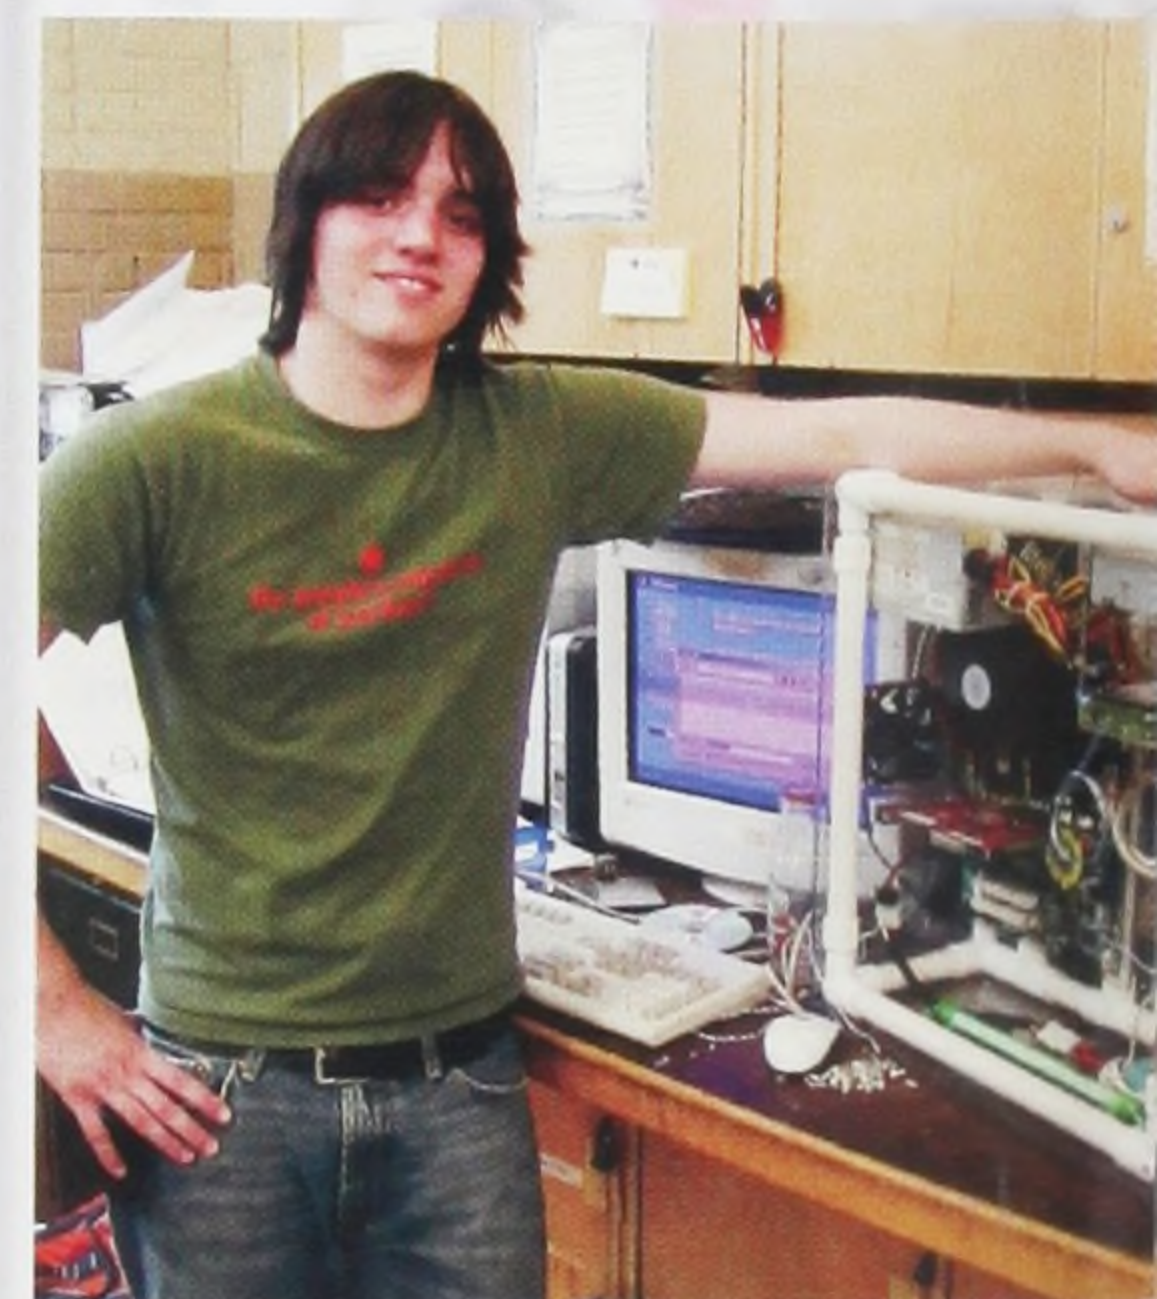

MCT & CST

Microchips. OH MY!

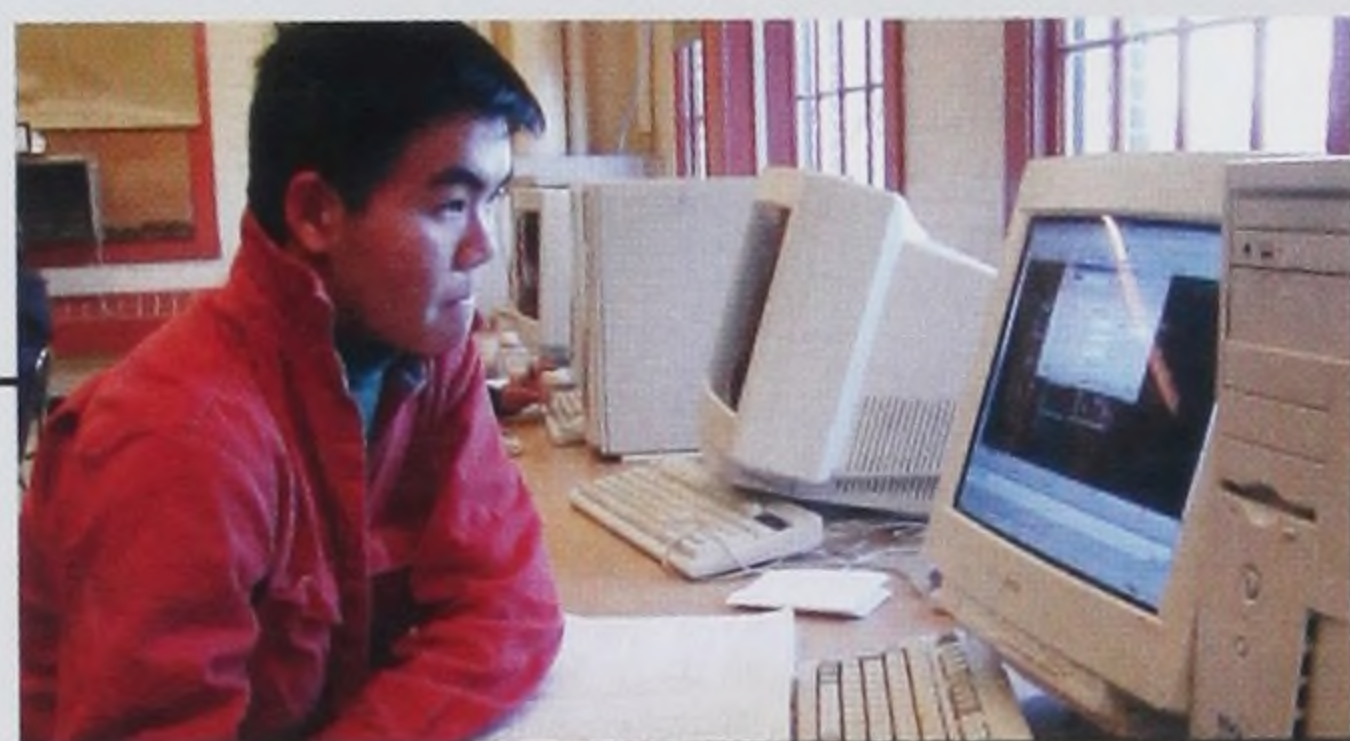

"People always fear change. People feared electricity when it was invented, didn't they? People feared coal, they feared gas-powered engines... There will always be ignorance, and ignorance leads to fear. But with time, people will come to accept their silicon masters."

MR.WONG WE MISS YOU!!!

"Architecture is a small piece of this human equation, but for those of us who practice it, we believe in its potential to make a difference, to enlighten and to enrich the human experience, to penetrate the barriers of misunderstanding and provide a beautiful context for life's drama."

-Frank Gehry

Right: Robert Duncan would like to see any other school try to handle having heavy machinery like this. Or even try to clean it. Seriously though he's tired of cleaning it.

Far Right: Douglas Armstrong, Jordan Frazier and their fellow manufacturing students of 2011 are working hard on their C-clamps and screwdrivers.

MANUFACTURING

Stroke follow strokes, the sparkling ingot shines,/ Flows the red slag, the lengthening bar refines;/ Cold waves, immersed, the glowing mass congeal,/ And turn to adamant the hissing Steel.
- Erasmus Darwin

Diana Martinez's secret ingredient to make a perfect toolbox: Love. She knows that the world would be a better place if we all had love boxes for our tools.

This may be somewhat of a surprise to you but manufacturing students have to do a good amount of work on the computer. It's not all fun, games and welding. It's also myspace.

Left: Well, we're not really sure what Hunter is doing either. Looks like he got caught off guard by the photographer.

Below: Brianna Ono is using the lathe to make a flawless plastic screwdriver handle. Such dedication!

MANUFACTURING

"If you get the dirty end of the stick, sharpen it and turn it into a useful tool."
- Colin Powell

Everyone who took manufacturing freshman year would have agreed that if they ever had to file another C-clamp it would be too soon.

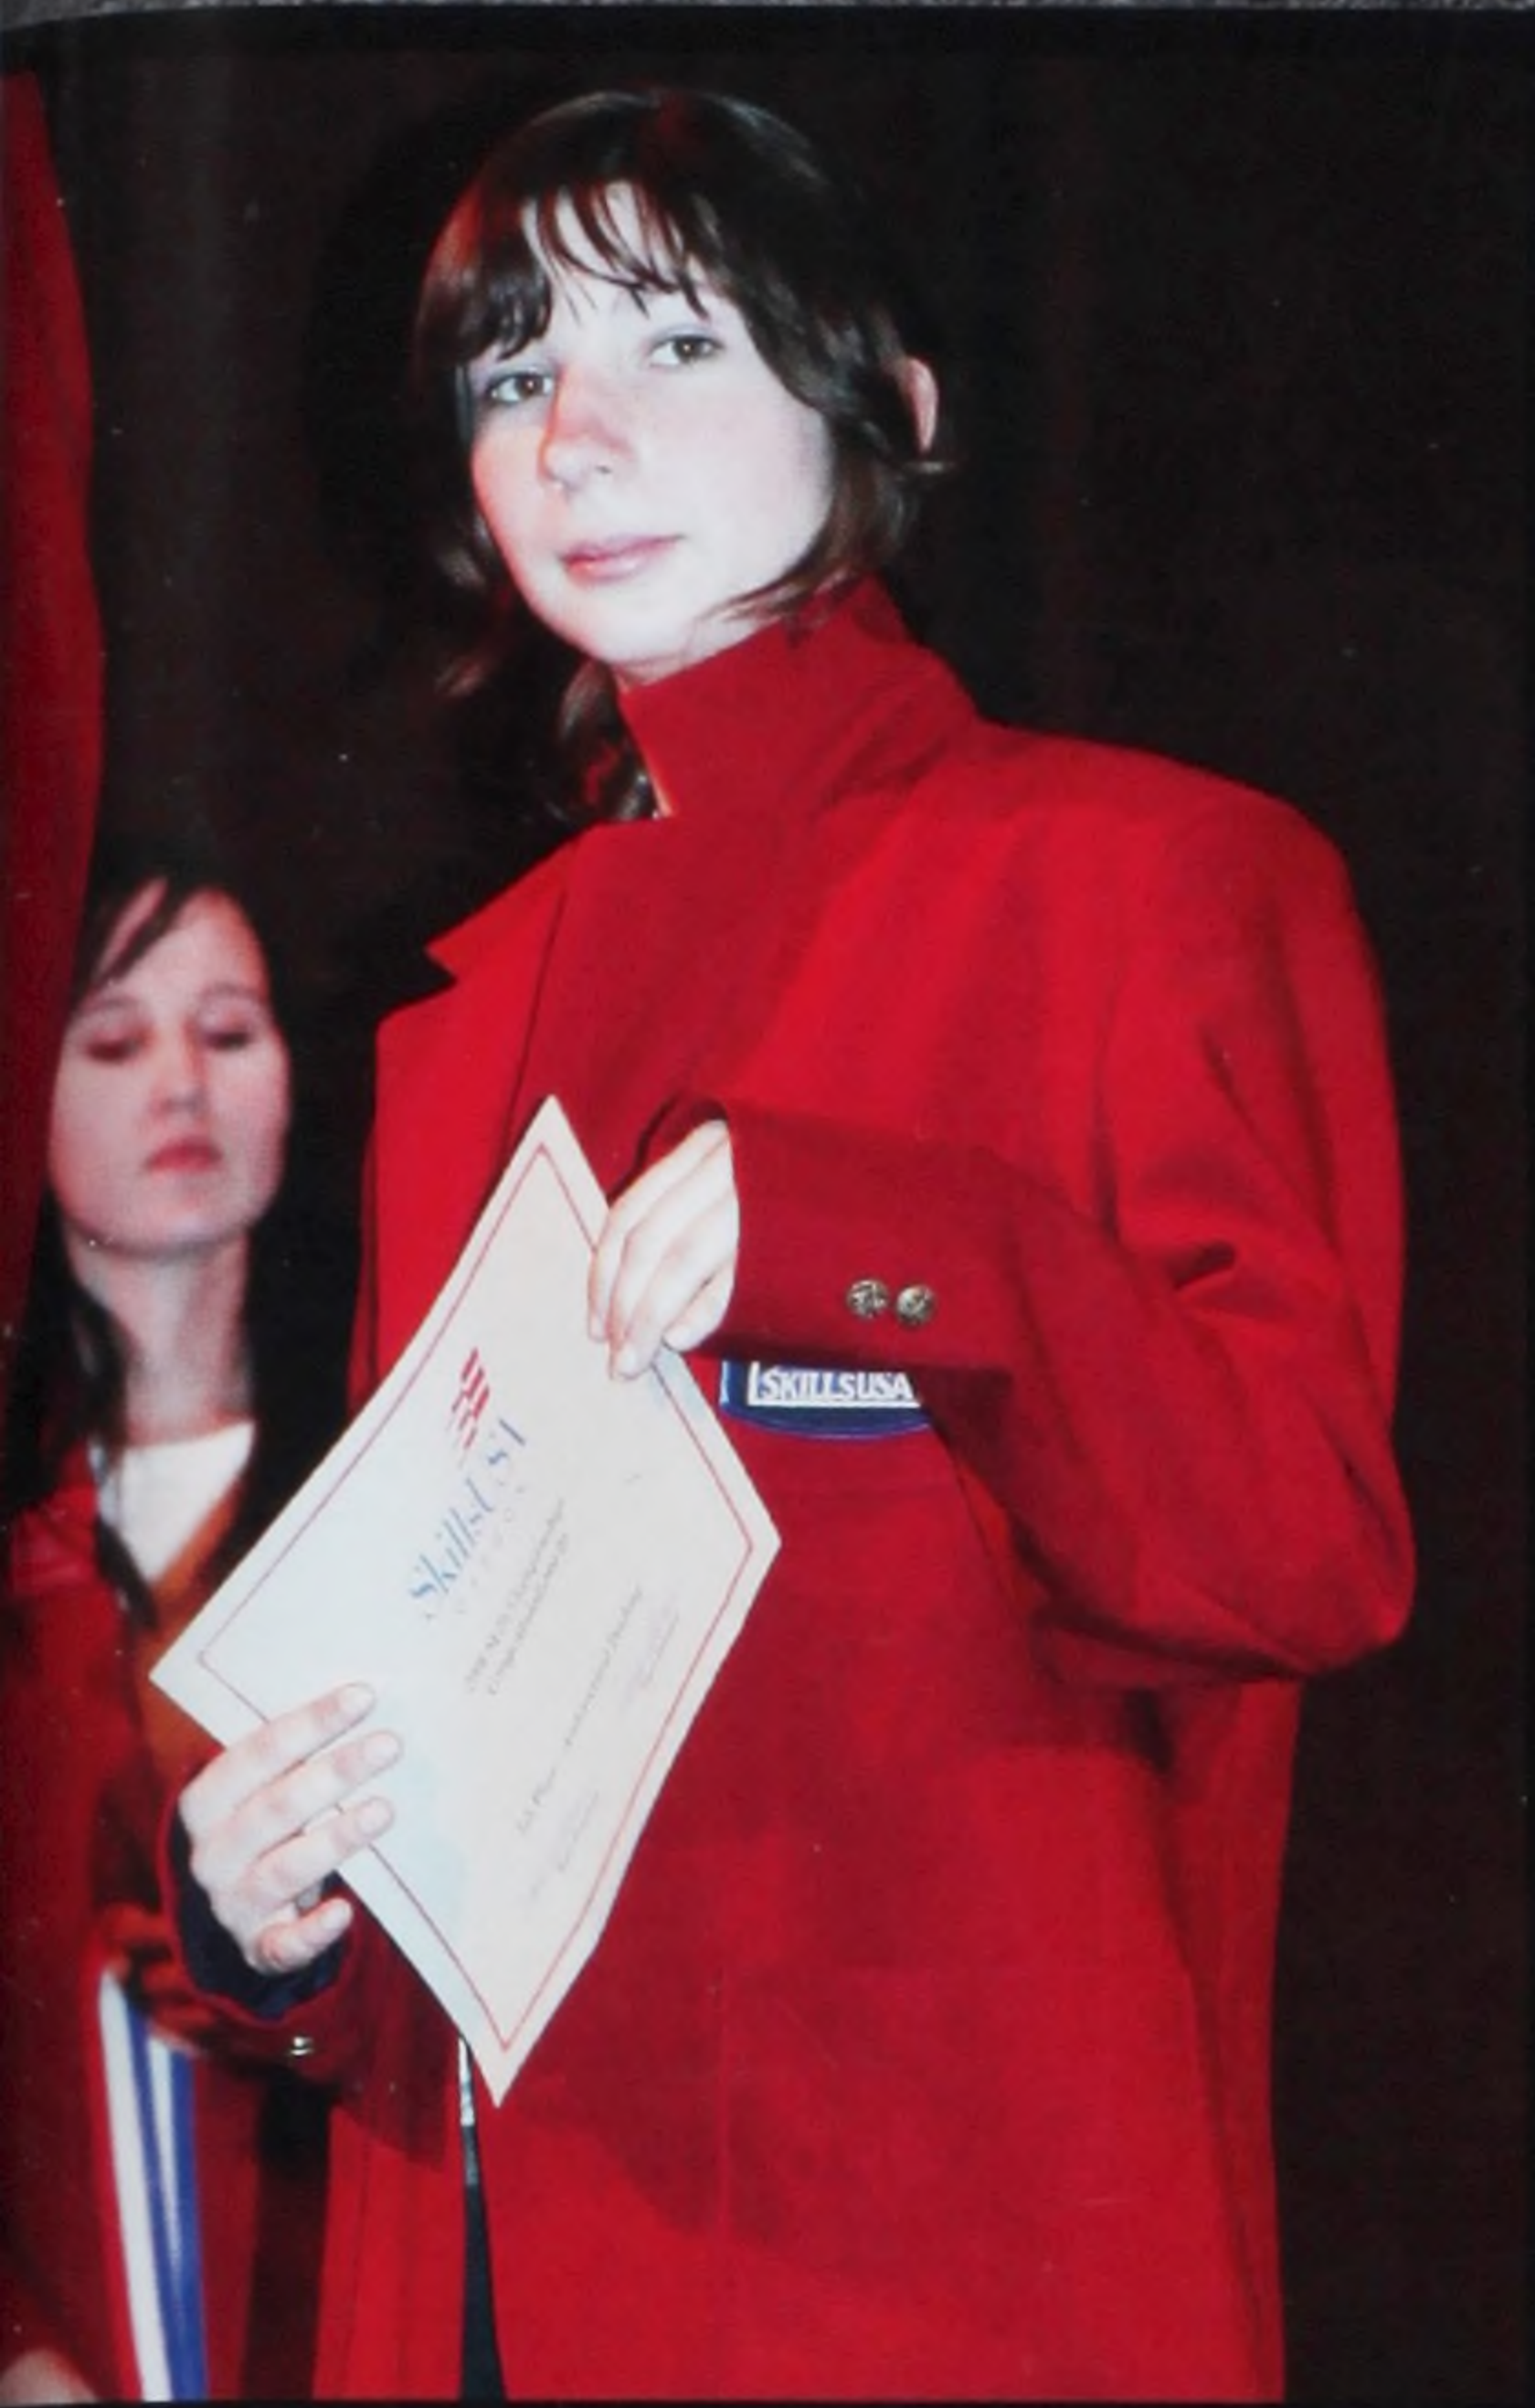

Darrell Keyes is the man with the plan. Just look at how hard he concentrates on the task at hand.
